A. R. North is back on the Erie and working at "SN" tower, Leavittsburg.

R. N. Babcock has resumed work at "SN" tower nights.

The levermen are to be taken off at "SN" tower, and three telegraphers put on, working eight hours each at $58 per month. This will be a saving of $26 per month to the company, and three men to handle the tower, instead of four.

C. G. Perry has returned from the West, and taken his old place at Hubbard tower.

A. J. Klinite is holding down "HD" nights.

Walter Post, of Ferronia, is back at work after being off on his vacation.

E. B. Van Woert, of "YO" nights, has gone West.

J. B. Aylward, of "CS," off on vacation; relieved by a commercial man.

H. B. Cutlip bid in "MA" tower nights.

C. J. Fenstermaker bid in "MA" tower days.

Dispatcher F. J. Jones is at Cripple Creek, Colo., looking over some mining investments.

Sherman Hart, of Warren tower nights, is off on his vacation, having gone to Niagara Falls and New York City, being relieved by J. A. Terry. When Hart gets back Terry leaves us, going to the Bessemer, where he gets a better job.

F. E. Brooks goes from "SN" tower to "YO" nights.

C. W. Morse is back at Niles days, after having worked at Warren and "CB" towers while Mitchell and Armstrong were having their vacation.

Remember the joint meeting of Meadville Division and Mahoning Division that is held at Warren, Ohio, the last Saturday night of each and every month, and make an effort to come out.

Div. Cor.

Delaware Division—

The following are recent changes:

E. J. Fiedler, "RJ" Rosas nights, permanently.

This position has the distinction of being one that no one desires, being tried by at least ten different men within the last six months. A good argument for more pay for this point when the committee go up again.

Bro. Fortner, "BQ," Lackawaxen, nights, was successful applicant for "XR," Comstocks, nights. Have not heard where Bro. Stiles is located.

Bro. Hempstead, "SR," Susquehanna yard tower nights, is out of the service. Patsy White, of "KZ," Deposit tower days, was called on to help out a few nights at this busy point until a man could be found to hold it.

The practice of taking regular men away from home to fill in at heavy points, and placing $45 men in their places does not appear right to me. It is an injustice that should be righted.

Bro. Tom McMahon, of "TU," Tusten days, is absent on his vacation. Bro. W. F. McMahon, from "WF," Westcolang tower, is filling in during Tom's absence, and a $45 man in Billy's place.

Bro. W. A. Terry, "SR," Susquehanna yard, days, is laying off sick. Div. Cor.

Lima and Chicago Divisions—

All items and news should go to the same old address, your local chairman, 414 South Pine street.

We should all feel gratified over the work that is being done on our divisions on the C. & E., and we understand everything is going smoothly over the entire system. We have, during the last month, received applications from several old heads. They are all good men and we are glad to be in a position to call them brothers. We feel confident that all of the nons here will be in within the next sixty days, thereby making us nearly solid.

Operators generally are now counting the months and days when the national nine-hour law goes into effect. While we believe it will be put in operation, still we should not leave any stone unturned to see that it is enforced.

"MJ" tower, Marion, has been turned over to Lima Division, now being controlled by Chief Dispatcher Kern, at Huntington.

The night position at "MJ" will, in a few days, be advertised by C. & E. McConnel, who has held that place for some little time, has been relieved.

Bro. Krautter, regular day man at Marans Switch, is taking a thirty-day vacation. Bro. Smith, regular night man, is on day, and Mr. C. E. Brown, of Alger, is working the night shift.

Mr. Dutton, agent at Decliff, starts on a trip for the West in a few days, expecting to be absent some time. Bro. Pace will act as agent during his absence.

Bro. Hopkins, days at "KN" tower, is now taking his fall vacation, the night man working his trick and extra man on nights. Unable to learn their names.

R. C. Rudy, days at "HN" tower, will in the future be known as Bro. Rudy.

Bro. J. A. Jones, for the past ten years agent at McGuffey, has resigned. Bro. Jones has an onion farm on the marsh and will devote his entire time to raising, buying and shipping onions.

M. D. McCaubry, for many years agent at Alger, has resigned, and is now cashier of the Alger Bank. Position advertised September 3 and bid in by Mr. R. A. McCaubry.

Extra Operator Helverson now working nights at Alger.

Bro. C. R. Phillips, accompanied by his family, took in the sights in Chicago during his vacation, he being relieved by Bro. A. L. Dempster, from "HN" tower.

Mr. Coomler, regular nights at "SJ" tower, has returned from an extended vacation.

Bro. P. Thatcher, nights at Lima, was off duty a week, entertaining his brother, Dr. Thatcher, of Bellefontaine.

Bro. Grant Harbison, days at "SV" tower, now taking a much deserved vacation, he being relieved by Mr. Roe, of Ossian.

Bro. Joe Grim, regular days at Huntington yard office, now working message wire in dispatcher's office, relieving Mr. Worcester, who is in Michigan, we understand, on vacation.

Bro. J. F. Spohr is back at his old trick, copying, nights.

Bro. J. P. Hill, days at Simpson, spent a few days recently at Bass Lake.

Bro. Zellars, of Germany, days, has been relieved. Unable to learn where he goes. Mr. Peebles, from the Clover Leaf, relieving him.

Mr. Mathews was off most of the time during October on account of serious illness, being relieved by Operators C. M. Sennett and S. H. Morrow.

Bro. C. K. Sennett is working No. 3 wire in Huntington, dispatcher's office.

Bro. Ligard has decided to remain at Alding for the present at least.

Bro. J. R. Sennett, agent at Monterey, has been given a helper for a short time during the rush.

Bro. J. V. McVey, agent at Bass Lake, seems to be unable to get relief. We presume no one wants it at $50 per.

"JP" tower nights and "DR" tower days open. Neither of these places have, as yet, been advertised.

Extra man at "JO." Unable to learn the name. Mr. J. Koschnick is working "DR" tower until a regular man is assigned.

Bro. E. B. Stipp, days at "DR" tower, has resigned and accepted an eight-hour trick with the Panhandle at LaCrosse, Ind.

We understand the Erie Railroad has opened a school of telegraphy at Kenton, with L. V. Wilson, formerly agent at Markle, as professor. How Mr. Wilson can get so far down as that we are unable to see; however, there must be a weak place in his flash pan.

Bro. C. R. Phillips, days at "SJ" tower, Lima, on sick list.
St Slocum.

IN MEMORIAM.

WHEREAS, It has pleased our Almighty Father to remove from our midst our worthy brother, R. Cortright, an esteemed member of Bradford Division, and

WHEREAS, We wish to express the profound sense of bereavement that we entertain; therefore, be it

Resolved, That Division No. 42, O. R. T., in the death of Bro. Cortright has lost a worthy member, his family a kind and loving husband; be it, further,

Resolved, That in respect to his memory we extend to the wife and family our heartfelt sympathy, and that a copy of these resolutions be entered upon the minutes of Erie System, Division No. 42, published in THE TELEGRAPHER, and a copy sent to the widow of our deceased brother.

Committee.

Bangor & Aroostook Ry.

Probably before this goes to press our committee will have been in to see the management, and if they don't have good luck why we hope they will still be there when this comes out in our next journal.

The new cut-off is nearing completion, and we will soon have double track from Northwest Pond to Northern Maine Junction.

Bro. Kelly, of "KX" office, has returned from his vacation.

Bro. Marr, of "KX," has also completed his vacation.

We are glad to welcome Bro. Newcomb as one of our local chairmen.

Bro. Crozier has got an assistant at last.

Mr. Mosher is back on his old job at "NO" freight office. Bro. Connelley is doing the day trick at Nor. Me. Junction, at this writing. Bro. Jno. Walsh working at Milo Junction days.

Bro. Gerrish, of Greenville, is taking an extended vacation.

Bro. Leighton is relieving at "DX."

Mr. Belorgea (soon to be a brother) is doing the telegraphing at LaGrange at present.

Bro. Harper is doing the owl act at Brownville.

Bro. Patterson at Kidders Point at present.

Bro. C. R. Bowley, days at Stacyville.

Bro. Tompkins, from Patten to Monticello permanently.

Bro. Paul is doing the telegraphing and excessing in "HF" office, Houlton.

Bro. Gaffney, who worked awhile at Schoodic, has returned to the New Haven.

Mr. Lutes is doing the owl stunt at Schoodic now.

Bro. Gallant is still on the C. P. Ry., doing relief work, we "13."

Bros. Crozier and Crocker made a flying trip to "MK," recently.

Vandalia Railroad.St. Louis Division, East End—

"No card no favors." In fact we may say, "No card no friends," at least among your brother workmen. Why is it we do not care for a non as a personal friend? We could give a great many reasons, but we will give only a few of the strongest of those we have in mind. In a general way we figure that there must be something decidedly wrong with any man who doesn't stay with the boys. We generally find him lacking in one or more of the traits of character which tend to make a man likeable. Some might think that just because a non differs in his belief from the members does not make this true—the members may be in the wrong. Yes, but doesn't it stand to reason that the judgment of ninety-eight per cent of any large body of men stands a pretty good chance of being right? Whether you see it that way or not, can't you give in to the judgment of so large a majority? No doubt, Mr. Non, you are following your present course expecting a "great stand-in" with the management. No doubt you have been handed some "hot air" and consider yourself such an extraordinary fellow that you do not need the O. R. T. Let me say right here that the railroads are run on a strictly commercial basis and could a mechanical contrivance be installed to do your work a few dollars cheaper, no personal consideration for you would be tolerated for a minute, nor does "hot air" buy bread. So, Mr. Non, even though you may have been favored more than some others, do not say to yourself, "I've been treated all right, to h—l with the rest of the boys," for that is a very unlikely quality in a man. Get out of the rut. Put yourself on a footing where you will be sure of what every man should expect—the friendship of his fellow workmen. Perhaps paying your share has kept you out of the fold. The "lecture" your conscience gives you every time you draw your increase in salary, which was secured by the organized efforts of the boys, for which you have not helped pay and in which you have no doubt hindered a great deal, by throwing your influence against us, should decide you that you are in the wrong. A man who will not pay his way is sure to be disliked. Just stop and think. Out of an investment of something like $10 a year, many of our boys are drawing $126 yearly. I'll bet they never made such a good investment of that amount of money before. But we haven't enough nons that can put up much of a kick. In fact, they are remarkably scarce, there being only one regular man on the East End who can not show a card, which is a splendid percentage. But we hear that there are a few members who have not paid their dues promptly. Brothers, this shows something wrong with you somewhere. You have no excuse whatever now that we have secured a raise. Perhaps you do not realize that by dropping out you are putting yourself on a footing with the nons, of whom we have been speaking. It is an absolute fact that there is only one way in which the O. R. T. can be put out of business, and that is by the members dropping out. Any old-timer will tell you that in no other way could the L. & N. have got the upper hand of the boys down there. So, let us get busy, not with a great bluster, but let each brother do his share quietly and faithfully, even though his share be no more than to keep his dues paid up promptly. If all do this, there is no question but that we will win out.

Bro. B. H. Hershey, of "HB" Hobbs days, has been off for a few days, being relieved by Bro. Orville Hixon. Extra Telegrapher C. Hall is doing the night work at "HB."

Bro. G. E. Stevens, of "GN" Greencastle days, is off for a short time. Bro. E. C. McCullough has been doing the day work during his absence, with Extra Telegrapher C. Hall on nights.

Bro. N. E. Browning is working nights at "SV" Seelyville.

Bro. Geo. Challis has resumed his regular position at "EY" Terre Haute nights, after being absent for a while. Bro. N. E. Browning handled the levers at "EY" during Bro. Challis' absence.

Bro. O. O. Scanlon has left the East End and we understand is now working nights at "K" tower, Terre Haute, middle division.

Bro. E. Colbert, "SV" Seelyville days, is in temporary quarters about one-half mile west of the old office and at the end of the new double track, it being in service from Terre Haute to that point now.

Bro. H. L. Hearn, of "KV" Knightsville nights, is off for a short time, visiting in Sidney, Ill. Extra Telegrapher D. V. Carter on nights during his absence.

Agent C. C. Orrell, of "AM" Amo, has been laying off, being relieved by Bro. C. R. Shortridge, of "CO" Coatesville days. Bro. J. Stewart, of "GB" Gibson nights, has been on days at "CO."

The boys at "SF" Indianapolis, are enjoying the eight-hour trick, the first office on the Vandalia System to be furnished with three men.

Boys, it is Bro. Hunt at "HK" Hamrick days now, instead of Mr. Hunt.

Bro. F. I. Stanberry, of "CA" Casey, Middle Division, is doing the night trick at "HK."

Agent A. Leachman, of "KN" Knightsville, made a trip to Fillmore a short time ago.

Bro. C. C. Chesterson, who has been doing the owl act at "SU" Summit nights, has gone to the West End, "RY" East St. Louis nights. Bro. Y. S. Alexander, of "WA" Watson days, having bid in the night position at "SU."

Extra Telegrapher D. V. Carter has returned to the Middle Division to work nights at "WB" Woodbury.

Bro. Fred Farris, of "MD" Almeda nights, has been off on account of sickness. Relieved by Extra Telegrapher O. Wilbur.

Bro. J. T. Colburn, of "HN" Harmony days, has been having a new residence built at that place.

Bro. O. M. Coffin, of "FM" Fillmore nights, has been at "CO" Coatesville nights, for a short time, Extra Telegrapher O. Wilbur relieving Bro. Coffin at "FM."

Extra Telegrapher W. W. Stinson is on nights at "GB" Gibson, while Bro. J. Stewart, the regular night man at "GB," is at "CO" Coatesville days.

Bro. C. C. Chesterson is with us again on the East End, at present writing, at "NE" Greencastle nights. Bro. V. A. Woodward is working the day trick in Bro. W. A. Vaughn's place, Bro. Vaughn having gone to "MN" Martinsville, Illinois, Middle Division, to relieve the agent for a short time.

Bro. C. A. Wilson, of "WA" Watson days, off for a few days, moving his household goods from Brazil to Staunton, Extra Telegrapher O. A. Pierron working during his absence. Mr. Pierron has in his application and will have the necessary cardboard in his possession ere this is in print.

Bro. H. S. Miller, of "WA" Watson nights, is off, Bro. R. H. Yates, from "BW" Brownstown, Illinois, on West End, relieving him.

Bro. F. R. Parker, of "AO" Amo days, is laying off for a few days, Extra Telegrapher C. Hall relieving him.

Bro. E. C. Thompson, our Secretary, will send out the "notice of dues" in November this time, and now let us see how promptly we can respond and every man hold an up-to-date card by the middle of December. Do not put this matter off, brothers, as it is of great importance to each and every one. Also answer promptly all correspondence sent you by our officers, as your delay is holding them back.

The social meeting in September, at Effingham, Illinois, was a grand success, and enjoyed by all. Twenty brothers were present, and among them Bro. Clancy, of President Perham's office, St. Louis; Bro. O'Donnell, who is county judge of Effingham County, and holds a card in I. C. Division No. 93; and Bro. Thompson, of the Southern Pacific. Through the courtesy of Judge O'Donnell, the county court room was tendered us in which to hold the meeting. After listening to interesting talks by Bro. Clancy, Judge O'Donnell and Bro. C. H. Wilson, and dispensing with a box of good Havanas, all went home feeling that they had spent an enjoyable evening, and had been benefited by coming.

Bro. C. C. Chesterson had quite a thrilling experience the other night at "NE" Greencastle. About four o'clock a. m. his thoughts were rudely disturbed by a highwayman thrusting a revolver through the ticket window and requesting him to "come across." After securing all the money in the money drawer the robber made good his escape. The "University City" is an exception, it being the only position on the division where the operator sells tickets.

Bro. J. W. McCullough, of "HN" Harmony nights, was in Terre Haute on business the other day.

An inspection party was over the East End October 23, consisting of four trains of four or five cars each. In the party were the officials of both the Vandalia System and Pennsylvania Lines West, one hundred and twenty-five in all. The inspection extended from St. Louis to Pittsburg.

CERTS. 107 AND 152.

Middle Division—

Seems as though everything was in good shape for the "inspection" by the P. H. officials and our G. M., Mr. McKeen.

Bro. T. S. Jones now has Greenup days, and Bro. Humbarger, from the West End, the night position. Bro. J. L. Brown, at Jewett days, is visiting his old home near Topeka, Kan. Bro. Hutchinson days and Mr. Carter nights.

Bro. W. G. Anderson, Farrington days, left for his old home in Michigan this week, Bro. Fuller, Liggett days, relieving him.

Bro. Schickle is back at "K" tower.

Bro. H. E. Eves, McKeen days, has left us to engage in business in Oklahoma. Bro. Benson has the day position and Bro. See nights.

Bro. Postlewait, who has been with the "work extra" 533, has returned to Oak Leaf nights.

Our extra dispatcher, C. F. Ward, is spending a week at Jewett.

Bro. W. P. Homer will leave us November 8 for thirty days, to visit his Hoosier home.

Know of only one non on the division, and it is still next pay-day with him.

Bro. F. A. Goodwin, at Greenup nights, has been transferred to Vandalia days for a short time.

Bro. Danner, Marshall days, returned this week.

Bro. Davidson resumed nights.

Bro. Archer returned to Terre Haute.

CERT. 105.

West End, St. Louis Division—

We are all proud of this $60 per, and are looking forward to that eight hours with hopes of living like human beings after March 4, 1908.

After several changes at "RY" Rose Lake, Bros. H. E. Weaver and Roy Elliot are hitting the ball there now. Bro. Lynch is back at "QN" days.

Bro. H. O. Morrow, Mulberry Grove nights, has been given Smithboro nights, his home job, Bro. C. B. Beck going west. Bro. Morrow was relieved at "BY" by Bro. G. H. Vest, who worked extra there until F. H. Mathews was placed there permanently. Bro. Mathews was night agent at "MC" St. Elmo up to this time. Mulberry Grove is his home town. He was relieved at "MC" by W. A. McCracken.

Bro. J. E. Stout, "BY" Mulberry Grove days, has been off a couple of days. Bro. G. H. Vest relieved him.

Bro. W. O. Lyerla, "HG" Hagerstown days, is off for seven or ten days, visiting home folks near Irving, Ill. He was relieved by Bro. G. H. Vest.

O. A. Pierron has gone to the East End to work a few days. It was he that relieved P. J. Heartleaf at "SJ" St. Jacobs nights.

Bro. Con Campion, now agent at "MU" Mulberry Grove, has been given a clerk. The position was given to Bro. G. C. Kilby.

Mr. M. J. Robinson is not coming back from his vacation for some time. The position will be given to some older man than Bro. Campion.

Bro. Campion has been appointed District Chairman for District No. 10.

Bro. J. T. Middleton transferred from Effingham days to Vandalia days. J. H. Johnson, "V" days, has gone to Effingham days.

L. G. Beck is relieving the night man at Dexter.

To brothers who have not paid up: Do not let Xmas find you in arrears. CERT. No. 86.

Mobile & Ohio Ry.

Montgomery District—

Bro. E. W. Pridmore has returned to the service, and has Maplesville, nights.

Bro. L. M. Mills, after an absence of several years, has returned, and takes Kingston agency.

Bro. J. B. Vickers returns to west end yard, nights.

Bro. G. F. Morgan installed as agent at McShaw avenue.

Bro. Arundale goes to his old home, Reform, nights, which, after January 1st, will uphold its name by cutting out everything wet.

Mr. J. M. Moss, after several months' sojourn with us, resigned McShaw agency, and re-enters medical college at Mobile. BILL.

Murphysboro Division—

Mr. Fox is bulletining now; that gives all a chance. New Hanover and Mill Creek are open. No one seems to want "NE."

Bro. Sterns, our former local chairman, has resigned, and is attending medical college. Bro. W. H. Polsgrove takes his place as local chairman.

Mr. Burke, day man at "WC," off on vacation. Bro. J. D. Wilson, day man from Sparta, relieving him. Mr. Cook, night man, relieving Bro. Wilson. Mr. Childers relieving Mr. Cook. Neither Cook or Childers belong to the Order. Mr. Childers has quit, I understand, and is going to school. Mr. J. W. Nelson relieving him. Mr. Nelson has only been working a short time, but has asked for application blanks.

Bro. M. S. Cauble, night man at Mill Creek, has resigned. Mr. R. E. Williams relieving him. Mr. Williams has been out of the service for some time, and has just returned to telegraphing.

Bro. S. Lawrence, days at Ava, is off. Don't know whether he is coming back or not. Bro. W. Williamson, day man from Percy, relieving him. Mr. Buyatte relieving Bro. Williamson. Bro. J. S. Knapp relieving Mr. Buyatte, nights. Mr. Buyatte does not belong to the Order, but is going to line-up at once. Bro. Knapp is an old-timer, having just come here from Nebraska, where he was working commercial work until the strike.

Bro. Stanley is off. Bro. Knapp, from Percy, relieving him. Bro. W. C. Hight relieving Bro. Knapp.

Bro. J. Snook worked a week at Sparta, relieving Mr. Cook, he being sick. Mr. Covher relieving Bro. Snook.

Bro. O. B. Sims, night man "GO," has gone to Meridian as clerk in train master's office. Bro. W. F. Cleary, day man from "FR," relieving him. Bro. L. Knauer, night man, relieving Bro. Cleary, and Mr. Coyher relieving Bro. Knauer.

Western Maryland Railroad.

I, for one, will seek some other employment unless we have better working conditions after March 4th, and I think a great many others will do the same. All kinds of labor around us are working ten, and mostly eight hours per day, with their Sunday liberties and all holidays, and are receiving for their services from $2 to $2.50 and $3 per day, so you can see how easy it is for us to better our conditions. All we need is to have the nerve to go up against a little muscular exercise with no fear of destroying property and taking the lives of railroad employes, and thousands of passengers, and standing a chance for life imprisonment or stretching our necks.

What did we do before we fooled our time away learning telegraphy? I know, from experience; I lived just as good, and had my liberties and a better time than I now have. I never worked on Sunday, never worked on legal holidays, and often got off on Saturday, and had a better living than at present, because I always got my good, hot meals, and now I hardly know what a warm meal is, and have to eat my cold ones just as I get a chance; often have to pound the key with one hand and eat with the other. We know all other kinds of labor get their hour for meals.

Now, since we have to work every day in the year from twelve to eighteen hours per day, I think it is time for all of us to wake up and put it up to the railroad companies to pay us what we deserve, and make our day eight hours. I am ready to walk out tomorrow, and stay out until we get what we deserve. I will not say what I think we should have for the time we put in on this road; it might cause the officials to collapse if they should see it. But I do think if they can pay the trainmen from 30 to 40 cents per hour, that, considering the small number of telegraphers employed compared with the trainmen, they should be able to do as much for us as they do for them, as I think the telegraph system is the main staff of the road, even if they do not confess it. Without it they could do nothing.

An agency was established between Bissell and Mill Switch Wednesday, October 16th. It is in charge of Bro. H. W. Ruch.

We are glad to know that Bros. McCubbin and Fleigh have been promoted to train runners, and are having success.

Telegrapher Stouffer has been transferred from Edgemont, night, to "G" office, Hagerstown, nights, filling the vacancy caused by Bro. Fleigh. Very sorry to say that Mr. Stouffer is a "non," and says very plainly that he will not join our ranks. He is a different man from his son who took his place at Edgemont, night, as he is a member of the C. T. U. of A., and walked out when the commercial telegraphers struck.

Brothers, wherever there is a "non" in your reach get after him, and if he won't come our way, do not forget the good old card, and say to the "nons:" "No card, no favors," and live right up to the saying.

Drv. Coe.

Southern Ry.Knoxville Division, East End—

Our regular meeting called to order Saturday night, September 28th, at 8:30 p. m., with small attendance. Come one, come all, to our next meeting, and let us see if we can not bring old Knoxville Division to the front. We can if we will. At the last meeting two new members were initiated. Do not know the two new members' names.

I would like to see it solid from one end to the other; not only Division 59, but all over the United States. It is not a great while until our committee will go to Washington, D. C., to arrange for shorter hours and better pay. Now, because our committee is going to Washington, D. C., do not sit down and fold your hands like you were going to get a "registered letter from dad," but work as you never worked before. Get every non you can possibly rake or scrape that is not a ham, and do your best to put all the ham factories out of business.

There has been several jobs bulletined, but I am unable to say who bid them all in.

Wish some one would sent me or Bro. C. L. Porter, Alpha, Tenn., what news he is able to get by the 25th of each month. If one brother would do this between Morristown and Asheville, and one between Morristown and Bristol, I or Bro. Porter will look out for the rest, and we will have a good write-up for each month.

The jobs that were on bulletin were as follows:

Days at "BS" office, Knoxville. Days at Roe Junction. Days at West Bridgeport. Days at Watonga. Nights at Barnard, N. C., and several others that I do not remember. The positions were bid in by the following telegraphers: "BS" office, Knoxville, Bro. Barkley; bid afterwards withdrawn. Days at Watonga by Telegrapher Webster. Days at West Bridgeport by Telegrapher Keebler.

One new office opened up: Friends Station, Tenn., with Telegraphers W. F. Keebler, days, and J. C. Anderson, nights. Telegrapher J. E. Hayes relieving Bro. Barkley at Hodges for ten or fifteen days. Bro. F. M. Leeson doing the owl trick at east end double track while Bro. J. P. Bradshaw is away on fifteen days' vacation visiting his mother in the East.

Bro. Franklin, Russellville, is off on a fifteen days' vacation. Not able to find out his relief.

Bro. Houston, after a twenty days' vacation, has returned to work at east end double track.

Bro. E. E. Marshall, who was express messenger a short time, has returned to telegraph service.

H. G. BARKLEY, DIV. COR.

Macon Division—

Mr. J. C. Ellis, trainmaster, has resigned to accept service with a Brazil S. A. R. R. Co. Mr. Ellis was succeeded as trainmaster by Chief Dispatcher O. A. Gunthorpe. Mr. Gunthorpe succeeded by Mr. G. W. Adams as chief dispatcher. Mr. Adams formerly held first trick, and the trick dispatchers moved up, giving Mr. Mosley, formerly copyist, third trick. Bro. Persinger, formerly day operator in "MA," Macon office, copyist.

Bro. Croft, nights at "MA," going days. Bro. Ingram, former agent at Juliette, going nights at "MA" office. Bro. Lon Pitts, nights at Locust Grove, to agent at Juliette, and Bro. J. D. Hinson, nights at Polhill, to nights at Locust Grove, and Extra Telegrapher Moseley going nights regular at Polhill.

Mr. J. G. Coleman, days at Ellenwood, again on the sick list. Bro. C. R. Stephenson doubling until a relief man can be sent.

Mr. Nottingham, days at Flippen, on vacation, enjoying a trip to the Jamestown Exposition. Mr. Nottingham relieved by Bro. McVickers, formerly nights at Cochran. Bro. McVickers relieved at Cochran by Bro. Baker.

Bro. Richardson, nights at Stockbridge, resigned; relieved by Bro. Lawson, nights at Lumber City. Have not learned who relieved Bro. Lawson at Lumber City.

Bro. E. H. Boutwell, nights at Cork, resigned. Have not yet learned who his relief is.

Bro. West, agent at Berner, resigned; relieved by Night Man Jno. Chambliss, of Berner, while Bro. West accepts nights at Berner.

It is with much pleasure that we note the changes in the service given by the brethren on the line. That is the right thing to do, boys; keep it up and improve. Answer as promptly as you can, and you will very soon convince the officials that the right kind of men are the wearers of the "wreath and sounder" with an up-to-date card.

We all seem to think that the nine-hour law is an assured fact from the way the boys are sitting contentedly waiting for it.

Wish something would happen that would open your eyes and start your brain to working on your own condition as fast as it works following the busy sounders, then there would be some improvement shown, for one man can do nothing to assist himself without the aid of the others.

Boys, wake up. Attend the meetings. Learn what is being done. Learn what you might do if you would try. Take a hand in the matter. Stop waiting for the other fellow, and try to be more than a piece of machinery, for we are enough of a "rousterbout" now. Div. Cor.

Washington Division—

Those that were absent at the meeting held at Charlottesville, October 19th, missed a grand meeting. It was the most successful held since our existence on the division. All present were enthusiastic. The north end was well represented, but was sorry to see the south end lacking in numbers to equal the north end. Come next time brothers, and bring your pal along to help swell the bunch of O. R. T.s; there is abundance of room to accommodate a couple of car-loads of those of the right stripe.

Bro. Grim, who was previously elected chief telegrapher, informs the local, with regret, that it being inconvenient for him to attend the meetings regularly he is compelled to decline the position, but appreciates the honor that was bestowed upon him.

At this meeting Bro. P. T. Robertson was elected to fill the chief telegrapher's chair. Several other officers being absent on this occasion, other brothers were appointed to fill the vacancies in order to proceed with the business.

Many important questions were discussed, and the majority of them were decided and disposed of by an unanimous vote of the brothers. The student question brought many brothers to their feet, who hotly protested against having a student in a rifle shot of a tickler, and the seated brothers also sanctioned the skidoo of the student to the tall timbers. Having students around, making them as wise as ourselves, is one of the greatest evils and the hardest battle we have to fight at the present. Arm ourselves to the teeth with that power "I will not be a professor to work hardships against myself." Understand there are several students located along the line at different points. Some of them may be getting wise, but under whom? Our friends? No. The title of the professor can be written by commencing with a big N— or S—, and using two or three additional letters to complete the title of the —what is it?

Several of the boys that were dislodged on account of their offices being cut out, have not located themselves permanently yet.

Bro. W. R. Connelly worked "CD," Alexandria, and Manassas a few days this month.

Bro. D. W. Sullivan working the middle relief.

Bro. J. B. Rouark, of the Washington office, also working the south end relief.

Bro. T. R. Roberts, of Shipman, off on a vacation.

Understand Bro. C. D. Urban, of Elma, desires a few weeks also.

Two candidates were initiated at this meeting.

Boys, any little happenings around your joint, of interest, drop me a line. Div. Com.

Knoxville Division—

The General Committee, consisting of twenty-one members, convened in Asheville, N. C., September 25th, for the purpose of electing a general chairman, general secretary and treasurer, and transacting such other business as might come before it.

The meeting was called to order at 3 o'clock p. m. The meeting was a grand success throughout, and harmony prevailed from start to finish.

Bro. Duncan, from the Danville Division, took the floor, and in a very nice little speech put in nomination for general chairman Bro. W. J. Gregory, of Chase City, Va., who was elected by acclamation.

Bro. A. L. McDaniel, of Forest City, N. C., was re-elected general secretary and treasurer. It was then decided that we should have an assistant general chairman. Bro. Duncan, of Pelham, N. C., was nominated for this place, and was also elected by acclamation.

Everybody left Asheville believing that great good would come from the meeting, and was apparently satisfied with the results.

We believe we elected the right man for general chairman, and as Bro. Duncan said in his speech at Asheville: "We have a man for general chairman who will see that everybody gets justice, and will not be an easy mark." With Bro. Duncan as assistant general chairman, and Bro. Gregory, the Old Virginian, at the head, we need not have any fear that we will go backward, but will be found climbing up, and before many more months passes into history the organization on the Southern System will rank with the best roads in the country.

A grievance committee was elected also, and things are now in shape for the organization to accomplish results on the Southern. Let every local chairman go to work in earnest for the upbuilding of the organization. We have a good general chairman and good men for officers. Let's not become careless on this account, and leave the whole load for them to carry, but let us assist them in every way possible. Remember, that unless the local chairmen do their work well, and work for the upbuilding of Division 59, the general chairman will be hampered in his work.

See what a change has come with the tide of time on the Southern. Has it not done you good to watch the organization grow? Just keep on working for the betterment of System Division 59 and we will soon be line with others.

There is but one thing that can defeat us, and that is the members themselves. Other roads are now working hard, because there will be a turning point in our lives next year, and the turn will be what we make it. Get in the push, and not wait for the other fellow to do the work. We will soon be getting what the telegraphers justly deserve: The eight-hour day and $75 minimum.

Dues were increased to $10 per year; an increase of just $1 per year. I am sure no member will object to this increase.

I hope every one is pleased with the officers elected, and that good feelings will continue to exist.

W. H. COAD, L. C.

Knoxville Division, West End—

Effective October 1st, the Chattanooga Division was abolished, and it is now as it was before the cut last January, Knoxville Division.

We have now as chief dispatcher Mr. Tom Boyd, Mr. C. L. Harris superintendent, Mr. C. C. Hodges is with us again as trainmaster. Now brothers, we should see that we give the company good service. Next we should see that we get fair treatment, and all that is coming to us, and if we fail to get it, the matter should be taken up with the local chairman at once, who will handle it for you.

Our men on the Chattanooga Division were given good treatment under Mr. Pelter and D. O. Hahn. They granted their telegraphers many favors that were consistent, and in return the men endeavored to give good service. We want the same conditions to exist under the present as under the former officials.

I would call your attention to the importance of giving strictly first-class service, and in return see that you get fair treatment, and if you fail in this you know the remedy. Mr. C. L. Harris told me that any agreement the higher officials made with the telegraphers would be complied with.

Now, brothers, I ask that you see that your chief dispatcher does this.

You must take up your grievances, otherwise there is no need for any one to represent you. Unless you do this you are not the right kind of a union man.

If you allow the officials to give you unfair treatment in violation of the contract, and just let it pass by, you are not only hurting yourself but the organization in general, therefore, I hope you will see the importance in handling your grievances with promptness.

In cases of unjust treatment of any kind, or violation of our agreement, you should immediately handle with your local chairman, giving him papers in the case, with complete statement, and nine times out of ten he will adjust the matter to your satisfaction, and you won't regret the action taken in the matter.

The matter is with you, and the local chairman is powerless to do anything without your support. Some members seem to think that the local chairman will see that everything is handled all right. They think that he knows their troubles all the time without their telling him, and that he (the local chairman), will take care of them. Well, now, you are just that much fooled. As long as you sit still and wait for this to be done, just so long you will not get anything done for yourself. If the members refuse to take up their grievances and support the local chairman, why, the local chairman will necessarily have to sit still, also, therefore, there can be nothing done.

I would like to see the members get busy and see that their grievances are handled. The local chairman is here for that business, and if you have just grievances, and handle them in the proper way, he will see that you get a fair deal. If your case is fair, he will handle it, but if it is not justice, he can not handle it, and will advise you.

I hope that everything will move along as smoothly as it did under the jurisdiction of the officials of the Chattanooga Division, which is better for the men and better for the company. Men can not be expected to give good service unless they receive fair treatment at the hands of their superior officers.

WADE H. CORD,
Local Chairman.

Asheville Division, A & S. District—

Bros. Garven and Skein just returned from their "honeymoon." We extend congratulations. "XO" is solid and all right.

Buena Vista, N. C., we find Williams teaching a boy and girl the art of telegraphy. This office causes our dispatchers lots of trouble. He should take a tumble, or we will make it warm for him. Night man a new man, Mr. J. F. Gregg. He is "game," and is coming our way when he gets his first check.

Bro. J. R. Nicholson, C. T. U. of A. man, nights at Inman, S. C. Uncle Sam has just mustered him out.

Mr. M. E. Lindsay, new man, days at Sigbee, S. C.

Bro. L. L. Jenkins, from the C. & O. Railway, nights at Spartanburg Junction.

Boys, let's see if we can't bring in the nons, and make this division solid. We are all looking towards the $75 minimum and eight hours March 1st, but we must be solid in order to accomplish anything.

Some of the boys are sleeping too much at night. This must be cut out. Stay awake and answer your calls promptly.

I find our schedule is not being lived up to. New jobs are not being bulletined. If a new man comes he's put on a regular job at the start, and we never know that the place is vacant, while some older man in the service would take it had he known there was a vacancy at that place. I will take the matter up with our chairman, Bro. H. G. Alexandria.

One thing we need on the A. & S. is a local chairman. We also need a correspondent. Been nothing in our journal from the A. & S. for a year or two.

BILL BAILEY.

Hocking Valley Ry.

Hocking Division—

Bro. M. C. Carty has returned from the B. & O. R. R., where he has been working on the Pittsburgh Division. Understand he is going into the service of the H. V. again.

Bro. E. C. Lay, of Logan, second trick, and Mr. E. B. Nettler, night dispatcher at Nelsonville, attended the Lancaster Fair.

Block office at Hamley Run was closed Saturday, October 12.

W. M. Deeds, assistant trainmaster, spent several days this week in Logan.

Night Chief Dispatcher Remindo is taking several days' vacation on account of his health. First Trick Dispatcher W. J. Galbroner is taking Mr. Remindo's place during his absence.

Bro. J. B. Mattison, of East Clayton days, was a Logan visitor this week.

Bro. Lehner, formerly night operator at Hookers, accepted the third trick at Mound street the 1st of this month.

The work on the car shops at Logan is being rushed as fast as possible, and understand they are to be completed the first of the year.

The following offices are now on an eight-hour basis: Logan, Ohio; Old Town and Mound street. As fast as operators can be secured all offices will be on this basis. Think all the third trick men ought to keep awake now, as they are only on duty eight hours. Don't let the dispatcher call several times before answering.

Don't think it long before nons on the H. V. will be a thing of the past. If the boys keep after them they will, in time, join the ranks.

The meeting held in Columbus, Ohio, September 25, with the Toledo Division boys, was well attended. Every one that can possibly attend should be at the next one.

Bro. L. E. Miller was a Coes visitor Thursday, the 17th.

Bro. E. Woods, of Hocking nights, attended the Lancaster Fair.

Cor.

D. & R. G. Ry.South End, Pueblo to Trinidad and LaVeta—

We have done some good work in the way of landing new members and getting old ones back.

Bro. T. C. Bailey is back at Huerfane, after having a very enjoyable visit to the Southern States. He reports things in the South as being in very good condition, as far as the O. R. T. is concerned. Bro. Duffenbaugh went from Huerfane to Parkdale.

Bro. "Fatty" Jones has resumed duty as agent and yardmaster at Cuchara Junction. Bro. J. G. Butler, who was acting agent during the absence of Bro. Jones went back on nights. Man named Welsh was there nights, but was sent to Cleora. Don't know what he belonged to.

Bro. Kepple, now at LaVeta nights. Don't know where Bro. Bowen is.

Bro. H. H. Wiles is once more back at his old stand, Rouse Junction. Bro. G. H. Rumke, from the Southern Pacific, nights there.

Bro. C. A. Wright, the old-timer at Old Rouse, is away on his vacation, and is being relieved by Bro. J. Slank, who is regular night man at Rouse Junction.

Mr. G. M. Forrester is at Trinidad as agent again, after a good visit in the State of Missouri.

Bro. W. B. Kenny has gone to Canon City, I "13." Can't say as to what he expects to do.

"SHORTY."

First District, R. G. W.—

Several of our good O. R. T. boys (we have no others) have left to seek work on the Northern Pacific, a 10 per cent increase on that road proving a good drawing card. One or two more have "options" on jobs on the N. P.

A special assessment of $1 for each of the last five months of this year is made, and we hope there will be no excuse whatever for all to be there with the goods. That is only ten cigars a month for you to deprive yourself of.

It has been reported that the boys on the Salt Lake Route have secured an $80 minimum. Although that road runs through the "Sahara" they can not beat us as far as desert is concerned, especially Helper to Grand Junction.

This would be an ideal place to hold a meeting. The "pencil pushers" from the San Pete, and the rest of the bunch on the main line, Helper to Salt Lake, would have a golden opportunity to attend. All that is needed is to go ahead and the boys will be there. The local chairman is the man to make the call.

A number of changes have been made on this division of late.

Bro. Carpenter has weighed anchor at Mill Fork, and is now holding forth at "UD," Ogden, while Bro. Jones has transferred "UD" to Mill Fork.

Bro. H. M. Rosmussen has bid in and received the agency at Tucker.

From a clipping taken from one of the Salt Lake papers, we learn that Telegrapher V. L. Burns, formerly Bro. Burns, who was located at Thistle, has been released from the "pen" at Caldwell, Idaho, and accepted employment with the W. U. at Boise, Idaho.

Bro. Cooper, of "UN," Salt Lake, has been promoted to dispatcher on the High Line (Bingham and Garfield branches).

Bro. Jan Debauer, of "UN," Salt Lake, has resigned; relieved by Bro. Ensign, of "SA," O. S. L. office.

Bro. Ford, agent at Lehi, has returned to work after having spent his vacation at his old home in land of "show me."

I wish to call the reader's attention to the write-up from the Southern Pacific, Salt Lake Division, in the September number. It applies to the Rio Grande very well, especially Grand Junction to Helper. They have the best of it in regard to pay, their minimum being $77.50, while ours is $10 per month less. CERT. 188.

Northern Pacific Ry.

Since the time that we secured the new schedule on the Northern Pacific Railway, I have heard this remark from members, nons, and officials, "Why, I thought the Order was dead on the N. P." Although we are very much alive I do not blame them for taking this view of the matter, as we never hear a thing from the N. P. in our TELEGRAPHER.

We have the Federal law to contend with next January, and I would like to have a personal letter from each and every member on the system, stating just what their opinions are on this question, and what they will demand as to hours and wages. This on account of the management claiming that a blank filled out and signed does not always express the opinion of the telegrapher, but is signed merely to get rid of some troublesome person who is trying to secure their signature to such a document.

Be this as it may, the fact remains that a personal letter carries a good deal of weight, and if we are able to secure one from each member on the road it will, at least, be impossible for the company to say that we are not voicing the sentiments of the majority of telegraphers on the line.

In view of the fact that the N. P. Ry. has seen fit to treat their telegraphers very fairly, and have shown a very friendly feeling towards the Order of Railroad Telegraphers, we should try and reciprocate by doing everything in our power to better the service and demonstrate to them that they are gainers and not losers by having union telegraphers and a scheduled road.

For the information of operators on other roads I wish to state that there is plenty of room for good O. R. T. men, who are competent telegraphers, on the N. P. and we expect, in a very short time, to have competent telegraphers and good O. R. T. men filling every position on the road, and we will not have to work with scabs, nons and students, as we have done in the past two years.

I would like to call the attention of the entire membership to the bond question. Read Bro. Quick's article on this subject in the September issue of THE TELEGRAPHER, and read any other articles on this matter which may appear in subsequent issues, and let us hear from some of you through THE TELEGRAPHER.

In regard to the Lake Superior Division, I wish to state that in a very short time we are going to be solid O. R. T. I am receiving four to five applications weekly, and very soon a non will be a curiosity on this pike. I wish each and every member to constitute himself a committee of one and get after any non that he may discover, and not give him a minute's rest until he is on the right side of the fence.

We must have at least a 98 per cent membership to back us January next, as the railroad company will have all kinds of trouble to dish out to us, such as cut-wage scale, split tricks, making agents fill in six hours at telegraphing, making the operators work nine hours at telegraphing, and do station work the balance, and so on, and unless we wish to work under such conditions we must line up and stand up for our rights, and our only means of doing so is through our organization.

I also would advise the membership to elect a competent man on each division as local chairman, a man in whom you have perfect confidence as to his good judgment, discretion and executive ability, and when you have done so leave the affairs of the division in his hands, and do not butt in with petitions and circulars of your own, as some have been indiscreet enough to do in the past. This only tend to create discord and ill-will among the telegraphers, and serves to undermine and retard the work of those you have elected to serve you.

In conclusion, I earnestly request each and every one of you to get busy, try and get at least one man on each division to send in a write-up each month, and send your notes to him. Get after the nons and when in need of application blanks apply to your local chairman. Get after any member who may belong to some other division, and secure his transfer, or if any one reading this article should belong to some other division do not delay, but get transferred at once into Division No. 54, as dues paid to some other division does not help us secure any better conditions on this road.

Do not make a telegraph school out of your office; it will take all your time to give the company the service to which they are entitled after treating us so fairly, and do not forget that with a solid membership and a membership with some backbone, we will be able to get a square deal in January. Your General Committee can not do it all, so get busy. Let us hear your opinions regarding the nine-hour law, the bond question, and any other subjects which you would like to have taken up and discussed.

Yours fraternally,

SAM JOHNSON, General Chairman.

Yellowstone Division—

Now that we are again numbered among the scheduled roads, let us each and every one make a special effort to put the Northern Pacific and Division No. 54 at the head of the list, both in service and membership. We have a good start, and with a little individual work on the part of each member to secure another member, it will only be a short time until there will be but a few nons left. When you have a new name or sine on the wire, get after it and find out whether he is a member or not. Advise me of new arrivals on the division that you know of, or where a set of application papers can be used, and I will get in touch with them at once.

It is the company's desire and intention to live up to the schedule in every respect, and we as a party to it, must do as much as they. I would advise every telegrapher to ascertain from the chief dispatcher where he stands on the seniority list, and when a vacancy is bulletined, if you are entitled to the position and desire it, insist upon having it. It would be a good idea for all of you to study the schedule and understand every part of the rules, so you will not violate it, and also know when it is not followed out by others. Also think about what you want in compensation for the nine-hour day, which will be put into effect next March. Your committee goes to St. Paul in January to revise the schedule to conform with the nine-hour law, and as we wish it to satisfy all as near as possible, we will want your opinion and ideas of the matter. This information will be asked of you soon. Be ready to answer it promptly. Contractors are advertising for men to work on the ditch out of Glendive, offering to pay thirty-five cents per hour, eight hours per day. Are not telegraphers just as necessary to the running of a railroad as that kind of labor is in digging a ditch? Should we not receive pay in comparison to our respective usefulness?

My address is now Glendive. I expect the help of every member on the Yellowstone Division in making it the best division on the system. Drop me a line when anything occurs of interest to the membership. Any part of the schedule not understood by you will be cheerfully and promptly explained to Bros. Johnson, Holmes or myself, if requested.

Bro. Johnson will go over the system soon, and I am positive his visit will be both interesting and pleasing to all he meets.

Bro. Webster has returned to Glendive after a short vacation.

Cooper and Hawkins, two C. T. U. A. brothers, from Minneapolis and Chicago, are railroading at Fallon and Terry.

Bro. Eiling has returned to Sims after a visit to Ohio.

Bro. Rowan came out with Bro. Webster and is now working nights at Hoyt.

Bro. Schwindt was called East on account of sickness, Bro. Short relieving him at Terry.

Quite a few changes on the division; I am unable to keep track of them all. I wish to take this method of thanking Bro. Miller for his good work during my absence from the division. If there were a few more who would come out and take as much interest in the good cause as Bro. Miller, the Yellowstone would soon be lined up in good shape. Four new members since the first of the month, and as many more promised.

M. A. SMOOT, Local Chairman.

First District—

Our new schedule and wage scale shows an increase at stations where it was needed. Perhaps it is not exactly what some of us expected, but it is a good start, and we always have to commence at the bottom of the ladder. Remember that shining light ahead (nine hours in March, 1908) and do all you can to help us when the time for action comes.

It is impossible to keep track of all the changes, therefore pardon any mistakes.

Marshall is the western terminal of the new A. B. C. block system, and "13" it works fine and may be extended further west in the near future.

Bro. A. J. DuBois, our Local Chairman, who recently returned from St. Paul, is holding it down days at Kline.

Down along the lake, Concord, Mr. and Mrs. Johnson off on a vacation. If they return to work expect to be with us. Unable to find out who is relieving.

Ed Fraser, from Tokio, is now in the chicken business.

Bro. Johnson, formerly of Marshall, is working days at Ritzville.

Mr. Pence, regular at Essig, has gone to Eltopia to relieve Bro. Kelly, who is sick.

Mr. S. J. Langlois, at Lind, promoted from night operator to day operator, relieving Bro. Walters, who went to Toppenish days. Bro. W. G. O'Neil, a new man, on nights.

Bro. W. P. Hoffman, at Beatrice, who has recently been sick, is back "home" again.

Bro. C. L. Hawthorne, recently from Toppenish, is working days at Cunningham.

Bro. Walker, at Hatton, has just returned from an extended visit to Penn.

Mr. Eaton, at Connell, has been trying for an agency, and may make a trade with Mr. Nance, of Mesa, as "13" "N" don't like the new-born agency at Mesa.

Bro. A. J. Kelly, regular night man at Eltopia, is sick; being relieved by Mr. H. E. Pence.

LOWRY HEIGHTS CORRESPONDENT.

Montana Division—

We have some as true blue members as will be found on any division, and some few—well, I don't like to use the word, it leaves rather a bad taste in a person's mouth. You know who I mean. It is a safe bet they were not instrumental in helping us get our raise. Then, again, we have some few nons—good fellows—but mostly "show me" kind of fellows. Now that we have shown them that we could get them a nice little raise, we are going to ask them to do their duty and get an up-to-date and keep one on hand at all times. That sounds easy. It is easy if your heart is in the right place. It's your duty as a man. It isn't right to have the good, true members go down in their pockets and dig up special assessments and all those kind of things in order to benefit you, and you not show your appreciation of it. But we are willing to do it. I for one, and there are plenty of others that would be willing to double the assessments in order to get a still better schedule. Our committee have been untiring in their efforts in our behalf and words will not express our thanks to them. Now, let's get busy and chase in all the nons, and then we will have accomplished the most important point in getting a better schedule and better working conditions. For our own sake, as well as the sake of others, let's get together and see if we can't make the Montana Division solid.

Bro. Warren is now doing the day stunt at Bozeman.

Bro. Logan is now days at Columbus. Understand a man by the name of Anderson is doing the night work.

W. R. Bell, formerly days at Columbus, has resigned and is now working for the Oregon Short Line at Divide, Mont. Understand Bell intends coming back to the N. P.

G. E. Lamb goes from Grey Cliff to Reed Point.

Mr. H. F. Edwards from Manhattan to Laurel nights.

Notice Lombard agency is bulletined. Don't think any of the boys are breaking their necks bidding on it, as it is one of the fiercest roasts on this division. Was over there a few days myself, helping Mr. Boulter get out his monthly reports, on account of being shy a cashier. Wonder what is wrong with Lombard. Several men have fought shy of the cashier's job at Lombard the last few weeks. Also have changed both day and night operators there lately.

Operator Hayes, from Lombard, has gone to his home in Ohio. Can not say who is working there at present.

Mr. D. U. Davis grew tired of the strenuous life as a car juggler and has hied himself to the Great Northern, where he now does the owl act at Chester.

Bro. R. R. Skinner, who has been working an eight-hour job at Redding, Cal., writes that he and the roadmaster at that point tried to decide as to whom should be crowned heavy-weight champion. Owing to a foul blow being struck with a stove poker, all bets were declared off, and "QX" is now installed as night operator for the N. P. at Granite, Idaho.

Brothers, what do you do with your TELEGRAPHERS? Don't read them and lay them aside. You are doing the noble Order a great injustice if you do. As anxious as I am to get the dear old book, I will allow a non to read it first if I think his intentions are good and his heart in the right place. Last month two of the boys read my TELEGRAPHER before I even saw it. Both of them have promised to become members. If they are made of the right stuff, one thorough reading of THE TELEGRAPHER will convince them that they are out in the cold, and they will begin to squirm until they get into the fold. Send that TELEGRAPHER to the non down at the next station, and in a few months our membership on this division will have doubled.

Drop me a postal next month and tell me about the changes at your station. Be kind enough to mention whether the new men are members or not. You can reach me at or about Park City.

Now, boys, one and all, members or not, drop me a line and let's get busy and wake up and prove to the committee that we are alive and back of them in every move. Come on, non-members, we would especially like to get you interested.

E. C. SKINNER.

Pacific Division—

Boys from all roads in the country are drifting in and out on our division and makes it quite hard to keep track of what the correct percentage is at the present writing. We figure about ninety per cent solid, including the C. T. U. A. operators that are employed on this division.

The nons that are left are those that are hard to get, as the boys on the Pacific division are all doing their share toward lining them up, but hope we will be able to make the nons extinct, with the exception of three or four scabs, which we will probably have to contend with until they are fired or leave us on their own accord.

Those who received a raise as per our new schedule are rejoicing. This is not all they should do. Some of them have not as yet paid their special assessment. This is very important and should be looked upon as such. We are sorry to see from the new schedule that there are some of the boys who did not get any raise in salary, but nevertheless they should not be discouraged and neglect the payment of the special assessment.

Our committee has done all in their power to secure a good schedule, without going to extremes, as was anticipated by so many. The new schedule contains many new good points. One, especially, Rule 14. Salaried chairmen considered in service of the company as to rank and right, etc. Our superintendent, W. C. Albee, expresses himself as "delightedoskie" over the new schedule.

We should all act as per circular letter from our committee, give our best services, and by attending strictly to our duties and making the best of everything it will make it more pleasant for ourselves as well as everybody else..

"Ye should sow as ye wish to reap." We hope to be more successful in our next attempt. We will be able to secure shorter hours in the first place, as that is understood by both sides.

The way this division is strung out it is hard for one party to get in touch with all the news along the line. The South and East End are practically cut away from each other, therefore members should help in getting a write-up. You all like to see it. The first thing you do when you get a copy of THE TELEGRAPHER you look for a write-up from your own division. News is not scarce, by any means. Let us know Bro. Pat is the proud father of a boy, and Sister Betty is going to get married and quit pounding brass. There are many of our brothers back East that would read it with much interest.

And wherever you find a non, write it up, so we will know where to go to get him. If you are unable to initiate him yourself, some one else might tell him a different story that would bring him to the front.

Bro. E. J. Bassett, of Weston, brought down the first deer of the season.

Bro. V. O. Brunner is filling Bro. Bassett's place while the latter scours the hills, gritting his teeth, for the large game.

Bro. R. W. Baker, second trick permanent at Lester. Glad to hear Bro. L. A. Peterson back on the wire, after acting relief agent for some time at said place. Lester solid again..

Bro. M. O. Jochum left us quite suddenly. Hear he is in Los Angeles.

Bro. W. B. Glenn has just returned from a pleasant trip to Wisconsin. He acted as operator at the big wreck near Kennedy for a few days.

Sister Miss Christy May, from the Rocky Mountain Division is visiting with her sister, Mrs. Fischer, at Upham. "13" the two sisters do the telegraphing while Bro. Fischer pursues big game in the cascades.

Bro. P. C. Arnold, from Kennedy, is now nicely located in the new depot at Martin. Bro. R. M. Boyle has been relieving Bro. Glenn at latter place.

Bro. Hildemann is back on the hill again, after a month's vacation, visiting at Grand Rapids, Wis.

Mrs. A. E. Crawford has resumed work at Kennedy after a few weeks' vacation.

Bro. W. F. Pangle has resumed duties at Kanaskat after a short vacation, being relieved in return by Bro. Kurtz.

Bro. McDaniels, of Canton, has taken a contract for clearing school grounds and spends his hours off duty rolling logs.

Sister Wiley, of Ravensdale, returned after a long leave of absence, spending it at the famous gold camp, Tonapah, Nevada.

Pacific division is having considerable trouble in moving the heavy freight business. More than two-thirds of the sidings and passing tracks are blocked with cars. Engines are failing, passenger trains are being delayed and freight trains given up. The boilermakers seem to gain headway every day they stay out.

Have not been able to secure any news from our dispatcher's office, even though we have some brothers there.

Trainmasters Coyle, Campbell and Wilkinson are busy out on the road night and day, doing all within their power to prevent the blockades.

The South End is dead. Very few changes.

Bro. U. G. Calvert, who acted as relief agent at Napavine, was taken sick and has gone back to telegraphing again. We "13" he has Easton regular.

Bro. R. F. Graham, nights at Auburn, has traded with Bro. Brimberry, Tacoma "WR" office.

Bro. Frank Kinsman, Lemolo nights, has resigned to go to Panama.

Bro. D. Phillips, Hot Springs, has been on the sick list for some time, but we learn he is now improving.

A request has been made to Bro. I. N. Holmes, General Secretary and Treasurer, to call a meeting at Auburn for the election of a Local Chairman. This meeting is very important and should be attended by every member that can possibly get away from duty long enough to do so.

Great Northern Railway.Brockenridge Division—

This division is now 70 per cent O. R. T. and more coming in. Let each member do a little hustling. We will soon be in good shape.

Bro. Denison, formerly at "CX" nights, now working for C., R. I. & P. at Kansas City, Mo.

Bro. Gregory relieved Bro. Hunter at "RA" for a few weeks. Now back to his old job at "QC."

Bro. Burdick, formerly of Division No. 23, at "MV" days.

Bro. Joyce, at "FN," is planning a trip to the coast this winter.

Understand a ham factory is being operated at Herman by the agent.

Changes have been made at "FO" and "RU." Unable to get names of new men, as yet.

The N. P. boys got their new schedule. Our committee intends to meet in St. Paul in the near future for the same purpose. Remit for your special assessment at once, as it takes money to keep a committee going. Get after the nons.

L. C.

Devil's Lake Division—

From what information I can gather, we are in pretty good shape. Students very scarce. We have a few nons waiting for pay-day to show us that they are the right stuff.

Quite a number of changes are taking place and perhaps more will occur, as the boys do not like the cold weather very well.

We understand the boys at "KS" office are enjoying a $5 and $10 raise this month. We are glad to see the brothers in such luck, and we hope to see the rest of the brothers on the road get the same treatment, which we expect to see before a great while now.

The "WS" tower has been moved to the passenger station, with Bros. Martin and Bryan doing the heavy work there.

"KS" office, Devil's Lake, has been moved from the freight office to the new yard office, with Bros. Holbrook and Ruth in charge days, and Bros. Moore and Rowan doing the owl tricks.

Bro. Dickson has been transferred, Doyon to Niagara days.

Bro. Terry has been transferred, Michigan nights to Niagara nights. Unable to say who is at Michigan.

DASH.

Chicago, Cincinnati & Louisville Ry.

Howard Johnson is holding down Fowleston nights, vice A. C. Born, promoted to agency at "FR."

H. H. Chamness, day towerman at Losantville tower, "RN," has returned to work after three weeks' vacation.

W. H. Hutchins is acting as relief for Bro. Chamness.

Voyte T. Johnson, formerly with C., C. & L. as day operator at "RI," has accepted a position with the Big Four at New Castle, Ind.

E. W. Johnson, local chairman north, spent his vacation with his parents in Ohio. He was relieved by Bro. H. A. Johnson.

Wm. Royal, agent at Fowleston, Ind., has resigned and has moved his family to the Sunny South.

Now, as to our condition on this division. How many of you have stopped to consider how important it is for every member to keep the chairman posted as to the nons in your immediate territory? So far as Division No. 75 is concerned this information has not been given your committees, and they have, in turn, not kept the general chairman posted. In future do not let a non light near you without giving full information to your local chairman, and steps will be taken to get them lined up. Let us have Division No. 75 100 per cent in the near future, and then keep them lined up.

The many changes taking place on the line makes this necessary. Give your committee your support.
CERT. No. 1, Div. 75.

M., St. P. & Sault Ste Marie Ry.Winnipeg Division—

Bro. Ferguson, of Lancaster, still out on his homestead, while Mr. Nelson, of Henning, holds down the joint.

Bro. Allison, our local chairman, of Bronson, is moving into a house of his own which he has just completed.

Bro. Dalton, of Halma, has returned from a thirty days' vacation, visiting relatives and friends at La Crosse, Wis. and Austin, Minn. Mr. Lennon was holding down Halma while Bro. Dalton was away. Lennon goes to Conway from Halma.

Bro. Haulotte, of Strandquist, is going further South, therefore there will be a permanent change of agents at that station.

Bro. P. J. Boyce, who has been owl at Mahnomen for some time, is now temporarily at Thief River Falls. He will return to Mahnomen as soon as the regular day operator is put on again, which will be soon. Bro. Wilson, who has had the relieving of Lankins for six weeks, relieved Boyce at Mahnomen. As soon as they can get a man for Mahnomen nights Bro. Wilson will take his old job at Erskine.

Bro. Paine has been off on a ten days' vacation, visiting at Eau Claire, Milwaukee, and North Cranston, Wis. He was relieved by Bro. P. M. Wilson.

Bro. C. J. Pederson has quit at Detroit. He was relieved by Mr. J. E. Burgess, a new man, non.

Bro. Field, Richville, is going to quit the business and go to farming, so we can look for that station to be bulletined soon.

Bro. Johnson, Henning, has been off on a vacation for a couple of weeks. Mr. Nelson, his owl, relieving him. At present Henning is supplied with a helper, instead of an operator.

Bro. Salisburg, Parker's Prairie, also had a short vacation shortly after Bro. Johnson returned and relieved Nelson. Nelson also relieved Salisburg while he was away, and he is now at Lancaster.

Bro. C. V. Danielson, Oslo, was off a few days looking up land.

Bro. Oliver, who for the past two and a half years has been agent at Adams, has left the service and gone East.

Bro. O. W. Chapman, of Gardena, has been assigned Adams agency.

Bro. Cannon, formerly days at Adams, has also left the service and gone to the C. & N. W. He is now agent at Wokama, S. Dak.

The night job at Adams is bulletined.

Bro. Lennon relieved Bro. Chapman at Gardena, and will act as agent until the station is bulletined.

Mr. C. A. Castle is at present acting as agent at Grano until that station is bulletined.

Bro. R. A. Snyder, of Loma, has resigned and is going where he will not have to shovel snow this winter.

Bro. C. M. Chaffee, days at Overly, relieved Bro. Voigt, at Kramer, a few days during October, while the latter was attending court. Unable to say who took charge of Bro. Chaffee's chair at Overly while he was absent.

Bro. Abbott, Garrison, has been appointed local chairman for the Missouri River Division.

Loma and Tolley agencies are bulletined, also the night job at Thief River Falls.

The local chairmen would like to suggest that when an operator applies for a position that has been bulletined, to send his local chairman a copy of the application, as he will then know if assignments have been made according to age, etc.

It seems that some of the brothers do not understand the procedure of grievances, and for the information of all would like to suggest that those having grievances with the company observe the following:

First, Take the matter up with the proper official for adjustment, and in the event you are unable to effect a satisfactory settlement turn the matter over to the local chairman.

Second, After you have turned the matter over to the local chairman the aggrieved party has nothing more to do with the grievance, and can only recall through the local chairman.

Third, If the local chairman can not effect a desired result he will turn all papers over to the general chairman, and if the general chairman is unable to secure from the superintendent an adjustment he will take the matter higher until satisfaction is obtained.

Bro. T. E. Crandall, local chairman, has twice been placed in embarrassing positions by brothers placing grievances in his hands, and then have the brother aggrieved recall his grievance after the superintendent had given him a "nice little spiel." Both times these brothers had just grievances, and would have gotten justice if they had left the matter in the hands of the local chairman. You will confer a favor if you will observe the above.

There was a meeting of the Wheat Line and Main Line boys held at Kenmare Friday, October 4, but it was not as largely attended as we would like to see. It seems that more could attend these meetings if they would make some effort. By meeting is the only way we have to get together and discuss matters pertaining to our organization.

"NA" office, at Minneapolis, is getting lined up. Only one non left there and he is very friendly. Wretched service given at "MS," Minneapolis office on account of only scab operators there.

Brothers, do not lose interest; we have lots to work for. Look at the old N. P. and G. N. We must work hard the next six or seven months, as we will look for better results when the committee goes in next spring. Perhaps a large number of us could do better financially by going to some other road, but my advice is to stick and get the good things at home. The Soo Line is a good road and if we put forth an effort, as we should, we will be on top, instead half way down the ladder. We are so near 100 per cent strong on this division that there is no fun in it, but brothers we must not stop working; write to non-members on other roads and send them application blanks. Efforts of this kind may be fruitful. Recollect that when we secure a member on another road we are strengthening our organization of the "army of toilers."

IN MEMORIAM.

WHEREAS, Almighty God has deemed it wise to remove little Mary from the family of our brother, J. Schmid, therefore, in manifestation of our respect and friendship for our brother and his wife, be it

Resolved, By the members of Soo Line, Division No. 119, the Order of Railroad Telegraphers, that we extend to the bereaved parents our heartfelt sympathy in this, their hour of affliction; and be it, further

Resolved, That a copy of these resolutions be furnished to the bereaved family, a copy spread on the records of the division, and a copy furnished THE TELEGRAPHER for publication.

B. & O. Ry.

New Castle Division—

We are pleased to report that we have a dispatchers' and side wire office 100 per cent strong. Newcastle office is now solid O. R. T. We have made a gain of 60 per cent in membership the last eight months, which, if continued, will put us in about as good shape as they get. We are unable to report any gain in membership of exclusive agents. The most of them seem to think they are overworked to the extent of four to eight hours per day, and underpaid $15 to $25 per month. How they expect to improve their conditions by standing each man for himself is more than I can figure out. If they think the operators and dispatchers are going to pull chestnuts out of the fire for them they will likely be disappointed, for the operators and dispatchers have enough to do for themselves without delaying the game for the benefit of the agents unless they are willing to do their share, then we will be with them until the last dog is hung.

Our relief operator, Wm. McCarthy in public life, but W. A. McCarthy in private life, left the booze route. He is a fine-looking old gentleman, about forty-five years of age, with one arm off above the elbow, and wears an O. R. T. button, but has no card. He forgot his board bills at several places along the line, but, thanks to Division Operator Cahill, he was reminded of his obligations, and will not have any funny stories to tell about "how I forgot my board bills" on the Newcastle Division. He should be treated as any other pest of the species boomer, and the brothers should not be fooled by his button, but ask to see his card, which he has not.

Bro. W. J. Howey, at Deforest Junction, collected $8.75 for the commercial men; Bro. O. C. Bedell, at Akron Junction, collected $15, and Bro. G. M. Thompson, at New Castle, had collected $30 at last report.

Mr. Elson, of Sullivan nights, has been sick for some time. Bro. Mann, of the Grand, working there at present.

"MN" tower is being bulletined. Bro. Birch is working days at present, and a Mr. Gray, a new one at the business, nights. Vacancy caused by Mr. C. H. McGhee resigning, which will be good news to all Order men. We "13" Bro. Brenne-man, at present west end relief man, expects to settle down at "MN," and enjoy his old age, and the money he has saved while on the relief job.

Bro. Cecil, Lodi, nights, has gone West on account of poor health of his wife. Bro. Trussell working nights at Lodi during Bro. Cecil's absence. Bro. Gray working nights at Newtons, in place of Bro. Trussell, and C. T. U. A. Bro. Wolf, nights at Chardon, in place of Bro. Gray. Understand Bro. Gray has been assigned to east end relief.

Bro. Gleason, "everything" at Boughtonville, reports he checks short one day telegrapher.

Bro. Sweet bid in "CO" tower, a new office on the construction work a mile west of "FD" tower. Mr. McConney working nights.

Mr. Weaver is at "FS" tower nights until Bro. Taylor can get the "white elephant," Wayland, agency off his hands to take "FS" nights.

Bro. Jones, Newton Falls days, has been off for about six weeks, and is reported seriously sick.

Bro. Woods, of C. T. U. A., relieved Bro. Jones until the 15th, when he resigned, being relieved by Bro. Bell, of Division 2.

T. W. Hynes bid in night job at Haselton; vacancy caused by Bro. Flory resigning to go to the Lake Shore.

Bro. Maloney, Lowellville days, is back on the job, after an absence of about four months, caused by a broken limb.

Bro. Johnston is doing the night trick again.

Bro. Wilson is working nights at "NC" junction just at present. There have been several men on the job while Bro. Leahy has been on the side wires, and no wonder the job does not look good to them—too many hours and too many irons in the fire.

We have for chief dispatchers now Mr. W. P. Cahill, brother of Division Operator Cahill, and Mr. C. C. Steinmetz, day and night. Bro. G. M.

Thompson taking second trick east and dispatching trains.

We have about as nice a bunch of dispatchers to work with as is to be found anywhere, nine of them and all O. R. T.

Mr. Post, clerk at Warren, main line, has gone to Niles as clerk. Have not heard who takes the Warren job.

Bro. F. E. Hawk, a Division No. 33 man, is at Concord days, and Mr. Spoolman nights.

Our last meeting was held in Akron the night of September 18, with a good crowd. Bro. Owens, of the Erie, being present, favored us with a short address, which was well received.

The telegraphers all seem to be of the opinion that we should stand for an eight-hour day and more money than we are getting now. The papers announce each week the increase in price of the necessities of life, but we fail to see our wages increase or our hours of labor shorter.

By the way, has any one seen any eight-hour jobs running around looking for operators?

UNCLE TOM.

Pittsburg Division, West (Narrow Gauge District)—

Bro. V. C. Smith, at Tytylersburg, taking his vacation. Mr. Stone, night man from Clarion Junction, relieving him.

Dispatcher Mr. Heinman has returned from his two weeks' vacation. Mr. Burns from the main line, relieving him; doing the telegraphing, and Bro. Wilson, at Butler, running trains.

Bro. Snyder, at Nansen, spent two weeks' vacation at New York City.

Bro. Jordan, from Shipperville, spent his vacation at Atlantic City.

Bro. Ryner relieved Bro. Jordan and Mr. Wray while they took their vacation. Bro. Ryner is one of the old boys. He is attending college at Gettysburg during the winter time, and works extra during the summer.

Bro. Grimin, who has been at Foxburg, nights, left for his home in West Virginia to spend his vacation with his parents. Bro. Richards, formerly of Kane, relieving him.

We regret very much to announce that Mr. Stone, night man at Clarion Junction, has a student.

CERT. 1,045.

Wheeling Division—

West end Holloway, nights, is at present being filled by a new man, Bro. Langdon.

Bro. P. A. Schultz, one of the division chiefs from the Western Union, in Chicago, is at present holding the yard office, Holloway, days.

Bro. Van Fossen returned from a trip through the West a few days ago, and is back at his old stand at yard office, Holloway, nights.

Bro. R. A. Stiles has been off duty several days with stomach troubles which made it necessary for Bro. W. Kinney to double several times.

Bro. T. L. Ellis, of "FI" tower, nights, had to chip in at "HO" one night, which made it necessary for Bro. E. E. Holloway to make a double.

Bro. F. Scholes was under the weather for a few days this month, but has returned to duty.

Bro. C. L. McFarland, of Maynard, spent four days with the old folks at home this month; relieved by Relief Operator Schultz.

Bro. Ingram, a new man, at Maynard, nights, at present.

Bro. C. Williams, of St. Clairsville Junction, made a flying trip to Bridgeport one day this month.

Bro. C. H. Mitchell, of Bridgeport, at present holds that office, days, while a new man from the C. & P., Bro. R. J. Gerry, does the owl act.

Bro. R. T. Sallisburry has the day turn at Tower "DK" again, while Bro. Garrison does the owl.

Bro. L. R. Siglar has been off duty a few days on account of sickness.

Bro. Roy Fetty has resumed duty on the west end, Glover Gap.

Bro. Moore, who was working his turn, has returned to the O. R. Division.

Dispatchers Bros. Woodward and Smith were out on the road posting up a couple of days lately.

Bro. F. T. Fulton has returned from the Jamestown Exposition.

Bro. A. S. Rushford, of Burton, days, has bid in for the relief block job on the east end, and it is understood at this writing that he gets it. This will take two offices from Bro. H. A. Schultz, "HN," Benwood and Schick.

Bro. Ice, of Barricksville, nights, is working days at Roseby Rock until advertised.

Bro. John Odea, of Littleton, days, has returned from a trip to the city of baked bean fame.

Bro. C. Linn got Valley Falls, days, by bulletin.

Bro. W. K. Carr, a new brother, got Wheeling yard, "WR" office, by bulletin.

Bro. E. C. Shewbridge got third trick, Cameron.

Bro. C. A. Lovejoy is off on his vacation.

Bro. M. B. Rickey is at present working Bro. J. E. Rickey's trick on west end while J. E. gives the boys on north end their relief.

Bro. M. C. Deegan leaves the 26th for his vacation.

Bro. Walter Cochrell took a trip over west end lately.

IN MEMORIAM.

WHEREAS, The Almighty God in His infinite wisdom has deemed it wise to remove from our midst Bro. Frank M. Ingram, and in memory to our brother, who has been taken from us, and in sympathy to the bereaved family; be it

Resolved, By the members of the Wheeling Division, No. 33, B. & O. Railway, that we extend to the members of the family of the deceased brother our heartfelt sympathy, and we commend them to Him who doeth all things well, and who will comfort them in this their hour of bereavement; be it further

Resolved, That in the death of Bro. Frank M. Ingram the Wheeling Division of the B. & O. Railway, Division 33, of the Order of Railroad Telegraphers, loses a true and faithful member, the wife a kind and loving husband, and the children a kind and loving father; and be it further

Resolved, That a copy of these resolutions be sent to the family of the deceased brother, a copy spread upon the minutes of this division and a copy sent to THE TELEGRAPHER for publication.

Philadelphia Division—

At a meeting of Baltimore Division, No. 17, on the 18th of September, action was taken upon the Legislative Committee of Maryland that nearly completed it.

The Philadelphia Division of the B. & O. was well represented at this meeting. Chief Skinner called on all the B. & O. boys present for an expression of views regarding this committee. He desired not only their views, but the opinion of all the telegraphers in Maryland, so far as those present knew. Then it was decided that the committee be filled up, and organized at once. This was done and after the regular meeting closed the Legislative Committee met immediately, and Bro. F. F. Sullivan was unanimously elected chairman. Several communications were read from various officers of Division 33 in relation to the above subject. It was last April when these officers were notified of the intentions of the telegraphers in Maryland, and asked to get a committee of five to co-operate with the five from Baltimore Division, No. 17, but up to this time there had only been one elected by the telegraphers, and it appears as if his election was subject to the rejection or approval of the General Committee of Division 33, as the telegraphers did not care to wait any longer on any one, they elected their committee, and are doing business in the proper shape. It is hoped now that the boys throughout Maryland will attend meetings when held, and try to find out what is going on. With the chairman at its head that safely conducted the first eight-hour telegraphers' bill through the Legislature that was ever passed, and with his knowledge of the ins and outs of legislation, it is natural to suppose that something beneficial to us will come from the work of this committee. Every one on it is a power, and their work will tell.

Regarding the editorial in THE TELEGRAPHER for September about the bond question, there seems to be no reason why this company should not be started; but it should bond not only members of the Order, but any one who can give the proper credentials. The government of this company is something that should be looked after and guarded very closely, and Bro. Milburn's idea of how a system division should be managed applies with equal force here. His idea is to have three members, not members of the General Committee, to pass on all bills before being paid, and look after the welfare of the system division. This should be adopted for this bond company when organized: Just have three members of the Order, not officers in any way connected with it, to pass on all bills before being paid, to audit accounts once each year. This committee could fully investigate those turned down on questionable grounds by other bond companies, and accept or reject them subject to approval of board of directors and the president of the company. Some railroads pay the premium of the bonds of their agents, which should also be considered. There is no doubt that if this company is started and managed economically that in time it will exceed our expectations in the business it will secure. To start, and start right, is the main question.

It is rumored that Division 33 is agitating the question: "Should dues be raised or not?" If the necessity for the raise is shown, then the telegraphers will decide the question.

An open meeting of great interest to Maryland telegraphers was held in the hall of Division No. 17 on Wednesday night, October 16th. Much regret was expressed on account of President Perham not being able to attend. The commercial telegraphers were well represented.

We had the honor of having with us on this occasion Bro. Page, general chairman of the Pennsylvania Railroad Lines, east of Pittsburg and Erie.

Bro. Sullivan, the newly-elected chairman of the Legislative Committee of Maryland, was present, and delivered quite an interesting address.

Local Chairmen Pierce and Wright, of Division 33, and several members from Division No. 60 were present. Chief Skinner presided. Dr. Sebastian, of "eight-hour fame in Maryland," was on hand with his usual supply of funny stories which "took the house." He wound up his address a little seriously, asking the boys to stand by that which we have gained by hard work, and we would be in a better position to gain something for the benefit of telegraphers in the future. The sentiment throughout the meeting was: When you find any one that is not the right stripe, "get after them," the same as the commercial brothers all over the country have.

No changes on this division, and we expect another meeting soon.

How about these monthly meetings that were to have been held on the Baltimore Division, B. & O. Railroad?

CERT. 421.

L. E. Division—

Bro. Wright, of dispatcher's office, is taking an extended trip through the West for his health.

Bro. Titus, who fell some time ago and fractured his ribs, has returned to duty.

Bro. Kennison of the second trick, dispatcher's office, is on the sick list; Bro. Leslie working his trick.

Bro. Connor and wife have returned home from an extended trip through the West.

Bro. Hahn, our night chief, is able to resume duty after several weeks' sickness.

Bros. A. J. and W. B. Grubb have resumed duty at "IN," after several months' sojourn through the West.

Bro. Anderson, of "WF," who has been attending the convention of old-time telegraphers, is back to his post.

Bro. Kerr, copier in dispatcher's office, now running trains on third trick for past month.

Bro. Mix enjoying six months' leave of absence.

Bro. Walsh, of "SD," returned to duty after spending the summer in California.

It is rumored that Division Operator Kimball has instructions to install several eight-hour tricks on the line.

Drv. Con.

Chicago Division, West—

I wish to call your attention to the item in the September issue of the journal charging Mr. E. H. Loomis with student teaching in the telegraph school at Garrett, Ind.

This is to advise you that Mr. Loomis was teaching in the school, but decided it was not the proper thing to do, and he quit the school, filed his application with the O. R. T., and is now carrying an up-to-date card, Cert. No. 1650, Division 33, and promises to make us a good member.

Bro. J. C. Shoults bid in Syracuse, nights, on bulletin for month of October.

Bro. Leslie, Milford Junction, nights, took a few days' vacation, spending the time at Tippecanoe, Ind., with relatives. Mr. Love, extra operator, filling the vacancy.

Dispatcher J. W. Odum, third trick on the Duddle line, spending his vacation renewing acquaintances with old friends at his home, Peru, Ind.; relieved by Extra Dispatcher A. R. Moore.

Bro. B. C. Briggs took ten days off.

Bro. Loomis relieved Bro. Briggs as manager. J. J. Fleck doing the extra work in "G" office, days, and Mr. W. G. Marine, a C. T. U. of A. man, doing the night trick.

Bro. Beery, Syracuse, days, spent Sunday with friends at Deshler, Ohio, October 13th.

Bro. W. G. Smith bid in night copier's position, Garrett, dispatcher's office, on bulletin the month of October. This leaves a vacancy in "G" office for some good all round man on next bulletin.

Fourteen new members in one month is not so bad. Let the good work proceed, and nail every desirable non you can get your fingers on. You don't need to be ashamed to take the money, for the cause is a just one.

One of our brothers is endeavoring to secure a lodge hall at Garrett for the ensuing year, and things point favorably at this time to securing either the Firemen's or Trainmen's Hall. This will make an ideal place to hold meetings, as we understand Nos. 11 and 12 are to be put on this fall again, and there should be a good attendance every night. Should be able to advise you by next issue as to his success.

CERT. 1,400, DIV. 33.

River District, Pittsburg Division—

Regular monthly meeting of Division 33, held in Pittsburg October 19th, while not largely attended, proved very successful and intensely interesting. Chairman Bro. Will Carr, presiding.

Several important matters of business were taken up and handled in a highly commendable manner. Owing to the increase of business the services of a regular secretary were deemed necessary. Bro. Jas. McDonald, of Wheeling Junction, was elected by unanimous vote to fill this office for Pittsburg Division.

The following sisters and brothers were also appointed as a Committee on Social Events, viz.:

Miss M. Magee, of Allegheny.

Mrs. V. F. Alley, of Pittsburg.

Miss Lizzie Bellman, of McKeesport.

Chas. Paul, of Versailles.

Harry W. Mason, of Pittsburg.

Arrangements are now under way for holding a social meeting, or smoker, at Hotel Wilson, Pittsburg, at an early date, open to members, their wives, sisters and sweethearts. We sincerely hope you will try to attend. Can safely guarantee an enjoyable evening to all.

Quite a few changes being made: Bro. Clarence Baker will relieve Bro. M. T. La Mar as clerk to division operator, Mr. Day. Bro. La Mar returning to "DS." Bro. Rust to succeed Bro. Baker.

In "DS," Pittsburg, we find Bros. Baker, Fulwider, Landymore, Maratta, Drumm, Wheeler, O'Donnell and Mason still doing business in their usual hustling way. Three of this office, we are sorry to note, are still on our list of nons. This looks bad, in view of the fact that this office has been specially favored, largely through the efforts of our Order.

Our agreement is soon to be revised; we are handling some very important business in connection with same, and it is specially desired that each member give voice to their actual sentiments in order that our committee be able to handle the matter in the most intelligent manner when they appear before the management. If it is otherwise, who are you going to blame? Your committee and the few who work and attend meetings, or the many who say nothing and remain away?

Among those present at last meeting we were pleased to see our three and only sisters of this division: Miss Grace Reilly, of Banning; Miss Lizzie Bellman, of McKeesport, and Miss M. Magee, of Allegheny. Bros. LaWell, of Pittsburg, and J. Yeager, Jr., of Wheeling Junction, have left us for better positions in the far West; also Bro. E. M. Brown, of Versailles.

The four-track system has been extended, and is now in operation from Wheeling Junction to McKeesport. This closes Rankin and throws their work back on Wheeling Junction.

Sister Bellman, of "KS," McKeesport, has just returned from a trip to Buffalo, Niagara, Montreal and other northern points.

Bro. H. F. Farren, formerly of Ellrod, is now with the P. R. R., we understand; more money and less work.

Mr. Moore, of Lucinda, Pa., now working days at West Newton.

Bro. La Grange, from the A. V., has caught the only "pie" job of the division, Reduction.

The boys at Hickman Run are well pleased with their new tower and location. Bro. Cook, of Hickman Run, days, has been off for a few weeks at his home in New York on account of sickness.

Bro. Gleisinger, of Reduction, is enjoying a six months' leave of absence, and will likely engage in business for himself.

Sister Grace Reilly, of Banning, is at present off for unknown cause.

What does our agreement say? Kindly refer to the second article and say if we are to submit tamely to any and all ruling our local officials may choose to apply?

Sister Reilly, I am pleased to note, has, however, secured a better position with the P. R. R.

Commercial telegraphers are very much in evidence along the line.

Chairman Bro. Will Carr put in a few days on the road recently looking for nons. He found a few.
Div. Cor.

HARTVILLE, Ohio, October 25th.

To Members O. R. T. Division No. 74:

We desire to extend to you our most sincere thanks for your kind words of sympathy in our recent sad bereavement.

Yours truly,

MRS. H. B. HOWARD AND FAMILY.

C. & N. Division—

It has been demonstrated that intermediate division meetings are practicable, and at the meeting held the 21st of this month, presided over by our local chairman, it was unanimously adopted. So, in the future, we can look forward to a regular monthly meeting on this division.

Last month we had an informal intermediate division meeting, and it was decided then to call our local chairman to meet with us and preside over our next meeting. Bro. Foust is of the opinion there is an opportunity for us to accomplish much good at these division meetings. Let us have a full attendance in the future at same. If this is done these meetings may continue, but if there is not a good attendance and a lack of interest is shown by the membership, it may be deemed unwise to have them. Now, let us turn out en masse and attend these monthly meetings. I am sure they will be instructive and entertaining. I know of nothing you could give one evening of your time to that you would feel better repaid for time spent.

There were a number of brothers in attendance at both of our meetings that candidly admitted it was the first time they ever attended an O. R. T., and were quite enthusiastic, and wanted to know when we would again meet, as they wished to be there next time. I remember of hearing one brother say he had been working on this division for fifteen or twenty years, and it was the second time in all these years he had the pleasure of meeting one of the other brothers, working not over fifteen or eighteen miles distant from him. Now, what do you think of this? Is it not about time we were holding meetings or doing something to get better acquainted with one another?

Bro. C. D. Phillips, of Outville, nights, resigned; relieved by Bro. C. R. Wilson.

Brothers, do not lose sight of the fact that there is a standing reward offered for any non refusing to accept the increase in their salary obtained through our committee, under the guise of it being tainted money. A. VOLUNTEER.

Cleveland Divisions—

We had a good attendance at the last meeting held at Massillon, Thursday night, October 17th. The east end boys were all there. Let us all try to be on hand at the next meeting, when Bro. McCoy will sing. Don't miss it.

Mr. Orahood, Midvale, has been taking a short vacation, but now back; relieved by Bro. Chancy, extra relief man.

Bro. Frank Landis resumed duty at Columbia, days, after one month's absence.

Mr. Ferris made a week's stand at "Bridge Eighty," nights, and left for W. & L. E., dispatcher's office, Canton; Bro. Stevens relieving him.

Bro. Stevens is going to Lester, nights, and Mr. A. L. Snyder, from "FN," to the Bridge.

Mike Hamel and Bro. Weaver, of New Philadelphia, went to the Exposition at Norfolk.

Fred Mitchell, at Canal Fulton, is off few days. Bro. R. H. Johnson, of Boston Mills, relieving.

Bro. S. M. Harper applied for leave of absence last Christmas, and has just been relieved for two weeks.

Bro. Wilbur George, of Freeport, days, laying off; Mr. Davis working in his place.

Bro. H. D. Harris on two weeks' leave; relieved by Bro. Ford Hoover; later Bro. Hoover went to Midvale. C.R.T. 1,458.

C., M. & St. P. Ry.

LaCrosse Division—

Some of the brothers are laying off at present, and a lot more that would like to if they could be relieved, but we are informed by some telegraphers who have tried to get on the extra list that the company has enough extra men. I would like to ask where they are and why we can't get them when a vacation is asked for.

The joint meeting, held at Milwaukee September 21, referring to the C. T. U. A. brothers and O. R. T. brothers, was well attended by the brothers from many divisions, and several of the Local Chairmen were present and argued some very good points for the benefit of both organizations. All that were present fully understand the conditions under which they have had to work and the way in which they have been treated by the officials of the Western Union and Postal Telegraph companies.

As this goes to press we learn the following from the State Tax Commissioner: "Madison, Wis., Oct. 15, The Western Union Telegraph Co., through its attorney, A. G. Zimmerman, of the County Court, today paid its taxes of $19,710.90, with $331.70 interest penalty for delaying it, to the said State Treasurer under protest." It appears from the above that the W. U. are not satisfied with reducing the salaries of the employes 38 per cent in the last twenty years, but in order to make good on their enormous dividends, are compelled to try and defraud the public in this State as well as in the several different States which have taken the same action against the said company.

Bro. O. R. Behl, Columbus, off for a few days; relieved by Mr. W. J. Breene.

Bro. Magoon off a few nights at Watertown Junction; relieved by Bro. Kehoe.

Bro. Stewart, at Lyndon for a few nights. Can not say who he relieved.

Nons are very scarce. This division is near to the top notch, and there is no reason why those that are not in can not help us along and make the roll a full and complete one. They ask for application blanks and assistance and then turn the matter down. Beware of those fellows. In time of want and need, they will ask for some assistance; then is the time the medicine can be given. C.R.T. 249.

Kansas City Division—

The best thing that has happened for some time was the meeting at Ottumwa, Ia., October 13. While the boys from the West Division failed to get out at all, and only two from the Middle Division, on account of no train service, the brothers from the Main Line and East Division did well, and we had a good crowd. but it was quite a disappointment to us when we learned that those west of Ottumwa were unable to attend, as it was the first time that we had been honored by the presence of our worthy General Chairman, O. W. Renshaw, and General Secretary and Treasurer, Bro. Soyster.

The address of Bro. Renshaw was full of good, sound reasoning; in fact it was O. R. T.-ism pure and simple, which will stand the test at all times, and if each brother in attendance did not carry away some good thought, it was his own fault or lack of ability to appreciate and grasp ideas when presented.

Bro. Soyster gave us some good sound advice and a whole basket full of Division No. 23 reports and statistics, which was highly appreciated, and made us feel that we were a well organized body, and that we were both financially and numerically strong enough to help ourselves materially in the bettering of our working conditions. There was one theme that appeared to be uppermost in the minds of every one present, and that was a shorter work day.

While the brothers were all well satisfied with the treatment we are receiving from our local officials in regard to the schedule (with the exception of the failure to bulletin side table positions promptly), every one is looking forward to a better schedule with a shorter work day, and to that end we pledged ourselves to do every thing in our power to hasten the time when we should realize a shorter work day.

Our worthy Local Chairman, Bro. Doherty, was a little late in getting in, but made up for lost time by starting things right off as soon as he arrived.

He informed us that he had extended an invitation to the junction officials to call, but none of them put in their appearance.

There have been quite a number of changes recently. Our old-time friend and train master, J. F. Richards, has been appointed division superintendent of the Rochelle Line. Mr. H. W. Druen, C. D. on East End, became train master. This gave Mr. Chick, first trick on East End the position of C. D., and moved the boys all up a notch.

Bro. Gibaut, days at Linby, is off on a vacation, visiting his brother at Moresville, Mo.

Bro. Jacobs, of Haysville, is away on his vacation; Bro. Koetling relieving him.

Day telegrapher at Seymour has been taken off, on account of shortage of men to fill night jobs. How strange!

Bro. A. R. Herdman, who has been working nights at Osgood, was home the other day, on account of his father's sickness.

Bro. Shields, at Cowgill, is off on a vacation.

Bro. Goeffing, nights at Liberty, relieving. Do not know who is in his place.

Quite a number of the brothers have not paid the $1 toward the incidental fund voted at the Laredo meeting last spring. This is something we should not neglect. We need a fund of this kind. All those who have not paid please remit to Bro. G. L. Gallaher, Gault, who will receipt you promptly.

And, as a closing remark, let us all make a strong pull, a pull altogether, for a shorter work day.

Div. Cor.

C. & C. B., Iowa Division—

Bro. Elder, Aspinwall nights, to Dedham nights, relieving Bro. Julius, who left the road.

Telegrapher Rose back to Aspinwall after working at Arion a short time nights as towerman. He is still minus a card.

Telegrapher Asher to "RD" Council Bluffs, relieving Bro. Forbes, who resigned.

Bro. Swenning, who left the road several months ago, has returned from the wilds of New Mexico to Van Horne.

Miss Anna Ranniger, of Aspinwall, called on Bro. Elder the latter part of September.

Bro. Peasley relieved Bro. Erven at Weston nights, Bro. Erven leaving the road.

Telegrapher Asher, of "RD" Council Bluffs nights, was ordered to Manning nights, but quit before he got there, leaving it up to Bro. Laubaugh to work two nights. Telegrapher Rose, of Aspinwall nights, helped him out by working three nights, Rose being relieved by young Blakeslee, who will be up-to-date as soon as old enough to join. He was ordered to Collins nights on Rose's return to Aspinwall. Bro. Zadnicheck, formerly of Morley, at present working nights at Manning until Bro. Ryan, the regular man arrives.

Bro. Soyster, our hustling Local Chairman, was out doing business the first of the month, landing nearly all the delinquents and making the "Grab List" look like a fifteen-cent piece. The following were fixed up for an up-to-date: Rogers, Disburg, Wright, Crowe; also Arrasmith, of Stone City.

Bro. Griswold, who worked extra nights at Manning, got Haverhill on bulletin.

Bro. Minahan, Persia to Neola nights on bulletin; relieved at Persia by Bro. Mullis, of I. C. Division No. 93, who will be transferred to Division No. 23.

Bro. Lewison was appointed day man at Hernon through an error, as Telegrapher Etzel beat him to it.

Gibson appointed nights at D. M. River.

Bro. Karsche appointed night operator at Cambridge instead of Operator Patton.

Bro. House, of Defiance, received Weston nights on last bulletin.

Bro. Halpin, who worked nights a short time at "RD" Council Bluffs, is at present working in the Wabash yard office at Council Bluffs.

Telegrapher Lee Harned, a former brother, is now working nights at "RD." Will be up-to-date next "joy" day, he says.

Bro. Forbes, who was at Council Bluffs nights, has gone to work for the L. V. R. R. in Pennsylvania. He is copy operator for dispatcher.

Bro. Porter, who was injured by falling off a train in Des Moines, is better.

Young Madison, one of Doyle's students, worked a few hours at Van Horne and then turned the keys over to a citizen and hit the grit before the agent got up.

The meeting at Perry October 20 was well attended, although I believe more could have turned out without any great inconvenience to themselves. It is a shame that some members don't make a strong effort to attend when Mr. Rozum, our train dispatcher, does everything in his power to arrange for every member to get off if there is any possible show. In a number of cases he has closed offices and stopped passenger trains to pick up and let off members. There were only twenty members present where there should have been forty or fifty at the least. Mr. Rozum was present and gave a very interesting talk on the cause of wire trouble during the present C. T. U. A. strike. He also spoke of the poor attendance at the meeting and was sorry that more were not out. Second Trick Dispatcher Anderson also talked on wire trouble and better service, and said there was considerable time lost in calling night men who were asleep, and others who did not try to help him out by giving him important information and promptly reporting trains in and out of stations. Bro. Soyster asked if more satisfactory arrangements could not be made for transportation of members to meeting. It was thought a pass sent to the farthest man in each direction who was going to attend, the pass to read ten or fifteen men, the member holding the pass to pick up the other members enroute. After Mr. Rozum had departed, a closed meeting was held and several important matters pertaining to the Order were discussed by Bros. Soyster, Renshaw, and all the members present. Bro. C. E. Olsen, who is extra agent at Madrid for six months, made a very able speech. Also Bros. Snyder, Anderson, Brown, Genrich, and last, but not least, Bro. Lingham; all of the brothers, in fact, had something to say.

Every station should be represented at the next meeting. Our chief dispatcher should be given the best of service, as he is doing his best to accommodate us on meeting day, and if we give him a square deal he assures us we will receive the same from him.

The brothers on the Middle and Eastern Division will do me a favor and also themselves by furnishing me items to reach me on or before the 20th of each month. "Nick."

Southern Minnesota Division—

There has been considerable of a change among the dispatcher's force, both at LaCrosse and Madison, S. D.

Mr. S. C. Sorenson, chief dispatcher for a number of years at Madison, has been transferred to chief dispatcher at Aberdeen, S. D.

Mr. J. M. Moore, who has been first trick at LaCrosse, has been promoted to chief dispatcher at Madison.

At present S. A. Whitford, formerly third trick man at Lax, is out on extension, and understand he is to be gone at least six months and possibly longer.

Bro. E. J. Whalen advanced from side wire to third trick, temporarily working the first trick until side wire is assigned on bulletin.

Bro. Thompson, of the C. T. 'U., is holding down side wire for a couple of weeks.

F. D. Campbell still working second trick, but will take first trick in a few days.

Superintendent's clerk, O. H. Berg advanced to third trick, but presume when change is made he will take second trick permanently. Don't know as yet who will fall heir to his slippers, but believe it will be W. B. Fraser.

No vacations forthcoming for love or money, so not much doing in the way of news on the First Division.

Business good, with two crews, on the Fountain Hill, and everyone fills up at Dexter with cars; nothing stronger to be had in that berg.

A few Sundays ago every one along the line was dumfounded to learn that S. C. Elson, agent at Armstrong, had shot both himself and his little daughter. The father and daughter were out walking and, while deranged, he shot the little girl, aged eight years, through the head, killing her almost instantly, afterwards turning the gun upon himself. They were found in this condition by a neighbor. Mr. Elson lived but a short time. Do now know who is Mr. Elson's successor at Armstrong station.

Bro. W. E. Campbell transferred to Lily from Alden, and Bro. S. W. Fuller transferred from Lily to Alden for a period of six months.

Bro. J. M. Johnson, at Mapleton, was very fortunate—he got a three weeks' vacation. He was relieved during his absence by Mr. Gunderson from the Iowa Central.

Heard the night man at Mankato wiring for a week's lay off, and if he gets it the way I got mine he is still working at Mankato nights. Seems mighty curious to yours truly that some of the nons can get a lay off and the remainder can stick to the ship.

About the 1st of the month the Milwaukee took possession of the "Alphabet" road and their forty odd miles of rust, and I guess they will have their hands full getting it into shape.

Don't think Bro. J. E. Clayton, at Albert Lea, has seen any sign of a raise for the increase in work.

Bro. Jas. Sheehy has returned to Easton.

Bro. O. A. Laugen, now located at Welcome, is filling the vacancy caused by Bro. Sheehy's return to Easton.

Mr. Jensen has returned to Delavan after a vacation, and right here let me say that any one who has goods enough to go on a trip with certainly ought to have the wherewith to get into the band wagon and help play the horn.

I hear that Bro. J. C. Creedon, formerly at Welcome, is enjoying his leave of absence.

Bro. Griffin must be figuring on a change, as Chandler station is bulletined and Mr. Gunderson has gone there as temporary relief man.

Bro. R. N. Miner assigned to Howard station for six months. Didn't learn where Bro. Fry intended to locate.

Ed. Malone is taking Bro. Miner's position as day operator at Egan.

Bro. E. M. Phillips has been assigned to Lake Preston.

Bro. Flindt had a vacation and made a trip to Rochester.

Now, brothers, west of Jackson wake up and help me out, for if you don't I shall continue to drum at you every month until you do. There are lots of changes out there, and with a little assistance from you we could make a good showing of the west end. If it's only one item, send it along, and you all know my address, for I work at the "jumping off place" of the Milwaukee System.

T. P. HORROW, Div. Cor.

Northern Division—

Bro. Dunlap, at Minn. Junction, has been having serious trouble with his student baggageman, otherwise known as ham, who is inclined to learn the (art?) of telegraphy whether Bro. Bill will have it or not. Heard the trainmaster was out on the C. & N. W., giving Bro. Bill instructions regarding the student, and said he would send him a set of instruments for the ham to practice up on, so he can some day be the general superintendent of some wheelbarrow. He wants this student to have from two to three hours' practice daily, regardless of other work, but Bill can't see it that way. Bill says he can put his instruments in freight house and have all the practice he wants. If this isn't satisfactory he will box the whole outfit and send it to the superintendent.

Bro. C. A. Doyle enjoyed a few days' vacation at Pardeville; relieved by his son George, who in turn was relieved by Mr. Harry, a new man.

Mr. Jones, from Pardeville nights, back to school at Cambria. That's where he belongs.

Bro. Woodchick, at "C," Fox Lake, off a few days; relieved by Bro. Sellen, from "RP," Rolling Prairie, where he was relieved by Mr. Ward, from the C. & N. W.

Bro. H. L. Radtke, at "B," Beaver Dam Junction, off for three weeks, his brother, E. H. Radtke, doing the stunt, being relieved of night position by Mr. Evans, a new man from the C. & N. W.

Bro. Gensmer, at "J," Horicon Junction, nights, vice Bro. Doyle.

Bro. Thiel, at "D," Hartford, is having all kinds of changes with his night force. Bro. Dorgan, having resigned, was relieved by a Mr. Shepard, who lasted about two weeks, and was relieved by Mr. Evans, who lasted one night, and then Mr. Hoey, who got cold feet and didn't work at all. Then Fred had to double, but find him back at work next night. Hope he stays there now, as Fred has enough to do without doubling.

Bro. Dorgan has secured a position on Southern Pacific Railway, near Los Angeles.

Bro. Herberg, at "RG," North Milwaukee nights, vice Mr. Griswold, who is back at school.

Bro. Holt has been on the sick list, but am glad to see him back at the old stand.

Bro. Nichols had the misfortune to break a finger, but is back at work again; was relieved by Mr. Ward.

Bro. Sawyer, at "J," Horicon Junction, days, was off about two weeks; relieved by Bro. E. Radtke.

We have nine nons still on this division, the majority of whom are undesirable material for our craft. We should weed out the desirable ones and land them, and keep close tab on the newcomers. All get busy and make us 100 per cent.

E. H. R.

Third District—

The telegraphers of the C. & M. Division, through Bro. F. J. Alleman, local chairman, bought and presented to Bro. E. E. Livezey, former local chairman, general secretary and treasurer, a diamond-studded stick pin, as a token in a small degree of the respect and appreciation of the great services that Bro. Livezey has rendered them in the past. It would be hard to present anything approaching in value the services he has rendered to the division. He was one of the first to take the matter of organization up, and has been true blue through the many discouragements which beset every step of the way to our now comparatively successful position. Such men can not be honored too highly for the sacrifices they have made. Bro. Livezey is now on leave of absence.

Bro. Ed. Taylor, of Everett nights, is relieving at Buena Park during Bro. Livezey's absence.

Bro. C. E. Eckerly, of Galewood days, has been on a few days' vacation; relieved by Mr. J. Calder, a new man on the road.

Mr. Calder also relieved at Union street.

Bro. Hornberger, of Pacific Junction, first trick, has resigned and gone into business at Deerfield, we understand, the vacancy being drawn by Bro.

G. H. Hattendorf, agent at Glenview. The vacancy at Glenview has not been filled up to date.

Mr. J. A. Patterson is working the first trick at Pacific Junction until Bro. Hattendorf is relieved at Glenview.

Bro. Tuffley, of "WV," was called home on account of the serious illness of some of his folks. He reports them recovering now.

Dispatcher C. A. Larsen has been ill with something like typhoid, but will probably resume work in a week or so, the second trick being worked by Dispatcher Babcock, and the first by Extra Dispatcher Welsh during Larsen's absence. The side wire, days, is being worked by a Mr. Coffin.

Mr. J. L. Bauer, formerly of "DI" days, drew night job at "CG," and is now working that job, which was made vacant by the resignation of Mr. M. S. Carr.

Bro. McGillas, who worked in "CG" up to last spring, and went to a position with Rockefeller on the personal request of President Earling, returned, he finding the job not as represented. He asked to be reinstated with his rights, and a vote was taken on the question, which resulted in the granting of his request, and he is now on his old job at "CG."

The new cut-off at Oakwood is now completed, and trains are moving over this track. The depot has been moved to the new location on the east side of the town. Mr. Wilkins is working nights at Oakwood now.

Mr. C. B. Lester worked at Everett a few nights. He is now at Fox Lake nights, Mr. Allen at "A 23" nights.

It is understood that Bros. McCann, of Ingleside, and Kelly, of Fox Lake agencies, are going to leave the service and go into the general merchandise business at Russell.

Bro. Dan McCann is relieving at Fox Lake and Willey at Ingleside.

Bro. Macnamara, of Russell, surely deserves the prize for the interest he manifests toward the C. T. U. boys. He secured $20 from the citizens of that town toward the aid of the striking commercial boys, and then gave $5 himself, making quite a neat sum from Russell. The action on the part of the citizens shows clearly the stand they are taking, and also the way the "wind is blowing" by the majority of the people in regards to the course being pursued by the Western Union and Postal companies.

The action of several railways in starting schools show what we may expect if they can create a surplus of operators (?); it means less wages if they can find the men to work for them, and I think we should hold to that article in most schedules, "that we will not be required to teach telegraphy;" this means just the same when imparting any information to a "graduate" that may want to "finish up," as it does to the entire teaching of a student, and it is hoped that all brothers will absolutely refuse to do any "finishing up." Our trade is our capital, and I take it as an injustice when any one tries to force us to give up that capital just the same as if it was the "coin of the realm" that is ours for our labor.

Bro. P. B. Moshier has returned from Bozeman, Mont., where he has been working for the N. P.; now extra nights at Hebron tower.

Bro. F. J. Alleman, our local chairman, attended an O. R. T. meeting at Madison, Wis., October 26, and reports an interesting time.

Mr. C. J. Fisher is now working the second trick at Rondout. CERT. 1129.

MEMBERS OF DISTRICT No. 3:

I desire to extend my heartfelt thanks for the token of appreciation which I received at the hands of your committee for my efforts in the past five years in handling the work attached to the office of local chairman, and to say that I am delighted with same is putting it very mildly. I wish to thank each and every member in the district for the manner in which they have assisted in the work of making this one of the most successful districts on the system, and the only one which was not at one time partly or entirely organized by aid of a Grand Division organizer. The work in this territory was done by the members alone, without any outside assistance or influence.

In tendering my resignation as local chairman I felt that the position could be better filled by a new officer, and I knew that you would elect the best man to the position and support him as you did me, and I am pleased with the way which my successor, Bro. F. J. Alleman, is handling the work, and ask that each of you redouble what assistance you have been giving him, and work all the harder to support him, as you know that his many other duties make it a hardship on him to handle this work for you. Attend all meetings and always be ready to assist and advise a brother, and the practice of fraternalism will bring more success to our beloved Order than anything else we can do.

Again thanking you for the beautiful present which I received from you, with best wishes for each and every one, I remain,

E. E. LIVEZEY,
Past Local Chairman.

IN MEMORIAM.

WHEREAS, It has pleased Almighty God to summon unto his fold the beloved wife of Bro. A. J. Bernie, thus depriving him of one who, in life, was ever a true, kind and noble soul, while mourning his loss with a heavy heart, may he humbly submit to the will of Divine Providence, saying not my will, O Lord, but Thine, be done; therefore, in token of our respect and sympathy for our brother and his relatives; be it

Resolved, By the members of LaCrosse Division that we extend our sincere sympathy to them in their bereavement; and be it further

Resolved, That a copy of this memoriam be presented to our Bro. A. J. Bernie and relatives of the deceased wife, that these resolutions be spread upon our minutes and a copy be forwarded to THE TELEGRAPHER for publication.

And when she parted from this life,
Her sufferings all did cease;
The wish of all her dear friends is:
That her soul may rest in peace.

Committee.

A CARD.

TOMAH, Wis., October 4, 1907.

To Members of LaCrosse Division:

Please accept my sincere thanks for the beautiful flowers sent at the time of the death of my wife. It is a comfort to know that your friends think of and sympathize with you in the hour of death and sorrow, and I hope you may all find such friends when sorrow comes to your homes.

Very sincerely,
A. J. BERNIE.

Queen & Crescent Route, North.

Our committee has been up and secured a nice little raise; not a word about it in the journal. If we don't do something our brothers on other lines won't even know we have a schedule.

"13" Bros. Wm. and C. M. Gooch, of Kings Mountain, have resigned and accepted positions with a lumber company at $80 per month. The position as agent has been accepted by Bro. Goode.

Does not such cases as this clear the problem as to why operators can not be secured? Well, I think it does. Do you suppose these two brothers at "KM" would have resigned had they been getting $80 there? No. Then where are the operators all over the country now? They are following other occupations which affords better salary and better working conditions.

Bro. True, formerly from "NS," nights, and Bro. O'Neal, of "MA," nights, are now with the Missouri Pacific.

Bro. True writes: "Have the best job on the pike at $77.50, and overtime for meal hour."

Taking effect October 1st, Bro. A. B. Willison has been appointed general chairman, vice Bro. Collins, resigned.

Taking effect same date, Bro. K. C. Gardner, Lexington, Ky., has been appointed general secretary and treasurer, vice Bro. Caldwell, resigned. Bros. Collins and Caldwell have been excellent officers, but we realize the fact that Bros. Willison and Gardner are worthy of the positions to which they have been appointed. Let us do all we can to help them along, and we will soon have a "full house."

Two new applicants on L. & A., at Nicholasville will be "safe within the fold" ere this is in print.

"13" they can not belong to 62, but "the grand" looks good to us.

I have heard some complaint about the small raise secured by our committee this year.

Now, brothers, "come off." You all know deep down in your hearts they did the best they could under the circumstances. Take what you can get, and be satisfied. You have heard the song: "Every little bit, added to what you have, makes just a little bit more." Have you paid the assessment? If not, it's not too late.

There are still a few nons. All you brothers that are near a non get after him. Don't let him rest. Preach to him till he sees O. R. T. in "box-car" letters in his dreams. He will soon get so he won't hardly answer you; afraid you'll ask him: "Has he got a card?" If a new man comes in get to him by the time he lights.

Now for a man who has a student: Can't you see where you stand? Do you know what you are doing? If you don't, please read our journal and see. I don't see how an O. R. T. man can scrape up enough nerve to teach one (although some do). I'll bet he can't look a true brother in the face without "blushing." Do you remember the obligations you took upon yourself when you joined? Do you know when you are teaching a student that you are committing a sin? CARR. 303.

Chattanooga Division—

At the regular September meeting, which was held at Chattanooga, September 23d, there were about sixty members present, and a great many were disappointed on account of No. 5 being late, and they could not reach there in time to be worth while coming. Most of those present managed to get on the high flyer, which reached Chattanooga in due time to open meeting on time, but we were not particular about closing it so early, so just continued it till the wee hours of Sabbath morning. You should not miss these meetings, whenever the opportunity permits. I am sure there are a number that did not take advantage of this one. The chief dispatcher did not deny any one that asked for transportation, and I notified all by letter, so there is not much excuse for a great many between Somerset and Oakdale. Fourth District turned out fairly well.

Recently there has been a new set of local chairmen elected on account of Bros. C. L. Miller and R. T. Shaw resigning. These brothers have done good work; now let's give our assistance to our new local chairmen, and get things to going, and keep them going. They are doing all they possibly can for your welfare. Let every member assist.

Our general chairman, J. W. Collins, and also general secretary and treasurer, have resigned on account of both accepting positions that would occupy so much of their time they thought they would not be able to give proper attention to the work of the Order. A. B. Willison, of Science Hill, Ky., has been elected to serve the unexpired term as general chairman, and Bro. K. C. Gardner, of Lexington, Ky., elected G. S. and T. Any business that you may have to transact take up with these brothers direct, as it will save time in getting action.

Bro. Meadows, Cave Springs, is now working in a 2x4, as his happy home, "CA" tower, was burned to the ground, caused by defective flue.

Bro. S. W. Jenkins, days at Rathburn, has just returned from a vacation; relieved by J. E. Jenkins. Bro. Chas. Jenkins doing the night act.

Bro. R. P. Hodges has recently been transferred to agent at North Dayton.

Bro. J. M. Holloway, of Spring City, who is taking his vacation, relieved by Mr. Carr.

Night offices have been opened at Lorraine and Glen Alice, and closed at Roddy and Spring City. This is done, I understand, on account of the eight-hour law, which is effective March 4, 1908; thus making all of the above-named a one-man job. Have not learned the names of the new men who bid the jobs in.

Bro. Frank Roddy has resigned as agent at Roddy.

Bro. John Howe, regular day man at Harriman Junction, is taking a much needed vacation; relieved by Bro. C. X. Smith, night man. Mr. Mumford doing the owl act.

Bro. Mack Williams, Oakdale, off for a few days on account of his wife being ill. Bro. Cudaback, night man, relieving. Bro. Williams, a C. T. U. of A. man, doing the stunts at night.

Bro. I. C. Stevens, Rugby Road, just returned from visit with relatives in Ohio for the last month.

"DK" and "BC" towers, new block jobs recently opened up; salary now $65, straight; no meal hour included. These jobs are manned by Bro. D. E. Young, Bro. D. Strunk, Mr. King and Mr. Frost, C. T. U. of A. man.

Bro. Waldron, of Tateville, has been taking a vacation in or about Cincinnati for a few days, but understand he has returned.

Bro. Gooch, nights, "US" yards, Somerset, relieving Bro. Addyington for a few days. Bro. Addyington has been visiting his father and mother down South, somewhere near Oakdale.

NOTICE!

To all Members Chicago Division, East—

I notice with much regret that our end, as yet, has not shown up in THE TELEGRAPHER.

Bro. H. M. Clark is now acting as our division correspondent, and he, as well as myself, will appreciate anything that any brother will send him in regard to happenings along the line. Now, let's all help him to get a good write-up, and have it come out in the next issue.

Hoping each one will do their best, and comply with this request, I remain at your service.

YOUR LOCAL CHAIRMAN.

Michigan Division—

New information blanks are being furnished the members and nons, and all are requested to hand them in not later than December 1st. A revised schedule is being prepared to present to the management. Remember March 4th is the big day for all operators.

The three trick shifts are being instituted by our management, taking effect about November 1st. Let each one of us try and fill these new places with up-to-date men.

Bro. J. H. Pepper, agent at Carthage, is sick, and is being relieved by Bro. Edgar P. Defort, a member of Division No. 40, C. & O. We are glad to report that Bro. Pepper is recovering.

Bro. A. F. Defort has accepted agency at Letts Corner, which was made vacant by the death of former agent, C. H. Wasson.

Bro. C. M. Baker has accepted the position of day operator at North Vernon, vice Bro. Doris resigned to seek employment elsewhere.

Bro. J. Stricheal, who has been off on leave of absence for a few days, is back.

Bros. Ed. Becker, of Goshen, and Ed. Middlekauf, of Jonesboro, made a flying trip to Alexandria as the guests of Bro. Lavengood between trains Nos. 39 and 40.

Bro. Edw. Middlekauf was at Wabash on October 23d.

Bro. Geo. Lovengood, of Alexandria, is now our local chairman, vice Bro. Edw. Becker, of Goshen, who had to give up this work on account of his health.

New Paris agency is reported advertised, also day operator at North Vernon, agent and operator at Milford, and agent and operator at Letts Corner. I think the three latter places have been filled.

Called meeting at Indianapolis on September 24th, was a good meeting, and all enjoyed themselves.

Glad to report Bro. Shinebarger, of Eau Claire, is back at his duties, after a few days' lay off on account of a piano pinching him while unloading out of a car.
E. M.

Indiana Division—

Meeting called to order at 3 p. m. by General Chairman Justice.

Various letters and bulletins were read by General Chairman Justice. Grievances were reported on the Indianapolis, Michigan and Chicago Divisions, which Bro. Justice promised to adjust at the earliest possible time. The meeting was enthusiastic, and those present were well pleased. We adjourned at 5 p. m. to meet at 7 p. m., same date.

Meeting was called to order at 7:30 p. m., by General Chairman Justice.

The grievances of the various divisions were gone over again so as to be fully understood by the members that were not present at the previous meeting. Many other subjects were gone over by the general chairman for the welfare of the order. Meeting adjourned at 10 p. m., to meet at some future date.
H. C. WILLING,
Acting Secretary.

Sandusky Division—

Mr. Frank Ruff, who has been working message wires in dispatcher's office for the past year, has been promoted to extra dispatcher on this division, and is at present learning the road.

Bro. S. G. Dykes, agent at West Liberty, has returned from a thirty days' vacation, spent in the southern part of the State and at the Jamestown Exposition.

Bro. McCune, West Liberty, nights, was doing the agency stunt during Bro. Dykes' vacation. He being relieved, nights, by Evans, of Springfield, and a Mr. Willey, from Dayton.

Bro. H. C. Stokes, of Huntsville, was off two weeks during September on account of being sick. He was relieved by F. B. Myers, one of Mr. Jones' graduates from Huntsville.

Silver Creek is to be made an agency, and is open for bids at this writing.

Mr. Harry Craig, from Cincinnati Division, is doing extra work at Kenton, nights, at present. This place has not been bulletined yet. All positions are supposed to be bulletined when a vacancy occurs.

Bro. Ed. Utiz, Grants, doubled for Bro. Auerich one night last week.

Forest crossing of the Pennsylvania and Big Four is now made three tricks. Seems nice to hear the boys talking about their tricks, even if we don't possess one ourselves. Only five months until we will all be enjoying that kind of work, if the laws of our land are any good.

Mr. F. B. Myers, working extra at Wharton, nights, relieving Bro. Miller, who is at present on his honeymoon.

It is rumored that Sandusky Division is to be made absolute block, which will require two or three new offices, and an additional night man or two.

Bro. R. M. Carter, who has been working for the past eighteen months as night operator at Tiffin, has secured the agency at Green Springs station, vice Mr. Walker, who has, as I understand it, quit railroading, and has gone into some more profitable business for himself.

Bro. R. G. Debolt, who has been working a block job at a station called Myers, on the Columbus branch, succeeds Bro. Carter as night man at Tiffin.
Con.

Cincinnati & Indianapolis Division—

The last few weeks have been a hummer for this division, new members coming in, and the proper spirit is being shown by the boys individually to build up the membership and make us solid. Every one seems to understand the necessity of this. All are enthusiastic for the eight-hour law and hourly pay and won't stop until they get it.

Bro. Hess is arranging for a meeting at Bellefontaine, and also Anderson or Muncie, for the West End boys.

Vacancy bulletined at Longville days. Bro. Benson, night man, now days there. Bro. Bogan, formerly at Van, there nights.

Bro. Smith, agent at Mt. Victory, took a few days off last month, Bro. Ford, of Lorne, relieving him; Bro. Golden relieving Bro. Ford.

Van has been discontinued as a block office, but Bro. Nelson still does the "OS" work days and runs the pump.

Mr. Kelley, Ex-W. U. man, from Muncie, now nights at Elroy.

Bro. Miller, at Gretna, is laying off; "Skinny" Thatcher relieving him.

Bro. Foster, of Farmland, is relieving at De-graff now, while Agent Vance is off.

Bro. Harvey is back at Taft, after a rest of fifteen days.

South Anderson days, and "BU" yard nights, advertised.

Bro. Doane, "QC," who has been on vacation, has returned.

A very sad accident occurred some time during the night, between York tower and "CJ" office. Mr. Fred Kuntzman, night man, on reporting for duty, asked his brother to work a while for him. This was the last seen of Fred until the next morning, when his mangled body was found along the tracks. It is not known how or by what train he was killed, but there is some suspicion of foul play.

We understand several of the boys wished to attend the meeting at Indianapolis last month, but for some cause could not get passes.

The boys are paying more attention to that forty-five-minute clause and the overtime lately. Remember, it is between 11:30 and 1:30, and don't forget to ask for it. CERT. 675.

Cincinnati Division—

Regular meetings will be held in the Hollencamp Building, Dayton, Ohio, the third Monday night of each month.

There seems to be a disposition on the part of our membership to think that they have fulfilled their obligation in being the bearer of an up-to-date card. If the present membership did nothing more than pay their dues we would not accomplish much as an organization. Get after that non working next door to you and tell him what a mistake he is making by not joining us and helping the cause along, and that he is doing himself an injustice as well as ourselves, and keep right after him until he joins.

Bro. Heflon, of Lily Chapel, is off, sick. Mr. Compton, of Georgesville, being the relief man.

Bro. Paul, of Galloways, is off on his annual vacation, being relieved by Bro. Rolan.

Wm. Ferguson, of Georgesville, now has charge of Myers nights.

Bro. Rogers, of "AK" tower, is off on a vacation, visiting friends at Sandusky, O., Bro. Armstrong, the night man, being the relief.

A. Mr. Long, from the Sandusky Division, is doing the owl act during Bro. Rogers' absence.

Bro. Stabler, at Brooks, has been off on a vacation, being relieved by Mr. Harrison, of Plattsburg.

Bro. C. G. Berry is now copying in "J" office.

West End has been bulletined open, day and night, on account of Bros. Bright and Douglass refusing to accept the $5 cut in wages, since the company put an extra man in to take care of the gates. Bros. Bright and Douglass gave the company ten days to put them back on the old wage scale. The schedule states West End pays $60, and the crossing gates are not mentioned.

Mr. Dennis Staley, employed by the Pennsylvania Co., at Springfield, O., as telegrapher and clerk, is trying to establish a class in telegraphy at the local Y. M. C. A., but his prospective students seem to know that the art of telegraphy calls for long hours, small pay and a multitude of duties; and he is unable to get the required number of students for a class.

Bro. Keever, of M. & C. Junction, spent a day with home folks, hunting squirrels.

Bro. Billingslea, of Franklin Junction, made a short visit with home folks.

Mr. D. E. Harmon has accepted the agency at Monroe. L. D. STABLER.

St. Louis Division East—

We should all be proud of the East End of this division as to membership and students. There is not a student known to the writer, and a very few nons.

Brothers, what do you think of that picture on the front page of the September journal. The non is certainly a funny looking creature when placed under a magnifying glass.

Our worthy Local Chairman has secured a lodge room at Paris for the purpose of holding meetings therein, and is making speedy arrangements to get the room fitted up with the necessary fixtures.

Now, brothers, let's all be ready to attend these meetings, as many as possibly can. There is always knowledge to be gained at each and every one of these meetings, as well as getting acquainted with your fellow brethren.

Bro. O. A. Hurin, at Avon, has been off on a short vacation. He was relieved by Telegrapher Husson.

Telegrapher Slegner has left the service. He was relieved by Telegrapher Hodson.

Agent Jackson, at Danville, was called away on account of the death of his brother. Bro. M. O. Denny was checked in as temporary agent, Bro. W. O. Setty as day telegrapher, and E. R. Dawson as night man.

Bro. T. F. Macinch has been transferred from Delmar nights to Reno nights. He was relieved at Delmar nights by Bro. Munday.

Bro. W. C. Byers has left the service. Did not learn where he went.

Bro. R. N. May has resigned. He was relieved by H. D. Allen.

Bro. D. M. Adams is relieving Bro. Case at "HY" for a few days.

Bro. Chittenden is acting as relief agent at St. Marys.

Bro. R. E. Graham is the new owl at "WR."

Bro. E. R. Wright is spending his vacation at Terre Haute.

Bro. Withers, of Perth, has been taking a vacation; relieved by G. R. Hodgins.

CERT. 258.

Cairo Division, North End—

Bro. Fry, formerly at "BI" Birds days, bid in Marshall days.

Bro. D. Sewell resigned. "13" he has accepted a position as timekeeper for the Big Four.

Bro. Bert Dix is doing the day stunt at "JB" Trimble. He formerly worked nights there.

Bro. A. Rodgers bid in "BI" days.

Bro. Wm. Gerdes, formerly at "ON" Robinson nights, is working the owl trick at "RD" Pinkstaff.

Bro. J. H. Bayles is working nights at "ON" Robinson at present.

New station at Robinson cut in the 29th.

New tower at Robinson is completed and ready to move in.

Boys, send your news to me at Robinson.

L. R. COTTAM.

B. & O. S. W. Ry.

We had an interesting meeting at Cincinnati, October 23, some thirty or thirty-five members being present. Local Chairman Weis, of Ohio Division, gave us a few good pointers. There were also interesting talks by others. It seems a number of operators do not understand the meal hour, and are altogether too indifferent to this part of our schedule. The schedule reads very plainly: "When operators are not allowed sixty consecutive minutes between the hours of 11 and 1 o'clock they shall receive twenty-five cents." This means you are not to go to eat before 11 o'clock and if held until 12:01 you are to turn in an overtime slip. Not an operator should fail to do this. We have been working for this article, and for a few (who want to "stand in" with the officials) to take only thirty or forty minutes for the meal hour, without claiming twenty-five cents, means we may have the meal hour eliminated in the next schedule unless we make a fight for it.

It seems to me we should have a meeting some place on the system once every two months at least, and have our general chairman with us, paying him when it is necessary for him to be relieved.

Bro. Hopping, agent at North Bend, resigned to accept an eight-hour trick on the Big Four at Griffith.

Understand the Big Four is making three tricks out of their towers as fast as they can secure operators. R.

IN MEMORIAM.

WHEREAS, Almighty God in His wisdom has deemed it best to remove from the family of our brother, H. F. Howard, his beloved father, in manifestation of our grief and fraternal sympathy for our brother and family; be it

Resolved, by the members of the Baltimore & Ohio Southwestern Railway, Division No. 74, Order of Railroad Telegraphers, that we extend to the bereaved brother and family our heartfelt sympathy in this their hour of affliction; and be it further

Resolved, That a copy of these resolutions be sent to the bereaved family, a copy spread on the records of the division, and a copy furnished to THE TELEGRAPHER for publication.

First District—

The meeting of the First and Second District boys at Conneaut, Sunday, October 20, was a grand success. Twenty-two members were present, the greater number coming in on train No. 6.

The boys on the east end were badly handicapped owing to no local passenger train in the forenoon.

The meeting was called to order at 1:15 p. m. by the General Chairman, Bro. E. M. Mulcahy, who reviewed the work of the past few months, reading several important communications pertaining to advertise positions, the dinner hour question, the hours of service laws, and the present struggle of our sister organization.

After giving the members some very good advice as to the duty they owe the organization and their employers, Bro. Mulcahy vacated the chair in favor of Local Chairman Bro. C. F. Mayer. A great deal of business was transacted. Local chairman of the Third District, Bro. C. W. Hudon, was present and made a brief speech.

Bro. Kist moved that the members of Division No. 18 continue to give their moral and financial support to our brothers and sisters of the C. T. U. of A., and also that we fulfill our obligations to the railroad company. It was seconded by all present and carried unanimously.

Sister Macie Spaulding was appointed by the chair as secretary of the meeting. Sister Spaulding is a new member and a very enthusiastic one.

On account of many members returning to their homes on No. 5, the meeting was closed at 4:30 p. m. Every one present voted the meeting one of the best that has been held at Conneaut.

We understand the meeting held at Ft. Wayne by G. S. and T. Bro. Smith, on the same day, was also well attended.

Our General Committee express their appreciation of the interest taken by the entire membership, and wish your correspondent to state that it is this deep interest in the division's welfare that brings about good results, for without your individual and collective support a committee is powerless.

We now have about 95 per cent of the telegraphers employed here enrolled in the Order, and if each member will do his part we will have all the eligibles in line by January 1.

While at Conneaut we learned of our former general chairman, Bro. E. J. Parriah, receiving the nomination for Mayor on the Independent ticket. Bro. Parriah served one term as Mayor of Conneaut.

Chief Dispatcher G. C. Todd has been promoted to trainmaster, effective October 24, 1907.

Night Chief Dispatcher J. J. Brown has been appointed chief. Mr. Brown is an ex-member of this division, serving as local chairman, Second District, and was instrumental in securing the first schedule agreement on this line.

In order that his troubles may be reduced to a minimum, we call upon every telegrapher (night men take notice) to make an extra effort to assist him by giving the best possible service.

Mr. Homer Jones takes Mr. Brown's place as night chief.

Do all you can to strengthen our organization by giving your local chairman all necessary information, pay dues and assessments promptly, and we can rest assured better things are in sight.

We understand another meeting will be called soon. Don't miss it if you have to walk.

DIST. COM.

Western Division—

A meeting was called at Ft. Wayne for Sunday evening, October 20, at 8:30 p. m. There were twenty-six members present. All members showed an unusual interest in discussing various subjects.

Bro. F. F. Cowley acted as presiding officer in the absence of Bro. Hudon, who went to Conneaut to attend a similar meeting held at that place. The probable effect of the national nine-hour law was discussed at length, which resulted in the passing, by unanimous vote, of the following resolution, presented and read by Bro. A. Barney:

WHEREAS, The so-called nine-hour law goes into effect on the 4th day of March, 1908, be it

Resolved, By the members of System Division No. 18, O. R. T., in meeting assembled, that it be our sentiment that a meeting of general chairmen of all divisions be called not later than January 1, 1908, to adopt plans by which demands including a minimum day of eight consecutive hours at not less than thirty cents per hour, shall be made on all railroads in the United States simultaneously, to go into effect on the 4th day of March, 1908.

We expect to have another meeting at Ft. Wayne before Christmas, and we hope we will have as good a turnout. Those that were not with us will never know what they miss by not attending these meetings. It was after 1 o'clock a. m. when the meeting adjourned, and many brothers were heard to remark that they would not miss any more meetings.

CERT. 3.

Pennsylvania Railroad.

Allegheny Division—

It is not necessary to go into details covering the meeting of the General Committee in Philadelphia for the reason that most of you have been able to gather practically all the information through the open meetings which have been held from time to time, but for the special information of such of you as have not been able to attend any of these meetings, I will say that it took the General Committee thirteen days to accomplish what might have been done in three or four days, due solely and wholly to the unfriendly attitude and misrepresentation of one who is posing today as the only friend of the rank and file on the Pennsylvania Railroad. I refer to L. K. Marr, who, in his efforts to aim a blow at our grand officers in St. Louis has seen fit to place all manner of obstacles in the way of the present legitimate committee. His efforts will prove fruitless, as a matter of course, and while it is not my purpose to heap abuse upon the heads of those who do not believe as I do, which seems to be the main stock in trade of the "insurgents," I will say it is my sincere belief that the "outlaw" organization can not last very long, for the simple reason that they have no standing with other railroad organizations, and are considered more in the light of a joke than otherwise.

A serious matter confronts the operators, not only on the Pennsylvania Railroad, but on all roads as well, and that is the matter of resisting any cut in our present rate of wages when the requirements of the nine-hour law are complied with, and I can not urge upon you too strongly the necessity for concerted action in this matter. By united efforts only can we hope to combat this proposition, and I trust that every member and non-member (if there be any) will do his part. The excuse the company makes is that it will cost approximately $400,000 annually to comply with the Federal nine-hour law, and our reply is that it is just this sum of money that has been withheld from the operators every year for the past decade. We are not objects of charity, and do not feel that we are getting one cent that we are not justly entitled to, and for which we do not render proper service. This organization asks that every man and woman do his or her duty to the best of his or her ability, and discourages the idea that many members have that because of their membership they are immune and can do about as they please. Get away from that idea and resolve today that you will be loyal to the company that gives you employment and loyal to the organization that has been instrumental in bringing about such wonderful changes for the betterment of the craft. Support your committees to the best of your ability; remember the backbone of any organization is its protective fund, and this is true also of your general committee, its affairs can not be conducted without ammunition, and I would urge all of you to pay the special assessment of $1 at your earliest convenience, and when doing so bear in mind that this assessment was made necessary by the unfriendly and unfair acts of the Marr crowd.

"BRIGHAM."

Atlantic Coast Line.

Newberry District—

Mr. E. B. Tucker, former second trick dispatcher at Jacksonville office, assumed duties as chief of Newberry District yesterday, October 14th, vice Mr. E. T. Mulquin, whom, we understand, has been transferred to Sanford office as chief.

Agent Roberts, of Alachua station, is on sick leave for short while, having been injured by falling of heavy freight some few days ago; relieved by Bro. F. H. Cason. We understand that Bro. Cason will be assigned Trenton agency regular after Mr. Roberts' return to duty at Alachua.

R. L. Lockhart has been assigned Raiford agency regular; no other men bidding.

Mr. Walker, a C. T. U. of A. member, who has been working Newberry, nights, is relieving Operator F. E. Guinn at Newberry, days, until applications are all in, as this job was bulletined on the 11th inst. Have not heard where Mr. Guinn will be moved. New man working Newberry, nights.

Bro. J. W. Priester, who has been in Waycross hospital for the last few months with typhoid fever, has again resumed his position as owl at Lake Butler.

Mr. Snipes, new brother, now working Komoko agency.

Bro. Rex Fannin, who was relieving Bro. Mixson at Lake Butler during the latter's illness, is now working a clerical position in Jacksonville yardmaster's office.

New man at Jacksonville terminal block "OG."

Would like to see a lodge organized in Jacksonville, as we could get a good attendance and make things interesting. Let's hear from some of the brothers on the subject.

Cotton season now on in full blast, but not many shipments, as the farmers are holding the cotton for higher prices, and consequently business is not as brisk on this district as it will be a few months later, when we will have lots of long freight trains carrying white or green signals, and continually hear the "31" call pounding over the wire, awakening sleepy night operators from their peaceful slumbers and dreams of the 9th of next month, when "the ghost will walk," and making many an overworked agent leave his job of trucking or checking freight in the warehouse, and go stumbling over trucks, boxes and other obstructions, with words otherwise than Sunday school language on his lips in his haste to answer his call, and save some freight a delay on "206." L. C.

Savannah District—

Bro. W. R. Barnett, of McCullough, and Bro. S. H. Pruiett, of Densmore, are spending a few days in Jacksonville.

Mrs. W. R. Barnett, wife of Bro. Barnett, is spending a thirty-day vacation in Atlanta. The old reliable standby, Mr. Henry, working her trick at McCullough while she is off.

Bro. T. E. Baker, of Ways, has left us again to accept a position with the Sal.

Bro. C. Jackson, of Walthourville, has also returned to his old love, the Sal, having accepted a position with that company at Claxton, Ga., which, we understand, is his home place.

Bro. S. J. Hood, from the C. of G., Division 46, takes the Walthourville agency.

Mr. A. E. Huffman has accepted the agency at Ways. CRACKER JOE.

Lakeland District—

Transfers on the Lakeland District have been somewhat numerous during the past month, partly accounted for by several of the permanent agents being aware of the increase in business at this season of the year, brought on by the orange movement, preferring to give up their positions rather than remain without the necessary force to handle the business. The tendency seems to be to decrease the force just now, when it should be increased. All vacancies have been filled so far, and business moving in good shape at the present time.

Floral City transferred from Bro. A. N. Eubanks to Bro. J. L. Cranshaw; Bro. Eubanks not caring to handle that agency without an assistant, which has recently been cut off. Bro. Cranshaw has just returned from a trip to Jamestown.

Istachatta agency from Bro. J. T. Howe to Bro. W. P. Johnson, Bro. Howe having secured a position near his home in Georgia.

Juliette agency from Mr. F. E. Hemphill to Bro. H. E. Judge, of S. A. L. Division. Mr. Hemphill on vacation; is expected back soon, and Bro. Judge, who is at present working extra, will stand for anything open.

Homosassa from Mr. J. M. Oren to Bro. C. J. Woodward; Bro. Woodward returning from vacation.

Bro. Fortsen, of Hernando, returned from his vacation and took charge, relieving Mr. J. M. McCaskill.

High Springs from Mr. C. A. Robinson to Mr. J. B. Neill.

Punta Gorda from Bro. A. E. Pooser, Jr., to Mr. C. A. Robinson.

Bowling Green from Bro. C. H. Jones, on account of reduction of force, was relieved by Mr. R. K. Brandon, who lasted only one; being relieved by Mr. J. J. Hollingsworth.

Inverness from Bro. J. L. Williams to Bro. A. N. Eubanks. We don't know where Bro. Williams goes. CERT. 309.

New York, Susquehanna & Western Ry.

Wish to inform all brothers that we will hold joint meetings the last Saturday of each month in Munzer's Hall, Market street, Paterson, N. J. Next meeting November 30th.

At present there are quite a few jobs which have not been put up for bid. For instance, Dundee Bridge, nights; Riverside tower, nights; "JC," nights. Hawthorne agency looks as though the company does not intend to live up to their agreement with the telegraphers.

Mr. Klopman, agent at Wortendyke, has severed his connection with that station.

There are at present several nons on the road who can not be induced to join our ranks, but are more than willing to reap benefits of our hard-earned money, especially the non at "MP," nights, who can see no good in our Order.

Agent Goetichus, from Camp Gow, bid in "W."

Kimble, from "JD," nights, gone to "YD," days. Why not have this job advertised, if this position needs an operator?

An interlocking plant has been erected at Riverside which is equipped with twelve levers and two sets of gates, with Bros. Haniquet at the handles, and Vankirk, nights.

Would be pleased to have any or all brothers write to me of little incidents and changes on the N. Y., S. & W. and W., B. & E. to be put in THE TELEGRAPHER. Send me these notes about the first of the month. Address your letters to H. Haniquet, 268 Fifth avenue, Paterson, N. J.

Cor.

Norfolk & Western Ry.Scioto Division—

This will find us nearing the close of another busy and prosperous year, and hope when our work in Division No. 14 is reviewed little if any improvement could have been made in conducting its affairs as managed by Bro. Layman and his assistants.

Recent service bulletins would indicate "too much hay" is being used by our eight-hour night brothers. This matter we will pass by briefly, saying that your local board of adjustment can not consider your case in event you get into trouble for this offense. Now, be wise and always on the alert to answer your calls, remembering the importance of good service and your obligations to all concerned.

Oscar Wilson, of Crumm, W. Va., is now on the extra list.

Minnie Gentry, night operator at Prichard, W. Va., met with a painful accident September 20, while horseback riding. She was thrown from her horse and sustained a broken arm.

Bro. M. R. McMillan and wife, of Kennett, W. Va., reported among the visitors at the James-town Exposition the first week in October.

Miss L. M. Walker, first trick at Webb, W. Va., now signs up "Spauldin."

Following appointments were recently made:

Boyd Marcam, agent at Glen Hays, W. Va.; Jacob Marcam, agent at Dunlow, W. Va.; W. R. Pratt, agent at Wilsondale, W. Va.

Bro. G. F. Ferrall, Naugatuck, W. Va., is spending his vacation in the Western States.

Bro. G. Stratton, Naugatuck, W. Va., is on the sick list; relieved by Bro. Mathews.

Bro. Stokes, Coal Grove, O., has resumed duty after spending several weeks with friends in Arkansas.

On October 1 we had eleven positions on bulletin board awaiting applicants for places. All of them will undoubtedly be filled, however, before this is in print. However, the idea of how the boys on the N. & W. are kept in line will be conveyed to our readers. When this list is filled, those positions made vacant by promotions will be advertised for those who stand next in line for promotion, ability and seniority considered, by our chief, Mr. C. T. Davis, whose hope and pleasure is to elevate his men in their work.

Effective October 6, office at East Wood, O., in charge of Bro. Jacob Compton, was temporarily closed, Bro. Compton returning to his former position, second at Hewlet, W. Va.

New time table, effective October 13, shows many additional trains, made necessary by the steady increase in traffic on the N. & W. This should be taken as an appeal for the very best of service, and promotes better conditions for telegraphers.

Bro. A. V. Osborn, Fort Gay, W. Va., is spending his vacation with his parents near Wayne, W. Va.

Annual inspection will take place within the next few days. Our international trackmen brothers are very busy preparing for this event.

First prize for best conditions will be $25; second, $15, and third, diploma. A great deal of interest is manifested in this contest.

New passenger station at Ironton, O., is now being used. This is one of the finest stations in Southern Ohio, and was erected at a cost of $125,000.

Bro. A. F. Smith, Mineral Springs, O., is on sick list; relieved by Bro. Martin.

Mr. Chas. Shultz, night ticket agent at Portsmouth, Ohio, is dangerously ill with fever, being relieved by Bro. W. A. Powell.

We are pleased to note that quite a number who recently appeared on the non list have come across and are now with us, and propose to stand with the workers of their craft. It is now time for those desirable ones remaining on that undesirable list to wake up to a sense of duty. C.E.T. 750.

Pocahontas Division—

Bro. Ford, dispatcher, from "BF," out on an inspection tour with the section men.

Bro. C. M. Davis was the lucky one on third trick, West End tower, and has resumed duty there.

Bro. Kidd, of Bluestone, is off on a vacation.

Bro. Jennings, of Cooper, was called home recently on account of the death of his mother.

Bro. J. J. Hale, of Rock, W. Va., is spending his vacation with his parents at Pearisburg, Va., and will also take in the "Jim Town" show.

Bro. Townes has left us and again entered the Medical College of Virginia, to finish his course in dentistry.

Bro. Furbush, of Coaldale, W. Va., has resigned and will accept a position with the S. A. L.

Bro. G. W. Pile, of Elkhorn, W. Va., is spending his vacation at his old home near Abingdon, Bro. Vaughter doing the relief act.

We hope to have space for the Pocahontas Division in each issue of our journal, and in order to give all the items of importance, I would be glad if you would drop me a line when any of you brothers have news. It will be a big help to your correspondent, and give us a good, live write-up each month. Please see that this is done. F. H. HUGHES.

Radford Division--

One of the best meetings in the history of the N. & W. System Division No. 14 was held in K. of P. Hall, Roanoke, Saturday night, October 19. Matters of vital interest to the operators and agents were discussed. The inferior service of the third trick eight-hour men was the principal subject. It was clearly shown that a greater part of this trouble is caused by the class of men that have recently been employed by the company. They pick up men without a recommendation as to moral character or ability, and entrust them with the most important department of the service. The increase in the number of telegraph positions has made it necessary, or, rather, has made it hard for the company to get enough desirable men to fill the positions and grant the men their annual vacations. It was shown that the proportion of men getting into trouble for sleeping on duty is not as great as it was under the twelve-hour law; but a case now and then gives the officials room to complain, as they know there is no excuse for a man not doing his duty for eight hours after he has been off duty for sixteen hours. The true O. R. T. men are as much down on this class of service as the company is, some of them advocating a resolution that every man found sleeping on duty be dismissed from the Order. Others that the men be notified that if they get into trouble for this, the Order will not take their case up with the management. Now, brothers, you have had your attention called to this often enough. If you are one of this number, cut it out and do your duty. Let's have it said that no O. R. T. man gives the company any trouble in this respect. Too many of you boast that you do not care if you are discharged; that you can go to any other road and get as good a position as you have here. This may be true, but no man likes to have it said that he was discharged. If you wish to change your position, resign like a man, and you will secure a position much easier on the other road, and when the question is asked why you left the N. & W., you will not have to say "I was discharged," instead of doing as little as you can and draw your wages. Try to be one of the best men the company has. We can not all be first-class operators. The positions do not require this, but we can all be first-class men. By not attending to your duty you make it hard on the O. R. T. committee, on your dispatchers, on your chief dispatcher and on your division superintendent. Your committee will soon have to formulate a new schedule. You want all they can get for you. Then make yourself an indispensable man to the company, and they will have a much easier time getting what you want.

We had a report from one third trick dispatcher who said he was having trouble with but one man, and he was a non. Sorry there were not more dispatchers present, so we could have gotten reports from them all. All who missed Bro. Cabiness' address on duty missed a treat. It will be published in the journal. Do not fail to read it carefully and thoughtfully.

It is time we were thinking of what we want our committee to ask for in the new agreement. We have always advocated double pay for Sunday work and legal holidays. Our committee was instructed last year to ask for this, but they did not. We are in a position to demand it. The public is with us. Where will you find another set of men who never get a Sunday off, working for less than any other class? Does fifteen days' vacation pay you for fifty-two Sundays on duty? The C. & O. operators get time and one-half for Sunday work. The B. & O. men get two days each month. Are we going to continue to do more work on Sunday than other days and get nothing for it? No opportunity to go to church, no time with one's family—not even time to eat dinner. What is a man's life worth to him at this rate? Brothers, let us say we will have our Sundays or we will have double pay, or thirty days' vacation. If it does not pay the company to run Sunday trains, let them make it pay or quit it. If it does not pay us to work Sunday (which none of us want if we can have the day off) why do we do it? and why will we continue to do it?

Be on hand at every meeting from this on and do all you can for what you think we need in the next agreement. Don't stay at home and then say the committee did nothing because they did not get all you think they should have.

What is the matter with the men on New River? The P. D. men always make a good showing, but there is seldom a man from the river—not even our Assistant Chairman. Brothers, is this all the interest you have in the welfare of the Order? Have you no interest in the future working conditions on the N. & W.? nor in your future welfare?

Bro. Collins, of Abingdon, has resigned his position as cashier and accepted the position of cashier on the Southern Ry. at Bristol, Tenn.

Our Division Chairman, Bro. W. E. Dungan, of Marion, spent his vacation at Jamestown, being relieved by Bro. Millard.

Bro. Dutton, of Meadow View, Va., has been spending some time in Philadelphia, Pa.

Bro. C. M. Asbury, better known as "Kildee," has resigned the agency at Meadow View and accepted third at Glade Spring.

We are glad to see that our non list has been materially reduced recently. CMT. 231.

Shenandoah Division—

Everything seems very quiet on the Shenandoah Division this month, with the exception of the freight traffic, which is very heavy. Some of the boys are making good overtime on this account, so guess they will not have any kick coming when pay-day comes.

We are looking forward to the October journal with many anticipations, as a general write-up from the N. & W. looks good to us. This is something which we should have had long ago, and now that we have it going, we should keep it up by furnishing all the notes possible to the local and system correspondents.

We have a new bridge over the Potomac River under construction at this place, which will make the work very heavy.

The new train order signals have been installed at some of the stations and the boys say it is worth its weight in gold.

There is a new man by the name of Bryant working first trick at Rippon at this time.

Bro. Biedler is now doing the relief stunts at Riverton for Bro. Compton, who is taking his fifteen days.

Bro. Probst, relief agent, is still answering the call at "FK."

All the boys on the division should try to attend each Roanoke meeting whenever possible, as this will show our officials that we are taking an interest in our Order, as they can do nothing without our support.

Bro. Dunlap, at Boyce, took his fifteen days a short time ago, being relieved by Bro. Melton, third trick man at Loch Laird.

Bro. Moffett is wearing the badge at Lithia at this time. He is fresh from Sunny Tennessee.

Bro. Bowers, of White Post, took his vacation a few weeks ago, Bro. Shultz, third trick man at Basic, doing the relief. J. M. W.

Winston-Salem District—

Every one is looking forward to the new eight-hour law next March, and do not forget that the railroads are not going to be idle, but are going to fight such a move all they know how; and the better service we give, especially the places that have eight hours now, the less they will be able to fight it. They naturally expect more from the eight hour jobs, and it is no more than their due to give them an improvement in the service.

Now, while I do not wish to censure any one, I would be glad to see every one answer calls, etc., promptly, so the officials will say we are giving better service than any other district on the road.

Dispatcher Bro. S. F. Moffett came back from his vacation the other day and is now working the second trick, giving the boys on the third trick their regular man, Bro. T. M. Sheets.

Bro. W. T. Gentry, first trick at "FO" is doing a relief stunt at Stoneville, where he came from.

Bro. H. H. Layman, second trick "FO," is now at Pine Hall, where he has been for some time. ("DF" not filled yet.) Man relieving him signs "RO." Don't know him.

Bro. R. M. Helm is working first trick in Bro. Gentry's place and Mr. Davis working third.

Bro. W. H. Shultz is at Martinsville, relieving Agent H. S. Teague.

Bro. Penn is working days and Mr. Martin nights. J. M. W.

Norfolk Division—

Who said "banquet?" Our worthy Bro. Layman, who, as usual, was in the chair at the Roanoke meeting Saturday night, the 19th, and mind you this is by no means all that was said by those present to brighten the prospects of the Order of Railroad Telegraphers.

Yes, we expect to have the banquet, and it was voted by the meeting at Roanoke that as this city was the most central point, and could be reached by a greater number, that it should be held at Roanoke, probably the first Saturday night in January.

Brothers, we don't mean to be "pigs," and to act as such on these memorable occasions, but we do enjoy the good things set before us, but more especially do we enjoy the social features connected with these banquets. A link is formed at these gatherings among the brothers, and I might add, "families," that will never be broken. There is a brotherly and sisterly feeling created by coming in contact that otherwise could never exist, and means for us a stronger organization, as it links the entire family of telegraphers together.

Again, these social meetings have a stimulating effect.

Now, those of you who have had the pleasure of attending last year, try to arrange to let your brother telegrapher attend this time, and make him feel interested in the grand old Order of Railroad Telegraphers. I know from experience that after partaking of such good things it is against our "piggish" nature to say to the other fellow: "You go next." However, it is the true, unselfish spirit that should characterize the union man.

I believe our progress on this system can be summed up in one word: "Confidence." Where would we stand if it were not for the confidence we had in our leader, and again, what progress could we have made if it were not for the confidence our leader has placed in us in co-operating with him in his plans?

Confidence means an understanding of the capacities of different people. Some are to be trusted within certain limits, or with a particular line of work. We must recognize the limitation in others, while giving a field of liberty. Others, again, will have more confidence in us, as they observe our growing capabilities. Confidence is a contagious element. Faith is a flowing stream of actual energy.

Every individual possesses some special phase of merit. If we are individually to "get on," we shall find it advantageous to allow the most in other people, to exercise tact, and recognize where the strong points lie. If we are to have help and not hindrance, we must inspire a mutual confidence.

We will progress in our sphere as we develop the spirit of confidence, in ourselves, in others, in all life. The old limits and barriers are gone; new kingdoms to be conquered stretch out before us; new opportunities; new life. And these new realms are so large that the old narrow methods must go; we must have co-operation and combination and expansion. We must have a true union of forces. Hence the call for more confidence and actual yallowahip.

Let us attend the regular monthly meetings, when possible, and give to our organization and its leaders our hearty support and personal aid in bettering the conditions of our craftsman.

There are no important changes in this immediate territory known to the writer except among the extra men. We have among us a good many of the C. T. U. boys, and glad to have them. We trust these brothers will turn their attention to the railroad work, and bend every energy to giving good service. Of course, we recognize that these commercial men are new in this line of work, and do not fully realize the responsibility connected with the handling of trains and train orders. Our attention recently has been called to the poor service given by the telegraphers, which, we think, is largely due to the new men coming into the service, and we trust that these brothers will make special effort to learn the business, and give the best service possible.

Brothers, don't forget to work on the nons, and get all that are worthy to come in. We have a good many "hard-tacks" on this division, and hope to convert them before the close of this term. Remember, personal effort is the keynote to the success we have already attained. T. O. M.

C., St. P., M. & O. Ry.

Eastern District, Wisconsin Division—

The car distributors' jobs at Eau Claire have been rearranged. The position of car clerk and telegrapher has been abolished, and Mr. G. F. Bouthelle has been appointed chief car clerk, with Bro. H. P. Goodwin and Mr. Brewer as assistants. Bro. Goodwin has jurisdiction over the Eastern District, and Mr. Brewer over the Northern District. These positions are now purely clerical.

Bro. F. S. Fonda, of Prince street, is acting as tracing clerk temporarily. He is being relieved by Bro. Geo. H. Snure, from Division 23.

Bro. Showalter, formerly of Altoona, is now located on the N. P., at Mullin, Idaho. Bro. A. W. Hoffman is working at Altoona pending the bulletin.

Kipling and Rosedale have been closed now that the double track is in operation.

Bro. Fritz Kottke, East St. Paul, is on the sick list; relieved by Bro. C. O. Manske.

Bro. D. A. Campbell drew Augusta on bulletin, and moved there. Bro. Stricker taking his place at Sheppards for the present. Bro. H. H. Adams at Wright, days, on the bulletin, and Bro. Johnson going to Tunnel.

Bro. Brandon is at Sheps, and Mr. Fahey, from Washburn, working nights at Wrights.

Bro. Tommy Smith, at Fairchild, was off for a week's vacation and hunting trip.

Bro. Wahlquist was off for a few days on account of his mother's sickness.

Bro. T. F. Hurst, at Baldwin, has composed and dedicated to our noble Order a very fine march.

A party named Murray, who was at one time operator at Shell Lake, has opened a school of telegraphy at Shell Lake. He is advertising it extensively, but although he has been open for business several weeks, it is reported he has not yet secured a student.

The membership of this division are urgently requested to keep a sharp lookout for members from other divisions who are working on the Omaha, and secure their certificate and division numbers, and send them to the local chairman in order that they may be transferred to Division 76. This is very important, and without the co-operation of the membership it is impossible for the chairman to keep a correct line on the members.

We wish to request the membership on this division to get after every eligible man, and make every effort to make the Wisconsin Division solid in the full sense of the word by January 1st. The membership on the Omaha has now reached the high-water mark. We have more members than we ever had before, but there is still some material outside the fold.

On account of Bro. Quinlan having been promoted to the position of cashier at New Richmond, he had to relinquish the position of local chairman for the Northern District. He leaves as a legacy to his successor a practically solid membership on the North. The members on the North are also to be congratulated on their extreme good fortune in securing as the new chairman, Bro. S. S. Brodt, agent at Clear Lake.

Bro. Quinlan still acting as district correspondent.

General Chairman Liddane, while off last month, visited at Eau Claire, Clear Lake, New Richmond, Lake Crystal, as well as conferring with the general officers in St. Paul. Several matters of importance to our members have been adjusted during these conferences. A new rule secured from the general superintendent, is as follows:

"Any agent or telegrapher leaving a scheduled position and accepting a non-scheduled position as cashier, clerk, car man, etc., will retain his seniority rights for three months, and if, at the end of that time he does not resume work in a scheduled position his name will be taken from the seniority list and he can only enter the service again as a new man."

It has also been ruled that leave of absence will not be granted for more than ninety days.

CERT. 1,405.

Wisconsin Division, Northern District—

Applications have been filed by the following telegraphers: G. M. Funne, recently at Clear Lake, now at Warrens; O. E. Bradley, Rockmont; C. R. Chase, Strum; F. Kozlik, Haugen, and C. R. G. Dopkins, Cable. A very nice reduction from the non list.

Bro. Stouffer off on his wedding trip during the month of October, and is being relieved at Baranett by H. C. Hendrickson, new man from the Great Northern.

Bro. F. D. Sinclear at St. Paul taking medical treatment.

Bro. Cray, at Comstock, has somewhat of a task keeping things moving. He lives at Cumberland so as to allow his children to attend school, and he is compelled to make two trips to Comstock and return daily; rain or shine. Another man who is in favor of eight hours.

Bro. H. E. Harbour and wife returned from a two weeks' visit at Menomonie on October 1st.

Professor Conrad, of Tuscobia, says he will not join the O. R. T. on this division, as he does not wish to be a brother to a bunch of knockers.

Bro. Applequist, Turtle Lake, paid New Richmond and Somerset visits late in October.

Things seem to be rather quiet these days at the Murray Institute. Bro. T. A. Berg is off on a vacation; relieved by R. A. Slaker.

Local Chairman Bro. Brodt made a trip to Pierre, S. D., early in October. Bro. McDonald acted as agent, and Bro. Chase as day telegrapher during Bro. Brodt's absence.

Bro. F. C. Kottke has been assigned to the day job at Northline; Bro. Donahy goes to Sheppard.

Bro. O. T. Balgord takes the first day job in the Eau Claire office.

Do not forget that it is about time we were thinking of paying up dues for the new card.

Div. Cor.

Minnesota and Iowa Divisions—

A big meeting is being planned at Windom Sunday, November 3d. Every one that can should arrange to be present at this meeting, as some very important business will come up, and of such nature that all members should be present.

Bro. Humble, of Kasota, is happy in the knowledge that the Omaha General Committee secured him a raise of $2.50 per month. This is the C. & N. W.'s proportion, but as the C. & N. W. committee refused to take up the case, the Omaha general Committee laid the matter before Mr. S. G. Strickland, who immediately conceded the increase. This raise should have been granted by the C. & N. W. when our last revision went into effect. If it comes rather late, Bro. Humble says: "Better late than never."

Bro. J. H. Nelson, of Sioux City freight office, who drew Mountain Lake on the September bulletin, has decided to remain at the Sioux City freight office.

Bro. M. E. Bash, who for the past several months has been acting as assistant cashier in the freight office at Sioux City, has returned to the operating service.

Bro. and Mrs. B. C. Offins, of Westbrook, left the 8th inst. for a visit with friends and relatives in the Sunny South. He is relieved by Mr. Lucky.

Bro. R. Burdick, of Madelia, who has been unwell for some time, has taken a leave of absence, and is relieved by Bro. Jansen. Bro. O. A. Artz, late of Salem pit office, is acting as day telegrapher at Madelia in the meantime.

Mr. J. G. McKenzie, formerly night baggage-man at Lake Crystal, and later assistant to the agent at Amboy, having passed his telegraphic examination, is now located as night telegrapher at Deer Park, Wis. He has applied for application blanks.

Bro. Martin, of Fairmont, has put in several days hunting, and reports splendid luck. He and his wife Sundayed at Mankato on the 6th inst.

Bro. Lourie, of Madelia, nights, has been away on a vacation.

J. H. Johnson relieved Bro. Lourie at Madelia, nights.

Bro. F. E. Anderson, who was relieving at Farmer for a few days, is now taking Bro. Riddell's place at Ottawa, the latter being sick.

Bro. C. B. Fairfield and wife, of St. James, Sundayed at Worthington on the 13th inst.

Bro. A. P. Jamieson, of Lake Crystal, nights, spent Sunday at Mankato the 20th inst.

Bro. M. J. Roberts, who, for some time past, has been night operator at Sioux Falls, did the wire work at Lake Crystal the 19th inst. while Bro. Tenney went hunting. Bro. Roberts is now located at Nicols, days.

Bro. Robt. Jamieson, of Beaver Creek, with his wife and daughter, visited with his son at Lake Crystal the first of the month.

Bro. Wm. Cosgrove is now working at Bigelow, nights.

A. G. Lane (non) is relieving at Blakeley.

Grogan was closed the 12th inst. to allow Bro. Himley an opportunity to go to St. Paul.

Bro. Determan, of Sheldon, nights, has taken up his position as day telegrapher at Montrose. J. H. Johnson relieved him at Sheldon.

Mr. W. H. Leak, agent at Elmore, underwent a successful operation at the Rochester hospital the first part of the month.

Mr. Ottis, formerly at Montrose, is now located at Blue Earth, nights.

Bro. D. J. Vincent and wife, of Blue Earth, took a short trip through South Dakota the first part of the month. He was relieved by Bro. C. N. Williams, who afterward went to Winnebago to relieve Bro. Feyder.

A. G. Lane claims he can not see his way clear to rejoin. He was the only member who allowed himself to become delinquent the last semi-annual period. Still this same man had nerve enough to ask for traveling expenses which the O. R. T. secured for all. Wonder if he can realize how we used to work for our little $40 and $45 per month, and go when and where the management said. Then we carried switch-lamps, we worked all day without anything to eat; Sunday was the same as week days, and we never thought of being paid for traveling from one place to another, and losing from one to three days' time. Still Mr. Lane thinks that as long as he can secure these benefits he will pay nothing for them. What would become of us should the others lack the manhood to pay their share of the game? Mr. Lane would probably not now be working at all, and if he was it would be at $40 per, and carry switch-lights. It is such rif-raff that we wish to see eliminated from the service of the company, and with whom it is hard to be civil when compelled to work with them. We might add that what Mr. Lane lacks in manhood he does not make up in competence.

Today the division is in the best of shape, and all are enthusiastic. We should each one strive to keep the O. R. T. foremost, both in and out of the company service. Let non-members see that you do not care to have anything to do with them, and they will soon tire of standing upon the outside. The time will soon be here when we will need to be represented by unionized forces in the fight to keep our salaries from being cut when our hours are shortened. No one can afford to lose a day in endeavoring to bring in the few non-members still left in the service.

Bro. H. G. Stumm is on the sick list. Bro. Fairfield is doing the night work at St. James while Hugo is absent. CERT. 260.

IN MEMORIAM.

WHEREAS, God in His infinite wisdom has taken from us our beloved brother, E. J. Cosgrove, and while we bow in humble submission to Him who doeth all things well; be it

Resolved, That in his death our Order has lost a faithful and worthy member, and his parents a devoted son; and be it further

Resolved, That the M. & I. Division of the Order of Railroad Telegraphers extend to the bereaved family our heartfelt sympathy in this, their great sorrow, and that a copy of these resolutions be sent to the bereaved family, a copy be placed on the minutes of this division, and a copy mailed to THE TELEGRAPHER for publication.

D. O. TENNEY,

CARD OF THANKS.

We wish to extend our thanks to the members of Division No. 76 who contributed the beautiful floral offering and their kind words of sympathy in our sad bereavement in the loss of our dear son and brother.

MR. AND MRS. D. COSGROVE AND FAMILY.

Southern Pacific Ry.

Louisiana Western Division—

Although the strike of the commercial men has placed a large number of telegraphers in the railroad service, the lack of competent men is still keenly felt on this division. Our last bulletin has just been issued, and several of our best jobs are going begging.

Bro. H. A. White, day operator at Jennings, has just returned from his honeymoon trip through the north. He spent six weeks visiting Chicago, Milwaukee, and points in Iowa.

Bro. S. H. Simpson, night man at Jennings, returned to work this month, having spent several weeks in New York, Norfolk and Philadelphia.

Sister Louise, from Jennings, has been working at "FY" for the past ten days.

Bro. C. R. Roberts, from Midland, has resumed work after a few weeks' stay with friends in "good old Missouri."

Sister "LU," from Lafayette, visited friends in Jennings last week.

Bro. E. L. Stafford has returned to his post as agent at Midland, after having spent a few weeks with his parents at Los Angeles.

Bro. T. C. Cochran, of Crowley, has resigned.

J. V. Leblanc, the old non from Lafourche, has been agent at Crowley since last spring, but as soon as the rice began rushing in he and others found out that he was entirely too light for that agency, therefore quick conveyance was made of him, and Bro. E. A. VonEye installed in his stead.

Bro. J. M. Sargeant is doing the night act at Crowley.

After enjoying a two months' vacation in Mexico and "the Woolly West," Bro. C. B. Hanley has resumed his duties as agent at Roanoke.

Bro. C. Fremeaux has been checked in at Estherwood.

CERT. 1097.

Salt Lake Division, Winnemucca to Caslin—

It is the 15th of October and no bulletin of vacancies. Looks like some one does not care. Not even one-third of the vacancies were on the last bulletin, but it seems that all interest out here, between Winnemucca and Caslin, are dead. We have a few nonns also.

Can say that Cert. 767 tells the truth about our living quarters, ice, etc. Now, brothers, why can not something be done. The signalmen get everything they want, good houses, and, in fact, their wood and coal houses are much better than our sleeping quarters are. I heard one of our operators asking the chief for six weeks off. He made the remark to this operator that he could stay off as long as he wanted, as he had plenty of operators now. If this is the case, why can not we have the eight hours that the law gives us. I, for one, say let us stand up like men, and on March 4 demand our rights.

Brothers on this division, wake up and show us that you are not all asleep. Our Salt Lake Division seems to be going backwards, and it is discouraging to us all.

CERT. 1779, DIV. 53.

Between Los Angeles and El Paso, Tex.—

There are lots of good Order men on this system, and all they need is someone to take the lead. I could not work for a road that pays their section foremen more than an operator. I consider myself as worthy as a section foreman, no matter where I go. It's a dirty shame the way the S. P. treat their operators. I have been from one end to the other, and know of many little tricks that this company has served on operators. Still, nothing is said or done. Why not try and remedy this in some way? If a section foreman is above an operator, what must we class ourselves with—nigger porters? It's too much for me to put up with and I am glad to say they consider an operator a section foreman's equal where I came from, even if they do not pay as good wages (Kansas City, Mo.). The S. P. Ry realizes the fact that they have the only road through this country that an operator cares to work for, and, consequently, treat them any way they please. It is very hot on the desert now and will be for thirty or forty days yet, and five days ago the S. P. quit sending out ice. The water on the desert is very warm, and brings on typhoid fever if one drinks it. What does the S. P. care for that? Plenty more operators and also a hospital ready for the unfortunate that gets sick.

AN EASTERNER JUST PASSING BY.

Savannah Division—

Bro. Boyd, who has been at Ocomulgee Bridge for some time now, days at Meldrim, relieving Bro. D. C. Newton. Haven't learned where Bro. Newton goes. A Mr. Powell working nights.

Bro. H. B. Myers to Ocomulgee Bridge, days. He was relieved at Dover by a Mr. David, one of the strikers. He only stayed a few nights, and then Bro. C. C. Carroll was assigned this position regular.

Mr. C. A. Ozburn appointed agent at Mansfield, vice Mr. Cook.

Mr. J. H. Wright, who has been in the turpentine business for some time, has accepted the Stillmore agency, relieving Bro. C. G. Rogers, who goes to Pulaski agency, relieving Bro. B. J. Moore, he being given the Halcyondale agency, vice Mr. Brown.

There is a certain non on this division who, upon seeing his name in the journal at different times, attacked our local chairman very severely by U. S. mail for using his name so promiscuously in print, as a non and student teacher. However, he was notified that he was a non, and every man on the division knew this fact, and just in order to let the entire membership know it, was no harm. His name will be withheld this time, but will not promise further than this issue. He asked for blanks last August, said he would fill up and return promptly. It is now October 28, ntg dng et.

Mr. Johnson, working days at Millen, vice Bro. Fennel, who we understand has left the company. A Mr. Davis there nights at present, he being one of the C. T. U. A. strikers.

Notice good many of our old men are leaving us, guess something better ahead for them.

Bro. H. R. Clark, of Division No. 80, who appealed through different divisions for aid, is getting a right healthy subscription from old Savannah Division. The boys do not mind assisting any brother in such circumstances as Bro. Clark is in. The list has only reached six stations, and has gotten him over $20. CERT. 3.

NOTICE OF MEETING.

To All Members of Division No. 55:

This is to notify you that Division No. 55 will hold regular monthly meetings at Massillon, Ohio, in Trades and Labor Assembly Hall, at 8 p. m., on the third Saturday evening of each month.

Yours fraternally,

C. R. GUTHRIE, Gen. S. and T.

J. O. PEOPLES, General Chairman.

Toledo Division, West End—

Mr. C. R. Cassidy, second trick dispatcher at Ironville, "NX," is taking a vacation, visiting his Erie friends at Galion, Ohio. He is relieved by Relief Dispatcher H. A. Plantz.

Mr. D. M. Hunter, who formerly worked at Clarksfield, "CE," left the W. & L. E. to accept a position on the Erie at Cleveland.

Bro. North, an old-timer, at Clarksfield.

Mr. F. C. Hull, who returned from Texas a short time ago and accepted the relief agency, has joined our ranks. Mr. Hull was ordered to Oak Harbor to do relief work.

Bro. Bligh, who was doing the owl act at Sherwood, "WS," is now at Clarksfield, nights.

Bro. Ruppert is working nights at Sherwood.

The new schedule granted our committee, taking effect July 1, 1907, has been sent to all operators along the road. All seem to be much pleased with it. This should make some of the nons open their eyes and take notice, and get in line. I don't see much of an excuse for pleading no money. It seems as if they could find enough money to make themselves good now, since we all have an increase and overtime for meal hour.

This is my ticket: Don't coax and plead with them, for those kind are no good and will be a detriment to the Order, and would never stand in case of trouble. We had better have 90 per cent good, solid O. R. T. than to have 100 per cent showing, and 10 per cent of them flunkers.

Bro. Durand, regular night man at Norwalk yard "NY," is taking a vacation. Mr. Gebhardt is working in his place. CERT. 148.

Pittsburg Division—

Pitch in and let's see how many applications we can get this term. Get after your neighbor and see if he has an up-to-date card. If not see that he gets one.

There are still a few members that have not paid their dues for the current term. They should do so at once and avoid being dropped from the rolls.

The meeting at Masillon, October 23, was very well attended, a few brothers from every division being there. CERT. 8.

East End, Pittsburg Division—

Mr. Weiss, agent at Brilliant, off on vacation.

Bro. Cecil Collins, agent at Warrenton, has resigned.

Bro. Ray Andrews, formerly night operator at Smithfield, was successful bidder for Bolivar nights.

Nons are getting rather scarce since we have secured the new schedule, but there are some few remaining out of the fold for reasons I am unable to explain. I think we have given them ample time to line-up, and would suggest "No card, no favors." It would only be a matter of time until the few remaining nons would be only too glad to become members of the grand old O. R. T. One operator in particular on this division had the audacity to say: "It does not pay to be a member." How absurd such talk as this. Would like very much to have this man seek employment of any kind in a city, no matter what occupation he may follow. Most assuredly he would be unable to find a position unless he could produce a union card.

The O. R. T. has certainly made grand strides during the past two years, and today almost all roads in the United States, except the Pennsylvania lines west of Pittsburg, have a schedule of wages and working conditions, and without a doubt during the next two years we will advance just as rapidly as we have in the past.

The W. P. T. and W. S. B. boys are not attending the meetings as they should. Hope each brother will make a special effort to attend meetings and do all they possibly can to help the good work along. Each member should take a personal interest and co-operate; individual effort is what is needed.

Seaboard Air Line.

First Division—

Well, have you noticed the advertisements lately in the News and Observer and the Times-Dispatch. King's Business College, of Raleigh, N. C., says: "10,000 telegraph operators wanted, March 4, 1908, to work eight hours; better pay and better working conditions." Smithfield's, of Richmond, says:

"8,000 telegraphers wanted, March 4, 1908, to work eight hours; good wages."

Now watch out for another advertisement in the Roanoke News, 5,000 telegraphers needed March 4, 1908. This school is known as "Conway's Business School." The supposed owner is Hugh L. Conway, of Franklinton, N. C., who has been operator at Weldon for several months, and who has enjoyed the eight hours (which was secured by the O. R. T.), and now he is going to attempt to cripple the glorious Order. It is safe to say the S. A. L. Ry. is behind the plan of opening this school of telegraphy.

On July 3, 1907, Conway and Bro. A. S. Hudson were held out of service for investigation. Conway was discharged, but reinstated. He had only refused to break the law. Hudson was not discharged, but compelled to accept another position. Hudson put up a noble fight for the eight-hour law to be put into effect. He also refused to break the law. I must say that this brother was not treated right, and it looks to me as a disgrace to us.

At present I do not know where Hudson is, but wherever he may be "May God be with him." I heard he was in Cincinnati, Ohio, on the C. & O. Guess he has gone to a road that appreciates an Order man. When I say Order man, I do not mean men like you and me, who only carry cards and do a little hot-air talk, but one who does something, and is always trying to help his division out, as did Bro. Hudson. I was in Weldon a few months ago and heard the first trick man remark, "If it had not been for A. S. Hudson we boys would be working twelve hours in 'WN' office, instead of eight." Now that's what an A. C. L. man said, but the S. A. L. boys wanted to fight him out of "JU" as soon as they heard it would be an eight-hour job. "CORBET."

Second Division--

Nothing new over here much. We are all very busy handling the Jamestown travel, which is very heavy at present, and the new rate law makes us hustle around for pennies now, and answer about three times as many questions as before the new rate went into effect.

We understand, from very reliable authority, that our trainmaster, Mr. E. S. Brooks, and the genial agent at Cheraw, S. C., have formed a company, and have been granted a charter to do business in the State of South Carolina. The nature of their business, I regret very much to say, is or will be a very strong opposition to Armour and Swift, viz., "turning out hams." Yes. A regular telegraph school, and from the present indications they will manufacture about forty a week, and the time is not very long when the railroads will just order their operators from Cheraw, S. C., by the carload. And last, but not least, they have secured the services of his honor, Mr. D. M. Hamilton, from Apex, N. C., who is well known by every one on this division as being one who has turned out more hams than he has brains. From the looks of his face and the size of his head, indications are strong that he will not overstock the market with his so-called operators.

With the Second Division very near solid, Messrs. Brooks and Smith will have a hard time getting their little "pets" located, after they have "graduated" from college, as I feel justified in saying there is not an office on the Second Division that would have one of the pesky things in its office.

Let's get together, boys, and make it very entertaining for the whole bunch, and when any one that is connected with it steps off at your station give them to understand you are above student teaching and any one who is connected with it, and don't forget to show this favor especially to the professor.

It is rumored our general offices will be moved from Portsmouth to Atlanta, Ga. Do not know how true this is.

It has also been talked at the "round house" that Mr. J. M. Shea, our present superintendent, would soon leave us to fill a better position in Portsmouth, and our warm friend, W. A. Gore, from the Third Division, would succeed him.

Our friend, Mr. J. C. Wroton, third trick dispatcher at Hamlet, has left us to accept similar position with the Southern Railway at Knoxville, Tenn. Mr. Bundick, extra dispatcher, now falls in regular.

Mr. Sauls, who has been doing extra dispatching for the past month, is now back in the chief's office, getting out the desk as. TAR HEEL.

First Division--

I have just been reading the September journal and I find several items there which I have read with interest, especially the one by Cert. 886, Div. 32, which appears on page 1,489. The officials are going to fight this hard, and it's up to us to fight it harder, and I think we will win. I join him in saying that my telegraph career ends March 4, 1908, unless we get the eight-hour work and $75 a month. You know it becomes national law. March 4, 1908, and I think it's time to get busy. There are none of us going to starve as long as anybody else has anything to eat. Some brothers seem to think they can do nothing but telegraph. I speak from experience and unless there is something doing by March 4, 1908, you can count on me skiddooing. As long as we say nothing about more wages the company certainly will not voluntarily give us more; they think we are satisfied with our lot, and we are not existing.

House rent, minimum.....	$20 00
Groceries, meats, etc.....	30 00
Lights and fuel.....	10 00
Lunch or dinner.....	10 00
Laundry	4 00
Car fare	2 00

Total$76 00

The above figures allow nothing for clothing, doctor's bill or any recreation whatsoever. You would have to make four or five hours overtime to barely keep up. Now, let me ask you, are you giving your best service, answer your calls promptly and be on duty at the appointed time? When you fall in this important matter, don't you see it will make it harder on your representative to better your condition. Let us prove true to ourselves and our neighbor, and all work for the eight-hour and better pay.

BILLY, CER. 305.

Georgia Southern & Florida Ry.

It is with regret that we announce the illness of our brother, J. M. Wooten, of Pinehurst.

Bro. Sasser, of Kathleen, is also reported on the sick list this week.

We have several new men on the line, but have been unable to get hold of their names. Mr. Goodwin has relieved R. T. Baird, of Grovania, "Bobbie" taking clerk's position with Mr. Goodwin.

It is with pleasure we announce the fact that we now stand 93 per cent strong, with outlook for 98 per cent within the next ten days.

Bro. A. Greene, of Worth, now agent at Lake Park. Bro. Quartelbaum taking his place at Worth.

Boys, remember the dates of our meetings at Tifton, third Sunday in each month. Come out and help make your road a banner road of the South. You will never have cause to regret attending your meetings.

"RED."

Wabash Ry.

Chicago-Detroit Division, Third District—

Our Local Chairman furnished the items from here the last two months, while I was away. I laid off two months—spent a month in the hospital at Peru, with typhoid fever, and was at my home in Colorado a month, recuperating.

Miss Iva Fiske has left the Wabash and is at present working for the Ann Arbor at Owosso, Mich.

Bro. J. H. Mahoney, who was laid up with inflammatory rheumatism at the hospital in Peru for about two months, is back at Delray nights, temporarily. Bro. J. H. Pennington on days and Bro. F. Jones laying off, sick.

Mrs. J. Holliday, formerly at "KA," East Oakwood days, has been transferred to the agency at Hand, while Sister E. M. Jackel, who was relieved by Mrs. Holliday, has been placed at Adrian nights, temporarily. Of course, we are all aware that this transfer was not made according to "Hoyle."

Bro. Frank Beatty is at Belleville nights, regular. Bro. Karl Speiser has gone from there to Whittaker nights regular.

Bro. Todd Gary, a former Wabash boy, is now working for the B. & O. at South Chicago.

Heard a few days ago that Bro. H. J. Jones and wife, Sister F. Jones, expect to return and resume work on the "Banner Route" the first of November.

Bro. Floyd Smith, who was at Milan nights, during Bro. Yoder's absence, worked at "NG," Montpelier, a few days, relieving Bro. Earl Haney, who was learning the road preparatory to becoming extra dispatcher. Bro. Smith is at "SU" Detroit, temporarily, at present.

In a few days our committee will be going to St. Louis to meet the management of the Wabash for the purpose of revising our schedule, and if they are successful or not depends on the support we give them. Think of how much more influence it will give our committee if they are sure of our hearty support in their dealings with the management. They can then say to them: "The operators of the Wabash have authorized us to demand this and that. We must have it." On the other hand, if we support them in a half-hearted manner, part of us with cold feet and others with knees shaking and ready to fly at the first sign of danger, they will not feel like making their demands and sticking for them, because they will feel we would not support them. So now all get out on the firing line. Let each and every member appoint himself a committee of one, and cheer up some cold-footed neighbor, or line up some non and explain to him what is going on, and how it is absolutely necessary that all stand by our committee in order to secure success. We are not getting what we should. We have been down in the rut long enough, and it is up to us to say if we are going to stay there or not. If we demand our rights and will accept nothing but our rights, we will get them just as sure as the sun shines. Other railroad unions have better working conditions than we. Why is it? Simply because they are well organized and are not afraid to stick for their demands. We can be the same if we will. We are all looking forward to that 4th day of March, 1908, when the national nine-hour law for operators is to go into effect, and rest assured that the strength and determination that we show from now until that time will influence the enforcement of that law to a great extent. Determination and energy are bound to win, so let us all get busy.

DIV. COR.

Western Division—

I have been looking over a list of the members on the Wabash and was pleased to see that only a very few have not remitted for their cards for the current term. We have a few nons on this division yet, but most of them have promised to join before the committee meets next month, and we expect to have this division practically solid when the committee meets to revise the schedule. Experience has taught us that the only way we can expect to improve our present condition is through a strong organization. Years ago the engineers were receiving about the same salary that we are receiving now. I know an engineer who only worked three weeks in September and drew $160.00. If the telegraphers would have organized when the engineers did and kept a strong organization until this time, the railroads would not think any more about paying us $200.00 a month than they do of paying the engineers that amount. We should get every man employed in the telegraph or station department to join the Order, and then all stand together for our rights. Some men stay out of the Order, hoping they will have a "stand in" with some division official by refusing to join a labor organization. If one of these weaklings would inquire around a little he would find out that the most of the officials connected with a railroad detest a man who has not got backbone enough to stand up for his rights. The time has passed when one man has to take his hat off to another. Railroad officials are smart men, and they expect the men who work for them to have minds of their own. When you find a man trying to curry official favor by staying out of a labor organization, you have found a man who can not rise on his own merits. It is to the interest of the Order of Railroad Telegraphers to give good service, and any well-informed man can tell you that the most competent telegraphers in the country are found on the strongest organized roads.

Several changes have been made in the dispatcher's office in Moberly in the last month.

Miss Alma Snyder has resigned and is scabbing for the Western Union in St. Louis.

Carl and Forrest Edmonston resigned and went to the Katy.

Bro. E. Baldrige resigned and has accepted a position with the Union Pacific as dispatcher.

The vacancies were filled by Bro. N. W. Ferritor, from East Switch; Bro. R. D. Bedgood, from Moberly yard office, and Mr. C. W. Layton, from Kansas City freight office.

Mr. Layton was relieved at Kansas City by Bro. Evans. Bro. Ferritor was relieved at East Switch by Bro. M. H. Meeker. Bro. Bedgood was relieved at yard office by Bro. C. E. Asbury. Bro. D. C. Rodgers takes the night trick at the yard office.

Bro. J. M. Lowry has resigned the night job at Clifton and is visiting in Texas with his bride. Mrs. Lowry was formerly Sister Mildred Henline, of Division No. 126.

Bro. L. R. Hood, agent at Dalton, is taking a thirty days' vacation, and is visiting in Chicago. Bro. Griffin relieved Bro. Hood.

Bro. H. L. Smiley has been transferred to Glasgow as agent. He was relieved at Camden by Bro. Chadwick. CERT. 453.

Decatur Division—

By order of Local Chairman Bro. J. R. Hefner, a meeting was called to order October 12, in the B. of L. E. Hall in the Masonic Temple at Decatur, Ill. Bro. Hefner presided.

Bros. J. W. LaFever, our Secretary and Treasurer; Burch, Lindenmuth, Lane, McNairy and Burton, of St. Louis, were present.

Bro. Quick could not be present on account of urgent business.

As a whole, the meeting was a pronounced success, with an attendance of forty.

The I. C. and Vandalia were represented, and we were glad to welcome these visiting brothers.

Business of importance was transacted, and every one seemed to be very enthusiastic, and a great deal of good was accomplished.

Our visiting brothers from St. Louis came over the Interurban via Staunton and Springfield, and for some reason, which was not agreed to, they missed their connections at Springfield and had to wait an hour, making it about 9 p. m. when they made their appearance in Decatur. But this did not shorten the meeting any as it was about 2 a. m. when a motion to adjourn was adopted.

Ere this number of THE TELEGRAPHER reaches you our General Committee will be in session with the management, demanding a revision and additions to our unexpired schedule, that, no doubt, will be a benefit to the majority, if not all.

It must be considered that to gain a cause unionism must be complete and of standing, and it is hoped that a satisfactory agreement is reached, as our standing and membership demand more than mere recognition.

All can not expect an increase or benefits, as a number secured this at the last session, and those who were not fortunate enough to be included acted the part of true patriots and remained in the fold for future developments.

I venture to suggest that our new and revised schedule will be of a nature that will be satisfactory to those who are diligent workers and contemplate only a fair working condition.

How many of you have ever listened to a man condemn a labor organization? If you will consider the source from which it came, you will readily form an opinion of the speaker, and say he lacks the experience or does not consider his own welfare. Unionism dates back from the earliest history of creation.

Bro. A. Moore, of Raymond, not long ago was called to Harvel to relieve the night owl, who was in an unfit condition to properly care for his duties. Upon Bro. Moore's arrival there he was met by the man who, flourishing a revolver, compelled Bro. Moore to witness a "shoot-up," and then opened the office door with a cartridge. After a discussion of several moments, the Westerner was overpowered and disarmed, and after putting his charge to "hay," Bro. Moore reigned in peace until a relief appeared and assumed charge.

Bro. Youlle resigned Mt. Olive night position, but unable to give his destination. Bro. Hogan acted as relief.

Mr. Morrow, an ex-brother, resigned Staunton night position and departed for regions unknown.

Bro. Garner, regularly stationed at Carpenter nights, handled the wires a few nights at Staunton.

Mr. Brewer, of Hillsboro, resigned and departed for the South.

Bro. Curtis, recently with the St. L. I. M. & S., at Harvel, but understand night telegrapher from Oakley bids for it.

Bros. Moore, of Raymond; Bandy, of Morrisonville, and Weglitsch, of Harvel, took turns in doubling Harvel night position while that station was minus.

Telegrapher Randolph has accepted service with the company, but unable to state his location.

Mr. Calvert transferred from Galesville to Staunton night position.

Mr. W. R. Case, formerly of "BX" tower, transferred to Mitchell nights.

Bro. E. J. Carroll, a former Wabash boy, is reported to be comfortably located in the State of Kansas.

Bro. Vance, of Lotus, enjoyed a vacation; relieved by Bro. Wheeler, formerly nights.

Operator Vance, after filling Lotus a few nights, went to Chicago Ridge nights.

Bros. Wheeler and Davis doubled Lotus job several nights the past month.

Bro. Kelly, formerly agent at Blue Ridge, is now holding forth with the Big Four at Danville, Ill.

Bro. Brandenburg, regularly assigned to Blue Ridge, relieved Bro. Ward of the position.

Bro. Richards doubled at Lotus on account of sickness of the night man, Lowry.

The following agencies were on bulletin and partially filled by "seniority" men: Chicago Ridge, Stewardson, Harvel, Blue Ridge, Steele, New Lenox, Ritchie and Sangamon.

Bro. Wetzel, after doubling Blue Mound night position, returned to his regular assigned position at Stonington.

Bro. Dunham back to his former position at Stonington, days, after acting as agent at Blue Mound temporarily.

Bro. Montgomery, in turn, shifted to the Milmine agency.

A non landing amidst the O. R. T. membership on the Wabash feels as uneasy as a mouse would in the presence of a lion.

A telegrapher possessing the required experience that does not carry a card is a "drug on the market," and a dead one to his profession.

Bro. R. F. Willison, who has been agent at Sangamon for several months, resigned his position and left for the wild and woolly West on the fifteenth of October; relieved by a Mr. Hurley, who is practically a new man with us, and indications are that he will not remain long.

Bro. Willison worked nights at Sangamon a few nights after being checked out, relieving Mr. Wm. Keller, who returned to work on the fifteenth, and suddenly quit for some reason, causing the agent to double the night of the nineteenth.

Bro. R. E. Layne, of North Ritchie relieved Mr. Keller, or, rather, the agent who was doubling.

Bro. H. O. Folrath, of Cerro Gordo, made a flying business trip to Southwest Missouri early last week; relieved by Day Operator A. F. Wingate doing a double stunt.

A number of good men recently left the service and the chief reason seems not enough money for the services performed.

Bro. G. F. Koehler, day operator at Forrest, has advised us that he expected to leave October 20th.

We are advised that Bro. S. M. Walton, who has been holding down different chairs in the dispatcher's office for some time, but who, has recently been working nights in "H" office, has been tendered a position as dispatcher for the U. P., at Cheyenne, Wyo.

Bro. E. O. Brouning, who has been night operator at Blue Mound for some time, is now nights at Sannemin.

Bro. Curtis bid farewell to Harvel, night position after remaining there less than a week.

Harvel is considered a "hoodoo" by all that land there.

Unofficial reports are that the Big Four is inaugurating on the St. Louis Division the eight-hour system, thereby complying with the Federal law.

This month brings forth Thanksgiving Day, and may our thanks be given for a new and revised schedule satisfactory to all.

Bro. W. E. Harte, Jr., of Bement, Ill., will act as correspondent in future. Div. Cor.

St. Louis Division—

Information blanks are now being sent out to all employees, and by the time this reaches you the committee will be in St. Louis bombarding the company for our back pay. I call it back pay for the reason that it is something that is due us, and that we have not been getting. It is true that since we have been presenting our itemized statements once a year to the company in the form of a schedule, we have succeeded in reducing this outstanding account considerably. This year we expect to lift a portion of it again, and had we been paying attention to and watching our business in this manner for the last ten or fifteen years, our money matters would not have gotten in such a deplorable condition. It is much easier to let a dollar slip away than it is to regain it, and that is the case with us exactly. In years gone by when we were getting a five and ten per cent cut in pay each year, we offered no resistance, and it was evident we were satisfied, now, when we are striving to regain this note how difficult it is, and how our employers try to stand us off. Don't you sometimes feel ashamed of yourself when you look back and see where you neglected your interests, how you have been buncoed and flim-flammed time and time again, have you not about cut your eye-teeth? There is no use in crying over spilled milk. Our experience in the past should be of help to us in the future. Whenever we can get to thinking as individuals that nothing is too good for us, and that we will have the best there is going, many of our troubles will cease for the reason that we will then be establishing a limit, and people whom we deal with will readily know how far they can go in the way of heaping injustice on us. It is plain to me that our present conditions are directly traceable to the fact that we stood for everything, and as a result we were easy picking.

A few words in regard to the information blanks may be well here. Too much care can not be taken in showing all that is called for on these blanks. You have no idea the number of questions that come up in a discussion of our grievances with the management. They are innumerable, and it would be an impossibility to provide a sheet that would cover all, for this reason it becomes necessary sometimes for the committee to write you for additional information during the session. This should be given them promptly, and if you can not give it, you should acknowledge their letter, and not keep them waiting, as many times they are unable to proceed with the negotiations, and suspend business waiting to hear from you. This very thing happened last year. During the negotiations the committee hung up and were unable to go further. They immediately got out a letter to all. The number of replies received to this letter was not anything like it should have been; in fact, some of our best men failed to answer at all. Their reasons for not answering they told me afterwards were that "you were there, and you know what is needed, and anything you do will be satisfactory." Now, I consider that a very unfair way of looking at the matter. Myself, as well as the remainder of the committee are perfectly able to take care of ourselves, but in this instance we have others to look after, for this reason we want your endorsement of everything we do, and we want it in black and white as a matter of protection to ourselves, for the reason, again, that there are tricks in all trades, and ours happens to be full of them, and if your committee returns home with a "bunch of jokers" instead of some "long green," we expect to be able to show that you were a party to the transaction, and as much responsible as the committee. Do you get the idea?

Bro. E. R. Banks, who was formerly agent at High Hill, but now with the Burlington at Hawk Point, Mo., accompanied by another brother, took in the street fair at Warrenton and made us a very interesting visit. He reports a strong line-up on the Burlington.

Just received: The new seniority list for the latter half of the year, as described in Rule 16, of schedule. On the new list we are all arranged in numerical order according to our length of time in the service, and numbered accordingly. The list shows 185 men on the division, and No. 1 has been in the service since 1870. Any of you gents that want to know "how many times out" you stand, or how you rank up with some one else, I will be pleased to quote you the information. This for members only.

Lost, several years of seniority on the coal docks at High Hill. Supposed he had it, and did not miss it until he accepted a position in dispatcher's office at Moberly, when he was unmercifully bumped. All this happened to Mr. Downs. As't him for particulars. He loves to talk about it.

A brother sends us a clipping from a Moberly paper which states that Miss Alma Snyder, after putting in twelve hard winters in the office at Moberly, had resigned and accepted a position with the Western Union Telegraph Company in their main office in St. Louis as a telegrapher. Are you ready for the question?

Bro. Sam McCoy, whom we mentioned in our last write-up as having resigned the agency at Bridgeton and gone South, is now braking on the local here. He says no more station work for him.

Bro. L. Galtspay, agent at St. Charles, is taking a thirty-day lay-off, visiting his folks at Colorado Springs, Colo.

Bro. J. H. Lewis, agent at Jonesburg, has resigned, and will depart soon for the Northwest, where he has accepted employment with another company.

Bro. Pemberton, of Pendleton, secured the agency at Jonesburg, which was duly bulletined. Mr. Childs, night man at Pendleton, gets the day job there.

The depot at O'Fallon burned to the ground October 20th, and Bro. Wooley is now located in a box-car. The fire is supposed to have been started by one of the early morning trains.

W. MURPHY, Local Chairman.

Peru Division—

Ere this you have no doubt all heard of the two good meetings this month. Bro. Shutt had to go to the Lafayette meeting on crutches, being unable to step on his injured foot, but am sure he felt amply paid for the effort by the enthusiasm shown, and the encouragement given by the brothers who attended. The New Haven meeting was also well attended. Several important amendments to our schedule were discussed, also the proposition to raise the dues to $5 per term was favored by all present, and it is hoped that all will see the necessity and advantage of making our dues $10 per year. The $2 is to cover the expenses of the committee, and by raising the money in this way the extra expense of making special assessments and the extra work to handle the assessments is saved.

There have been a good many changes in the past two months. Brailey telegraph office closed, Bro. J. L. Steele taking charge of the agency at Andrews. I. J. Thompson now agent at Monclova. Bro. R. Hoover, of Division 138, now at Maumee, nights. Bro. C. R. Van Gundy resigned; now attending college at Green Castle. However, he says he has no intention of entering the ministry. E. H. White resigned to accept position with the Nickel Plate at Fort Wayne. The vacancies in "Z" office filled by Bro. Gladden, days, and Bro. Barcklow, nights. Understand Bro. Burke, Logansport, nights, will take the day trick vacated by Bro. Gladden. Bros. Biesecker and Tabler left the service. Telegrapher Champ and Bro. Edson now at West Peru.

After the New Haven meeting Bros. Kennington and Shutt accepted the invitation of Bro. E. D. Williams, of Artic, to go home with him for breakfast, and after partaking of the same, Bro. Kennington asserted that he felt able to resume work, and would probably do so about November 1st. Bro. Shutt says he will probably stop with Bro. Williams again soon.

Bro. G. L. Steele, of Mardenis, enjoyed a two weeks' vacation; relieved by Operator Rosmer, who has since left the service.

Bro. Lennan was off ten days on account of the death of his father.

Bro. Bechtal, Grabill, and Bro. Fullen, Okolona, each had a short vacation; relieved by Bro. Brey, who is now at Liberty Center for a short time.

Drv. Com.

Lake Shore & Michigan Southern Ry.Michigan Division—

Operator McMillan, of Elkhart, "RT" office, took a three weeks' vacation; was relieved by Bro. Hostick.

Manager Snyder, of "BC," Elkhart, spent a three weeks' vacation around Lake Superior; was relieved by Bro. Hasbrook, the owl at block office "B," who also relieved Bro. Theiman, the day man at "B."

Bro. Pancake, who resigned a few months ago to try his hand as brakeman, has quit and is again pounding brass at the old stand, "WG" tower.

They are building a fine new interlocking plant at Main street, Elkhart, which will do away with the old block office. We "13" it is to be an eight-hour office, and it's about time, as there is too much work for two men.

A labor agent for the Great Northern passed over the line, trying to secure operators for that pike. He left a schedule book with the boys at Elkhart depot, but nothing doing, as their scale is too low, considering the country out there.

Bro. Hostick took a run down to Toledo on No. 32, for a day's visit.

The Branch dispatchers have all taken their vacations. Operator Fritz, of "BC" office, doing the relief act.

Bro. Gangever, who hails from Legonier, put in all summer on nearly every trick in Elkhart, while the boys took their vacations. "HOOSIER."

Erie Division—

The meeting held at Erie, September 24, was very well attended. Bro. Kipp presided, and made a good speech, in which he gave the boys some pointers which they should take heed of. Another meeting is to be held soon, and hope all the good brothers who can attend will do so.

Bro. Simms, formerly second trick at Bay View, took first trick at Canadaway, which office was recently reopened with three men, Telegraphers Mack on the second, and Cooper on the third tricks, respectively.

The new tower at Angola was put into operation recently. Bro. Barrett, formerly of Wickliffe, holds first trick; Bro. Jim Woods, second, and Bro. J. V. Kaufmann, formerly of Dunkirk depot, nights on third trick.

Bro. C. P. Kane, second trick at "X," Dunkirk, was off for two weeks last month. He was relieved by Bro. L. J. Fay, who re-entered the service recently.

Bro. Jim Madell, who has been working third trick at "X," Dunkirk, has taken the position as regular relief, and is at present working at "CN" office. Bro. Madell succeeded by Bro. L. J. Fay.

The telegraphers at Brocton have been put on an eight-hour basis, Telegrapher Barchus working from 8 to 4 p. m. and Bro. Hall nights from 8 p. m. until 4 a. m. The rest of the time there is no operator in this office.

Bro. Diffenbach, Westfield station, days, has taken first trick at "JI," Chutes, on account of this being made an eight-hour job. Unable to learn who is working second at "JI." Bro. Weathererup works the third trick, while P. M. Smith, who formerly worked at "JI," took Bro. Diffenbach's place at "WB."

State Line has been made an eight-hour job, but I am not posted as to who is working the various tricks at present.

The train order officers at Ripley, Athol Springs and Dunkirk station, have been closed. The work at Dunkirk now being done by telegraphers at "X" tower.

"GC" yard office, Erie, has been reopened with three men on the job. Bro. Throne, from Erie depot nights, works first trick; Telegrapher Gross on the second. Unable to learn who is working third trick. New man working at Erie depot nights. Unable to learn his name at present writing.

Wish some of you good brothers would help me out. Any little news item will be accepted at any time. "SLIM."

New York Central.Electric Division—

Everybody busy on the Electric Division endeavoring to make our ball a success. Don't forget the place, brothers. Murray Hill Lyceum, 34th st. and 3d av., New York City. We may have our General Committee with us on this happy occasion.

The 56th st. tower bunch are now working in the "GC" yard limits. Why not insist that the "GC" yard and the Electric Division are all one, including our dispatcher's office, and that all positions be put up for bid. There are six positions in the dispatcher's office that should be put up; also a large number of positions in "GC" yard. This condition of affairs will last as long as we stand for it. Second trick operator at 106th st. was not put up for bid.

Bro. Blizzard, of 56st st., spent his vacation at Middletown, N. Y.

Bro. J. Henry Dooley spent his vacation at Williams Bridge, N. Y.

Bro. A. Mead spent his vacation at Melrose Park, N. Y.

Bros. J. H. Byrne and W. Fredrickson took in Niagara Falls and Buffalo.

Vacations were resumed on September 15. Chief Dispatcher G. H. Wilson availed himself of the services of so many good railroad telegraphers, who are out of employment on account of the commercial telegraphers' strike, that every man will probably have his vacation before the middle of November. This is the best record here in a number of years.

There are a number of married women scabbing for the telegraph companies in New York City, who had quit the business, but the bait of double time, bonuses and expenses were too much for them to withstand. They, possibly, will look for contracts with Sharkey, Wulfer & Haymarket Co. Possibly they will cause a strike there.

There are a large number of members who would prefer two days a month off to the annual vacation. How do you feel about it?

About December 1 members should get busy and get after all nons, and endeavor to get them to join December pay-day. Also see if any member is in arrears for dues and M. B. D., and get after members employed upon the Electric Division and belonging to other divisions.

I thank the brothers for their notes and suggestions, and ask them to continue sending them.

T. F. Noon.

Mohawk Division—

Bro. "Ben." Maricle, of first trick, "BS 24," Little Falls, has resigned to associate himself with his father in the restaurant business in Buffalo. It will be well for the brothers to remember that when they are in Buffalo they can find him at 822 Main st.

Bro. "Dan" Bradley has recently returned from a business and pleasure trip to Chicago and other points in the West.

Very likely before you receive this write-up our General Committee will have been in session with the management in New York, looking after our interests. Two loyal brothers have been chosen for this important work, and we may all rest assured that their work will be done to the best of their ability.

Mr. Herbert Brown, one time local chairman, West Shore, now a member of the C. T. U., and until recently employed by the Western Union at "SY" office, Syracuse, covered Utica yard nights, lately, for a month. Same point now being covered by Telegrapher Judge, from Syracuse.

Telegrapher William VanDusen, formerly a member of the O. R. T., now working for the Grand Trunk, near Montreal, is in this section, renewing old acquaintances.

Bro. John McVeigh, first trick at "BS 26," Herkimer, has been transferred to dispatchers' office, Albany, to be put in line of dispatcher.

Bro. P. T. Higgs, at Harbor, has resigned, and is succeeded by Mr. Dague. Budd, Div. Cor.

Hudson Division—

The "Eight-Hour Ball" is now history, but it is history that will always be fresh in the minds of those that thronged the Columbus Institute on October 16th to do honor to the Hon. F. Northrup, assemblyman, introducer in the past Legislature of what is now our "eight-hour law." It is not in my power to phrase a sentence that would do justice to this ball. The grandeur and magnificence of the decorations, and the appearance of the hall throughout could only be appreciated by those who had the pleasure of attending. The walls, columns, gallery and stage were draped with American flags and bunting in endless profusion, against the wall on either side of the stage were crossed American flags covered with the American shield. Another feature of the decorations that commanded admiration was the elaborate floral display, which consisted of bay trees, kentia palms, and a large display of Latinia palms with cut flowers.

The guests began to arrive early, and before 9 o'clock the hall was well filled with telegraphers from several parts of the State.

Our general chairman, M. G. Woolley, presided, and called the ball to order at 8:30 p. m., and after stating the purpose of the gathering introduced Hon. J. K. Sague, Mayor of Poughkeepsie, who made a very appropriate address. Next to be introduced was our worthy Bro. J. E. Sheild, from Division 44, and although not coming prepared to make an address, his latent ability for an emergency of this nature was not found wanting, and I will say he upheld the reputation of his division of "always being there with the goods." The last, but not least to be introduced was our guest of honor, Hon. Frederick Northrup, assemblyman, who made a long and elaborate speech, dwelling upon our present eight-hour law, and the need of further legislation for public safety. After his speech was concluded our general chairman asked his attention while he presented him in behalf of the telegraphers of New York State a beautiful solid gold watchchain and charm, which contained a large diamond. Mr. Northrup was completely taken by surprise, and it was with an effort he found his voice to respond.

Next in order was the grand march, which was headed by our assemblyman, and with the effect of calcium lights which were used throughout the evening, the march was a thing beautiful to behold.

After the grand march Assemblyman Northrup was called upon again, this time to be presented with a cake made by the wife of our worthy Bro. W. S. Smith, whose reputation as a cake-maker was previously established, and this cake especially looked too good to eat.

My space is too limited to mention all the prominent telegraphers present, but they were there in goodly numbers, and with their "eight-hour faces."

I wish to thank the several divisions and also committees in charge of this function for the support rendered in making it the grand success it proved to be. It was conceded by all present to be the grandest ball ever held in New York State.

Assemblyman Northrup wishes me to say through these columns to the telegraphers of New York State that he regrets he is unable to personally express his gratitude and appreciation to each of you for the magnificent tribute you have paid him, and that age can never eliminate this honor from his memory.

Every one present enjoyed themselves, and dancing continued up to 3 o'clock a. m.

Everything on Hudson Division is moving on harmoniously, and before this is in print your General Committee should be in session with the general management in New York seeking a renewal of the wage scale, with a substantial increase. I wish to say to every member that while your committee is in session have patience to get the final result from your local chairman. Do not accept rumors as facts. You will, as in the past, hear from the stovepipe committee. They will keep you advised as to the actions of the general committee throughout the whole conference, but I wish to advise you all that I will absolutely refuse to be interviewed by any of this committee.

CERT. 525.

Western Division—

All positions on this end now eight hours, and it makes life worth living. We ought to give our very best services now to show that we appreciate what has been done for us. We are all looking forward to the time when the paymaster will pass over $75, or more, instead of $52.50 or $55, but in the meantime let us show the railroad company that we mean business by getting after the nons. There are a number over here on the Buffalo Division, and I suppose there are some on the main line. Show them where they are only harming themselves by staying out, and I think that they will come across with the necessary. I am not in a position to give any of the changes along the line although there have been a number, because of the new eight-hour jobs.

Let's wake up and show the rest of Division 8 that we are not dead, and have a lengthy write-up in THE TELEGRAPHER each month.

KICKER.

River Division—

The changes on this division have been more than I can state, but will give you just an idea of what is doing in some places:

The eight-hour law which we expected to hit all offices, only affected those offices west of Cornwall tower, and about eight block offices have been closed for the want of operators. I have known in some cases so far that the second, as well as the third tricks have been closed for this reason, but according to information received from good authority, they are going to make many more eight-hour jobs as soon as they can scrape up some more operators which, in my mind, will be hard to get, "especially if they secure them from the schools, as several new men have been employed as operators, and then get into the office to practice, and can not do any wire work at all."

The Wallkill Valley has made a splendid showing for the past month, and if the good work goes on they will be solid in a short time.

Bro. Northrop has returned from his vacation.

Bro. Hasbrouck has been acting relief agent on the W. V.

Bro. and Mrs. Bostwick have returned from their honeymoon trip.

Bro. Coleman bid in second trick, "CN" tower, vice Finnigan "drunk and discharged."

Bro. Freer gone to Kingston, second trick.

Bro. Tansey, second trick man at "KC."

"RO," "MI," "WI," "US" and "PN" block offices closed on account of being short of men.

At our regular meeting, held at Newburgh, a grand time was enjoyed by all, and if more of the brothers would take an interest in these meetings they would know more about what is going on.

If you have a kick a coming, come to the meeting and thrash it out there; that is the place to do it, so we all can see what is going on.

I wish the brothers who have changed there positions to other offices would drop me a note and let's know where you are, so all can be located conveniently.

IN MEMORIAM.

WHEREAS, It has pleased an All-wise Providence to remove from our midst the beloved mother of our brother and friend, Harold G. Stegman, and while we bow in humble submission to the will of the Most High, who doeth all things well, and

WHEREAS, We feel that Bro. Stegman has lost his most trusted and esteemed friend, his father has lost a devoted wife, whose words of counsel, cheerful presence and untiring devotion to the welfare of her family and all who were fortunate enough to know her, can never be replaced, we feel that their loss is her eternal gain; therefore be it

Resolved, That to the sorrowing father and son we tender our heartfelt sympathy and consolation, and pray for the comforter of the weary to give them courage and strength to fulfill their mission well. Sorrows like these are inevitable, and tend to impress on us that we, too, must soon be numbered among the absent, and we hope for a reunited meeting on the other shore; and be it further

Resolved, That a copy of this resolution be spread on the minutes of our division, a copy be published in THE TELEGRAPHER, and that a copy be sent to the family of the deceased.

Plymouth Division—

Bro. N. Petrie has bid in spare towerman's job.

Bro. J. F. Thomas is covering the agency at Nantasket Junction temporarily.

Bro. E. E. Diegas, who left the tower service some time ago, to enter the motive power department, has returned to the tower service and is holding down Buzzards Bay tower nights.

Bro. J. P. Woods, formerly of the master mechanic's office, South Boston, bid in day trick at Braintree station.

Bro. Whitney, Campello tower, has resumed his duties after laying off about three weeks on account of a sprained ankle.

Mr. J. P. Lyons relieved Bro. Whitney.

Bro. O'Brien has resigned from third trick at Harrison Square tower to accept a good job with the City of Boston.

Bro. Bailey, of Halifax, is back from a two weeks' vacation, spent in the Plymouth woods.

Sister Nichols is back at Cohasset after a month's vacation.

Bro. Flood, of South Duxbury, is off on a vacation to the Maine woods.

Bro. Jack Walker, of Braintree Station, has bid in the split trick at the tower.

Bro. Broderick seems well and happy at Sagamore.

Bro. Hopkins, of Yarmouth, has been relieving Mr. Gidley at Buzzards Bay station the past month.

Bro. Joe Landers has refused the position of assistant to the trainmaster at Boston.

Bro. Clifford has resigned second trick at Atlantic tower, and Bro. Smith, of Savin Hill tower goes there until bids are settled. Bro. Rex is covering Savin Hill.

Bro. Jack McDonald has gone to Neponset nights.

Mr. Brown has resigned the agency at Wollaston.

So Braintree is solid O. R. T.

Jeremiah McCarthy can now be addressed as brother.

Mr. Lewis has been assigned to the agency at Plympton.

Mr. Gray, formerly of the B. & M., has landed the agency at Nantasket Junction.

Bro. Chester Purtle, of Quincy, is off on a two weeks' vacation. Bro. J. F. Thomas is relieving Bro. Purtle. Cor.

Midland Division—

The tower just nearing completion at Bird street was burned beyond repair last month.

The night telegraph office at Franklin Station has been abolished. Mr. Winters is doing duty as yard clerk and ticket agent.

Bro. John Silva, of Readville tower, has been off a week or ten days, to regain his health.

Bro. Gilbert, formerly of Franklin, is doing spare duty at Woonsocket Junction.

Bro. Scully, of Milford, has just returned from a month's vacation.

Bro. Bardol, of Franklin Junction tower, spent ten days at Buffalo, N. Y., attending a family reunion, during "Old Home Week" celebration there. CERT. 226.

Regular meeting of Division No. 51 was held at Greenville Friday evening, October 18, with a fair attendance. All officers were in their respective chairs. Bro. C. L. Campbell, Hilliard, and Bro. Alexander Bonner, Shenango, were initiated into the division.

It is hoped that a large class will be present at our next regular meeting, to be held in November, due notice of which will be given by card from the Secretary.

The Chair appointed a committee of five, composed of the following members, to act as initiating team: Bros. A. C. Kiser, J. H. Eastlake, E. E. Kane, A. Bonner, C. R. Miller and O. L. Flegger. It is expected that these brothers will be present at each meeting to carry out the work assigned to them.

It is desired that a full attendance will be present at our November meeting, that arrangements may be completed for the representative of the Grand Division to give us a talk. Also a program from members of Division No. 51 at some meeting in the near future. This can not be done without your attendance, brothers.

O. G. Richardson, second trick man at "YA" tower Conneaut Harbor, is off on an extended leave of absence. Bros. Kughler and Olcott have been doubling up on this work.

Mr. J. L. Risley, former manager of the W. U. at Conneaut, Ohio, has been doing the night stunt at State Line while S. D. Ames has been enjoying his ten-day vacation. "Joe" expects to have third trick at "YA" tower for the present.

Bro. Truesdell, agent at Conneaut, Ohio, is on the sick list.

Miss Ruby Barnes, a former Postal operator, has been enjoying an extended vacation since the Postal and W. U. strike, with her father, near "HX" tower.

Bro. T. S. Hughes, "HX" tower, has returned to work after a two weeks' vacation with friends in Forestville, Pa., being relieved by Mr. R. E. Byrnet, former W. U. operator.

The way Bro. W. B. Risley has been receiving new applications for membership this division is not dead by a long ways. The boys are taking hold with a firmer grip and determination. There will be a good time at our next meeting, as there will be a number of new candidates to be put through. Come out and help saddle the goat, and don't have that old excuse, "I forgot all about it."

Cincinnati District—

A meeting of more importance has not been held at Huntington since the last schedule was secured than the one held October 26th. Our general chairman, L. G. Bentley, and Chairman A. W. Holmes, of the Allegheny District, were present, and each discussed the special topics in a convincing manner. The Western Union strike came in for its full share of consideration, and the Cincinnati District agreed to stand by the instructions issued by the general chairman, but demanded the elimination of the offending clause in the next schedule. We are too strong a body of men to be trampled under foot by such a corporation as the Western Union, and will have our just dues from them, or they will do no more business with us. These little peanut side issues have been played off on us to the limit of endurance, and as Abraham Lincoln was the great emancipator of the negro, so will the O. R. T. be our emancipator from the slavery of the Western Union, Adams Express and the United States mail. If any class of workmen can show where more skill, study and consideration is required than in the telegraph department of a railroad, trot them out. Engineers, with scarcely any education, are drawing 69 cents per hour. Conductors of same education 45 to 50 cents per hour, and brakemen, many of whom can barely read their own names, making from $90 to $130 per month on this division; while the operator, after years of hard study, is drawing the magnificent (?) salary of $60 per month, and have to contend with and attend to all the little side shows which the railroad company can find room to tent under the roof of a telegraph office or station building. Why should we not rise like Brethren of Sparta and throw off the yoke which is distasteful to us, and demand what is justly due us? We are not given any more consideration than the section man whose chief asset is a strong back and a weak, sun-baked brain. Are we always to be the lowest paid and the least considered of all employees, to be disciplined and suspended for offenses caused by disobeying the instructions of some official who would be more of a success rushing a hod up a ninety-foot ladder? Our organization has curtailed this injustice within the last five years, and may the time soon come when we will see the end of our oppressors. We must complete our organization, and keep every man in line, and the "no card" operator will find "no encouragement." Now is the time to rally round the "wreath and sounder" flag, and make a stand for fair wages ($90 per month.) We can have it, and have it March 5, 1908, if we will live up to our obligation. Strike while the iron is hot.

There are quite a few C. T. U. men with us now, and they are staunch union men, on whom we can depend to support our every move, and who will be with us in all things.

Bro. G. F. Willis has returned from a trip to Denver, where he had gone for the health of his family.

Bro. C. E. Carter has resumed work at Buena Vista, after several days' absence on sick leave. "BV" seems to be a "Jonah" for regular men.

Bro. D. W. Riley has resumed work at "OF" Cabin, after a twenty days' leave of absence.

Local Chairman Mathewson was in Chicago several days in October.

C. T. U. men are earnestly requested to transfer to O. R. T., and stay away from the Western Union Telegraph Company jobs. We need every man we have to fill up offices March 4th, when the nine-hour law becomes effective.

Bro. B. F. Hall was assigned Limeville, nights; Bro. L. S. Otto, Springdale, nights, and J. E. Sanford (C. T. U. man), "MS" Cabin, third trick, on last bulletin.

Bro. H. L. Willis has resumed duty at Glenn after several weeks' vacation in Oklahoma and other points.

Remember our meetings are the fourth Saturday night in each month, and try and arrange to attend. Nothing promotes good feeling among the boys like meeting one another in the lodge room and getting "next" to each other, and it builds up the organization, too. Come out if you can.

CERT. 88.

James District—

We all know of the eight-hour day that is coming March 4, 1908.

Bro. C. L. Maupin has been assigned "WS" regular.

Bro. J. S. Hamilton has resumed duty after a trip to the Jamestown Exposition.

Bro. G. H. Harman is now off sick.

Hope to see a good crowd at the meeting November 16th.

During the progress of the commercial telegraphers' strike, the boys on this division are having no great difficulty in securing relief for vacations. About thirty C. T. U. of A. boys are working extra here, and many of them have expressed the intention of following this branch of the business.

The C. & O. appears to be taking time by the forelock in preparation for the eight-hour law, and are securing many first-class men.

Outside of a very few non-desirables on this division, we are solid. MUD.

Relief Agent E. J. Wyman, who has been relieving E. J. Clingman at Whallonsburg, is now at "CW," Lake George, giving Mr. Noyes a little recreation.

Bro. Govereau, of "PO," Port Henry, days, has bid in first trick at "Z," Fort Edward. Bro. I. E. Shields, of McVillie, taking third trick same place, but at present writing first trick not covered. Bros. Ramsdell and Shields doing twelve-hour stunts.

Bro. Ryan, of "XN," Saratoga, who has been at Cliff Haven all summer as agent, has returned to first trick, "XN." Can not say now who got second and third trick.

Bro. Boyle drew second trick, "OW," Watervliet. This gives Bro. Potter an eight-hour shift.

Mr. H. C. North, agent (Liv. avenue), Albany, resigned, and Mr. H. C. Palmer appointed to the vacancy.

Mr. L. H. Stewart, our former local auditor, but later comptroller, has also resigned. Mr. W. H. Davies, assistant comptroller, promoted to his position.

A man by the name of Stewart relieved Bro. Green at Saucier. He is from Ora and a non.

Bro. Newbill, at Perkinston, resigned; relieved by Bro. Hartzog, of Grange. Bro. Hartzog was relieved by Bro. O. H. Kennedy, of Ralston. Ralston agency cut out.

Goss agency closed a few days on account of Bro. Alexander having chills and fever. Understand that he would ask dispatcher at "N" if he could take his "17," as he felt his chill creeping. Glad to state he is O. K. and working again.

Chicago Great Western Ry.Northwest Division—

Bro. Norris, agent at Inver Grove, has just returned from a thirty days' vacation. Bro. Green, who relieved him, goes to Riceville nights.

Bro. McElrath is back at Coates.

It is rumored that Bro. Brown, the old reliable standby at Hayfield days, is about to leave the service.

Bro. Plath, formerly night telegrapher at Dodge Center, is holding the day job at that place, being relieved nights by Bro. Falzmaraf.

Bro. Jenny, South St. Paul days, has returned after taking a month's vacation.

Bro. P. Stenstrom, day operator at Randolph, was absent a few days on account of sickness, being relieved by the night operator, Bro. Day, who in turn was relieved by Bro. Foreman.

Bro. H. B. Bobb is now at Hampton nights.

Several of our division officials are detained at Oelwein shops, striving to "keep things moving" where the present boilermakers' strike is so effective.

"13" that there is a new man at Renova, nights.

Mr. W. J. Boyle, formerly relief agent, has secured the position of day operator at New Hampton.

Bro. Kendree at New Hampton, nights.

Bro. Donovan, formerly night owl at New Hampton, is now working days at Sumner.

Bro. Foreman, nights at Hayfield. Bro. Simpson is working days there, vice Bro. Brown, resigned.

Dispatchers Page and Galvin are doubling now. Mr. Grover, our third trick man, having quit the C. G. W. to take a similar position with the M. & St. L.

Our committee goes in this month and we hope that we can capture every non before New Years. Keep right after them and don't let them rest until they can show the pasteboard.

Owing to the scarcity of men, some of the boys are having a hard time getting a lay-off.

Agent Wilson, of Taopi, has resumed lever pulling, after a few days' vacation.

If you have any items for the journal send them to Bro. C. H. Kinne, of South St. Paul. The items must be in his hands before the 15th of the month.

Vlasaty night office closed.

Bro. F. R. Mills, agent at Rich Valley, transferred to agency at Vlasaty. Bro. Dowell goes to Rich Valley.

Bro. Whitecraft, Taopi nights, is absent on account of sickness, being relieved by Bro. Marquette, an "old-timer" on this division.

Bro. Denn has returned from his Eastern trip and has taken up his duties as agent at Hampton. Glad to see you back, "DN."

Bro. Van Antwerp, another "old timer," is with us again. He relieved Bro. Bobb. Bro. Bobb has entered the lumber business at Spokane, Wash.

The former agent at Vlasaty, alias instructor and proprietor of the renounced telegraph school, has been transferred to agency at Stanton, and "13" he has taken his students with him. It looks like he did not expect to find the student business very profitable in that district. May he always find it so. We have our opinion of a man who will attempt to retard the progress of his fellow workmen, and prevent them from attaining a greater elevation in the business and social world, directly or indirectly.

We were all glad to hear Dispatcher Wilhelm's fist on the wire again. He had been acting as chief on the Tidewater line, and we were inclined to believe he had left us for good.

Operator Cunningham, a C. T. U. of A. man, who has been working at Rich Valley nights for some time, has left the service, and is being relieved by Operator Simpson, a new man.

Bro. Hurley is back at his old stand at Randolph nights, after a two or three months' absence.

Operator J. L. Green, from C. M. & St. P., is working at Eden, nights.

Our committee is conferring with the officials at St. Paul at the present writing. We are unable to say what grievance they have, but Bro. Potter, representing the W. M. & P., says "We are after all we can get." Now, boys, if our committee goes at the fight with this determination the rest of should show the same spirit in backing them, and stand by them in whatever course they take.

Norfolk & Sou. Line.

The writer has accepted the office of Secretary and Treasurer for the boys of this road at our recent meeting in Norfolk, Va., and has been "sitting up nights" in an endeavor to accomplish something. When he accepted this position, he did so, knowing full well that with his other duties he must have assistance from some of the brethren on this pike, as his other duties required twelve hours every day. As matters now stand, it is apparent that the other members of the O. R. T. have serenely folded their arms, wiped the sweat from their brows, and settled down for a winter's nap. Boys, this is no time for napping. The officials are busy talking against the O. R. T. over here. This may be the trouble with you. Some official may have put a bug in your ear. Are you scared of your little $35 job? What is one little official to the big Order of Railroad Telegraphers? Wake up! Be a man!

In the world's broad field of battle,
In the bivouac of life;
Be not like dumb driven cattle;
Be a hero in the strife.

You boys must wake up if I am going to help you. It shows very little appreciation for you to sit still. Write letters to nons; the more and oftener you write, the better. The officials are working to keep us down. You must work to counteract their efforts. Get your rusty pen down from its rack and help me pull the O. R. T. wagon to its destination, a fully organized road. Prospects were never brighter than at present, and a good word put in by some or all of you will make my task lighter. We have nons seeking information about the O. R. T., and I have to write from fifteen to twenty-five letters a day, at times, to keep up, and at present, am two weeks behind. This job is something fierce. Who will be my assistant? It is simply impossible for me to keep the work up alone.

I have inside information that the officials have called a number of nons into personal consultation, the purport of which was their desire that employes should not join labor organizations. Why is this? You can answer the question in your own way. It shows that something is doing. This talk would not be indulged in if there was not a reason for it. Wake up! Work! Success is about to crown your efforts.

I can not give a write-up of the road, owing to the pressure due to organization work. Some of you boys can do that. CERT. 506.

Twin City Telegraphers' Club.

The meeting of the club, on October 12, was not very well attended. Several new brothers attended and we enjoyed a pleasant evening. The brothers who were absent missed a treat, as Bro. Winnie, of the Great Northern, showed up with the box of cigars that he had promised. This brother was married several months ago, but was tardy with the cigars.

First Vice-President Newman spent the evening with us, also had one of the N. P. committee men, Bro. Reeves, with us. Hope this brother can arrange to come often.

The dance given by the Switchmen's Union, October 4, for the benefit of the striking C. T. U. of A. boys, was well attended, and about $100 was cleared. Quite a number of wreath and sounder buttons were in evidence, which shows the railroad boys are always in on a good thing.

The revised schedule of the Northern Pacific is out and copies mailed to all members. It shows several of the rules changed, so they will suit the boys better, and a nice increase for some of the offices.

Bro. Bradley, of East Seventh st., has the third trick at Mississippi st. at present.

Quite a bad wreck near St. Anthony Park a few nights ago, made some extra work for our worthy secretary.

It's almost time to have another one of our dances. Winter is coming and a few dances or parties like we had a year ago, would help kill time these long evenings. Would like to see a full attendance at our meetings and arrangements made for a dance.

Bro. Galvin was laying off a few days. Seems it's a hard matter to get a lay-off now.

CLUB CORRESPONDENT.

St. L., I. M. & S. Ry.

Little Rock Division—

Every month I mail each station a note asking for items, but I seldom receive a reply from a third of you. There are numerous changes every month on this division, and we should be capable of furnishing as good a write-up as any you see in this journal. I will see that it is done if you will only do your part and co-operate with me.

After closing Minturn nights for three weeks, on account of being unable to secure telegraphers, Bro. E. T. Moody, a new-comer, has accepted the position.

Bro. T. E. Brown relieved Bro. Simpson (resigned) nights at Alicia. Bro. Simpson has gone over on Cach River trapping for the winter.

Bro. R. L. Jackson, night telegrapher at Diaz, has been transferred to Arkadelphia, being relieved by Bro. P. Belleville.

Bro. M. E. Doyle, after an absence of three months, has returned to work nights at Newport, relieving Bro. J. M. Gritton, who has accepted an agency on the Pine Bluff district.

Understand Bro. Sparks, from Donaldson, will relieve Bro. J. M. Ashley, agent and telegrapher, at Olyphant.

Night office at Judsonia was closed for a few nights on account of sending Bro. J. H. Orr to Bald Knob to relieve Sister Weldon, who was called to Kansas City to attend the funeral of a friend.

Bro. C. E. Beem, agent and telegrapher at Higginson, is off on a sixty-day vacation, being relieved by Bro. W. D. Brewer.

Telegrapher S. F. Lively relieved Bro. C. D. Tucker nights at Austin.

Bro. E. G. Sponenberger, agent and telegrapher at Fulton, has resumed duty after an absence of two weeks; relieved by Bro. J. B. Bruce.

Bro. J. R. Hudson was off a few days this month; relieved by Bro. W. R. Gamble.

Bro. E. J. Dugal, day telegrapher at Eldorado, has accepted an agency at Strong, Ark., on the Natchez division. Bro. J. R. Coulter, who formerly worked in the dispatcher's office at Ferriday, relieved Bro. Dugal.

Bro. W. H. Scott, night telegrapher at Higgins, has resumed work after taking a thirty-days' vacation, visiting his old home in Nashville, Tenn. On his return he relieved Bro. W. B. Cunningham, agent and telegrapher. The latter is off on a few days' camp hunt.

Little Rock Terminals—

Mr. G. H. Cooper, division operator, has been promoted to train master on Pine Bluff district. He is succeeded by Mr. A. N. Stroud, formerly night chief.

I later understand that Mr. P. H. Mellville, division agent, will take charge of the telegraphers as well as the agents, relieving Mr. Stroud of his title as division operator.

Bro. W. B. Laing has been taking a twenty-day vacation, being relieved by Bro. Chas. Robinson, who recently returned from Cuba.

Bro. W. B. Sowell and family have been visiting Armstrong Springs. Bro. Sowell was relieved by Bro. Thompson, from St. Louis.

Bro. H. F. Villars is attending medical college.

Bro. J. F. Smade was off, sick, for a few days last month.

Bro. H. T. Laird, from "GM" St. Louis, has accepted a position in "CF" office.

Bro. H. F. LeGrande, our manager, has been chilling.

Bro. J. W. Quiggins is contemplating a vacation.

Bro. J. T. Turnipseed and W. A. McCaulley reported working banking hours.

Bro. W. S. Mathiney, from Canada, has accepted a position in "CF."

We have only one non in "CF" office.

Our new union station is nearing completion. The "CF" boys are rejoicing over the fact that ere many moons they will be occupying the swell-est offices in the country. LaForce.

The Minneapolis & St. Louis Ry.

The M. & St. L. has awakened from its long sleep. An O. R. T. meeting was actually held at Des Moines October 13. Although the attendance was not large, the enthusiasm shown was great, the chief aim of the boys being to awaken our brothers from the lethargy which seems to have fallen upon us all. Steps were taken to see to securing a new schedule, a correspondent was appointed, and plans laid for future meetings. The fact that a half-dozen applications were secured from non-members that were present, made the meeting worth while. A little earnest effort will bring in all the nons.

Bro. Perkins has left Gowrie to accept the day operator job at Winthrop, Minn., his place being filled by Bro. Vaughn, from Albert Lea.

Bro. Wadsworth has left Mallard, to accept a position in a hardware store at some point in South Dakota. The man relieving Bro. Wadsworth carries a card. Have not learned his name.

Mr. F. V. Rhoades is back at Paton after a three weeks' lay off, during which time he was at Des Moines, undergoing an operation for appendicitis. Mr. A. N. Mann, regular relief agent, filled the vacancy.

I "13" we are to have a new time-card soon, introducing new trains. Too much business for the present service. CERT. 103.

N. Y., O. & W. Ry.Northern and Utica Divisions—

The following changes have been made recently on this division:

Bro. Walton, agent at Solsville, has taken the third trick at Sidney, nights.

Bro. Brooks, agent at Central Square, has been checked in as agent at Solsville.

Bro. Hadley, ticket agent at Oneida, checked in as agent at Bernhards.

Bro. Osgood, of New Berlin, is holding down the day operator's job at Oneida.

Bro. Jno. Carpenter, agent at Bernhards, has started in his new position as night copier in the dispatcher's office at Norwich.

Bro. J. E. Horan, of Pecksport, nights, is back to work after a ten days' vacation.

There have been a few new positions under the new eight-hour law, am unable to say who landed them.

Most of the men on this division got a share of the increase on the revised schedule.

The nons on this division are scarce. Let's try and make it solid. CERT. 206.

XMAS GIFTS

Buy Your Christmas Gifts on Eight Months' Time

Use the Loftis System. It enables you to make beautiful and valuable presents without the outlay of much money. By giving credit and lowest prices we make $5.00 or $10.00 do the work that $50.00 does in a cash store. Don't make the mistake of buying something cheap or trashy, when the same money would make the first payment on a beautiful diamond ring, stud, brooch, locket, a pair of cuff buttons, ear rings, a fine watch or any other article of high-grade jewelry from our enormous stock. A diamond is the ideal gift for a loved one—it lasts forever, and every day reminds the wearer of your regard and good judgment.

Make Your Christmas Selections Now

Christmas catalog, and in the privacy of your own home select the articles you desire, and we will send them to your home, place of business or express office, for your inspection. If you like them, if they are all and more than we claim them to be, pay one-fifth on delivery and the balance in eight equal monthly amounts. We give a signed guarantee of value and quality with every diamond, also the privilege of exchange for full value at any time, for any other article of jewelry from our $1,000,000 stock. We take all risks, and pay all express charges. You have absolutely nothing to lose and a great deal to gain, so don't delay. WRITE TODAY FOR OUR CHRISTMAS CATALOG, containing 1,000 beautiful illustrations. You will find it a veritable gold mine of Xmas gift suggestions, suitable for friends, relatives and loved ones, all at a low price and on terms to suit any purse. ELECTRIC NOVELTIES

We have just received from the press a booklet treating on Electric Novelties and Specialties. Some rare holiday offers are shown. Yours for the asking.

EUREKA TELEGRAPH INSTRUMENT

A moderate priced combination set, recommended as a learner's apparatus, being low in price, durable and efficient. Copy of Philosophy and Practice of Morse Telegraphy free with each instrument. Wound, 5 ohms, $1.15; Wound, 20 ohms, $1.25.

IMPROVED MAIN LINE SOUNDER

Gives three times the volume of sound given by the very best box relays. Made with full size relay magnets, 150 ohms resistance. Very sensitive to weak currents, giving a clear working sound on circuits where, without it, a relay with local sounder and battery would be absolutely necessary. With key, price, $4.50. Without key, price, $3.75.

IMPROVED GIANT SOUNDER

Quick acting and gives a loud, clear sound. Polished hard-rubber covered coils, brass or aluminum lever, polished brass base plate, mounted on highly polished mahogany base. Used by the largest railroad and telegraph companies. Standard size and design. Wound 5 ohms. Price, $1.40.

STANDARD PONY RELAY

Made of selected material and handsomely finished, mounted on mahogany base with metallic subbase. Will work with perfect ease on lines up to twenty miles, where main line sounders fail to give satisfaction, and requires much less battery power than a main line sounder of similar resistance. Wound 20 ohms. Price, $1.50.

EARLY RISER'S OUTFIT

The clock that gets you up in time. A high-grade clock movement. Will ring for a week if not shut off. Every railroad man realizes the importance of being on time—this timepiece will get you there if anything will. The clock is attached to battery box, so that the outfit may be carried by the top ring.

Price, complete, $2.00.

BATTERY CALL TELEPHONE

For lines from 100 to 1500 feet long.

A practical working telephone for outdoor or indoor lines. Especially recommended for connecting office or store with house, house with stable, manager's office with any part of building or grounds, etc. Every instrument tested and guaranteed to work satisfactorily. Will give as good service on short lines as any phone made. Price, each, $2.50.

BURGLAR ALARM TRAP

You can make your house or office burglar-proof by use of this trap and a few minutes work. Simply stretch the string across a doorway and any disturbance of string draws the needle to the right, ringing the bell; if the string be broken, spring draws needle to left, giving the alarm. Makes good fire alarm, as burning of string gives alarm. Two traps for 25 cents.

ANTI-DOC MEDICAL APPARATUS

Accomplishes results as quickly as any high-priced battery. No home should be without one. Unfailing relief for rheumatism, operators' paralysis, etc. Costs less than one application by your doctor. Price, complete with 96-page guide, only $2.00.

CATALOG G-22 contains 144 pages and over 750 illustrations of "Something Electrical for Everybody." SENT FREE

You are ALL CONFUSED about Pianos!

—You want the sweetest toned
—You want that sweet tone to last
—You dislike to spend any more money than necessary:—But every adviser, and so-called expert, recommends a different make. You are like a man lost in the woods. You don't know which way to turn. This surely describes your position.

R THE REMEDY:—Educate yourself on the subject! Study—read—Read more—Study more. Then listen in the quietness of your own parlor to the tone of the highest grade piano you can get, but without agreeing to purchase it. Call in all those musical friends who you know are not under past obligations to any piano dealers or friends of dealers. Resolve you will study attentively piano tone and will be deaf, while studying, to the magnetic talk and persuasiveness of salesmen. This is the intelligent way. It's the way you planned your new home. You made a long study of it calmly, thoroughly, and you became quite an expert. You can be just as expert about pianos.

We are willing to send you free two books:

One officially entitled "The Book of Complete Information about Pianos."

YOU NEED THIS BOOK of 153 Pages handsomely bound, if you ever intend to buy a piano, no matter what make.

It tells how to test a piano and how to tell good from bad; what causes pianos to get out of order. It makes the selection of a piano easy. If read carefully it will make you an expert judge of piano tone, of action, workmanship and of durability.

It tells everything that any one can possibly want to know about pianos; gives a description of every part of the piano, how put together and all the processes of manufacture. Gives description of the new invention for aiding learners to play called THE NOTEACCORD (endorsed by Paderewski and other great pianists). It explains Agents' and Dealers' Methods and Devices.

It tells about the very first piano, the qualities of labor, the felt, ivories and woods used in every high-grade piano, and compares high qualities with the cheaper kind (used in inferior pianos). Describes what constitutes a musical-piano-tone, and in fact is a complete encyclopedia.

You need and should have THIS EDUCATIONAL BOOK to thoroughly inform you whenever CONFUSED ABOUT PIANOS.

Its scores of illustrations (all devoted to piano construction) are not only interesting but are instructive—to children as well as to adults.

You will certainly learn a great deal about pianos that you could not hear of or read ANYWHERE ELSE for it is absolutely the only book of its kind ever published. Nevertheless we send it free.

The other book is also copyrighted but is a short story named "JOHN HONEYWELL'S REASONS." The story of an average American family which was ALL CONFUSED about Pianos—it is interesting, readable and prettily illustrated—gives a little hint of a love affair which the piano helped along, as many pianos have done.

These two books cost quite a sum to produce, print, bind, illustrate and mail. Upwards of 400,000 have been issued and without a single exception have been highly commended.

SO FAR not one word about ourselves. We are and have been the manufacturers of THE FAMOUS WING PIANO for the past 50 years:

We Have Supplied Over 40,000 American Homes With

WING PIANOS

WE MAKE SPECIAL TERMS TO RAILROAD MEN

We refer to Banks, Governors of many States, and Judges; to Merchants, Conservatories of Music, Singers and Professors of Music. We have been students of vibration and of musical tone and strength of materials during all these 30 years. The first patent issued to our Mr. Wing, Senior, for improvement on pianos was in 1876, and other improvements have been invented since at the average rate of more than one yearly. These facts prove our skill and long experience, but would not be mentioned if we did not wish to show you that we know the piano subject as few others have had the opportunity; for 30 years is a long—long time for a business house to "live and learn" and constantly prosper.

Write for the books at once or fill in the coupon. Take it out and mail to us now while you think of it (and while you have the coupon). You will be under no obligations whatever.

About three years ago we presented to railroad men a leather pass and card case; the demand for them was so great that we were obliged to discontinue their free distribution.

As we continued to receive a great many requests from Railroad men for something of this kind, we decided to get up another case of much better quality, made of black calf leather.

We are offering these at less than cost to us and at about one-third of what they cost at the store.

If you want one, send us two ten-cent pieces. If you are not pleased with the book, return it and get your money back.

THE VAILOGRAPH

Is an improved vibrator weighing only 2½ ounces and is the only sending machine in the World which is applied directly to and worked by the old Morse Key.

OPERATORS

IS THIS NOT WHAT YOU HAVE BEEN WAITING FOR?

Side Motion Machines Will Soon Be a Thing of the Past.

It was thought at first the side motion was necessary for the operator who had lost his "grip," but this has all been proven wrong by the use of the "Vailograph." It is the making of the dots that gets an operator so afflicted.

THE VAILOGRAPH IS INTENDED FOR ALL OPERATORS

no matter how expert. It not only saves your arm 50 per cent of the work, preventing you from ever losing your "grip," but it turns out the most perfect Morse you ever heard. It is adjustable to slow and fast sending, works on short or long circuits; it even worked perfectly in a test on a long circuit through two sets of repeaters on a rainy day.

The Vailograph

is attached to the regular Morse key in such a way that the ordinary contact makes the dashes while one motion of the key upward will make the dots.

The key lever is normally held in an intermediate position by means of the tension of spring in the Vailograph slightly overcoming the tension of spring in key.

Don't Buy

a new sending machine before you investigate the "Vailograph."

The Vailograph attached to key.

Outfit Complete, $10.00.

Cash with order or sent by express C. O. D., on receipt of $1.00 as a guarantee of express charges.

The Vailograph's

main features are its direct contact, its vertically disposed vibrator, its simplicity, its compactness and the fact that it is operated by the standard Morse key, doing away with the necessity of learning the side motion as in the lateral vibrator.

Don't Buy

a new sending machine before you investigate the "Vailograph."

Help Save One Mother's Girl

Whose Girls go Wrong? Some mother's—perhaps living, perhaps dead—but always her's.

Why do Girls go Wrong? Sometimes through ignorance, often through ambition, oftenest through deception.

How Many Girls go Wrong? Thousands every year. Today there are fully six thousand in the seventy-one Florence Crittenton Mission Homes trying to gain courage to face a frowning world (fallen women usually get a chilling reception), and to learn some occupation which will help them to be self-supporting. This is about the average number always within the Mission's walls, and yet the faces change almost daily.

The pages of the Florence Crittenton Magazine tell of these unfortunate women and girls, their needs and what you can do to help their helpers. Not all can be Mission Workers, but all can help those who are. Though no one whom you know, or for whom you are responsible, has thus fallen by the wayside, let us urge you to open your hearts to the desperate needs of these strangers who are so needy.

This $20 Watch for $5.45

These figures tell exactly what we are doing—selling a $20.00 watch for $5.45. We don't claim that this is a $40.00 watch or a $30.00 watch, but it is a $20.00 watch. A leading watch manufacturer, being hard pressed for ready cash, recently sold us 100,000 watches—watches actually built to retail at $20.00. There is no doubt that we could wholesale these to dealers for $12.00 or $13.00, but this would involve a great amount of labor, time and expense. In the end our profit would be little more than it is at selling the watch direct to the consumer at $5.45. This Clarefax Watch, which we offer at $5.45 is a rubbed jeweled finely balanced and perfectly adjusted movement. It has specially selected jewels, dust band, patent regulator, enameled dial, jeweled compensation balance, double hunting case, genuine gold-laid and handsomely engraved. Each watch is thoroughly timed, tested and regulated before leaving the factory and both the case and movement are guaranteed for 20 years.

Send us your name, post-office address, and nearest express office and name of this paper. Tell us whether you want a ladies' or gents' watch and we will send the watch to your express office at once. If it satisfies you, after a careful examination, pay the express agent $5.45 and express charges and the watch is yours, but if it doesn't please you return it to us at our expense. A 20-Year guarantee will be placed in the front case of the watch we send you and to the first 10,000 customers we will send a beautiful gold-laid watch chain, Free. We refer to the First National Bank of Chicago, Capital $10,000,000.

World Famous Meister Piano

Only
$1⁰⁰ a Week
Less Than 15^C a Day

READ OUR PLAN!

First—we save you $150.00 at a single stroke by selling you direct from the factory and cutting out all dealers', agents, and other middlemen's, commissions, profits and expense of handling.

Then—we trust any responsible party. Send us only $10.00, and we will ship you any Meister Piano.

After that pay by the month or by the week less than you would pay as rent for a common piano.

And the "Meister" is no common piano.

"Meister" means master.

The "Meister" Piano is a master piano—the master piece of piano craft.

No other pianos have the "Meister" exclusive features. There isn't room here to describe "Meister" Pianos in detail. But—we put the whole story in our "Meister Piano Book" which we send you FREE and postpaid for the asking, if you think of getting a new piano.

The "Meister Piano Book" tells how you get an instrument perfect in every working part, from key board to sounding board, of full rich, sweet, resonant tone capacity—housed in an exquisitely finished case of either Mahogany, Walnut or Oak, in whatever finish you prefer.

The "Meister Piano Book," tells how the "Meister" Pianos are made, toned and tuned, how you save money by buying direct from the factory—and how you may pay for your piano a little at a time, as suits your convenience.

This book also tells you "How to Pick Out a Piano" and how to take care of it in your home—information worth much to the musical quality and life of any piano.

This "Meister Piano Book" also shows exactly how "Meister" Pianos look—even to the finish of their exquisite cases.

No matter who you are or where you are—what you do or what piano you think of getting—you should send for the "Meister Piano Book" before making up your mind.

You owe it to the money you have to spend for music to read this book.

You owe it to your musical education and that of your family to read this book.

You owe it to the life and voice of your piano to read this book.

Send, for it today.

Just your name and address on a post card mailed to us at once will bring you the "Meister Piano Book," promptly and fully postpaid.

Don't trust dealers who must get a living out of what they make you pay in addition to the piano maker's legitimate profits.

Don't be satisfied with a "half new" piano which has been banged about warehouses, show rooms and stores.

Send at once for the "Meister Piano Book"—buy direct from the factory, and get a new and perfect instrument backed by a ten-year guarantee.

Write for the book to-day—now. Address, Rothschild & Co., Piano Dept., 172 Chicago, Ill. Our Guarantee Bond Protects You.

BLOOD POISON

We have a Remedy unknown to the profession. We refund money if we do not cure. You can be treated at home for the same price as if you came to our office. We will give you a guaranty to cure or return money. For many years we have been curing patients in every country in the world. Our treatment is in every sense a home treatment. If you have exhausted the old methods of treatment and still have sores and pains, mucous patches in mouth, sore throat, pimples, copper-colored spots, ulcers on any parts of the body, hair or eyebrows falling out, it is this secondary blood poison we guarantee to cure. We solicit the most obstinate cases. This disease has always baffled the skill of the most eminent physicians. For many years we have made a specialty of treating this disease with our Magic Cure, and we have $600,000 capital behind our unconditional guaranty.

WE CURE QUICKLY AND PERMANENTLY

Our patients cured years ago by our great Discovery, unknown to the profession, are today sound and well, and have healthy children since we cured them.

SHORTHAND IN 30 DAYS

We absolutely guarantee to teach shorthand complete in only thirty days. You can learn in spare time in your own home, no matter where you live. No need to spend months as with old systems. Boyd's Syllable System is easy to learn—easy to write—easy to read. Simple. Practical. Speedy. Sure. No ruled lines—no positions—no shading as in other systems. No long lists of word signs to confuse. Only nine characters to learn and you have the entire English language at your absolute command.

The best system for stenographers, private secretaries, newspaper reporters and railroad men. Lawyers, ministers, teachers, physicians, literary folk and business men and women may now learn shorthand for their own use. Does not take continual daily practice as with other systems. Our graduates hold high-grade positions everywhere. Send today for booklets, testimonials, etc.

PERMANENT VICTORY

FROM

TEMPORARY DEFEAT

No. 5.

IN the first round of litigation over patents on the mechanical transmitter, the lower court has held that the MECOGRAPH transmitters No. 3 are infringements of Martin's patent. We have appealed from that decision, and confidently expect to "land on top" when the appellate court renders its decision.

The Coffe Mecograph was the first mechanical transmitter placed on the market. (By mechanical transmitter, is meant one not requiring a battery.)

The Mecograph was received with such marked favor and worked such a revolution in telegraphy that, naturally, various other mechanical transmitters sprang into existence. Our temporary defeat brought on a violent brain storm, resulting in MECOGRAPH No. 5, one in no way affected by the litigations above referred to. It eclipses everything else in the line of transmitters, even MECOGRAPH No. 3.

It is the simplest, best made, most delightful transmitter an operator ever touched.

BRAINS, SKILL AND TOOLS CAN PRODUCE NO BETTER

Try it and you will be satisfied with no other.

A Clear Track for New Model Oliver "No. 5"

The wonderful new Oliver Model "No. 5" is humming down the track of Popularity.

The clumsy, complicated, "blind" and antiquated typewriters are hugging the sidings.

"No. 5" has the right of way because it's the best machine that ever came down the line.

O. R. T. men everywhere greet the New Model "No. 5" with tremendous enthusiasm.

They like its looks and its smooth, easy-running qualities—its speed and its perfect work.

They like it because of its noiselessness—it doesn't drown the sounder.

They like its new Balance Shift, its new Disappearing Indicator, its new Ruling Device, its new Non-Vibrating Base.

They like the cut of its new Steel Coat, that keeps its working parts free from dust.

They like its Automatic Spacer, which leaves the "key" hand free.

They like its Visible Writing and its many other Time-and-Labor-Saving Features.

Thousands of "the boys" are using

The OLIVER Typewriter

You can't help liking the Oliver when you see how easy it runs and how it reels off the work.

If you are pounding away on an old-style machine, it's because you never tried the OLIVER.

You can buy a brand new, up-to-the-minute Oliver "No. 5" on little monthly payments—not a cent more than you would pay if you rented a new machine.

The Oliver is easy to pay for, easy to understand, easy to operate, easy to keep in order.

Write for the Oliver Book, and mention in your letter that you are a member of the O. R. T. Address

IMPORTANT NOTICE.

MEMBERS of the Mutual Benefit Department are again urged to pay their assessments promptly when due, in order to be in good standing at all times. During the last month three deaths have been reported of members who allowed themselves to become delinquent in the Mutual Benefit Department, shortly before their death, and in each case they left large families in very poor financial circumstances.

The attention of certificate holders is also called to the fact that no remittances can be accepted from them after the expiration of the sixty-day time limit for the payment of an assessment that has expired, unless such remittance is accompanied by an assessment slip for the first month for which they are delinquent properly signed. Where a remittance is received from a member of the Mutual Benefit Department who has allowed himself to become more than sixty days delinquent for an assessment, and where such remittance is unaccompanied by an assessment slip properly signed, such remittance will be returned to the remitter, which action is made necessary by a decision recently rendered by the Court of Appeals of Missouri, in a case wherein a beneficial society, similar to the Mutual Benefit Department, was concerned.

THE BOND QUESTION.

IN the September number of THE TELEGRAPHER, the Editor suggested that the only solution of the bond question, which has been a subject of discussion for the last fifteen years, seemed to be the formation of a bonding company, to be owned and controlled by members of the Order. In the October and November numbers, the opinions of many prominent members were given, all favoring the suggestion. Since then innumerable communications have been received from members in all sections of the country, heartily indorsing the plan, and requesting that prompt action be taken for putting it into effect.

Since then hundreds of additional communications have been received on the subject, all indorsing the proposed plan. It is not possible to publish extracts from all of these, therefore, the following expressions on the subject are taken from among those received:

By the general chairman of a large system division in Texas:

"Referring to your proposition regarding the bond question, I have read the article and given it quite a bit of thought, and am free to say that I indorse the plan fully, as presented, and have no suggestions of any consequence to offer as an improvement on the plan outlined by you. I will take some stock and believe nearly all our members will do likewise. The telegraphers certainly need some relief in this direction, and I can not but believe that they will be eager to hasten its organization, and the opening of the company for business."

By another prominent general chairman in the South:

"At several meetings, held on the system at different places, it has been unanimously voted in favor of handling the bond question as outlined in your article in the journal. There can be a good many shares placed along this line."

By Cert. 874, Div. 2:

"Believe that the bond proposition, which you suggested in the September TELEGRAPHER, is another fine thing, and is one which I will support. Hope to see the voting blank in an early issue of our dear book."

By Cert. 373, Div. 8:

"The plan proposed in the September TELEGRAPHER for forming a bonding company is a first-class one, and should also prove a first-class investment. There should be no trouble in getting members to subscribe for the stock."

By Cert. 153, Div. 21:

"Regarding the bond question, discussed in the last few issues of our journal, I think this would be a very fine thing to get started, and as soon as you can get it started I will take my share of stock."

By Cert. 1162, Div. 23:

"We should have a bond company of our own. An O. R. T. bond company would be just as safe for the railroad and express companies, and would be a great deal better for us. When we pay for a bond we should, at least, have a right to pick out the one we want."

By Cert. 1005, Div. 31:

"With reference to the bond question, the plan, as outlined by yourself, is heartily indorsed by me, and should be by the entire membership. Depend on me as one who will subscribe for at least ten shares."

By Cert. 804, Div. 31:

"I note the items in the journal about the bond question, and wish to say that I am very much in favor of the O. R. T. organizing a bond company of its own, and will take as much stock in the company as will be allowed one party."

By Cert. 1766, Div. 31:

"The suggestions made by the Editor in these columns in the September issue, I believe to be the only solution of the bond question. Wake up, boys, and let's organize a bond company of our own. I will take two shares of stock, and more if necessary. Let's talk less and do more."

By Cert. 343, Div. 32:

"I also wish to add that I heartily indorse the plan for our own bond company, and will be glad to take a share or two, and more if necessary, if the plan is carried out. There has been two of our boys let out at this point in the past year on account of their bonds being cancelled, and neither of them are able to learn why they were cancelled. It seems the surety companies of today are prosperous, and I can see no reason why we can not organize a company, and let the premium pay the expenses, and a neat dividend to all who hold shares. All of the boys are in favor of doing this, and I believe a vote should be taken."

By Cert. 51, Div. 34:

"I am heartily in favor of forming a bond company in our Order, and will do all I can to support it."

By Cert. 759, Div. 40:

"Regarding the proposed bond company, advocated largely by the membership, I am heartily in favor of such a movement, and will subscribe as largely as my means will permit, and equal to any other member. I think, like the M. B. D. Department, it should be a distinct entity, yet an integral part of the Order. The capital should and could easily be $1,000,000, paid up, which could pay a fair dividend. I wish the present movement all success."

By Cert. 760, Div. 40:

"Hurrah for the bond question. Keep it going. We must have some relief on this question, and I, for one, am willing to do anything to help bring about this relief. I have been talking on this subject to every member I have met, and they are all in favor of it."

By Cert. 1556, Div. 53:

"Having read the article in the September number, regarding the organization of a bond company for the mutual protection of members of the O. R. T., I wish to state that I left the telegraph service six months ago because of discrimination of a tyrannical bond company, and I heartily indorse your plan. I will do all I can in this section to stimulate interest in the coming vote, and will want some of the stock, when issued. I believe this to be a step in the right direction (only delayed too long), and it will, undoubtedly, eliminate a goodly portion of the craft called 'boomers.'"

By Certs. 1810 and 1994, Div. 53, and Cert. 1039, Div. 54:

"Please consider us as hearty advocates of the proposition on the bond question. It should be voted upon as soon as possible, that our decision may be made, and action had by March, 1908."

By Cert. 2183, Div. 53:

"I am in favor of forming a bond company for members of our Order, on the basis of line in the September TELEGRAPHER. While I am not in need of this myself, yet I think it excellent for other brothers, who have suffered unjust treatment, and I will be glad to take a number of shares, and do all I can to support such a move. Am in favor of making the capital more than $250,000; anything up to a million."

By Cert. 1670, Div. 59:

"I wish to say that I am heartily in favor of an O. R. T. bond company, and will take $50 to $100 worth of the stock, if it is organized."

By Cert. 280, Div. 76:

"I wish to put my vote in in favor of the bond company."

By Cert. 835, Div. 76:

"Referring to the bond question now being so thoroughly discussed in THE TELEGRAPHER, I heartily approve of the Order organizing one, as described in the September issue, and try to eliminate the present black-listing system."

By Cert. 1452, Div. 76:

"I think your idea of organizing a bond company is a good one, and think it should be done at once, and then not stop until we have an O. R. T. bank, and also a telegraphers' telegraph company, but, first of all, finish the bond company, and then take up the next most important one, and carry it through, and then go back and get another; in this way, with the co-operation of all members, we could soon be the strongest union in existence."

By Certs. 6 and 90, Div. 80:

"Referring to the bond question, we are in favor of the Order of Railroad Telegraphers having a bond company of their own."

By Cert. 2097, Div. 93:

"Having read your article in regard to the bond question in the October journal, can say, I heartily indorse your plan, and will take fifteen or twenty shares, and am in favor of bonding only members of the Order. Anything I can do to help this along will most gladly do it."

By Cert. 13, Div. 97:

"I am with you on the bond question, and will take at least one share of stock."

By Cert. 22, Div. 111:

"I have read with considerable interest the articles on the bond question, and I favor your plan entirely. By all means put it up to the members, in the shape of a vote, and then get down to organization. My theory would be to operate it from St. Louis general offices, same as the Insurance Department is. Once get it incorporated, and our Order becomes invincible. Let's have it, Bro. Quick, and I speak for five or ten shares. Limit the shareholders to members of the O. R. T."

By Cert. 8, Div. 121:

"Would just like to say that I consider your bond plan O. K., and you can count on me, if the plan is adopted, for a few shares. It's a good thing, push it along."

By Certs. 129, 599 and 751, Div. 6:

"We want an O. R. T. bond company, an eight-hour day, and a general increase of at least 10 per cent."

By Cert. 1930, Div. 130:

"I think the plan, as outlined by you on the bond question, a good one. I can see no reason why this should not be a success in every way, and it would aid materially in strengthening the organization. I hope you will be able to put the matter through."

By Cert. 60, Div. 137:

"In regard to the bond question, I wish to say that I am heartily in favor of it, and will guarantee to invest $20 at the start and more later, if necessary."

By Cert. 631, Div. 138:

"I am in favor of Bro. Quick's bond plan, and see no reason why all members should not join in such a plan. I would be in favor of bonding only O. R. T. members in good standing."

By Cert. 2069, Grand Division:

"I am heartily in favor of the bond plan, as outlined by you in September issue of THE TELEGRAPHER:

By Cert. 3899, Grand Division:

"When the subscription list is ready in January, I will take ten shares, and, more than likely, will take twenty shares. If the ones that are able will take more than one share, this will make up for the ones who do not take any. I expect to get some large subscribers by the time it comes to a test, so as to do some good. I have never had my bond questioned, and hope I never will, but I believe this a great thing for our Order, and it will settle one thing that has been talked of a long time. I feel that if we will all go to work, and do our part, we will have no trouble in raising plenty of money to back it up."

By Cert. 4819, Grand Division:

"About the bond question, would like to say that I am very much in favor of an O. R. T. bond company for the purpose of bonding O. R. T. men only, and also for the stock to be held by O. R. T. men only."

By Cert. 3415, Grand Division:

"I have read the various articles on the bond question, and want to say that I believe the O. R. T. should have a bond company."

From communications received from other than members, it would seem that interest is being taken in this matter by other than telegraphers. An Editor of a prominent periodical, in a communication to the Editor of THE TELEGRAPHER, made the following reference to this subject:

"That bond proposition is splendid."

In the January number of THE TELEGRAPHER will be published a comprehensive plan of what is necessary in order to organize the proposed company, and in the same issue will be published a blank, in order that the members may take action on this proposition.

THE AMERICAN FEDERATION OF LABOR CONVENTION.

THE twenty-seventh annual convention of the American Federation of Labor, that great federation of labor organizations, was called to order at 11 a. m. Monday, November 11th, in the Auditorium of the Jamestown Exposition, Norfolk, Virginia, with 356 delegates present, representing 86 international and national unions, 29 State branches, 933 central bodies, 26 local trade and federal unions, and 5 fraternal delegates, with President Gompers in the chair.

Several addresses of welcome were delivered by prominent speakers, among others being that of Hon. Claude A. Swanson, Governor of Virginia, who delivered a most interesting and instructive address. He spoke as follows:

"Mr. President and members of the American Federation of Labor, Ladies and Gentlemen—I feel highly complimented in being allowed the privilege and honor of addressing such an assemblage as this. Now, you have been welcomed by everybody in Virginia, the mayors, the laboring man, the capitalists, but I extend to you a warm, loving welcome on behalf of the great toiling masses of Virginia, who are glad to see you here in our midst. Before I welcome you as an organization, I want to welcome your distinguished officers to Virginia, for I feel a pride in having your president and your splendid secretary here in this State. I was in Congress for years, and I wish to pay this tribute to these two splendid officials of the American Federation of Labor. They have been patriotic, unselfish, and have served the organization actively and untiringly. I am glad to have this opportunity as a member of Congress to pay this tribute to them, and also as Governor of Virginia, to say they have been to see me whenever labor had any rights to be maintained or wrongs to be redressed in this State. I could not have any peace, I was chased up and down, from committee room to lobby by your president and secretary, if a bill affecting labor was pending—and they always got me.

"I also want to extend a cordial welcome to this splendid organization. If there is any body of people that has done a great deal for the uplifting of America, for the building of American institutions, for the honor and credit of America abroad and at home, it is the American Federation of Labor. I pass down the streets of a city every day, and I see beautiful, glad some little girls going to school. When I look at them I think of the homes they will some day preside over, of the future Americans who will cluster around them, and realize that the fact that they are going to school, instead of working in factories is due to the American Federation of Labor. (Applause.)

When I pass one of those sweet little flax-haired girls I give a tribute of gratitude and approval to the institution that brought these great blessings to her, and to America, and to humanity. I go to the laboring man's home—and I have been there, I am one of them—when I go to that home and find comforts, when I find leisure on the part of the man to talk to his family, and keep in touch with his children, when I find the hours of labor are limited so that he can get some pleasure in life, I give the credit to this great organization. Indeed, I go further, I think of the great future of this country, the home of the greatest race the world has even seen, the amalgamation of all the victorious white races met here. The Anglo-Saxon, the Scotch, the Jew, the Irish, the Dutch, all are met here and blended into one great race, the American, the greatest and noblest race of all time, that holds in its hand the destinies of the world. The races we descended from were great races. I know the organization and the people, who have stood as a barrier against the greed of capital, and refused to have an infusion of Oriental blood in America, are right. You have built, not only for yourselves, not only because you did not want competition in labor, but you have been broad enough to build America for future generations. Surely an organization that could do this, an organization that is broad enough, and patriotic enough to build American institutions, not for the day, but for the future, is entitled to a cordial, warm, loving welcome at the birth-day party given for the celebration of the foundation of this great nation. I extend to you the high seat in the synagogue here today. Take possession of it.

"There has been a great deal of complaint about the demands of labor. I was in Congress for many years, and I have been Governor of Virginia for two years, and it has been very rarely that they have come to me with demands that were not just. Sometimes they have; for I have had laboring men come to me with demands that were not just, not the organizations, but the members, and I have had the courage to refuse them when they were not right; but nine times out of ten when the organizations made demands they were just.

"My friends, what makes America great? It is not the vast fortunes piled up here and there; it is not the great millionaires, not the great statesmen, speakers and soldiers; it is the myriad of happy homes dotting the hills and valleys, whose inmates are blessed with refinement and education. They are greater than all the armies and navies, and splendors, and wealth of the world. And America is builded that way. The settlement here at Jamestown three centuries ago, marked the beginning of a great social revolution. Up to that time, caste, the privileged classes, and the aristocracy ruled the world. Labor was servile, and to admit you were a laboring man was to admit you were a slave of some feudal lord, some king or some aristocrat. But in the forests of America, humanity made for itself a new existence. Privilege, caste, aristocracy had no power in the wilderness. What was needed was ability to fight savages, to build homes, and construct bridges and roads, courage and achievement became the password of success. The idle and listless drone, however high his station or blue his blood, had no place in the forests of America, and disappeared. Enterprise, labor, achievement, gave dignity to manhood, and every city and commonwealth in America has been built upon it.

"This great social revolution in America has circumnavigated the globe. It has gone to Great Britain, and the great power in that country today is not the aristocracy, but the working class. It regenerated France, and brought life and liberty and change to an oppressed and down-trodden people. It emancipated the serfs of Russia. This great doctrine of what a man is, not what his father was, emanated from America; it was founded here at Jamestown, and has circumnavigated the globe, and is the harbinger of great revolutions yet to come for the relief for down-trodden humanity. Here was first taught to humanity the dignity of labor, and he has today more honor, more power, and more profit than the listless dude who does nothing but spend the accumulations of a father or former ancestor. And we will cling to these ideals. We do not want fortunes in America piled up like snow in a storm.

When I was a country boy I used to go out and see the snow piled up in great heaps by the wind, while out in the fields were spaces bare and without snow. America does not want such conditions. We want the great accumulations of wealth in America justly and fairly distributed between labor and the employers of labor. You can not get rich by legislation. You can take a sorry, trifling member of the American Federation of Labor, let him sit here in Norfolk on a dry goods box and chew tobacco and spit, and Abraham Lincoln might be President, all the statesmen the world might ever furnish could control the destinies of this nation, and that man will have nothing to eat at home, and nobody to credit him. Labor must produce wealth; there is no wealth except that produced by labor. Governments can not create wealth, but they can distribute it when once created. I am not going to make a political speech, don't be uneasy.

"What is honest government? Honest government is one that will take the toil and sweat of one man, and let it stay in the pockets of the man that produced the wealth. Dishonest government is the one that will take the sweat and toil of one man and put it into the pockets of another; that will take the earnings of labor, and put it into the pockets of the man who did not produce it. Edmund Burke, one of the greatest statesmen that ever lived, said that when a bill came before him his first question was whether it left the wealth stay in the pocket of the man who produced it. An honest public man is a public man who will not unite with the laboring man to rob a rich man, or assist the rich man by any system of legislation to rob the laboring man. This is the great principle that should animate this organization. Work for the nation, work for the flag, and when you do that you will work for yourselves, because the great glory of America is inseparably wound up in the government. As long as the masses of the people are honest, as long as they can have sweet homes, unmortgaged, as long as they can spend hours with their children, and in educating themselves, the future of America is assured, and her past glories are but a prelude to greater power, greater glory, and greater achievement.

"We have made a wonderful progress in three centuries. The settlement of Virginia was peculiar. Among the 107 men who came here were three bricklayers, three carpenters and one barber. The rest of them were gentlemen who never did any work. The greatest man who ever lived at that time was John Smith, and he said to these gentlemen, "No work, no food," and the sons of these dukes and lords went out and cut down trees, and soon began to vie with one another to see who could cut down the most. He taught these men of gentle blood the lesson that labor gives dignity, that labor gives position. This principle was established here three centuries ago, and it has been the principle of the country ever since; by the sweat of your brow shall you earn your bread.

"The pioneer, as he advanced across the continent, constructed with his log cabin the log church, and the log school house. We give more money today for schools, we have education more generally diffused than any country in the world, and we propose that this great system of education shall continue to be invigorated and strengthened until there is not a child in the country who has not the blessing of a splendid education.

"Whether by a laboring man or a public man, whether in the higher walks of life or the humbler ones, let us be true to our calling and our country; let us feel as our fathers felt, that public honor is private honor, that public disgrace is private disgrace, that public success is private success. Let us put that principle above money, and carry this great country to that goal which God and opportunity has pointed out to us. (Applause.)"

Among the other speakers was Hon. H. St. George Tucker, President of the Jamestown Exposition, who spoke, in part, as follows:

"Mr. President and Brothers of the American Federation of Labor:—It gives me great pleasure as President of the Jamestown Exposition, to welcome to its gates your great body. All expositions should have some great distinctive object in view. Our Exposition has been chiefly historical; but we have sought to emphasize certain things in the building and running of this exposition to be signalized as different from anything else that has occurred in the country. We count ourselves happy in having in the celebration of the Jamestown Exposition signalized one great fact, that it is the only exposition ever built in America by union labor. We have demonstrated to the world that capital and labor can work harmoniously together.

"I take special pride in the position which I occupy in this Exposition in being able to point to the world the one great achievement made on the soil of Old Virginia—the unity of capital and labor in this great undertaking. You know Old Virginia is always first in everything. She is like the Irishman, first at a frolic, a fight or a funeral. Mighty good qualities. We fight sometimes down here when some people think we ought not to fight, and we are sometimes called rebels. Some people don't like the word rebel—I like it. The man or the people that has not the starch to rebel against wrong or oppression is unworthy of freedom.

"My simple province is to bid you welcome. I want you to see this Exposition. It has had a great deal of knocking besides what the carpenters have put on it; it has had a great deal of hammering besides what has been done on these anvils; but I want you to go and look at it, to go through the beautiful walks and buildings, and then when you leave these grounds, say whether or not this Exposition is not worthy of the great event which it celebrates, worthy of our great people and worthy of Old Virginia. Some people ask me whether we are going to pay out, and say: 'Your Exposition is not a success, is it? You are not going to pay out.' Some people have an idea that you can not have anything that is a success unless there is a little money in. Did you ever hear anybody ask the question whether Abraham Lincoln died rich or poor?

"I bid you God-speed in your work. I trust your session may be a pleasant and a profitable one, and that when you leave these shores you will say it was good for us to have met together in Jamestown in that Exposition builded by union labor and carried through without controversy by them."

President Gompers, on behalf of the convention, responded to the various addresses of welcome. He spoke, in part, as follows:

"I am sure that no one could have been within hearing distance of the magnificent addresses that have been delivered to us this morning without being impressed so deeply by them as to make that impression last so long as life shall remain. And for a moment I was transported back a third of a century, and it seemed to me I could see again the doors of decent society closed against the men who had the intelligence and the courage to face antagonism, bitterness and prejudice, the men who had the courage to associate themselves with the few in the labor movement who proclaimed the rights of labor, and who pledged themselves and their lives to the task of trying to bring about the knowledge and conception among the toilers of our country that unity was essential to their common uplift. (Applause.) In those days, to speak in the language of today, the men who spoke of united labor were regarded as having had a 'brainstorm.' Passing through the years since, aye, and looking farther back into the days when men not only had their foreheads branded with red-hot irons to designate their contumacy against their masters but to the jails and to the gibbets, we find ourselves here in grand Old Virginia today with a transformation that has not only honored labor but in return honors the intelligence of the men who have come here and welcomed us in their presence and in their speech. No man can speak of that wonderful progress without feeling some exultation that the day of real freedom is near at hand, or that its coming events are casting their shadows before or that there is a ray of sunlight that is peering into the homes and lives of the working people of our country and of our time the world over and that justice and liberty in their truest and best acceptance will reign among the people of the earth.

"I am always proud to be in Virginia; its history is so interesting, its influence is so great, and its men have done so much. They have coined language that has had a magical effect upon the destinies of mankind. No man can read with unmoved emotions the declaration of the immortal Patrick Henry, who preferred, in the last analysis, death rather than the loss of freedom. (Applause.) No man can read the declarations of Thomas Jefferson without feeling that he lived for his fellowmen. No man can read and study and think over the wonderful declarations made in the three conventions in which was done the foundation work for the principles enunciated in that famous document, the Declaration of Independence. We know Virginia as the mother of presidents, the mother of statesmen, and the mother of States. Virginia has given us glorious men and glorious people, and when the time came for a contest for that which her people believed to be right, no matter how much we may differ with them as to the merits of it, no one will dispute either the mental capacity or the physical courage of any of them. (Applause.) And I venture this prediction, that when any grave crisis shall arise in the affairs of our country or our people, Virginia will make good her quota of all that may be essential to the progress or the protection of our rights. And I want to say that this does not apply to Virginia alone, nor are my words intended to be flattery; they are simply a far just estimation of the make-up of Virginia's people, but apply also to all our people.

"Now a word in reference to this great Exposition. I very well remember one of the earliest expositions of the whole world, somewhere in the neighborhood of 1860, held in England. Workingmen were permitted to go to that exposition occasionally, and workingmen's children were allowed to go semi-occasionally. I remember the growth of the several expositions held in various places, and they show a continued and marked progress. In one place I saw an exposition being arranged in which contract convict labor entered, and because I criticized that I do not think my stay in the town was prolonged with the consent or encouragement of those who were in charge of the management of the exposition. We saw a large measure of recognition in the exposition in Chicago, a little better recognition in San Francisco, in Omaha, in Buffalo, in St. Louis, but it remained for the great Jamestown Exposition management to have all this grand work of genius that existed in the minds of the projectors transformed into actualities by the brain and brawn of American organized labor. (Applause.) And it was the great concern, both of the management of the Exposition and of organized labor, that there should not occur one hitch on which opponents and critics might find a peg on which to hang their criticism. You may go through the grounds and view the buildings from the exterior and the interior, and you will see that they are so artistically constructed as to make a deep impression upon the minds of all who visit the Exposition. They are a credit to everyone who had anything to do with their designing and construction, and the pity of it all is that the Exposition will soon have to be closed, perhaps not to be reopened.

"Today the only people; if there be any, deprived of any rights; the only people, if there be any, upon whom tyranny and wrong and injustice are imposed, are the men and women of labor. It is the last estate in the development of human progress upon which injustice will be practiced. But we have made great progress, and we propose to make still more. If ever a movement has been established whose influence extends far beyond its own membership, that movement is the much-abused organized labor movement, for it consists of such elements that its members can not do anything for themselves that has not a corresponding influence upon every other working man, particularly, and generally upon all the people. I know of no organization that make so little pretense of patriotism, but in which true patriotism prevails to such a large extent as in organized labor. We want peace; we love peace and we are working for peace, and in the proportion our working people are better organized, in that degree will we secure peace. But we are not supine, we are not driveling cyco-phants; we know our rights—or we think we do, and that is just as good—and we are going to stand for them.

"I believe that industrial peace is essential to our progress, almost as essential as is air to lung-breathing animals; but the time is passed when the possessors of wealth, the employers of labor who consider themselves masters, can look down upon the laboring man who stoops with bent shoulders and accepts the order of the master. Labor today stands erect looking the whole world in the face, insisting upon equal treatment and equal opportunity, and resents any attempt at injustice or wrong."

President Gompers rendered a very exhaustive report to the convention, touching generally upon the various matters of importance now before the laboring world, in his usual able manner.

The following is taken from his report:

"Fellow Trade Unionists: In obedience to the requirements of our laws, I submit to you a report upon some of the more important matters which have transpired since our last convention. In it occurs such suggestions and recommendations which, to my mind, should receive your earnest consideration and action. Of course, you will appreciate the fact that it is impossible in an annual report, such as this, to deal with the multifarious questions which have transpired, and the action taken thereon during the entire year. In the preparation of the tentative report for the consideration of the Executive Council, I have endeavored to have it include the more detailed transactions in connection with our movements for the past year. Nor therein is it possible to enumerate, much less comprehensively report, upon the thousand and one matters of importance, perhaps of equal importance, to those incorporated in the report. Indeed, though in these reports, and in the American Federationist, I endeavor to publish much of the thought, and many of the transactions in connection with our real movement, the real history exists in the archives of our offices, and in the memories of men. It awaits the coming of the man who will record and interpret for all time the great struggles made, the prejudice, the ignorance, the bigotry, the selfishness with which labor has had to contend, and the antagonism of greed which has been overcome; the glorious achievements which have dispelled the gloom, and brought the light of life into the homes of the toilers, and the spirit of self-reliance, unity and fraternity which our movement has engendered.

"When the true historian shall present to the world the great struggles of the past and of the present; when the tinsel and false coloring shall have been removed from the real figures and events, there will be revealed to mankind's astonished gaze the continuous struggle of labor against tyranny, brutality and injustice; the struggle for the right, for humanity, for progress, and for civilization. The trade unions and the Federation of our time are in their very essence the continuity of the historically developed progress of labor through the ages.

"We, who are engaged in the battle of labor to secure its rights, and to achieve justice for all our people, are, in the very nature of things, too much engrossed in the performance of constantly pressing duty to be enabled to write its story.

"We meet here on this historic ground, where three hundred years ago the first permanent settlement of the English-speaking people was made. It was an event portentous in its world-wide influence upon progress and civilization. It has a magnificent lesson for the men of labor. The trials and tribulations of the early colonists, and the difficulties with which they had to contend, put their endurance and forbearance to the severest tests. That they established a new order of society, maintaining the largest amount of individual sovereignty consistent with interdependence and mutuality, should prove an inspiration to us to struggle on tenaciously to achieve the high and ennobling aspirations of labor. From these colonists have come the men who, with immortal inspiration, gave to the world the doctrines and principles, not only of a new and independent nation, but of the inherent and inalienable rights of man.

"We meet on this historic ground, representing the best general federated labor movement in the world, a movement founded upon the highest principles of justice, right and humanity; a movement which has for its mission, not only the uplifting of the submerged, but the attainment of a higher and better life for all; a movement which aims to make the principles of the Golden Rule, and of the Declaration of Independence the rule of conduct of our every-day lives.

"It is a privilege to be permitted on this ground, made sacred by such historic events, and at this time, commemorative of them all, to meet in the highest councils of labor; to devise ways and means whereby we may still further be of service to our fellows, now and for the future.

"To this convention, representatives of America's toilers, permit me to extend to you a sincere and hearty welcome. The eyes of our fellow-workers and friends are directed toward our deliberations and actions. The labor movement of our country represents, not only those who have by membership declared their comradeship with us, but also the millions who, by force of circumstance, momentarily yield their advantage of organization and fraternity, and yet who yearn, hope and pray that our legislation may be wise and fruitful; that its influence and power may reach and protect them, so that they may become brothers and sisters in the great fraternity of labor.

"It may not be amiss to bear in mind that of all those who will have their attention directed to this convention, none will be more keen and alert than those who are either our open or covert antagonists. The so-called National Association of Manufacturers and industrial alliances, and industrial workers, with their Pinkerton agencies, their legal lynxes and hirelings, are always on the qui vive, and crouching to take advantage of, and leap upon labor for any mistake which it may make. They will distort, misrepresent and exaggerate it, not only to the general public, but to our own fellow-workers, to prejudice both against us, our movement, and our cause. That our course, our conduct, and our work may disappoint and confound them, and bring enlightenment and encouragement to our fellows and our friends, is my most earnest wish.

"AFFILIATED ORGANIZATIONS EXTENDING—THE LAW OF GROWTH.

"During the last fiscal year we issued from the office of the American Federation of Labor 373 charters, as follows:

International unions	3
State federations	1
City central bodies.....	72
Local trade unions.....	204
Federal labor unions.....	93
Total	373

"We have now affiliated to the American Federation of Labor the following:

International unions	117
State federations	37
City central bodies.....	574
Local trade and Federal labor unions..	661

"The international unions are made up of, approximately, 28,500 local unions.

"Of course, it is known that the American Federation of Labor issues charters to such local unions only of which there is no international union of the trade, or calling, in existence. It must also be borne in mind that when local unions are organized for which there is even a remote kindredship to an existing international union, that applications to us for charters are denied, and turned over to the international union having the clearest jurisdiction. It is of greater importance to add to the strength of an international union than to have local unions directly affiliated to the American Federation of Labor.

"The secretaries of 112 international unions report that they have issued from their respective organizations charters to 2,948 newly-organized unions during the past year. There has been an increase in the membership in the organizations comprising our Federation of 188,373, during the same period. This leaves entirely out of account the forty thousand members of the brewery workers, formerly affiliated to our Federation.

"Our State federations, and particularly our city central bodies, have increased in numbers, power and influence. They all have helped in the fullest in carrying on the great work of organizing and aiding in the common uplift of our people. Upon them we must largely depend in enforcing the decisions and policies declared by the conventions of the American Federation of Labor. It is with pleasurable pride that it can be stated to their credit that now more than ever exist closer fraternal relations, and more loyal support to the principles and purposes for which our great movement stands.

"And of the local unions of affiliated international unions, and those directly attached to our Federation, let me say that there is clearly manifest the spirit of fraternity and solidarity; the faithful effort, not only to initiate, but to carry to its fulfillment the work for the material, moral, political, and social improvement of the toilers, and of our people. The great rank and file of organized labor, in all its ramifications, are earnestly engaged in the movement to bring betterments and light into, not only their own homes, but into the homes and lives of all. In the tremendous work for progress, brotherhood and civilization, in which our entire movement is engaged, none appreciates more than do I the great debt of gratitude we owe to the rank and file of the local unions. In the last analysis, it must be realized that upon the membership of the local unions rests the responsibility for the success and perpetuity of our movement.

"For about a year previous, and until the early part of 1907, there was a slight reaction from the growth of our movement. This is clearly shown in the reports made to the Minneapolis Convention and the voting strength of the organizations affiliated. From reference to the increased membership and voting strength this year it will be seen that there has been a decided gain in organizations and membership, clearly demonstrating that our movement has recovered, and is again moving onward and forward for the more thorough organization of our fellow-workers.

"In connection with this it may be well to call attention to the fact that there is a natural law of growth in the labor movement, a law that is not generally understood. When there is a falling off of membership, no matter how slight, our opponents point to it with satisfaction as an indication of disintegration or dissolution of the labor movement. The unthinking in our own ranks view it with alarm. The fact of the matter is that any temporary falling off in membership is due largely to the failure on the part of those organizations to adopt the means by which the members' best interests are safeguarded. After all, a better intelligence and a revived spirit of workmen soon demonstrate the necessity of organization to protect their best interests, and they soon return to their Alma Mater of the labor movement, the trade union. With this revived spirit the enthusiasm penetrates into the ranks of the unorganized, and these, together with the trend of events in industry and labor conditions, have their compelling force upon the minds of the wage-earners, who in constantly larger numbers join the ranks of the grand army of organized labor, to make common cause for the protection and advancement of all the wage-earners.

"Let pessimists and opponents take unction to their souls for their mastership of the past. The present and the future are for labor, which in its organized, federated movement will stand as a protest against injustice and wrong toward any of our fellow-men, as the vanguard to proclaim and achieve the rights to which the toilers, the masses, are entitled.

"NO WAGE REDUCTIONS.

"In my reports to conventions, beginning at Boston, I felt it incumbent upon me to press home upon the attention of labor the economic unsoundness of the old school of political economists who advocated the assent of workmen to wage reductions as a means to what they were pleased to term the way out of an industrial reaction or crisis. Not alone in our conventions, but in the gatherings of labor generally, 'No reduction in wages' has been made the slogan and watchword. That policy has had its beneficent influence, not only upon labor but upon all industry. It has been heard and heeded; at no time has it had greater justification and demonstration of its effectiveness than during recent months.

"Not in the history of all our country has there been what has been termed a shrinkage of values so great as within a few months past. The shrinkage occurred not upon actual, tangible values, but upon inflated or watered stocks which in the financial vernacular are termed 'values.' In former periods, when shrinkage of inflated values transpired, its general influence upon industry was almost immediately to affect the real values of production, which in turn were forced upon the toilers in the form of reductions of wages, bringing in their wake an industrial crisis and panic.

"It is due to the determined and clean-cut policy of labor of our country that our princes of finance, despite their machinations, could not influence employers of labor to hazard an attempt at wage reductions. If all labor will unfalteringly adhere to the determination to resist any and all reductions in wages, we shall not only avoid the misery, poverty and calamity of the past, but we shall teach financiers, employers and economists in general a new philosophy of life and industry, the magnificent and humane influences of which will live for all time.

"To achieve success we must more thoroughly organize, unite and federate our fellow-workers. We must establish more fully faith in ourselves and confidence in each other, stand shoulder to shoulder amidst stress or strife, make fraternity the principle of our every-day lives, and impress upon our fellow-workers the necessity of helping to bear each other's burdens.

"In our organized effort we should endeavor to maintain industrial peace by trade agreements with employers. These agreements, written or verbal, should be faithfully kept. We should use our best influences and judgment to avoid industrial conflicts wherever possible, and under any and all circumstances to resist to the uttermost every attempt to reduce wages.

"With a view that all may have the opportunity of understanding clearly the soundness of our position, a restatement of it here may not be out of place. I can not express it better than by quoting part of my report upon the subject to the last convention and referring you to my previous reports:

"In this world of ours, and especially in our own country, with the wonderful fertility and extent of our land, the magnificent ingenuity of our people, and particularly the tremendous energy and industry of our workers, there should not be any workers who are workless.

"Some have taken unction to their souls and loudly proclaimed that they are the cause for the better general conditions of employment of the working people of our country. Without discussing the hypothesis upon which they base these claims, we assert and emphatically reaffirm that whatever improvement in a material, moral, social, and political way has come to the toiling masses of America, is due to their own efforts in their more thorough organization, their higher intelligence and their positive determination to aid and stand by each other in the contention and struggles for the common uplift.

"It was but a few years ago when the working people of our country were confronted with a condition similar to that which was previously repeatedly presented to the toilers in similar situations. Had we acquiesced or consented to the policy presented to us by the representatives of the captains of industry, we would have experienced all the poverty, misery and suffering incident to lack of employment, and a constantly decreasing opportunity for employment resultant from reductions in wages, one following close upon the other.

"It is due to the firm and unequivocal declaration of America's organized workers, and their positive repetition since, that wage reductions will be resisted to the uttermost, that we have averted the usual industrial crisis and emerged from it with a greater industrial and commercial activity than ever before.

"In several countries the people are confronted with the great problem of an immense number of unemployed workers. In some form or other they are endeavoring to ascertain the cause and to find a means to assuage it. Often in the history of our own country have our people been confronted with the same problem.

"If we adhere firmly to the policy, establish and maintain it as a fixed principle in the industrial affairs of America, that at any and all hazards we will resist any attempt at wage reductions, we shall establish not only a new economic principle, but a new philosophy by which industrial panics and crises will be obliterated, and we shall set an example for the whole world to follow.

"A reduction in wages compels retrenchment in the household economy of the workingmen affected. In other words, it curtails their consuming power which necessarily results in the discharge from employment of those workers who were formerly employed in the production of the very articles theretofore used and consumed. Then follow reductions in wages, resulting as in the first instance; and this process of wage reductions, of retrenchment in household economies, of more discharges from employment ensues, bringing in its wake poverty, misery and suffering, stagnation and an industrial panic, until the lowest ebb is reached and a turn in the industrial tide begins.

"There is neither economy nor wisdom, judgment nor humanity, in such misconduct and misconception of industrial affairs or duties. And if, perchance, our captains of industry fail to profit by the lessons and experience of the past, then at least the wage-earners of America will teach the lesson from which the human family will reap untold blessings.

"It is not presumed that all of labor's contentions and struggles can result in immediate victory; yet none can dispute that every justified battle undertaken by labor has been fraught with advantage, and that particularly every defensive struggle of labor's rights has had a potent influence to check deterioration in the condition of the workers.

"Employers will hesitate long before inaugurating an industrial struggle when they are conscious of the fact that the toiling masses will defend any encroachment upon their standard of life against their being forced back from the position they now occupy in civilization.

"If labor shall resist all attempts at reduction in wages, some battles may be lost; but these would be reduced to a minimum in the same degree as it is clearly understood that it is our firm resolve that we will rather resist and lose than not to resist at all.

"At present we are confronted with no immediate danger or threat that the employers of labor contemplate reductions in wages. There is not now even an excuse for such a course. It therefore all the more commends itself to our judgment that during this year of comparative industrial tranquility and more general employment of our people, that we write on our banners, beside the watchwords and slogans which have carried the toilers along the road of progress to victory, that which for ages has been the missing word in our social progress: 'No reduction in wages for American labor; we will resist to the uttermost.'

"The American workmen in return for their services to society demand a living wage, a constantly growing minimum living wage. They demand a wage which shall be sufficient to maintain them and those dependent upon them in a manner consistent with their responsibilities as husbands, fathers, men and citizens. Labor demands such a living wage as shall make secure the opportunity for a more perfect physical and mental health and growth as required by rational, self-respecting human beings who aspire for themselves and for all humanity to a higher, a better and a nobler life.

"We, therefore, demand from modern society a constantly increasing and larger reward as the result of our labor and our services to our fellows. This effort must not be retarded by the machinations of financiers or the shortsightedness and greed of industrial captains. Labor demands in the interests of humanity that wages shall not be reduced or the American standard of life deteriorated.

"RAISE FUNDS—PERPETUATE UNIONISM.

"Again, I feel it my duty to impress upon all our unions the importance of providing themselves with funds that shall stand them in good stead in time of necessity, to provide their members with the means to sustain themselves and their families not only during strikes and lockouts but also to constantly attain a greater measure of justice and right for labor without the necessity of either strikes or lockouts.

"There is no factor so potent to secure the just demands of labor as a well-organized union with a goodly treasury.

"In the endeavor to secure the just demands of labor without a strike a sense of justice on the part of employers can not be compared to a well-organized body of workmen with a well-filled treasury, nor is there so potent an influence or power to prevent a lockout as labor intelligently and compactly organized and prepared to defend its rights.

"Experience has demonstrated beyond peradventure of a doubt that though some workmen thoroughly imbued with the determination to manfully uphold the rights of themselves and their fellow-workmen will endure the severest trials of poverty and hunger rather than sacrifice the principles for which they stand, the spirit and independence of the mass of men succumb when the gaunt figure of hunger stalks across their threshold. If we hope and expect that men shall assert and maintain their spirit of right and their interests we must have the foresight so to conduct the affairs of our organizations as to provide at least bread, the commonest need to sustain life.

"CONTEMPTIBLE CAPITALIST ANTAGONISM—IT WILL NOT AVAIL.

"It is well known that in many instances there are employers and employers' associations with which the unions of labor live in terms of peace and agreement. Employers' organizations of such an intelligent character are not only welcome but should be encouraged. With organized labor they can not only work toward the maintainance of industrial peace, and the minimizing of industrial conflicts with the attending cessation of industry and commerce, but by their combined efforts constantly render themselves more independent from the trickery and machinations of the so-called princes of finance.

"When, in 1895, the National Association of Manufacturers was formed it had a defensible purpose to serve, that of promoting trade, commerce and markets and the elimination of restrictions and barriers. With the advent of Mr. Parry as its president it was first covertly and then openly diverted from its original purpose and became an avowed union-crushing institution. He and his successor, Mr. Post, utilized every available means to carry out the new policy of union-baiting, union-smashing. Finding the citadel of unionism firmly entrenched in the hearts and minds of the workers, they were repulsed at every step and in their every move.

"And now, a new Roland has come upon the field in the personage of their successor, Mr. Van Cleave. He would not only follow the old line, but strike out for a new one. He recommended to his last convention, which adopted the proposition, that a War Fund of a million and a half dollars should be raised which is to be devoted to what was euphoniously declared 'educational' purposes. It was not difficult to discern, and circumstances since have demonstrated, that this fund is to be devoted to the effort to weaken, cripple, and destroy the unions of labor; the unions which are the only means of defense of the workers from the cupidity and greed of the worst elements of the capitalist class; the only means by which the working people, the wealth producers of our country and our time, can hope to secure some of the advantages of advancing civilization, participate in the progress and become larger sharers of the wealth which they produce.

"I am reliably informed that not less than twelve thousand secret detective agents of the Pinkerton and other companies are constantly in the pay of the manufacturers' associations to spy upon and misrepresent the doings of labor. Are these hireling character assassins to be the principal beneficiaries of the million and a half dollar War Fund and is the fund to be further devoted to suits at law against organized labor so as to engage our organizations and our men in defensive litigation and to divert us from the imminent and important work to which we should devote our time and whatever ability with which we may be possessed? Surely, recent events justify an affirmative answer.

"It is quite true that the make-up of the manufacturers' associations is not only of a comparatively small class of employers of our country, but it is also true that many of its members are out of touch and sympathy with the policy of the Van Cleave, Posts and Parrys. Several resignations from membership have recently occurred, employers sending to me copies of their letters of resignation and protest. Yet what they lack in membership and caliber, they endeavor to make up by attracting to themselves public attention. And for this reason, and this alone, do they receive any consideration at our hands.

"It is now generally recognized that the labor movement is the necessary and inevitable outgrowth of industrial conditions; that it was quite as much the impelling force of circumstances as desire which brought the labor movement into existence. The toilers have recognized that the advantages they now enjoy over previous periods were not brought to them upon a silver platter or philanthropically conceded to them.

"Even our worst antagonists concede that the organizations of labor have done much to improve the conditions of the workers. If this be true, and it is true, then to the unions of labor belongs at least that much credit. The question naturally arises, if the work of union labor in the past has been of a beneficent character, in what regard is the labor movement of today more at fault than that very movement which has brought this betterment which even our most bitter antagonists concede?

"Surely, none can truthfully assert that the labor movement of today is less intelligent, less humane, less lawful, than formerly. In truth, the observer must concede the reverse.

"The sum total of labor's offending today lies in the fact that by our larger membership and increased intelligence our movement has become more effective in gaining for our fellow-workers the rights to which they are justly entitled, the elimination of the wrongs which they have too long borne and the bright prospect for the fulfillment of their high hopes and aspirations in the interests of humanity.

"There is nothing for which our movement may declare, there is no action which it may take of an effective character to protect and promote the interests of labor, which will meet with the approval of labor's opponents. Only after success has attended our efforts and some of our demands are established and in full operation, whether this be by law or by agreement with employers, and the beneficence of these measures generally recognized, will the clamor of ignorance, greed and bigotry be silenced. This has been demonstrated in the past; the future will justify labor's present contention.

"It has been truly said that the demands of labor are usually made ten or twenty years in advance of their general acquiescence and approval. If labor but goes on in the even tenor of its way, organizing our fellow-workers, securing for them more time and leisure and opportunity for their education and the cultivation of the best that is in them, pressing home upon modern society the rightful claims which are ours, we shall not only improve public opinion, and more largely ourselves constitute that public opinion, but we shall achieve for ourselves and for all posterity that real freedom, justice, progress and humanity of which poets have sung, philosophers have dreamed, and for which labor in all time has struggled, and which it is the mission of labor now and in the near future to establish.

"EIGHT-HOUR WORKDAY—MAKE IT UNIVERSAL.

"The general movement for the reduction of the hours of daily labor; that is, the establishment of the eight-hour workday, has made considerable progress within the past two decades, and this is largely due to the encouragement given by our Federation to the crystallization of the hopes and demands of labor for the achievement of that result. The first convention of the Federation declared for the general eight-hour workday. In 1884 we declared for a concentrated effort of all labor to secure that boon, and since then no convention has passed without a declaration for, nor has any effort been spared to secure, the extension or enforcement of the eight-hour workday. For your information and for the general interest it may have, I submit to you a statement of the hours of labor prevailing among a number of trades.

"Carpenters—Eight hours; Saturday half holiday generally.

"Electrical Workers—Eight hours generally.

"Plasterers—Eight hours generally; some places seven hours.

"Bricklayers—Eight hours generally.

"Granite Cutters—Eight hours; universal.

"The International Printing Pressmen and Assistants' Union and the International Association of Machinists are now preparing for a movement for the inauguration of the eight-hour workday.

"Other organizations more particularly of a local character are engaged in similar efforts. But it is quite true that immense numbers of workmen, particularly in the unskilled trades and callings, still work generally ten or nine hours a day, and remnants of other trades and callings toil many more hours each day.

"It should be our aim to give every encouragement and aid to all in the establishment of a maximum day's work of eight hours.

"In our country so great and fertile, with its people so endowed with genius and so marvellously industrious in their productive capacity, there can neither be justification nor defense for a workday of longer than eight hours.

"Eight hours for work, eight hours for rest, and eight hours for recreation and improvement, is not only a scientific but a natural division of the day. It is a slogan and a watchword with which we can go not only to our fellow-workers, but to all our people and secure their co-operation and their sympathy.

"Upon the industrial field I urge the concentration of all our efforts to the universal establishment of the eight-hour workday.

"LABOR'S BILL TO REGULATE INJUNCTIONS.

"In my report to the Minneapolis convention attention was called to the fact that the opposition to our bill to regulate the issuance of injunctions, comprising many of the great employing corporations and trusts of the nation, was fully represented by their own officials, as well as by attorneys; that it was clear, even to the most unfriendly members of the Judiciary Committee of the House, that not even the array of talent opposing us could disprove our contentions. For the purpose of delay the committee resorted to dilatory tactics.

"After two months of time-killing argument, the essential features of our bill were referred to a sub-committee of three members of the Judiciary Committee. The sub-committee withheld its report until very shortly before the adjournment of the fifty-ninth Congress. We had the greatest difficulty to obtain a copy of that report.

"The astonishment of labor's representatives can be better imagined than described when it is stated that the sub-committee, instead of conducting an investigation of the principles involved in the bill, quoted the very judges and courts who have rendered decisions and opinions against which our just complaints are lodged, and which our bill seeks to remedy.

"We had the advice of Hon. T. C. Spelling, attorney-at-law, on the untenable and unfair report, and we concluded that a review, criticism and reply were necessary. With our Legislative Committee I tried to have labor's reply filed with the Judiciary Committee, so that it might be printed with the report of the sub-committee, in order that all might have an opportunity of judging the merits or demerits of either or both. No encouragement was received from the chairman of the Judiciary Committee. An effort was made to obtain the written assent of a majority of the members of the committee to accomplish the purpose. The signatures of eleven members of the committee, agreeing to the proposition, were obtained. Four members of the committee, however, refused to give their assent—Chairman Jenkins, of Wisconsin; Parker, of New Jersey; Terrell, of Massachusetts, and Littlefield, of Maine. However, the signatures of the eleven members of the committee, and the intensity of feeling prevailing, evidently brought about an emergency meeting of the Judiciary Committee, at which Representative Pearre, of Maryland, who introduced our injunction regulation bill, presented the assent of the eleven members of the Judiciary Committee to our proposition. He also presented Mr. Spelling's brief. It appears, however, that the effort was of little avail.

"We should see to it that the reply is printed as a Federal public document by the sixtieth Congress. It was published in the June, 1907, issue of the American Federationist.

"In dealing with the subject of injunctions, and the necessary action thereon, the Minneapolis convention instructed the officers of our Federation as follows:

" 'There is no tendency so dangerous to personal liberty, so destructive of free institutions, and of a republican form of government, as the present misuse and extension of the equity power through usurpation by the judiciary; and we, therefore, urge the speedy enactment of the Pearre (anti-injunction) bill into law, and we further recommend that candidates, for legislative or judicial positions, be carefully investigated as to their past acts, and interrogated as to their position on this matter before they be given any support, and that those who, from their actions or their expressions, are deemed unsound, be, regardless of any other question, repudiated.

"In compliance therewith the Executive Council authorized me to issue a circular to all organized labor, appealing to our fellow-unionists and friends to safeguard their interests in an effort to pledge candidates for public office to express themselves fully as to their attitude upon the subject of the injunction abuse, and their attitude toward bona-fide relief from that species of gross injustice. A copy of that circular, and a copy of another regarding the hostility of Speaker Cannon, of the House of Representatives, toward all labor's reasonable demands, will be placed in the possession of the appropriate committees having this subject under consideration.

"EIGHT-HOUR BILL.

"It was reported to the Minneapolis convention that the majority of the Committee on Labor of the House, as made up by the Speaker, was hostile to the interests of labor; that hearings were held to prolong the time, so as, ultimately, to prevent the passage of our eight-hour bill; that by mere accident, at one of the hearings, the minority members of the committee were in a temporary majority of a quorum of the committee present, and by a vote of that temporary momentary majority ordered that the bill be reported favorably to the House, with a recommendation that it pass; the bill was so reported.

"Representative Rucker, of Missouri, in the course of his speech on the floor of the House, said, in part, that when he asked the Speaker to recognize him for the purpose of asking consideration of the eight-hour bill, that he, the Speaker, replied in language more forcible than polite, that he would not recognize him or any member of the House for the purpose of considering that measure.

"We should see to it that the eight-hour bill is introduced in Congress in the early stages of the coming session, and press home the necessity for its passage. The eight-hour bill proposes to carry into effect the intention and spirit of the eight-hour law of August 1, 1892.

The sensation of the convention occurred on the ninth day, when President Gompers took the floor, and recited, at considerable length, the details of an attempt made by one Brandenburg, who held credentials from the National Association of Manufacturers, to bribe him (President Gompers) into betraying the union movement. Brandenburg's way of putting the inducements he had to offer for doing so, were: "While I do not want to express in specific financial terms what the National Association of Manufacturers is willing to do, yet I can guarantee that you will be financially safe for the balance of your life."

President Gompers presented to the convention several letters he had received from Brandenburg, and other data.

The convention adopted a resolution expressing its full confidence in President Gompers, which resolution was adopted by an unanimous and rising vote.

President Gompers, Secretary Morrison, and all of the other retiring officers, were re-elected by acclamation.

Denver, Colo., was selected as the next meeting place.

EDITORIAL NOTES

Many articles on the eight-hour day and the $75.00 minimum were crowded out of this issue.

Nine hundred and eleven new members were initiated into the Order during the month of November.

A member in Los Angeles, Cal., requests that telegraphers stay away from that section of the country, as there are now more men there than positions.

The Editor extends his best wishes for a Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year to all officers and members of the Order and to all its friends.

Help to complete thorough organization throughout the country by furnishing the Grand Secretary and Treasurer with a correct list of all non-members in your territory, using care to give correct initials, the correct spelling of the name, and the correct address, and also to show the road on which they are employed.

The accompanying is an engraving of an official O. R. T. gold ring. These rings can be had from the Grand Secretary and Treasurer for $4.50. In ordering them it is only necessary to give the size desired, which information can be secured from any jeweler.

The members of the Order of Railroad Telegraphers contributed $34,000.00 to the Commercial Telegraphers Union of America, during the late strike, which contribution was made through the Grand Secretary and Treasurer. These figures do not include amounts contributed to the various locals of the C. T. U. of A. by members and divisions locally. More extended reference to this matter is prohibited in this issue on account of lack of space, but will be made in the January number.

The year 1907 has been a most prosperous one for the Order of Railroad Telegraphers. The number of schedules secured during the year has exceeded anything ever before accomplished, and the increase in membership has been very flattering. A net increase in membership of approximately 10,000 has been made during the year.

The International Brotherhood of Maintenance of Way Employees, whose headquarters are located in St. Louis, and of which John T. Wilson is President, has made wonderful strides during the last year towards a more thorough organization of the craft represented by it, and has also made great strides in the matter of concessions secured.

A chain letter regarding the $75.00 minimum and eight-hour day has been going the rounds for the last three months. Originally the letter bore no signature, but recently some over-enthusiast in "Pushing It Along," signed the Grand Secretary and Treasurer's name to it, and it was sent over the Soo Line, the Wisconsin Central and the C., St. P., M. & O. in this form. The signing of the Grand Secretary and Treasurer's name to that letter was unauthorized. All official communication emanating from the office of the President or Grand Secretary and Treasurer bear their fac-simile signatures.

The attention of contributors of articles to THE TELEGRAHER is again called to the fact that matter for the Fraternal Department must be in the hands of the Editor not later than the 28th day of the month, in order to assure its insertion in the following issue. Matter intended for use in the January TELEGRAHER must be in the hands of the Editor on or before December 28th. Their attention is also called to the numerous requests that have hitherto been published that the name of stations be given instead of office call, and that correspondents refrain from sending in line-ups, as the practice of publishing line-ups was discontinued several years ago.

Will wonders never cease? The following most important (?) announcement appeared in the Maryville (Mo.) Republican of November 15th: "The telegraph students of the Maryville Business College organized a union Thursday night which will be known as the O. T. S., or Order of Telegraphy Students. It is said that it may threaten to rival the O. R. T." The article concludes with the following solemn announcement: "With their hands dipped in battery fluid the members have sworn to obey the rules of the 'Union.'" The editor publishes this "startling information" with considerable reluctance (?) on account of the consternation (?) it will no doubt cause in the ranks of the membership.

The statement issued by the Bureau of Immigration for the month of October, 1907, shows that there were 111,513 aliens landed at the various ports of entry in the United States during that month; that there were 1,060 debarred from entrance, classified as follows: Idiots, 7; imbeciles, 7; feeble minded, 16; epileptics, 3; insane, 20; loathsome or dangerous contagious diseases, 372; paupers, 1; likely to become public charges, 325; physically or mentally unsound, 120; contract laborers, 85; accompanying aliens, 29; under sixteen years of age, and unaccompanied by parent, 7; assisted aliens, 1; criminals, 15; prostitutes and procurers, 12; without passport, 28; under provisions of Chinese Exclusion Act, 12. The report also shows that there were 107 aliens returned by the immigration authorities after landing. The total number of aliens landed in the United States during the month of October, 1906, was 99,974.

It is said that Jackson Devore, first trick dispatcher for the Sandusky Division, Big Four Railway, at Springfield, Ohio, is acting as "professor" in a telegraph school at that place after hours. The fact that the supply of railroad telegraphers was greater than the demand in years past enabled the corporations to force down wages and lengthen out the hours of service until conditions became almost unbearable. By organization and an elimination of the student teaching the supply has been brought down to something near the demand and the conditions of the railroad telegraphers have been materially improved during the last few years. From his acts it is presumed that Devore is willing for a few paltry dollars to assist in bringing about the old conditions regardless of the welfare of the thousands upon thousands of railroad telegraphers of the country.

MISCELLANY

ARIZONA, THE SNAKE AND THE BABY.

THE eastbound local, pulling into a station only ten miles out, with a lung gone in the middle of the train, was manned by a crew about as disgusted as was possible for this particular set of men to be.

Leaving the terminal a short time previous, a discussion with the yardmaster had arisen over tonnage, during which that individual had had certain disclosures made to him about his past life and antecedents most painfully surprising and wholly unpleasant.

The engineer had, with smiling candor, informed him of his unfitness for the man's work he was endeavoring to perform with the limited assistance of the brains of a fool; the "Snake" had consigned him to a place noted for the elevation of its temperature, and Arizona had concluded his discourse on the genealogy of that unfortunate individual by a remark tending to convict his immediate ancestors of extreme cruelty in having been the cause of inflicting upon the world his extremely undesirable presence.

"Which, in conclusion," continues Arizona, "I now holds and expresses the belief that it ain't been very far back when you all was hangin' to trees by your tails an' throwin' cocoanuts at the other distinguished members of your family."

After chaining the cars together where the tubercular trouble had occurred, Arizona had caught the caboose as it came by, and, entering the door, made the discovery which eventually became of much interest to the division.

A wicker basket stood far back in the rear of the car, and as Arizona approached a cry issued therefrom which brought the ex-cow man to a sudden and fearsome stop. In trepidation he raised the cover and disclosed to view—a baby, which immediately celebrated its transition from darkness to daylight by a terrifying yell, which reached the "Snake" as he was coming back over the cars from the engine and brought him on the run down the ladder and into the door on the side.

Side by side, speechless from the intensity of their feelings, they confronted, helplessly, what seemed to them to be the crisis of their lives. Arizona raised his hand and solemnly misquoted:

"And the thin blue line halted."

"Where'd you get it?" asked "Snake."

"I didn't," said Arizona, "it got me."

The baby, who had been contemplating them gravely, now broke into renewed cries, strenuously delivered and with telling effect.

Never before had they been placed in a position like this.

Arizona removed his hat and the "Snake" followed suit. An involuntary act, forced from them by some mysterious manifestation of hereditary reverence for innocence and purity.

Awe-stricken, they knelt by the basket, hand in hand. The baby let out another yell and the "thin blue line" went to pieces.

At a safe distance Arizona baby-talked some that made even the "Snake" wince, but it only reached down for another bunch of screams and turned them loose.

"Oo little pink divil," cooed Arizona, "where do oo keep all that noise?"

"It ain't keepin' it," interrupted the "Snake."

"It shore ain't," agreed Arizona. "If silence is golden, then this here kid ain't no multi-millionaire by a whole lot."

"What'll we do now?" asked the "Snake."

"One of us will have to go for the conductor," said Arizona.

"Which is me," said the "Snake."

And before the other could remonstrate against being left alone with the newly-found terror, he was on top running for dear life for the engine.

Reinforced by the "captain," an investigation was made of the basket and brought to light a letter, which the latter read aloud:

"To you who read I make this explanation: Determined to rid myself of a child I can not support, I do it in this way: While you were away I placed the basket in the car, then removed my baby from its carriage to the basket. May it find a home with some one of you."

"Well, I'll be d——!" comments Arizona.

"Me an' you both," said the "Snake."

"Well, boys," said the conductor, "the baby's yours; it's me to the engine, and may God have mercy on your souls."

And the "Snake" answered with a deep and fervent "Amen."

"Which," says Arizona, "through the miserable cowardice of a quitter, you and I, 'Snake,' are shore and certainly forced into a reluctant fatherhood of a son or a daughter—we don't know which!"

Here the baby, evidently feeling its neglect, and wishing to make its presence known as an indisputable fact, let loose another yell, and the fathers both ducked.

"Snake," said Arizona, "I'm going to be a father to that kid, yells and all, an' you're going to help."

"Why do you want to mix me up in it for," wailed the "Snake."

"Because," answered Arizona, "you all will be a better man for becomin' surrounded with the refined and softening influence of a little critter like that."

"I'll talk some to it now, quiet-like, so as to sorter break the news gently, an' if you join there'll be a good chance for you to do some powerful fancy side-steppin' an' duckin'."

Arizona's presentation of elephantine baby talk seemed to be ineffectual and the tactics were changed.

Threatened with great personal danger the "Snake" was forced to sing and the baby slept.

"Which," mused Arizona, "is the only way you could escape heavin' it."

Orders to meet a westbound passenger, causing a considerable delay, the parental duo held a consultation regarding the immediate future of their charge, the result of which was the sending of the following report to the chief dispatcher:

"Acton, 8-3-05.

"I. L. R.: Woman leaves small baby in large basket with a wooden bottom in the caboose this a. m. What will we do with the kid?"

"Arizona Smith."

The operator grinned when he sent it and openly laughed, a few minutes later, when he handed to Arizona this reply:

"Burrville, 8-3-'05.

"Arizona Smith: Is baby boy or girl? Company refuses to accept responsibility in any way. Suppose you allude to basket, in speaking of wooden bottom.

Arizona groaned when he read it, but countered with this:

"Acton, 8-3-'05.

"J. L. R.: Indications to date point to baby being a boy. How can I tell? Bottom of basket same material as your head.

"Arizona Smith."

Thus with this answer to the hard-hearted chief, they closed the incident, accepting in full the responsibilities so inopportunately thrust upon them. Retracing their steps to the caboose, they once more viewed the cause of the disturbance of their mental equanimity.

They stood in reverent silence before the sleeping baby, and as the helplessness of the little one became apparent to them a mysterious something seemed to remove that thin veneer of roughness they had always assumed, and revealed to each other the ashamed nakedness of their true and noble souls. Sheepishly they turned away, each fearful of the contempt he might read in his companion's eyes for the weakness displayed.

The next stop, making Arizona's absence necessary, the "Snake" was left in charge.

Returning later, a nameless fear assailed him as he saw the "Snake" frantically running toward him over the swaying cars, who grasped his arm and almost dragged him down the ladder and into the car.

"For God's sake, what's the matter?" gasped Arizona.

But the "Snake" only points to the baby and gurgles, "Look at its little feet!"

Recovering from his fright, Arizona admonished the "Snake," in no gentle terms, for the fear he had caused him.

"You all," said he, "are so decidedly wooden-headed it would be a natural sequence for a man to drive a nail in your face and hang his hat on it."

The discussion was ended by the baby awaking hungry and mad and voicing its desires in audible expostulations which gave Arizona a clue and he guessed the trouble the first time.

"We'll try a sandwich," suggested the "Snake."

"Which remark," answered Arizona, "is shore an' positive evidence of this here Darwinian theory. Did you ever hear of a baby eatin' a railroad sandwich?"

Out of consideration of the "Snake's" feeling, however, the offering was made and as promptly refused.

"There's more'n one way to whip a cat," said the "Snake," "so we'll try the pie."

This was also ineffectual, and they were almost stumped until the ex-switchman came again to the rescue with an idea whose brilliancy staggered them both.

"We'll stop at X— an' get the station agent's wife to feed it for us," said he. This was done, after which an armistice was declared, both sides resting on their arms.

Hours went by and the terminal was reached at last. While Arizona watched the baby the "Snake" went for a hack and quietly and without mishap the transfer from the train to their boarding house was made.

Explanations followed and the motherly landlady took charge. After she had administered to its comfort with a bath and other attentions, Arizona mustered courage to ask a question:

"It's a girl," she replied, and the "thin blue line" went down and out.

"It's Fate," soliloquized the "Snake," "an' she's sold us a gold brick."

"Which conclusive fact I figgered out good an' plenty comin' down in that animated wood-shed you hired for a hack," replied Arizona.

After supper Burns, the engineer, came over and assisted in the care of the baby while the landlady was busy down stairs, during which time that infantile source of trouble began again to cry.

"What's it doing now?" queried he.

"Searchin' its soul for sounds to say how scart it is," quotes Arizona. "Turn your back so he won't see your face."

"Don't get smart, you fellows," was the reply.

"We won't," said Arizona; "no one will accuse us of that after this."

After the departure of Burns, Arizona and the "Snake" remained awake till a late hour discussing the future of their charge.

Morning, however, came at last, and with it consternation and dismay in the form of a telegram from the mother of the child. The engineer was sent for and the consultation which ensued only left them in a state of despairing helplessness, pitiful to behold.

The mother came at noon and the engineer was delegated to meet her at the train. His fate was with her and he met them both at the same time. The meeting at the boarding house was a thing of pain for Arizona and the "Snake."

Explanations, however, followed, and the affair soon assumed a comprehensible statement of an extraordinary mistake.

An unfortunate woman, sick and despondent, had attempted to rid herself of a child she could not support, as stated in her letter left in the basket. In her excitement, however, when she went to take her baby from its carriage she did not notice another one standing near and took the wrong one, to the terror of Mrs. Craig, and, for a time, the mystification of the police.

The only comment on the revelations made was a "Well, I'll be d—!" from Arizona, and a "me an' you both" from the "Snake."

"Which," said the former, after the departure of Mrs. Craig and the baby, in telling the story to the old-time engineer and the new brakeman in the switch shanty that night, "is shore an' conclusive proof that me an' the 'Snake' have got you all skinned a city block when it comes to gittin' into peculiar an' unfascinatin' situations."

Later on, Burns, the engineer, confided to Arizona the news of his approaching marriage with Mrs. Craig, and a few weeks after, upon their return from a honeymoon, they gave a dinner in celebration of the baby's birthday, at which Arizona and the "Snake" were the guests of honor.

The humorous endeavors of this worthy pair to do things right was ridiculously manifested in their selection of a present for the baby—a glaringly handsome silver cake basket of huge dimensions, with this inscription engraved thereon:

"To the Kid,

From

Arizona and the 'Snake.'"

SETTLED OUT OF COURT.

(Original.)

"MARRY him, madam," said the attorney. "There's no other way out of the difficulty."

"Marry that old rascal? Never! But, supposing I should consent to your plan, how could I marry a man with whom I have had legal quarrels for years?"

"Any woman is more than a match for a man, especially for a superannuated man. Let me see. You are forty-five. Bless me, you don't look it! He is thirty years your senior. He'll not live long."

Mrs. Peabody promised to think of the matter, and was not long in taking the attorney's advice. She wrote old Codman a letter, which she showed to her niece, Elizabeth Ward, who lived with her, but the girl told her it was too cold, matter of fact, and generally unromantic; whereupon the elder woman charged her niece to write such a letter as she would herself send to a man she admired. The result was an epistle that warmed old Ephraim Codman from the tips of his toes to the crown of his hairless head. There was no business in it, but it intended to bring about a conclusion of the lawsuit. The letter was handed with the morning's mail to Mr. Codman by his grandson and heir, Louis, who acted as his secretary. Louis opened all letters before submitting them. Indeed, he read Mrs. Peabody's to his grandfather, whose sight was inadequate to decipher a woman's handwriting. The old man, fearing that a matrimonial alliance might not please his heir, undertook to make the reply himself, but Louis intercepted the reply, and sent one that he had written himself. For reasons of his own he poured out just such words as he would write to his own ladylove.

Then followed a correspondence that would warm hearts frozen for centuries. Miss Ward would write Mrs. Peabody's letters, read them to her aunt for approval, and mail them.

"The old fool," the lady would exclaim, "to be caught by such chaff! It's lucky, Betty, I have you to write these letters. I never could do it in the world." Then when the replies arrived it would be: "How sickening! I wonder if he will expect me to listen to that rubbish when we are married? However, he will pay well for the privilege. He is sure to win his case in the end, and that will bankrupt us; whereas this marriage will make us rich. You'll be well paid for your letter-writing, Betty. I shall settle $100 a year on you for dress."

"How generous you are, auntie! You are always thinking of others, never of yourself."

And so the correspondence went on, growing warmer the while, till at last there came a proposition of marriage. In it was nothing of the business proposition Mrs. Peabody had intended to call forth, but an ardent love such as a young man would pour out to a young girl. "I shall love you," the old man said, "in your youth and cherish you in your old age." The lady threw down the letters, muttering: "Not in my old age, you old fool! You will be under ground twenty years before I'm an old woman!"

When Miss Ward handed her aunt the reply she had written, Mrs. Peabody commented on it. "If he were a young man, Bett, it would be lovely. There's some excuse for him, after all, considering how sweetly you write."

Then came the arrangements for the first meeting between the principals, who had never met except in court, where they had glared at each other. Mr. Codman wrote that he would call at 11 in the morning of a certain day, and, since he was subject to a temporary indisposition, his grandson would accompany him.

"Temporary indisposition!" exclaimed Mrs. Peabody, "He'll bring his grandson to hold him up! Write him that owing to a superabundance of maidenly modesty I shall have my niece with me at the meeting."

The girl, laughing merrily, flew away to write the last letter of this unique correspondence before the engagement, and Mrs. Peabody went to her room to prepare for the ordeal.

When Mr. Codman's carriage drove up to Mrs. Peabody's door the sun was shining, the birds were singing—indeed, everything portended a bethrothal of a youthful pair. Louis Codman alighted, got his grandfather out of the carriage and supported him into the house. Mrs. Peabody and her niece received them in the drawing-room. The old man was trying to say something gallant when his grandson interrupted him.

"Grandfather," said he, "permit me. I am about to make an announcement to you and Mrs. Peabody jointly. When Mrs. Peabody's first letter came I recognized in it the genuine freshness of a young girl. I answered it for its recipient in the same strain. Miss Elizabeth Peabody and I have been corresponding over the heads of our elders; we have exchanged likenesses, and have frequently met. The proposition is to unite the separate interests now pending. I have a few days ago secured an order from the Court of Chancery placing the management of the Codman estate in my hands on account of the failing health of my grandfather. If the matter is to be settled out of court it must be settled with me. Mrs. Peabody, I have the honor to ask the hand of your niece in marriage."

The old man cast a feeble, inquiring glance at his grandson, and Mrs. Peabody uttered an exclamation of relief.

"With all my heart," she exclaimed.

The septuagenarian cast another feeble glance at his grandson and, placing his hand on his heart, said, "Mine, too."—HELOISE AMES, in Locomotive Engineer.

TURKEY, THE MESSENGER.

SOMEHOW or other, as Fred White, better known to his associates and friends as "Turkey," climbed into his car and pulled his safe in after him from the truck on which he had just transferred from train No. 111, his whole past seemed to come up before him so vividly that he rubbed his eyes to assure himself that he was not dreaming, and then, heaving a sigh, he unlocked the iron box and began to get things ready for the long run ahead of him.

White's run was from M— down to Stillwater Junction, where he transferred and took the main line to L—. The first part, as far as the Junction, was easy, but the balance of the route was heavy and kept the messengers busy. It was a night trip, leaving the Junction at 7:23 and arriving at L— in the morning at 8:15, if on time, which was seldom the case.

Turkey White had been transferred to this run from an office to relieve another messenger, who was suddenly taken sick. The old fellow did not get well, and, as a result, Turkey was left in his place.

Things went on nicely for a couple of years, until one night there was a wreck at the Junction. Train No. 254 was two hours late, and a freight train from the south was trying to get into the clear on No. 2 siding.

When No. 254 came around the curve at the upper end of the yard, there was no time to spare. The engineer blew "brakes," but that was the last thing that he ever did. When they found his body it was crushed beneath the shattered wreck of his engine.

Turkey was standing on the station platform leaning against the truck on which his safe stood. He was looking up the yard and saw the whole thing. "Open up there, Russell," he yelled, "and we'll run this truck inside and do what we can to help; for I guess that there will be enough of us needed up there by the looks of things.

They pushed the truck inside the office, and after looking up, hurried with the crowd up the track in the direction of the wreck, where they found everything and everyone in an uproar. Men, women and children were screaming, cursing, groaning and praying, as they lay there pinned down by the wreckage.

Those who had hurried to the scene worked like very demons, displaying almost superhuman strength and courage, until at last, about midnight, the last helpless form was dragged from the broken and twisted mass of iron and wood.

The wrecking train and crew arrived about 11, and had been hard at work ever since. Another train had been made up at Lakewood, and running as second No. 254 to the Junction, ran as the regular train from there.

This train had not yet arrived, and White, having tired himself out, was about to go down to the office and take a few minutes' sleep before starting on his trip. He was standing near the forward end of the last car in the train, and as he turned toward the station, he heard a faint call for help, which sounded as though it came from within the wrecked car. He listened for a minute and the call was repeated, and this time he was sure it had not been his imagination.

Climbing in through a window, Turkey began to look around as best he could with the aid of the lantern that he was carrying, and then seeing no one, he called, "Where are you?" At first there was no reply, and then a voice, which was unmistakably a woman's, answered, "here, for God's sake, help me—I—am—dy—ing." Then all was silence, and White thought that she must be dead.

As rapidly as he could he made his way toward the place where the sound seemed to have come from, and there, pinned down between a couple of broken seats, was the bloodstained form of a young girl. She was perfectly still, and the blood trickled slowly down across her pale cheek from a cut in the side of her head, made by a broken iron on one of the seats, and against which she had been thrown.

After a great deal of hard tugging and pulling, Turkey succeeded in getting the broken car seats out of the way, and, lifting the girl in his arms, he clambered out of the window, then, laying her on the ground, he bent over her and listened for a heart-beat; at first he heard nothing, then there was just the faintest throb, and hearing it, he sprang to his feet and raced off like a madman. In a moment, he was back with a doctor, who, after making a hurried examination, said that unless there were internal injuries she would be all right, he thought, although, he said, that was an ugly cut on the head. Prying open the clenched teeth, he administered a stimulant of some kind, and in a few minutes, a pair of big, brown eyes were opened, and looked straight up into those of Turkey, who was bending over her. Then she closed them again and dropped into a deep slumber.

"I guess that you had better get some help and get her to some better place than this is," remarked the doctor. "I can carry her to the station," said Turkey, and suiting the action to his words, he lifted her from the ground, and started toward the station, where he placed her in a carriage and drove with her to the hotel, where he left her in charge of the landlady, a good, old-fashioned soul, who thought that anything that "Freddie" White did, or said, was about right. She promised him that she would take the best of care of his "find," and to meet him at the station on his return trip, and let him know how the injured girl was getting along.

The screech of second No. 254's whistle sounded as he left the hotel and made a race for the office to get his "traps" together and start on his run. When he reached there the train was just pulling into the station, and Russell and the baggageman were looking all around for him.

All that night and the next day and night Turkey could think of nothing but that pair of big, brown eyes that had looked up into his, and then closed so peacefully in slumber.

As his train drew near the Junction on the return trip, it seemed to him that they were moving the slowest that they had ever since he had been on the road. But at last they drew up in front of the station, and, as he stood in the open door of his car, he saw something white fluttering in the front window of one of the rooms on the second floor of the hotel, and, at the same time, the voice of his old friend, the landlady, called to him, saying, "I told her you would be in the door, and she said she would wave her handkerchief. Why Freddie, she is just the dearest little thing you ever saw in your life, and she wants to see you so badly, and get acquainted. She says she owes her life to you, and I guess she does. Now, why can you not get Mr. Wilson to take your train through next Saturday, and you bring his back here, then you can stay with us over Sunday, and he can spend the day at his home and bring your train out of L—— on Monday for you? You know that Jim Green used to do that every other Saturday. Will you do it? I promised Minnie that I would ask you, and she said to make you do it. She is not yet out of her bed, but she says she will be if you will spend Sunday with her. Say yes; there, I knew you would." And before White could get a chance to say a word, or even ask a question, Mrs. Munson was gone. He had been getting out the transfer while she was talking, and now, after turning over his "reds" to Milton, who took No. 253 on to Lakewood, he jumped out the car door and transferred to the other train which was waiting on the siding, and was due to leave in ten minutes.

Russell tried to joke him a little about his friend over at the hotel, but Turkey would have nothing to say.

Saturday he changed off with Wilson, and, doubling back to M——, dropped into the Junction about 7:30 that evening.

Going directly to the hotel, he found Mrs. Munson, and had a long visit with her. He did not go up to see Miss Winstead, the injured girl, that evening, although she sent word down by her hostess that he might come up. He thought it would, perhaps, be better not to tire her out that evening, with the excitement, and he knew she would want to talk a great deal, so he waited until the next morning, when he and Mr. and Mrs. Munson took their breakfast with her in her room, and then it was that Turkey looked again into the depths of a pair of the most beautiful eyes that he had ever seen.

Miss Winstead had a slight, girlish figure, dark hair, brown eyes, and her skin was very fair. The bloom had faded from her cheeks, but when her eyes met those of her rescuer, this, the second time, the color came back with a rush, which made her appear even more beautiful than before, and White caught himself thinking of how beautiful she was, and wondering if she could ever care anything for him, more than once during the eating of that first meal together.

Well, Turkey changed off with Wilson the next two Saturdays, and the next week Miss Winstead left for New York, where she lived with her aunt, who had come up to Stillwater Junction as soon as she was notified of her niece's accident. She seemed to think that there was no one in the world except her niece and Fred White.

The two young people seemed to come to some kind of an understanding before the time came for them to part; they were both head over heels in love with each other.

White promised to come to New York to spend his vacation that fall. Miss Winstead and her aunt parted from him and from the other new-found friends, with tears in their eyes, the train rolled out of the station, and out of sight, and that was the end.

That was four years previous to the night on which our story opens, and during that time Turkey White had heard not a word from Minnie Winstead, or her aunt. He was a changed man tonight from what he was that night four years ago, when he kissed her good-bye. None of his friends ever spoke of her in his presence, although the story was on the end of their tongues as soon as he was out of hearing. They all felt that he had been wronged by a heartless girl of the world. As the time rolled on his friends could see the gradual change which came over him; he no longer laughed or joked with them, and lines of sorrow and grief made deep furrows in his handsome face.

Tonight, as he sat there, checking his money waybills, and making now a sealed bag, and then a sealed package, the fair face of his sweetheart kept coming up before him, and several times he made a movement which looked as though he was brushing away a tear.

He had just finished making a sealed package on Boston, put it in his safe, and taken up a few freight bills that had been thrown in at Meadville, the last stop, when there was a shriek of whistles, the "emergency" brake was thrown on, there was a crash, and that was the last that he knew anything about what had happened, until he opened his eyes and felt the cool night air on his brow. "Oh, my God!" he groaned; there, bending over him was a slender, girlish form, and the tears were streaming from the same brown eyes he had dreamed of for four long years. He closed his eyes and sank again into a state of unconsciousness.

When he again opened them with the light of reason in them, he found himself in a dainty little room, surrounded with the neatest and daintiest of the comforts of a sick room. He tried to raise himself in bed, but, to his surprise, he found that he could not move his hand to his head, even, to say nothing about sitting up. "Where am I?" he asked, and his voice sounded faint and far away. "There, my dear, you must not talk any just yet," said a motherly-looking old lady whom he had not observed until now, as she approached his bed. "Just lie still, and go to sleep, and when you awake we will have a fine visitor, but you must not talk now or you will be sick again. You were very ill and the danger is not all past, so please do as I have asked you to and you will not be sorry," she said, noting the questioning look on the face of the sick man; and, somehow or other, her words seemed to soothe and reassure him, and he closed his eyes and dropped off into a deep slumber, from which he at last awakened, feeling stronger and better. But he found that he was still too weak to move, and while he lay there wondering what it all meant, and where he was, he suddenly remembered the crash, and the face he had seen afterward, as though in a dream, but where was he now, and how long had he been here? As if in answer to his question, Minnie Winstead appeared at his bedside, and, bending over, she tenderly kissed him.

"At last, thank God," she said, "all has come right, and I have my own again."

Tears streamed down her cheeks, as she stroked his fevered brow, and she kissed him again and again. Turkey did not understand it at all, but he was happy, very happy; happier than he had been before in four long years, and, when a little later, the doctor came, he smiled, and said, "I guess he has had some medicine besides that which I left, since I have been gone, but it's all right, and I think he will pull through if he has good care, and I guess he will get it, don't you, Sis?" he asked, turning to Minnie, who blushed and left the room.

Turkey grew stronger, and in a few days he had learned the whole of what had happened. It was the same old story. Two trains late and "passing orders" mixed; each train trying to make a siding that was on the opposite side of the point at which they came together. There were many lives lost that night, and among them it was thought for awhile, was Turkey White, but he was finally found by a young lady who escaped from a sleeper on the rear of the "up" train. She was uninjured, except for a good shaking up, and was walking along near the express car, when she saw the unconscious form of Turkey, lying half buried in a pile of boxes and barrels of express, in the open door of the car. She uttered a groan, and looked wildly about her, "Where am I," she asked, turning to an old lady who stood near. Then, not waiting for an answer, she clambered into the wrecked car, regardless of the grease and dirt, and began pulling the boxes and packages from the senseless form of White. A couple of trainmen, catching sight of her, came to the rescue, and he was soon lying on the grass, and Minnie Winstead was bending over him, while her tears fell fast. "He is dead!" she moaned, as she rubbed his cold brow. It was just at this moment that he opened his eyes and saw her, and then lost consciousness again, and when he again regained it his reason was gone, and his mind wandered in a wild delirium.

So it was that the weeks dragged wearily by, while the silent watcher at his bedside never left him. He had been taken to a cottage near the scene of the wreck, where lived an old widow. She was goodness personified, and did everything for the comfort of the sick man and his untiring nurse.

At last the climax came, and after weary hours of watching and waiting, while Turkey White's life hung on the finest thread, and there was no way of telling which way the balance might tip, and that thread be broken, the old doctoor turned with a smile to Minnie, and said, "He will live, now you had better get a little rest yourself, for he will not be strong enough to sit and watch by you, and someone will have to unless you get some sleep and rest before long."

But before he had finished speaking, she had fainted, a half-uttered "God bless you" dying on her lips. When she recovered the doctor had gone, and White was sleeping as sweetly as a babe.

"But Minnie, you have never told me where you were, or what was the matter all those long years while you was away from me," said Turkey, one afternoon, as they strolled through the fields, some time later, after he became strong enough to walk around, and wander through the woods and fields, always accompanied by Minnie.

"Well, Fred, a part of it will always be a blank, even to me. On our way home Aunt Effie was taken suddenly ill, and only lived a few hours after we arrived in New York. I was so prostrated with grief that I did not know what to do with myself. After the funeral I was taken sick—must have been sick a very long time, for when I regained my reason I was very weak. I remembered Aunt Effie's death, but previous to that all was a blank. I do not know how I happened to take the train that night for Masons. I do not think, in fact, that I knew or cared very much where I was going. But the instant that I saw you lying there, apparently dead, the past flashed up before me, and I remembered everything. I am sure, my sweetheart, that it was just God's way of bringing us together again.—

JOHN L. SULLIVAN ON BOOZE.

BOOZE is bad—John L. Sullivan.
No temperance orator is better qualified to speak on the subject of alcoholic beverages and their effect on the human system than the former champion.

He has been through the whisky mill. When he entered he was a rosy-cheeked young Irish lad. When he emerged he was a bloated, dissipated, physical wreck.

If you pick up this paper with blurred brain and dulled senses, you will not be able to appreciate the full import of his words.

Sports and near-sports, the sum and substance of his sermonette is—"Don't drink; let the other fellow do that."

"Booze has the greatest knockout punch in the world," begins the sagacious Sullivan. "It will get you if you don't watch out.

"I know a lot about 'knockout' punches, but there's one which is the most effective of all.

"What is it? Boys, it's booze—drink; strong drink of all kinds. Beware; don't let it land on you.

"I fought the booze, but I lost. No man carries a swing or a hook, or a cross, or an uppercut that can make an impression on old Red Eye.

"Boys, booze-fighters always take the count. No one ever put old King Alcohol down for the count of ten.

"When you start battling booze you are up against the real thing.

"The only way to beat it is to have will enough of your own to keep out of range of that punch.

"Let it go over your head, by your ear or under your guard arm—anywhere but down your throat.

"Boys, the fellow who can dodge the booze is a pretty slick gazaboo.

"Young man, quit the booze; and quit it for good. You older fellow, learn the same lesson. Remember, the real punch is contained in the fiery stuff. The fellow who beats it is the fellow who can dodge the punch.

"Did you ever know that most of the lying in the world is caused by drink? It is. You don't know it, maybe, but stop and think.' Don't a drinking man say some awfully foolish and uncalled-for-things? And isn't he sorry for it when he thinks what an ass he has made of himself?

"Say, take it from old John L., a champion once at ring and booze-fighting, it's the worst game ever discovered.

"I see in my travels, and I am mighty glad to note it, too, that the age of successful drinkers has gone by. Employers don't want even a man who can 'handle it,' if there is such a thing.

"Lots of men flatter themselves by saying they can handle the stuff. Rot! It wasn't made to be handled."—The Elevator Constructor.

THE VENGEANCE OF A SONG.

THEY were in Ralph's quarters, as usual. "I see a gap," said the doctor. "Where's Dodge tonight?"

"I don't think he will be here," said the journalist. "I dropped in on him at the bank today, and he said he was going over to the West Side tonight; a ghost to investigate. Five leases have been broken since September on a flat in an apartment house in Washington Boulevard. Footsteps are clearly heard going up the hall and walking across the bathroom tiling. Dodge wants to see what there is in it."

"Now, Professor," said Ralph, "you have often hinted of those psychic investigations in Cambridge. Suppose you tell us about the ghost-raising in which Harvard had a finger?"

The Professor sat thinking for some minutes, as if turning over various memories and assorting them for a good selection. "I know of something better," he said presently, "than any of our sittings with Mrs. Piper and the mediums. The participant, or rather the victim, was a friend of mine, a Chicago man. Frank was a good fellow, and I saw much of him the last year at Harvard. I found him again in London during the summer, and we got into the habit of going about together, the fraternal tie growing even stronger in a strange land. Frank had previously told me about himself, that he was engaged, and all that, the beauty of the girl—such a fine old Evanston family, a real Rembrandt in the house. He was quite proud of her, that was plain to see; he was proud of the Rembrandt, too, the family taking it all very seriously. One night Frank and I strayed into a music hall; we had heard something of a Fay Gillette and her song about a sweetheart. But we had started out that evening with no intention of hearing her; it was quite unexpectedly that we decided on the music hall.

"The girl had come out, and was well on with her song before I noticed her name or the familiar ditty. It was almost with a shock that I remembered she was a celebrity in her way—she seemed like a child who was singing, and singing to me alone. Indeed, I quite forgot Frank, I forgot the hall, in the witchery of it. I seemed in my own home, and some near one was singing and singing to me. She was dressed like a child, or rather a young girl, 15, perhaps. She even wore a pink bonnet with strings, and she had a way of holding them out as she sang; not the way you see them doing now—they are only trying to imitate Fay Gillette, as if anyone could imitate her. She looked at you, it seemed, holding those strings in her narrow, little hands, her upper lip lifted from her white teeth like a baby's—you sometimes see a suggestion of it in Raphael's singing angels, the little winged heads he puts in clouds. It is a mouth only a child can make. But she sang that way, Fay Gillette, looking at you, you thought then, but looking as a child would have looked.

"Come back to me, sweetheart;

Be mine forever more;

Come back to me, sweetheart;

Leave me never more.

"That's what she sang, the refrain of it; and that's the part they make her sing. There's plenty more to the song, but those four lines, she had a way of wailing them out from that childish mouth, watching you with those infantile eyes, and singing right to you. They kept her at it, the refrain, over and over; the song has another title, but those who heard Fay Gillette sing it always called it 'The Sweetheart Song.'

"Leave me never more," she wailed to me, and I braced myself, feeling I would follow her to the ends of the earth. I looked around, and the pale side of Frank's face caught my eye; his jaw had set, his eyes were fixed—she was singing to him, too, he thought. That was my first thought.

"Come back to me, sweetheart;
Be mine forever more;
Come back to me, sweetheart;
Leave me never more."

she sang again, the childish mouth, the childish eyes—she was singing to Frank. There was a hard struggle of a moment; the delicious deception of one minute's delight died a little hard; a sharp pain, but it died; and I resigned her and her little wail to Frank—she might sing to him alone, for all I should care.

"Frank and I walked home from the music hall. He said nothing—quite unlike him. I stopped awhile in his room; we had taken lodgings in the same house. He smoked on without a word, and with Frank silence was a 'stunt' I could not understand. An hour later I left him with the Evanston girl's name not once spoken, the Rembrandt quite forgotten, and the fine old family a misty memory.

"I don't know how Frank met Fay Gillette, but I soon knew he was calling at her home. The girl had a good reputation, considering. She lived with her mother, an actress who still played older parts.

"Frank was now going every night to the music hall, and Fay Gillette sang her sweetheart song to him openly, and it was beginning to be talked about. It was not like Fay to make favorites, and her reputation for the stage prude was going. About this time Frank and I separated for awhile. We had planned a trip together through Holland, but the appointed time came, and he could not get away from London. Of course, I knew it was the sweetheart song. I thought of the Evanston situation, and I urged him, a little strongly at first, almost too much. He got angered with me, said something about being of age and able to manage his own affairs. So I left them to his management. When I returned to London two months later his management quite astounded me—he had promised to marry Fay Gillette, and, still holding to the strings of her pink bonnet, still gazing serenely from her infantile eyes, in the music hall, she sang with her childish lips the sweetheart song to Frank. There was more talk than ever.

"'Frank,' I said, 'have you broken with Ruth?'

"His face got fiery red at my question, and I knew he was playing a double game. He had the look of it in his face, the mean, contemptuous feeling one can cherish only for one's self. Of course, he was impudent with me about it. I found a mode of retaliation. I would keep silent when he talked of Fay Gillette, a non-encouragement that was annoying as infatuation and desire for confidence grew stronger in him.

"'She has a very innocent face,' he would say to me.

"'Who, Christy?' I would say. Christy was the half simple Scotch chambermaid, who never did anything right.

"'You know I don't mean Christy,' Frank would snap back at me; 'I don't believe Christy has a face.'

"He would wait for my reply, but I would have none. Frank would smoke for a little space, but he could no longer hold in. 'You knew right well Miss Gillette.'

"'Oh, Fay Gillette,' I would say.

"'I wish you would learn to say Miss Gillette; just do it for practice, old man. You will have to call her Mrs. some day, and Mrs. to my name, too.'

"Frank would laugh weakly when he said this, the laugh of a man who felt he meant what he was saying, but knew he was not saying the truth.

"I would shake my head, and he would take it up. 'I have put them all in the balance,' he said to me one evening after the usual exchange of replies; 'I put each combination in its respective scale; in one Ruth, the fine family, the Evanston castle, the real and authenticated Rembrandt; in the other Fay, the smile, the eyes and the sweetheart song.'

"And which was found wanting?

"'Not Fay's end of it.'

"I gave in a little to Fay after this. I saw Frank was a hopeless case for the present; and I often accompanied him to the little home where Fay and her mother lived. It was not a bad place to drop into at all. The mother was a sweet old woman, full of reminiscences, a stroller of generations of strollers; and when she would tell of her experiences in out-of-the-way Australia, New Zealand and India theaters you would gladly sit up half the night to hear her. Then, too, she had a way of telling of her adventures, and her mouth had just a suggestion of the baby raise of Fay's upper lip.

"One night I was dining with them—Fay, her mother and Frank. A cablegram was brought in to Frank. He tore it open, and I saw a queer look on his face before he unfolded the sheet of paper. I felt that Fay's scale did not weigh so heavy, after all. Of course, it was a summons to Frank to go home. His mother demanded it. I noticed as he read the message to Fay and her mother that he interluded his mother's illness. Fay had turned very pale; but it was the pallor of pain, not of doubt, yet she was not wholly at her ease. Frank was getting ready to take his leave, and the girl came to him and laid her hands upon his shoulders. 'You feel you can't, you simply can't forget me?' she asked with a wan smile; but her eyes denied the confidence that her lips spoke.

"Frank started at Fay's question; it came to him unexpected, as if forgetting her were something already under way. He watched her, the eyes, the mouth; he seemed trying to recall a memory; but the old light was returning to his eyes. 'Sing to me, just sing the refrain of the sweetheart song,' he said quickly. And, with her hands still upon his shoulders, her beautiful lips raised from the little white teeth, she sang:

"Come back to me, sweetheart;

Be mine forever more;

Come back to me, sweetheart;

Leave me never more.

"Frank's cheeks were pale. It was again the look I saw on his face the night he first heard Fay Gillette sing—the night I was so foolish as to think she could sing to me.

"And you think I could forget you?" he asked as to one would answer a child.

"Yes," she said in half fear.

"Could you lose anything," Frank said, 'that you held with a steel-linked chain?"

"She was watching him with rising confidence.

"No, I can't forget you," Frank said; 'I am bound to you stronger than any manacled slave to a master. That refrain from you, Fay; God be my witness, little girl, that refrain could bring me to you across a gaping cleft in a mountain; call it to me and I'll go.'

"The girl was strangely in earnest, paler than Frank, and trembling from head to foot. 'Will you swear it?' she said, and I turned from the room to leave them their few last minutes together.

"Love makes a man mediaeval," Frank said to me when we found ourselves outside the house. 'Old man, I took an oath to-night.'

"The next night we sailed for home. Frank was not the best sailor in the world, and he stayed in his stateroom for the first few days out; and, none too well myself, I kept him company. We got the American papers just before sailing, and then we knew why Frank's parents wanted him—there was a yellow sheet with a full-page illustration of Frank and Fay Gillette, she singing from the music hall stage and he a wrapt listener, and grouped in fantastic letters about them the words of the refrain of the sweetheart song. The account was highly sensational and almost without a fragment of truth; they even fixed Frank out as a packer's son and a millionaire, kindly giving him an immense fortune, which he was squandering on the girl.

"Men are strange things to understand. After Frank saw that sensational and lying newspaper story he seemed to hate Fay Gillette, and once when I mentioned her name he turned on me with a growl. The topic was carefully avoided; only once did he say something that set me thinking. It was when we had taken our seats in the train at Jersey City, en route for home, some girls from a fashionable school came aboard with their chaperon. 'I like our ways,' Frank said to me; 'one should not get out of one's class, old man.' He looked toward the girls and their white-haired, aristocratic duenna. 'Such girls are the kind for a fellow to marry,' he said.

"In a month's time Frank was back in his old ways; the paper's sensational story was well-nigh forgotten; he was again in favor at the house in Evanston; he admired almost nightly the real Rembrandt, and he was talking of fine old families. This much I did know—Fay's letters were unanswered.

"Then from New York, with her name blazed with all the heraldry of a successful press agent, came the news that Fay Gillette would tour the States. If Frank gave it a thought, he said nothing to me. We never referred to the subject. But I was nervous—New York, Boston, Washington, feverishly I followed the course of Fay Gillette in her triumphs; and, of course, it was the sweetheart song and the refrain of it; over and over, they made her repeat the words, just the same as they had in old England. At last Fay was to come to Chicago, and the papers left no one in ignorance of her advent. I waited with almost sick dread. What would be the end of it? I had a feeling that the girl was not resigned to giving up Frank. She would sooner or later draw on what he had once called the steel-linked chain. And would he go? Could he withstand it? Would she find some way to sound the refrain in his ears? I thought of her the first night I saw her, the scores of nights afterward, the pink poke bonnet, the strings in her narrow white hands, the pearly teeth, the baby lips, the infantile eyes—then of the real Rembrandt, Evanston castle, a fine old family—no, no, they would not weigh if Frank was to hear the refrain.

"I kept a watch over Frank in a way. But I saw he was frightened; at least he did not intend to be. He stayed right on in Chicago as if he did not know that she was coming, and coming with her pink bonnet, her baby mouth, her eyes and the sweetheart song.

"But Fay Gillette never sang in Chicago. The day she landed here she was brought from the train to the hospital in an ambulance, a seriously sick woman. I don't think she came here to sing, but to die, and she knew it. Yes, she sent for Frank; and, as her illness fastened harder upon her, she sent for him three times each day—in the morning, at noon and night. She begged without pride to see him but once before she was taken. He sent her flowers, but no answer. Then, finally, Fay sent for me. She was very humble and pleading when I saw her, a broken, wasted thing that had lived and worked for months on nerve and energy. She begged me to bring Frank to her, saying that she was dying, and he could not refuse a last request. I broke down by the little white bed in the hospital; it was too great a change to see the butterfly turn worm, and such a poor, crushed woman. I went to Frank; I told him there was no doubt of the nearness of her death; but he would not listen to me. He had strayed from duty once, he said, and now his follies were at an end. He was so harsh about it; but while I hated him for his harshness of heart, I felt it was lack of confidence in himself, his doubt of his own strength, that made him keep away from Fay Gillette.

"Fay died, passing from life with a cry for Frank upon her lips.

"Fay had been dead about a week when I was sitting one evening with Frank in his room. We were talking about the wedding, whether he and Ruth should be married that spring or wait until autumn. It was quite early, the windows were open and the still warm air blew in below the curtains, balmy and with the faint scent of flowers in its softness. He stretched himself out in his Morris chair. 'The season of sentiment,' he said, and laughed, 'and I think Ruth is right; we will wait until autumn; nights like this were made for wooing, not possession,' and he leaned forward, jerking up the curtain and flooding the room with the moonlight. 'It's awfully good, life,' he said; 'a night like this—I want to live forever.'

"It was a street organ, a little hurdy-gurdy on the corner that started it, an old woman turning a crank, and floating on the still air came the notes of the song:

"Come back to me, sweetheart;
Be mine forever more;
Come back to me, sweetheart;
Leave me never more.

"It was the refrain, over and over in the organ's wheezing notes. Frank straightened himself in his chair. He raised his hand slowly and gripped his head and rubbed his temples. Slowly he rose as if bent upon following something that held his fixed, hard stare. He was going forward as if the bar of a plate glass window was not before him. I sprang to reach him. It was a little wrestling trick I knew. In a moment I had Frank in my grasp. So I held him until the organ changed its tune. Then I laid him in his chair, and for a long time he sat with his eyes fixed where their stare had been. He came slowly back to himself, and then he watched me in strange wonder, wiping his wet face and forehead.

"Well, old man, it was an oath and I broke it," he said at length.

"It was a week after this, and one day Frank came to see me. His haggard face frightened me anew. He had lost his old free, slouching walk, and his eyes were the eyes of a creature driven to earth.

"Do you want to go away with me, old man?" Frank said, and I was glad to hear the question. 'I must get away from it; they are singing everywhere. People are already talking of my conduct, doubting my sanity. Last night at Ruth's there was a terrible scene. I heard it from the street, some one passing by, singing the refrain. That instant she was before me, Fay, just as I had seen her a thousand times, the pink bonnet, the little white teeth, the smile, the "Come back to me, sweetheart." Then she changed to sadness, and called to me in distress, and I was trying to reach her, and they would not let me.'

"Two weeks later, one evening Frank and I were encamped a little back from a canyon, a remote spot in the Rockies. The sun was just setting, and hundreds of feet below us the Gunnison ran, the whirl of the torrent coming up to us caged in by the sharp-cut walls of cleft rock. Our Chinese boy was cooking supper, and we lay on the chaparral-carpeted mountain side, watching the stars breaking out through the turquoise Colorado sky. I was happy in a way, yet I was perturbed—since our arrival Frank had been gay spirited; but was he doomed to spend his life in remote haunts, away from his kind, flying from all possible reach of that song? Sam, working about the fire, said something of a party that was pitching camp on the other side of the canyon, and on the still air we could hear the blows of the mallet and the stretch of the ropes and canvas as they pulled their tents into place. Frank rose and watched him in admiration, his strong form standing out against the mountain sky. Then it came from the camp across the canyon, a few picked notes on a mandolin, and a clear tenor voice on the evening air:

"Come back to me, sweetheart;
Be mine forever more;
Come back to me, sweetheart;
Leave me never more.

"Frank's form stiffened. The hands rose to his head. He stepped forward staggering, and I sprang to reach him. He heard my footstep, and he turned an enraged face to me. I was too late for my Japanese trick; he landed a hard blow on my neck, felling me. As I dropped I was still conscious. He cried out inaudibly as he ran, and then I saw him spring, and disappear over the canyon's edge. Then I waited, and up from the cut came the horrid splash and thud from 500 feet below."

"Macbeth, Macbeth," cried Ralph; "Till Birnam wood do come to Dunsinane."

"Yes," said the professor, the fulfillment."

"God be my witness, little girl," I had heard Frank swear; 'that refrain could bring me to you across a gaping cleft in a mountain; call it to me, and I'll go.'"
By ELIZABETH HIGGINS, in Chicago Record-Herald.

HE FELT IT COMING.

"YES, siree," maundered the red-nosed inconsequential-looking little man in the groggery, as he blew the foam off the top of an edition of "the tallest in Washington for a nickel." "there's goin' to be a panic all right enough. There sure is. I kin feel it a comin'. All the signs p'int to it. It's in the air. Stock market a-tumbling and all th' rich peepul with money t' invest a-gittin' skecart an' all like that. Oh, there's a panic due, all right. You kin take it from me."

However, none of the loungers about the groggery appeared to be in a state of any immediate alarm over the prediction. They just went right on lounging.

"An' it's a-goin' t' be some panic, too," went on the little red-nosed man. "Devil t' pay an' no pitch hot—that's what it's a-goin' t' be. Tell you what, it's good t' be livin' in Wash'n'n endurin' a panic. Y'see, panics don't much hurt this town. Old gov'ment coin keeps th' pot a-boilin' here. But in them commercial towns--geemeeny crickey, but w'en this panic comes—an' it's a-comin', you hear me—there'll be tough times."

The barkeep swabbed the bar off with his gummy towel, and the loungers continued to lounge, and nobody appeared to be in the least dismayed by the direful prognostications of the little man with the rummiferous beak.

"This yere Roosevelt feller may be all right—I ain't sayin' that he isn't—but he sure is a-pokin' it into them fyenanciers all right, all right," the inconsequential man pushed forward, unmindful of the neglect with which his discourse was being received. "An', after all, them's th' peepul that run things in this country, hain't they? An' if we didn't have no fyenanciers, we'd be bum dooces in a punkerino deck, wouldn't we? An' there's somethin' a-comin' t' them, too, hain't there, f'r runnin' things? Well, I guess! An' yet they're gettin' it w're Minnie wears th' moose-teeth. It ain't right, that's what I'm a-sayin'. No-pee, it ain't right! Hey?"

And still the habitues of the groggery were quite undisturbed. They lapped up their suds with quite their usual complaisance, and continued to gaze around them in quite their ordinary soused bovine way, and the little red-nosed man's personally conducted monologue wasn't stampeding them a little bit. But he was going just to suit himself, and so he continued:

"Remember them soup-houses that they had around Chicago an' New York an' them big towns back in ninety-three? Well, that's what we're a-goin' t' git ag'in. Soup-houses. That's what. Helluva note, too, w'en th' United States gits into th' soup-house game, ain't it? Well, I shu'd squeak! Soup-houses! Great gag, w'en th' best we kin do in this country is t' start soup-houses f'r men that ain't got no work! We ought t' go bag our heads, that's what! Hey?"

But they wouldn't get het up. They declined to. They were busy with their grog and their own thoughts and their own lolling, and the promise of the economic wrath to come didn't feaze them a teenchy little bit.

"You fellers may think panics is fun," went on the little red-nosed man, "but I'm a-tellin' you that they're not. They're th' bad stuff sure 'nough. Homeless widows, starvin' 'orphans, an' all like that. No fun 'bout panics. An' we're headin' f'r a panic just as sure as we're standin' or sittin' here, you listen t' me!"

Just at this stage of it a huge, stout, tall woman, with touseled black hair, and a hatchet face, and just an ordinary string pulled around her house wrapper to keep it down at the middle, bounded through the swinging doors of the groggery.

She took one short, but extremely comprehensive, look at the red-nosed little man, and then she was at him in about two and one-half jumps.

She grabbed him by the slack of his coat collar and yanked him around in front of the bar for a little while. Then she jammed him up into a dim corner of the groggery, against the beer refrigerator, and swatted him a couple of stinging ones in the face with the palm of her large, bony hand. Then she pulled his bum-looking straw hat off his head, tossed it onto the floor, and stamped on it, all the time maintaining her clutch on his coat collar. Then she reached over with her left hand and poked him a real tidy one right in the pit of the stomach, evoking several eloquent grunts from him. Then she stood him up against the bar, and shaking her loose hand at him, she addressed him thus:

"You little chopped-off, sawed-off bum, you! You zero with the rim tore off! You little ratty hunk o' nothin'ness! You piece o' cheese! You ornery barroom loafer, standin' here with a crowd o' lazy, drunken louts, an' drinkin' up the money that I stand over a wash-tub t' get! You common, cheap, no-account piece of trash! You slab-sided rabbit, that ain't done a day's work sence I married you! You, you—you come along with me this minnet, you hunk o' glue, or I'll break ev'ry bone in your good-f'r-nothin' carcass, an' if you let out s'much as one word I'll—"

By this time she had him through the swinging doors, and the rest of her little address, as she all but booted the little red-nosed man down the street to their peaceful shack, was lost upon the groggery loungers. But they hadn't forgotten the little monologue of the red-nosed man.

"That duck was there with th' dope, all right, wasn't he?" observed one of the loungers, with a rummy grin. "There sure was a panic all right."—Washington Evening Star.

SKEPTICAL PETER PETERKINS.—A CHRISTMAS STORY.

ONCE on a time (all orthodox Christmas stories commence thus) there lived a little boy named Peter Peterkins. He was neither a very good child, nor a very bad child, but, from the age of three years, he had shown a disposition to look at many things with an eye of doubt, so that, among his neighbors, he had the name of Skeptical Peter Peterkins. This tendency to skepticism on the part of the boy had resulted in his meeting with many accidents, for he never heeded the advice of his good papa and his lovely mamma, who were wise parents and knew exactly what was proper or improper for children to do; what would result in pleasure, and what in pain. For instance, Peter was informed on several occasions that taking pie and cake from the pantry and eating the same at irregular hours and in large quantities was liable to upset his stomach, for, like all small youths, when he ran across a jam jar or a jelly glass or black cake, he was apt to swallow such food hurriedly in his anxiety to escape undetected in such a nefarious act. Sometimes he was rewarded when caught with a maternal spanking; at other periods he had colic, for which the old family physician was called to minister.

Dr. Billem Pillem was a courtly gentleman who believed in castor oil and ipecac, the latter ever given first to empty an overloaded stomach, and the former for intestinal reasons—Peter could never understand, inasmuch as the boy was unversed in Æsculapian arts. Peter would never have needed medical services had he but heeded the advice of papa and mamma. Again, the boy had been frequently admonished not to pick up "Gyp," the family tom-cat, by the tail, and on several occasions had been badly scratched by the mouse catcher. He finally learned from his cat school of experience that it is best to rub pussy on the back with its fur in the proper direction, so as to elicit low purrings of feline delight. He had been informed, too, that pulling the watch dog's ears might result in personal injury to the puller. After being bitten on his hand two or three times, Peter discovered that patting "Tray" on the head was the proper canine caress. He was also told that it was highly improper to enter Dolly's stall from the rear and tickle the animal's hind legs with the riding whip. Having had his arm broken once by being kicked twelve feet across the barn, Peter thereafter only approached Dolly with a lump of sugar from the head of the stall. He learned, too, after warning, not to get down on all fours and attempt football conclusions with Mike Malloney's, the stable man's pet billy goat.

His early attempts to discover whether mamma's and papa's advice in regard to domestic animals was proper, taught him some little wisdom; yet, as he grew older, he still experimented, owing to his skepticism on other lines. He had been warned not to go too near the bee hive; but, having heard Mike Malloney say that every hive had a queen bee that was much larger than the other bees, he doubted the story, and one summer day, when the hive workers were supposed to be absent in the white clover fields, he upset the hive. He never saw any queen bee, it is true, but then his eyelids were swollen so he could see nothing, while his lips were puffed out so his mother hardly recognized her Peter's face. There was certainly a queen bee or some other kind of bee in hives, the boy concluded, and thereafter he sedulously avoided the pursuit of apiculture. Having been burnt by the premature discharge of Fourth of July firecrackers, scratched, kicked, bitten, stung, he at last came to regard some of his parents' advice as good, and grew cautious—even cunning—yet, strange to say, more skeptical than ever. He did not controvert the opinions of papa and mamma so openly as formerly, but kept up a deep thinking, always ending in doubt; for he had an analytical mind, always wishing to see for himself the true cause and, sad enough, usually, to realize the effect. For a year before he was eight he doubted things like an old Voltaire or Tom Paine. Peter Peterkins was not so different, after all, from many children of even larger growth as to his habits of celebration. What he did not know positively, he guessed at, then believed in the guess until he was taught, occasionally, that all guesses are not right. Herein was deep heathen philosophy, mystical, and akin to esoteric Buddhism and other ancient cults modernized and vulgarized.

Like almost all children, he had been taught early to believe in St. Nicholas. This, with "Now I lay me down to sleep," constituted his creed of religious faith until his eighth year. At this period his supernatural nature underwent a radical change. One day, to the horror and consternation of his only and younger sister, he avowed his utter disbelief in the patron saint of Christmas. He was careful enough not to utter this profound heresy in the presence of mamma and papa, however, for two reasons. First, because he feared the displeasure of his parents; for, had not mamma and papa instilled the germ of this infantile faith into his mind? Second, he had a vague notion that perhaps his announcement of fall from grace might result in disaster as regarded Christmas presents, for even in his skepticisms he faintly convicted mamma and papa as the real transmitters of the good gifts ostensibly bestowed by St. Nicholas, they being the intermediaries of proper rewards and dire punishments as time and occasion might require.

How often had Peter Peterkins been warned that good little boys and girls were most kindly remembered by St. Nicholas with confections, nuts, toys and a world full of good things that the season's festivities should bring about. Then the punishment for bad little boys and girls—only lumps of hard coal and rattans for flogging would appear in each Christmas stocking. True it was that Peter could not remember the time his own stocking had not been filled to repletion with all the childish luxuries. This led him to assume that his conduct on this earth had ever been perfect, as he had always been annually rewarded; so, to many older souls, prosperity has appeared indicative of the possession of all the higher ethical virtues. It is a fine superstition that virtue is ever rewarded and our vices punished. It lifts up humanity and is an eminently proper superstition, if superstitions are proper. It was Fichte, the German philosopher, who once observed that "it is only superstition which restrains and controls the masses;" but this is a digression, for Peter Peterkins had never read Fichte, and it was a good thing for Peter that he never had. It will be seen from this that the boy had commenced to acquire wisdom, even if the sign did not yet appear in his teeth. He could look back proudly and note the time when he could not see why 12 times 12 should not be 200 instead of 144, and why 12 added to 20 be 100, just as well as 32. Time and a little rattan had strengthened Peter's ideas in a number of directions. He learned his letters early and, when seven, could read the headlines of the morning's paper with a certain degree of intelligence. The headlines "Mobs," "Suicide," "Lynching," "Bank Defalcations," and other ornamental display lines that adorn the great American dailies, served to turn his mind to warlike and strenuous doings, and inspired him with an ambition to become notorious and violent. By that method of unconscious cerebration, intuition, instinct (if you want to call it by such names), peculiar to juvenile citizens of the Republic, he lost faith in the true, good and beautiful of early childhood and indulged in rather morbid introspection, with an inherited tendency to doubt, his grandfather having been a Congregational clergyman of Scotch descent, recanting from Geneva Calvinism. Peter Peterkins doubted, doubted, and finally grew almost agnostic as to whether there was ever a real St. Nicholas.

One night, when his little mamma had tucked him in his bed with safety pins—for he had eaten half of a pumpkin pie at 6 o'clock dinner—she made him repeat after her the familiar "Now I lay me down to sleep" and the other pretty words of that lovely child-prayer. He suddenly stopped at the words "Pray the Lord my soul to keep." His gentle mother, leaning over his pillow, said, softly, "Peter, finish your prayer like a good boy." To her astonishment, he exclaimed, pettishly, "It is a story. Oh, mamma! I'm too tired and sleepy to say it." His mamma looked at him nervously. Peter turned over on his side and pretended to be asleep; in fact, the small hypocrite essayed a low, heavy breathing, akin to an infantile snore. She, thinking him now asleep, and yet wondering, retired to her own adjoining room, after kissing the boy on his rosy cheek.

When she had departed, Peter, who was really wide awake, felt in his heart the pang of grief at his deceit. He had the feeling of compunction, yet could not have exactly defined his sin. Then he remained awake several hours, pitching and tossing. Perhaps it was his sin that made him so restless, but he had eaten too much pumpkin pie, too, as has been previously noted; so, keeping his eye on the window pane and trying to count the stars in the sky beyond, he at last fell asleep, his little pillow bedewed with tears of infantile remorse. Alas! for the childhood remorse associated with pumpkin pie. It will be seen from this little episode that Peter had some conscience, for, next day, he asked his mamma's forgiveness for deceiving her, and was happy for the maternal pardon. It is difficult to catch the exact evolutions of the juvenile mind, but all know that the beautiful faith of early childhood fades all too often and imperceptibly away. Peter, later on in years, ever remembered that night of remorse when he first deceived his little mother. He never forgot how the stars, shining through the window panes, seemed like the eyes of pitying angels looking down—eyes so full of sorrow, eyes so reproachful that he had buried his face under the cover-lid, and so gently cried himself to sleep.

II.

The Peterkins family lived in the suburbs of a large city. Beside Papa and Mamma Peterkins and skeptical Peter, there was a little girl, Gabrielle. The latter was like a lovely Dresden doll, a regular princess, just such an one as are pictured in the fairy tale books. She had soft blue eyes, long flaxen hair, and a most entrancing pink-and-white complexion. She was plump and jolly, too. Above all, she had a charming disposition. She was a happy little girl, dancing around from morning until night, and often clapping her hands from sheer delight, she was so pleased with the world and everything in it. Gabrielle Peterkins was two years younger than Peter. She was a trustful little girl, ever having an abiding faith in all that mamma and papa told her; an obedient child in all things. She always said her prayers in an humble, submissive spirit, full of hope and faith for the morrow. Gabrielle had implicit confidence in St. Nicholas; for, was that not part of the child's religion taught her? To her St. Nicholas was a real spirit of the Christmas-tide, who came down on earth from his toy workshop in the sky, driving in a sleigh drawn by fiery reindeer, with jingling sleigh bells as a musical accompaniment; for had not mamma taught her to repeat those exciting verses:

"'Twas the night before Christmas, and all through the house
Not a creature was stirring, not even a mouse?"

Gabrielle knew the infantile poem like all other little girls in the English-speaking world. St. Nicholas was as much in evidence in her faith as the Ten Commandments are in the old Mosaic law. It had been a great shock to Gabrielle when skeptical Peter Peterkins had proclaimed his apostasy to her holiday creed and had turned boy heretic.

One day, a short time before Christmas, Peter had struck such a blow at her faith she was not only amazed, but stunned, at his impious remark. "Say, Gabey" (he called her "Gabey" for short), "I don't believe in that old St. Nicholas. There's no saint ever comes down a chimney of all the houses in the world and gives children all they ask their papas and mammas for. It's a big story, and I don't believe it—not Petey."

Gabrielle looked at her brother with eyes full of fear and wonder, while the tears gathered, more in sorrow than anger, as she replied, "I do, for papa and mamma said so." A youthful sneer and a curl of the upper lip, and Peter retorted: "Papa and mamma are not always right, Sister Gabey. Do you know what I am going to do next Christmas Eve? Sister, can you keep a secret, and promise you will never, never breathe a breath to papa and mamma?" He stopped here and looked at her inquiringly. She, with the natural feminine curiosity, that has pervaded the sex, young and old, since Eve wondered how an Eden apple would taste, after a very short reflection nodded her flaxen head in token of assent. "Swear it!" he cried, in a melodramatic fashion. He had heard Malloney, the stableman, who sometimes frequented variety shows, make this observation to the cook. "I will; I will," she whispered, awed by the mystery of the forthcoming secret. "Sister Gabrielle," said Peter, for the third time, "next Christmas eve I shall sneak out of bed after mamma and papa are sound asleep. Then I shall go upstairs to the back room, climb out on the top roof ladder and see if any St. Nicholas slides down our chimney flue."

Gabrielle buried her head in her hands in fright. "Oh, Petey, Petey!" she cried. "Do not be such a bad boy; St. Nicholas will be very angry, and" (here she sobbed) "if you watch him, he will certainly not leave anything in our stockings." Poor Gabrielle! she was thinking of her own disappointment; but that is natural, even in unselfish children. "Oh, Petey," she continued, looking up and drying her eyes; "you will catch your death of cold up on the roof there. Oh, you make me scared, too." Peter rose to his feet proudly, in a truly heroic fashion. "Rats!" he exclaimed, having heard Malloney say this to the upstairs girl. Had he said "Mice!" it might have been different. "Who is scared? Not I! not on your life. Petey does not scare, not even at St. Nicholas. As for the reindeer, I'll drive them myself." Gabrielle shivered; yet in her feminine heart of hearts, she rather admired the rash bravery of her only brother. "As for the cold, never mind that. I shall slip on my sealskin overcoat and put my feet in my arctics, to keep sliding off the icy roof; and, Gabey, if I catch St. Nicholas really going down the chimney, I'll ride in that sleigh, you bet your sweet life"—again the language of Malloney had been appropriated by the ever-imitative admirer of the stableman. At this outburst Gabrielle placed her fingers in her ears and refused to hear more, while Peter Peterkins stalked off like the stage hero in a circus side show. Gabrielle pondered deeply. Should she tell papa and mamma? "No," she answered to her dear little self. "If Peter is punished, and he usually is, it will be his own fault. What papa and mamma say is true."

It was at this moment that the voice of their mamma was heard on the outside stairs, calling after the skeptical brother: "Peter, go to the stable and tell Mr. Malloney to hitch up the horse. I must go down town this afternoon, as I have much Christmas shopping to do." Peter Peterkins raised his eyebrows knowingly. "Christmas shopping? Ah, ha, mamma could no longer fool me. Christmas shopping, indeed. She was St. Nicholas." His keen sense of observation also led him to think that his mamma's concluding remarks, just before she drove to town, were suspicious, for did mamma not say, in her loving way, as she kissed the two children good-bye, "Gabrielle, how would you like St. Nicholas to bring you a new French doll; for last year's doll has a broken leg and arm; and a new kitchen set for the doll house, and a new trunkful of new clothes for the new dolly, and lots and lots of other nice things?" Gabrielle clapped her hands laughingly. "Tell St. Nicholas to bring everything," she cried. "And you, Peter," continued Mrs. Peterkins, "what do you want St. Nicholas to bring you?" Peter hung his head as Gabrielle looked at him out of her honest blue eyes. "Lots, mamma, lots," he replied; and as the carriage turned the corner of the road he shouted, "Corner lots!" He looked at the shocked Gabrielle and laughed merrily.

III.

It was Christmas Eve, and the Peterkins family were seated around the dinner table; for Mr. Peterkins, who was a very active member on 'Change, took only a lunch down town in the city at the noon hour. Papa Peterkins was radiant in a Tuxedo suit and black cravat; for the family were what is known as modish. He was rather a flashy dresser, this papa, and was fond of wearing diamonds on his immaculate shirt front and manicured fingers. He was in striking contrast with Mamma Peterkins, who was ever in good taste, and abhorred jewelry and perfumes; yet mamma enjoyed good clothes, too, of the modish and not conspicuous kind. She was pretty as a picture, was Mamma Peterkins, and her husband was proud of her. It being Christmas Eve, the dinner was more elaborate than usual. Norah was a Hibernian jewel of the kitchen, and well knew how to cook; for was not Mamma Peterkins famed as a teacher of the culinary art, having learned the same from her Kentucky mother—and who knows better how to tickle the palate than an old Kentucky housewife? The table was a dream of beauty in its table linen, china and bright silverware. Papa Peterkins sat at one end of the table, mamma at the other, and the juvenile house of Peterkins on either hand. The merry rattle of knife and fork attested the consumption of several courses of the delicacies of the season. "Ha! ha!" observed Papa Peterkins, wiping his lips with a snowy napkin. "We had a jolly time at the office this afternoon. I gave all the clerks the usual ten-dollar gold piece, and the office boys a new fiver. I gave the typewriters—you know what nice girls they are," Mr. Peterkins looked up curiously—"each seven dollars. Ha, ha!"

"Why seven dollars?" queried Mrs. Peterkins.

"Well, you see, they could buy each a dress pattern and a pair of kids. Typewriters are never happy unless they have kid gloves to match their dresses." Mrs. Peterkins smiled. "Then," continued Papa Peterkins, "there were the draymen and porters, the shipping clerks and entry clerks, the scrub woman and night watchman—all a fiver apiece. Ha, ha! You should see how pleased they all were."

"I wish St. Nicholas would come every Fourth of July, too," said Peter Peterkins, with an infantile effort at sarcasm. He kicked at Gabrielle's feet under the table as he spoke; but his legs were not long enough to reach the small sister, who never noted the observation and went on nibbling her mince pie.

"My son," observed Papa Peterkins, "it is well Christmas comes but once a year, otherwise your father would be broken in the holiday give-away game.

The dinner in due course of time being ended, Mamma Peterkins said: "Now, darlings, you must go to bed very early to-night, for you know St. Nicholas has so many little children's stockings to fill, and he always wishes to find those to whom he intends to give presents fast asleep. 'Good children always sleep soundly on the night before Christmas.'"

Papa Peterkins rose from the table. "Now, children, do as mamma bids you. Run upstairs and go to bed at once. Peter, I saw you eat two big slices of that rich fruit cake, and you slipped another large piece into your pocket. Ha, ha, ha! You little rascal, give up that cake." He emptied Peter's pocket as he spoke.

"I always feel hungry Christmas Eve," said Peter, in an abashed and grieved tone.

"Yes, and you are never any other way any eve, Peter. I was once a small boy just like you, Peter." He picked his son up and kissed him. "Ha, ha! A good appetite is a true inheritance of the Peterkins family. Here, Gabrielle! Come and kiss papa good night. Now both be good children, and as soon as you are in bed, snore loudly, and go sound asleep—just to give old St. Nicholas a chance—ha, ha, ha! a chance at those stockings." Papa Peterkins took a cigar from his pocket and lighted it, while Mamma Peterkins led the children upstairs.

IV.

The children were duly tucked in bed and warned to go to sleep, while Mamma Peterkins went back downstairs to join her husband, who was smoking in the library. No sooner was mamma gone than Peter sat up in bed and whispered, "Gabey! Oh, Gabey! Are you asleep?" Gabrielle, on the opposite of the room, whispered back drowsily and rather impatiently, "Go to sleep, Peter; let me alone. I can not go to sleep when you talk." Peter gazed across the hearth to where the stockings were hanging from the mantel, and remarked scornfully, "Go to sleep, then. You are only a stupid little girl, anyhow!" The heavy breathing of Gabrielle evidenced the fact that she was already in the Land of Nod, all unheeding of Peter's personal remark. Peter, wearied at length, put his head down on the pillow, firmly resolved to do the deed of daring he had contemplated for several weeks past. The occasion was fitting, the hour had almost come when he would clearly determine whether St. Nicholas was myth or reality. He must have been two-thirds asleep, at least, for he imagined he heard some one gently enter the room and go out again. He glanced up suddenly with half open eyes. Yes, it was mamma. He saw her white-robed form softly fade in the doorway to the adjoining room, and heard the catch lock click gently after her. He had closed the entrance between the two rooms, and Peter heard his mother's and father's voices in a low but animated conversation in the front bedroom. Finally their conversation was stilled, and a few moments later Peter heard the old familiar snore of papa's after he had eaten very heavy dinners. The boy had learned by observation that when papa ate much rich pastry and took several glasses of Burgundy, papa usually snored early and often. The clock on the mantel was sounding "click tock, click tock, click tock," in its monotonous, exact, soporific manner. The movement of the pendulum as it evens up on the rachet, "click tock, click tock," is in itself enough to lull most healthy children to sleep. Peter Peterkins had closed his eyes, to be sure, but was keeping, so he thought, an intense vigil until such time as mamma and papa would be sound asleep. Once or twice (could it have been a dream, or a reality?) he fell into a semi-doze, only to awaken again with a sudden start. He heard the regular breathing of Gabrielle, and across the dimly-lighted room could see the tiny form of his sister snugly outlined under the eider-down quilt. He sat up in his bed once or twice, and gazed at the chimney. There were no manifest signs of the presence of St. Nicholas. The stockings appeared unusually large, however. He heard his mamma sigh once or twice, and then heard the loud snore of papa in the next room. All was quiet now, "not a creature was stirring, not even a mouse." "Click tock, click tock!" went the clock on the mantel.

There was a little agitation in Peter's mind now, also his stomach; for had he not partaken hugely of fruit cake at dinner? Now, there is a strong current of connection between an overloaded stomach and the brain—sometimes. It creates imagination in the latter. When the inevitable conflict between sugar, raisins, currants, turkey, lobster salad, ice cream and gastric juice arises, there is usually something doing in the upper as well as the lower stories of men's and boys' anatomies. Peter raised up again, or at least imagined he did. Sat up on the edge of the bed and silently and slowly put on his stockings, then all his other raiment. Taking his arctics and shoes in his hand, he slipped his sealskin cap on his head, then around his wicked little form he placed the very pride of his wardrobe, his warm sealskin overcoat. Noiselessly he stepped to the door, quietly unbolted the latch, and he was out in the hallway. Softly he closed the door and breathed a long sigh or two of relief! for, like all children on such occasions of adventure, Peter had held his breath until he was suffering for oxygen. The hall was not dark. A bright moonlight from without afforded sufficient illumination to see all things very plainly. Across the hall the boy went, opened another door, and closed it behind him. The rest was easy. The room from the back window opened on a lower roof, from which, by a short ladder, easy footing to the upper roof was obtained. He was out in the open air now. It was a glorious night. There was a good-sized moon and a myriad of bright, twinkling stars that peeped out in the sky. It must have been one of those nights when the stars sang together.

Peter crept behind the shadow of the tall upper chimney. "Now," he thought, "we will see whether there is any old St. Nicholas. Ha, ha! I'll give mamma and papa the laugh in the morning." (He had heard Malloney use this expression to the chambermaid, in speaking of Norah, the cook. Small boys with wealthy parents learn much from domestics. This by the way of excuse for our hero.)

The night was cold, and even in his seal-skin Peter was growing a little chilly. "Nothing doing," he muttered, and had half a mind to retrace his footsteps and go to bed again. He almost wished he were in Gabrielle's place, sound asleep; but no, what was Gabrielle? Only a small, silly girl. And he? Why, he was a man. Peter gazed at the moon. Now, an English poet, known for his wicked verse, says, "There is mischief in the moon," or words to that effect; for no one has time to consult a dictionary of quotations while indulging in Christmas story telling. Be this as it may, Peter, while looking at the silvery orb of night, rather bewildered by Luna's rays, saw, wonderful to state, a huge shadow suddenly sweep down like a hawk on its quarry, and before he could say "Jack Robinson" the musical twinklings of numerous sleigh bells and the patter of reindeer hoofs resounded on the roof. There, as plain as day, was St. Nicholas, just as described in the wonderful "Night Before Christmas," even to the little round stomach and the pipe in his mouth. Peter smelled the aroma of the tobacco smoke, and "maybe this is no lie?" Yes, and he was "dressed all in fur, from his head to his foot. (The poet said "foot" in place of "feet," so as to make a rhyme with "soot.")

Peter was filled with wonder and awe as he saw the saint of Christmas jump up to the very top of the chimney like a jack in the box, and then, just as rapidly, disappear down the flue. He must be down in the room with Gabrielle, filling the stocking. Now was the chance of Peter's life. The clock in the new church tower was sounding the hour of midnight. To think, with Peter, was to act. There stood the sleigh full of toys, with the eight tiny reindeer, just waiting for a driver. It was the greatest chance that any boy ever had to steal a ride. "He sprung to the sleigh, to the team gave a whistle." Well, the way the team went was far faster than the down from any thistle Peter had ever seen flash in midair. Talk of flying machines or automobiles! The speed was something frightful. Peter let go the reins and fell into the back part of the sleigh, on top of the drums, fifes, whistles, horns. "Boom, boom, boom!" went the hundreds of small drums. "Psit, psit, psit!" went the dozens of fifes. "Roar, roar, roar!" went the deep-toned whistles. "Whoo, whoo, whoo!" resounded the megaphonic clarion horns. "Toot, toot, toot! Tra-la, tra-la! Whee, whee, whee!" What an awful pandemonium reigned in the moonlight night. Up, up, up! swifter and higher.

Peter strove in vain to rise from the surrounding mass of resounding toys; doll babies, talking and crying, flying out of the sleigh toward the glimpses of the moon; Dresden china dolls, Paris wax dolls, London rag babies, even the dollies opened their eyes in amusement at the screaming. Jumping Jacks hopped from their boxes, monkey jacks climbed up their sticks in every possible direction, candy canes, bonbons, chocolate drops, snaps, snap dragons, peppermint candy, sugar kisses and marshmallows—a shower of confections like an April shower at all angles. Noah's ark, full of camels, elephants, lions, tigers, goats, cows, horses, sheep, cats, dogs, with a host of Noah's, Shems, Hams and Japhets burst open and fell in the depths beneath. Sky rockets fizzled, Roman candles spluttered, pin wheels revolved, big bomb crackers and little Chinese crackers banged and cracked in an awful mixup of red light and golden stars. Onward, onward, and ever upward toward the moon flew the skeptical Peter (now convinced) and the sleigh of St. Nicholas. Green snakes, red tin alligators, clockwork mice and rats ran around Peter's feet, while puffing little tin locomotives strove to climb up the inside of Peter's pants, a great hard lump of gingerbread hit him in the stomach, while a huge bunch of whips and rattan cut a tattoo in Peter's back. Oh, it was frightful. The pain in the back and stomach was unendurable! "Help, help, help! Mamma! Save me! Save me!" yelled Peter.

V.

It was Christmas morning, and Peter suddenly awoke. The bright sun was shining in at the window. "Merry Christmas! my little boy," said the soft voice of his gentle little mother, who kissed him as only a young mother can kiss a little boy in the morning. Kisses of the kind that men, old and gray, often dream of in years long after, when the mother has passed far beyond the eternal stars, like Dickens' beautiful story of the child and the star.

"Merry Christmas, Peter!" said his father, shaking him by the shoulder. "But the next time you scare us half to death with your nightmare from eating too much plum cake and mince pie—why—"

Mrs. Peterkins put her hand softly over her husband's mouth and looked up imploringly, as she whispered in his ear. "Do not tell him. Don't let him know he was so sick that we had to send for the doctor."

"Well, well!" retorted Mr. Peterkins; "I will leave you and go down stairs for breakfast. Ho, ho! Ha, ha! Ipecac and castor oil; a nice Christmas gift!"

Mrs. Peterkins took her teasing husband and pushed him out of the door. Gabrielle sat on the floor, playing quietly with her dolls and other pretty presents, ever and anon casting a curious glance at Peter. Mrs. Peterkins presently lifted Peter up and placed a shawl around his neck. "There," she remarked to Gabrielle, "you remain here with Peter and show him all the fine gifts St. Nicholas has brought him." She left the room as she finished. Gabrielle looked at Peter inquiringly, and then observed, "Petey, did you see him?" Peter put his finger to his lips as a sign of silence, then replied: "I had the time of my life. Saw the old man slide down the chimney, got into his sleigh, and the reindeer ran off faster than Mayor Foster's seventy-mile-an-hour automobile."

Gabrielle rose and came close to the bed, and throwing her arms around him, whispered: "I thought you said you did not believe in him?"

Peter hung his head in a shame-faced way, and then answered in a dignified manner. "Yes, but seein's believin', you bet your sweet life." (He had heard Malloney make this observation to the dining room girl, when the former caught the latter kissing the gardener.)

Gabrielle sighed deeply, and again asked, seriously: "Did you really see St. Nicholas, Petey?"

"Sure as any school teacher owns a rattan."

"Then it must be true," said Gabrielle, uneasily.

Needless to add that Peter's conversion to the St. Nicholas theory endured for several years thereafter.—By THOMAS C. MINOR, M. D., in Saxby's Magazine.

MAKING A RAILROAD TIME TABLE.

TRAVELERS who consult the ever-handy time table as to the arrival or departure of the particular train that is to carry them either going or coming, probably never give a thought as to the manner in which a modern time table is made up. To the uninitiated it is a Chinese puzzle, and even those well versed in its mysteries often become confused. How are time tables made? What is the procedure in determining the speed of a train and the exact time and place it shall meet another train? The answer to those questions is to be found in the "chartroom."

The chartroom is usually in some quiet corner of the general offices of a railway company, and for weeks at a time is locked. But every now and then the word goes forth that the schedule is to be shortened or lengthened, new trains to be put on, or some change made that necessitates the revision of the time card. Then, from distant points on the system, the division superintendents gather for a conference with the heads of the passenger and freight departments in order to learn the most desirable time for trains to arrive and depart from terminals. With this information they retire to the chartroom, where there is a separate chart for each district.

The charts are white boards about six feet wide and from two to five feet high. The names of the stations, accurately scaled, are printed on the board at the side, and from the top of the board many colored strings dangle, more suggestive of a parlor game than a tool for laying out the path of traffic and commerce.

The superintendents confer regarding the time at junction points on connecting trains and then work out the schedule on intermediate points on a chart of his division.

Horizontally the chart shows twelve midnight on the left side, and there is a line extending across the chart for each five minutes from that time until the full twenty-four hours have been shown. For convenience each third line, representing a period of fifteen minutes, is in a different color.

Superintendents are supplied with varicolored silk thread, pins and a tack hammer. Red is used to designate a passenger train, green for a second-class or freight train, black is for a third-class or local freight train. Whenever a train is scheduled out of a terminal at a certain hour, a pin is driven at the intersection of the station line and hour line—this being the beginning—and such other times at various stations as may be desired are determined by drawing the thread over the board to meet the intersection of the various station and hour lines at the proper times. Where necessary tacks are driven to keep the thread on the proper schedule.

Westbound trains run down and diagonally to the right. Eastbound trains start at the bottom, run upward and diagonally to the right. Wherever these threads cross a meeting point is indicated, and if this crossing of the threads is between station lines, it is then necessary to adjust the time on each train, so that the meeting point will be at the most convenient station. This is done by holding the lines crossed at station with a pin. Of course, on double tracks these meeting points are not necessary.

After the chart has been strung, a former issue of the time card with pen and ink, is brought into use and the superintendent begins at original terminal, looks at the station line, and whenever any string representing a train crosses this station line, he notes the time as shown on the proof of the time card. One train at a time is read from start to finish, and after they have all been checked, they are rechecked to see that all meeting points are properly made and noted on proof, after which the time table is ready for the printer.

To make a successful time card a superintendent must be perfectly familiar with the grade and track conditions, and when stringing the thread must allow more time for unfavorable grade, railroad crossing and other unusual stops, so that the running time of the train will be uniform. Whenever it is desirable to make a meal stop a pin is put in at the proper station, and the string run horizontally to the line until the required number of minute lines have been passed, when it is again taken down the board at the proper degree of speed. By making the string more vertical, the speed is increased, as there are fewer minute lines crossed. By swinging thread to the right the speed is decreased, and by the use of pins this can be arranged between each station to suit conditions.

SOME MATRIMONIAL ADVICE.

RAILROAD men will probably read with interest the following copy of a letter written by a prominent Atlanta man, who is too modest to permit the use of his name, to a friend on the occasion of his marriage, says the Atlanta (Ga.) Journal.

"Musing about the marriage of my friend, who has so successfully deported himself as a railroader, now embarking on a trip which has its beginning in time and its consummation in the home beyond.

"My boy, you are the engineer; the strength, the motive power is yours, but remember that, whilst many do not know 'who is running this train,' you know that the bell-cord controls the whole enterprise. Your bell-cord is held by your wife; it is a silken cord of love, but oh, how strong and how masterful! And yet the bell-cord does not bind the engineer—it only strikes a note to which his every impulse beats responsive. Heed its gentle monitions! Sometimes it will urge you to greater exertion, and more frequently it will 'slow down.' Heed the gentle suggestions of her whose intuitions are as definite and earnest as are your glances at the time card.

"Then, again, we must recall that every well ordered train must be prepared for 'caution signals.' Let your wife have the 'red lantern,' and when she waves it regard the signal. No good railroad man will 'run by a red light.' Believe me, dear friend, your very strength will but the more fully wreck the train unless you heed the signals.

"No train ever left its station better equipped nor more fully freighted with the best wishes of loving friends. Right well do I feel that the journey of life will be carefully and safely made, and when we are all at rest in the haven beyond, we will owe most of our success and crowning joy to the monitions of the bell-cord.

"Accept my best wishes."

A CHANGED MAN.

AFTER ten years of domesticity Peabody still is unable to understand his wife.

If there is a tie-up on the elevated road which necessitates his taking the surface line and reaching home twenty minutes late, he is invariably surprised to be welcomed by Mrs. Peabody with tears and a disposition to hysterics. Peabody's mind works slowly, and this constitutional defect makes it impossible for him to realize how many horrors a really active imagination can conjure up in twenty minutes. Indeed, in a quarter of that time Mrs. Peabody sometimes had seen him the victim of a wreck, in the hospital with a sunstroke and the prey of a holdup man.

As a matter of fact, in spite of his wife's apprehensions, nothing ever happens to Peabody. He is absolutely healthy and lucky to a degree that awakens the envy of all his acquaintances.

Naturally so nervous a wife as Mrs. Peabody is careful not to cause anxiety to others. She never goes downtown for an afternoon's shopping without acquainting Peabody with the fact over the telephone, and also telling him at just what hour she will be at home.

Mrs. Peabody went to call on a South Side friend the other day, and was surprised to meet at her friend's house an old schoolmate she had not seen for many years. Her friend declared that it was plainly foreordained that she was to stay to dinner. Mrs. Peabody was the more ready to accept this view, as it was the maid's afternoon out. An invitation was extended to Peabody over the telephone, but, though he generously urged his wife to stay and enjoy herself, he explained that business would keep him at the office late, so he would get his dinner downtown. Then he would go home. "That is, if you're not afraid to come home alone," he added, as an afterthought.

"Oh, not at all, dear," answered Mrs. Peabody, who shows her unselfish disposition by reserving her apprehension for others; "I'll be home at 8:30 promptly."

It was during the dinner that the proposal was made to extend the festivities by going to the theater. The suggestion was tempting, but at first Mrs. Peabody refused to consider it. By this time it was too late to reach Peabody at the office.

"If he expected me and I didn't come he'd worry so," Mrs. Peabody said.

But the friends, who knew Peabody, laughed at this idea so heartily that Mrs. Peabody began to think that perhaps she was overparticular. Between the ridicule of one friend and the coaxing of the other, her scruples were lulled to rest. So the three women went to the play.

Meanwhile Peabody was enjoying himself unexpectedly. Just as he left the office he ran across an old friend, whose wife was out of town. The two men dined together and then went out to the Peabody flat, where they spent an enjoyable evening over their cigars. Waite, who is old enough to be Peabody's father, has white hair and a wrinkled face, but his spirit of boyish fun belies his appearance. When Peabody suggested that Waite spend the night there Waite fell in with the plan without demur. Peabody gave up his room, as is the practice of flat dwellers when guests are entertained, and himself took the folding bed in the parlor.

The silencing of Mrs. Peabody's scruples had been only temporary. All through the play she was haunted by the thought of her husband pacing the floor and listening for steps on the stair. By the end of the second act she was hardly able to answer a question, and she seriously deliberated feigning an attack of heart trouble as an excuse to leave.

Mrs. Peabody made her farewells very brief and hastily made her way to the elevated station. A train was just pulling out as she reached the platform, and the brief interval of waiting for another train seemed almost interminable. Now that there was nothing to distract her attention, her fancy was at liberty to frame all sorts of horrifying conjectures. She wondered if her husband had notified the police of her mysterious absence. She felt sure that she would find him in a state of collapse.

There was an ominous silence about the flat as she climbed the stairs. A light burned in the hall, but elsewhere darkness reigned. Wavering between doubt and fear, Mrs. Peabody entered her husband's bedroom and turned on the electric light. As it flashed up she saw a sight that struck her dumb.

It was even worse than she had thought! The white head on the pillow, the gaunt, wrinkled face, so unlike her husband's almost cherubic chubbiness, told a tale of suffering beyond words.

"John! John!" shrieked Mrs. Peabody. "What have I done? How you are changed! I am an unworthy wife!"

Then she fell back in the hall in a genuine attack of hysterics.

So soundly was Peabody asleep that even then he did not come to a realizing sense of the situation till Waite had donned some clothing and shaken him into partial consciousness.

The rest of the night was passed in reassuring Mrs. Peabody. Strange to say, instead of being relieved on discovering that no evil had resulted from her absence, she felt resentment because her husband had taken her safety for granted.—Chicago News.

TERRAPINS AS LEGAL TENDER.

"WHY don't you go to work for a railroad?" asked the manager of a business house of a telegraph operator who applied for work yesterday.

"I worked for a railroad once," replied the operator.

"What road was it?" asked the manager.

"Some little streak of rust down in Louisiana. The mosquitoes got so fierce I couldn't stand it. So I resigned and went in to the cashier to get my money. When he figured up my time he pushed over five flour sacks, tied at the tops.

"What are those for?" I asked.

"That's your salary," he said. 'We pay off in terrapins.'

"It stunned me for a minute, but it pays to be indifferent to surprises down South. So I just took 'em and said:

"Where can I cash 'em?"

"Any place," said the cashier. 'They're good as gold.'

"I asked him if I could leave four of them there, while I went across the street. Then I opened the sack, picked out the largest one and went across to a saloon.

"Are these things legal tender?" I asked the barkeep.

"Sure," he replied; 'what'll you have?'

"Give me a New Orleans gin-fizz, and let the gang have what they want," I said, laying my terrapin on his back so he couldn't run away.

"Here, Bill, dollar forty out," said the barkeep, handing the terrapin to the cashier.

"Here's your change," said the cashier, handing me two little terrapins."

"What did you do with the rest of them?" asked the manager.

"Took them over to the depot and bought a ticket to New York," replied the operator. "I also resolved that I wouldn't work for any more railroads."—K. C. Times.

POETICAL

Those Buttons.

When I am going to bed at night,
My clothes come right undone;
I'm sure I can undress myself
As fast as any one.

But in the morning, when I dress,
My things seem such a lot!
It takes so long to put them on,
I get all tired and hot.

My stockings aren't so very bad;
I lace my boots up, too,
But oh, the buttons up my back
Are dreadfully hard to do.

I twist and turn, and try to feel
To get them buttoned straight,
But it's no use; they're always wrong
And always keep me late.

Big people may like buttoned backs,
But I do wish there'd be
Some clothes that go on easier,
For little girls like me.

The U. & I. Ry.

HUNNEWELL, Mo., September 26, 1907.
What though between thy heart and mine,
The long miles stretch, my dear,
Since we have a private railway line
And love is the engineer.
Love drives the engine straight and true,
And the trains in an instant fly
Bearing sweet thoughts from me to you
Over the lines of the U. & I.

The U. & I. is a wonderful road,
For the stations are in our hearts,
And the train is due in thine with its load
The moment it departs.
It runs through the land of lovers' dreams
That ever has a starry sky,
And fairies welded the soft moonbeams
Into rails for the U. & I.

The cars are the words that we fain would say:
Sweet words that all lovers prize,
And the engine is lighted upon its way
By the light of your fair blue eyes.
The boiler is fed by the gentle tears
You shed when we said "Good-bye,"
And our trustful hopes and our tender fears
Are the freight of the U. & I.

And never an accident, never a wreck,
Nor washout, nor strike, nor blockade
Has come to our dear little railroad to check
The trains since the last rail was laid.
But back and forth, 'twixt your heart and mine
Each moment the trains still fly,
Bearing sweet messages over the line
Of the wonderful U. & I.

The Operator.

He sits all alone in his office,
Toiling from day to day;
He never complains or grumles—
Has never a word to say.
He thinks of his home from which he has roamed;
'Tis years since he saw the place;
And his mother, dear, her voice he can hear.
Ah, how well he remembers her face.

He comes to his work in the morning,
And works till the close of day;
He never has time for pleasures,
And never a day for play.
His "call" you may hear every day in the year.
He never lays off, or gets sick,
For his dollars are few; he knows it won't do.
There's no use for him to kick.

Perhaps, back at home, there's a sweetheart
From whom he has had to part;
Perhaps his sweetheart's been faithless,
And he's working to ease his heart.
Perhaps it's a wife; the pride of his life
For whom he is toiling along:
And the dear little tots, who enliven his lot,
And cheer him each night with their songs.

He saves a few dollars each pay day,
And lays them away with his pile.
He hopes for a day not far distant
When he can return smile for smile.
He earnestly prays for happier days,
Which he knows he deserves for his work;
He knows he's a serf of the "lords of the earth,"
But his conscience will not let him shirk.

Shall we all, like this poor operator,
Sit down at our master's feet,
And allow them to fat on our earnings
While they deal out our portion to eat?
Shall we always be slaves of the lordly knaves—
"The mighty powers that be?"
Not We'll strive, not in vain,
For we'll rend the chain,
By the help of the Grand O. R. T.

The Child We Had Last Christmas.

This Christmas morn so clear and cool,
 Our home is very sad;
 We are thinking of one year ago,
 A darling child we had;
 December last, the twenty-third,
 Pneumonia found its way,
 Upon his lungs it steadily worked,
 From then till Easter Day.

This Christmas morn one year ago,
 We pressed him near our hearts,
 And prayed to God in earnest words
 That the fever would depart;
 But he stood the pangs and pains of Death,
 And willfully bore the awful doom,
 And as the Easter lillies bloomed,
 We laid him in the tomb.

This Christmas morn one year ago,
 The toys that filled the little bed,
 They are safe beneath the lock and key.
 Only relics of the dead.

That vacant chair with our home
 No human child can fill;
 His horse and drum are laid away,
 The little harp is still.

This Christmas morn one year ago,
 His voice was weak and low;
 But then we thought that God would raise
 The one we cherished so.
 No more that dear sweet voice we hear,
 But confident we stand,
 That God who blessed the little ones,
 Now holds him by the hand.

This Christmas morn one year ago,
 Oh darling child beware;
 Your parents sit and spend the day
 In grief and deep despair.
 We think of those dear Christmas morns,
 When the little stockings hung,
 All filled with goodies pure and sweet,
 And our home with music rung.

A Merry Christmas now to all,
 But to us 'tis grief, not joy;
 Oh, parents, you who never knew
 The price of a darling boy,

Nor had the wakening angel, Death,
 To call them from your home,
 Oh, thank the Lord, for you are blessed
 This glorious Christmas morn.

—C. C. Morris.

Better Than Gold.

Better than grandeur, better than gold,
 Than rank and titles a thousandfold,
 Is a healthy body, and mind at ease,
 And simple pleasures that always please,
 A heart that can feel for another's woe,
 With sympathies large enough to enfold
 All men as brothers, is better than gold.

Better than gold is a conscience clear,
 Though toiling for bread in an humble sphere;
 Doubly blessed with content and health,
 Untried by the lusts and cares of wealth;
 Lowly living and lofty thought
 Adorn and ennoble a poor man's cot;
 For mind and morals, in nature's plan,
 Are the genuine tests of a gentleman.

Better than gold is sweet repose
 Of the sons of toil when the labors close.
 Better than gold is the poor man's sleep,
 And the balm that drops on his slumbers deep
 Bring sleeping draughts on the downy bed
 Where luxury pillows its aching head.
 The toiler simple opiate deems
 A shorter route to the land of dreams.

Better than gold is a thinking mind.
 That in the realm of books can find
 A treasure surpassing Australian ore,
 And live with the great and good of yore,
 The sage's lore and the poet's lay,
 The glories of empires passed away;
 The world's great dream will thus unfold
 And yield a pleasure better than gold.

Better than gold is a peaceful home,
 Where all the fireside characters come—
 The shrine of love, the heaven of life,
 Hallowed by mother, or sister, or wife.
 However humble the home may be,
 Or tried by sorrow by heaven's decree,
 The blessings that never were bought or sold
 And enter there, are better than gold.

FACETIOUS

Had to Wait.

A woman entered a photographer's gallery. "Do you take pictures of children?" she asked.

"Yes," was the reply.

"How much are they, please?"

"Three dollars a dozen," said the proprietor.

"Well," she replied, with a sigh, "I shall have to wait and come again. I have only eleven."—Ex.

Took the Pill.

A Salt Lake justice of the peace was recently called upon to unite a couple in matrimony. The name of the groom was John Pill. When the justice reached that part of the ceremony where the bride agrees to take the groom for better or worse the justice said: "Clara, do you take this Pill?" The bride was heard to respond, "Yes," almost inaudibly, while her face was suffused with blushes.

A Delicate Hint.

Two very cadaverous-looking tramps looked in at the window of a railway station where a telegraph operator sat at his key.

"Say, pardner," one of them said in a very husky voice, "report a couple o' empties goin' East."—Harper's Weekly.

Man's Precious Rib.

A young lady having asked a surgeon why a woman was made from the rib of a man in preference to another bone, he gave her the following gallant answer:

"She was not taken from the head lest she should rule, nor from his feet lest he should trample upon her, but she was taken from his side that she might be his equal; from under his arm that he might protect her; from near his heart that he might cherish and love her."—Houston Chronicle.

A Startling Motto.

A traveling salesman died very suddenly in Pittsburg. His relatives telegraphed the undertaker to make a wreath; the ribbon should be extra wide, with the inscription: "Rest in Peace" on both sides, and if there is room, "We shall meet in heaven."

The undertaker was out of town, and his new assistant handled the job. It was a startling floral piece which turned up at the funeral.

The ribbon was extra wide and bore the inscription, "Rest in Peace on Both Sides, and if there is Room We Shall Meet in Heaven."—The Pneus.

How He Told It.

There is a small boy living in Spokane, Wash., whose propensity to enlarge upon ordinary happenings or even to invent wondrous tales, would have caused his parents much amusement had it not been for the fear that the habit might grow with the youngster. He had been scolded many times, and warned of the terrible things that might happen to small boys who fibbed.

One day his mother told him that God was always listening, and that every time even a tiny lie was told it was written in a big book by God, and stood as a black mark against his name forever. The very next day the little boy came running in and related to his mother an astounding tale of a gigantic animal which he had pursued and overcome.

He waited for the customary expressions of incredulity and warning admonitions, but none came. His mother, nodding gravely, began to praise his courage. This was too much. The small man's sense of right compelled him to warn his mother in some manner that he was only a pretender. Suddenly raising his hand, he exclaimed: "S-s-s-h! Don't you hear God writing?"

Landed.

An old lady and gentleman were taking their first trip on the steam cars. She held her breath while crossing a trestle, and then, turning to her husband, exclaimed in a high voice: "Thank God, Ezra, we have lit!"—Argonaut.

Angels with Stingers.

A little Cleveland tot of three years was put to bed, her first night in New Jersey, by her mother, with the words, "Now go to sleep, darling, and remember the angels are flying about your little crib and keeping you from harm." A few minutes later the patter of little feet was heard, and a little, white-robed figure emerged from the bedroom. "Why, darling, what's the matter?" said the mother. "I don't like the angels," sobbed the little girl. "Why, dearie, why not?" "One o' th' angels bit me."

The Reason.

The Kansas papers tell how a school teacher was giving his pupils a lesson regarding the circulation of the blood. "If I stand on my head, by way of illustration, the blood rushes to my head, doesn't it?" Nobody contradicted him. "Now," he continued, "when I stand on my feet, why doesn't the blood rush into my feet?" "Because," answered a daring youth, "your feet ain't empty."

Profitable Forgetfulness.

Professor (coming from his club holding up triumphantly his umbrella to his wife)—You see, my dear Alma, how stupid are all the anecdotes about our absent-mindedness; you see, I haven't forgotten my umbrella.

Mrs. Professor—But, my dear, you didn't take your umbrella with you; you left it at home.—Exchange.

Its Effect.

"Suppose," said a father to his little boy, "you have half an apple and I give you another half. How much have you?"

"A whole apple," said the boy.

"Well," continued the father. "suppose you had a half dollar and I gave you another half dollar, what would have then?"

"A fit," promptly answered the boy.—Ex.

Willie Saw.

"Be observing, my son," said Willie's father. "Cultivate the habit of seeing, and you will be a successful man."

"Yes," added Willie's uncle. "Don't go through the world blindly. Learn to use your eyes."

"Little boys who are observing know a great deal more than those who are not." Willie's aunt put in.

Willie took their advice to heart. A day passed, and once more he stood before the family council.

"Well, Willie," said his father, "have you been using your eyes?"

The boy nodded.

"Tell us what you've learned."

"Uncle Jim's got a bottle of whisky hid behind his trunk," said Willie. "Aunt Jennie's got an extra set of teeth in her dresser, and pa's got a deck of cards and a box of chips behind the books in the secretary."

"The little sneak!" exclaimed the family.

English as Spoke.

A cockney solicitor who was characteristically mixed in the use of his h's happened to meet one of the wits of the American bar. The Englishman, commenting on the legal profession of New York, said that its members were proficient and learned, but that they were absolutely ignorant on the subject of "hentails."

"Ah!" said the American. "My dear sir, we may be ignorant of the 'hentail,' but our knowledge of the 'cocktail' is unsurpassed."

Touched Sore Spot.

"Sorry, sir," telephoned the butcher, "but we are just out of sirloin. Why don't your wife order you a round?"

"W-what's that?" exploded Harker at the other end of the line.

"I say, why don't your wife order you a round?"

"Why don't my wife order me around? Great Caesar, man, that is all she does—order me around from morning until night. If you were nearer I'd——"

But the startled butcher hung up the receiver and fled.—Rocky Mountain Guide.

Our Correspondents

THE AGE OF PERPLEXITIES.

WE copy from the N. Y. Tribune, November 15th, as follows: "The Rev. Dr. W. R. Huntington, of Grace Church, asked the convention to appoint a committee to co-operate with the international body in devising the best means to develop good citizenship by the aid of the public schools. He said he had the approval of several prominent educators of the country, among them Dr. W. R. Maxwell, the superintendent of the New York public schools, and Nicholas Murray Butler, president of Columbia University. He said all favored a movement that would inculcate theistic morality among the children of the public schools."

Let us remember that that happens in the most advanced nation on earth, the one which is under the best geographic and territorial conditions to develop healthy minds; the one that has, for over three centuries, including our colonial period, expended more money and effort in education as the basis of power and influence and happiness. For over seventeen years as a public writer, for over thirty-two years as a mere talker and private writer, have we tried to place the cause of all human misfortunes and tears and groans on "a defective education in the essentials of our life terrestrial."

Honest, Christian citizenship has always seemed to us the most vital and indispensable element in all national life. And that honesty should be principally inculcated in the bosom of the domestic group, commencing with all children early in life. The father and mother, the latter most especially—they should be educators of all fundamental morality. That implies, of course, healthy domestic groups, where at least plain comforts can be had; where love, in its most sublime touches, can alone be inculcated. Schools, colleges, universities—it is doubtful if they will ever be worth much in the fundamental morality we need, because of the frictions and complications engendered by multitudes shut up for hours in large buildings, and because the element of dollars and cents is there inevitably entangled with the teaching processes that often work along selfish lines.

Yes, the domestic groups and the churches; they are the natural educators of all bottom, substantial, solid, christian, theistic, God-like morality, the kind which applies to all our collective activities in social and national life, and that is the very morality that the educated classes of all ages have refused to learn, have refused to teach. What, then, can we expect of the working masses of nations, whom we, superior people, are always blaming for the social wrongs that vitiate and have vitiated the atmosphere of every decade and every century all over the earth?

If there is anything wonderful in the humanity of all ages, it is the honest men manage to evolve in the midst of the harsh and barbaric and dishonest conditions that each historical period has inflicted upon the 95 per cent of that humanity. Even when that 95 per cent, or even but 80 per cent or less, still, if you prefer, even when they claim for a larger share of human happiness, all they ask is but a small fragment of what a God of beauty sublime has decreed, is constantly ordaining all men should have. The very orderly submission of the millions to the few, century after century of oppression, in forms crude or refined, open or hidden, that alone proves that the rank and file of nations is created for universal goodness and joy.

In the latter part of October we had the opportunity of sending one of our recent economic essays to a professor of history in New York City, one of those private professors chosen by our well-to-do people who can afford to pay high prices for private education—What should be the best education, the most natural? Education by wholesale, to multitudes in large buildings, shall always be a failure. It has been so thus far, anyhow, principally because it lacks personal contact between teacher and pupil. Then, it is subject to the demoralizing effects of charities, gifts, favoritisms, public or private, social or political degeneration, etc.

The professor in question enjoyed our essay, but declined to criticise it as we requested him. He only said it was too indefinite. Everything is indefinite when we have no time or taste to understand what we are told. Then, everything is bound to be indefinite as long as we, the educators of humanity, refuse to have precise and conscientious definitions of fundamental truth and the fundamental duties the truth implies, in the life of men and nations. And humanity has never yet been taught the difference between duties in the incidentals and in the fundamentals of human growth, life and development.

The essay sent to the professor happened to contain a specific analysis of the action of our modern corporations and trusts in curtailing the equal, natural rights due to all men for their natural, normal existence in the bosom of each social group. That happens to be our emphatic and localized battle today in all modern nations, ours most especially. And a fine professor of history, fresh from the best colleges of the land, at the freshest and most robust period of human life, between thirty and forty, has not seen anything about that battle, has not yet discovered that the equal, natural rights of men are trampled upon in forms the most perverse and disgraceful ever seen on the face of the planet. It is utterly impossible to conceive of anything more needed today than to know how to at least bring a certain degree of harmony between the natural rights of every man and the artificial rights we see fit to give to some groups of men. And still the poor professor could not see that, as implied in our essay.

The poor teachers and professors! What are they, after all, but industrial slaves? Even our multimillionaires are the sordid slaves of the wealth they hold. None of us has the healthy normal rights that we are all entitled to have.

The last three or four decades shall be known as "the age of perplexities." Other decades shall, no doubt, follow. Up to fifty years ago some men had some time to think, even if they did not properly use their time in the acquisition of sound thoughts. To-day even the time is lacking for sound thoughts. All our brain power has to go "on how to make both ends meet, on how to hold our job and our wealth."

Unconsciously, perhaps, most of us imagine that life's meaning for each of us is to obtain more wealth, wisdom and goodness than most of the rest, and distribute some with a few of the rest, while remaining in possession of most of the total wealth, goodness and wisdom in each nation. That is the egotistic morality which brings all perplexities, troubles and sins. We need the Christian, altruistic morality which alone can give us an honest distribution of the wealth, goodness and wisdom to be naturally obtained by each national group. Every national sin or disturbance is but a manifestation of social dishonesty embodied in human laws.

JOSE GROS.

THE BONDING QUESTION.

Reference to the bonding question mentioned in the September journal—this is a matter which should not be dropped until wisely disposed of, and every one in the telegraph and agency profession should contribute an expression of their views for final consideration and settlement of the question. We are, in my opinion, absolutely at the mercy of a bonding company. If we are a bonded employe for the reason that the bonding company could ask to be relieved of responsibility on behalf of any employe without stating a reason, and you will be down and out immediately, regardless of your long, efficient, honest and faithful service. The only recourse one would have would be for his employer to take up his case, or for some influential person to become interested in the matter, or for the person to take his own case into court for the expensive satisfaction he would get and gain nothing. If taken up by some influential friend or the employer, it would probably take some months to get the matter determined, and during this time the employe has lost his good position, and been compelled to take an inferior one, or has gone into other business, and may be, after five years, he will get back to the old position or a similar salary. During the five years away from the old position, the person has become downhearted by having to sacrifice his or her little home, the accumulation of a lifetime. On the other hand, take the case to court and you get the satisfaction of proving your honesty and the imposition imposed upon you, but you do not get the old job back, do not make any financial gain, and the bonding company will not renew your bond, because they do not have to do so, and because you have made trouble in court for them. These difficulties may arise by your employer being prejudiced against you, and making a request of the bonding company to file a request for relief of responsibility on your behalf. It may be done through prejudice, personal or business of some former friend or acquaintance who desires to see your downfall, or in the hopes of advancing the opportunities of some friend or relative. After discussing the difficulties and disadvantages under which we labor it is naturally in order to discuss the ways and means of effecting a permanent remedy. Suppose we incorporate in our agreement with the railroads that in case claim is made on the bond company that the employe interested shall have furnished him all records bearing on the case in question; that the employe not be discharged (only suspended) pending an investigation before proper representatives of the bond company, and if not at fault be reinstated, and paid for lost time; and in this connection we to have an agreement with the bond company that claims be not paid until a personal investigation has been made in the presence of the employe interested with what witnesses, in good standing, he may deem necessary to reach a fair and just verdict. We pay our bond premiums, from which the bond company benefits financially, and we certainly have the right to demand fair and just treatment from them, or else should, as an individual, have the right to select a reliable surety company of our own selection, or as an organized body request our employer to cancel all bonds with any unfair company, and replace elsewhere. Indeed, it is to be hoped that no employe is foolish enough to think that a dishonest or risky person will be retained by a bonding company.

Make our agreement with the bond company protect our bonded honor, or follow the suggestion of organizing our own bond company.

I am afraid we are wasting too much time discussing the $75.00 minimum; as all work is not equal, we can not hope that all pay will be equal; at least I do not know of any organized labor asking equal pay for unequal work or conditions, and if such were in force some people would be mean enough to try to get a good person out of an easy job with hopes of getting it; at any rate such would be a feeling of hardship on the person at a busy office or agency. We might undertake to classify positions, and have equal pay for equal work, as previously outlined. It seems to me best that we protect what we do get—$55.00 or $65.00, well protected, is often better than $100.00 with partial or no protection.

A few words about the student: All have at last about reached the sensible conclusion that they have been furnishing the razor with which to shave their salary and cut their throats, and the student is becoming a thing of the past. Of course, there must be some students to supply the vacancies caused by deaths, entering more attractive occupations or retiring to private life, but it appears that it would be within the bounds of wisdom to adopt a student clause, furnish a student's card, making a nominal charge therefor, and having the obligations taken. The student should make application, which should be approved by the division's chairman and by the president of the Order. This would place the president in position to know the percentage of supply, and also bring the student up as an Order man. There should be an age limit for students.

In my opinion, better results can be obtained from the meetings on a subdivision basis; that is, the division chairman and one or two district chairmen for each division, which would give each about fifty miles, and all members will have some chance to attend a meeting more regularly. A synopsis of the discussion and result should be furnished the chairman of the districts, who would take up the question at the next meeting, if they did not previously do so. A monthly synopsis be made in concentrated form referring to the discussion, and results should be made up by the division's chairman, furnished the district chairman and president or secretary; the president or secretary briefly referring to different topics through the journal, with or without recommendations, as he may deem proper, and all would be in a position to know what is being agitated, and to what extent. Let us have an expression along general lines from others. OLD-TIMER.

SHOULD FORM BOND COMPANY.

The bond question has been more or less discussed in the September, October and November issues of the journal, which is pretty good proof that some or most all of the members of the O. R. T. are deeply interested in this question. Indeed, it is time that we were sweeping the cobwebs from our brains and prying our organization loose from the jaws of unfair and unjust security companies. These different bond companies have it in their power at any time to cancel and make void our bonds without giving us any reason whatever. And just as long as we are tied to the apron-strings of such existing corporation, just so long will we be below the level of our fellow-workmen. We do not live in a world in which evils cure themselves; they are cured by intelligent and well-directed efforts on the part of human beings. Now, dear reader, if we are human beings, let us combine our efforts and see if we can not effect a cure. As long as our employer requires us to carry bonds, which will be the case as long as the world stands, why not organize a bond company that would work in harmony with our organization? This could be done very easily, and instead of swelling the dividends of security companies, we would be building to our own organization, and at the same time placing ourselves out of reach of any and all security companies. Perhaps one of the kindest things the years do for us as they pass by is to show us what things we can do. It is true that we have been held in the grasp of scandalous bond companies long enough to realize that the sooner we do away with this form of punishment, the sooner we will reach the goal of justice.

The writer is not going to suggest any plans in which an O. R. T. bond company could be organized, but he can not resist saying that too little time can not be wasted in arriving at some satisfactory conclusion.

The Order of Railroad Telegraphers has brought in its train a number of problems which call for immediate investigation. Evidence of this is afforded by a number of operators and agents that can not get bonds. Not because they are outlaws, or criminals, but because the bond companies have the power to withhold them. And we might just as well pocket our feelings as to ask for an explanation. Now, brothers, let us put a little extra stiffening in our spinal column, and by supreme power, crown our efforts by adding another story to our grand Order by organizing a railroad telegraphers bond company. L. L. F., Div. 76.

ONE SUBJECT AT A TIME.

There are about 40,000 members of the O. R. T., and there are about 40,000 ideas on any question that may arise. For some reason or other I have agreed with a good many on this idea of starting a bond company, and, judging by the interest that is taken in it, I think it will be carried through. The idea is a very good one, and I am patiently waiting for a chance to vote on it. I will now let some one else do the talking on this subject, and when it comes to putting up the "SX," I will try to do my share, and a little more.

Each one of us has some certain grievance that we would like to have remedied, but there are certain hardships that are imposed upon us all that are worse than others, and affect a larger number than some other grievance that can be mentioned.

Take, for instance, the rate of pay. I think that question takes all of us in. Possibly working hours are next, and so on down to the least important ones—those affecting the smallest number. Now, why not have our president take one of these grievances and have the Order take united action on it, after having talked it over thoroughly and voted on it? That is, talk on that subject, and that alone. If hours are taken to be adjusted, then talk hours, write hours, and spend all your time on that until we have finished with it, and then take the next. Now that the bond question is up, let us go after it right, and do it up brown. By that time we will be right on the eight-hour law and $75.00 minimum or hourly pay question, which we expect to take action on on March 1st.

I have not written to President Perham, but expect him to read this, as he should surely read THE TELEGRAPHER, and any operator, or any one connected with the O. R. T. who doesn't read it should get ninety days four times a year. After Bro. Perham has read this, I hope he will agree with me, and start something, and if he does not agree with me, then take some idea that is better and use it; any old thing, just so we get something started.

CERT. 1452, Div. 76.

SHOULD ACT ON BOND QUESTION.

The plan proposed by Bro. Quick in the editorial of the September number of THE TELEGRAPHER, on the bond question, is, according to my views, a question of vital importance to all telegraphers throughout the United States, Mexico, and Canada. I can't see how any telegraph operator who has to give bond in any way can pass such an important subject by without giving his opinion on it, and doing all in his power to make it a reality. I don't think there is any doubt but what every member of the Order desires an "O. R. T. bond company," and I think this is the proper way to go about it. I believe if Bro. Quick will publish the blank in the January issue of THE TELEGRAPHER that each and every member of the Order will vote either one way or the other.

It is useless for anyone to attempt to tell through the columns of our journal the wrongs done our members by these bond and surety companies, located in different parts of the country, and I don't think it is necessary, for everyone that knows anything about these companies knows too well that the most worthless loafer has sufficient influence with the bond companies to have one's bond revoked.

So far, I have been fortunate in not having to take bond with any company, as the positions I have held never required it, but if this scheme is upheld by the membership and put through, I want several shares of the stock. But, as I have said before, I think it should be an "O. R. T. institution," owned and controlled by members of the O. R. T., and organized for the purpose of protecting them from the bond companies now in existence, and members only to be bonded by this company, for if a man don't think enough of the O. R. T. to be a member, then he should not be allowed the privilege of deriving any benefits from the labors of its members. On the other hand, if he has been a member of the O. R. T., and, for reason known to the Order, been expelled from it, I would pronounce him not a fit subject to be bonded by the organization.

There should be some limit as to the number of shares of stock each subscriber should be allowed to take, no one person should be allowed over forty or fifty shares of this stock. I think it would be an easy matter to get 50,000 subscribers from members of the O. R. T. in the United States, Mexico and Canada, and if this was done there would be no need for outside assistance. There is not a railroad in the country today, or will there ever be one, that can turn down a bond from a bond company having a capital of $250,000 or $500,000, at $10 per share. We could easily raise a capital of $250,000, as that would only take about one-half of our membership at one share each, and we all know there are any number of us that want more. Let's hear from some one else, and get busy, now is the time to do it, and, while we are at it, do it right.

S.

SUGGESTIONS REGARDING BOND COMPANY.

By the October TELEGRAPHER I note the bond question, which has so long troubled us, is practically settled, it only remaining to work out the details of the company to be organized, for, I take it, there is no such a thing as reasonable objection to the plan as outlined by Bro. Quick.

As to the details, as many suggestions will be made and all can not be used, I wish to contribute a few to the general supply from which the choice is to be made. Most of these were touched upon by different writers in the October journal, and to these I wish by this means to show my approbation. I would suggest to:

Limit bond, if practicable, to O. R. T. members, if not, then to members of a labor union only, and if even that is not practicable, then to railway employees only, and see if the nons will have the consummate gall to request another favor from the organization they are loaning a hand to stifle. But under no consideration bond anyone who has ever been known to scab. No bond to parties under twenty-one years of age. Bond with this company compulsory on part of members where schedules are secured permitting. Make all bond certificates expire with current card, and place on the card the amount of bond liability. Make stock certificates transferable to O. R. T. members only. Limit the ownership of stock as follows: One share only to each member, unless not enough interested, then one additional share to each member so desiring, in order of application, until quantity desired is exhausted; in no case, however, shall one person be allowed to vote more than ten shares; whereby a few can not gain control over that in which all are interested.

Now that the bond question is settled, how was it accomplished? By a ballot in THE TELEGRAPHER, wasn't it? We had a little gathering of the faithful on this division a few days ago, and a resolution was passed requesting that the eight-hour and $75 minimum be settled in the same way. And why not? I know from the contents of THE TELEGRAPHER for the past five years what your sentiments are on this proposition. Now, suppose before you lay this magazine down you write a letter to our worthy Bro. Quick, calling for this ballot in the next journal. Then mail it. It is not necessary to make a long spiel. Bro. Quick is a busy man, just say: "Put me down as in favor of a referendum vote on the proposition of an eight consecutive hour day at thirty cents an hour, effective March 4 next, or a general walkout to enforce the demand on every road in America."

The telegraphers were never so awakened before. "Remember the Ides of March," and at once do your duty to yourself, your loved ones, your brother craftsmen and the general public. Act now, until the 4th of March work, and then stick; either to or from yours jobs, as may be necessary. But let me repeat, the point is act now. It can't be made too strong that our acts now determine the destiny of our craft. Wake up. Yours for a minimum of eight times thirty a day or nothing. "BAA."

THE BOND QUESTION APPROVED.

We certainly have the ball rolling on this question, and it will be but a short time until we have something that every operator can be proud of, if signs go for anything, and I am sure they will in this case, for it appears every operator in the country is coming forward with their approval of the operators' bond company.

Every operator should make this a campaign issue, and as soon as the January journal comes out should get after every operator they meet or work with on the wire, and ask them if they have voted in favor of forming this bond company, and insist on them doing so at once, and in this way we will win in a walk. We must win in this, and it's up to every operator to see that we do by casting his vote in favor of it, and getting every one else to do the same.

I think it would be best, in case this bond company is formed, to bond any one who applies if they are worthy, as no railroad would care to have dealings with a half dozen bond companies.

Cert. 352, Div. 70, in the November number, is certainly a good one on this question, and, I, too, am in favor of a million-dollar company, but think $10 per share the right price. "RA," Cert. 103, Div. 48, is a little too high in rates. The million dollars can be secured right from the operators without calling for outside assistance. I will take five shares at once, and more later if I can get them. CERT. 2356, Div. 93.

LIMIT SALE OF STOCK TO MEMBERS.

I have been studying over Bro. Quick's proposed plan, as outlined in the September issue, in regard to the bond question, and think it is the only correct solution of the bond question. At present the bond companies in which we are bonded can withdraw bond at any time they desire, however small the objection is, and leave the operator without a job, and we have no way of getting at them. I think this will be a big step in the right direction.

Only members should be allowed to take stock in the bond company, for if outsiders should be allowed to take shares, the railroads might take stock in it and soon absorb the company, then we would be no better off than we are now.

HIS EXPERIENCE WITH BOND COMPANY.

I wish to give you a little of my experience with the bond company. I was working on a Western road a few years ago and suddenly I got notice that my bond had been cancelled by the bond company. I wrote to them, but was never able to get an answer, and took the matter up with an attorney, but he failed to do anything. It made a boomer out of me, for I would just get located on some road and here would come that same old thing: "Account the surety company refusing to longer continue as surety will have to dispense with your services." I would receive a clearance from most of the roads reading like this: "Discharged on account surety company refusing to longer continue as surety; conduct and services otherwise satisfactory."

I quit railroading about five years ago and went into a store and worked there four years and a year ago came out West and thought I could furnish a record for four years that would pass the bond company. I went to work and in about six weeks came the same old story. I went in and drew my time and the chief said: "Why don't you get that fixed up; we would like to have you work for us." I told him if there was any way on earth to fix it up I would surely be glad to do so. He told me to write them and offer a private bond, which I did, and by getting my friends to sign with me and furnish security to the amount of $20,000 they at last notified me that my bond had been restored and I was put back to work.

I am in favor of Brother Quick's plan on the bond question and the sooner the better. I will take out a few shares myself.

CERT. 1951, Div. 53.

CANADIAN MEMBER ON BOND QUESTION.

In regard to the bond question, as presented in your article in September TELEGRAPHER, I have this to say: Being out of employment, about four years ago, I secured a position as agent on one of the trunk lines of the States, filled out application papers for bond in the usual way, and everything went along smoothly for about a month, when I was relieved on account of bond being refused. I asked the railroad company why? They did not know; then asked for a position where I would not be required to give bond, and found that they only had one on that division, and it was held down by a man in like position to myself. I was advised to take my case up with the bond company by correspondence, and did so. The answer to my first letter to them was that they did not discuss reasons why bond was refused. I have since learned that one of my references had left for parts unknown, and another was dead, his business being taken over by a son with the same initials, with whom I had had differences.. This explanation was not accepted by bond company, and I am still on their black list.

I am certainly in favor of a bond company of our own, organized as a stock company doing a general bonding business, as the more business the cheaper it would be for us, or the more we would earn on each share. An investment that nets 8 per cent on capital invested should bring anyone to the conclusion that it's a good thing for all concerned. Aside from that it would release us from the grasp of the surety trust, and relieve us of a system of black-listing that is keeping any number of good men from advancement. It would seem almost unnecessary to bring such an agency for the betterment of working conditions to a vote. I have never heard but the one wish since I joined the Order—that the O. R. T. would, some way, eradicate the surety evil.

As the bond company will be a stock company it will be independent of the O. R. T., but as all the stock will be held by the members of the O. R. T. it will amount to the same thing. CERT. 3452.

EXPERIENCE WITH BOND COMPANY.

I would like to say a few words relative to the bond question that has been discussed in our journal for some time and in which I find Bro. Quick strongly advocating the idea of forming a bond company of our own with all members taking shares. This can be done without any great inconvenience, and there is a great necessity for such a move, as we all know there are a number of good men out of the service on account of the various bond companies declining to bond our men, and while I am all right with the bond company now have had some trouble with them myself. I gave bond for a number of years, but a year ago they cancelled my bond and I had to give up a good position as assistant city ticket agent in a large city, but through the assistance of Bro. Perham I finally got the matter adjusted so I am now able to furnish bond again as station agent, but their unjust action inconvenienced me and caused me to lose about one year's work as agent, and while I do not anticipate any further trouble in this direction I would say put me down for one or more shares, for I will help out all I possibly can and trust we can get this bond company in effect early in 1908, as it will be the best thing the Order has ever undertaken for the benefit of all members. None but members of the Order should be favored with our bond. CERT. 140, Div. 49.

MORE ABOUT THE BOND QUESTION.

It seems to me that this is a question that should have been brought to an issue before now, but since we now have it where we are in a position to make a bonding company of our own, we will certainly let a grand opportunity slip by us if we do not carry it through.

I, for one, am greatly in favor of this proposition, so much so that I will desire a few shares of the stock, and I feel that there are enough brothers that will do likewise to take up all of the stock issued.

In bonding agents and operators, after our company is organized, I think that we should bond only members of our Order, as it will tend to draw some of the nons into the Order, if they are denied a bond by our company, when they would not join otherwise, and it would also make us feel as though we had a bond company that would protect us in every way, as regards a bond, and would not allow some unworthy non to slip in and get a bond and then vamoose with some of the railroad's money, and cause us a loss that could have been avoided.

I think that while we have this question up that we should also arrange with the express companies, so that we may obtain bond with our company when acting as express agents, and while there may be some of the express companies that are reasonable with the charge for a bond, there are some that are not.

Another thing, why should we, as an organization, confine our efforts for relief from unjust conditions solely to the railroads, and keep our eyes shut, as it were, to the way the express companies are fleecing us.

Let us awaken to our conditions, and in a body demand that we have this bond company, and, when we get it, do not stop at bonding alone in the railroad service, but take care of ourselves as express employees and make the express companies come over and allow us to be bonded in some bond company that is reliable.

We can do it. If this is in print in our worthy journal, I may be obliged to come again, CERT. 339, Div. 74.

FAVORS BOND COMPANY.

Have just received my November journal and after reading it carefully and rereading Bro. Quick's plan for organizing a bond company, will say that I am heartily in favor of this movement, and fully believe it will have the support of every member of the O. R. T., though some of the brothers may not express themselves until the final test is put to them.

I am anxiously looking forward to the time when the blank will appear in the journal or a final show down, and to know the result of the ballot.

I am under bond for two railroad companies and one express company, and have never had any trouble whatever in making bond for either, yet I have no doubt but there are lots of good, honest men who can not make bonds with the bond companies.

The Southern Express Company is bonding its employees and I see no reason why we can not organize this bond company and bond ourselves. This subject, though, has been well discussed through the journal, and I have no suggestions to make, only that we organize and do it at once. I for one am ready for four or five shares.

CERT. 27, DIV. 59.

ORGANIZED LABOR'S PROBLEMS.

Trades unionism is passing through a critical period in its history. It will always be on the verge of a crisis, because it has to do with life, for life must mean growth, and growth means pain.

But there are certain conditions in the industrial world which call for most careful thought on the part of trades union leaders. No little two by four propaganda method will meet the situation.

First, there is the enemy from without. Never before has there been made such a systematic effort to destroy organized labor. Employers' associations and citizens' alliances have largely passed their period of hysteria. They are now getting down to the job in a scientific, business-like way. They are attacking labor through the courts. They are employing expert lawyers, many of whom are absolutely unscrupulous, and who devote their entire time to the task of mapping out campaigns against the trades union, and supposedly in the interest of their employers. They have an almost unlimited amount of money at their disposal. A half million dollars a year by the National Association, besides the millions raised by local bodies, is to be used against the "bad" type of trades unionism, which means, in most cases, the trades union which dares go out on strike.

These efforts will fail to destroy organized labor. They will purge it so that it will become stronger and better, just as the church was purged through the fierce opposition of its oppressors. But there are certain things within trades unionism which demand the attention of its truest friends.

First, there is its very strength. The growth of trades unionism in recent years has been one of the most significant things of modern times. This growth has brought with it a great mass of enthusiastic fighters, but who, at the same time, are uninformed as to the fundamental principles of their cause. These will endanger the movement if no effort is made to give their work intelligent direction. There must be better "team-work." Their attack must not be that of the mob, but that of trained soldiers. Clearly, then, the leaders must see to it that the recruits shall have a course of training which will enable them to "give a reason for the hope that is within them."

Second, on account of the development of organized labor there has come to be a specialization of industries even within its ranks, which has very naturally resulted in jurisdictional strife. Even mob enthusiasm is better than this, for the mob will receive sympathy from the neutral onlooker, but jurisdictional strife not only causes bitterness and hatred within, but disgust and ridicule without.

Third, organized labor must deal not only with the ignorance of its own members, but it must educate the general public. It is lamentable that even otherwise intelligent business and professional men are in absolute ignorance of the principles of organized labor. If the public does not know about trades unionism, it must be admitted that it is the fault of organized labor. It is not the business of the outsider to inform himself concerning trades unionism.

It is the trades union's job to compel attention and to correctly inform the outsider.

These are some of the problems which confront organized labor today. That they will be adjusted in due time, there can be no doubt. But immediate attention to them will save many a year of struggle and a great deal of suffering and heartache.

REV. CHARLES STELZLE.

THE STUDENT EVIL.

The teaching of students is undoubtedly something that has been one of the chief causes of the deplorable condition in which the telegrapher finds himself today, and while a great deal has been contributed to these columns upon this subject I believe you will all agree that the few remarks I wish to make are not untimely or misplaced. As we all know, Congress, at its last session, enacted a law, the purpose of which is to limit the hours at which a railroad telegrapher may be employed to nine in any consecutive twenty-four hours, and, provided this law takes effect on the fourth of next March, it will, of course, create a demand for a large number of additional telegraphers; but, to use the words of the old adage: "There's many a slip 'twixt the cup and the lip," and in this case the railroad companies are liable to furnish the slip for us by means of securing that club so often in the past used on organized labor: the federal injunction, or, as has already been done in Missouri, the law may be declared unconstitutional, in the event of which what will be the result? Just this: At the rate half-baked operators are being manufactured at the present time, with the ham factories running full blast and working overtime; and, worst still, some of our own members teaching students, the country will, by next spring, be flooded with deluded youths willing; yes, many even anxious, to work for even lower wages than we who have been at the business for years are receiving today, and God knows they are low enough now with foodstuffs of all kinds soaring to the skies, and the cost of living greatly increased. But I hear some worthy brother exclaim: "We will strike unless the eight-hour work day is granted us." Now, let me ask of what possible use would a strike be when, as I have already said, there will be operators, or at least, "would-be" operators, as thick as blackberries in the summer time, waiting to take our places unless the production is stopped at once. Now, brothers, we can not prevent the so-called telegraph schools from turning out their product, but we need not manufacture hams ourselves, as some, I am sorry to say, are now doing. Some may think that not many are learning telegraphy at this time, and that I am crying: "Wolf!" "Wolf," when there is no wolf. But from my own observations I am convinced that there are today more students than there have been for years, and particularly is this true in the East, where one member of our organization has established, or is about to establish, a "railroad telegraph school," and is said to have already secured fifteen prospective students. This alone should be sufficient to show that student teaching has not been eliminated, but, of late, is vastly increasing, and is something that must be stopped, or all our efforts to better our condition will have been of no avail.

CERT. 394, Div. 6.

SIX DAYS SHALT THOU LABOR.

Commencing with March, this year, the new law for the better observance of the Sabbath became effective over the whole Dominion of Canada. I will ask the telegraphers employed by the Canadian railways how this law affected them. Were they able to spend even one Sunday of each month with their families? There need be no guessing at their answer. With few exceptions, they have been performing the same duties they did prior to March 1, 1907. Neither have the railway companies paid any attention to that clause of the act which was to compel them to allow twenty-four hours off during the week following for each Sunday worked.

The Rev. Mr. Moore, Secretary of the Lord's Day Alliance of Canada, in recent speeches, referred to the fact that the majority of the agents and operators on the Canadian railways were now enjoying the blessing of Sabbath rest. Where did he get the information, the agents and operators will naturally ask. Not from the men concerned. If not from the men, naturally it must be from the companies. The Rev. Mr. Moore, who had the arduous task of helping to lobby the Sabbath observance bill through the House of Commons, should be prepared to take any statements made on behalf of a railway company with the proverbial grain of salt.

Seeing the utter disregard of the law by the railway companies, and the failure of the proper authorities to bring them to time, are the telegraphers of Canada going to remain inactive, and continue to slave through 365 days of the year. There is a remedy in sight. The last schedule of the C. P. Ry. operators was the means of reducing the amount of time worked on the Sabbath by nearly 50 per cent. Formerly, it was the custom for agents and their night men to meet all regular passenger trains on Sunday, regardless of whether they stopped at their stations or not. Now, the men are excused from meeting trains which do not stop at their stations, as the new schedule calls for pay for all time worked on Sunday—the former schedule calling for pay for meeting extra trains. Thus, what the Sabbath observance law failed to do for the C. P. Ry. operators, the O. R. T. has partially succeeded in doing.

The only settlement of this Sunday rest will be along this line. The C. P. Ry. trackmen are only called out on Sunday in case of necessity, such as wrecks or snow blockades, because their schedule calls for time and a half for Sunday labor. If the operators make a similar demand, we would soon see only such men working on Sunday as are actually required. DESMOND.

A NON-MEMBER ON THE BOND QUESTION.

I am a non, or perhaps more correctly speaking, a backslider, but if I should remind you of some important matter you were about to overlook, or warn you of an approaching danger, would it not be unwise in you to fail to heed such warning simply because I am a non.

I became a member of the O. R. T. back in the early '90s, when the Order was in her short dresses, so to speak. I was as enthusiastic as any of the young converts of today, was just as narrow in my views, and as uncompromising with a non-member as any who may read this letter. To me every O. R. T. man was approaching my ideals of perfect manhood, a brother in every sense of the word, you know. While the proper place for the nons was in the insane asylum or wearing stripes, according to whether he was crazy or a simple traitor to his fellowman. I looked on him as either an object of pity or a contemptible degenerate, who was a disgrace to his country. Readers, have any of you yet reached the point where I was then. After running along a few years in this manner, I checked up the route I had been traveling, with the result that I could not locate a single spot where I had set the world on fire, not even a scorched place to mark where I had been. I did find, however, that my friend, the O. R. T., had gotten into a very deep rut, and at that time did not appear to be making any effort to get out of it.

But now I notice in the September TELEGRAPHER that Bro. Quick has rolled up his sleeves and come forward with a proposition which, if carried out, will do more for the advancement of the Order, in the way of offering protection to its members and perfecting thorough organization than any achievement so far accomplished. Whatever efficient service Mr. Quick has rendered the telegraphers in the past, if his scheme to organize a bond company is successfully put in operation, it will be of more benefit to more telegraphers than all the combined acts of all the combined officials the O. R. T. has had since it was organized. That is putting it pretty strong, but I believe it is the simple truth. The majority of telegraphers whose bond has been declined consider such an act by the guaranty company as a disgrace and a dishonor, and, consequently, keep it as a secret, and in this way it is difficult to determine to what extent the bond companies have been invading our ranks. If all the operators in the country would frankly admit the facts it would demonstrate that a large number of the telegraphers in our country are unable to make bond with our present guaranty companies. A student can always make bond. The man who is generally declined bond is the experienced station agent who understands his business as agent or operator, and he is the man the railroads approach with alluring promises in time of a strike, and they have always found enough half-fed, but competent men who want their bond restored, and who have families to support and children to school, to fill the important places. If the O. R. T. wishes to win strikes they must find some means to prevent these guaranty companies from blacklisting our men.

Perfect organization is impossible as long as such a percentage of our profession can not give bond. You may be thoroughly organized on your road and, in case of a strike every man walk out and remain out. Operators may appear to be scarce and everything in your favor, but it will take the railroad company less than ten days to have competent men in all important places, and they will come from the ranks of those who have been declined bond. But there is a remedy, as Mr. Quick suggested in the September TELEGRAPHER. He put it jam up to the boys, and it is with us to now say what we will do. As stated in the beginning, I am a non, but soon as I see that the suggested bond company proposition is going to carry, my application for membership and cash will be forthcoming in time to make me eligible as a shareholder in the new bond company, and henceforth I will always be found with an up-to-date card. That is not all, I am willing to subscribe $5 per month, if necessary, for the next twelve months to that enterprise. Why not make the O. R. T. solid by having something substantial, like this, to offer a man when you wish him to become a member? Why not place the O. R. T. on that protective footing, that all the nons will see it is to their personal interest to gain admittance in the Order.

You may observe that I am not such a bad non after all.

Whether you are required to make bond or not in your present position, you may be in the future, and if you never are, you are interested in the O. R. T., whose success in the future much depends on the final disposition made of the pending bond company scheme. Every telegrapher in the United States should, by all means, put up the required $10, after first establishing his membership in the O. R. T. There are many who could easily subscribe $50, as it will be a paying investment. Every organized road in the country should start a man out on each division to solicit subscriptions until every telegrapher is a shareholder.

This is the most important matter the O. R. T. has ever had to dispose of, and may not come up again for a generation. I have told what a non would do. How are you up-to-date boys standing. FATTY CROSS.

THE LABORER'S FUTURE.

Among the problems and purposes of organized labor not the least is educational, and the following is a few lights that have come within my vision by a short study of industrialism of the past and the present.

The trades unionist unacquainted with the causes that brought trades unions into existence, or their objects and aims of the present, occupies the same position in organized labor as the member of a Christian church who had never heard of the Bible or was unacquainted with the Ten Commandments would occupy in Christianity.

Organized labor is the offspring of our present industrial system. Individualism in capital is fast giving away to collectivism as an economic necessity.

In the hard school of experience the laborer has learned that a contract between a wealthy employer and an individual workman has but one party to the contract "the employer."

Capital and labor have solved the problem of mutual wealth production, but will never satisfactorily solve its division.

In the system of profits and wages the tendency of the former is to run to a maximum, the latter to a minimum, unless counter-balanced by organization.

The interest of him who wishes to buy labor at the least possible cost, and him who wishes to sell it at the highest possible figure, can never be identical.

Ignorance of your industrial rights is always taken advantage of by your employer, the greater the ignorance, the greater the advantage.

Modern corporations are not charitable institutions organized for the express purpose of giving you employment. You are not employed in a spirit of philanthropy, "but because it pays."

He who works under conditions (all made for him and none by him), under the threat of hunger is in slavery. The lash that was applied to the back of the chattel slave is applied to the wage earner's stomach in a different form.

The employer of today desires intelligence in employe. Intelligence fosters thought. Thought breeds ideals. Not the least among his ideals is "he who renders his time and labor to another deserves something more than an animal existence in return."

The laborer's standard of thought is fast reaching beyond "the full dinner pail" stage. He is a being with more than a stomach.

Steady employment and sufficient to satisfy bodily necessities is no indication that the wage earner is receiving a fair division. The chattel slave had both.

Many employers desire to remove the restraint of organized labor by crushing it. There are a few who would like to remove the Ten Commandments.

Some employers say they are favorable to organized labor, "provided it is run right," and they be allowed to define what right is.

Labor organizations are accused of destroying authority. Too many employers fail to discern the line where authority ends and tyranny begins.

Wages, like sky-scrapers, are not built up without an effort. Competitive industry is warfare in the miniature. The wage earner can not afford to let his employer choose his weapons.

The present weapons of trades unions is the strike and the boycott. What will be the future weapon?

Unfortunately, too many trade unionists are blind party followers first, trade unionists second.

What is the most valuable asset to the employer is the greatest bugaboo to the organized laborer, politics.

There is a little leaven slowly impregnating the mass that prejudice to politics as a means to an end will gradually disappear.

The trade unionist and labor in general is "a noble son of toil" as long as he quietly labors. Let him make efforts to better his condition and in the eyes of some employers he immediately turns into an "ignorant, lawless striker," an "undesirable citizen" in some cases to a red-handed Anarchist.

Labor, through organization, is gradually rising off its knees and demanding a say in what the working conditions shall be, not as a privilege, but as a right.

Trades unions of today are mostly a means of defense. Education of their units is making them instruments of progress.

They are one link in the chain of industrial evolution. Brothers, make a study, and then ask yourself: "What will be labor's condition in the future?" The clock of progress must not or will not turn backward.

CERT. 58, DIV. 109.

BOND COMPANY A NECESSITY.

I think we have the right iron in the fire now, "the bond question." I am in favor also in need of this and would like very much to have some stock. About two years ago I had the best job of my life. Received a message one evening that on the next morning that office would be transferred to another man and for me to come to the chief dispatcher's office as soon as relieved. After the transfer I called on him to find out the trouble. He stated the bond company had cancelled my bond and offered me a night job at $45.00. I accepted the job with a promise to be reinstated if I could get matters straightened out with the bond company. I wrote them and offered to put up the amount of the bond in cash if they would bond me, and asked them their reasons for turning me down. The answer was that I had not kept my accounts correct. I immediately wrote all of the officials of all the roads I had ever worked for and each wrote me that my accounts were all correct. I mailed these letters to this bond company and their answer was this: "We are in receipt of your letter of ———, and have nothing to add to our letter to you of ———, and do not care to become surety for you again."

If we do not need a bond company, what do we need? Let's push this in self-defense.

CERT 3236, GRAND DIV.

LABOR TEMPLES AND LABOR LEADERS.

There is nothing that develops a man quite so well as placing upon him some kind of responsibility which compels him to make good. Many workmen know how true this is in connection with the purchase of a home, especially when they had just about enough money to pay down to bind the bargain—the remainder to be paid off in monthly installments. Somehow, that kind of a proposition puts a man on his mettle. He is ready to deny himself many a thing which he formerly thought was a necessity. There was a real satisfaction in feeling that he lived in a home which was actually his own. It gave him a pride which can not possibly belong to him who rents. It gave him a dignity which seemed to place him away above the average man who had no such responsibility. Somehow the neighbors thought more of him, and duly respected his standing in the community as a property owner. It brought its hardships and its burdens, but these were not to be compared with the compensations which came as the result of the struggle for the making of a real home.

If this is true of the individual, it also applies to an organization. The society that owns its own building soon has an influence in town which few other things can bring to it. How true this is of the fraternal orders, as well as business houses. One of the most hopeful signs of the times in the labor movement is the fact that in dozens of towns in this country central labor unions are making a struggle to secure "labor temples" which shall be a credit to the union workmen of their cities.

There is need for such buildings in every community. One of the great disadvantages in many cities is the lack of unity and co-operation among working people. Their meeting halls are scattered all over town, and many of them put up with miserably close and dirty quarters, largely because they can not find better places which are as convenient in other directions. Workmen need social centers, such as this would give them. They should have central bureaus which shall be in charge of the most competent and best-informed official upon whom they can lay their hands—a man who has large ideas about the labor question and its present-day needs. He should be a labor statesman, and he should be so protected and safeguarded from petty jealousies that he can look every man in the eye and tell him whatever he thinks should be said upon that occasion. If he isn't big enough to keep from becoming a tyrant or a czar, he isn't the man for the job. Labor would profit immensely if it had such a man in every city, who would be honored for his work's sake. It will not be an easy job, but it can be made so valuable a one that even the kickers will be made to see its effectiveness.

A labor temple in every city, worthy of its workmen, and a strong man to guide their destinies—that's what I'd like to see.

REV. CHARLES STELZLE

TO STUDY CONDITIONS.

Mr. John R. Walker, former telegrapher, and late secretary of the North Carolina Pine Association, has forsaken a $5,000 income, quit the life of luxury, and with his wife, gone to work, sleep and eat with the poor.

Mr. Walker says his motive for this action is to study the poor. He says up to this point his life has been directed by outside forces. From now on he expects to direct himself, or, rather, be conscious of the forces that are directing it. He will go to New York first, with practically no resources to fall back on, in order that life into which he is projecting himself will not be robbed of its genuineness.

In New York he says he will seek manual employment, which will equip him for the later and more difficult steps in his journey; will live in quarters suited to his financial situation, which will be with the people with whom he shall work. As soon as his sensibilities are adjusted to life in this new strata of society, he will sail for England in the steerage, or, preferably, as a member of the crew, as waiter or deck-hand. In England he will find employment along the same lines as in New York, and one of the grandest things of all, he will join the unions with his fellow workmen, and participate in their deliberations. He says: "I shall know their privations, their ambitions, their beliefs, their capabilities; for I shall be one of them. And it is probable that out of the store of my experience I can offer them something of value, for all growth is reciprocal. * * * I am sure of finding work. Failing employment in my particular lines of manual labor, I can fall back upon my office training, and work as a stenographer, bookkeeper or the profession I love so well—telegraphing."

He will journey to every country, and all of this will doubtless require four or five years, or longer, but after this journey is ended, he expects to give practical expressions to all his ideals. Mrs. Walker is in full sympathy with all his plans. She will work in a factory, and be with him all the time.

N. C. HINES,
Cert. 397, Div. 97.

EMPLOYMENT BUREAU PLAN.

I am going to outline a plan that I believe would be of great benefit to telegraphers if managed right.

Have local chairman keep posted as to all telegraphers on his division, also all positions.

Let telegraphers wanting positions report to the local chairman. He could give them a list of vacancies on that division, or if a telegrapher wanted to change positions he could report to local chairman and local chairman could arrange this through his division superintendent.

Local chairmen could report to their general chairman and keep him posted as to vacancies and extra men that were wanting employment. For instance, one local chairman on a certain division might report to general chairman that he had three extra men on his list that wanted positions; another local chairman might report to his general chairman that he had three vacancies on his list and no men to fill them. General chairman could fill the three vacancies with the three extra men. Of course this would have to be done with the consent of the officials that had charge of these positions.

The general chairman of each road could report to the grand secretary, and the grand secretary could keep posted as to conditions existing on each road, in fact, we could have an employment agency through this method, and this would make the Order stronger, as nons could see still another advantage gained through our Order, and would feel under obligations to us.

W. WELTY, Cert. 1170, Div. 32.

FUNDAMENTAL LAW.

The fundamental law of true unionism is that each man should, in deed, and not merely in word, be treated strictly on his worth as a man; that each shall do full justice to his fellow, and in return shall exact full justice from him. This is an O. R. T. solution for dealing with railroad companies.

Each group of men has its special interests, and yet the higher, the broader and deeper interests of those which apply to all men alike, for the spirit of brotherhood in American citizenship, when rightly understood and rightly applied, is more important than aught else.

Let us scrupulously guard the special interest of the employer, as well as the employe, giving to each man his due and seeing, also, that he does not wrong his fellows, but let us keep ever clearly before our minds the great fact that where the deepest chords are touched the interest of all are alike, and must be guarded alike.

Before us, at times, loom gigantic problems; vast in their importance and their complexity, but by selecting level-headed, conservative committeemen, and the railroad companies meeting us with a square issue, all grievances can be settled harmoniously, and there will be no need of strikes and discord in our ranks.

It is not given to the wisest of us to see into the future with absolute clearness. No man can be certain that he has found the entire solution of infinitely great and intricate problems, and yet each man of us, if he would do his duty, must strive manfully so far as in him lies, to help bring about a solution.

We can build up the standard of individual citizenship and individual well-being. We can raise the national standard and make it what it can and shall be made, only by each of us steadfastly keeping in mind that there can be no substitute for the world-old humdrum, commonplace qualities of truth, justice and courage; thrift, industry, commonsense, and genuine sympathy with others. The nation is the aggregate of the individuals composing it, and each individual American ever raises the nation higher when he so conducts himself as to wrong no man, as to suffer no wrong from others, and to show both sturdy capacity for self-help and his readiness to extend a helping hand to his neighbor sinking under a burden too heavy for him to bear. These are the tenets of the Order of Railroad Telegraphers. So, let each of us strive to make the conditions of life such that, as nearly as possible, each man shall receive the share to which he is honestly entitled, and no more; and let us remember at the same time our efforts must be to build up, rather than strike down, and that we can best help ourselves, not at the expense of others, but by heartily working with them for the common good of each and all, and then, after having conscientiously performed our duty, and when a strike is inevitable, I say let it come March 4, 1908.

Is a railroad life so dear, or peace so sweet as to be purchased at the price of chains and slavery? Forbid it. I know not what course others may take, but as for me, give me "eight hours telegraphing or my old gray mule and plow."

"ICHABOD," Div. 125.

BUY UNION GOODS.

Brothers, I am not going to say anything about the eight-hour day and $75.00 minimum. I am as much interested in these two things as any of you, but there has been so much said along these lines already that I don't see where I can add anything to it. I can only wait and see how the boys are going to stick next March, but there is one thing I would like to mention and which I think is of the greatest importance.

Let's get wise for the sake of unionism, and learn what to buy; that is, when buying clothes or any of the necessities of life let us know which are on the fair list and which are on the unfair list. I must confess my eyes have just been opened along these lines and I see now that there is very, very little attention paid to this. Every time we buy non-union goods we are employing non-union labor, so to speak, and if you reason with yourself a little you will see how absolutely unreasonable it is for a union man to employ non-union labor, so let's wake up and get wise. I would suggest that every one of us get a list of the things that are on the unfair list and those that are made by union labor, and do without (if necessary) rather than buy any non-union goods, but don't fear, it will never be necessary for us to do without if we know which is which, for there are union goods of every kind. This is the principal feature of unionism and if we would all adopt it you would see a big change in short order.

I have asked our local chairman to get me a list of these things and hope all the brothers who have not already done so will lose no time in doing likewise.

CERT. 1315.

PRESIDENT SHOULD FIX MINIMUM.

I read with untiring avidity articles written in regard to a $75 minimum. That all looks good enough to me now, as a $75 minimum would be a great help, as I am in the East, where living rates are less than in the West. Not many weeks ago I was working in the West (no heavier work than I am doing here), and drawing $75 per month for it. And you can guess what the rates of living were there when I found that I could do better in the East, where we have a $55 minimum and overtime. Further words on that subject are unnecessary, as you can easily see what a $75 minimum would do for the brothers out there. The minimum should be fixed by officers of the Order, who are in a position to know what would be a good living rate for us all. Therefore, I say to Bro. Perham: Fix the minimum and say when.

Do not think that I do not know what I am talking about when I say that I will walk out and stay out, for I know exactly what a strike means, having indulged in two of those luxuries (?). And I say now that I will walk out, and will face Satan, backed up against the smuttiest walls of hades before I will return to the key without first having gained our demands.

I have talked with many in the past few weeks, and find none that are not in favor of striking, if it be necessary. Will we stick? You might well ask, can a duck swim? America is noted for her brave soldiers, and if this is not a fight for home and country then I have mistaken an Indian war dance for a family reunion.

Let's hear from some other brother.

CERT. 202, DIV. 138.

MEANS BUSINESS.

I observe in the last two or three journals that the boys are beginning to talk like they meant business. As long as I have belonged to the Order there has always been more or less talk about the $75 minimum and eight-hour day, but there is something about the recent write-ups that sounds like we were going to act, and talk less. I wish to state that I am one more who (although I have a wife and babies to look out for, and nothing in the bank) am ready and willing to walk out on the 1st of March if the railroads refuse our demands. While I think (as one brother in California said) thirty cents per hour may be all right for our Northern and Eastern brothers, but for the boys in the Southern and Western States forty or forty-five cents per hour would not be too much, owing to the fact that it costs more to live, and the climate is not so agreeable.

Now, if the time comes when we are asked to strike, there is no doubt that there will be some who will say, "I have a family to look out for, and simply can not afford to go out." Now, brothers, that excuse won't do. There is plenty of other work. I have already talked the matter over with my wife, and admit that it may go kind of hard with us for awhile, but, if necessary, I will go and "flunk" in a restaurant, and my wife says she can take the babies and go pick strawberries for awhile, if it comes to that. But there is any amount of work you can get to do which will be equally as good as telegraphing under the present conditions. So I say if it becomes necessary to strike go out and stay out until your demands are granted.

I would also suggest that each brother, when he gets through reading his journal, either place it in the hands of a non, or hand it to some good citizen of his town, and request him to read it. It is bound to set them to thinking.

"DISCONTENTED," CERT. 1525.

SHOULD GET TOGETHER.

How many of you would like to have your pay check handed to you next April, 1908, reading $75.00 instead of $50.00, $55.00, or probably $55.75, and at the same time commence sleeping twelve hours, and then have four hours to get outside the house and see if your neighbors or relatives are still alive, or to read a daily newspaper to see what is going on in neighboring towns? Do you think this is unreasonable? Are any of you getting rich on your present salaries, or are any of you having money to throw away? The millers have raised the price on flour, the grocers have raised the price on groceries; yet we are working for the same salary we always did. Working twelve long hours each day. Do we intend to slave all our lives and barely keep enough ahead to keep alive. Suppose some of us would meet with a disaster. What would we do?

Brothers and sisters, let us all get together, make a demand upon our employers for an eight-hour day, a $75.00 minimum and a general increase to all, to take effect March 4, 1908. We would present this demand to each and every employer on February 4, 1908, and if they do not grant our demands, let every member of this organization walk out, and not return to work until they do grant them.

The public sentiment will win it for us alone, and in a hurry too. The railroads could not move traffic, even if they should try.

Did you ever compare our wages with those of enginemen or trainmen? Do we not have just as much responsibility and liabilities as they do? Our positions require us to have the best of an education, and yet we get paid about the same as foreign laborers, and in some instances not as much. It is time we were getting down to business, and now is a good time to start at it.

CERT. 1597, DIV. 31.

DISCUSSIONS IN LODGE ROOMS.

Reading our journal has been a great pleasure, pastime and profit. No doubt, notes from different divisions are read with pleasure and where a division has no notes the members are very much disappointed. I am in hearty accord with notes from divisions, but must say that I think some of the questions discussed are too important to be open for general reading of the public. Discussions that devise ways and means concerning Mail, W. U. Bonds, Meal Hours, Overtime, and what we are going to do for a raise, are questions for lodge room, and if we give away our intentions in the journal don't be surprised if the railroad officials are as well posted as we are.

Who of us have picked up any journal published by the railroad officials? Do we ever see their schemes to overcome demands of more pay and how they are fixing to reduce salaries? There are plenty of real news we could devote to the use of our readers. Let us confine our resolution, plans, etc., to the members themselves in meeting, or send our requests to the Order at conventions, but don't make a diary of our troubles in the journal for every one to see.

If we ever get anything better than we have the bitter attacks on corporations and our employers in public journals must stop. No organization can depend alone upon just writing to accomplish anything. It takes united effort with a good leader.

MONT FULTON, Div. 55.

EIGHT-HOUR DAY AND HIGHER PAY.

There were several good articles in the November journal on the eight-hour and $75 question, and it is high time every telegrapher was getting busy, for March 4 will roll around in a very short time, and it should not catch any one in the hay.

I am in favor of putting this question to a vote at the earliest possible date, and have everything arranged to send a committee in on every railroad in the United State, Canada and Mexico, on the first of next month with a personal letter from every telegrapher they represent, to the effect that they will accept nothing but an eight-hour day, $75 minimum salary, double time for Sundays, and one hour for dinner, or one hour overtime and overtime to be fifty cents per hour; also ten cents per sack, pouch or article of U. S. mail handled, whether from or to the postoffice, and the postmaster to verify the number of pieces handled each day for computing pay, or the care of U. S. mail to be taken out of the telegraphers' hands altogether. This is a big item to the agents and operators at smaller stations, and is not too much for handling same.

While this is not the best plan submitted, it is the view of one operator, and will probably inspire some one else to think of something better.

I, for one, request Bro. Quick to put this to a vote in an early issue of the journal, and be ready for action by March 1, 1908.

Come forward, brothers, with your views, and help get the ball rolling before it is too late.

CERT. 2356, Div. 93.

WHAT IS DESIRED.

First, each committee in future presenting a schedule to a railway company have it embodied in said schedule that telegraphers handling commercial business receive not less than 20 per cent commission not only on cash receipts, but checks against other offices. Nothing less than this to be satisfactory, and if not obtained, cut out commercial business altogether. I would urge each member to stand for this, see that each committeeman is so instructed, and absolutely nothing less be accepted. This is of vital importance. It is only a matter of time until we will have to fight the commercial telegraph companies openly, as they are now fighting us secretly.

Second, a discontinuance of those $75.00 and eight-hour articles in THE TELEGRAPHER. A better minimum is in effect now west of the Mississippi. The eight-hour part is all right. I want to see each office placed on an equitable basis, then our committee demand a substantial increase which will give all offices fair wages and eight hours.

Third, a discontinuance of salary comparisons in our journal. It is doing the Order harm. The engineers, trainmen, trackmen, etc., get no more than they deserve. I would like to see them get more.

Their present rate was obtained only by thorough organization and having the nerve to stand up for their rights.

Fourth, too much publicity is given our plans in THE TELEGRAPHER. It weakens us in attack or defense. This does not look consistent in view of the foregoing, but I hope each member will take up immediately the first clause of this communication and have each committee so instructed. It can only reach all by being published now.

CERT. 476.

SHOULD VOTE ON PROPOSITION.

In reading over the November issue of THE TELEGRAPHER I find the good boys still talking about the $75.00 minimum and eight-hour day. I think the best plan for us would be to ask for a 25 per cent raise, as that would benefit us all, where, if we asked for a $75.00 minimum, it would not increase the salaries of some of the boys, and they would not give it as much support as if they were interested in it themselves. I think we should quit this talking about $75.00 minimum and eight-hour day, and have the president issue a ballot to all telegraphers so that we can have a vote on it, and make one united effort all over the United States and Canada for these things which we want, and we will have to get "25" if we want this to take effect the 4th of March; and if we will do our part, I do not see why we shall not win, and I for one, am ready to stand pat until we get it.

CERT. 1046, Div. 93.

SHOULD BE UP AND DOING.

Have been reading the many suggestions in our journal about the eight-hour day and $75.00 minimum. There are a few good ones that would be well for us to consider, especially those that suggest hourly wage scale. I believe this is the only plan whereby the operators and agents can be justly dealt with. Under the national nine-hour law recently passed, if I understand it correctly, the railroad companies can hold us operators who are agents and where offices are only operated during the day time thirteen hours. This being the case I believe we had better demand an hourly wage scale of not less than 30 cents per hour and not over nine hours for a day. If the company sees fit to hold us longer than the nine hours we would be getting something for our services and not be donating the time that we might be spending with our families.

I, for one, urge you to put it up to our president to send out slips to each and every member asking if he wants hourly pay, and if he wants an eight or nine-hour day and in case a strike is called if he will come out and stay out until ordered back, if the railroad companies refuse to grant our demands, and how much per hour they would be willing to accept. We do not want any cowards in our ranks. We are only demanding what we should have had long ago. Now our organization is strong and we want it.

I would suggest that this plan be started at once and that every member who fails to make reply within ten days be fined not less than $10.00. Time is money, and we must be up and doing.

There is one other thing I want to speak of and that is how the railway companies make pack mules out of us by compelling us to carry the mails to and from the post-office. I have only 240 mails to handle per month and carry them 650 feet and about that many empty sacks or more. These empty sacks are sacks that the traction line brings in full of mail and then won't handle the empties back. We are compelled to go get these empty sacks and return them on the railroad. Our compensation is nothing. I think the time is ripe for us to call a halt on such treatment and the small wages we have been obliged to work for. If there is to be a strike before we can get it, I say come on strike. I can and will if it comes to a show down stay out until we get our demands and if we never get it never go back to railroading. I pity the man that has not enough nerve to stick, but sneaks around and gets back. I am in hopes we have no go backs or weaklings in our ranks. The time could not be of long duration if men will be brave men.

Now, brothers, I urge you to make some move in this direction immediately, as by reading the opinions of our brothers in the journal I believe every one is waiting for that start to come.

CERT. 24008.

SHOULD BE PER CENT INCREASE.

The agitation on the topic of hourly pay is, to my thinking, the most important subject next to the eight-hour law to be taken in hand. We are far behind the times in the matter of schedules governing our salaries. We should get busy at once before it is too late and get ready for the coming March.

My solution of this problem is something like the following:

The hourly rate of pay to be rated according to the class of offices affected, for instance:

Class A—present salary $90 to $100. Under eight-hour plan and 44 cents per hour, would be $102.60.

Class B—$80 to $90, at 42 cents; $100.80.

Class C—$70 to $80, at 38 cents; $91.20.

Class D—$60 to $70, at 33½ cents; $80.80.

Class E—$50 to $60, at 29½ cents; $70.80.

Class F—$40 to $50, at 25 cents; $60.

This will about average 15 per cent raise of salary with an eight-hour work day. All offices could not be rated at one rate per hour, but under this plan all would share equally.

This subject should be given prompt attention, and be made universal, and be handled in the same manner as the trainmen or switchmen do theirs; that is, all roads in a certain territory must sign the agreement, otherwise we can not expect to win.

CERT. 2344.

BETTER WORKING CONDITIONS AND MORE WAGES.

I have read my October TELEGRAPHER through carefully, and like many of the other brothers I find the same thought running through every article—more pay and shorter working hours. That's the cry from the Atlantic to the Pacific and from Canada to Mexico. We are the poorest paid class of men in the railroad service, and there are none more essential. We are the middle men for every branch of the service, from accounting department down to section men, and must be thoroughly versed in every branch. Have you not often received a message in regard to some bad order car, set out at your station, wanting to know exactly what is broken and what car repairers will need to put the car in good shape. Now did you ever hear of a train man or car repairer being instructed to go into a station and see what was needed there, in case something was wrong? No, indeed, you have not; they are expected to know what is to be done in their own line of work, and no more. Also just glance through the "Employes Magazine" and see how the merit marks run. Out of a total of 56 you will find that two operators and two agents are given merit marks "for doing more than duty." Now doesn't that cheer you up? Did you ever know before that there was anything on the map that was not our duty?

Boys, we have been chumps long enough. We simply must wake up and get busy. Let every man on every line go after the nons as if your life depended on it. Get every one that is susceptible, and then what few that will be on the outside will do us no harm and we will make it so warm for them that they will eventually disappear.

Only a few days ago I was talking with a brakeman, and he told me he worked three weeks in the month of October and that he would draw $112.00. Also look at the engineers making over $200.00 every month while we hang around twelve long hours every day and draw the pitiful sum of $57.50 per month. We work the whole month and the engineer works from half to two-thirds of the month. We must not leave the office without permission, neither must we leave town during our hours off duty without first notifying every one on the division where we are going and just where they can find us any hour of the time we are away.

Now, we have the nine-hour law enacted and is to take effect March 4, 1908. Don't any of you ever think for a minute that the railroad companies are going to tamely submit to this. They are going to fight it as hard as they ever fought any measure which was not absolutely in their favor. Just as sure as you live they are going to try to prove it unconstitutional. That's what they are doing with the eight-hour law in Missouri and that is what they will try to do with the national law. Now the question is are we going to let them pull the wool over our eyes and go on working twelve hours. Let them prove it unconstitutional if they can, but let us show them that we are men, and regardless of whether it's a law or not we will work eight hours and no more unless we are paid double overtime for it.

Like many others I am in favor of a committee from every road in the United States, Canada and Mexico meeting their respective managements separately, or all in one body, but in any event all meeting them at exactly the same time (and that before March 4th) to arrange a scale of wages based on the eight-hour day, either hourly or monthly, but in no case to figure less than $75.00. If a job is worth keeping a man on, it's worth at least that much per month to stay there, if he doesn't turn his hand.

If we were not an intelligent class of men we could not do the work we are doing. Then if the railroads prefer to turn us down on our proposition, we can every one walk out and get another job, and they can then have an opportunity to try running a railroad without telegraphers. I know where I can get other work at any time I want to quit the service and I don't believe there is a man working but what is in the same position.

We have been gradually getting out of the rut for many years, but we have not moved fast enough. With one mighty effort we must now settle it for all time to come. We are barely getting a living and we must remember that we are growing old and must be laying by for the future, when no railroad company will need our services.

A man who works twelve hours every day and 365 days in a year and in a mental strain throughout the entire time will become prematurely aged. Then after you have given the best part of your life to the company for whom you are working and you are worn out in body and mind, if you should overlook delivering a train order, no matter what the extenuating circumstances, you are given the limit in demerit marks so they can soon get rid of you, or you are summarily dismissed, with the curt remark that "you are getting too old and forgetful." Brothers, how many of you, on the salary you are now getting, can lay up a bank account in anticipation of this time.

If your station is running over with business and the country is on a boom, as has been the case in the Western country for some time, you will probably be given a $15.00 helper, but just let there be one crop failure and business slack off ever so little, and see how quick they begin to howl about reducing the force, on account of decrease in business. They pay high salaries to a few men to watch the poor agents and operators, to see that they are doing every ounce of work that a human being can stand up under, and they do not intend for one minute of our twelve hours on duty to not be doubly occupied.

To the nons who are holding out of the Order, in the vain hope that they will be considered a "company man," and at the first opportunity will be boosted into a nice easy job with a big salary and a title fastened to their name, I would like to say that your opportunity will never come.

You will be thought just as much of in the Order as out of it by your company, and a great deal more thought of by your fellow workmen, and your chances of promotion will be just as good. Your only redemption is to join the big crowd, which you will find following the O. R. T. banner, and let us each and every one push and pull with all our strength until we have reached the goal of better working conditions and living wages.

CERT. 295, DIV. 126.

ONE WEEK WOULD SETTLE IT.

A short time ago, in talking to a non, trying to induce him to join the Order, he said: "Yes, it is all very well for you young fellows who are not married to talk of strikes, but us fellows that are married could not afford to strike and stay out long enough to do any good."

"Friend," I said, "A short time ago you asked for a lay-off of a week, did you not?"

"Yes," he replied.

"Well," I said, "you got your week's lay-off and came back at the end of the week, rested up, and thinking of the good time you had. But when you entered the office you stepped into the old rut, with a sigh, and said, 'Well, I had a good time while I was away, but now I have to dig into it all the harder to get things straightened around again, and the hours from 7 to 7 are most awfully long, and the pay, too, is not as large as it might be.'

"Now," I said, "suppose there should be a strike called for an eight-hour day and a $75.00 minimum? Could you not afford to lay off another week at least if, at the end of that time you could come back and only have to work eight hours per day, and receive as compensation $75.00 per month?"

"Yes," he said, "I could, and would be glad to, but the trouble is would every one do this?"

"Yes," I replied, "I think that they would. I don't think there is an operator in the United States, Mexico or Canada that would not be willing to quit work for at least a week's time (and many of them could afford to stay out longer), if, at the end of that time, he knew that on his return he would only have to work eight hours per day and receive $75.00 per month for his services."

And now, brothers, let us all take the same view of this subject. Show this article to your neighbor, and to the nons, and induce them to stay out one week at least, if it becomes necessary to call a strike. And do you think that we would have to stay out one week? No, we would be recalled before the week was fairly started.

The $75.00 minimum and eight-hour day is ours. CERT. 1271, Div. 126.

OUR FUTURE.

I wish to say a few words to you in connection with our future welfare. Tell me what you are going to do on March 4, 1908? Are you going to continue to drag along in the old twelve-hour rut or are you going to demand your rights as a free citizen of the United States, and work only eight hours per day? This is the question of the hour, and can not be put off for one minute; one that must have your earnest consideration, and one that must be acted upon without hesitation.

I want to say to you, brothers and sisters, before I would work twelve hours at a telegraph station, where two or more operators are employed now, I would either join the Dagoes in their honest toil on the section, or some other manual labor. I may be a little too enthusiastic to suit some, but I wish to say right now that I am one with backbone enough to hold up for my rights.

The railroad by which I am employed has put out a form this month, with numerous questions on it, requesting information relative to the duties of a telegraph operator. This is merely a blind on the part of the railroad company. They intend to use this information to fight the nine-hour law when, or before it takes effect, and they also intend to use it to argue with our committeemen when they go before the management again. Think twice before you write a word on it, and be very careful that you do yourself justice in putting it down. It is an easy matter for an official of a railroad to balk a committeeman by saying, "Why, what are you talking about? Here I have that man's own statement of what he has to do," and then refer to his statement made on the above-mentioned blank.

If any of you will take the trouble to look, you will notice that each and every question asked by the company is for their own personal benefit. There is not a single one asked but what they know already. This question, for instance: "Total number of hours on duty?" As if any railroad does not know the number of hours their operators are on duty. Why did they not put on the blank, "Do you handle U. S. mail?" "Do you handle W. U. or Postal business?" "If so, do you get any compensation from them for it?" or "Do you get your meal hours regular?" or, better still, "Don't you think it better for all concerned if you were only worked eight hours per day, instead of twelve, as at present?"

But if you wait for them to do this, without assisting them in any way in the matter, you will wait until you are called home by the Master above, and then you would not have the pleasure of seeing or hearing of them putting on eight-hour tricks of their own accord.

I am a strong opposer of a strike, but I believe there is a time for all things, and I believe right now is the time for the operators throughout the United States to give the railroad companies to distinctly understand that they will not work but eight hours per day after March 4, 1908. Our Congressmen gave it to us and we are entitled to it, and, furthermore, we would have kicked big and hard if our Congressmen had turned the bill down. Would you have voted for him again? I can answer that for you. I say no. No, you would not, and, more than that, you would have used your influence to have gotten others to vote against him. Now, since they have done their part, and put such a law into effect, won't you do your part, and see that there is no extension on the time set. The railroad company has made no effort to secure operators, but, instead, they are making all preparations possible to fight the nine-hour law, and fight it to a finish.

Are you going to stand for this? Are you going to toil your life away at the rate of thirteen and sixteen hours per day for the miserable pittance of $45 and $50 per month. Brothers! Sisters! Stop for a moment and think, think hard, think long and think loud. What is $50 to you compared with the happiness that other people enjoy, and don't work half the time you do? What is $45 to you when you have to work nearly day and night, too, in order to get it? Don't it look big on a payday to have $45? Just think! Forty-five precious, almighty dollars! Don't you like to caress them? Don't you like to hold them in your hand, and think how fortunate you are to have that much money? It might have once looked that way, but that time has passed and gone, and at the present time the telegraph operators should be paid $75 for eight-hours' work on the line of road, and $100 for eight hours in relay points. Do you think we will ever get it? You answer, "I don't know." If you don't, who does? And why don't you know? It is a very interesting study, and you should know something about it.

As you all know, we have been crushed under foot long enough; in this case, like all others, it's a long road that has no turns, and there is an end to all things. The railroad companies have had their day and profited by it, and it is up to us, brothers, to get ours.

How many of you remember hearing of a brother tell about having to do work that a negro would not do for the same money. Having to walk sixty miles a month and look after two switchlights for the magnificent sum of $2 per month. That there was not a negro in that county who would do it for that amount, but he, a telegraph operator, was not as good as one of the black sons of Africa, and was compelled to do this after his day's toil (twelve hours, remember) was over. We hear operators on one side of us say, "I don't believe we could get that if we were to ask for it, and I don't see any use of asking for it." Now, let me tell you, brothers, there is one thing dead certain, and that is, if you never ask for a thing you will never get it, and you may put that in your pipe and smoke it for a fact.

I noticed a piece in the March issue of THE TELEGRAPHER, reprinted in the Train Dispatchers' Bulletin under the head, "No Grievance." I was very much pleased to read the editor's comment on the subject. How many of you today are like the person pictured in that piece, and when you are approached by a brother member, and asked to awaken from your long sleep, and take an active part in your Order's welfare, answer, "I have no grievance." I, too, am of the same opinion as "Texas." You might as well say that you have no heart, no soul, and no interest in your own and your family's welfare.

We have had worthy articles from different brothers regarding the $75 minimum and eight hours per day, so I will not say anything about it here. What we want now is something about the enforcement of the law, that was made especially for us; the law that our Representatives put up for our welfare, and for the protection of the traveling public. I am informed from a very reliable source that the railroad companies are preparing to fight the national law in States that have not already adopted the eight-hour law, on the grounds that the average telegraph operator does not do nine hours actual work during the day or night. There is no doubt but what there will be numerous excuses put up by different companies as to why this law should not be put into effect. I know personally that our committee tried to get our general superintendent to make some provisions in our last schedule covering the new law, but he would not talk about it at that time, claiming that there would be time enough when the law became effective. That may be true, but I know further, that there has been no time or energy spent in trying to secure more operators than are at present employed by the company. Also, that it is quite a task for an operator to secure a few days' leave of absence, on account of the company's being unable to furnish relief. There is not an extra operator on the division at present. This is not caused by scarcity of operators, for there is anywhere from four to eight applications received daily from operators in different parts of the country, seeking positions. These are filed away and not one out of a dozen ever heard of again. It does not seem reasonable to a sound-minded person that the railroads would attempt to fight a nine-hour law covering the telegraph operators. I think the article appearing in the May issue of THE TELEGRAPHER, under the heading of "The Man in the Tower," covers this point to a T. Y. Any person reading that and then remaining under the impression that a telegraph operator has nothing to do is a fit subject for the Home for the Incurable Insane.

I hope that every operator in the United States of America will do his part in upholding and maintaining this law which we have secured, and which should have justly been ours from the first. I hope to see something from other brothers on this subject, and if Bro. Quick will grant me space for the above I will ring off by saying, let us all get busy, keep in adjustment, and see that all trouble is located promptly.

J. R. SANDIFER.

MORE ABOUT THAT $75.00 MINIMUM.

I know we all are getting tired of so much talk about that $75.00 minimum. There is something we all want, and is what we ought to have, and that is pay by the hour. Let us have 30 cents per hour, and 60 cents per hour for Sunday work, and one hour off for dinner—trains or no trains—between the hours of 11:30 and 1 o'clock. It is a shame to have to work every hour of the day, every day in the week, and Sundays, too. Let us have one day to eat dinner at home so we won't forget how to eat dinner with the folks.

Don't let us wait for the other one. Let every one send Bro. Perham a little blank filled out of what we want, and tell him we must have it, or we will go back to grubbing, or something else that pays better than working twelve hours a day at about 17 cents an hour. We can get 30 cents an hour, and if we don't get it it will be our own fault. We have the sympathy of everybody on our side. People have begun to see what a responsible position the telegrapher holds, and realize we are not paid as we should be. When we get 30 cents an hour we will have plenty of men. There are plenty of good telegraphers doing something else because they can't make a living at telegraphing. We do not need a national eight-hour law, brothers, we need an eight-hour day, but we want the good old O. R. T. to get it, and then if we have to work longer than eight-hours, let us be paid over-time rates.

The way things are now a man can never look forward to anything or make an engagement of any kind. RAMBLER.

SHOULD HAVE $100.00 MINIMUM.

After reviewing my TELEGRAPHER I find that the $75.00 minimum has been discussed for several years, and we are still striving for it, so I thought I would get in the game and raise the edge a bit. Do you think if you were getting $75.00 per month that you would be satisfied? I don't. I think I am worth more money than that, although I am not getting that much; however, I expect to be getting more than $75.00 in the near future.

How many of you agents have taken a glance at your daily balance sheet about the sixth or seventh day of the month and noticed that you have remitted to the company $1 500, or somewhere thereabouts; enough to pay your salary for over two years? And do you think $75.00 per month is a just compensation for your services, taking the above figures into consideration?

Did you ever take a peep at your comparative statement, and reflect a moment, and notice that you had shown an increase of $2,000.00 over the same month's business of the year previous? Has your salary advanced in proportion? Well I should say noodles. Have you ever had the sensation of the superintendent or some other official patting you on the back and saying: "That's a good showing. Now see if you can make it $4,000.00 next year." And did you ever hear him warble that your salary had been raised on account of your showing of big increase in earnings? Not so's you could notice it.

Again, have you ever noticed and thought seriously at the freight charges on one of your grain or stock way bills, and surmised that the charges thereon was enough to nearly pay your salary for a month, and sometimes enough to pay it for two months; and then do you think that you would be satisfied with a measly $75.00 minimum?

Let's cut out this $75.00 minimum talk. It's getting stale. We wouldn't be satisfied with it if we had it, and would have trouble in getting it, and why not get enough in the first place, and we won't have to come back at them so soon for another increase. As a great many have suggested that March 4, 1908, would be a good date to make a demand, let's make it $100.00 per month and eight hours' work, or go to shucking corn.

After the $75.00 minimum has been on the board a while we would want something better, and would have the same old grinding in THE TELEGRAPHER for a year or two before we would be able to get busy again, and then have all our trouble of drawing up schedules to do over, and another hard fight to contend with; therefore, I suggest we make it reasonable to start with, or, in other words, something that we would be satisfied with for a while.

I suppose when some of you read this (if it gets through), will gasp for your breath, and say: "That fellow must want the railroad," but, on the contrary, I am not putting the minimum too high. Brakemen are getting that, and don't you think your duties as important as a brakeman's? All you have to have is a strong back to be a brakeman, but you have to go through the mill before you can be an operator. People don't inherit that these days.

I take it for granted that the majority of the operators who are advocating the $75.00 minimum are those located in the Eastern and Southern States, where the minimums are much lower at present than those in the West. Seventy-five dollars is a mere pittance in the West, as a majority of the telegraphers west of the Missouri are drawing from $70.00 to $85.00 salary, and the $75.00 minimum would mean nothing to them.

Of course, there are two sides to every story. The railroad companies are at a big expense in maintaining their equipment, and their pay roll is not at all trifling. However the freight charges on two cars of merchandise will pay every employe's salary for one day that it passes in going over a division, also the train crew hauling it. And they have the balance of the tonnage almost clear profit. Railroad monopolists have made a study of railroading for years, and unless they found it profitable they would have quit business long ago, and discontinue planting rails.

I don't care how small a station a man is working at his services are worth $100.00 a month to the railroad company, even if his receipts amount to but $50.00. However, stations of this degree are few and far between. And it's worth $100.00 of any man's money for a man to sit up all night twelve hours, if he don't know a thing. I served three years of it, and I sincerely hope I have went my limit—a whole week of this white hay is nothing to compare with one good eight hours' black sleep.

Aside from the $100.00 minimum, there are several other subjects I would like to dwell upon for a moment. Furthering the subject (national nine-hour law), I wish to voice the sentiments of some of the writers on this subject. The railroad companies are certainly going to fight this law. Many of the railroads have a form which the operators and agents are to fill out daily, showing time involved in performing the different duties pertaining to telegraphing. Now, brothers, they think they are going to do a big smear with these reports to show up against us. They are having us fill these reports out to cut our own throats with, but here's one Indian that's not going to work more than eight hours for less than $75.00 per after March 4, 1908. The different railroad companies will more than likely select a few of the easy stations or pick out the lightest days from all the stations and attach them to a petition to have the law revoked; or, in other words, try and get around this obstacle in some way.

Now, in any way they get around this law, let's establish a law of our own, and tell the railroad companies that we don't work for less than $75.00 per or more than eight hours on and after March 4, 1908. I'm gone on the aforesaid date unless there is things doing. How many are following your old pal? Do I hear a noise like I-I-I?

Now let's drop this old $75.00 minimum gag. There isn't a man working in a relay office but what receives this amount; and there are lots of good old O. R. T. boys working in relay offices.

The $75.00 minimum isn't what we want. It isn't enough. Many of the boys are getting more at present. The majority of the heavy train order jobs in the West pay $77.50, and relay men run from $75.00 to $84.50, not including wire chiefs and chief operators.

Now, here is a solution to the disputes in regard to the compensation an operator should receive: Let a man, or more than one man, start a petition over his division, or over the line reached by wire direct from his office. Some man on the different branch lines volunteer to solicit their respective branches with a petition through the United States mail, and attaching a sheet for each man to vote on. Have space provided for name and station, and have the squares headed $75.00 minimum, eight hours, 35 per cent increase, etc. A man can then vote for what he thinks he would be satisfied with, and when all the men on the division have registered, the last man mail to Bro. Quick. He will soon see that we are stayers, and I am sure he will have business picking up in a short time. Now, don't all jump at this at once, and don't all stand back and let your neighbor do it for you.

If this passes the bridge of gold over Bro. Quick's bottomless pit, and the type sticker don't give out before he gets it set, will come again.

Here's to $75.00 per or more, and eight hours, or blow.

ED., CERT. 725, DIV. 130.

ABOUT GENERAL TELEGRAPH OFFICE.

Much has been said in our journal about the $75.00 minimum, hourly pay, U. S. mail, etc., but I have never noticed anything from the general telegraph offices, where many of the most efficient telegraphers are employed and where the hours are not as short as they should be, and where the drill in those hours is constant and the overtime is almost a daily occurrence, and let me say right here that it is overtime pro rata, which is not right. It should be either time and a half or double time, but it will always be this way until the telegraphers in the general offices wake up to the fact that they will always work these hours as long as they stay in the half organized condition they are on certain railroads at the present time.

I would like to urge the telegraphers of the general offices to thoroughly organize and prepare to demand good wages and better conditions. There is no use working for $75.00 per month with overtime at pro rata and working nine hours per day when we might as well be getting $90.00 or $95.00 with eight hours and time and a half for overtime and Sunday work. Two-thirds of the message work on Sundays could be cut out and mailed if the telegraphers would see to it that it was done, thereby cutting the Sunday work down to the minimum. Most all other men in general offices have every Sunday off, also every Saturday afternoon off, which is an item that should not be overlooked.

If you will look at the stenographers in these general offices you will find that they are furnished with typewriters, and it should be the same with the operators, as they should not be required to furnish typewriters to do the company's business with. If the railroad company would furnish these machines for telegraphers in general offices it would only require about half the machines that the operators now have to furnish. On a quad wire one machine on each side would be all that is necessary, but now there are four machines used, as each man is required to furnish his own typewriter. It has been the custom, the railroads say, for operators to furnish these mills, and it always will be the custom as long as the men submit to it, as it is very certain that no railroad company will ever offer to furnish machines of their own accord, and the only remedy we can apply is thorough organization.

I would like to say a word about this over time before mentioned. It is one of the worst evils we have to contend with in the general offices today. A man works a trick from 10 a. m. until 8 p. m. He works two hours from 10 until 12, then is off from 12 until 1 for dinner, comes back at 1 and works from 1 until 8; then is stuck an hour overtime, making it 9 p. m., which is eight hours' work without anything to eat. Now, brothers, does that strike you as being right in any sense of the word. The idea of working eight straight hours without lunch is preposterous when eight is a good day's work by itself.

I would like to hear from some other brother on this subject of the general offices and urge upon all the possible future of a thoroughly organized general office.

CERT. 107, DIV. 126.

PLAN FOR THOROUGH ORGANIZATION.

Have been reading the columns of the journal, and especially do I note the discontent among the telegraphers, and I am very glad to see this, for I think that it means a general move for better conditions. Every reform must necessarily cost something, and if the telegraphers are sincere in this we will soon have better times.

I have a plan to submit to the Order, and I think it will prove much better than our present way of doing things.

Let each subdivision, or freight division, on each road elect a special organizer, and let him organize that division, under the direction of the local chairman. Let him cover the entire division, visiting all the desirable nons and if possible secure their application, and weed out the ham factories along his division. Then make a report to the local chairman of the conditions on his division, and the local chairman make one to the general secretary of that division, he in turn to make a report to the President, of the conditions on his entire road, and then the President can see what we want, and determine how it can be secured.

I think that it would be useless for Bro. Perham to endeavor to do anything as a whole until he is thoroughly familiar with the conditions on the different roads throughout the country, and by this means I think he can secure the necessary information, and it would be reliable and trustworthy.

To carry out this plan there will be necessary expenses to be met and paid, and the members will have to bear them. If an assessment be placed on them of one dollar per month I think that this work can be carried out very quickly and thoroughly, provided that a competent man is selected.

We have got to do something and that very soon or lose what we have already won by our hard struggle with the controllers of the railways, and I think from what I understand of the conditions prevailing throughout the South that this plan would bring quick results.

As March 4th is the recognized turning point in the career of the railroad telegrapher, we have not the time to discuss this plan through the columns of the journal many times, and I would like to see every local chairman take this matter up within the council chambers and if possible put it into execution at an early date, writing us all through the columns of the journal what they have done about the matter, and if they will put it through, provided, of course, the members are willing, and will report to the President of the O. R. T. their opinion on the subject.

This means thorough organization, better conditions, and work. If we are to accomplish anything, now is the time to get busy, not wait for the other fellow, for the railroads are not waiting for you, nor will they give you anything but more work and less pay at every opportunity, and if that national nine-hour law is to become a reality, instead of a "dream," we have got to make it so, with hard work and hustling men.

Now, brother local chairman, we have no use for "dead men" in this world, so they are buried to give the live ones a chance. We need good, reliable live men. Are you one? If so, do your duty, show the world that the men in the "working harness" of the O. R. T. are live men, and know what they want and are going to leave no stone unturned to secure them. The "rank and file" will back you up with the money. You supply the brains and direct the campaign on your division. It is up to you whether we rise or fall, for the middle ground is not worth considering now.

CERT. 91, Div. 59.

SHOULD MAKE REASONABLE DEMANDS.

Some of the most gifted writers in our ranks have for some time been freely discussing the $75.00 minimum and eight-hour day, conveying the idea that our entire membership should by all means make a stand for a $75.00 minimum, to take effect March 4, 1908, with the national nine-hour law. Brothers and sisters, on roads where a $70.00 to $75.00 minimum has been secured through years of united effort, the proposed stand for a $75.00 minimum in connection with the eight-hour day would not seem out of reason, and could no doubt be secured without serious difficulty, but could this consistently be applied to all systems? Take, for example, partially organized roads, or newly organized roads working under the first or second agreement or contract, $50.00 or $55.00 minimum, overtime, meal hour, seniority rights, etc., as compared with a $20.00 to $45.00 rate of pay a few years ago. Would not a demand for such an increase, together with four hours per day less work than before be entirely out of reason? Would it mean anything less than a resort to arms (a general strike, something that should never occur except as a very last resort to force just demands and fair treatment)?

I realize and appreciate fully the splendid strength of our organization, but even though we held the strength of the world, let us by all means take a conservative view, a business view of things before going too far. The world was not made in one day. Our immense organization did not accomplish all in one day, but through years of united effort it has in a straightforward business-like manner accomplished much, and is not yet through. Let's be sure we are right, then go ahead. Let the general committees of the various systems, backed or governed by reason, the present existing circumstances on their respective roads, and the sentiment of their membership at large, meet the management as usual, hoping and expecting a fair and just deal, then by all means stand up for it. It is believed that some systems will even suggest a reduction in salaries by reason of the eight-hour day, but it is not reasonable to suppose that a reduction would be stood for by the boys of any system.

Ninety-nine per cent or more of the membership may fail to look upon this important matter in the same light as myself. However, I have made an effort to express myself, and all I ask of the dear brothers and sisters is that they do not brand me a tenderfoot or one who does not need the money.

C. E. Moss,

Local Chairman Div. 59.

SHOULD CAREFULLY CONSIDER QUESTION.

I have just been reading in THE TELEGRAPHER, and as I read the $75.00 minimum and eight-hour day, I wonder if half that write those topics really think what they are writing or, rather, urging. I am as strong an O. R. T. as the world affords, but, boys, would we stay out, if we were called out, until we won? I, of course, would stay out until the strike was settled, for, as I learned to gee old Beck, I think I could yet follow my old plow. But so many who can do nothing but telegraph, I fear, would really not stick. So let us all stop and think of this more seriously before starting out. I, for one, would have more faith in asking for an eight-hour day and $60.00 or $65.00 scale. While I do hope we will come out successfully, and win the eight-hour day and $75.00 minimum, I feel we should take the whole world over in consideration. and not one individual man as to whether he would stick or not.

I would be glad to have a suggestion from Bro. Quick or Bro. Perham as to what to do on this subject.

Hoping we will all consider as a whole and then, when called out, if such be the case, stay out until we accomplish our victory.
CERT. 1092.

UNREASONABLE DEMANDS.

In the various letters advocating a $75.00 minimum, one can not but be surprised at the means advocated to obtain it. The greatest gains that we can make will be by acting conservatively. A few years ago when the $75.00 minimum was first advocated, it was meant for a twelve-hour day. Now that the eight-hour day is in sight to ask for a $75.00 minimum is, we think, asking too much. The eight-hour day is the greatest concession we have ever gained. To gain an increase of from $20.00 to $35.00 per month in salary, together with putting on the third man, thus increasing the operating expenses of the railroads from $25.00 to $100.00 per month at each office, with the adverse legislation that has been passed by the State Legislatures in reducing the passenger fares from 3 cents to 2 cents, is more than the companies can stand. The method of practically holding up the railroads, as advocated by the various letters in the September journal, certainly can not be sanctioned by our grand officers. We have, we believe, a level-headed set of men, and they certainly do not believe in a hold-up in order to secure all, at one time. The past grand chief of the B. of L. E., Mr. Arthur, and the present chief of the United Mine Workers' Union, Mr. John Mitchell, have been careful at all times to keep their men from plunging into a strike, and have in this way won the admiration of the public as well as their employers. We can not think the public will sanction this method of securing the $75.00 minimum. That we are far behind the other labor organizations in our rates of pay can not be denied, but we have made rapid strides in the last few years. If we can succeed in getting a universal eight-hour day we can then begin to work for a yearly increase and make the minimum $100.00, which we should be getting now. We must recollect that "Rome was not built in a day." We believe we should make a determined stand for the eight-hour day, as we have the public and the law on our side in this. We should have double pay for all Sunday work, and should demand it. This, with a yearly increase, will soon make the $75.00 minimum. We do not wish to create the impression that we are not in favor of the $75.00 minimum nor the $100.00 minimum. Far from that; we heartily endorse it, but we are unequivocally opposed to a hold-up, or of trying to coerce the railroads into unjust demands. They have their side of the question. They are expected to make as good a showing as they can to their stockholders, and to try to keep on a paying basis. The labor unions are frequently spoken of now as tyrannical (by the enemies of organized labor, of course), but to attempt a universal tie-up would stamp the O. R. T. as deserving the name of being tyrannical.

CERT. 231, DIV. 14.

WHAT CONSTITUTES A UNION MAN.

Are you a union man, though you have a card? This assertion may seem somewhat queer and out of place, but it is neither queer nor out of place when given due consideration. There are a great many of us that do not really know the meaning of unionism. There are a lot of us that never give the matter one minute of serious consideration, and to explain the workings and that which takes to make a true and upright union man would be too exalted a subject for us to attempt to unravel. In the first place some of us cling to the idea that a card is the only salvation for the laboring man. This is wrong in the extreme. A card is all right as far as it goes, and only performs the functions which was intended for it to perform. It does not make you a better man to be the proud possessor of a card, but it will show you up to the tens of thousands of toilers to be one of the most despicable, contemptible types of humanity that ever expelled the air from a set of lungs if you are not also the possessor of the pure and unadulterated spirit of unionism. If you are not a union man at heart, then stay out of the union, or your card might get in its work and brand you as a coward and a traitor, as they have done for the Western Union telegraphers that were not union men, though they had a card. No man or woman has, nor ever will scab that has or ever possessed at heart the true spirit of unionism. It is, indeed, no uncommon occurrence to see a card totter scabbing, but a union man, never. These professional card totters join the union for two distinct reasons. First, they join the union in time of peace in order that they may be enabled to enjoy the hospitality of the union while there is no trouble brewing. Second, they join for the purpose of having their poor little pale-faced wife and children protected by the brotherhood's insurance in case he (an ungrateful cuss) should make his departure to climes unknown. He really joins in order that his wife shall reap the benefits of the union in case he should die. When a strike is called, then he scabs that he may also protect his wife and enjoy the big bonus which all companies pay during a strike period. Now, a man that would do a thing like this is no union man, nor has he ever been. A character of this type will no more prove loyal to his company than he did to his union. A man that will deliberately lie will steal; a true union man (not card totters), will not do either. Remember the world loves a brave, true, courageous gentleman. If you are a Methodist, say so; if you are a Catholic, say so; if you are a union man, say so. It will never lower you in the estimation of those that are honest and honorable. Of course, unionism is abhorred by those that rob us of the fruits of our toil; rob us of necessities of life, rob us of simple and common luxuries of life; make our wives' face pale, our children ignorant. But people in a class of this kind are neither gentlemen nor our friends. Take the Western Union officers today; if they could lay aside prejudice and self-interest they would tell you that those that remained true and loyal to their obligations, fought the things which they deemed were detrimental to themselves according to their own convictions were to be more admired than those that had proven to be cowards. We all read with much laughter the declaration of Mr. Mackay. He gave out a statement that the D. O. C. was going to have a sick benefit in their company from now on, whereby their telegraphers would be provided for in case of sickness or death. Now this benovolent gentleman did not give the outlines of this proposed scheme, but he naturally wishes to convey the idea that the dear old company is going to set aside a fund for the protection of their telegraphers in case that they should become disabled for duty. Now, I hope none of you will hold your breath until the dear old company sets aside a fund for your protection, for the idea is ridiculous, and you would meet with sore disappointment. Of course, the company may establish this sick benefit, but not a dollar will they contribute to maintain its welfare and existence. The telegrapher alone will have the honor of maintaining a proposition of this kind. You would only be entitled to its benefits during your service with them. If you lost out with them today and get sick tomorrow, of course, you would also lose out in the benefit, and not a dollar would you receive, although you had, perhaps, paid your monthly assessments of $2.00 or $2.50 for years. A proposition of this character would only be the means whereby you could deposit the sweat of your brow, permit the company to reap the honor and two-thirds of the profit. Whenever a man of Mr. Mackay's caliber comes out and makes a proposition purporting to elevate the down-trodden toilers, make the lights in our homes shine brighter, put more school books in the hands of our children that they may possess the true knowledge of his country, the duty he owes to himself and home, graft manhood and honorable principles upon each pulsation of the heart, he has an ax to grind, and if you don't get busy with due consideration you will have to do the turning. You may put that in your pipe and smoke it.

Why not the union get busy and form a sick benefit department of their own? If you lose out where you are, and hold an up-to-date card, become disabled for duty, you would reap the benefits of the sick benefit department, just as though you held a position. If a man ever needed the assistance of any one, it is while he is sick and without a position.

You know that there is one failing of the human family that deserves no little comment. A man never becomes great until after he dies. The most of us only make preparations for our families in case we should be called away. We never, for one minute, think of the consequences that would be brought about should we fall a victim of a long and protracted illness. A lot of good brothers have fallen by the wayside on account of going up against hard luck. We should arrange to help those that hit hard luck. It is nothing but our duty to do it. If we are true brotherhood men, we will do it. If we are brothers, then let us join hands and be ever ready and willing to see that not a brother in this great family of ours shall suffer or his rights be infringed upon. Will you be with us? If you are not with us in trying to elevate the financial and moral standing of the telegrapher, then you are not a union man, though you have a card.

The chaff has flown. Would you feel justified in demanding the honor of being a true union man at heart and principle when the fact is clearly demonstrated that you are daily routing freight via L. & N., while you could route via other lines equally as satisfactory to the shipper? Do you ever stop and think what the L. & N. is to the telegrapher? Does the manner in which they treated our organizers while trying to organize their road ever appeal to you? Does it not still the pulsations of your heart to read the details of the strife and abuse heaped upon our organizers by the L. & N.'s so-called private detectives while trying to organize that road? Could our men ever been so tyrannically treated by barbarians as they were at the hands of the L. & N.'s cowardly detectives? Does not the L. & N. tell you openly and above board that you will have to discard all your earthly possessions in the way of O. R. T. credentials before entering their service? Certainly they do. Do they not compel the telegrapher to keep students in their office, teach these students your profession that they may be enabled to keep the telegrapher's salary at its lowest ebb? Certainly they do. You are compelled to admit all of these charges to be facts undisputed, yet you will not question your ticket purchaser as to whether or not he hadn't as soon go via other routes than the L. & N. When freight is tendered you for shipment destined to a point beyond your line, do you give this business to the L. & N. when you could put this shipment over another line? Do you manifest self-interest by keeping all your business out of the hands of the L. & N.? When routing your business, do you call to mind the roads that are fair and those that are unfair to the telegrapher? If you do not, then you are not a union man, though you have a card. I can call to mind one telegrapher on this road that kept the L. & N. from handling sixty-five car loads of stuff this year, although the L. & N. commercial agent was constantly in this agent's town trying to solicit the business from the people, but there was nothing doing, the agent was up against the L. & N., and he didn't forget to give them a frosty look when the opportunity presented itself. Now, this agent appreciated his own road, as well as the other roads that had granted the telegrapher recognition and a schedule. He showed these roads his appreciation by putting all his business over their line. Now, do as this agent did. Never tire of keeping the unfair roads before your eyes when it comes to routing freight and selling tickets to points beyond your line.

To make our union a success in every sense of the word, it will necessarily take zealous and untiring workers in the field. Card and paid-up dues alone will never do it. When you contemplate subscribing or buying a magazine or daily paper do you question whether or not this literature is fair or unfair to organized labor? If not then you make a grave error and can only be accounted for in one way, and that is you do not possess the true spirit of unionism. The principal papers of this and other States are owned and controlled by the corporations and they never forget to give organized labor a black eye and a frosty look on every possible occasion. Now do you feel quite at home reading papers and magazines that stand ever ready to hold up union labor at the point of their pen, which is mightier than the sword? I should think not. When are you going to lay aside these papers that are unfair to us? When are you going to patronize only those papers that are fair to our cause or at least publish the real facts as they really exist matters not who it hurts? Take in the commercial telegraphers' strike, for example. They simply printed nothing that would be of interest or encouragement to organized labor, but, on the other hand, if one poor weak-kneed individual that had no regard for the truth, returned to work, they came out with head lines as large as a circus announcement and declared "the strike was all over, the men have all returned to the dear old company and ask that their same old job be given back to them, but the company had turned a deaf ear to the majority of them, as their places had been filled." Funny, isn't it; be careful a thing of this nature is liable to explode and the probability is that it would jar your anatomy. Yet we will continue to drop our coin into these contemptible pest coffers by subscribing and buying these fellows' papers.

We can get papers that are just as good, and better, for they give us fair play. Why not show these papers that are fair to union labor our appreciations by giving them our subscription? Every time we purchase an unfair paper we say by our actions that we fully appreciate the unkind manner in which union labor is treated at their hands. Why not rally to the support of those that gave us their support? It is indeed a poor rule that does not work both ways. If we ever expect to have our stock in the O. R. T. market at a never declining point, we will necessarily be compelled to adopt the "no card, no favor, no label, no trade" rule. When we adopt this rule and live up to it to the letter, such things as strikes will only be a matter of history.

I wish to call your attention to another fact. Do you read your journal every month? Why, I asked a good brother the other day what he thought of a certain article in the September journal, written by Bro. Quick, in reference to the bond question. He was truly ignorant as to what

Bro. Quick had written. Now I hope that there are not many of our brothers quite so negligent as this brother was. If they have been I would thank each of you to dig this September journal up and look that article up and read it until thoroughly understood. The bond question is of vital importance to the telegrapher. It is a subject that should never be dropped until we have landed a bond company in our organization. The benefits it would afford the telegrapher would be too numerous to mention, and the railroads would soon recognize it to be one of the greatest helps to them that had ever existed. For example, if you were to go to a superintendent and apply for a position as agent-telegrapher, the superintendent would of course have to run a certain amount of risk in employing you, as it would take you about thirty days to secure bond, and perhaps the general wind up would be that you could not make bond at all. The company would then have to put in a new man, of course. But if you carried an up-to-date card this would guarantee the railroad that they would run no risk whatever in employing you.

CERT. 26, Div. 56.

HOURLY PAY.

After just reading an article in October number of THE RAILROAD TELEGRAPHER from Cert. 1629, Div. 33, I would like to add a few words on the subject.

I, too, am more in favor of putting the rate of wages on an hourly basis of 25 or 30 cents per hour for week days and 50 or 60 cents for Sundays, with one hour off for dinner or one hour overtime, instead of a $75.00 minimum.

I also think operators who have to work overtime, especially the men who have to work thirteen hours for a day, should be paid say, 50 per cent extra in addition to regular overtime rates, and if called before or after regular hours telegraphers should be paid 50 cents for each call.

Let us get busy and every one tell Bro. Perham our desires on this subject, then ask him to call a vote if necessary to decide the matter. Hoping to hear from several others next month on this subject and later from every one, I will cut out.

CERT. 252, Div. 3.

SHOULD BE CONSERVATIVE.

I have, from time to time, read the different letters from members, and am impressed with the suggestions relative to how the telegraphers and agents should be paid. Occasionally a brother appears who is quite moderate in his demands, but usually it is a $75.00 minimum for eight hours, etc., or, may be, it will be a scale of from 25 cents to 75 cents per hour, and usually ends with a call to arms, something like this: "And if the railroads do not accept this schedule, then let every one of us go out, and stay out until our demands are conceded," etc. This last is the finale to nearly all these letters. It seems to ease the pangs of "oppression" to render this "plea in abatement." My ideas may be different from others as to what our organization was called into existence for, but I do not feel like crying strike as a remedy for our meager salaries and unfair treatment. What I conscientiously believe we should do is to have our representatives make demand of the railroad officials for a reasonable recompense for our services as compared with other classes of employes in the railroad service, endeavoring to show where we are underpaid. We must get our reasonable demands by having them presented by men qualified for such business, and who have tact in handling such matters; men who are diplomats in carrying on negotiations of this character, and the strike should be a last resort. My opinion of the secret of success in getting a square deal from any great corporation is the complete organization of that class of employes with men at the head of such organizations who have the qualifications requisite to accomplish the purpose for which such organization was created. Now, as to the amount of wages each man should receive, and the length of time each of us should work without rest, I am hardly able to say, and I do not believe there can be an equitable arrangement made which could be successfully applied under all conditions, and I perceive that in the different suggestions offered by the brothers not two agree on every point, and the matter appears to be a pleasant morsel to roll under the tongue, and I am inclined to look upon the way it is discussed as rather unnecessary in many cases, since false ideas are created, and the real object of the organization overlooked.

In concluding these remarks I would offer one suggestion in regard to a scale of wages. It is this: Let every brother make a statement of what he believes the position he then occupies is worth per day of eight hours, or per hour, sending it to the president of the Order. Then allow him to draw an average from the lot, and have the matter presented to the officials of the railroads by our representatives, and if handled diplomatically we will, without doubt, receive our demands, if within the bounds of reason. Strikes are dear remedies, and not a "specific." Many times, when the demand is justly founded, the strike is a boomerang, and it is rarely timely.

Yours for the good of the Order,

CERT. 1633, Div. 126.

FAVORS HOURLY PAY.

Please allow me a little space in our good old journal to register a kick on this $75.00 minimum and eight hours we read so much about. I am bitterly opposed to it. Take, for example, the Texas eight-hour law. Some of the roads not organized work their men eight hours, but it's four hours on, four hours off and four on, making twelve hours. We would just as soon work twelve hours straight and be done with it. I know of several jobs on a Texas road. The telegrapher goes on at 7 p. m., works till 11 p. m., then is relieved by dispatcher, and is off till 3 a. m., and then on till 7 a. m. Now, how much rest does that man get between 11 p. m. and 3 a. m.? After 11 p. m. he has about six hours clerical work to do, and has three hours to do it in. I favor the 30 cents or more, per hour plan, with eight hours as a minimum. That would pay in a thirty-day month $72.00; thirty-one days $74.40. I don't mean that we should sign up for a 30 cent schedule, but it should not be less than that. Then if, after our eight hours' work is over at the keys, if there is any clerical work to do we can send in time for it. Whatever we do let's get busy and do it. Time is precious, and we should act at once. So here's best wishes for our success.

CERT. 1330, Div. 32.

St. Louis Div., No. 2.

As announced in the November TELEGRAPHER, the commercial telegraphers' strike has been declared at an end.

This strike will be a memorable one in the world of labor because of its wide scope, and the unprecedented fidelity of the strikers.

The St. Louis telegraphers were loth to call the conflict off, but being convinced that the Western Union had resolved to suffer complete annihilation rather than grant the demands of the union, they acceded to the advice of the Executive Committee.

A large number of the strikers have been given their former positions and more were promised employment as soon as the business had recovered from the severe set-back which it had received.

The Western Union appears to be doing what it can to take care of its former employes, but the Postal is resorting to antagonistic methods, and has shown itself hardly deserving of the friendship and support accorded to it by the telegraphic fraternity before the late unpleasantness.

Bro. J. W. Hart, of Binghamton, N. Y., has been with us for some time.

Bro. Chas. E. Duncan has been appointed chief clerk, succeeding Bro. W. H. Bull, resigned.

Bro. Bull contemplates emigration to Mexico for his health.

Bro. J. W. La Fever has been appointed assistant to Bro. Duncan.

Bro. P. P. Molloy has resigned from the general offices and has embarked in the tree business, as a representative of a prominent New York nursery.

Bro. Ernest Aher has also resigned to return to Pennsylvania, his former home.

We wish the retiring brothers much success in their new vocations.

Bro. H. A. Berry has returned from a visit to Kentucky and Indiana.

Bro. Walter Burch has returned from Colorado, where he has been looking over farming land. Bro. Burch has purchased eighty acres near Cortez, Colo., and will soon be numbered among the famous potato and fruit producers of that State.

Bro. Robey Overby resigned from the general offices to engage in the chicken industry in Illinois.

Mrs. C. E. Hosler, wife of Bro. Hosler, local chairman of Division No. 33, at Grafton, W. Va., who has been visiting Bro. A. C. Lindenmuth, of St. Louis, has returned to West Virginia, after spending a pleasant two weeks in this city.

Assessment slips in the Mutual Benefit Department are now being sent out. Do not forget your dues in Division No. 2 when remitting for insurance.

THOMAS AQUINAS, Div. Cor.

Harrisburg Div., No. 3.

Our meeting Thursday, the 7th, was a good one. The boys from the west end were present to hear the report of our L. B. of A. chairman, who had just returned from the Philadelphia meeting of the General Committee very much delighted with conditions now pending for adjustment, to be completed in the very near future.

Quite a few have become delinquent in their M. B. D. assessments, but, receiving an urgent request, mean to comply so as to retain membership in the O. R. T., in view of the fact that the new General Committee are working very hard for the welfare of the craft and our entire support is pledged.

Since last writing, "BI," Steelton; "H," station master's office, Harrisburg, and "FQ," Lucknow, Harrisburg yard, have been put on eight hours. If these conditions were traced, organization would be the foundation.

Five years ago you were receiving from $40 to $50 per and now from $60.50 up. Are you not able to spend $8 yearly to carry an up-to-date card, and thus aid in bettering your brothers' condition, and at the same time taking care of the insurance situation, so if any mishap should befall you your family would not be left penniless.

Messrs. Stiver, Skinner and Williams were elected to membership at the meeting.

Bro. Henry, working "RL" days, and a member of Division No. 9 visited our meeting Thursday, and dropped some timely suggestions.

Bro. J. Albert, leverman at Rockville, after a long illness, has resumed duty, and was in attendance at the meeting.

Bro. W. E. Burkholder, of the Tyrone branch, has written for more blanks, as he expects to secure some applications. The P. & N. W. is strongly represented in recruiting. It won't be long until Harrisburg Division, No. 3, will be as the mighty oak, spreading its branches until solid. United we stand.

Bro. W. B. Hall, of the Branch, is keeping in touch with the doings of the local, thus keeping the brothers posted on the branch, which is appreciated, for it is difficult for these members to attend meetings.

We missed our brother, Chief J. S. Leyder, at the meeting.

A. E. Lehmer, our chairman L. B. of A., aside from his arduous duties, has also been engaged enticing nons into the Order.

Five dollars raise per month in the last year or $60 a year and semi-annual dues, insurance and miscellaneous about $15, or a balance in your individual treasury of $45. This, my brothers, is a good paying investment, and it does not appear what it shall be. Can you afford to join the Craft? Come with us and we will do thee good. Blank applications can be secured from the secretary.

P. and N. W. Division—

Following are a few of the changes that have taken place on this division since the last writings:

Bro. Weaver, agent at Rossiter Junction, returned November 1 from a ten days' leave of absence. His place was filled by Bro. Hall, extra agent.

Bro. Davis enjoyed a ten-day vacation during October. His position as agent and operator at Hillman was also filled by Bro. Hall, as was also the agency at Lloydville during the ten days Bro. A. E. List was rusticated in the national capital.

Relief operator, Bro. Ifert, was off duty nine days during October, taking in the Jamestown Exposition. He reports everything up-to-date, and seems well pleased with his trip. He spent the following Sunday in Irvona, in company with Bro. A. McQuown.

Bro. Uber left the service some time ago and his place is filled by Mr. Flickinger, while the night position at "HY" is filled by Mr. Ketterer. Neither of these hold up-to-date cards, but Mr. Flickinger promises to come with us about January 1, 1908.

Bro. A. J. List, night operator at Glasgow, and Bro. McCartney, days at Glasgow, are both expecting a few days off during November.

Bro. Strunk, nights at Figart, is talking of going into business for himself.

Bro. McHugh bid in nights at "DR" tower.

"D" tower nights was bid in by J. O. Peterson, who does not hold an up-to-date card.

We are glad to tell you that "VO," "DR," and "PX" have been made eight hours, and so advertised.

"VO," north end Bellwood yard, and "DR" are both interlocking towers.

"PX," Punxsutawney, is a terminal, having five freight crews and two passenger crews stationed there, also heavy Postal telegraph business. This change ought to be an inducement to all the boys that are in arrears to pay up at once. We "13" there are some who have not paid for this term. Don't let yourselves be branded as delinquents. Show that you are just as willing to keep an up-to-date union card in your pocket as you are to reap the benefits.

Fred Albert, day man at "MG" tower. McGee's has only two students now, and says he positively will not teach the whole five. He says the other three must learn elsewhere.

There will likely be a good many changes on this division during the next month, and of which we will tell you in a later issue.

Now, boys, let us all come up with the cash. If we are in arrears we know it and some others know it, too. So don't be the one to be pointed at as backslider. No card no favors.

OLD PAL.

Lancaster Div., No. 9.

By the time this reaches the eyes of our readers and friends this division will have celebrated the first anniversary of its birth. One year ago a little band of telegraphers, possessed with a spirit of doing good, arose from their inactivity and proclaimed their freedom by instituting this important local under the most trying difficulties and circumstances. These difficulties however were short-lived, and nothing but encouragement was ours when as many as thirty applicants applied for admission in a single month.

This success however can not be accredited to a few individuals, but there were many who had the interest of the organization at heart and did yeoman service. With the increase in membership the attendance at meetings also rose with great rapidity.

The November meeting was called to order at the usual time, with many new faces among those present. An unusual amount of business was on hand, some of which had to be left over for the December meeting.

We are still keeping up our record for receiving applicants by transfer. This month we had the pleasure of extending the glad hand to one hailing from the City of Brotherly Love, and we have assurances of more to come to the "Garden Spot of the World."

Agents and operators were also among the aggregation of new-comers, and we can not help but congratulate ourselves on taking in our ranks such strong material.

Bro. W. F. Parthemer, middle trick at "ES," spent some time sightseeing with his family at Cleveland, Ohio, last month.

Bro. A. W. Connor, nights at "SN" Heaton, is now temporarily filling in on the 11 to 7 trick at "BI" Steelton. That office was put on the eight-hour basis several weeks ago.

Bro. J. M. Tshudy, middle trick at "DX," was off duty for some time the latter part of November, on account of sickness. Bro. Tshudy manipulates one of the most important interlocking towers on the Penna. R. R., and is keeping our boys solid for No. 9 on the "Trenton Cut-off" in great shape.

Bro. Walter Reneker, middle trick at "MQ" Enola, is filling in temporarily on one of the first tricks at "H" Station Master's office, Harrisburg depot.

Bro. J. J. Ryan, of "UD" Superintendent's office, is confined to the house by a severe spell of sickness.

The grand prize drawing of a Yeatman Transmitting Typewriter, for the benefit of Bro. Ed. Kauffman, who left the service of the P. R. R. a few months ago, took place on Thursday evening, November 21, at Lancaster, and was in charge of Mr. Percy Carpenter, editor of The Labor Leader, in that city. The ticket which drew the prize was number 242, and was held by Mr. C. J. McLaughlin, agent at Elizabethtown.

Bro. Harry McNeal, of "UD" Superintendent's office, has just recovered from a severe attack of vertigo.

Bro. L. W. Jones, of middle trick "DE" office, Harrisburg round-house, filled Bro. McNeal's position.

Our prospects at this time could not look more encouraging, for notwithstanding the great money depression which has struck this country, at least a dozen members here have already settled with the Secretary for the next term's dues.

Div. Con.

Baltimore Div., No. 17.

Another year has closed, and as we take a retrospective view over 1907, we can easily see where Division No. 17 has proven a great help to many, but by each member becoming a little more aggressive and doing more personal work in enrolling the nons, our sphere of usefulness and the concessions granted the telegraph operators would become more numerous, and our salaries would keep pace with that of other railroad employees.

A certain operator on the N. C. R. R., whose name recently appeared in the correspondence of this division as one who was teaching a student, has been making inquiry as to who did it. To this party we would say: come to Division No. 17—you can see farther from the inside, and then you will know all about it. You should cease at once to be like so many others who are constantly reaping the benefits of increased pay which has been brought about through the O. R. T., and yet are unwilling to support said organization to the extent of $9 per year. It is said that during a great battle between Napoleon Bonaparte and General Wellington, that General Wellington sent out a spy to ascertain the strength of the enemy's army, and when the spy returned, he said: "We are about equal; we each have about three thousand men." "But," says General Wellington, "Napoleon alone equals three thousand men." So, in all conflicts, the O. R. T. alone equals any combating army that may assail its membership.

Brothers, the national nine-hour law will soon become effective, and it becomes the personal duty of each brother to do everything possible to enlist every non. Persuade them, so that we will present a solid front by the 4th of March, 1908. We will be stronger than any railroad corporation that may endeavor to inaugurate a reduction in salaries, etc. Brothers, if we get one hundred per cent, our organization will do like a certain drummer boy who was asked to play the retreat, and addressing the captain, said: "Captain, I've never learned the retreat; all I know is the forward march." And with a solid organization we will continue to move forward, gaining better conditions in every instance.

Magnolia "M" block tower was reopened last month, after being closed since May, 1906, with Mr. A. Bowman working first trick, Mr. H. C. McCommons second trick, and Mr. J. O. Herbert third trick.

The third trick at Edgewood, and the second trick at Bush River and Chase have not been filled as yet, although they have been advertised for some time.

Bro. Vitek, a commercial brother, has bid for the third trick at Stemmer's Run.

The Maryland Division of the P. B. & W. has discontinued issuing form "B" caution cards for freight trains to follow a passenger train in the block.

We are pleased to note that Bro. Joseph M. Rollins, of Edgewood, is able to be out of doors again, though he has not resumed duty as yet.

Through the kindness of Bro. L. H. Nelson, Bro. E. W. Talbott is working the first trick at White Hall.

We understand new towers are being erected at Corbett, Shrewsbury, Glatfelter and Wago Junction.

Bro. H. R. McCubbins is again on the relief, this being the first for at least six months, for which the boys are grateful.

Bro. G. C. Herbst has again resumed duty.

Bros. Bailey and Lowe are returning from their vacation tour, extending largely over the Penna. lines.

The Legislative Committee is on the alert and will watch every legal point relating to the betterment of the telegraphers in Maryland closely.

Bro. Q. A. Geise, one of the first members of Division No. 17, is now holding down the first trick on the train wire, during the absence of Mr. Joseph Gesford, who is running trains.

Election time for another year is about here, and we earnestly hope that the membership will be present and aid in electing the very best men for the offices of trust and responsibility.

MONTEBELLO.

IN MEMORIAM.

WHEREAS, It has been the will of Divine Providence to remove from our midst Brother John G. Burns; therefore, in token of esteem and respect for our brother telegrapher, be it

Resolved, That Baltimore Division, No. 17, of the Order of Railroad Telegraphers, extend to the bereaved family our most heartfelt sympathy; and be it further

Resolved, That a copy of these resolutions be placed upon the records of our Division, a copy sent to the deceased brother's family and one to THE RAILROAD TELEGRAPHER.

W. S. HUTCHISON,

W. B. BREWSTER,

D. L. KOLLER,

Committee.

New York Div., No. 26.

We are in a prosperous condition, both financially and numerically, and as the end of the year approaches, we can justly be proud of our standing.

By the time this issue of THE TELEGRAPHER is read, the dues for the next term will be coming in, and we hope the boys will not put off payment of same, but will pay early and get the new card early.

The members of Division No. 26, who attended the reception of the Telegraphers' Social Club of New York on Wednesday evening, November 6, at Majestic Hall, were treated to a fine time, and we were disappointed in not having Bro. Tom Pierson with us. Bro. Pierson has not much time to indulge in social pleasures, but is working hard getting better conditions, etc., for us, and he has our allegiance and good will. Notwithstanding the very disagreeable weather on the night of the 6th, the large attendance proved the reputation of the club for sociability and fraternal good will. Assemblyman Fred Northrup (a member of Typographical Union of Poughkeepsie), the introducer and defender of the successfully passed eight-hour telegraphers' bill of New York, and J. B. West, Chairman of Harlem Line, N. Y. Central Ry., accompanied by their wives and a number of friends from Poughkeepsie, attended the reception.

Bro. Northrup is held in such high esteem by his friends in Poughkeepsie that he was re-elected to the Assembly by the largest vote ever allotted to a candidate in his district. Men of his caliber should receive the hearty support of the laboring classes, regardless of political affiliations, and the sooner we throw aside the old-fashioned, ingrained political ideas and vote for the man who does for the workingmen, then we will be more successful in securing better conditions for the craft.

Bro. Northrup and Bro. West, coming from such a distance, with their wives and friends, show the interest they take in the telegraphers and their social ideas.

The great pleasure and enjoyment depicted on the faces of all attending the affair reflects great credit on the officers and members of the club, and accounts for the success of same.

We regret the suspension of the commercial telegraphers' strike under the present conditions, but while they have not won all they aspired for, they reap certain results through the strike. There is a position on the railroads for every telegrapher who fails to obtain re-employment by the commercial companies. The union and its principles are right, if lived up to, and the suspension of the strike should cause, not discouragement, but a greater determination to support their union.

Division No. 26 can be proud of the fact that, after all that its members have gone through, they are still staunch in their support of the Order.

SCRIBE.

Hoosier Div., No. 27.

Bro. Perham has notified us that the result of the vote for a change from a local to a system division was unanimous in favor of the system division. Please read your constitution under system division statutes and be governed accordingly. I believe the change will be beneficial if each and every one will take an interest in the Order and work in harmony with each other.

A grand union meeting was held in Indianapolis Sunday afternoon, November 24th, and an executive session was called for in the evening. A large number were present at both meetings. Representatives were present from all the different railroad brotherhoods and fraternities, and their grand officers were there to speak a few words. In the evening at the executive session, the different orders were called on to stand up and be vouched for their representative. When they called for the Order of Railroad Telegraphers, all three of us (for there were as many as three present), stood up and were vouched for by our popular fourth vice-president, Bro. J. J. Dermody.

The object in holding these meetings is to bring the different brotherhoods together and impress on them the need for co-operation and working in harmony with each other from the grand master down to the trackmen (if you don't happen to count the telegrapher at the bottom).

We want to impress on our officials that it is not our intention to be antagonistic. All we want is recognition and our rights, and a man that won't stand up for his rights is no man at all.

Brothers, if you have the opportunity again to attend one of these combined union meetings, do so. Our own meeting was held in the Hotel English, November 26th. About ten members from the St. Louis Division were present, and four visiting brothers.

The meeting was called to order, with Bro. Geo. Stevens, of "GN," Greencastle, in the chair. All other offices filled, and a few left as an "audience." We were sorry our chief telegrapher could not be with us, as we "13" he is on the sick list, but Bro. Stevens did fine for the first time. Regular order of business was taken up. A few communications were read, and one bill allowed.

While talks for the good of the Order were in progress, the porter interrupted us by bringing in a big bowl of oyster soup, which we were all surprised (?) to see.

Bro. Harrold, of "J," Limesdale, failed to show up until all were seated.

Brothers, we ought to have had a better attendance at this meeting. If an oyster supper will not bring you out, what will? With all the traveling facilities we have there is no excuse for you to stay away, and you know it. How do you expect an Order to do business with only a very few attending these meetings? Get busy. If you want to play "hookey," you ought to send in your excuse, not written by some one else, either.

Do not forget your dues are due. A great many have already paid up, and a great many have not. I wish to call your attention to the voluntary contribution I asked for. Out of those who have remitted their dues, only $1.50 extra has been received. As you know, we have no assessment levied on us, but if money does not come in better than it has, we will have to levy an assessment, for it takes money to run a division.

I again implore you to pay your dues (those that have not), and add what extra amount you can spare, and save the rest. Do not spend it foolishly.

About $25 has been forwarded to me for Bro. Clark, at Covington, La. I have forwarded same to him and he is very grateful to you for our generous contributions. If all other divisions do as well as the St. Louis Division, he ought to feel proud of our Order, and the support rendered him in the time of his trouble.

E. C. THOMPSON.

New Haven Div., No. 29.

The division has been doing business just the same. Meetings have been held, new members elected and initiated, and the regular routine discharged with formal exactness.

The attendance at the meetings is the barometer of individual interest, as well as the thermometer of the members' enthusiasm, and, judging by the last meeting, a physic will have to be administered to keep the attendance to the standard. Some one might propose the adoption of a motion to hold a smoker or hand-out reunion; maybe this will start a movement division-room way(?). A crowded meeting is the greatest incentive to us all. The spur of criticism has been tried to arouse the indolent ones to the realization that the burden of individual responsibility for the governing of their affairs never shifts. It remains upon the individual, and should he decry the inferiority of the judgment or laxity of the efforts of those who now handle the affairs, he is but condemning himself, for he should be at the meetings and oppose any move to retain the power in inefficient hands. When the lash of disapproval is raised there should be no occasion to apologize after it is wielded—too often the unthinking ones strike first, and apologize afterwards. Because those members elected to office and those who are regular in attendance take an active part, and conscientiously perform their duties, this is no proof that there is a clique or combination to deprive others of their rights. The only guarantee of permanence for any organized state is democracy of principles. The only safeguard against disintegration is the practice of that virtue.

The petition for a new division at New London for the Shore Line members, which had been circulated over that division of the road for signers, was disposed of at a special meeting held at New London. When they met and talked it over, it appeared that the benefits accruing would not offset the expenses necessary to maintain the division.

The special committee elected to ascertain the sentiment towards the increase of dues and the maintaining of a paid general chairman and general secretary have rendered their report with their recommendations, and a referendum vote will be taken to determine its practicability.

The sixth annual ball is to be held in Harmonie Hall, No. 9 Elm street, New Haven, Conn., Thursday evening, January 23, 1908. Music by Stanford's orchestra. Price of the tickets, admitting ladies and gentlemen, 50 cents. This hall, without doubt, is the best in the city. It is reached by cars running from the depot up Meadow street to State street without change. Other cars running from the depot, transfer at the corner of Church and Chapel streets, or Chapel and State. Tickets have been mailed to all members, with the hopes that they will dispose of as many as they can. Those not sold should be returned to Bro. F. A. Brown, care being taken to sign the name of the returner so as to assist in giving the member credit. The signing of the name of the member returning the tickets helps the committee to locate him quicker, as it saves looking up the numbers which each ticket bears.

Each member should endeavor to make this ball the premier of all other, and sell all the tickets he can, and, above all things, come yourself, and bring all the lady friends that you can. One member has already sold forty tickets. He deserves a prize, for he has demonstrated his hustling abilities in many instances heretofore.

Bro. E. J. Manion, our general chairman, has returned to his former position as agent at Cedar Hill Station. He traversed and retraversed the road from terminal to terminal, and branch to branch, and reduced the "O. R. S. A." to a fragmentary state. The educational propaganda which he disseminated sufficed to set their members thinking, and they now agree that it is a waste of money to put it into an order that can not benefit them.

Our worthy second vice-president, Bro. T. M. Pierson, passed through here recently on his way to Bangor, Me., to meet the general committee of the Maine Central at that place. He reports conditions on the roads in his territory are better than ever before.

The Central New England general committee (which road is an allied part of the N. Y., N. H. & H.), secured a revision of their former schedule with a substantial increase in wages, and other emoluments.

Notes From Highland Division—

Bro. Webb, from New Britain, has returned from four weeks' vacation spent in Baker, N. Y., and other places in New York State; relieved by Mr. Mullen, from the B. & M.

Bro. Ellison, "NB," days, has been on a vacation.

Hartford Division wires have been put in the Highland Division office at Newington, "NG." More work for Bro. Rees.

Bro. J. J. Burke, "G," nights, taking a short vacation before returning to New York for his grand vacation.

Bro. Steede is now located at Yonkers, on the N. Y. C.

Bro. Virkles, "JN," days, has returned from a visit at his home in New York State. On returning he gave his job at "JN" to Sister Cullen, who was on the extra list on account of "WA" being closed.

Bro. Virkles on the extra list at present.

Bro. House, at Plainville, has been away for a month; relieved by Bro. Markham.

Bro. Umphrey is laid up on account of some eye trouble.

Bro. Costello has returned to "P." He has been on a three weeks' vacation, spent in Meriden, Bridgeport, and other places.

Brothers, let's hear from you all. Don't go to sleep in the woods. Wake up, and let us know where you are. Write some stuff for this column of THE TELEGRAPHER. It will serve to keep us all posted.

We "13" Bro. Kellog has given up the chicken business and has bid in the "owl" trick at Southford.

Bro. Eustace is holding down the day trick at Wheatons.

Bro. Nutting, of Sandy Hook, is off on a month's vacation. Bro. Bennett doing the day trick.

Bro. Page, new man, doing the "owl" trick at "G."

Bro. J. J. Burke has gone back to his retreat for the winter.

Sister Cullen bid in the day trick at "JN." Bro. Markham on the night job.

Bro. Odium, of Terryville, recently worked so much overtime that he had to lay off a few days to spend the "mon."

Mr. Dowd and Mr. Fitzgerald holding down the two tricks at Summitt. They both carry a C. T. U. of A. card.

Hartford Division Notes—

Bro. Sugenhien, of East Berlin, acting as chief clerk at Berlin freight house while the agent at Berlin is away on a vacation.

Bro. Saunders, from Dublin street, Waterbury, relieving Bro. Sugenhien at East Berlin. Dublin street has been closed temporarily on account of the shortage in operators.

Night man at "B" office, Springfield, resigned, and a Mr. Whalen, who holds an up-to-date commercial card, is at present holding down the night trick.

At our November meeting in New Haven nearly half of the boys present came from the Hartford Division. Not a bad showing at all.

New man at present filling in at Windsor Locks, nights. Have been unable to find out if he carries a card or not.

Bro. Holliday, from tower 3, Hartford, has bid in dispatcher's office, nights, vice Bro. Archer resigned.

Bro. Wanamaker, at "AD," dispatcher's office, reported to have resigned to go into business in New Jersey. The boys all wish him success. Bro. Newkirk filling in at "AD," nights, at present, with Bro. Holliday working days.

Bro. LeGendre, from Berlin, nights, working second trick at tower 3, in Hartford, at present.

A Mr. Larson, at present working at "MU," Middletown freight house, days.

Mr. Driscoll, third trick dispatcher, was taken suddenly ill, and Mr. Griggs, from Avon street tower, filled in third trick November 7th.

Central New England Notes—

Bro. S. H. Flint, of Salisbury, has resigned. Understand he is working in Bridgeport.

V. M. Coe is on his vacation. Mr. Joyce is relieving him.

Mr. J. T. Angel is agent at La Grange. A. J. Whitman transferred.

Mr. G. S. Wells is the new agent at Moores Mills.

E. C. Murdock is the new man at Simsbury.

C. R. Simonson is the new man at Clinton Corners.

The following assigned on bid: Day operator at Maybrook, "XC" office, Chas. Reinhart; night operator at Mabrook, "CK" office, T. P. McCoy.

Night operator and clerk at Boston Corners, L. V. McCoy.

Day operator and clerk at "JC" office, Hopewell, H. Hart.

Agent at Copake, A. P. Nivers. Agent at West Suffield, J. S. Murphy. Agent at Collinsville, F. M. Mills.

All these new changes mean new buttons; so get after the new man next to you, and see if you can not send in his name.

Our old friend, Geo. Milley, has the second trick now.

Twin Lakes closed November 1st, and Bro. Kane has gone to Pittsburg, Pa., for a while.

We now see the smiling faces of the dispatchers once in a while as they go over the road once a month to learn it. They say that knowing an operator helps a whole lot. The C. N. E. ought to do well, for we are getting so we know all of the boys in "DS."

The committee goes in this month (October), so let us hope for something better than we now have.

Boys, you want to limber up for the O. R. T. ball in January, and turn out and surprise these brothers of ours on the "N. H.," and you will never regret it. G. S. H.

Providence Div., No. 35.

Shore Line Notes—

That the boys on the Shore Line are taking an interest was evident at the last meeting, nine of the boys being present. There is always room for more, boys, and there is always something of interest coming up. Keep up the good work by attending the meetings. One night a month is not a very large sacrifice, and will be a great help to you when important questions come up.

Among the old faces present were Bros. Remington, from Stonington Junction, and Jonsson, from Westerly.

Bro. Cutler enjoyed two weeks' vacation; reports a fine time. Bro. McCarthy, C. T. U. of A., filling in meantime.

Worcester Division and Providence Terminal—

Bro. Frank Gardiner, of Adamsdale Junction, was the successful bidder on the position of helper at Northup avenue tower, on second trick, and by so doing he succeeded in remaining with his old love, the Wore. Division.

Bro. Brannigan, of Whitins, bid in job at South Worcester nights.

Bro. Bishop, of Manville, has returned to the key once more.

Bros. Wood and Griffin report another enjoyable hunting trip. They avoided wearing fur coats and returned home with a whole skin.

Bro. Allen is enjoying a thirty-day leave of absence, and is doing the continent, as he has taken in everything on this hemisphere that was worth seeing.

Bro. F. P. Brady reports another enjoyable trip to Virginia.

Bro. J. F. Brady bid in second trick at Auburn tower.

Bro. Sid. Boardman has taken a nice new bulldog along with him on his hunting trip to the wilds of Connecticut.

Our brother, Secretary R. A. Brown, is improving in health, and is off for a short stay on the coast.

Wilhelmantic Branch Notes—

The office at South Windham gravel pit has been closed. Bro. Dupois goes on spare list again.

Bro. Davis, of Centerville, is away for two weeks' vacation; relieved by Mr. Balcolm, who was later relieved by Mr. Bird. Can not say if either of these men carry cards.

Bro. Benoit, of Natick, has bid in the position of operator and clerk at Millville; relieved by Mr. Balcolm.

P. V. Branch Notes—

Bro. Conant, of Pontiac, is off duty at present on account of sickness; relieved by Bro. Kennedy, spare agent.

Bro. Cuthbertson, from Blackstone, has bid in the position of agent at Howard. Mr. Schofield, who was acting agent, has gone on the spare list.

G. E. J.

IN MEMORIAM.

WHEREAS, It has pleased Almighty God to remove from their earthly labors our worthy brothers, Frank R. Chadwick and E. F. Powers, and while bowing to the Divine will, yet we realize our loss; therefore, be it

Resolved, That we, as an organization, tender our sincere sympathy to the bereaved relatives; and be it further

Resolved, That this resolution be entered upon the minutes of Providence Division, No. 35, our Charter draped for thirty days, a copy sent to the families, and a copy sent to THE TELEGRAPHER for publication.

JOHN WOOD,
J. R. MAXWELL,
G. W. BURTT,
Committee.

Boston Div., No. 41.

The strike of the commercial telegraphers being a matter of history, there is now a good opportunity for the members of the O. R. T. to carefully consider the situation from all its standpoints, and to profit by the experience of our commercial brothers and sisters in the grand struggle which they have made against such overwhelming odds.

The fact that their organization stands firmer and stronger than ever, cemented by the bonds which have held them so closely in this memorable battle for justice, and that the companies have paid so dearly for their apparent victory that they may well be compared to the famous Roman general, who, after a hard-fought battle, remarked, "Another such victory and we are lost," and also that the "stickum" which has been displayed will undoubtedly be the cause of better conditions in the near future, all tends to convince us that whatever support we have rendered has been well merited, and I am glad to say that Boston Division, No. 41, has a record of which we may all feel proud.

The joint meeting of the two Boston unions, at our hall in September, the appropriation of $150 for the Boston local at that time, and the referendum vote to levy a voluntary assessment of $1 per week upon each of our members, shows very clearly our stand in the matter.

For future reference of the members, and to record those who were willing to render financial, as well as moral support, I am giving below, as promised, a list of those whose contributions amounted to $3 or more each. Bro. D. A. Burns disposed of the largest number of benefit baseball tickets, and Bros. W. H. Dakers and E. B. Dennison remitted the largest individual contributions.

Several members who were sick or out of employment, and notified me to that effect, are properly shown upon the division books, but their names do not appear below.

In addition to the local contributions, most of our members had previously responded to the calls for aid from Grand Secretary Quick, by remitting direct to St. Louis.

New York Div., No. 44.

Notes of the Meeting.—All officers present. One new member rode the goat. Six applications acted upon favorably. Reports of several committees read and approved. A Mr. Hayden, of the Grand Division, was tried, convicted and expelled for scabbing. No. 44 makes short work of a known scab. Ten minutes recess taken to raffle a typewriter. Mr. A. M. Fowler, of Speonk, L. I., won the machine. After this the usual order of business was resumed and important routine work received attention. Register showed about fifty-two members present.

The great strike is over, but the effects of the struggle are still with us. The telegraph business, from a commercial standpoint is, to say the least, very poor—not more than half the usual number of commercial messages are handled as compared with this season a year ago. This information, while not official, is, nevertheless, true, if reports from the various operators and managers can be believed.

About thirty commercial men are working on Long Island, and many of them are making good as railroad men. They will probably remain in the railroad service for some time, as the commercial companies have no work for them to do.

This strike ought to be a lesson to narrow-minded, pin-head officials who want to rule or ruin. With very few exceptions, the employees are as well off today as before the strike, and many of them are in as good or better positions, and their working conditions are better.

This can not be said for the commercial companies. The vast amount of money they have lost they will never get back, and it will be many a day before they will receive the same patronage that they did before the labor trouble.

Eventually these two companies will have to submit to union conditions, and it would not be surprising to see all commercial work done in a closed shop.

Right will overpower might in the long run. It may take a year; it may take two, or it may be ten years, but right will surely win in the end. A fair day's pay for a fair day's work, under fair and reasonable working conditions—equal pay for equal work is right—and these conditions will prevail in the end.

The same may be said in regard to the railroad telegraphers on Long Island. Much has been done in the past, but there is a whole lot to be done in the future.

The commercial brothers and sisters put up a good game fight and they are to be congratulated.

Bro. Albright, who has been working in place of Bro. Brennan, who is on the sick list, has resigned, and for the present Bro. E. F. Wells is in charge of two stations, St. James and Smithtown.

Bro. G. A. Wagner, of Lynbrook, has left the service and will go into other business. Mr. Carman, of Edgemere takes Lynbrook.

Edgemere is closed for the winter. However, Thompson, of Far Rockaway, will keep an eye on whatever business there is to be transacted at Edgemere during the winter months.

Bro. A. D. Johnson came all the way from West Hampton to attend the meeting.

Our chief, Bro. Van Nostrand, has been appointed regular relief agent. At present he is at Garden City, relieving Bro. J. F. Wylie, who has gone to his old home in Canada, to spend a two weeks' vacation.

Van. relieved Bro. Lynch, of Jamaica, and Bro. O'Laughlin, of Flatbush avenue, Brooklyn, for ten days each. Both of these brothers took a much-needed rest.

Bro. Dahlbender has resigned as agent at Springfield. His place is filled by John F. Melvin.

Bro. Tom White has left Glenhead. Bro. Petroske is now agent at that station.

Margaret Webster, daughter of Bro. J. D. Webster, is improving in health and will soon report for duty. Miss Webster has been on the sick list for many months. COR.

Pittsburg Div., No. 52.

Second meeting in October held October 26th, opened at 8:25 p. m., with Bro. John Kiger in the chair. Roll call found all officers present, with the exception of the Marshal and Past Chief Telegrapher. Three petitions for membership were balloted on and applicants elected to membership in this division. These three petitions were contributed by the various divisions, as follows: One from the Allegheny Division, P. R. R.; one from the Monongahela Division, P. R. R., and one from the P. & L. E. R. R.

General Chairman Page, of the Pennsylvania Lines east of Pittsburg and Erie, also Local Chairmen Young, Kiger, Courtney and Roberts, gave the members present an outline of business transacted by the General Committee, which convened recently at Philadelphia, Pa. It developed from their remarks that the General Committee was kept in session three times longer than it should have been, owing to the fact that the Marr clique had misrepresented themselves to the Superintendent of Telegraph. However, the day of reckoning is almost here.

Second Vice-President T. M. Pierson, who dropped in upon us quite unexpectedly, gave one of his usual interesting talks, also some good advice upon several subjects.

General Chairman Van Atta, who was also present, gave us an outline of the situation on the Baltimore & Ohio Railroad.

The only bill presented was one sick claim, amounting to $10, which was ordered paid.

Good of the Order brought out quite a lively discussion on several subjects.

Meeting closed at 11:45 p. m. Number of members present, 50; visitors, 6.

First meeting in November held November 9. Opened with Bro. J. J. Standley in the chair.

Three petitions for membership, one from the Conemaugh Division and two from the Pittsburg Division, P. R. R., read and balloted upon, the petitioners being elected to membership.

Bills amounting to $71.90 ordered paid. Bro. D. B. Nye reported on the sick list. Meeting adjourned at 11:10 p. m. Number members present, 26.

Second meeting in November held November 23. Opened at 8:25 p. m., with Bro. Standley in the chair, Bro. Kiger being on his vacation.

One lone petition for membership presented and favorably acted upon, same being from the P. & L. E. R. R.

Bills amounting to $11 read and ordered paid.

Bros. H. M. Fertig and M. H. Curran reported on the sick list.

Meeting closed at 11:20 p. m. Members present, 18.

Let this be a reminder that your dues are now due and payable. If you have not already done so, please remit promptly to Bro. C. C. Campbell, Treasurer, 605 Arlington avenue, Pittsburg, Pa. Statement of dues was mailed each member the first week in December. This statement also included an extra special assessment of one dollar, levied by the P. R. R. General Committee, and is charged to the account of each member employed on the Pennsylvania Lines east of Pittsburg and Erie. Please be prompt with your remittance. If you can not remit the whole amount at one time, you may remit in installments of any amount, and same will be properly credited to your account.

I regret the necessity of again calling the attention of the Local Chairmen of the various divisions of railroad under the jurisdiction of this division that they are, with one exception, very, very tardy in sending to the Secretary each month notes for THE TELEGRAPHER. Do not wait to be asked.

Organize! Organize! Stand by your guns and watch for squalls. Don't accept a reduction in salary or an increase in hours.

Please notify the Secretary of any change in your address. KLING.

Camden Div., No. 84.

NOTICE.

Some time ago there were distributed to the membership of this division blanks for information necessary for the representation before employing officers; some responded promptly with their blanks properly filled out; some others, we regret to say, showed indifference in the matter, and did not supply the information asked for, thinking, perhaps, that this was an exceptional case of local committee efforts to know something, and, consequently, was of no importance. For the information of those laboring under such a delusion we would say, that these information blanks were distributed over the entire system, and we are advised that the U. R. R. of N. J. territory showed a lower percentage of papers turned in than any other division on the Pennsylvania Railroad, east of Pittsburg and Erie. To readers of this notice, situated in the above-named territory, this lack of self-interest is inexcusable. If your conditions are unsatisfactory your lack of interest is not helping, but a hindrance to yourself, and others as well, who are your co-workers. Of course, there are a few satisfied ones in every section. Do we understand from those that did not supply the information that they are satisfied, and do not need any better conditions? If we do not receive from you between now and January 1, 1908, information blanks filled out (and you can obtain them from your local committee), we will understand that your conditions are all you wish them to be. Think this over; this information is desired from all members and non-members as well. Help is given to those that help themselves. You may be asleep; we can not yet believe that you are entirely dead. Wake up! COM.

Boston Div., No. 89.

Plymouth Division—

Mr. B. Lyons is filling in as spare man at "S" office. He will be Bro. Lyons next month.

Bro. F. Riley, split trick man at South Bay Junction tower, bid in second trick at Atlantic tower.

Mr. Rex, spare man, at South Bay Junction.

Bro. Obrien has resigned third trick at Harr Square tower to accept "city" job.

Bro. McDonald, Neponset nights, is off on a month's vacation to the West.

Bro. Erixson, North Abington, is off on his honeymoon; relieved by Bro. J. Thomas.

Four more applications from the Plymouth Division last meeting. Almost solid, except for the few on the "Cape."

Bro. W. Silva bid in Tremont station.

Miss E. N. Murphy, at Mattapoisett, is relieving Miss Scisson.

Miss E. M. Smith, at Hyannis, is covering Mr. Snow's job.

Bro. Fisher is covering Marion.

Bro. W. Riley bid in third trick, Harrison Square tower.

Bro. Page is covering Middleboro station, days. vice Bro. DeSantos, transferred to spare list.

Mr. J. Crowley is covering Neponset tower nights.

Bro. Drummond, from Allerton to East Bridge-water, vice Bro. Dealtry, resigned.

Bro. Al. Smith, South Braintree Junction tower, is away on a week's vacation to his old home at Warren, "RI," relieved by Bro. Petrie.

Bro. Whitney is back to Camper tower after his illness.

CORRESPONDENT.

CARD OF THANKS.

I wish to thank the brothers of Boston Division, No. 89, one and all, for their expression of sympathy, and the beautiful floral tribute given me in my recent loss.

S. P. PRINCE, CERT. 192.

Chicago Div., No. 91.

I have had the pleasure of attending two meetings of the division since I have been in Chicago, on September 24 and October 2. Although not very well attended, these meetings were certainly not lacking in interest. Besides the able workers that we have in our own division, we have Bro. Stewart, of I. C. Terminal, Division No. 93, and Bro. Nelson, of C., R. I. & P., Division No. 126. These brothers favored us with very able talks on the good of the Order, and also took an active part in the discussion of the subjects that came before the division. I am sure there are many of our brothers that do not know what they are missing by not attending these meetings. There are quite a number of them that are so situated that they could get into the city after their day's work is done, and could be present at nearly every meeting without much effort on their part. If any of the brothers that have never met with us will come to Liberty Hall, 70 Adams street, Chicago, Ill., the fourth Tuesday of the month at 8 p. m., they will surely be extended a welcome that will bring them back again.

On Saturday evening, November 16, C., R. I. & P. Division, No. 126, Chicago Terminal, held a meeting at McCoy's Hotel, corner Clark and Van Buren streets, Chicago, Ill. The object of this meeting was the installation of officers, as the Chicago Terminal has been recently organized, and officers were elected at a previous meeting. Our worthy chief telegrapher had charge of the installation, and, therefore, it is not necessary to state that the Terminal Division is started right. They certainly have a bunch of able workers in the Terminal, and with the assistance they will no doubt have from the boys on the line and from the other divisions in the city, there is no reason why this division should not be a success. Their meetings will be held regularly, the second Saturday evening of each month, at the above address, and they extend a welcome to all the boys of No. 91 that can arrange to meet with them.

Two of our worthy brothers have recently received their commissions as national organizers, with territory on all lines running into Chicago. To say that the nons will soon be a scarcity in this vicinity is putting it mildly, for the boys are hustlers, and have the reputation of being "stickers." If either one of them ever gets hold of a non he might as well come across with the goods, for Mr. Organizer will camp with him until he digs up the coin. This is a good thing for No. 91, as well as the system divisions on roads running into Chicago, as it is surprising to see how many nons there are now in and around this city. A great many have become members recently, but there are still a great many that will have to be persuaded that it is to their interest to join with their fellow workmen for the betterment of their condition. Men of this description are to be found on the trunk lines covered by system divisions, as well as the smaller roads and belt lines, and we hope our brothers will be able to make a material reduction in their number.

It is a source of gratification to note that most of the roads in this vicinity are putting on eight-hour tricks, where day and night offices are maintained. This, however, does not prove that they are going to comply with the new nine-hour law when it goes into effect next March. The companies realize that it is to their interest to have the men available, so that they can comply with the law if it becomes necessary, but you can rest assured they are going to side-step it if such a thing is possible. Should they be successful in getting an extension of time, which they will no doubt attempt to do, they can very easily get rid of their surplus of men that they have accumulated by putting on eight-hour tricks at their most important offices. It is up to us to be prepared to fight any proposition they may put up to prevent this law being put into effect. Thorough organization is the most efficient means that I know of in the way of fighting them in this, as well as all other propositions we have to meet them on. While our division has taken in more members in the past few months than it has at any previous time of the same length, there are still a great many nons on the several roads over which this division has jurisdiction. Let every member get busy. Get the nons on your road lined up, and help get in position to defend the rights that have been given us by the last session of our national legislative body. CERT. 196.

Elmira Div., No. 100.

The regular meeting of Elmira Division, No. 100, was a banner one in point of attendance. Thirty-one members were present, which included nearly every day man on the two divisions.

Twelve applications were turned in, showing that the boys are up and doing. Guess a non stands a poor show on this pike now.

Understand the telephone operators are all anxious to come to us just as soon as they have the necessary length of time in the service, and we will be glad to extend them the hand of welcome.

Bro. Ghent, of Wallington, made the grade to this meeting. Being his first trip in, he had to be introduced to most of the boys, who did their best to make things interesting for him.

The south end was well represented this month, and only one man was obliged to leave on train 54. The balance stuck to the end.

Enthusiasm is above par in this division, and rising rapidly. No watered stock in Division 100.

Last month's journal contained a note saying that Mr. C. C. Lee had been paid off, and left for parts unknown. This was incorrect, and the division correspondent takes pleasure in squaring himself with Mr. Lee.

A new tower at Glenora has been put in operation, with Mr. Hovey in charge, days, and Mr. Ross nights. Mr. Ross' papers are in, and we shall be pleased to call him "brother" as soon as the local organizers gets him fixed up.

Bro. Cayward, now at Bellona, assisting agent at that point.

Bro. Maynard on third trick at Ralston now.

During the session of our general committee in Philadelphia, the members were made the recipients of a basketful of Wire and Signal, which was conveyed surreptitiously to their room. As no self-respecting member of the O. R. T. would, under any circumstances, read a copy of that publication, the misdirected efforts on this occasion came to naught. Their effort to "put up a front" would be laughable, were it not pitiable. Members of that clique also annoyed our general committee with post cards of an insinuating or suggestive nature, which action on their part is contemptible, though in accordance with their general plan of doing business.

Owing to a "holler" by the trainmen that they were being overworked, everything on the Canandaigua Division, with the exception of trains 9, 3 and 68, were annulled on the day tricks. This gave the day men a show to get out early. Train 54 was the only thing up to midnight Sunday, so the owls got a chance to make a little "hay."

Mr. C. M. Brown now has the day trick at Coal Switch tower.

Mr. Ludwig is working nights at Penn Yan during Bro. Cayward's absence.

Owing to Bro. Dunning's failure to get the south end notes to me in time, the write-up for that end is omitted. Div. Coe.

Cresson Div., No. 109.

The regular monthly meetings of Division No. 109 were held during the month of November as follows: First meeting held on Saturday evening the 2d inst., at Cresson, Pa. The attendance at this meeting was good, it having been previously announced among the boys that our local chairman, Bro. John Kiger, and other members from Division No. 52 expected to be present, there being some important matters to be brought before the meeting for consideration by the General Grievance Committee, who had lately returned from Philadelphia, Pa. Bros. Kiger and Steinmyer, of Division No. 52, were present, and entrusted with placing the report of the above committee before the meeting. Its purport was of such a nature that all were deeply concerned, hence great interest was manifested by all, and the consensus of opinion among the boys was that, under the circumstances which confronted the General Grievance Committee, they had faithfully discharged their duty so far as was practicable at the present time, but they hoped to accomplish the purpose they had in view on their return to the metropolis with certain information they were lacking on the first trip, and which was absolutely necessary in the premises.

We had two applications presented at this meeting, which were passed on favorably, thereby adding two more to our membership, which is conclusive evidence that the boys are slowly but surely coming into the fold. Who will be next to assert their manhood? Let us all pull together now, and each and every one do all he can to advance the best interests of our collective body. Our organization has already borne fruit in the good feeling that exists among our members, to say nothing of concessions which have been granted recently, of which the nons, in many instances, are enjoying the benefits. Let's get busy, and make the division solid, for in "unity there is strength."

Our second meeting was held at Conemaugh, Pa., Saturday evening, the 16th inst. The attendance was reasonably fair, and the business transacted was along the same lines as that at our Cresson meeting, i. e., the evening being principally spent in hearing the report of our local grievance committee, who had recently been in conference with the division superintendent and his assistants on the various questions embodied in the general grievance, which had already been taken up with the general manager's assistants, but owing to some minor technicalities, they had been returned for correction. Whilst our local committee was very cordially received by our division superintendent, yet existing conditions, due principally to the disturbed monetary affairs now sweeping over our country in general, and which made it a very inopportune time to discuss any questions where increase in wages were involved, or the readjustment of same, yet the committee were given to understand they would receive every consideration consistent with equity, when existing conditions would warrant it; provided, if within the province of the officials to act. It was generally conceded by those present that the committee had discharged their duty with fidelity and the questions of so vital importance to all concerned would have to be reconsidered when the general business and financial affairs of our country resumed their normal conditions. Cor.

Renovo Div., No. 110.

The regular November meeting was held in Odd Fellows' Hall, Emporium, November 20th, with a good attendance. Chief Shea in the chair.

Bro. Peters, of Division 135, and Bro. H. C. Boyd, of Division 129, were transferred to our division.

This meeting came near being what we have long hoped for, and it is to be hoped that this kind of attendance will continue.

Bro. C. M. Lee has resigned at "JN," Emporium, and is holding one of the tricks on the B. & A. V. Division, at Olean now.

Bro. Price, the long-lost boy, is once again in the harness at "RM," Emporium.

We are sorry to announce that Bro. Perry, of "CT," Keating, is very ill.

The members of Division 110 herewith extend deepest sympathy to the bereaved friends and relatives of Bros. Casper Fey, O. R. C., Thomas Welsh and John Curry, B. R. T., who were killed in the wreck at Howards November 16th. They were of our best fellow workers, and were held in the highest esteem by all who knew them, and their sudden and tragic deaths have cast a gloom over us all.

Bro. McMackin, of St. Marys, returns to the key much refreshed and benefited after his vacation.

Operator E. S. Randolph has returned to the key, and is at present holding position at "JN" tower, Emporium, recently vacated by Bro. Lee.

Bro. James Bechtold, of Wistar, who is in very poor health, is taking a much needed rest.

As a reminder to the brothers and sisters, I would say that we wish to have 100 members by January 1st, and hope all will exert themselves to attain this worthy object. Remember, we have 88 already, and 12 more new members will make the three figures.

Relief Operator Cupp has been promoted to one of the tricks in the superintendent's office, Renovo. No relief operator yet appointed for this district.

Bro. Grieskey, of Kane, is filling temporary vacancy at Renovo.

Operator Mann, of Shintown, is off on vacation.

Bro. Blackwell, of "OD," Erie, is in very poor health, but continues to work. Div. Cor.

North Adams Div., No. 139.

Everything is moving along smoothly on the western section of Fitch Division, B. & M. Over one thousand cars each way pass through the Hoosac Tunnel daily. There are over twenty-five hundred cars handled on this division daily. This is moving along some.

The boys are enjoying the eight hours in New York State. There are some changes made at some stations to avoid this eight-hour law, and the same conditions exist as before.

It looks very much as though the agents that are working now will be bidding on the eight-hour jobs, their only salvation. Eight hours, $1.90 to $2.25, is traveling some from $1.25 to $1.50 in four years. If any one should ask how this came about just tell them the men got busy and old Tom Pierson guided the ship through the rough waters. Shall we anchor here? I guess not; the ship will sail when the conditions will permit.

A lot of new members soon on account of the third man. Boys, don't let the grass get green. Get after them. C. K. POTTER.

IN MEMORIAM.

WHEREAS, God, in His infinite wisdom, has seen fit to remove the beloved wife of our highly-esteemed brother, F. H. Gee, and while submitting to the will of Him who knoweth and doeth all things best, be it

Resolved, That in her death Bro. Gee has suffered an irreparable loss, his family has lost the devoted care of a tender and loving mother; and be it further

Resolved, That this division extend to the bereaved family its deepest sympathy in this their great sorrow, and that a copy of these resolutions be sent the bereaved family, and a copy to THE TELEGRAPHER for publication.

Shamokin Div., No. 117.

At our September meeting there was a pretty fair attendance, but there is no reason why there should not have been more brothers present.

Now, brothers, brace up and try to get to the meetings. You do not know what you are missing, as there is a great deal of important matter coming up at each meeting which requires attention. Do not leave it to just a few, but come and take a hand. We can make it interesting for you, and you will be kicking yourself because you had not attended the previous meetings.

We had no one to ride the bucking broncho at our last meeting, but we balloted on several that will come into the "lime-light" at our next meeting.

Bro. Farrel, days at Tamaqua "DS," has returned from a couple of weeks' vacation.

Mr. McLaughlin worked at Tamaqua "DS" during Bro. Farrel's absence.

Bro. Fisher, nights at Catawissa "CY," has been transferred to Grovania days, and Mr. Runyan, formerly days at Grovania, to Catawissa "CY," nights.

Bro. Cain, who worked nights at Alaska, I am sorry to say, has left the P. & R., and is now working for the Pennsylvania R. R.

Mr. R. E. Hosler, formerly days at Beaver Valley, has left the road and gone into business for himself. Mr. Hosler, who worked nights at Beaver Valley, is now working the day trick, and Mr. Houck is doing the owl trick.

Bro. Gable, days at Gordon, spent his two days' relief over the mountains at Catawissa.

New man working nights at Alaska. Unable to learn if he holds card or not.

Bro. Michael, agent at McAully, is off duty on account of the death of his brother. He is relieved by Mr. Fry, regular night man. Mr. Berwick is working nights.

Bro. Sheets, days at Rupert, has resigned and gone west.

Mr. Dougherty has his application in and expects to ride the billy goat shortly.

We still have a few nons among us, and also ham factories. They are all jubilant over the nine-hour law and can hardly wait until it goes into effect. It is pretty near time they sat up and took notice. But no; they will lay on their oars and grab everything that comes their way because they get it for nothing.

Would like all brothers who can possibly do so to attend our next meeting, as there will be twelve or fifteen applications to act upon.

Will give line-up of nons and professors in next write-up.

Would like you brothers to send me a few notes for next time to help along.

San Antonio Division—

Bro. H. P. Williams, formerly at Jewett nights, has left the service, being relieved by Bro. E. L. Joyce, of Valley Jct.

Bro. N. E. Powell has been working at Taylor as second trick operator, but understand is now working as second trick operator at Valley Jct.

Mr. H. P. Holzmänn, formerly third trick dispatcher at San Antonio, is now chief dispatcher at Taylor. Messrs. J. E. Tilley, E. W. Hungate and Thos. Greadey are working as first, second and third trick dispatchers at Taylor. Messrs. Parker, Long and Sledge are working as first, second and third trick operators there.

Bro. T. H. Barnes, agent Round Rock, has been bumped by Mr. Davis, of Gulf Division. Understand Tom gets Thorndale agency; don't know where Sledge goes yet.

Bro. Carroll, formerly at Georgetown as operator, is now agent at McNeil, relieving Mr. Werner, who has left the division.

Messrs. Buford, Hacle and Memon are working as first, second and third trick operators at Colorado Bridge (Austin). Bro. Memon is from the H. & T. C., and is, of course, up-to-date.

Mr. M. A. Johnson, at Kyle, is laying off, being relieved by Mr. C. B. Holzmänn as agent and Bro. Hurley as operator. Bro. Hurley is from H. & T. C. and is up-to-date.

Mr. J. B. Evans is back as third trick operator at New Braunfels, after an attack of dengue fever. "Buck" has asked for the blanks and says he is coming in this pay-day sure. Mr. A. P. Wilson, who is working second trick at New Braunfels, is also coming in this pay-day.

A steam shovel has been located at Little Davenport Hill, north of Bracken, and an office cut in. Mr. D. D. Hungate is slinging the lightning there. He is coming in as soon as he has worked the necessary year. The steam shovel will be in operation there about five months.

Mr. Harry Barnitz, formerly with the Mex. Natl. as dispatcher at San Luis Potosi, Mex., is back at "MS" nights. Mr. W. E. Miller is again chief at San Antonio. Messrs. Otis, Walsh and Thomas are working as first, second and third trick dispatchers there.

Bro. Garland, of Lytle, is back from his trip to Tennessee.

Mr. W. Nippert relieved Bro. Powell as agent at Artesia. Understand "N" is coming in this pay-day.

Have had letters from several of the old-timers who are now with other roads, commending our last write-up, among them Bro. P. Wyatt. now with Mex. Natl. at Saltillo, Mex.

CERT. 35.

C. B. & Q. Ry.

The year has marked a great epoch in our advancement towards complete organization. We rejoice to know that so many have paid their current term dues. On a whole, everything has been very satisfactory, still, there are a few old men who insist on taking the cream from every movement made, and will steadfastly refuse to help us in any manner. They prefer to reap but decline to sow; grapple for all that comes their way and howl for more. One man is no better than another if he is respectable. It matters not whether he is king, potentate or ruler, he is no better than the man who earns his living by the sweat of his brow; therefore, it seems that men who are reaping benefits without at least giving their financial as well as moral support, must certainly have some particular reason why they will not take hold and help the cause which has been so beneficial to them. Some of the men in particular will not give you an answer when you furnish them with a self-addressed stamped envelope. No man has his time so taken up that he can not give a few moments to the cause which supports him in his work, and has put his wages where they are today.

If the organization is not a good thing we want to know why it is not. Any man who will not reply to a letter written him with reference to the matters at issue seems to hold a grudge against the organization or against some of its members. However, it is always the case that a man spite no one but himself when he kicks his own shins. Those who prefer not to join us have a reason. If a man has a reason why he does not want to do a thing, it is certainly honorable in him to give his reason. This very man may be wrong in his way of thinking; he may have been wrongly informed, his grievance may have been a myth. How do we know unless we are informed?

If these few old men are correct in their way of thinking, it must be a fact that we have a great majority working on the system who know nothing. Did you ever stop and think of this? A few have no use for our Order, so they say, but they have a good place to put away all we get for them, and never even offer their thanks. I do not know how they feel, but if I was in place of some of them I would want to get under cover some place. Every man has a right to his belief; we do not deny any one this, but we do ask that he give an expression of his ideas and not a slap.

Things that are not worth working for, not worth striving for, are surely not worth having; hence, if a man can not lend his support to a cause which has proven beneficial to him and has paid him well during the year, he should be man enough to refuse to accept it; but did you ever hear of one who refuses to accept? If you have, kindly give me his name.

I am pleased to say that during the past few months I have been able to attend quite a number of meetings of Burlington boys, and every one has been well attended and enthusiastic. Nothing can do more good than to get the boys together every month; they come in contact with one another, get different ideas, get posted on the different modes of railroading, and are thus better fitted to perform their work. There is no class of men who are required to keep so close to their work all the time as the telegrapher. The company expects the men to be on hand at all times, year in and year out; hence, the only plan we can follow is to call meetings on each division of the system. There is not a division but what arrangements can be made to hold a meeting now and then.

The telegrapher is nearer a slave than any other class of workmen. It is seven days in the week, every week in the year, but what does the railroad official care? Did you ever hear one say your work is confining, you had better get a lot of the boys together and have a good time now and then? The official is so situated that he can take in almost anything that comes along, but the poor telegrapher is supposed to do his work and say nothing, and then if he, by mistake, happens to do something that does not suit the particular fancy of some one, he is pulled upon the carpet and perhaps fired. It seems to be a fact that no consideration is given.

Can it be wondered at that men do not stay in one place when all these things are considered? Small wages, high living, everything the poor telegrapher has to buy has advanced 50 per cent in the last few years, and wages have not increased one-fourth this amount. Is it any wonder that men are dissatisfied?

I have often stated that I believe in every man doing his work and doing it well, but, on the other hand, I believe in the men who do the work being paid for doing it. Wages paid the telegrapher are much lower in comparison than any other class of railroad employees. The brakeman without experience is making over one hundred dollars per month; the fireman who has not been on an engine but a few trips is making the same or better; the conductor is making from $125 to $175 per month; the engineer from $175 to $240 per month, and the telegrapher makes from $45 up to about $80 per month on the road jobs. Can you see any consistency in this? I can not.

The standard of education among the telegraphers is higher than among the men in the train service. If they were all required to pass an educational test you would find the telegrapher equipped with a 50 per cent better education than the men in the train service. Is there any reason why the telegrapher should be paid less than half as much as the man in the train service?

I hope the time is not far distant when the telegrapher will be paid for his services. You can not tell me there is so much difference in the work performed, that one class should be paid twice as much as the other. The telegrapher and the station agent has been kept down too long now; it is time he was getting what is justly his due.

I know of one unorganized road that touches the line of the Burlington, where the men are paid from $27 up to $75. Those men can get better if they only try. It seems that when a man once gets in a rut he stays there until he dies. This is an age of advancement; one must get out of the rut upon the higher plane and push forward to greater things. Life is too short to lay in a rut waiting to be helped out. Get out of it yourself, put your shoulder to the wheel and help to make this life one worth living. If you do not demand better conditions, you must not expect to get them.

I wish to again call the attention of the brothers to the matter of paying their dues in the Mutual Benefit Department. I would earnestly request each of you when paying your O. R. T. dues to get a money order and send to Bro. Quick for your insurance covering the same period. I notice a great many brothers are paying only for two and three months at a time, hence, before the term is up they become delinquent, and it causes both Bro. Quick and Bro. Henry a great deal of work that can very easily be avoided.

I am pleased to note that Burlington System Division is in a flourishing condition, but there is a world of work to be done yet.

The end of the year is close at hand, therefore, I hope that every brother will lend a helping hand and bring in a few applications before the last of the year. This year so far has eclipsed all previous years in every way. You can get an application if you will try; so many forget to try. I find some brothers who work with men and do not know whether or not they hold cards; others are working with nons and have never asked them to join the craft. Looks as though a good old-style revival meeting was necessary.

When you find a member from another road who is now working on the Burlington, have him transfer to our division at once. If he is working with us he belongs to our division, and should pay his dues to our division. Do not let this slip you.

I am heartily in sympathy with the bond movement now being discussed through THE TELEGRAPHER, and hope the plan outlined will be carried through. I believe this one of the best movements made for a long time, and hope that every brother will lend his assistance to the movement.

It has come to my notice that a great many brothers do not understand how grievances should be handled. All grievances should be taken up promptly and should be filed with your local chairman, giving him full particulars. If he fails to get a satisfactory adjustment, the case is then referred to the General Chairman. Unless these matters are handled in this manner, it is liable to cause friction with your superintendent.

I notice some divisions have failed for some time to have a write-up in THE TELEGRAPHER. Why not have a write-up from each division every month? It seems that some of the brothers should be able to furnish a write-up.

Your Local Chairman has a copy of the seniority list for your division, and will be glad to furnish your standing with that of others on request.

Every Local Chairman is to be congratulated for the good work he is doing. It is to be hoped that the good work will be pushed very hard from now on. We have a full quota of Local Chairmen and assistants; it is not always that we are able to have every office filled.

Bro. A. F. Ritter, of Hunnewell, Mo., is now Local Chairman of the Brookfield Division. He is filling the vacancy of Bro. Allen. Bro. Allen is attending college at Kidder, Mo.

It is with regret that we have to announce the resignation of Bro. Herman Miller, Local Chairman of the La Crosse Division.

Bro. J. H. Rogers, Jr., Victory, Wis., the man of switchlight fame, will act as Local Chairman until Bro. Miller's successor is elected. Bro. Rogers was informed that any man should be glad to carry the switchlights just for exercise.

Bro. E. F. Todd, of the Aurora Division, and his assistants, are making a creditable showing.

Bro. J. P. Meehan, of the Sheridan Division, has made the best showing of any Local Chairman on that division since there has been a division. His assistant, Bro. Kesinger, must also not be forgotten as one of the real kind.

I also desire to mention our new Local Chairman on the Galesburg Division, Bro. John Foster and his assistants. They are doing fine work, and also Bro. E. G. Carter, of the McCook Division, and his assistants. They have their division in good shape. The other Local Chairmen have been in the service a long time, and we all know that they have accomplished wonders.

Last, but by no means least, let me mention the name of our worthy General Secretary and Treasurer, Bro. W. A. Henry. There is not a member but who knows him and is familiar with his unceasing efforts to build up our Order and make Burlington System Division one of the best in the country. Too few realize what sacrifices he has made for us all.

It is to be hoped that every brother will do his utmost to swell our membership between now and the last day of December. Do not let one non-member escape; let us all work on them together. The time for payment of dues is close at hand. Let us start in early and all pay up earlier than usual; pay our M. B. D. as well as our dues. Who will be first? I wish you all success, a Merry Xmas and a Happy New Year.

M. J. JOHNSON.

Creston Division—

Bro. W. M. Flemming, Assistant Local Chairman and operator at Nodaway, is confined to the house with diphtheria. He was relieved by extra agent C. E. Reynolds.

Bro. E. M. Cunningham is relieving E. C. Adkins nights at Nodaway. Mr. Adkins' father is seriously ill with Bright's disease.

Bro. R. M. Moulton is doing the owl stunt at Prescott now. Glad to have these up-to-date boys move onto our division. Bro. Moulton came from Santa Fe.

Bro. H. H. Ennis, Prescott days, relieved Mr. Shuck at Villisca for a few nights. Shortage of men on our division makes it bad for our day men and for the agents. Mr. Shuck is relieving Bro. Gleason at Red Oak; Dick, we understand, is sick.

Bro. Roberts (up-to-date), from Ottumwa Division, was at McPherson for a few nights, but was relieved by Bro. Gurwell.

Bro. G. M. Clarke is back at Emerson.

Bro. Bollman, nights Stanton, spent couple days in Omaha lately.

Operator Church, who, we understand, sent in his application last month, has resigned.

Quite a few of the nons have promised to fill 'em out this pay-day. Wish they would all make good and try to make this division solid. The majority are up-to-date and a little work on our part would go a long way toward solidifying the division.

Let us all chip in this coming month and work harder than ever, and get as much as we can done by the first of the year, and then try to hold it that way throughout the entire year.

Boys, when you read these short notes this month, set right down and write up all the news you have and send to Assistant Local Chairman. Last two months our division has been blank. Let's all try and not let this occur again. Each and every one pitch in now and write up a few items and mail to Mr. Fleming so he can get them in time for next TELEGRAPHER. We can not expect him to have a write-up unless we furnish the dope. This is a good division and we should have a good write-up every month.

CERT. 1,636.

Sterling Division—

Don't forget to take out a new card and begin the new year with your face to the front, and help to make it the best year the Order has ever known.

Bro. Del. Banister has resumed duties as agent at Haxturn.

Bro. H. L. Martin is now doing the relief act at Mitchell in the absence of agent Armitage, who is off on short leave of absence.

If hoarding the coin of the realm caused this so-called "panic," it is consoling to know we are innocent.

Bro. J. D. Newton, formerly Curtis nights, is now doing the night trick at Sidney.

Bro. B. O. Jordan is relieving Bro. Walleck at Dalton while Brod. Walleck looks after the farm for a few weeks.

Bro. Winger, agent Loomis, recently gave us a few interesting lines anent the $75 minimum and nine-hour law, all of which is surely coming to pass.

Bro. Delahoyd, who recently laid off, is again at Sterling days.

Bro. Cuddy has been promoted from Sidney days to Scott's Bluff cashier.

There have been some few changes on the division that are overlooked account of the lack of particulars. Did you send in any news this time?

Bro. B. I. Johnson, from the Creston Division, is now holding forth nights at Guensey, while Bro. F. S. Walker signs the pay-rolls as agent.

Bro. J. E. Starns resigned as cashier and operator at Scott's Bluff to accept a position with the bank there.

Let us hope that shorter hours and better wages will make the position of a telegrapher more attractive. Are you all doing your part to improve the conditions? Make yourself a present of an up-to-date card.

We wish you all a Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year. J. T. MADDOX.

McCook Division—

Bro. Ketler, Bloomington agency to Minden, cashier, relieved by E. E. White, extra.

Mr. Pervis Bartley off couple weeks on vacation; relieved by Bro. C. R. Bauer, extra.

Bro. Harris, Republican nights, assumes agency during a thirty-day absence of W. L. Washburn, visiting relatives in East.

Mr. E. S. Davidson, Norton, on week's lay-off; relieved by Bro. W. K. Sheridan, extra.

J. A. Kinsey, extra agency to Palisade, regular.

Bro. C. R. Bauer, Bartley, extra to Bloomington agency regular, relieving E. E. White, who goes to Edison nights.

F. F. Tomblin, Arapahoe agency resigns to take position in freight office Denver. Arapahoe is now bulletined.

H. F. Beavens, Oronoque, has just filed his application.

Bro. A. J. Young, Yuma agency, resigns to go into bank as bookkeeper, and understand intends soon to go into business for himself. Bro.

Young served the Burlington for thirty-two years, which speaks highly of his integrity. He promises to carry an up-to-date card. Div. Cor.

LaCrosse Division—

The familiar fist of Bro. "W" Holmes is heard once more at "CU," Savanna yards nights. Bro. Holmes had a tough siege of it, but he pulled through all right.

Mr. James Donahue with a C. T. U. A. card, has resigned Marmus days, and is visiting at home in Dubuque. "13" he is thinking of going to "CH."

Mr. "Gub" Cummings holds Rutledge days after a long sick spell. He bumped Mr. Cullen; can't say where Cullen goes.

Bro. H. Miller has resigned the Local Chairmanship, which goes temporarily to Bro. J. H. Rogers, Jr., who has been the assistant in the past. We are very sorry indeed to lose Bro. Miller, as he always did his best; this may be easily said of a man, but it is absolute facts in this case. To back this up look at our schedule; we have the best paying division on the system and almost solid. However, Bro. Miller, who is agent at Fountain City, has too much to do at that place to hold both places, hence his resignation. However, he states he will be a booster the same as ever.

Every one do all they can to help Bro. Rogers out. Whenever a new man hits the pike drop Bro. Rogers a line at Victory, Wis., and let him know if he is right, or if he is of a different division and all the little details. Here's wishing Bro. Rogers success.

Bro. W. E. Garber transferred from agency East Winona to Prescott nights.

Bro. E. A. Smith, from "Skidoo Division," was given the agency at East Winona, and Mr. L. H. Wehrman nights.

Agents at Fountain City and Cochrane have been given helpers at the big sum of $20 per for circus money. It takes an extra man to turn the cranks on the new block system.

Bro. Dodge, from North Yards nights to Galena Junction nights.

S. A. Fleming resigned as agent Bay City, which is now on bulletin; don't know who will get this as yet. Bro. Schultz, nights Bay City, back again after his vacation.

Some hard work could be done on those between Maiden Rock and Alma, and can not "13" why these boys stand in their own light, but always ready to take their share of the money derived from hard work of others.

J. W. Cooper, nights South Jct., goes to Cassville nights. Krueger from Cassville nights to South Jct. nights.

Bro. Rogers, agent Victory, waiting for the votes to be counted so he will know of his majority in being elected a member of the Advisory Board of the Burlington Relief.

Bro. Dyer, nights Lynxville to Alma nights.

"Pn" Smith, agent Ferryville, has a new student; the other one is filling the place of night operator at Victory.

Bro. Creel, from Ferryville nights to DeSoto nights.

Bro. Crawford holding down Crawford days.

Your correspondent has the grippe, presto, the short write-up.

Bro. "HWK's" write-up of the Stormy Route in last month's TELEGRAPHER was appreciated.

"HIGHPOCKETS."

St. Joseph Division—

Following brothers transferred to this division during November:

F. H. Perrin, of Division 31; A. L. Challis and A. J. Novey, of Division 32, and F. L. Stewart, of Division 72. New members for the same month, Wm. Winslow, at Ford City, Mo.; J. A. Montague, at Nodaway nights; H. E. Campbell, at Albany, and R. Haley, at Curzons. Making a total increase of eight during this month.

The efforts put forth by the membership the past year has resulted in considerable gain in membership. About two years ago our membership was but about 30 per cent, while today it is between 75 and 80 per cent. We still have a few hard shells with us that have proven hard cases to land, but if we will all go after them proper we believe they can be shown yet. The members all know where they stay, it's not worth while to name them; make it your business to land some of them; don't wait for some one else to do it.

By the time this is in print your dues for the next term will be due, and we hope to see every member prompt with his payment and not hang back, as a few have done the present term. However, we are glad to say they have, with the exception of one or two, come through with the necessary and are all up-to-date. We have hopes of the one or two yet behind.

If there is a member on this division working with a non, please do all in your power to get his application, and when a foreign member shows up get his certificate and division number and mail to Local Chairman at once. This is just as much to us as a new member. Watch this closely.

Bro. F. H. Perrine relieved Bro. Lips nights at Langdon a few nights, then to Nodaway, and now at Rushville nights, Bro. Lips relieving Bro. Ledgerwood days at Langdon.

Bro. A. J. Novey, from Division 32, doing owl act at McPaul, relieving operator Dunlap.

Bro. H. E. Millen, nights Neb. City Jct., went to Rushville for few nights, H. A. Dunlap relieving him. He is now located at Napier nights.

Bro. A. L. Challis, at Corning nights, off Frisco Ry., Division 32.

Bro. J. T. Birmingham, formerly agent Napier, now agent at Forest City, Bro. Fredericks having accepted a position at the Frisco at Enid, Okla.

Bro. Ledgerwood will soon be peeping through the ticket sellers' window at Leavenworth passenger station, wanting to know where the traveling public wishes a ticket for.

J. E. Scott, formerly nights at Corning, now doing the agent's work at Napier.

Sam Clark now doing the agent's work at Maitland.

Bro. Potter, nights at "BR," and Bro. Hood, agent at "AU," made a trip to Omaha 16th inst.

We have the last three on the north end in the notion of going in the Order about January 1st. This certainly looks good.

Every one work on the nons. Get 'em lined up, then we'll have no griefs.

Bro. D. D. Huartson, nights at "SF," took a trip to Ashland, Neb.

Bro. Thompson, who relieved Bro. Hayes at "CO," is now on the Lincoln Division.

Bro. G. G. Robison, nights at Island Park, has resigned, going home for a few days, then he expects to go to work for the Rock Island lines.

Mr. A. E. Finck relieving Bro. Robison at Island Park.

Say, lest ye forget, do it now. This is November and almost the very last. Next month is December. Now's the time to look forward for that new card.

Don't wait until the last minute to remit. Remit promptly and let this be your motto. "No card no favors."

Be loyal at all times to your sacred word of honor, which you have pledged yourselves, before God and man. Do not delay. Do it now. Lest ye forget.

The C., B. & Q. have opened several new offices as block stations on the St. Joseph Division between St. Joseph and Kansas City, and are installing the electric block system where the single track is yet in use.

Bro. Henry, formerly night man at Weston, Mo., has landed the day job at block 31, one of the newly opened offices just north of Weston, Mo. Have not learned who landed the other new jobs.

Cor.

Lincoln Division—

I wish you all a Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year.

Bro. W. T. Starkey, agent Utica, transferred to Louisville, and Bro. W. J. Rau, of Louisville, to Utica.

Bro. Earl Purinton, days Aurora, Sundayed at Utica, the guest of his parents.

Bro. Smith, of Seward nights, off duty two nights, relieved by Mr. Fletcher, of Seward commission house.

Brothers, we all want a $67.50 minimum on this road with a nine hours' work a day. Write your Local Chairman and tell him what you want. Do it quick.

Mr. W. G. Weaver, a former employe of the road, also an old member of the Order, is relieving at Sutton until a regular man is secured.

Mr. J. M. Combs is lined up for Archer station. Bro. Ilgen goes to Sutton nights.

Mr. W. G. Weaver transferred to Denton station as agent, relieving Bro. Earl Denton, who, we "13," will go East for his health.

Bro. Red Miles, of Germantown nights, off couple days visiting friends at Omaha and Gretna. Relieved by Mr. McLeese.

Bro. Outlaw, of Malcolm nights, off duty two days account of being sick; relieved by Mr. Stevens, of Berks.

Bro. Sheldon, cashier Aurora, visited with friends at Havilock over Sunday.

Bro. Case now at Hampton nights in place of Mr. Woods, who goes to Phillips.

Mr. Pope, of "KY," Lincoln, has resigned from service; relieved by Mr. Liggs an old-timer on this road.

Night office at Bradshaw closed temporarily.

Bro. Case, of Hampton, took in the Lincoln-Denver football game at Lincoln.

Trains will soon be running over the new line via Milford, but the officials think they will retain the helper engine at Germantown and Seward.

Bro. P. H. Miller, of Seward nights, spent a couple of days with friends at Gretna; relieved by Bro. Fletcher, of commission house, Seward.

Business is light on road now on account of financial situation.

Bro. Murphy, agent Aurora, visited with friends at Bradshaw over Sunday.

Owing to dull times helpers have been taken off at all stations, and where two operators are employed one has to do the work now.

Bro. G. H. Vant, agent Berks, visited with Bro. C. E. Rogers, of Dorchester, one day this week.

Bro. E. H. Yerkes, agent Phillips, had a ten-days' vacation last month; relieved by Bro. Case.

Bro. H. R. Atkinson, from Hampton nights to Bellwood, relieving Bro. Spayers, who goes to Buncheon, Mo., on Mo. Pac.

Bro. Havil, David City days, to Garrison for thirty days; when relieved gets Bellwood permanent on bulletin. Mr. T. C. Sykora relieved Bro. Havel at David City.

Brothers, don't forget where the Division Correspondent lives. Mail those items regular.

Bro. Carrier is filling two positions these busy times, acting brakeman on work train and operator at Denton Junction, where new track connects with main.

Bro. F. Ford now braking out of Lincoln; relieved Sister Hicks during her vacation. Chief dispatcher Grisinger is away on a two weeks' vacation; will take in Portland and sunny California ere his return. A Mr. Keifer is acting chief during his absence. CORRESPONDENT.

Wymore Division—

The Grand Secretary and Treasurer advises us that there are a number of members on the system suspended, although their dues are paid up to December 31, because they have neglected to pay their assessments in the insurance department. You all certainly understand that you must keep up payments on insurance in order to remain in good standing, so why allow this matter to run along unattended to?

Most of you are carrying the minimum amount of insurance, which costs but twenty cents per month, or one dollar and twenty cents semi-annually. Now, in order to prevent overlooking this important matter, would it not be a good idea to remit the amount to Bro. L. W. Quick the same time you remit Bro. Henry for your card? Attend to this matter, brothers, and see if you are one of the delinquents. If you find you are, remit immediately to prevent being dropped. Now is the time that it is certainly necessary for all to stick.

Our write-up last month contained the announcement of the marriage of Bro. "Paddy" Balance, days at Pawnee, and Bro. A. E. Miller, agent at Firth, but evidently got lost.

All of the old back-sliders should compare present conditions with those of a few years ago and consider the reason for the change, get their shoulders to the wheel again and encourage our committee to greater things than have yet been accomplished. Why these old fellows who worked under the old order of things do not appreciate the new is more than we can understand, and they seem to be the very ones who want some one else to stand their share of the expense.

We are advised that there is a man on this division who wears an O. R. T. button as large as the face of a clock, although he is a year behind with his dues, and refuses to make good. Will make him known if not cut out at once.

Bro. Hazlett, agent at Reynolds, was recently on vacation. Relieved by Mr. McNew.

"SN" office Wymore has been given a shaking up. Two men out and several set back; among them our old friend, Clements, who gets west end.

We wish to thank all who furnished items for this month, and trust more will come next month. We can get them no other way.

L. G. Antram, agent at Armour, will be wearing the wreath and sounder before this appears.

The "company men" (?), nons, keep leaving the service on account of their pay being stopped. Wonder why it is they do not get wise? The Order men are evidently more able to hit the ball. "13" Bro. C. D. Wyatt gets Edgar days.

Our old friend, Lew Kirk, has been visiting old friends in this part of the country.

The Wymore Division has the honor of having the first man to remit for a new card. Bro. A. W. Denton, agent at Odell, was the man who produced the coin. Next!

H. N. Harper, a new man, landed the position as day telegrapher at Wilcox.

E. H. Price, one that has been but refuses to be, recently away spending accumulated increase.

Bro. Harvey Grimes was recently laid up at his home, Sterling, suffering from a severe cold.

Have you secured your new card? If not, remit at once and start the New Year right. No card no favor.

Bro. C. M. Devitt, agent at Filley, recently on 30-day leave of absence. Relieved by Bro. Jack Hartzell.

Bro. Graves, recently agent at Salem, gets Wilcox, and a Mr. J. F. Weybright, nights at Pawnee, and a comparatively new man, goes to Salem as agent.

Bro. Henderson is at present holding down Fortesque, with the old reliable, Jack White, doing the owl act.

Bro. Frank Royse, an old "Q" boy, now of the Northern Pacific, has been enjoying a thirty-day leave of absence, visiting his mother at Sterling.

Bro. Frank Tyler, agent at Smartville, has been enjoying a two weeks' vacation. Relieved by Extra Agent Haworth.

Bro. Graves is with us again; at present doing the night stunt at Rulo. Bro. Hamm, we "13," left the service.

Chas. Fuller, of Division No. 126, nights at Humboldt.

It is rumored that a certain brother has a student. We would advise him to cut this kind of business out before he finds his name on the expelled list.

No card no favor.

Div. Cor.

Galesburg Division—

Bro. Frank Seward, Seventeenth street days, is doing the extra dispatching at Twenty-third street office, Rock Island.

Bro. W. T. McMillan, Seventeenth street nights, was called to his home at Neponset, Ill., recently by the serious illness of his mother, who later succumbed to the call of the grim reaper, Death.

Bro. L. T. Burford, nights at Terminal Junction, is laying off on account of the serious illness of his father, at Colchester, Ill. Mr. O. J. Ericson is relieving him.

Three operators doing the stunt days at Moline: Messrs. True, Lundin and Hearnes.

Bro. G. W. Lougue, at Hillsdale nights, has resigned and departed for the wild and woolly West. Mr. McIntyre, a commercial operator, is relieving.

Joslyn recently opened nights, with Bro. H. C. Lane, from the Pennsylvania, doing the owl trick.

Mr. C. S. Bowman, recently nights at Barstow, has resigned, to resume his course in medicine at St. Louis, Mo.

Bro. Echelbarger, formerly agent at Denrock, has resigned from the service.

Mr. F. P. Maherry has recently been appointed agent at Denrock.

Q. Why is a lamb nearly? A. Because it is all butt.

Q. Why is a non? A. —.

H. W. K.

Beardstown Division—

The Beardstown Division is coming to the front — has gained sixty per cent in organization this summer. Boys, help complete organizing your division by sending the names of nons to your Local Chairmen, and do a little talking on your own part.

If you wish to see a good write-up in the journal each month, supply your correspondent with items.

We understand there will be an office opened in Centralia yards—supposed to be bulletined.

I notice we have a few of the W. U. boys with us now. Glad to know there were some of the W. U. boys that were willing to go elsewhere; give them the glad hand.

Bro. Jno. Ax, formerly of Beardstown dispatcher's office, is now situated in a good position with the railroad lines at Haileyville, I. T.

Bro. A. W. Cole, night owl at "KY," is on the sick list, C. I. Grierson, of Woodlawn, doing that stunt.

Bro. T. T. Brayfield, of Christopher, leaves us to enter school for an indefinite time. Bro. C. F. Danford secured the agency at Christopher on bulletin.

J. V. Livesey, agent at Boulder, has just returned from Payett, Idaho, where he spent a few weeks visiting friends. Mr. R. E. Willett relieved Mr. Livesey.

Bro. R. D. Elridge, formerly nights at Jacksonville, transferred to the day position at Waverly.

Bro. Howard, of Virden nights, has accepted Jacksonville nights.

Bro. Hamline has accepted Virden nights.

Bro. C. E. Morrell is doing the stunt days at Virden.

We "13" the old Jack line, Concord to Herrin, is almost solid O. R. T. What is the matter with the St. Louis line? Boys, get in line and help do the right thing. Don't forget our nine-hour law; we will need another committee soon.

Mr. J. T. Brooks, of Centralia, formerly our local conductor, has been appointed trainmaster of Beardstown Division, with jurisdiction over the line from Concord to Herrin.

CERT. 582.

Alliance Division—

Operator Claybaugh is back at "HY" again, after being absent for a short time, visiting his mother who, we understand, has been ill. He was relieved by Operator Winchester, from the C. & N. W.

Bro. Calender, lately from Merna, has left the service.

Operator Gordon, of Mason, and Eviston, of Whitman, exchanged positions lately. There seems to be a great deal of changing going on.

Bro. "JN" is back at Mason, after working the day tricks at Crawford and Broken Bow for the past few months.

"Z," of Mullen, has left the service. Can not say who relieved him.

Bro. Jones has at last got his transfer from Whitman to Litchfield.

Bro. C. C. Campbell transferred from Thedford agency to Hill City, relieving Bro. Tom Donegan, who went to Spearfish as agent, relieving Crary, who drew the Deadwood agency.

Terry station opened up again by Bro. Vincent.

Sister Richards is back at Hemingford, after enjoying a leave of absence of about a month. She was relieved by Operator Cutler, one of the striking C. T. U. operators.

L. C. Hayes, another Western Union operator, checked in at Marsland as agent.

Bro. Perrin, lately from the C. & N. W., at Ashby the past month, relieving Bro. Broich, who was off on his annual vacation.

Adams, "MD," was at Rockford for a day, until they could get a man to relieve the agent, Bro. Moulton, whose wife was on the sick list.

Bro. Triplett is holding down Custer until they can get a regular man there.

Bro. Helpbringer, from Minnekahta, now dispatching in Alliance.

Bro. B. O. Jordan, night operator at Broken Bow, has left the service, being relieved by Operator Rich who, in turn, was relieved by Winchester, Rich going to Seneca as day operator.

Bro. Hancock is now regular night operator at Lakeside. He says that he can hold it down and prove up on his homestead.

Dispatcher Welsh, "JO," is back on his old trick again, after working the first on the west end for the past month. He was relieved by Marvin while there.

Chief Gavin was in Lincoln last week, working on the new time-table, which is to go into effect November 10.

Bro. Powell is back at his old stand at Broken Bow days, after visiting the East for some time.

MAVERICK.

Galesburg Division, Quincy Branch—

Bro. Wiseheart, Colmar nights, has resigned. Relieved by Bro. Chapman.

The boys are getting in lots of overtime slips now on account of being held on duty during the meal hour to attend the new block machines.

Bro. W. R. Miner relieved Bro. Chapman at Tennessee nights.

Bro. Deacon Chapman, who returned from the West recently, is working off some of his surplus flesh on a sawmill at Plymouth.

Bro. E. W. Wrancut, from the Grand Trunk, relieved Mr. Sample, at Saluda nights.

Mr. Sample is relieving Mr. Jolly at Graham Tower a few days while Mr. Jolly is laying off.

Night office has been opened at Oak Hill, Peoria Branch, with Bro. G. E. McLeary, formerly of the T. P. & W. Ry., as operator.

C. T. U. of A. Operator Osborn relieved at Yates City nights, October 19, by Operator Johnson, another C. T. U. of A. man, formerly of New Mexico.

Mr. R. L. Story, nights at Galesburg yards, off from October 17 to October 24. Relieved by Mr. McLeave.

Mr. Kirkland, formerly days at Barstow, is now at Rock Island days. Relieved by Bro. Flynn.

Night office opened at Pottstown November 1, with Bro. T. W. Beatty as operator, formerly of the C. R. I. & P., Division No. 126.

Bro. Wrancut, who relieved Mr. Sample at Saluda a few nights, has left the service of the Burlington and gone to Chicago.

Mr. R. Mercer, days at Galesburg Yards, is off a few days. Relieved by Mr. McLeave.

Mr. McLeave is camping on the trail of a day job that is to be opened shortly in Galesburg, on Seminary street, on the Peoria Branch, a block station. Who the new night man there will be we have not learned yet.

Mr. Murray, who was nights at Prospect street in Galesburg, has left the service.

Mr. Murray's successor, we understand, is a foreign operator. Have not learned his name yet.

We never hear of the changes on the Galesburg Division until we find a new man at the key. This looks bad toward the compliance with Article IV of our last schedule.

"R. N."

Quincy Branch—

I wish to thank the brothers on this branch for the promptness and generosity with which they have answered to the subscription which is being sent along, and also to ask that it be rushed to Quincy as quickly as possible, so that it can be returned to me from there, as I wish to get it out on the North End as soon as possible.

We still have quite a few nons along here and I want to ask you if you are all after them? Each one of you who has a line on a non, write to him. Tell him what you know, and some things you don't know, if that will help matters any, and try to get them in line. We will need a good solid front next spring, if we expect to accomplish anything, and if these nons don't want to have their pay cut down, they had better get in line as quickly as possible, and help us to keep the pay up to the present standard, at least, if it is not possible to gain a little advance over the present rate.

There is going to be quite a little doing in the near future, and we need all the help we can possibly get from all the telegraphers on this division.

L. C.

Chicago and Aurora Divisions—

Our meeting at Mendota, November 16, surpassed all previous meetings in attendance, the amount of business transacted and socially.

There were fifty-four smiling telegraphers present when Bro. Johnson, our General Chairman, assisted by Local Chairman Bro. E. F. Todd, opened the meeting.

Among other important issues taken into consideration at this meeting, was that of placing Bro. W. A. Henry, our General Secretary, on a salary that will enable him to handle the business of the Order exclusively; which was declared in favor of by a unanimous vote. We are confident that this proposition will be as heartily endorsed by the other divisions, as our division is now so large that nothing short of the services of two men will begin to handle the business, and Bro. Henry is surely the man.

The meeting adjourned about midnight. If you had the misfortune to be absent, just ask the fellow next door what you missed.

Saturday, November 16, the agents at Rockford, Rock Falls, Sterling, Ottawa, Sandwich, Kewanee, Streator, Aurora and other stations of the foregoing class, were called to Aurora to attend a meeting for the consideration of the proposition of reducing the station forces. This, in spite of the fact that the past year has been the high water mark in business over all preceding years.

Application for membership has been received from Operator Robert Mades, owl at Daggets.

Bro. Landt, of Rochelle nights, has recently enjoyed a two weeks' vacation.

Bro. Rabourne, formerly days at Riverside, is at present working the day trick at Shabbona.

Bro. Stauffer, who held down the night trick at Oregon for several years, has gone to California, where he expects to engage in his past vocation.

Bro. Erdman, of Big Cut nights, visited at his home, at Mearle, Wis., since the last write-up.

"Ex"-Bro. Simpson, days at Oregon, appointed to the agency at Steward, by bulletin, and has given his promise to renew the "Ex" by the first of the year.

Mr. Wilson, former agent at Stewart, is now at Ohio, by bulletin.

Bro. Hemingway, of LaCrosse Division, formerly of Savanna yards days, is working nights at Steward.

Applications of Messrs. Cross, Chana, Eckard, Hazelhurst, Flowers and Chadwick, all night men, are under pen now, and have promises for immediate action by enough others, so that very few are to remain in the cold.

Bro. McDowell, agent at Flag Center, has been quite sick for some time. He was relieved by Night Operator Duck, who was relieved by Bro. Hanson, who has lately been working at Oregon and Hinckley nights. Extra Agent Long took up Bro. McDowell's duties later, and Bro. Hanson was called to Aurora, and up to date has not been located..

Operator Miner, who relieved Bro. Landt, at Rochelle, after a short stay with the Eola night trick, was placed on the Aurora-Galesburg end.

Bro. Sexton, agent at Leland, visited Sandwich November 14th.

Bro. Pratt, agent at Sandwich, visited Shabbona November 9th.

Bro. Noack, night operator at Sandwich, was calling on friends at Hinckley November 16th.

LOCAL CHAIRMAN.

Central of Georgia Ry.

Savannah Division—

Just in receipt of November journal, and fail to locate anything from our other divisions of the Central of Georgia. Seems they have lost all interest, or care not whether they keep our division posted as to the business, or changes on their division. It looks strange that some worthy brother couldn't take time enough to let the sister divisions know they are still doing business. We will soon begin to think there is nothing doing on the Central of Georgia but old Savannah Division, as she seems to be the only thing in print.

Mr. D. F. Jones was appointed agent at Starrsville, vice Mr. O. L. Jones.

Mr. W. E. Hodge was appointed agent at Oconee, vice Bro. Thigpen.

Bro. Bennett, working days at Meldrim, vice Bro. Newton and Bro. Howe nights. Do not know who he relieved, but both these brothers are of the right material. Both come from old Division 132, and keep the card of the proper color.

Bro. J. H. Burke, who has been clerk at Midville for quite a while, has accepted the agency, vice Mr. Crawford.

A certain "non" on this division was heard on the wire a few days ago. He called up one of the brothers and asked him: "Say, would you mind doing me a little favor?" The brother replied: "If you have got a card of the proper color I will." He replied: "What if I haven't any card at all, then what?" He was told nothing doing, old friend. The boys on this pike are strictly: No cards, no favors. It is hoped every member will adopt this method of treatment towards nons. If they have got nerve enough to ask a union man for a favor, we certainly should have nerve enough to fling the "No cards, no favors" in front of him. Perhaps, some day, he will see the necessity of having a little piece of pasteboard hung around him somewhere.

Another instance of where a non got left: He was one of the old boys, O. K., but didn't "see nothing in the O. R. T.," or couldn't see where it would help him, as he was getting all the favors, etc., they were. See what they are ready to throw at you. He gave the porter on a passenger train an important message, wiring his wife ahead to meet the train, as he wanted her to accompany him on a trip, unknown to her. The porter was promptly advised to tell the sender that it would either take a "card" or the silver to move the message, as time was limited. He didn't have time to make the change, and as he was known not to be in possession of a card, his message is still unsent, or was at last accounts I heard from it.

To those of you who haven't adopted this method it is nothing but fair to see it lived up to. Try it, and see if you won't have a clearer conscience on the matter.

Will see you again when more news is handy. Wishing all a Merry Xmas and Happy New Year. Don't forget to get that card for a New Year's present.

CERT. 3.

Chattanooga Division, North of Cedartown—

Members of Division 46, North of Cedartown, on Chattanooga Division of the Central of Georgia Railway, had their regular meeting at Ross-ville on the third Sunday, with pretty good attendance. As Bro. G. C. Stephenson, our general chairman, was not with us on account of leaving the service, Bro. D. C. Gruson acted as our host, taking us up to the Quillion House after the morning session, where we all had a sumptuous dinner, and then went to the hall for the evening session. We tried to decide on a regular place and date for meeting, but it was not decided, and the matter was tabled until next meeting, which will be the third Sunday in December, at Chickamauga, when it will be decided.

I am in favor of having a regular time and place for each month's meeting, and think it will strengthen the Order, and insure better attendance at the meetings, as every member will know what date and place the meeting will be held each month.

Bro. G. C. Stephenson resigned at Rossville. Bro. D. C. Gruson, of Fort Oglethorpe, taking his place.

Bro. Stephenson has accepted a position with a contracting company at Short Creek, Alabama.

Bro. W. A. King, of Durham, has resigned. Bro. G. C. Merritt, of Sharpsboro, relieving him. "13" Bro. Merritt has resigned, but not yet relieved.

Sister Clara E. Brown is back at work at Lindale. Don't know where Mr. Riggs went to.

Mr. C. W. Bolton, Chattanooga yards, has accepted a place in the superintendent's office. Bro. Bill Bailey, of Chickamauga, is our day operator there now.

Sister Nannie Davis, of Turin, resigned.

Bro. W. A. King, late of Durham, has been appointed agent in her place.

Bro. A. C. Powell, of Lysterly, is off sick; Bro. Bledsoe relieving him. CERT. 268.

Wabash Ry.

Third District, Detroit Division—

Bro. F. Jones, Delray, days, has resumed work. He had been relieved by regular night man, Bro. J. H. Pennington. Bro. Pennington spending a few days at his home in Pennsylvania; relieved by Bro. Floyd Smith. Bro. J. H. Mahoney, who has been at Delray, nights, temporarily, has left the service.

Bro. Bailey, Rouge River nights, off for a few days. Left for Niagara Falls November 25th.

Bro. W. H. Sellers, Romulus days, is in the northern part of the State on his annual hunting expedition; relieved by regular night man, Bro. W. C. Curry, while Bro. H. P. Harrington is doing the night trick.

Bro. W. J. Clark, agent at Britton, was off a couple of weeks sick; relieved by day operator, Bro. G. W. Clark, while night man, Bro. Roty Vannest, worked days. Bro. Vannest relieved by Mr. Nye, who, a few days afterward, left the service. He was relieved by Bro. D. G. Wilkins. Bro. Wilkins has just returned to the Wabash, and is at present holding down the roast at "NG," Montpelier, nights.

Bro. V. A. Wood, our local chairman, at Willis, is laying off. While away he will go over the division preparatory to going to St. Louis after the new schedule. He is being relieved by Bro. F. W. Beatty.

Bro. A. F. Klages, Willis, nights, is spending a few weeks hunting; relieved by Mr. R. F. Deckross, a new man on the Wabash, formerly with the Western Union at Adrain.

Bro. Fred Livesay, Sand Creek nights, has resigned; relieved by Bro. C. I. Thompson, a new man on the Wabash, who comes from the M. C. Bro. John Bloom, Holloway, nights, gets Sand Creek, nights, on bulletin.

Sister E. M. Jackel, Adrain, nights, and myself spent November 16th at Hand, where he formerly worked.

Bro. C. L. Iliff, Romulus, days, spent a day at Wolcottville recently.

On the night of November 21st trains 69, 5 and 90 experienced some trouble in making headway between Britton and Cone. They found obstructions on the track consisting of "T" rails, ties and a couple of cattle guards that had been torn up. The next day two young men, each about 17 years old, living near Britton, confessed to placing the obstructions on the track, but said it was done just for the fun they would have in watching the trainmen remove them, and that they had no thoughts of wrecking the trains. It is not supposed that the company will see it in this light.

Fourth District—

Bro. C. W. Hagans, formerly with the Wabash, but for some time past on the Lake Shore, is back with us again; at present doing the night trick at Crocker.

Bro. E. A. Pillman, formerly on the Wabash, but who went West early last summer, is back again and working on the Lake Shore.

Bro. C. A. Sutton, who has been spending a thirty-day vacation at Wekane, Ill., and Whittager, Mich., has returned to the agency at Kingsbury. Bro. C. J. Marsh, who relieved him, has resumed night work at that place. Miss Mack, who was there nights, has returned to her home.

Bro. E. W. Flegel has resumed work at Aetna.

Bro. L. L. Strausberger, New Paris, days, and Bro. O. O. Miller, same place, nights, back from a two weeks' vacation. Bro. Strausberger was relieved three days by Mr. E. A. Farnham, who was relieved by Bro. Floyd Smith. Mr. Farnham is at Belleville, nights, at present. Bro. Miller was relieved by Mr. O. J. Walley, who has returned to his home at Arctic, Ind.

Mr. P. F. Charpie, Foraker, nights, spent a few days in Chicago recently visiting friends.

Bro. C. S. Smith, Gary, days, has been called home on account of the sickness of his mother; relieved by Mr. Coates.

Bro. L. J. Miller, Westville, nights, spending a few weeks at his home at Defiance, O. Relieved by Miss George.

Mr. Earl Howard has resumed work at Pine after a few days off on account of sickness. Mr. Kimple, formerly at Pine, has left the service.

Bro. Floyd Smith spent a couple of days in Chicago recently. Div. Cor.

St. Louis Division—

At the time of sending in our last write-up to the journal, we stated that by the time same reached you, the committee would be in St. Louis working on a revision of the present schedule. At that time we had started negotiations with the company and had requested that they meet the committee on or about November 15, for the purpose as stated above, but at the time of mailing the article no reply had been received. A few days later a communication was received from the general superintendent in which he said that owing to the schedules of all the train men expiring on November 1 and December 1, his time would be taken up with them, and that he could not possibly meet our committee until on or about December 15. It will be seen that while the plans we had outlined miscarried, it was no fault of ours, as we had "sent up our card" and were waiting to be ushered in. As our schedule does not expire until January 1, we still have some time to go on, but it was our intention to go in a little earlier this year so as to have all the negotiations completed and the new book in the hands of all by January 1, instead of receiving it some time in February, as has been the case the last two years. That much interest is being taken in the coming negotiations by the membership and others is manifest by the prompt return of information blanks which were sent out; also several unsolicited applications for membership and the renewal of a few delinquents who, through negligence, had allowed themselves to become in arrears. I expect to put in about two weeks, beginning about December 1, in going over the line for the purpose of putting on a few finishing touches, getting acquainted with some new-comers and having a talk with as many of you as my time will permit, regarding some things that are most needed. While making my trip over the line last fall and discussing conditions with various men, some new and good ideas were brought out which proved valuable, and were embodied in the schedule. As might be expected, we still find an occasional non, but they are so insignificant, both from a numerical and influential standpoint, that no mention of them should be made. The few who remain out now are doing so for selfish purposes. Not possessing brains, they naturally have been in obscurity all their lives, and having met with reverses in every thing they undertook, where a little energy is required, they had given up all hopes of ever coming to the front in the world on their own merits where the "square deal" rule is in force. They now imagine they see an opportunity to break into prominence and distinguish themselves at our expense. One of these poor, frail simpletons has the "official bee" so bad that he can taste it. In every mail that comes, he expects to find a circular announcing his appointment. So deeply is he imbued with this delusion that he is unaware that he is the object of derision among the entire railroad fraternity, it being a case with him of "Where ignorance is bliss."

There are enough of us lined up to see that these empty-noodled gentlemen "hit the ball" and get only what is coming to them. It should be our duty to see that they get nothing at our expense.

Bro. A. Beard, days at Ferguson, reports a continuous vaudeville and an entire change of program weekly, and sometimes oftener, in the night force at that place.

Bro. F. Krome, days at Bridgeton, says he has resigned several times the last month, but no more attention has been paid to it than would be given a request for an increase in salary.

Shortly after the depot at O'Fallon burned, Bro. Wooly resigned. Life in a box-car without a fire these chilly mornings was too strenuous for him. Mr. T. S. Cleveland, of Thompson, Mo., takes the agency at O'Fallon. A Mr. Powell, recently of Wentzville, takes the agency at Thompson.

Several stations are now vacant and bulletins are out announcing the fact, and all are given a chance at them. Pretty nice, isn't it, to receive a notice telling you there is a vacancy at a certain station and what the place pays and asking you if you desire the position? Do you know where the idea originated?

If you are a non, write the undersigned, asking for blanks and any information you may need as to how you may become a member of a live and progressive organization that "does things."

Every little bit added to what you already have makes just a little bit more. Paste that in your hat and watch us grow.

Let's all rise and sing.

W. MURPHY,
Local Chairman.

Springfield Division—

It is about time for a revision of our schedule, and most of the boys seem to be anxious about it, too. Some are anxious as to the appearance of our next revised schedule. All want an increase in pay and better conditions than now prevail. Even the nons seem to be getting anxious.

Now, you nons, who are for ever giving us that old worn-out story about being hard up for money, if you really expect the O. R. T. to get some benefits for you why don't you line up and get where you belong? If you have confidence and know that the O. R. T. can get better pay and better conditions, why then don't you fill out the papers, get in the Order and help us get these concessions?

Surely, you don't mean to sit back and take all you can get through our efforts and put us off with some of your excuses about going to quit, etc.

Operators seem to be rather scarce now. Several of the boys want vacations, but have a hard time getting away.

Agent Frank Pennington is back at his old stand at Maysville, after a few weeks' vacation on account of sickness.

Extra Telegrapher Arnold is at East Hannibal, recently doing relief work.

Bro. Anderson, "CT" Shops, off a few days. Relieved by Mr. Roberts, of Curran.

Understand the trainmen get a ten per cent increase, effective December 1.

Don't you brothers think the telegraphers should have something of this kind dished out to them? Just think of it! Some of the telegraphers are making as much as $50 per, or practically 15 cents per hour, and others making the princely sum of $55, or sixteen and two-thirds cents per hour, after making allowance for meal hour.

Section men are making 15 cents per hour, and bridge carpenters 25 cents per hour. Is there not more skill called into play in our department, to say nothing of the responsibility? Some might argue that the bridge men must pay board away from home, etc. All right. Allow a bridge man $1 per day board off of $2.50 per day wages, and then compare to the telegraphers' salary.

We notice in the October number, Wabash items, under Detroit Division, that there seems to be some friction on that end of the road on account of the Superintendent's action in the assignment of the agency at Hand, putting a member of our Order out of this position and placing a lady there who does not seem to be entitled to it. Cases of this kind will bear investigation, and the more incidents of this kind that pass unnoticed, the more may be expected, and the less effective we may expect our schedule to be. On the other hand, if we insist on the terms of our schedule being lived up to, it is only natural to expect few deviations from it. Rule 156 of telegraphers' schedule bears upon this subject.

Ham factories located at Baylis, Maysville, Markham and Naples, the latter having turned out something like twelve or fifteen students in eleven years. How's that for business? Prof. McCarthy ought not to squeal if he believes in flooding the market, and although the above-mentioned professor has the reputation of being one of the best, it is singular how and why he should be so short-sighted as to the future welfare of the craft, unless a philanthropic nature predominates over his better judgment, as surely a man with the talents and ability to become a good telegrapher can not be blind to the laws of supply and demand.

Bro. H. C. Savage, agent at New Salem, is back at his old stamping ground, after a brief visit with relatives in Pueblo and Buena Vista, Colorado.

LOCAL CHAIRMAN.

Decatur Division—

Your committee is now hard at work on the 1908 schedule, and will soon meet with the management. Give them your hearty support; they need it. In their task it is not always smooth sailing.

Don't fail in case anything interesting occurs in your locality, to pass it along to the new correspondent. Each one should assist us in gathering the news.

Mr. H. A. Culmer, operator at "R," division freight agent's office, Chicago, is on a thirty-days' leave of absence, visiting relatives in Southern Illinois and Indiana. Mr. C. is not enjoying the best of health.

E. E. Elridge, of Landers, is acting operator at "R" office, Chicago, during Mr. Culmer's absence.

Bro. Vance has been installed as agent at Chicago Ridge instead of Mansfield.

Bro. McElroy, of Chicago Ridge, has accepted the agency at Saunemin.

Mr. F. A. Rock, who was agent at Effingham until the Wabash closed that station recently, is now the company's representative at Mansfield.

Operator Morford transferred from Cerro Gordo to Blue Ridge, remaining at that point but a few nights, when "called in." Further developments not accessible to us.

Bro. J. V. Neatherington has been appointed agent (joint) at Mitchell, Ill., vice Dobbins, resigned, to enter other employment.

"Si" Walton, as he is familiarly known among his many friends, has gone back to "DZ" office. "Si," who had worked a trick some time since, was temporarily holding down "H" office nights, awaiting a boom in business, that he might again resume his old-time title of dispatcher. We can not say that the boom has exactly materialized, nevertheless, "Si" is quite in evidence. The change leaves "H" office open to those who aspire to that place.

On the night of November 3, Conductor Vanness and crew of train No. 62 were arrested and held on charges of criminal neglect by the Warden, Ill., authorities, for obstructing the public highways in that city. They were lodged in jail. The charge was for blocking two crossings, delaying chemical apparatus and fire extinguisher enroute and responding to a fire alarm. The building burned. Later on the crew were released, but Vanness suffered twenty-four hours' detention, when he finally was given his freedom, on payment of fine and costs.

Bro. Byrd, from the Big Four, held forth temporarily at "JO" Decatur a few nights.

Bro. Hecox is filling Edwardsville Junction days temporarily, with new man on nights; name unknown to us.

Bro. A. L. Darnier drifted back to the Big Four, and is now filling third trick on eight-hour shift at Carpenter.

Bro. J. H. Curtis, of Raymond, enjoyed ten days off, visiting his parents at Bloomfield, Ind., the latter part of October, Bros. Moore and Hendricks doubling.

Miller, of Oakley, is now at Harvell nights.

Bro. Stone, of Litchfield, also Bro. Seiler, at Warden, contemplate a new place of abode. "Q" longs for an eight-hour trick and incidentally more money.

Mr. Curtis, a new man, from Staunton, and employed a few nights as operator at Catlin, is relieving Yard Clerk Abbott, of Bement, while the latter is on his honeymoon.

A new forty-five-strap plug switchboard has been placed in Bement office, doing away with the two old boards and the necessity of being compelled to make complicated patches, etc.

Bro. A. A. Childers is now holding down "DN" Bement nights, vice Yount, transferred to "BX" Taylorville tower. This makes "DN" solid.

We understand that Yount, who went to Taylorville tower with the expectation that overtime made in addition to regular salary, would about balance difference of pay between Bement and present position, is meeting with some trouble in obtaining that much-coveted overtime which, of course, the operators at large on the Wabash, especially those who "were in," were instrumental in obtaining, at a sacrifice.

Bro. Curtis, who has been the owl at Oakley, has recently left the service. Relieved by Bro. R. J. Morrow, of Staunton.

Bro. Lanier has been made joint agent for the Illinois Central and Wabash at Lodge.

There are quite a number of C. T. U. men employed on this division.

Quite a serious accident occurred at Forrest, Ill., Chicago Division, train 64, October 28, leaving the rails at point of siding, derailing ten loads and one empty, all more or less scrapped, and a considerable loss to contents. Cause—sharp flange or switch lever springing up.

We understand the Big Four and Vandalia people are taking time by the forelock and putting on the third man at different points of their respective roads. By so doing they show a disposition to abide by the new law which becomes effective March 4 next.

Mr. Stewart, who has been agent at Forrest for years, has been transferred to other duties at Chicago. This leaves Forrest, one of the important stations on the Chicago Division, open. Being an exclusive agency, and one of responsibility, a sub-terminal, as well as joint agency with the T., P. & W. R. R., will naturally require a person of some executive ability to handle it successfully. At this writing we have not heard who will succeed Mr. Stewart. At present Bro. Litchenberger, day operator at that point, is and has been acting as agent for some two or three months.

The members of the Decatur Division of the Wabash owe a vote of thanks to Bro. Hendricks, who has been acting as Division Correspondent for some time past. We think he fulfilled his duties as a scribe with credit to himself and the Order. We are glad to know that in severing his connection with the Wabash, he enters upon his new field of work—that of ticket agent at Hillsboro, Ill.,—at a substantial increase of salary, and also has a pleasant city to reside in.

Bro. Renner, "H" office, Decatur, Ill., who held down the day trick, out of service a few days the latter part of October on account of sickness. "M," of "JO" office relieved him.

We are told that one or two of our members on the Seventh District, Chicago Division, have lost sight of what benefits they have already enjoyed through the schedule that they are now working under, and what may be in store for them in the future. It is not always possible that they will have their wishes, as far as the Order, schedule or Wabash is concerned. Promotion does not necessarily carry seniority alone. Schedule or no schedule, we must not lose sight of the other side as well. Are you the man best fitted to fill the position you aspire to? Everything equal, then seniority should govern. But I do not think it good policy because one fails to gain one particular point, to throw up the sponge, become discouraged, find fault and say the world is wrong and all that's in it. 'Tis true, we, as operators, who have affiliated with one another, elected a spokesman—so to speak—to represent us and take action when possible during troublous times in our behalf; but you must bear in mind that this action, whether favorable to your cause or not, takes time, and why condemn before you have cause.

Haven't you oftentimes heard the train men—conductors, engineers and brakemen—again and again bewail their bad luck; accuse their committee of this and that. Do they, the ones who seem to think, and may, justly, have grievances, in all cases receive satisfaction? No. They do not, for various reasons.

It is simply impossible to deal out satisfaction to all. We try to deal justice, or, rather, have justice done all. Isolated cases arise where special attention is necessary. In these cases it takes time for action, and when we fail to acquire favorable action in any particular case, kindly be considerate and charitable enough not to condemn your representative because he failed in your behalf, and lose sight of all other benefits that you are enjoying that the committee or their predecessors were instrumental in procuring for you and me.

We have been in position to note the working of the schedules; have heard occasionally the rumblings of discontent here and there—that is natural. Look at any phase of life and you will find it. But, as a whole, I do not think that we have near the "kick" coming that some of our sister orders have, judging from the noise made.

The brokerage firm at Bement, known as Comerford & Byrne, has been dissolved, Mr. Byrne withdrawing. Mr. Comerford continues the business. Not being an operator himself, Mr. Will Taylor, of Cerro Gordo, an old-time Wabash man, is chalking the board for Mr. Comerford. Mr. Byrne, the retiring partner, also an ex-Wabash man, is now residing in Decatur. We understand he is connected with some brokerage firm at that point.

We are unable to keep pace with the numerous changes taking place at various points on the division. This, of course, applies more especially to temporary transfers and changes. We presume the readers of Wabash local notes feel more or less interested, especially ex-Wabash men, who are now employed elsewhere.

J. J. Johnson, a Chicago C. T. U. A. man, who has been holding the night job at Philo, resigned November 15. He returns to Chicago.

During the absence of our Local Chairman, Bro. Heffner, of Oakley, on committee work, R. J. Morrow, a C. T. U. A. man, is acting as agent.

Bro. Frank Carter is holding down "GM" St. Louis temporarily.

Bros. Johnson and Byrd are now located at Brooklyn.

Bro. Koehler, who was regular night man at Forrest, but more recently holding down the day trick, relieving Bro. Litchenberger, who is acting agent at that point, has resigned, we understand, and gone west. F. E. Smith, a C. T. U. A. man is relieving him. V. Marr, another C. T. U. A. man is working the night trick.

Bro. Heffner made us a very pleasant call recently. He was making a trip over the road, lining things up and gathering information that would be useful in the making up of the 1908 schedule.

I have the pleasure of advising all those who contributed toward the Clark fund, that on the Seventh, Eighth and Ninth Districts there was collected, through the kindness of local conductors, and turned over to me, $14.25, which in turn was sent to Bro. LaFever, at St. Louis on November 16. This does not include $5 handed direct to Bro. LaFever, contributed by Bros. Heffner, Hedden, Kearney and LaFever. In behalf of Bro. Clark I thank you all very, very much. Your generosity surely will be greatly appreciated by Bro. Clark. I wish to add that among those who contributed were several C. T. U. A. men.

Bro. Sona, Sulu nights, off duty November 18, for two or three weeks. Relieved by Bro. Nance.

Bro. Berry, who recently resigned at Philo, has again, after three weeks visiting at home, entered the service.

HARTE.

To All Wabash Members—

Through the columns of THE TELEGRAPHER I wish to express my thanks to those who assisted me during my term as division correspondent for their energy and contributions submitted.

I sincerely regret leaving you, but duty calls me elsewhere. I ask that you assist Bro. W. H. Harte, Jr., of Bement, Ill., the newly elected correspondent, as faithfully as you assisted me.

Wishing you all a prosperous and successful life, and that you may always hold the Order in the highest esteem, I am, with the best brotherly feeling and wishes,

Yours fraternally,
E. HENDRICKS.

Peru Division—

Bro. E. D. Williams, Arctic, days, has accepted Defiance, nights, and will be transferred in a few days. Bro. Williams leaves Arctic on account of being unable to obtain suitable living quarters.

Bro. L. T. Agnew, Butler, nights, called to Chicago on November 20th on account of the serious illness of his sister.

Operator Lannen working nights at Butler during the absence of Bro. Agnew.

Bro. E. A. Tabler, formerly of West Peru, nights, writes us that he is located at Cypress, Tex., on the H. & T. C., and expresses himself as being well pleased with the job and country.

Operator C. A. Breyton, who went out with the commercial telegraphers at Dallas, Tex., is now with the Wabash, and working nights at Prairie Switch. Bro. Ezra Fackler, the regular man, we are sorry to learn, was compelled to go to the hospital for an operation.

Bro. Kennington back at Lafayette, days, after having been off on leave of absence for some time.

Bro. Hellwig now doing the heavy trick at Williamsport with Bro. Pemberton, a new brother, doing the night stunt.

A nice addition to our membership during the past month, which puts Peru Division in good shape. Give the following the glad hand: J. A. Cavanaugh and L. J. Craig, West Lebanon; F. W. Jones and Wm. Marsteller, State Line; F. A. Weckerly, Burrows; H. O. Eviston, "GR," Peru; J. E. Smith, Gould; L. J. Etnire, Danville; A. Stocksteil, Toledo yard; W. S. Bandy and Mrs. E. A. Bandy, Andrews yard; R. O. Zentmeyer, Attica; W. H. Pemberton, Williamsport; Ezra Fackler, Prairie Switch; G. C. Miller, Colburn; W. C. Theek, West Unity, and O. C. Hunt, Danville Junction.

Bro. Zentmeyer, of Attica, resigned to take a position at Bloomington, Ill., with the Big Four, but is back again.

Bro. Horn, formerly at Williamsport, resigned and left for parts unknown.

Bro. H. S. Sanders, formerly agent at Riverside, has bid in Logansport, days, on bulletin. Bro. J. D. Milliman, from the Detroit Division, is the new man at Riverside.

We are sorry to note that our worthy Bro. A. E. Dunderman, days at Clymers, is seriously ill with stomach trouble, and is in a hospital at Chicago.

Bro. N. Hinkle, formerly agent at Burrows, working days at Clymers. A Mr. Brubaker takes the agency at Burrows. Haven't heard how Mr. Brubaker stands, as he is a new man with us.

Bro. C. F. Brey acted as agent at Liberty Center for a couple of weeks in October while the regular agent, Mr. O. E. Wilson, was off on a vacation.

Bro. W. A. Safely bid in one of the tricks at "Z," Peru, on bulletin.

Mr. R. W. Peters, former agent at Attica, is at present filling Attica, days; Bro. Roy Zentmeyer, nights.

The above items are the contribution of Bro. Shutt. While working on the job I have at present, it is impossible for me to get next to what is doing among the brothers and sisters along the line, therefore am going to call for help. Have you noticed how the fraternal section of our journal has grown and how interesting it is? Let us keep our friends on other roads posted on what is happening on the Peru Division. Div. Cor.

Western Division—

We are all patiently (?) waiting for March, 1908, to come with its nine-hour law, since we have received no benefit whatever from the eight-hour law, which was passed in the Missouri Legislature last fall.

As the time is drawing near for payment of semi-annual dues, we hope that every one will be prompt in remitting their dues and securing a new card, especially those on this division.

Several of us have received a letter of an endless chain asking if we will support in case of a walk-out, if a demand is made for a $75.00 minimum, an increase to all, and an eight-hour day, effective March 4, 1908. All that receive these letters should be prompt in answering, and in making other copies and distributing them, as explained in the letter.

Mr. J. F. Purdy has been working nights at Dalton for the past few weeks.

Mr. A. N. Consolver has been working nights at Dalton, but was recently transferred to Keytesville nights.

Bro. D. L. Giffin, recently from the Middle Division, has been agent at Dalton for several days, relieving the regular man. He has promised to help us out in the way of news when possible.

Dispatcher F. L. Conrad, who has been working third trick west, for past few weeks, is spending a few days vacation in St. Louis.

Bro. Whitley left Sunday, November 24th, for an extended trip West. His wife and two children will stay with her parents at Rea, Mo., during his absence. Mr. R. G. Brotherton, from Excelsior Springs Junction, relieves Bro. Whitley.

Bro. M. W. Hehl goes to Excelsior Springs Junction to relieve Mr. Brotherton.

Bros. M. W. Hehl and J. D. Carpenter passed examinations at Moberly, November 23d, for positions on this road. They both came from the West.

The pile-driver outfit went to Bedford, November 7th, to open a bridge to allow a government dredge boat to pass through our tracks at that point. Superintendent Stumpf's private car, No. 7, went to Bedford also, where he will have wires cut into his car until this work is completed.

Bro. C. R. Brown returned November 10th from a few weeks' visit to his parents at Elk City, Okla. He says that everything down there is O. R. T. and "no cards, no favors."

Miss M. L. Mecker, who has been working as agent and operator at Lovilla, Iowa, went to Council Bluffs November 13th to visit her brother, who is day operator at East Switch. She was checked in as agent at Bingham November 29th.

Bro. C. F. Deppe, from Shenandoah, went to Oklahoma City November 14th. He has been in Moberly hospital six weeks.

A. N. Consolver went to Lexington Junction, nights, November 18th.

Bro. R. L. Gleason, from Maxwell, Neb., on the U. P., passed through here to Moberly November 19th, for examination.

Bro. J. D. Carpenter relieved Bro. Gleason at Lexington Junction November 24th.

Bro. C. R. Smith, of Evona, and Bro. W. B. Magruder, of Jameson, returned November 21st from an extended tour of the West.

Bro. D. L. Giffin went to Keytesville November 30th to be checked in as agent December 2d. Understand present agent at Keytesville has been promoted to dispatcher at Moberly.

I was appointed division correspondent by Local Chairman J. F. Knox, and as this is my first attempt, I hope that every one that can will help me out by sending me any news that they may know.

I am pretty well rushed this time, as I am acting as agent at Brunswick in place of my father, Mr. H. O. Benton, who is very ill, and am two days late getting these few notes into St. Louis. I am in hopes that I may be able to give a better write-up next time, and the co-operation of any one who will send me any news will be greatly appreciated.

J. E. BENTON,

Division Correspondent.

Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul Ry.

First District—

Our regular correspondent, Bro. F. T. Johannson, having left the service, it devolves on some one to volunteer to fill the position.

Bro. Geo. Bateman has returned to the W. U. in Chicago after a couple months' "vacation" during the strike. His place at Savanna tower is filled by Mr. C. N. Nicholson, who has just returned to the business after an absence of several years.

Bro. O. R. Tyrell, extra dispatcher "A" office, Savanna, is enjoying a short vacation, at the end of which he goes to Dubuque to accept a permanent position as dispatcher.

Bro. J. F. Keating, late of "SY," Savanna, nights, is now holding down the moonlight trick at Genoa; a C. T. U. brother at "SY" in his stead.

At Hickory Grove Bro. Adams off several days in November account death of a relative. Relieved by Bro. Switzer, regular night man, whose place was filled by Bro. Woodworth.

Lanark interlocking now in service, the position being filled by Bros. Cook and Siler, formerly of the depot at that point. Bro. Horigan being left alone as agent.

Bro. Gleason, of Forrester, has severed his connections with this road, his place being filled by Bro. Brant.

Bro. Thos. Shanahan, of Fairdale, enjoyed a short vacation in the early part of November; relieved by an operator (?) named Shrake, of whom more later.

Bro. C. H. Kuntz, Elgin days, has been made ticket agent during the absence of agent, J. B. Hopkins. Bro. Voltz, regular owl at that place, advanced to day position and Bro. Westphal installed as night operator.

The vacancy at Franklin Park nights, caused by the resignation of Bro. Johannson, is filled by a C. T. U. brother, whose name I have not learned.

Bro. J. A. Hoyer relieving operator Sloan at Leaf River. The latter is a telegrapher of the "non" variety, i. e., "blood-sucker," who has long been enjoying the benefits—overtime galore, increased pay, etc.—that the O. R. T. has secured for him, and refused to join.

Outside of this man (and two others, whose names will be printed next month), our non—there are but two or three—are of the aged gentleman type, who believe that to join at this late day would be but evidence of the approach of their second childhood.

Of ex-relief agent Shrake, the Cassville, Wis., Record speaks as "has been and is yet a very successful railroad employee." After several years' service on scheduled roads this party is still not a member of the Order, and he is more successful in grabbing the fruits of our labors than in promoting the interests of his employer.

As you have been previously notified, our General Committee, also eight or nine others, will soon be convened to meet the management to revise our schedule to conform with the nine-hour law. Each and every true Order man wishes and hopes that this may be accomplished quickly, and that there be no interruption of the pleasant relations the telegraphers and officials of the road have enjoyed. Should, however, this be impossible, we have many advantages over our commercial brothers in the way of a trustworthy leader, length of time to prepare for our struggle, and a national law to back us. "Ex-Scams, No. 1."

Third District—

A Mr. Graves, at Pac. Jct., first trick temporary until Bro. Hattendorf gets relief at Glenview so he can take this job.

Bro. Hoganson, of Forest Glen, is on the jury and is being relieved by Bro. Ed. Taylor.

Bro. Woda, of Rondout third trick, won a goose on a raffle.

Ed. Carroll working nights at Fox Lake for the present.

Bro. Moore working nights at Warrenton since Glenview and Shermerville have been closed as night offices.

Bro. Wynhoff back on duty at tower A 68.

It is Bro. Miller now at Lake, he having taken out card not long since.

Bro. Reed is at Rondout depot temporarily. He is a new man on the road; belongs to Hoosier Division, No. 27.

Bro. Frank Lumber, who has been at Rondout for quite a while, secured the agency at Ingleside on bulletin.

Dispatcher Larsen secured the agency at Fox Lake on bulletin, his health being so poor in Chicago that he feels that he needs the "simple life." Hope to see him take out card in the near future. Dispatchers have received as much benefit from the O. R. T. as any one else; indeed, increase of salary to chief dispatcher and trainmaster can be directly traced to the influence of the Order, telegraphers, agents and levermen having secured increases through it; something had to be done to keep the dispatchers a respectable distance ahead of us as to wages, then, of course, the chief dispatcher had to be raised a notch, as also did the trainmaster. It's like a house of four stories, when you raise the first story the second, third and fourth had to go also. I don't think this can be successfully disputed, and still we find the very men who are enjoying this increase knocking the Order at every chance, not in the open but in an underhanded way. Think the General Committee would do well to let some of the higher officials know of some of the tactics being used by the small fry officials in this vicinity; the foregoing is not meant to apply to any of the trick men in any way.

Extra dispatcher Welsh gets the trick made vacant by Larsen and Geo. Carroll secured the day job on bulletin at dispatcher's office side wire.

A Mr. Spreenan is on the side wire nights temporarily.

Tower A 2, at West Ave., put into service; C. & N. W. men placed as directors and Bros. Blichmel, Lary and Stimpson, all St. Paul boys, as levermen; some grievances about this job to be adjusted by General Committee, as the General Superintendent's ruling about this job seems to be unjust.

Bro. Voltz, of Avalon, was off a few days account sickness; have not learned who was the relief.

The father of the wife of Bro. Adams, agent at Gray's Lake, died recently.

One thing quite a few of the brothers should be more careful of is not to talk so freely with trainmen and engineers of what is being done and what we expect to do as an Order. Being situated where quite a few trainmen come, they tell me as a matter of common conversation of what this one and that have told them, most of which is nobody's business but our own, and which, if gotten hold of by officials, would be a very welcome addition to their stock of knowledge. Boys, guard your tongues and let us not suffer because of this lack of caution.

As the new year approaches the time draws near for the meeting of our General Committee, and let us see to it that not a desirable non is left outside the Order to retard its success. We must stand shoulder to shoulder and give the committee undivided backing; this is no time for discord of any kind, and any personal feeling should be dropped and all stand together for principle. It would be a good plan to respectfully answer any official who seeks to discredit any of our representatives "that the committee at Chicago represent us." It will do no good to discuss the subject with him in any way, and would advise that we all respectfully decline to do so.

The operators of the United States are responsible for the national nine-hour law; now let us also be responsible for schedules covering this point and not trust to "luck and some court" to say whether this is constitutional or not; it is nothing more than justice to the traveling public in the first place, and the same to us in the second, and in the third place, let's have it.

As Bro. Renshaw's letter stated, "We can't secure this on a bluff;" now, let's get ready for business. If it comes to a show-down let's look for something else instead of the chance to go back to the same old job at the same old hours and pay; be men. A business man said in my presence yesterday that it was all nonsense for any man who had brains enough to learn telegraphy and do the necessary work connected with it to say that he could not do something else and make a success of it; named a railway man who got out of a job and went as a salesman, and in less than a year carried off all the prizes put up by the house to the man who sold the most in several different lines of goods. This man worked in a part of the country where they have winter near half the year, too. Of course, not all have the gift of selling things, but there are hundreds of different things we can do with more chance of laying by something besides regrets for old age, and if the hours and pay of our craft are not bettered we certainly will have very little else for the evening of life.

In conclusion, want to urge the "hobby" of our Local Chairman, and that is for every one to give the very best of service that you are capable of so we can have this for an argument. If we don't do this you may rest assured the company will use "poor service" as a big gun against us.

We have repeatedly said that all we want is justice as to pay, hours of work and conditions of service. Now, we are near a time when you can stand up and be counted for or against your own and your families' welfare; which will you do?

CERT. 1129.

C. & C. B. (Iowa) Division—

Telegrapher Martin and wife, of Templeton, were called to Sioux Falls, S. D., last of October account the sudden death of his brother-in-law. Telegrapher Crowe relieved him and Bro. Mullis, of Persia, relieved Crowe, Bro. Madson relieving Bro. Mullis.

Bro. Reel, of Persia, spent two or three days in Perry; relieved by Bro. C. M. Peasley, extra of Weston, Bro. House, nights of Defiance, getting Weston on bulletin; relieved at Defiance by telegrapher Blakeslee.

Bro. Berends, of Division 23, high-class Dutch comedian, traveling with the Hugh A. Nickels Co., played to a full house one week at Aspinwall and Templeton later part of October. He is "ace high."

Bro. Wright, of Dedham, on sick list couple days; relieved by Bro. Elder, his night man.

Bro. Peasley to Neola nights after relieving Bro. Reel as agent Persia.

Bro. Minahan, who has been working nights at Neola, has left the road.

Bro. Stahl, regular night man Neola, to Maxwell; was relieved by Bro. Minahan.

Telegrapher Martin back to agency Templeton, telegrapher Crowe going back to work nights Templeton. Bro. Mullis to Herndon days for short time after Crowe went to work.

Telegrapher Rose left Aspinwall to accept a better job on C. & N. W.; relieved by young Blakeslee, who was transferred to Defiance nights; relieved at Aspinwall by young Kassel, of Collins; neither Kassel or Blakeslee old enough to join. Kassel ordered to Capron nights; relieved by Bro. C. M. Peasley.

Business on the Middle Division has quieted down since our last write-up.

Bro. Soyster back to the brass-works after stirring up the nons and delinquents; he was relieved by Bro. Swenning during his absence.

Bro. Kruse, agent Van Horne, took a six weeks' vacation; relieved by Bro. Buckman, who in turn was relieved by Bro. Swenning.

Bro. Ryan, formerly of Haverhill, to Panama short time after relieving Bro. Gamelin at Huxley.

then Panama to Manning nights, relieving Bro. Zadnicheck, who went to Madrid to work.

Bro. Fullerton, agent Panama, took a vacation trip to Illinois, being relieved by Bro. Ryan.

Bro. Renbarger, of Collins nights, was off few days the early part of November on account of sickness.

Bro. Cook, agent Collins, starts for New Mexico in a few days to spend the winter months. Bro. Cook will be relieved by Bro. Posten, of Capron, who will be relieved by Bro. Hall, of Capron nights.

Bro. Foster, of Dunbar station, took a nine days' vacation and spent the time visiting his father in Nebraska; relieved by Bro. Swenning.

Bro. Huyck, of Slater tower days, is relieving Bro. Hansen at Newhall. A. A. Hottle taken from Huxley nights to fill Bro. Huyck's place. Huxley closed nights for the present.

Bro. Nichols, agent Aspinwall, took a flying trip to Chicago a couple days this month to meet his wife and baby, who have been in Wisconsin the past three months.

Bro. Dick Copeland, one of the old-time boys, is at present attending college in Omaha, taking courses in stenography, bookkeeping, etc.

Bro. Jones, nights Coon Rapids, took a two weeks' vacation, being relieved by Bro. Mullis, who went to Perry yard to relieve Bro. Black on the return of Bro. Jones, Bro. Black relieving Bro. Losey at the side-table Perry dispatcher's office. Bro. Losey relieving dispatcher O. C. Anderson, third trick man, who is taking his vacation.

Understand there are some students on the branches. Be careful, boys, or you will find charges filed against you and your name in THE TELEGRAPHER as being expelled from the Order. Besides, there is not a job on the branch but what one man can handle, and why some men will violate their obligation is hard to understand.

Bro. Bethurum, who left this division some time ago, is now located at Osage City, Kansas, with the Mo. Pac.

Bro. Stingley, formerly with this pike, is now located in Kansas with the C., B. & Q. He and his better half were visiting in this part of the country last month.

Bro. Ramsey, of Eldridge Jct., has been laying off past month and enjoying a trip through the South. Mr. Bell has been running the station and looking after the "tater" biz., which has kept him busy.

Mr. Bright has landed Elwood station nights.

Bro. Dove secured Hale nights on bulletin. Bro. Dove is a new addition to the fold.

Business on the branches has been very heavy this fall, and crews had so much work they frequently tied up after sixteen hours.

General Secretary and Treasurer, Bro. Soyster, was in Chicago the forepart of November attending a meeting of General Chairmen and Secretaries and Treasurers. "13" our General Committee will be in Chicago by the time this appears in print. "Nick."

Mineral Point and Prairie Du Chien Divisions—

Wishing you all a Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year.

As we look back on the fast-closing year, we note the many changes that have taken place, and we can not help but ponder on what will the year 1908 bring forth. In summing up the work for the year 1907, we have nine new members to our credit, which is not so bad considering the limited number of nons to work on, and great credit should be given the workers who have assisted in bringing in these new members into the fold. They have never ceased for one moment in their tireless work. Every member should become active, and if they will but co-operate with the workers during the year 1908, we will not have a non in the Ninth District at the close of the year, remembering that the individual workers getting interested in their neighbors are the ones that count.

The success of the engineers and trainmen's organizations are attributed to the fact that they can congregate together and discuss their conditions, hold meetings, and more attend than telegraphers. We can obviate this by each and every one of us becoming personally interested in the work, and why shouldn't we? We should remember that we are working for our own interest as well as that of our brothers and sisters.

We were greatly surprised to hear of the retirement of our superintendent, Mr. E. D. Wright. Mr. Wright has only been with us a short time as superintendent, and we regret his departure. He rose to his position from our ranks, and we feel a personal friend has left us. One who could realize our position more fully than some one from another department. We should give Mr. L. R. Clausen, his successor, a hearty welcome, and as he has had no experience as a telegraph operator, we trust that he will realize the importance of our positions; that it is the station agents and telegraphers who are the real representatives of the railroad companies, and that they are the least paid of any of the employees.

The meeting held at Madison, October 26th, was very well attended, considering the busy season. A great many of the boys were unable to get excused. There were, in all, about eighteen members present.

The meeting was called to order by Local Chairman Bro. T. L. Pagel, who stated the object of the meeting was that of getting the sentiment of the members in reference to the eight-hour law. General chairman, Bro. O. W. Renshaw, being present, gave us an outline of the practicability of applying the new law in our schedules, after which Bros. J. J. Connell and local chairman from the C. & M. Division, Bro. F. J. Alleman, and others gave us some very interesting talks.

Word had been passed along to our C. & N. W. brothers of our expected meeting, and we were agreeably surprised when their local chairman, Bro. Schneider, knocked for admittance with ten or twelve members from the Madison Division. A royal welcome was given them, after which the meeting progressed with an exchange of remarks from both sides. While no decided action was taken, I trust that every one present received some new ideas and valuable information. You should encourage more of these meetings by favoring them with your presence.

A motion was presented to create a local fund for the purpose of defraying the expenses of the local chairman in going over the district, and for other incidental expenses that might come up. Bro. G. W. Parker was elected secretary and treasurer, and instructed to mail notices to all the members that an assessment of 50 cents would be made at once. I trust that every member will see the importance of this, and send their remittances to Bro. Parker without delay.

A beautiful O. R. T. floral design was contributed by the members and friends at the funeral of Bro. J. E. McDonnell.

Bro. E. W. Voss has departed to the "tall timber." He is being relieved by Mr. A. H. Kading.

Telegrapher F. L. Thatcher, who has been out of the service for a number of years, has returned to the old standby, and now he is on the jump all the time. While he was relieving Bro. Murray at Calamine, he got into too close proximity of our local chairman, and he made a brother out of him in short order.

Bro. J. H. Valentine has returned to his old position at Janesville, nights.

Bro. F. L. Thatcher relieved Bro. W. P. McDonald at Brownstown while he attended his brother's funeral at Wauzeka.

Telegrapher F. W. Spratler claims he was lonesome while out of the Order. He has tried both sides of the fence, but says it does not pay to be a non, and hereafter we can call him brother.

By the time this reaches you negotiations will be in progress for a new wage scale and hours of service schedule. It is to be hoped that every member will give his hearty support to the general committee in their efforts to secure better working conditions and living wages.

Bro. F. L. Thatcher relieved Bridgeport station while Bro. H. Lathrop visits his former home at Monroe for a few days. We notice that while we lose occasionally a man by death or removal, others are coming back into the service who have been following other lines. Given fair wages and good working conditions, i. e., a reasonable number of hours, and there will be plenty of men to man the jobs, and they will be O. R. T. men, too, not graduates (?) from the Janesville school.

Bro. R. J. Symons, of Edgerton, nights, has an indefinite leave of absence, and has taken a trip to Denver on account of poor health. Bro. W. J. Symons relieving him.

Bro. B. Allen is at Miller Junction, temporarily. Bro. Frank O. Levy is relieving Bro. W. J. Symons at McFarland, nights.

Bro. A. J. Taylor received Madison, nights, on bulletin.

Bro. E. C. Fraser is working at Lone Rock, nights, temporarily.

Bro. C. L. Howard takes Arena station on bulletin.

New members recently initiated on the P. D. C. Division: C. S. Owens, Tom Lawless, W. R. Deyo.

One of our members who is earning good wages by working overtime, says that he is opposed to the long day. He claims that money earned by working overtime is "blood money." He works from thirteen to sixteen hours daily, with only a few hours off on Sundays. This gives him no time for anything else in life except work and sleep. No time for any social duties or privileges. No time for family or friends. No time for recreation. Better be a station man in England, where, while wages are lower, three times as much help is furnished, and the employees have a chance to enjoy life as they go along.

Your correspondent thinks that we should expect the Wisconsin eight-hour law to be carried out to the letter, and stand as a man for its enforcement. Don't get the idea that pay for overtime will compensate the telegrapher at the one-man station for his loss of privileges which are the birthright of every man. CERT. 726.

S. M. Division—

Changes have been very numerous lately, and I will try and not miss any of them.

Bro. E. J. Whalen promoted from side wire to third trick.

S. A. Whitford on Pacific extension. O. H. Berg second trick, and F. D. Campbell first trick.

Bro. T. P. Horton, from Ramsey, days, to side wire at La Crosse.

Bro. Steres, at Houston, was married quite recently, but did not learn young lady's name.

Bro. J. E. Clayton, formerly day operator at Albert Lea, landed Ramsey on bulletin.

Bro. A. J. Farley relieved at Ramsey for a couple of weeks, and was assigned to Albert Lea as day operator.

Bro. E. H. Langen, regular night man at Wells, is relief agent at Welcome during the sickness of his brother, O. A. Langen.

H. M. Berg worked nights at Wells for a while, but was called away on account of the death of his wife. Knudson is working nights for the present, and bids fair to be a good and worthy brother.

There was quite a scare about taking off operators at Winnebago, Fairmont and Pipestone, but they all seem to be working, so I guess it has blown over.

Bro. O. A. Langen, at Welcome, was taken sick, and the station had to be closed until relief came. He is still confined to his bed, but the doctors expect to operate on him in the near future. We all wish for his speedy recovery.

We are pleased to call Bro. J. B. Malone, of Jackson, one of the boys, but also we are sorry to say he was on the sick list for several days, being relieved by Bro. A. J. Farley.

Bro. Alcott, at Lakefield, had a vacation for a few days; relieved by Bro. Gunderson.

Bro. Griffin assigned to Bradley station. Bro. Gunderson taking charge of Chandler temporarily. Chandler has now been assigned to Bro. G. H.

Brown, an old-timer, for many years agent at Lily, on the M. & B. Line.

Bro. Kellogg, of Colman, at present laying off with an attack of his old enemy, rheumatism. Bro. Gunderson as relief agent in his place.

The petition for the benefit of H. Rubel Clark was quite liberally responded to, and quite a sum was collected to assist in this worthy cause.

Now, brothers, you will have to excuse my write-up this month, as I have just been transplanted, and you know how it is. Com.

IN MEMORIAM.

WHEREAS, God in His infinite wisdom has taken from us our highly esteemed Bro. James E. McDonnell, and while humbly submitting to the will of Him who knoweth and doeth all things best, be it

Resolved, That we regret exceedingly his untimely end, and that through his death the Order of Railroad Telegraphers has lost a staunch and faithful member; one who in every way possible sought to promulgate and exemplify the teachings of the Order, although not employed so as to reap the full benefits of the Order, he retained his membership that he might help us, and to support to the utmost the high principles which our obligation implies.

Resolved, That C., M. & St. P. Division, No. 23, of the Order of Railroad Telegraphers extend to the bereaved family and friends their fullest sympathy, that a copy of these resolutions be forwarded to the bereaved family, and a copy sent to THE TELEGRAPHER for publication.

Committee.

Baltimore & Ohio Ry.

Chicago Division, East—

Bro. Walters, who has been doing the extra copying stunt at "DS" nights, took Republic nights, relieving Bro. Collia.

Bro. Collis, who has been filling vacancy at Republic nights, has been appointed relief agent.

Bro. Eiler, from Defiance, now at Postonia days; Bro. Whiting holding down Defiance nights during Bro. Eiler's absence. Mr. Billington, at Midway nights, during Bro. Whiting's stay at Defiance.

Mr. W. G. Marine, who has been holding down "G," Garrett, nights, was taken to the hospital at Garrett to have an abscess of the hip treated. We are pleased to say he is much improved at this time.

At Garrett dispatcher's office, we find all the trick men with the necessary goods except Mr. C. D. Comparrette, who couldn't see his way clear to be one of the boys.

Bro. G. W. Smith, at Holgate nights; unable to say where Mr. Spurgeon is.

We notice that a few of our men on this division have been subject to reprimands for violations of rules or seemingly careless work.

We are sorry for them, but, at the same time, every O. R. T. member should make their work of as high-class as it is possible to do.

On Friday night November 15th about twenty brothers attended the monthly meeting held in the Firemen's Hall at Garrett. The writer was unable to attend on account of sickness.

The meeting will be held each month at the same place, and since Nos. 11 and 12 have been run through to Garrett on the winter card, there should be a good attendance each month. Everybody get busy now and attend.

CERT. 1400.

Chicago Division, West—

Bro. J. C. Shoults secured the night job at Syracuse by application.

Bro. T. W. Gary, of McCools, bid in the night job at Hamler on the Eastern District.

The position of night copying operator at Garrett was bid in by Bro. W. G. Smith.

Bro. E. M. Pierce went to Wheeling recently to work, but only stayed one night.

Several exclusive agents have announced their intentions of resigning to go into the telegraph service when the hours are shortened. We are told that three men will be placed in every office as soon after January 1st as the men can be secured.

The East and West District of the Chicago Division have arranged to hold their meetings at Garrett on the third Friday of each month. These meetings will be held in the Firemen's Hall. Now that the new time card has gone into effect and the boys from both ends of the Chicago Division have every convenience to get to the meeting point, we are anticipating great times at each meeting, and request each and every one of you to make requisition for passes at least one week beforehand, so as to give our division operator a chance to request this transportation from the superintendent's office, and now it's up to you to get there and we are not going to take any petty excuses for nonappearance.

Friday night, November 15th, there was a meeting at Garrett and about twenty of the brothers from both districts were present, and there was great interest manifested by all present.

After the meeting was adjourned, all went to a nearby restaurant, where we had a good feed on oysters. This was quite an item, too, as all the boys from the east end (?) were hungry. Of course, it don't take much to keep the boys going on the west end.

Bro. A. P. Webster, of Kimmell, relieved the block operators on the west end this month, he being relieved by operator Boomershine.

Several of Mr. Shultz's graduates are drawing operators' pay, but the service they render makes the dispatchers tear their hair.

No doubt you will all be glad to learn that all our dispatchers, with the exception of one, now have up-to-date cards, so you can see how things are progressing on the B. & O.

Former division operator, Mr. J. M. Trimble, has been appointed assistant trainmaster. Night chief F. N. Shultz takes his place, and Mr. T. M. Rogers is acting night chief for the present.

Mr. Trimble has the good will of all the operators, and we are sorry to have him leave us. We see no reason to complain of Mr. Shultz as his successor. Brothers, let's do our best to give satisfactory service, and show the company that we are loyal to their interests and not trying to draw more money than we earn.

Bro. C. I. Beery, day operator at Syracuse, has been absent from duty for the past week account of the death of his father, who resided at Scott, Ohio.

Before closing, let me remind you once more not to forget where and when our meetings are to be held, and, above all, do not forget to attend the very next one if you can possibly do so.

Div. Cor.

Connellsville Division—

The regular monthly meeting was held in Markell's Hall, on Pittsburg Street, Connellsville, instead of Trades Union Hall, where we had been holding them previously. We have a very elaborate, convenient, spacious and cheerful place to transact business in now, and at a very reasonable rent per night, and that alone should inspire the boys to make a greater effort to get down to these meetings. Our popular, efficient and energetic Local Chairman, Bro. W. J. Currie, always has something good to tell of interest to the boys. I believe this was our banner meeting; it was very interesting all through; much enthusiasm was shown and the meeting was one long to be remembered. New appointments were made and all chairs were properly filled by those whom it was most probable could be present at all meetings hereafter. Since we are comfortably located in new quarters, let's all get busy, put our shoulder to the wheel, and strive to attend each and every meeting possible, and thereby make them all a grand success. The meetings will be held until further notice in the above hall on the fourth Saturday of each month. Don't forget the day. Come early and avoid the rush.

All the boys are looking anxiously for the establishment of the eight hours on this division. They say, "All things come to those who wait." Wait, every dog has his day; ours is coming slow but sure.

Bro. C. C. DeHaven, McSpadden "owl," resumed duty November 5th after doing two weeks. He spent the time very pleasantly in hunting and other sporting stunts.

Bro. W. A. DeCorse, "RW," who was enjoying a two weeks' vacation, is back pounding the "Wogglebug" again.

Bro. J. W. Riffe, McSpadden days, spent his two days' block relief at Ursina, accompanied by his wife. Bro. R. M. Lynch, B. L. operator, relieved him.

Bro. J. L. Baxter, who has been working Rockwood nights since Bro. R. C. Hall was taken to the hospital, was given his block relief Thursday and Friday 21st and 22d November, and spent them very agreeably with his family at McKeesport, Pa.

Bro. R. C. Hall, who had been working at the above point for some time as extra man, contracted typhoid fever and was taken to the Memorial Hospital at Johnstown, Pa. Last accounts he was progressing very nicely, and expected to be released therefrom ere this gets into print.

Bro. S. M. DeHuff bid in the day copying job at Connellsville, and has been assigned thereto. Bro. DeHuff formerly held down "D" office.

Bro. W. S. Burns bid in "RX" office nights, succeeding Bro. J. A. Dion, who left for his native heath, Quebec.

We note the following changes on the pike in the way of bids lately:

Bro. M. E. Rowan bid in Bidwell days.

L. A. Phencie, Gasselman nights.

Bro. W. J. Emmerick, "FO" days.

Mr. O. Null, "FO" nights.

Mr. F. M. Oldham, Morgantown nights.

Bro. P. R. Rhody bid in Montana, Pa., as agent and operator.

Bro. Bartholomew, who bid in Markleton, took charge there November 1st.

Bro. R. W. Hoover laid off a short time ago to attend the funeral of his father at Hyndman, Pa.

Bro. W. H. Habel, of "NA" tower, enjoyed his block relief, which was given him on November 21st and 22d.

Bro. J. T. Reynolds, of Casselman, Pa., has resumed duty again after spending two weeks' vacation with his wife and children near Baltimore.

Bro. B. C. Bowers, extra train dispatcher S. & C. Branch, Rockwood, was called home recently account of his mother being seriously ill at or near Bedford, Pa.

Bro. T. A. Adams, regular third trick dispatcher S. & C. Branch, Rockwood, has been working various tricks at Connellsville for some time past in order that the dispatchers there might enjoy their annual vacations.

Bro. R. E. Cook, extra operator, who has been filling the copiers' side at Rockwood for some time past, left on his annual vacation November 24th, to spend same with his parents in the West. Bro. C. H. Walters, extra dispatcher, is relieving him.

A. J. Stein, an old-timer on this division, was visiting his sister, Bro. and Mrs. J. W. Ryan, second trick dispatcher of Rockwood, last month.

A man from the "Katy" said to be working "NA" days; unable to learn his name.

Have you mailed your information blank to Bro. W. J. Currie? If not, get busy. Nons, also get busy and make application to Bro. Currie.

The first snow fell on November 24th, and it played particular havoc with the wires between Cumberland and Connellsville. It took all day Sunday and part of Monday to restore the wires to active service.

H. B. Pigman, our popular, efficient and energetic division operator, is kept busy looking after the interests of the boys in his territory. Let us assist in lightening his burdens by giving him the best service possible, thereby showing our appreciation of his efforts in our behalf.

Every station should be represented at the next meeting. Our chief dispatcher should be given the best of service, as he is doing his best to accommodate us, and I assure you if we stick by him and give him a square deal he will do the same for us on meeting night.

We have the majority of the dispatchers on this division lined up and carrying an up-to-date card. Would be glad to see all present at the next meeting that can come. CERT. 75.

Wheeling Division—

A Merry Xmas and Happy New Year to you all. The year of our Lord, 1907, has been a very prosperous year for the O. R. T. Wheeling Division has done wonders to swell the list of new members in the last twelve months, and promises to do even better the coming year. Let us make an united effort to make the Wheeling Division a banner division. There are a few on this division who can not or will not see the light, whose names will appear in the February, 1908, journal unless they do the right thing in the meantime. If you are working with him do not let him rest until you have his wherewithal in your hand. This is a duty you owe yourself and the noble Order. There are several agents who have been waiting for the new year to make its appearance in order to get in, so let us put it up to them the first of the year.

There are a few of the boys on this division, who, I am ashamed to say, are delinquent in their dues since last June. Boys, what do you mean? Have you been unable to save $4.50 out of six month's pay? What do you expect your General Committee to work on while in Baltimore? Do you want them to live at the expense of the Salvation Army while getting you an increase in wages? Pay up. Let us see who will be the first to get his or her new card for 1908, which will be out by the time this appears in print. Our general chairman promises us the best schedule east of the Mississippi. Let us help him get it.

Bro. Garrison is back with us again, working nights at Roseby Rock. Glad to see you back, "KO."

Bro. A. S. Rushford, relief block operator on the east end, makes his rounds regular, and is always a welcome visitor.

Bro. N. C. Little, third trick at Narrows, has been off duty for several days on account of sickness in his family.

Bro. R. A. Fitzgerald, who has been making expense bills and hustling freight at Denver agency, has bid in Roseby Rock, days.

Sister Anna McGuire, of Glen Easton, days, spent several days in McMechen visiting friends and relatives.

Bro. Russell Nichols is back at his old stand, Benton Ferry, after working the relief turn for two months. Mr. Poindexter now working "DX," Benwood, days, extra, has moved his family to Mountsville from Charleston, W. Va.

Bro. E. A. Wilson worked a few nights at Bridgeport, but was transferred to Schick, nights, on account of Bro. Mullett resigning.

Bro. L. R. Sigler at present holding yard office at Holloway, days.

Mr. A. P. Tillet went back to the Western Union after the strike was settled; his place being filled by Mr. A. B. Livingood, one of the strikers who decided to stay with the B. & O. in Wheeling office.

Bro. W. C. Deegan, dispatcher, has just returned from his vacation, but not alone.

Extra Dispatcher Bro. M. B. Rickey relieved Bro. Deegan.

Bro. Lovejoy, relief dispatcher, is busy giving the dispatchers their two days in which to go over the road.

Bros. E. E. Holloway, C. W. Jackson and H. A. Schultz made a raid on the rabbits the other day, and met with very good success.

Bro. Frank Ingram, Jr., of Maynard, was off duty several days last month on account of sickness.

Bro. C. H. Mitchell, of Bridgeport, days, and his mother spent several days in Cambridge this month; he being relieved by Relief Operator Bro. Schultz.

Bro. T. F. Corcoran, our division operator, has his hands full these days trying to keep the boomers to stay more than one day or night, which is no easy task, as the average boomer is hard to please.

CERT. 729.

To Bro. Woodward—

I saw our brother stand,
Gazing out upon the land;
O'er the yellow corn,
And the waving trees,
And the black smoke whirling in the breeze.
Oh, beautiful seem the earth and sky;
Why doth he heave that bitter sigh?
His heart is heavy, his eyes are dim;
The beautiful day seem as naught to him.
O'er the silent rest of his dear wife's grave,
The slender weeping willows wave.
He starts and brushes away a tear,
For the childish prattle comes to his ear
Of the bright-haired angels his dear wife left
To comfort him, lonely and bereft;
With a gush of sorrow he turns to press
Their little white hands with a fond caress.
They will never forget that mother's love,
The tenderness of that meek-eyed dove;
The voice that rose on the evening air
To bid them kneel to God in prayer.
A precious friend from them has gone;
A voice they loved is stilled,
A place is vacant in their home
Which never can be filled.
God, in His wisdom, has recalled
The boon His love had given,
And though the body moulders here,
Her soul is safe in heaven.
Courage, brother! Do not stumble,

Though your path seems dark as night,
You have three little stars to guide you, brother:
Trust in God, and do the right.

—H. A. S.

C. and N. Division—

Brothers, we are again nearing the last half of the current year, and should feel proud of our attainments on this division. We, indeed, have accomplished a great deal. There is much to feel thankful for. Many new members have been added to our ranks, seven applications received this month, and no desertions recorded, so far as I know of. No deaths, and the membership in a good, healthy and enthusiastic condition. But there is still some work for us to do in the way of friendly conversion, there being several non-members on the division that should be within our ranks. I know we could do them good, and sure they could do us more. Brothers, do not lose sight of the fact that the latch-string is always out for all that are eligible and would be desirable members for our grand old Order.

Bro. Concemeyer, of "BW" tower, was called to "VA" tower to work third trick a few days during the illness of Bro. Page. I am glad to announce that the brother has returned.

Bro. Weaver Leverman, of "BW" tower, has been temporarily transferred to "VA" tower to work first trick during the absence of Bro. Fry.

Bro. Watson is block relief on this division.

The enthusiasm and attendance at our intermediate division meetings does not seem to diminish in the least. I am glad to announce, but would like to see more of the brothers in attendance. There are plenty of accommodations and a good, warm, comfortable hall, and I know if you once attend you will be pleased, and want to come back again.

Now, brothers, turn out at our next meeting en masse. I am sure we will be well repaid for the evening spent at these meetings. Coa.

Baltimore Division—

I "13" the third trick man at "GM" was bruised up considerably a short time ago by a student in his office. If this young man had one of our little cards in his vest pocket it would have saved all this trouble.

The B. & O. is putting in the Hall system between Washington and Germantown, which will be completed about March, and then several offices will be cut out.

From what I can learn some of the boys on this line living in other States expect to fly with the blue birds next spring, when the nine-hour law goes into effect unless the company pays them proper wages to meet all their expenses, etc., to justify them in remaining. They claim board is so very high—paying $20 and $22 per month, and besides washing, etc., they claim they can not remain under $70 or $75 per month. This looks reasonable, and the only way for the companies to hold their men is to give them what they demand. Now we will only have a short while to wait before our new schedule, and we know our local chairman and the committee are going to demand just treatment for the hard-worked telegraphers, and I request all members to keep awake and give our dispatchers first-class service from now on. I heard our chief say some time ago while addressing a bunch of telegraphers that he wished to thank his men for the good service they had been giving; that it had been one whole week without finding one of his operators asleep and delaying his trains. He seemed to be very much pleased that one week had passed without finding a man asleep on duty. Now let's see if we can not keep awake two weeks, any way, if not longer, and I am sure our chief will more than appreciate our good service.

Here's to eight hours and $75 for all U. S. A. boys, taking effect March 4, 1908.

CERT. 1546.

Newark Division—

Charlie Graham, the big chief of the Cambridge "Big Four," has obtained a six months' furlough, and has entered the service of the American Tin Plate Mill Company, at Cambridge. Hope of an eight-hour railroad job deferred made Charlie's heart sick, and impelled him to join the swelling ranks of B. & O. deserters. If the eight-hour idea prevails on the B. & O., he may return to the railroad service after March 4, 1908.

An enthusiastic and successful meeting was held at Zanesville on the evening of October 22d. The principal themes of discussion were the federal eight-hour law and the rigors of the single track block system. General Chairman Van Atta was unavoidably absent, but Local Chairman Faust, of the Western District, was present and presided.

R. R. Perry, of Salesville, who has been seriously ill of typhoid fever for several weeks, is again able to be out, but has not yet resumed duty.

W. A. Linton grew tired of the incessant change of bed and board incident to the relief service, and returned to his father's house within the classic precincts of Salesville.

T. J. Ladd, formerly in the service of the B. & O. as relief operator, and later a victim of the commercial strike, is again in the railroad service, and is at present located at Cambridge.

Our general committee will convene at Baltimore on December 9th. It will prepare and submit to the railroad management a revised contract based upon the federal eight-hour law. It will assume that the railroad company intends to obey the law, and will, therefore, make no premature effort to induce the company to discharge an obligation that it has not yet repudiated.

Bro. Carr, of West Alexander, and Bro. Bell, of New Concord, made a pilgrimage to Glover Gap a few days ago to consult the sage of Kickapoo Lake.

Carl Price, who has worked at Belmont for several years, has been awarded the night position at Sundale, and will probably remove his family to that place.

T. S. Briggie, who was employed in the telegraph department some years ago, and resigned to enter the machinery department as a fireman, is again in the telegraph service. He is now night relief telegrapher on the west end.

The recent modification of the block rules has provoked a storm of protest in the telegraph department. It is claimed that the changes add materially to the labor of the telegraphers, and do not add to safety. The target-holding device has been eliminated from the offices of the block system, also, and another burden thereby imposed upon the telegraphers. These changes have doubtless been suggested by a desire to promote safety, and the instructions concerning them should be rigidly obeyed. If the new rules are found, after an honest test, to be impracticable, they will be abrogated. If they are found to be practicable, they may be effectively utilized as arguments for increased compensation and shorter hours.

Meetings will be held at regular intervals hereafter at Zanesville. All members will be duly notified of the dates of meetings, and I trust that they will cultivate the habit of attending whenever possible. Nearly every one has a grievance, and the best place to air a grievance is the lodge-room. Some of our ablest and most stable members have never seen the interior of an O. R. T. meeting house, yet they are prolific in suggestion and criticism—at long range. Come into the limelight, boys, and if those whom you have elected to serve you are, in your opinion, too radical or too conservative, or too lazy, or too ignorant, denounce them in the pillory of publicity, and, if no satisfactory defense is forthcoming, complete arrangements for their decapitation then and there.

KENO.

New Castle Division—

Telegraphers, do you realize that other roads in this territory are paying $10 per month more for soft "OS" jobs than we are getting for twelve-hour roasts, and who is to blame for conditions as they are with us at present? You, Mr. Non, who lay back and suck the good out of what little the committee has been able to secure in the past, wake up and be a man.

If every telegrapher on this system would come out with an up-to-date card and be a man, we would not have to be ashamed of our jobs, as one brother expressed it in his information form.

Do not be fooled into showing favors to these parasites who say "I have my papers," but treat them as nons until they cash in. One case of this kind has been brought to our attention lately. You all know who this sorehead is and will treat him as he has treated the Order.

For a liberal stock of pure, unadulterated nerve, R. B. Hammond, night man at West Farmington, seems to be overloaded. He only asks the committee to secure him a raise of at least $12.50 per month, and would prefer an increase of $17.50, and at the same time he is endeavoring to impart his limited knowledge of telegraphy to a student who, to use his own words, he "don't show much." And no wonder. Any one who ever heard him try to work on the wire will agree that he "don't show him much."

There seems to be a decided shortage of agents and clerks on this division. Bro. Reid, agent at Monroe Falls, has had his resignation in for six weeks, to take a better position in Cleveland, but unable to get away. Mr. Post, clerk at Warren, has been trying to get a divorce from the B. & O. for the last two months, but the company is unable to relieve him. Now, the superintendent comes at these men with "If you leave before we send a man to relieve you, we will hold your bond for it." Is this decent treatment these men are getting? Is there any more reason that an agent or operator be required to work ten days or ten weeks' notice than there would be in the company giving a man ten days' notice before discharging him?

There are several places on this division where the eight-hour day could be put in effect with little or no expense to this company, but it would not be expected. Have they ever given the telegraphers anything that the committee has not squeezed out of them?

It is reported that the B. & O. will double-track Chardon to Painesville this winter, to be ready for the opening of navigation in the spring. This will facilitate business.

Navigation is about closed and business is beginning to shrink on the Lake branch, though Bros. Milburn and Kehres seem to have an unlimited message business.

Bro. Maynard, Chardon, days, hopes to become a man of leisure and means through a patent device for cutting in temporary offices, which the Pennsylvania Co. is now testing.

John Hennesy, who has been working nights at East Claridon the past summer, will work nights at Chardon, his home, this winter.

Bro. C. H. Waldron, assistant yardmaster at Painesville, is taking a vacation last of November. He will likely be night yardmaster this winter.

Bro. Browning, agent at Middlefield, has been trying since July to get off to visit his old home "way down in Old Virginia," but they claim no relief agent. Here is a chance for a job.

Telegraph office at Summit Siding will likely be closed December 1, which will give Bro. Browning more telegraphing to do.

Bro. Byron, days, and Bro. Barr, recently from Erie, at Summit.

Night office at State Road closed recently, on account unable to get a telegrapher to go there. Bro. Clewell still holding the day job. They would likely abandon the office entirely if Ollie should quit.

Bro. M. F. Leahy, assigned to Newcastle side wires nights.

Newcastle Junction being advertised nights. Understand Bro. Wilson, who has been holding the job for some time, has resigned.

Bro. Haun, at "KN" tower, off on vacation for a couple of weeks; relieved by Mr. Wallace, from Pennsylvania.

Mr. T. C. Cahill has been assigned to Ohio Junction nights, vice Bro. Prinn, resigned.

Bro. Jones, Newton Falls days, is still on the sick list, though it is reported that he is improving.

Bro. D. F. Seaman is working days at Deforest Junction, pending Bro. Howey's appeal.

Bro. Byron Gray assigned to east end block relief. We are glad to see a brother on the job once more. Now we can depend on being relieved on time.

Bro. Devinney, Lodi days, is enjoying a ten days' vacation lately; relieved by Bro. Trussell. We are sorry to report that Bro. Cecil's wife did not improve in health by their Western trip, but died soon after they left Lodi.

UNCLE TOM.

C., T. and V. District—

Merry Christmas and a happy New Year! Spread the feast and invite your brothers less fortunately situated to gather around your festive board; then give the toast, "Long live the O. R. T., and the eight-hour day." Hurrah for the wreath and sounder.

Our Order man (?) at East Akron has been trying that old game of stringing, by trying to get us to believe he is as good an Order man at heart as any man on the road, card or no card, but when he tried all means of getting him a card and made a rank failure, came to the conclusion it was best, as those two or three students there do not show the "Professor 'CG,'" up as well as he would like. "No card, no favors." That's commandment No. 1. Will "think" of another some other time.

Massillon meeting well attended. Bros. McCoy and Blank in the saddle. Several of the older members in attendance, and much spoken and done for the good of the Order.

Bro. McCoy made a flying trip to points on the Valley last week one day. Few loose joints on the south end of C., T. & V. Same reported on the north end.

Special over Cleveland Division, as second No. 6, with our division officers and Baltimore officials inspecting buildings and bridges. Our genial division operator, Mr. E. M. Heaton, with a smile on his face and a word to all his "boys," on board. Superintendent J. T. Johnson accompanied the train, Cleveland to Canton, and returned to Cleveland on No. 13.

Sunday, November 24, made quite a change around Krumroy. Bro. Lang was checked out by Relief Agent C. D. Seeley. I do not know where Bro. Lang transferred. This leaves Krumroy, "MY," a non-telegraph and agency point.

Bro. Boyer is still on the sick list.

Bro. F. S. Hoover returned to Botzum, "BO," after helping out Mr. Seeley, relief agent, for a couple of months.

Telegrapher T. A. Martin, Botzum to Strongs-ville, on C., L. & W.

Bro. F. P. Darland is back to work at Canton Scales, after a few weeks off with typhoid fever. Relieved while on sick list by Telegrapher R. N. Mong.

Telegrapher Jackson, of "CS," Cleveland, is helping out the past ten days on the west end, C., L. & W., dispatcher's office.

Telegrapher F. J. Duey relieved Mr. Jackson in "CS." Mr. Duey, from Western Union at "H," Cleveland, and carries the necessary in C. T. U. of A.

Bro. W. D. Rose, formerly of Canton Scales, is again heard of on the P., Ft. W. & C., at various points between Allegheny and Crestline. Since leaving Canton Scales Bro. Rose worked in the wild and wooly West.

We made a mistake in October TELEGRAPHER, and take this opportunity to correct it. We reported second trick dispatcher at "CD," Cleveland, as Bro. Dishler. However, we hope to be able to call Mr. Dishler brother soon.

We would like to caution those "nons," "seminons" and "non-sensical," also "common nons" about getting in out of this chilly, wintry winds and get a card. Remember, our committee is not going up for fun when they convene at Baltimore soon. "Get a card or get thee hence." A good fisherman uses only the best bait, the best hook, the best line. Our line is out for your order for papers, instructions, etc., and we want that "nibble." Get busy!

Bro. F. X. Lengs, of North Industry, has gone hunting again.

Brothers, don't forget to write a line or two of items and get them to me by the 24th. Bro. Curtis the only one shown up. Bro. Blank keep at it.

"ADAM ROARER."

Philadelphia Division—

We have all been anxiously looking for a meeting on the Philadelphia Division before the General Committee goes before the management of the road, which takes place on the 9th of December.

The nons should all get in line and support the O. R. T., for the national nine-hour law that goes into effect next March will require the united support of all.

It is noted that a correspondent from the Pennsylvania Railroad mentions the Marr affair, in November TELEGRAPHER. It is pleasing to know that the boys in Pennsylvania are at last finding out this man. It has long ago been decided in O. R. T. circles, in this community, never to mention the unpleasantness that led up to the expulsion of Marr and Dolphin, but this brother mentioning the subject brings to mind one important fact that the brothers everywhere should know and not lose sight of, that it was Bros. Se-Bastian and Sullivan that brought the serious charges against Marr, and instead of Marr and Dolphin bringing action against them in the courts, as they were invited to do if they thought that they had been wronged or their character injured in any way, they brought all the power they could muster against our president and grand secretary and treasurer, who only acted as prosecutors in the case. Was there an object in this? Yes. They knew that if they took Sullivan and Se-Bastian before the courts they (Marr and Dolphin) would be publicly shown up in their true light, and then they tried to break up the organization by attacking the heads of our Order. They have done their worst and the outlaw organization is not in evidence.

CERT. 421.

River District, Pittsburg Division—

November meeting held at Hotel Wilson, Pittsburg, and was well attended. Chairman Carr officiating.

Ere this is in print our committee will be in Baltimore for the purpose of securing a new agreement.

Several offices closed recently. Several train crews laid off.

Work has commenced on the new tower and electric-pneumatic plant to replace the old interlocking machine now in use at Wheeling Junction. Similar improvements are to be made at Demmler and McKeesport.

We are pleased to add to our membership roll the names of Messrs. P. J. McCauley and M. S. Buck, of "DS," Pittsburg. Three others of this office, we regret to note, have failed to make good for the past six months.

Bro. Chas. Brady, formerly local chairman of Connellsville Division, has been added to the force in "DS." We hope he will not allow Bro. Mason to attend meetings alone hereafter.

Bro. J. J. Lanning, local chairman of P. & W. District, was called home last evening on account of the death of his mother.

Few changes on the "River." Bro. Ycager has resumed his trick at Wheeling Junction, after a flying trip through the West.

Bro. Dickenson, of Wheeling Junction, on vacation; relieved by Mr. Clark, extra man.

Sister Bellman, of "KS," McKeesport, off for a rest.

Bro. Willings and Mr. Sheiry, at Demmler, are having their grief since the opening of the four tracks. It requires both hands and feet to keep 'em moving there.

Bro. A. J. Stahl, our popular relief operator of the east end, contemplates leaving us at an early date for a change of climate, owing to failing health.

The social event referred to in last letter has not yet been pulled off, nor the plan abandoned. We hope to be able to announce the date ere many days.

Notice—

WHEELING W. VA., October 21, 1907.

Mrs. Catherine Jane Ingram and family want to thank all members of the O. R. T. who so kindly expressed their sympathy, and also for the beautiful floral offering.

MRS. CATHERINE J. INGRAM.

IN MEMORIAM.

WHEREAS, God in His infinite wisdom has deemed it wise to remove from this life and strife, to His home beyond the blue, the wife of our esteemed and loved brother, H. G. Woodward, and while we must all humbly submit to Him who doeth all things well, be it

Resolved, That in her untimely death Bro. Woodward has suffered an irreparable loss, his children have lost the devoted care of a gentle, kind and loving mother; and be it further

Resolved, That the Wheeling Division extend to the bereaved family its deepest sympathy in this their great sorrow, and consign them to the care of the Maker of the universe for consolation, and that a copy of these resolutions be sent to the bereaved family and a copy sent to the journal for publication.

Chicago & North Western Ry.

Galena Division--

A very nice meeting was held at Dixon, November 16th. Would have been larger attendance, but the Peoria Line boys could not attend.

It was decided to hold the next meeting at Sterling for their benefit, and I hope there will be a large crowd. Date December 21st.

We are glad to see our old-time brother W. H. King, from Dekalb, back in line again at this meeting.

Bro. W. W. Troutman laying off a few days. Bro. L. D. Agnew is relieving him.

Bro. H. E. Aye, of the grand division, is transferred to Division 76, also Bro. R. E. Young, of Division 6.

Two more applicants just received. Let's keep 76 up to the work, both in membership and attendance of meetings.

"13" Bro. Breining, of "SJ," has taken Horace Greely's advice and gone West.

Bro. Wilcox is trying his hand at tower No. 1.

Bro. Fries promoted to director tower No. 1.

Bro. Blair has resigned position as director at tower No. 1, and is relieving agent at Batavia.

Bro. G. W. Robeson, who holds cards in the C. T. U. of A., as well as the O. R. T., is working night clip wire in "U," Chicago.

Bros. Deitz and Price are doing the clip stunt in "U," days.

Hahnemann, as a telegraph office, has been discontinued, and also the office at Morse, Ills.

We failed last month to make mention of the purse of $100 given to Bro. J. Sheller to enable him to go southwest for his health, which has been poor for some time. This sum was contributed by the O. R. T. boys and by the office force in "CU," Chicago office. At the November 16th meeting a nice letter was read from Bro. Sheller thanking the brothers for the $100.

Bro. L. L. Goff got "HM" tower, Elmhurst, on bid.

Bro. O. H. Schultz took "HL," Elmhurst, on bid.

Bro. L. D. Agnew, Bro. Blair and Bro. Winchester working extra.

Bro. W. W. Troutman took a run to Chicago for a few days. Money so scarce there he hurried back for fear some banker would hold him up for his cash.

Bro. Lambert is an elevator man now, we understand.

Bro. Robinson, of Herbert, has bid in Shabbona Grove.

Did you notice that all the unorganized employees got a cut and you did not? Can the nons see anything in that? We hold our own in case of hard times. It means stick with the O. R. T.

When you attend the next meeting, which is held at Sterling, for the benefit of the Peoria Line brothers, Bro. Daly will tell you where the hall is located. No saloon halls for ours. We have cut it out. If all union men would cut out using the wares in which the saloon deals we are sure our cause would be much advanced.

Understand Bro. J. Hiliker, who resigned from East Elgin, days, about a year ago, is back on the Galena Division again, and is working nights at Marengo.

Bro. H. Wilson bid in "JN" tower, nights, but is working at "HD," Western avenue, nights, now.

Can't some one create a noise loud enough to wake up the Fox River Line?

We want to make the meeting at Sterling, December 21st, a record-breaker. Each member should make every effort possible to get there. If you can't come, work for some one else so he can come. If you don't come and cast your vote, don't find fault with what is done. CERT. 820.

Eastern District--

Bro. Bates, of Dodge, got Pierce on bid.

Mr. Mosher, of Leigh, to David City agency.

Bro. E. L. Kempster, to Mo. Valley shops.

McDonald, of West Point, and E. L. Kempster are now brothers, having taken out their cards the latter part of October.

Bro. Foote got Verdigre on bid.

Helpers taken off at the following stations: Bristow, Fairfax, Gregory, Leigh, Harvard and Seward.

Bro. Goodell, of Spencer, has accepted a good position in Southern California, and there is a rumor that two or three more brothers will join him soon.

Bro. Beesen, of Anoka, has resigned and accepted a position with the Wabash.

Bro. Sharp, of Bonesteel, worked a day or so at Burke.

Bro. Vestal, of Burke, is on the sick list.

Bro. Funk, of St. Charles, has been on the sick list.

Telegrapher Fowler is doing the relief act at Burke during Bro. Vestal's absence.

Roy Edens, of Petersburg, has accepted the position of day operator at Gregory.

Bro. Hicks is now located with Bro. Day at Albion.

Bro. Anderson has been assigned to Petersburg. Bro. J. Greenawalt, formerly of Bee, relieving at Humphrey.

Bro. Foster, once one of the boys of this division, now with the Milwaukee, is visiting his parents at Scribner. Bro. Foster is now married and has a fine O. R. T. baby girl.

The old "scab," Busch, formerly an O. R. T. man, was home at Scribner trying to kiss and make up.

Bro. Saures got the day job at Hooper on bulletin.

Bro. Popelar, days at Scribner, spent Sunday at Dodge. Bro. Brown, night owl, doubled.

Bro. Dolista is back at his old position at West Point nights. He was favored by a letter from Scab Busch, asking for last September and October journal to see what kind of a write-up the boys had for him, but Bro. Dolista wrote in large red letters, "No Card, No Favors!"

Bro. Brown got Lynch agency by bid.

Dispatcher Larson was visiting old friends at Scribner between trains November 11th.

Telegrapher W. L. Nichols is working at Newport nights.

Bro. E. Nelson working days at Atkinson.

Cutting expenses is causing some of the brothers to work sixteen to eighteen hours per day, as their helpers have been taken away.

Operator Nichols is relieving at Leigh.

Mr. Flick, agent at Humphrey, is spending his vacation in Ohio.

"13" that there are quite a number of night offices that have recently been closed, but am unable to say where they are.

W. J. Chapman, who has been night operator at Irving, bid in Sawyer and has been checked in.

Bro. Weist, agent at Irvington to day operator at Oakdale.

Bro. Willard, days at "FN" office, Fremont, to day operator at Arlington.

Bro. Nivison, from Black Hills Division, working nights at Arlington.

Bro. Brome to Bristow; transfer made the 22d.

Bro. J. A. Boyles, formerly at Lynch and transferred to ticket agent at Deadwood, is now freight agent at that place.

Mrs. Righter, wife of Bro. Righter, of Stockham, has been very sick, but is now out of danger and improving slowly. Bro. Righter was away on his vacation when she was taken sick.

Bro. Burwell, of Inland, drew Foster.

Motor car on Hastings line has been taken off and put on Bonesteel line.

Meeting called for November 29th at Fremont, and we hope for a large attendance.

Don't forget to get items to me by 25th of each month.

Through a misunderstanding on the part of the correspondent, we caused an item to be published in November journal reflecting on the character of Bro. Sherman at Gregory. Bro. Sherman is a member in good standing, and we are very, very sorry indeed that this appeared against him, and most humbly beg his pardon.

Bro. Hike, of Atkinson, resigned to go to California.

Night men have been taken off at the following stations: Meadow Grove, Ewing and Stuart; also day man at O'Neill and helpers at thirteen stations.

Div. Cor.

AN OFFICIAL DREAMS.

Come, boys, to order, let's get started,
We've assembled here both great and small,
To discuss the problem on the C. & N. W.
Of expense—listen—I'll start the ball.

The force is large—we're losing ground,
In matters of economy, I would say chiefly,
And along those lines we wish to talk;
With your permission, I'll state it briefly:

The section bosses mostly have had a snap
In cutting the weeds this summer.
There's one place to cut it down,
By putting their men on the hummer.

The bridges are in fair condition,
The bridge-gangs have been at play,
We'll have to cut their forces down,
And hire them again next May.

The round-house isn't doing much,
Those men have had it easy,
We could take off a dozen men
By letting the engines go greasy.

The conductors always have had their way,
At "US" they've seemed to "scoff;"
We'll now show them whose running things
By taking their swing-men off.

The money-joke, too, is getting bad,
Some few trains we must suspend.
Those "flaggies," too, are not much use,
The road gives employment to too many men.

The agents also must play their part,
We've helped them out with shelter.
While biz is dull—our expenses high,
I think they can run things minus the helper.

Head-office forces are now closely cut down,
But in these times of most serious matters,
We'll have to try and run the road,
With less of those sleepy dispatchers.

The baggagemen, too, we won't forget,
This is a bad one—let's think it over,
I believe one man could do the work,
If not, put it in charge of "the man on the motor."

Now, I'd like to hear some other views,
I thank you all for your kind attention;
If I've slighted some in this reducing,
It's lack of thought, not of intention.

CERT. 1830.

Dakota Division—

Our committee is due in Chicago January 8, 1908. Get busy and remit dues, also get after any nons who might be located in your neighborhood.

It is certainly discouraging to have complaints coming in about the carelessness of some of the boys. Perhaps most of this is thoughtlessness on the part of the boys; try and do better.

If you want to get off for an hour or so to go to a show, ask, and if there is any show it will be granted. You are paid for twelve hours' work, with one hour off for meals. There is nothing in the present schedule which gives you a right to jump up and leave the office whenever you desire, without first getting permission from the train dispatcher. We all have our faults, but let us reduce the mistakes to a minimum. The class of work put out by the agents and operators determines a great deal whether we get an increase in wages or shorter hours.

A source of much trouble on this division this fall was the number of night operators who had it in their nuts that they were hired to do nothing but telegraph, and that the more work they could get out of the better off they were. These fellows, sooner or later, get their rewards in the shape of relief.

Do not get discouraged by the outcome of the commercial telegraphers' strike, look at the Northern Pacific and Great Northern Railways, for instance. The Northern Pacific went home with a nice schedule. It was thought that the O. R. T. had died on those roads, but it was like a cat sleeping with one eye open.

G. R. Raabe, one of the striking C. T. U. of A. boys, worked at Tyler nights, a short time, and was called to Chicago to attend a lawsuit.

Operator Abbs transferred from Tyler nights to Sioux Valley Junction nights.

Bro. P. E. Long, who relieved Bro. Finnerty at Centerville, worked at Brookings a few nights, and was later sent to Tyler nights.

Bro. O. P. Walters is back to Brookings nights again after taking Kendall's place while "K" was on a little booming expedition.

Bro. A. F. Dugaard took Soo Valley Junction days when that office was opened.

Operator Anderson, who relieved Bro. Stow at Hetland, returned to Fond du Lac to get his family; Bro. Watschke relieved him.

Trainmaster Eicholtz did the telegraphing at the Tyler wreck, thus relieving a regular operator of a forty-hour trick. This wreck telegraphing is no snap, as far as hours are concerned.

Bro. A. D. Lortscher, of Aberdeen days, took a few days off and took a trip to Elkton.

Bro. F. Austin took the Lake Benton night job, after the Blunt Pit was closed.

C. Steward is the new night man at Balaton.

Operator Schnaur, of Fond du Lac, is in charge of Burchard.

It is rumored that a number of offices are to be opened nights that have not been 'night offices before. The more the merrier and there is certainly need of more offices, the way trains are getting tied up every night at the closed offices.

Bro. Abbs, from Balaton nights, went to Garvin and relieved Bro. B. Laity. Balaton closed nights.

Bro. Geo. Stow is again back at Tyler, this time in the shape of a day operator, relieving Bro. C. H. Watschke.

Mr. John Schnur went to Elkton nights, when Burchard closed.

Mr. Geo. Schaffer, the old-time railroad man, broker and race-track man, worked twenty-six days at Elkton in October, but the game was too slow for him and he departed to the land of milk and honey (Kansas City).

There are several night operators scattered along the line who could be likened unto the hind leg of a hog after being cured and smoked.

Bro. E. A. Nelgreen, of Monroe, was off a few days on account of injuries received to his hand. He was relieved by that all around man, Bro. J. C. Peterson, from Elkton nights.

Bro. Depue, agent at Volin, took his hike for the Soo City Division.

Bro. Odell, fat and jolly, fresh from Ivanhoe, a small hamlet on the McNally streak of rust, drew Wakonda on the Bull.

Bro. Geo. Olson, who held Arco for some time past, but late of Wakenda, goes to the M. & St. L.

Norm. Cass, agent at Miller, was off on healthful recreation for a few weeks. Before he returned to Miller he made a call at Yankton.

Mr. J. J. Gahagan, formerly C. T. D. at Huron, but now of the Galena Division at Chicago, was on this pike a few days ago.

We should have a meeting in Huron some Sunday in December.

Bro. F. R. Lowe took charge of Balaton agency, relieving Bro. Holbrook.

Bro. Lowe was relieved at Columbia by Bro. J. C. Peterson, who gets Columbia on bulletin.

Bro. Holbrook relieved at Cavour by Bro. Dixon, a new man on this division.

Bro. Brown was relieved at Cavour by Bro. Holbrook.

Bro. O. P. Walters is now nights at Brookings.

Bro. G. Johnson relieved Bro. M. Pay, agent at Volga. Bro. Pay will go South for his health.

Bro. A. Dugaard days at Brookings.

Bro. W. L. Ford, of Lake Preston, called to attend court at De Smet; relieved by Bro. Stimson, Jr., of De Smet. Bro. Ford was compelled to work at De Smet nights, though.

Bro. Meyer, days at Redfield.

Bro. Carpenter takes the side wire days at Huron from Bro. Nutter, who takes a train wire.

Mr. Davenport, night chief at Huron.

Mr. G. L. Hazen, resigned night chief at Huron, takes second trick for N. P. at Missoula.

Mr. C. H. Kelly, first trick; Mr. E. L. Stewart, second trick train detainer, with "Swiftly" Jones third trick.

The panic cut down the number of trains, also night offices and extra gangs on this division, but do not notice any decrease in our work here.

No notes received from the P., R., C. & N. W. this month. Wish the correspondent there would get busy.

Please send us some notes before the 20th of each month.

If you are left out of this it is not my fault.

Mr. W. G. Waldweiler went from Elkton to Salem nights. Walter is from Chicago.

Helper M. A. Page went from Elkton to Miller and took helper job at that station.

Marshall Field, Jr., son of the late Marshall Field, relieved Helper Page at Elkton. Field says he wants to learn the railroad business from the ground up. Good opportunity. DIV. COR.

Minnesota Division—

It would seem that there is some misunderstanding regarding this "bumping" business. Bro. T. F. Carroll having been bumped at Winona nights by an older man, owing to the fact that one of the tricks out of Winona was abolished. Bro. Carroll, in turn, goes after Waseca days, relieving Bro. Mahoney. I do not know what Bro. Mahoney will do.

L. F. Carroll, a new man from Chicago W. U. office, working nights at Winona for a short time. M. F. Gudmondson worked nights at Rochester, while T. C. Ferris handled the day stunt. Bro. Grey is acting agent.

M. F. Gudmondson got Essig by bulletin, but could not get a boarding place there. Understand the position was given to A. L. Taylor, and Gudmondson was told that he could have any other position his rights called for.

G. W. Pfefferlee is still at Byron nights, during the rush.

J. P. Banks is back at Evan again, relieving B. H. Nixon, Nixon going to Owatonna nights.

New man at Mankato Junction nights. Have been unable to learn who he is. L. V. Smith resigned, and has left for greener fields.

G. E. Black left the service, being relieved by a man from "CH," Chicago.

A. Koolhouse, at Sleepy Eye nights. He is from the W. U., Butte, Mont.

M. L. Manchester, agent at Plainview, counted scores at Carlisle-Minnesota game at Minneapolis, Saturday, being relieved by Extra Telegrapher McDonald.

W. A. Wagner drew Utica agency by bulletin.

Dispatcher A. G. Bosshard spent a day and a half near Meriden, hunting.

H. T. Smith, agent at Eagle Lake, was off for a few days, being relieved by E. W. Hiffennan, day telegrapher from Janesville, who, in turn, was relieved by F. C. Whittlesey, agent same place.

F. W. Mosher off for a few days. Extra Telegrapher McDonald doing the relief act.

J. Daskoskie drew Milroy agency by bulletin.

Extra Telegrapher F. J. Thompson relieved G. W. Cotton at Essig, then he was relieved by A. L. Taylor, who gets this station by assignment. F. J. T. is taking a few days' rest at this time.

H. Sorenson is working days at Rochester now, with T. C. Ferris back in the night man's chair.

G. P. Skeels gets Courtland by bulletin, and J. G. Johnson gets Kasson the same way. It was thought that Bro. Johnson had left the service, but, after a little investigation, we find that he only took a short lay-off.

Our local chairman took a short trip over the division last month, and reports everything in good shape, but finds a lot of nons with the bunch.

That's our own fault, so let's see what we can show him next trip.

The following positions have been filled by bulletin since the last TELEGRAPHER: Night telegrapher, Lewiston, L. M. Carroll; night telegrapher, Owatonna, B. H. Nixon; agent and telegrapher, Meriden, G. W. Cotton; night telegrapher, Waukegan, H. Olson; night telegrapher, New Ulm, C. W. Bacon.

ACTING DIV. COR.

Chicago Division—

Bro. Ray Stanford, who has been working nights at Waukegan the past year and a half, has been assigned to Hunting avenue nights, being relieved at Waukegan by Bro. Dempsey from Kanasha. Think the change will do Stanford good.

Mr. Avery is now working at Evanston nights.

Understand Bro. Pierce, from "SJ" office, has gone to the wild and wooly West.

CERT. 1710.

Sioux City Division—

Regular meeting held at the West Hotel, Sioux City, with the average attendance. Called to order by Local Chairman Bro. Haymond. Several important questions were discussed.

Among other things, the names of the brothers who have their dues all paid up were read, so if your name wasn't on the list you will know the reason why.

Bro. Tracy Noe gets Mondomin on bulletin. Bro. Dick taking Galva.

Bro. Gamet, who has been laying off for a few days, is back at Wall Lake. He was relieved by Bros. French and Dick.

Bro. Roy Brown, who used to do relief work on this division, and who lately has been on the G. N. at Willmar and Garretson, is laying off and visiting at his home in Mapleton.

Bro. Swanson, agent at Dayton, took a week's vacation, and took a trip to Illinois; relieved by Mr. Woodruff.

Bro. Marble is out in the wild and wooly West for a trip. Haven't heard who relieves him.

Bro. R. L. Holm, who used to tickle the wire on this division, and is now agent at Paullina, took a couple of days off, and visited relatives in Odebolt.

Operator Haasch got Onawa nights.

Bro. Lambert has been working at Turin a few days.

Understand our committee is going in again January 6. It is to be hoped every member will have his dues all paid for the next six months, so they can present a solid front in their negotiations.

Am indebted to Bro. Fuller for assistance this month. I asked several other brothers for some suggestions, but my request was entirely ignored.

Mr. B. I. Fenn gets the agency at Onawa. Understand Mr. Armstrong is dispatching on the Great Northern.

Hope to see you all out at the next meeting, which will be held at the West Hotel, Sioux City, January 5. Be sure and come. CERT. 231.

Madison Division—

Each day brings us nearer to the time when the telegraphers' nine-hour law will go into effect. Occasionally we hear some say that railroads will pay no attention to this law. Such men must have a poor opinion of our officials and railroad management in general, because, should they do so, they would soon bankrupt the companies, as the penalty for each and every violation of this law is from $1,000 to $5,000. Furthermore, it is the duty of the railroad commission to see that it is obeyed. Let it be understood that we should not be required to work longer than nine hours after the 4th of March. We have no doubt but what the railroads will comply with the law when the time comes. At the present time, with the unsettled state of affairs, do you think the law going into effect at this time will affect the telegraphers? we are asked. There is no question but what many got caught, or, rather, bet on the wrong side in the Wall street gamble, and lost lots of money, and the failing of several banks has made people more cautious. But it is hard for us to understand how, when the railroads are handling about all the business they can, it should affect us. As long as the laboring class, those working for wages, and the small business men, have confidence in the banks, and do not withdraw their savings, we need not worry because it is their few hundred millions of dollars that can really affect the country at large one way or the other.

The large sums held by banks in reserve to meet their demands is making money scarce, but I think you will find the earnings of this and other railroads in Wisconsin will come up to last year's, and will probably average considerably more. We may safely leave it to men who have been for years figuring to meet demands as they arise; that they can figure every one of us has discovered. They have figured how they could take away the helpers at stations, how they could make agent-telegraphers do four times as much work as they did fifteen years ago without more pay. They figured out as long as helpers were not learning telegraphy their salary was a poor investment, so cut it out.

Year by year they figured and figured, and their figuring brought about conditions that left no alternative for the telegraphers, as well as other classes of employes, but to organize and join their respective unions; we simply have no other way to protect ourselves.

For a long time officials could see no good in unions, and refused to have anything to do with them, but as unions have grown day by day, and year by year, as they are bound to keep on growing, the officials changed their views, and when our committee appeared before them a few years ago they were willing to recognize the O. R. T., and treated with them as representatives of a union, and entered into an agreement with them. Our committee has been in twice since, and each time the officials met them, because they saw our Order had good points, knew that an agreement made with our representatives was lived up to, and that they received better service. This is along the right line, because whatever problems that confront us telegraphers we must solve ourselves. Officials will not solve them. They can, by working with us, aid us, but we must take up our own burdens, and try to make them lighter; for that purpose we join the O. R. T.

As I have said, on a former occasion, the conservative actions of our committee gained the confidence of the nons, and they have become members. We see clearly that our committee has acted wisely. This getting a little at a time, although it has not met the expectations of some, has turned out for the best. In this way we have gradually become stronger, and the principles of our organization are better understood, and we are thereby able to hold whatever concessions we have gained. It has not been without a contest, because some subordinate officials have tried to misconstrue, and take advantage wherever they thought they saw a chance, such as putting switch-lamps onto the telegrapher to take care of; and on some divisions on this system agent-telegraphers are told they must teach helpers telegraphy if they want helpers. These things are a direct violation of our schedule. We have every reason to believe that our managing officials meant us to have all the concessions they agreed to, and whatever points we have fought for and gained, we want. The grievances which have arisen have shown us the necessity of being thoroughly organized, and "eternal vigilance" must be our motto, for only by that will we retain what we have gained.

We have been compelled to be satisfied with nibbles, but the time has come when we want a bite. In the near future we will be called upon, and if we are found worthy, we will get a bite. It is up to all of us to realize this. The time for talking is passed; now we must act, or go way back and sit down.

The sentiment of this division is O. K. There is no fooling or bluff in the stand they want taken to gain a shorter workday and living wages.

We have added to our membership S. S. Webster, A. F. Retzlaff, J. L. Berschens, J. M. Miller, L. B. Blann, Anton B. Steinhoff.

Bro. H. D. Adams is off enjoying a vacation at Mason City, Iowa. Bro. A. H. Richards is relieving him. Bro. Richards worked in "SJ" office until about a year ago, when his health began to fail. He tried the W. & N. W. Railway for a while before coming here. His home is at Footville, where all our great railroad men come from (general superintendent, superintendent, conductors, etc.)

Bro. A. G. Thomas is back at tower "EA," days, after being away all summer doing extra agent's work. Bro. T. A. Corcoran, who has been relieving him, resumes his duties there nights.

Tower "EA" seems to be hoodooed, as it was burned down the other day—the second or third time within a few years. Now a box-car caboose is used for an office.

Bro. J. A. Richardson is holding down Caledonia, nights, while same is bulletined.

At tower "DO" we have had several changes. Bro. M. M. Zeches relieved Bro. T. A. Tesky a few nights, then went to Beloit, nights, to relieve Bro. J. C. Van Auger, who is holding down Beloit, days, until bulletin is up.

Bro. Hannum is at present holding down tower "DO," nights, and Bro. W. P. Joyce, Beloit, nights.

Bro. Zeches went to Kendalls, nights, for a couple of weeks, when Bro. J. L. Berschens relieved him. Bro. Berschens held down Elroy, nights, for a while.

Bro. Tesky relieved Bro. S. L. Fast, at Sparta, days. Have not heard where Bro. Fast went.

Bro. E. L. Gross, the hard-working day man at Caledonia, is enjoying a short vacation.

Bro. A. G. Thomas is relieving him, and Telegrapher John Meiers, from Waunakee, is at tower "EA," days.

Bro. A. Anderson, N. T. S. T. G., at Monona yard, "M," enjoyed a few nights off, visiting friends at Leyden; Bro. L. G. Abts relieved him. Bro. Abts also relieved Bro. Jordan, nights, at Reedsburg.

Bro. A. B. Steinhoff is relieving Bro. F. H. Main at Merrimac, "Z," nights, for a month. Bro. Main went to Kansas to visit relatives.

Telegrapher Mitchell is holding down Leyden, nights, until Mr. Edwards, who got it on bulletin, takes charge.

Bro. M. H. Keefe got Evansville, nights, on last bulletin—No. 20. Bids on bulletin No. 21 not checked up yet.

Bro. Luedtke is relieving Bro. Rice at Wilton, nights.

Bro. Rice is taking an extended vacation, and we "13" he is going to take in the sights of several large cities.

Bro. P. F. Ebert, who got Summit, nights, on the last bulletin, is taking a needed rest, and is going to Huron, S. D., and, maybe, to the coast to see some of the country. Bro. Hendrickson is relieving Bro. Eberts at Summit, nights. Before leaving Bro. Eberts relieved Bro. Evans at Sparta, nights, for a short time.

Mr. M. E. Patterson, first trick man on the south end, is off enjoying a couple of weeks well-earned rest.

Mr. A. F. Reiner, assistant superintendent, has left us again; this time to be superintendent on the Northern Wisconsin Division, with headquarters at North Fond Du Lac.

Mr. A. W. Towsley, his successor, comes from Chicago, and has assumed his duties.

Bro. M. H. Hansen, day man at Evansville, has been enjoying a two weeks' vacation with his parents at Camp Douglass; Bro. Johnson relieved him for a while, when he went to Helenville to relieve Bro. Westphal as agent.

Bro. E. P. Colton, agent at Evansville, was taken sick and unable to work. Bro. W. H. Hansen, cashier, is relieving him, assisted by Mr. Edwards, with Bro. Abts at the key.

The east and west end failed to send me any items this month. Things are kind of dull around the mines on the west end; most all shut down, so the company will change the switch crews out there.

E. P. Wright, of the dispatcher's force, has been enjoying his two weeks' vacation recently, putting in part of the time hunting and a part in visiting around amongst his friends and relatives.

Chief Dispatcher H. D. Schooff has also had a few days off, which he has certainly earned.

A. R. Pelnar was acting day chief, and J. H. Hull, Jr., night chief during the absence of Mr. Schooff, with Bro. E. F. Boehm third man on the south end, and E. P. Wright, Bro. H. R. Koch and G. A. Cole on the north end, while Bro. C. B. Adams takes care of the troubles on the cross line.

Owing to the present epidemic of laying off everybody that can, by any possibility be laid off, the company has dispensed with the services of the night man on the cross line, also the night operator, and the tracer man has a good trick from 12, midnight, till 12, noon. We all appreciate the fact that there is no work at this office, so that these men are not needed (?).

Let us hope that the business will soon be such that they may be reinstated in their respective positions. By the looks of the movement of cars on this division, and the movement of stock, etc., there has been no appreciable falling off in business, so we presume the reductions are on account of Wall street having spent all our money. Did you get your check in pieces of $10 or $20 this time, like the rest of us?

R. B. Wood, who worked a few days on the cross line job in the dispatcher's office, and a few nights on the operator's job, was one of the unlucky to fall under the ban of the "lay-off" man, as was also Bro. C. C. Hinners.

Bro. Hinners is enjoying a few days' vacation meanwhile, taking in the sights in Milwaukee and Platteville.

Bro. V. R. Harding was off duty a couple of days.

Bro. F. E. Warner was off duty a couple of weeks owing to the illness and death of his grandmother, who died at Baraboo October 18th.

On account of the reduction of forces at "SJ" office, in Chicago, we lose two of the boys who worked the wires on our end, Bros. Breining and Pearce, who have gone to the U. P. Railway.

To those who so kindly and willingly contributed to the cause for which we recently circulated a petition, we wish, on behalf of those most interested to tender sincere thanks, more especially to those not of the O. R. T., of whom there were many who replied very liberally. Our worthy brother will fully appreciate this timely assistance. Thank you.

Bro. C. C. Hinners worked the quad job during the absence of Bro. Warner, and Bro. A. G. Elsner took Bro. Hinner's place on the job, nights, for a few nights, and then R. B. Wood took up the night troubles till the night job was pulled off. Bro. Elsner has returned to his regular job as owl at Madison, relieving Bro. Durkopp, who goes to "FR" office, Monona yards, nights, vice C. O. Butler, who resigned to enter the switching service at Madison, the life of a telegrapher being too strenuous for him.

The construction of the telephone line, Evansville to Baraboo, has been abandoned for the present, and the men engaged in its construction laid off.

Bro. Nick Charlson got Footville station on bulletin, and has taken charge of the same.

I wish you all a Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year.

Peninsula Division—

Peninsula Division meeting called to order by Chief Telegrapher Little at 10:20 p. m. Four applicants were initiated, and taking into consideration that this was our initial attempt at initiatory work, will say it was a success far beyond the expectations of all. There are more to be initiated at the next meeting, brothers, and it will bring your heart good cheer to be present and witness the ceremonies, which are very impressive and instructive, and it's a duty we all owe our Order to attend meeting when it is at all possible to do so. Don't let some trivial matter hinder your attending; it's only once a month, brothers, and surely any man can stand a little inconvenience for a good cause.

Bro. Moran addressed the meeting on O. R. T. matters. Bro. Crickelair was appointed to address the next meeting. It is the intention to appoint at each meeting a member to carry on this work of furthering our cause by discussion.

A word to all the brothers on this non question. You all received our General Chairman's circular and act accordingly. Don't lay such a valuable appeal and instructions aside after reading it. Every brother sit down and write an intelligent letter to every non on the division, and make an urgent request for him to get in line. I think this would work results.

Everybody is well pleased to see Bro. Raymile with us again. His affected leg is mending as rapidly as can be expected.

Bro. Phillips' cup of grief is certainly overflowing of late, it being necessary for him to take his wife to the hospital at Escanaba and his little girl Gladys being seriously ill at home.

Gladstone days is on bulletin; no one placed as yet.

Bro. Clark and Moran went hunting again, with the usual results.

Stephenson agency taken by Bro. Lanthier on bulletin.

Bro. Sullivan drew Oconto nights on bulletin.

Bro. Mooney is just recovering from an attack of pneumonia. This is the reason he was not with us at last meeting.

Bro. Grier relieving Bro. Peets at Hermansville, Bro. Peets taking his much-needed vacation.

SCRIBE.

Northern Wisconsin Division—

Bro. Kohler is back at Watertown again after a six months' leave of absence, which time he has been putting in at the city ticket office in Milwaukee.

Bro. Hierlihy, I "13," will go back to Milton Jct. nights, after relieving Bro. Kohler during his absence.

Bro. Remmell off a few days deer hunting with Bro. Himmler. Bro. Jno. Sund relieving him.

At the present writing the position of day telegrapher and leverman at tower "CF" is up for bids.

You are all, no doubt, aware that our committee is to meet our officials in Chicago in the near future for the purpose of revising our present schedule. They are going up against a hard proposition, much harder than ever before account of the recently enacted eight and nine-hour laws. We must give them our heartiest support to a man, and must pay our dues promptly, which will save a lot of unnecessary work and will show them that they have our support. If there is anything comes up on the division while our committee is in Chicago, just write our Local Chairman, Bro. Hackbert, regarding it. Address him in care of the Kaiserhof Hotel.

Div. Cor.

Ashland Division—

You have no doubt been advised that our committee convenes in Chicago January 6th for the purpose of revising our schedule on the eight-hour basis and making other changes in same for our interests. We request that you do your utmost from now until the committee convenes to persuade the nons to come into the Order. If you have asked them before to join, don't be discouraged, but ask them a few more times; reason with them and put the subject squarely before them. Say to them that if it were not for the fact that we were organized solidly at the present time, we would certainly have our wages reduced as a result of the recent financial flurry, as has been the case with other branches of service on this system of railroad. For example, the section men and members of the engineering department and clerical forces. Members of these other branches of service have come to me and said that we could thank our stars that we were organized under the protecting wing of the O. R. T. The advantages of thorough organization were never more evident than at the present time, and never more forcibly brought to our notice. Therefore, I say, brothers, keep eternally after the nons until you at last succeed.

Support your committee with the best backing you can give them and encourage them at all times. Their success is your success.

Bro. W. R. Jones, of Whitcomb, spent a few days in Milwaukee last month, being relieved by Bro. H. E. James.

Split Rock, Elmhurst and Whitcomb have been closed nights. Kimberly days has also been closed and Bro. Kilsdonk transferred to Pelican days.

The clip job at Antigo dispatcher's office has also been taken off for the present, and Bro. B. E. Reson transferred to Antigo yard days.

Operator R. L. Vore taking a month's vacation to visit at St. Paul and out West.

J. L. Burger, agent Mercer, can now be called brother.

Bro. M. J. Johnson is at present working at Saxon nights.

Several of the boys have been laid off recently as the result of closing a few night offices. Business will undoubtedly pick up the first of year; if not, the eight-hour law will make jobs for all of them.

L. C.

Coal & Coke Railway.

Bro. Cutright, of Frenchton, has returned from a twenty-day vacation. On account of illness of his wife "CU" did not enjoy his time as well as he would have done had conditions been otherwise. He was relieved by Mr. R. L. Moore.

Bro. Shawner is now enjoying a vacation, he also being relieved by Mr. Moore.

Bro. Bays, at Burnsville, having tendered his resignation, has been relieved by Mr. Martin, who hails from the K. & M. Ry. Can not say as to whether he carries the proper colors.

Bro. Simmons has been transferred from Sago to Bower, Bro. Gross having resigned.

The schedule which was drafted some time ago has not as yet been presented, but will be looked after as soon as our General Chairman returns from vacation.

We should get this schedule through as early as possible. All see the necessity of an agreement with the company and are in favor of prompt action. We should ask for what we want and justly deserve and make them come to it. If it is possible that we experience any trouble in securing our rights, I am sure we could do no worse elsewhere, and there is a possibility of doing better.

We hear lots of talk about the eight-hour day and $75.00 minimum. Let's make this talk a reality and there will be some pleasure in life for the man handling the key.

Railroads can not do without our services. If necessary we could tie up the entire "U. S. A." by simply stepping down and out. There would be nothing left for them but to come to our terms.

Mr. E. L. Bryant, agent "P," has resigned.

Bro. Z. D. Hensell has accepted a position on M. & K. Ry.

CERT. 3443.

Memphis Division—

How about that non next to you? Have you asked him lately if he was going to line up. if not, why not? Get after him and see what he is made of, and get him to show his colors by getting an up-to-date. Now is the time for all of us to get busy and land every new man we can. It is not long until the nine-hour law comes into effect, and we want every available man to get him an up-to-date.

Several jobs on bulletin now, viz., Florence agency, Scottsboro agency, Lim Rock agency and ticket agency at Sheffield. Think have two or three applicants for Lim Rock, but none seem to be wanting Scottsboro, as that is a big roast for the money. Don't know who wants the other places. Understand our chief, Mr. Cameron, is going to the N. A. Ry. as trainmaster. Don't know who his successor will be.

Bro. Hathcock bid in Huntsville nights and relieved Bro. Whitfield on the 20th, who in turn was going to the I. C. for regular job.

Bro. Jones, of Fackler, has resumed work after an extended visit out West. He reports a nice trip.

Bro. Gossett, at Steveson, has been sick for last few months, but reports that he is better.

Bro. J. N. Enoch, agent at Stevenson, has returned to work after several months of sickness.

Boys, watch your office closely and try and give good service. If we give that we can expect in return good treatment, and must have it, and we won't be ashamed to call on them for it. Let's show the company that the boys with an up-to-date in his pocket is the ones they get good service from, and not the man who has no card.

CERT. 910.

Asheville Division—

Let's all attend the joint meetings at Asheville every first Sunday, beginning Sunday, December 1st, and continuing every first Sunday thereafter. These meetings will be held in the Odd Fellows' Hall at eight p. m. All members of Asheville Division and adjacent divisions are invited to attend. Invitation is also extended to nons.

Miss Emanuel's School of Stenography and Typewriting has added a "Telegraph Department" at Asheville. Wonder how many she can turn out in time to take an eight-hour job next March.

It is reported that there is another "ham factory" at Black Mountain, N. C., conducted by the night operator, C. J. Abernethy. This is a disgrace to our division. Shame on the "Professor!"

Bro. S. C. Yates, of Spartanburg, is now holding days at Black Mountain. Bro. McAuley, former agent, goes to Swannanoa as agent, vice Bro. Davidson, who takes the day telegraphing same place, and Bro. Moss goes to Azalea as agent. A. H. Spencer has been appointed agent at Black Mountain. He is not an operator.

Our two sisters, Miss Dunne and Miss Medlock, at Morganton, are stickers. They declare their intentions to remain "railroad men," and have in their applications accordingly. They will not return to the commercial service. We are glad to keep them with us.

Bro. Alexander's little child is rapidly recovering from a serious illness brought about by swallowing a coin, and we hope will soon be all right again.

Bro. E. F. Southerland has been transferred from Oyama days to Facil nights in order to be nearer home.

Bro. C. E. Abernethy takes third at West Hickory, vice C. E. Puette transferred to Bridgewater.

Our young friend, Kerr Allison, has been appointed night operator at Barber.

Business is a little off on this division.

"Ir." Div. Cor.

Bro. S. O. Johnson, after being out of the telegraph service for about a year, has returned to work again and is nights at Melrose.

Bro. Floid Johnston resigned ticket agency at Hendersonville and accepted third trick telegraph job at same place.

We know of several cases where the operators have been done an injustice. Boys, it is simply up to you. If you sit idle and allow these things to be done, you are not living up to your contract, and will make it harder on your committee when they go to Washington again. The general manager says he expects us to live up to our agreement. So do not sit idle when you have been treated wrong, but take it up with your Local Chairman, and he will investigate the matter and you will get what is coming to you.

"IT."

Atlanta Division—

I desire to again thank those of my division who are ready to assist in the work of more thoroughly organizing our division, bringing about a closer relation between the operators and agent-operators, between employer and employee. We should all strive for thorough organization and should keep very busy until every competent telegrapher with whom we work shall have become a member of our grand organization, the Order of Railroad Telegraphers. We have a splendid membership and are sailing smoothly, yet we are very much pleased to see our membership grow. Aided by our worthy brothers I have succeeded in securing a number of applications during the present year and hope to handle many more ere the dawn of 1908. I have much confidence in my brother telegraphers, and believe they are going to continue to give me their assistance, that we may place Atlanta Division on an equality with the very best divisions in the organization. Any member feeling that an injustice has been done him should, without delay, submit his case to the proper officer, and if unable to secure a satisfactory adjustment, place the matter in the hands of their Local Chairman for further handling.

In as mild and friendly manner as possible I desire to say a few words to our few non-members, those who could easily become members of our Order, but for some reason, unknown to us and probably unknown to them, they remain on the non list. I do not like the idea of dragging or attempting to drag any person into anything. I have never practiced such a method, and, in fact, do not believe a member gained in this manner is of much service to any organization. I do believe, however, in keeping the merits of our Order constantly before those few who seemingly have no desire to become members. Poor fellows, probably they do not realize that they are receiving from one hundred to two hundred and fifty dollars per annum increase in salary, to say nothing of the many privileges, by reason of our united efforts, and, therefore, do not feel disposed to pay ten to fifteen dollars a year into the organization. Brothers, lose no opportunity to explain these things to non-members you know. This is a matter that concerns us all alike.

Boys, let's not neglect to send our dues in promptly. You know we all want those 1908 cards on time.

C. E. Moss,
Local Chairman.

Washington Division—

News is as scarce as the eight-hour jobs on the Southern at the present time. Therefore, do not be disappointed at the shortness of this missive from the northern end of the Southern System, which extends from the Southern cotton fields to points north of the Potomac, where the chilly breezes are raging and overcoats galore.

The Southern and all other roads are now patronizing the new union depot in Washington, which, it is understood, will be the finest railroad station in the world when completed. The accident that happened near the entrance of the tunnel between two of our trains several days ago, resulting in injury to a number of passengers and trainmen, was not due to any negligence on the part of the Southern, but was caused by the misplacement of a switch by some one not known.

Charlottesville was put on the eight-hour basis November 15. Bro. McConchie bid in the third trick.

Bro. Lockett has returned to Monroe to work, he having been absent on his honeymoon for several weeks.

Rockfish has been opened up as a day block office, which makes it much safer for the local freights, and the short-cut getting in clear at that point for superior trains.

An enjoyable evening was spent at the meeting Saturday night, many being present and much enthusiasm displayed. Two candidates rode the goat. Important questions were decided.

After we leave Bristow the air is rather bad until we reach Cameron Run, except one or two night owls.

Div. Cor.

Between Knoxville and Bristol—

Our meeting in Knoxville, October 26, was not well attended. These meetings should be attended, as the committee will meet the management the first of next year, and it is up to us to help them out.

It seems that some of us are not doing our part towards getting a new schedule.

President Roosevelt passed over this part of the road to Bristol and was picked up at Bristol by the N. & W. One of our honorable "students," working at Vance, stopped the train which the President was on, and was relieved at once. Understand he went to the L. & N.

Afton has turned out another student.

Mr. Rader, agent and operator at Whitesburg, off a few days, went to Jamestown. Relieved by Bro. Dyer, Bro. Teagg working nights in Bro. Dyer's place.

SUNSHINE.

Charlotte Division—

We want one man from each station to be present at the meeting at Charlotte, Sunday, December 22, promptly at 8 p. m. Let us make arrangements in time and attend this meeting.

You, who haven't attended a single meeting this year, will you try to attend this one? Are you up-to-date? If not, why? Your dues and insurance should always come first, because if it were not for the Order you would not be getting enough to meet your other bills under present conditions. Our Order, then, should be protected first of all, because if it should pass out of existence in a fortnight a large chunk of your salaries would pass along with it, so smoothly you would not know how it all happened.

Quit making excuses. Pay your dues promptly and be with the majority. Do you realize that the 4th of March is drawing near?

Let us attend every meeting from now on.

We understand the day man at Duncan, Mr. Rowell, has four students, and says he wants to have them O. K. by the time the eight-hour law takes effect.

Bro. Troutman, day man at China Grove, has taken the agency at Landis. Bro. Ebird, former night man, working the day trick. Neither the day or night positions at China Grove have been bulletined since the change was made.

Bro. Burns, of Roselle, made a flying trip last week to Duncan, S. C.; relieved by Bro. Graham, of Charlotte.

Be sure and be at Charlotte meeting, December 22. How do you expect your superintendent to show proper respect for your union when you yourself ignore everything that it takes to make it strong? Show him that you are interested by asking your chief for passes to attend the meetings. Are you ashamed of your organization? Do you feel a delicacy in requesting a pass to attend meetings? Do you fear being discharged? Well, now, don't let that worry you any longer, for if there was any foundation for such a feeling the faithful few would have, long ago, got it in the neck. J. B.

West End, Knoxville Division—

I regret very much to note the lack of attendance at the regular monthly meetings in Knoxville. There has been regular monthly meetings in Knoxville, Tenn., every fourth Saturday night for some time, and they will continue to be held monthly if the members will attend, but if not you may not have a chance to attend. It is only a short while now until the General Committee will meet the management for revision of schedule, and unless you attend the meetings the members of the General Committee, who represent you, will not know what you want in the schedule next year.

Right now is the time when you should be awake to your interests. Today is the most important time in the history of the telegraphers, and you should come to the meetings and lend a helping hand towards the upbuilding of the organization. If the General Committee don't get what you think they should get, who will you blame? Why, the committee, of course, but really the burden will fall upon you because you did not attend meetings. You took no interest in the matter, hence the committee had no backing, and it will be up to you.

How much better the committee could work if you would only attend meetings and make your wants known, exchange ideas, etc. How many more concessions you would find in your next schedule if you would only wake up and get in the push? Have you any reason for failure to take a hand? If so, let's have it. Your local chairman, your assistant local chairman, and one or two others are working for you, but remember they can't do it all. You must lend a helping hand or your interests will not be well taken care of.

Do you know that the superintendents are organizing the station agents, yard masters, and others for the purpose of exchanging ideas, etc., and have already had meetings in Knoxville, Tenn. Are you going to sit still and let things drift on carelessly? Have you not the same right to organize and attend your meeting? To be sure, and passes will be furnished you if you will only take the trouble to ask for them.

I heard of an operator, a friend of mine, who died a few days ago. He had a wife and two children, and the last thing he said before he left this life, was that he had nothing to regret, so far as the O. R. T. was concerned. An operator, a union man, who was with him when he died, and he said: "Brother, I have worked hard for my wife and babies; have done all I could to build up the organization and bring the standard of wages up to where they belong, so that my family would have sufficient to purchase the comforts of this life and the hours reduced so that I could spend a few moments at home with my loved ones, and," he added, "while I have never realized my wishes, yet I will always feel a better man for having done my duty to my union and to my wife and babies." He said, "Thank God, my wife and children can not say that I was not a union telegrapher or that I failed to do anything that would make their lot easier."

This should be a lesson to some of our members. Look at the women who belong to the Commercial Telegraphers Union. How bravely they have fought in the recent battle for better conditions. It is said that they never gave up, and that they pointed the finger of scorn at men who seemed to weaken. It would be a good idea if some of our members were women, then, probably, we would have a good turnout at the next meeting. Why not all come to the meetings? Are you afraid you will lose your lofty position if you ask for a pass to attend an O. R. T. meeting? Or are you afraid that you won't be in line for promotion, or that you won't hold a hand with the officials if seen going to a meeting? I hope we have no members like this. If we have, I would rather see them take their card and burn it up.

Let's hear from you regarding the eight-hour day and better salaries, etc. No one can attend to this for you, and we will expect you out next time. Remember, every fourth Saturday night at Knoxville, Tenn.

There are about fifty-five operators between Chattanooga and Knoxville, Tenn., half of whom are day operators, and there could easily be fifteen or twenty of these men attend every meeting. Some within ten, fifteen, and twenty miles of Knoxville, and could make it nicely by going up on No. 4 and back on No. 35 or No. 3 next day, and the chief would grant pass and permission.

Div. Cor.

Knoxville Division, East End—

Another month has passed and gone, also another good old O. R. T. meeting. I understand there was small attendance on account of rain. Hope we can all attend next time.

As our committee is due in Washington, D. C. on or near January 1, 1908, to revise our schedule, the $75 minimum and eight-hour day, also the eight-hour day and thirty cents per hour, was thoroughly discussed at the last meeting.

Jobs on bulletin are as follows: Millers, days; Caswell nights; Ooltewah Junction nights, Citico nights. Have not learned who bid them in.

Bro. Shoemaker, at "BS, for a few nights.

Telegrapher Ramsey is holding down Caswell nights for a short time.

Telegrapher Rader is working nights at Embreeville Junction at present.

Bro. Hendrix is working a few days at Watauga for Telegrapher Webster.

Telegrapher W. E. Jones, at New Market, is away on ten days' vacation; relieved by Bro. DeArmond.

Telegrapher Reams, at Talbott, is off for a few days; relieved by Bro. Trauthern.

Telegrapher Self, of Telford, is away on a fifteen days' vacation; relieved by Telegrapher Keebler.

Bro. C. E. Teague, of Embreeville Junction, is off for two weeks. Have not been able to learn who his relief is.

Bro. Line, of Morristown, is away on fifteen days' vacation, visiting Eastern cities.

Dispatcher Morris, Engineers Hoskins, Coffman and Sievers, Conductors Coil and Crain, were in our vicinity last week on a hunting expedition.

Div. Cor.

Canadian Northern Railway.

Third District—

Well, we have got our new schedule, and it is all right. Our committee didn't make much noise, but they got there with both feet. Now, I for one, think that it is about time that some of these persistent nons got in line. There are more than one would think there could be, but, nevertheless, we have them among us, and, say, the way they talk about the new schedule and tell you what a nice thing it is, is a corker, but mention O. R. T. to them, and they have the same old excuse about not coming in line, but how glad they are to get the benefits, and they are the very first to make a big kick if they don't get something. Now, I think that it would be a good plan if these nons had to work for the same old pay, and not allow them to come in and share the fruits of the faithful. They do not deserve this consideration, and if this step was taken it would surprise one to see the way they would fall over each other to get in line. It would keep a printing press working overtime to supply the demand for application forms.

I was considerably surprised to see the number of first-class men that were unable to show up a card, yet, at the same time, they would tell you just how the committee should make the schedule to satisfy the various wants.

Now for the next spasm.

Brothers, always be willing and ready to help a brother operator along, and if you, at any time, see a chance to get an O. R. T. man on the working list, stick in an oar for him. There are too many who do not pay any attention to this important matter, and I know of some who will make a big display of the fact that they are O. R. T. men, yet at the same time I have known of cases where an O. R. T. man would be given the go-by and a non would be given assistance in preference. Is this right? Not if we are going to live up to the obligations of our Order.

Since line-ups are strictly prohibited, and the various brothers do not send in any news to the division correspondent, it's hard work to have a few lines ready for each month's journal, and I would again ask the various members to send me items of interest. They are always welcome, and will go a long ways to give us representation in the pages of our journal each month.

Just a reminder: It will soon be time to pay up our current term dues again, and it would be a grand idea if each member would make it a point to have his dues remitted early. Don't leave them until some time next spring, but remit now, and have your new card at the commencement of the new term; also, why not remit our first month's increase to the treasurer? Our committee has been under heavy expense, and this would be a good way to even things up.

Div. Cor.

Fourth District—

A meeting of the Kamsack, Humbolt and Battleford Divisions was held at Humbolt on Sunday, November 16th, and although I have received no particulars of the meeting, it was evidently very successful in every respect, as our local chairman called another meeting to represent the boys from the Vermilion and Edmonton sections. Of this latter meeting I can speak more fully, as I happened to be there. There were fifteen congregated at Vermilion; this being three-fourths the number which our obliging chief, H. J. Parkhill, arranged to let off.

Bro. W. Gibbons, from C. P. R., was a visitor.

During the afternoon Bro. Hinsberger took the boys out to the heights north of town, where some innocent sport was indulged in.

The meeting was called to order at 7 p m., with Bro. Lister in the chair. Bro. Hinsberger, secretary. Bro. Lister went through the new schedule which has just been signed, taking up every clause and explaining the fine points to the satisfaction of all. On the whole, our new schedule, taking effect November 1st, is a decided improvement on the old one, which fact was evident by the unanimous vote of thanks to our local chairman and the committee for their good work. The meeting broke up about 21 K, and the boys took their different trains home, well satisfied with their day's outing, and the first meeting held on these divisions. It is to be hoped that the members will turn out in full force at our next meeting, which will be called by the chairman.

As regards our new schedule our committee speak highly of the courteous manner in which they were treated by the officials. We have received a substantial increase, and that without arbitration. Let every member put forth his best efforts in serving the company's interests, thereby demonstrating to them the appreciation of these concessions.

Bro. Matthews, of Vegreville, is away on a month's vacation. Cor.

Colorado Division, Northern District—

The membership on Colorado Division is increasing and the division is getting in excellent condition. Bros. W. S. Moscrip and M. C. Brehch have been appointed on the local board to assist Bro. Shoults.

Bro. D. Cashmore, manager "UD," Denver, is on the sick list; Bro. Myers relieving him.

Bro. J. W. Hanna, from Pullman, bid in the vacant job at "UD," Denver.

Bro. A. L. Johnson, from Union nights, drew Pullman days on the last bulletin. Mr. Owens, from the C. & S., is doing the extra stunt nights at Pullman.

Bro. J. R. Bolte, agent Weskan, drew the agency at Lupton, Colo.

Bro. C. S. Crisp, agent Lucerne, Colo., bid in the agency at Aroya, Colo. Bro. E. Lockman, of Erie, bid in Lucerne.

Bro. H. L. Inlow, extra man at Aroya, fills the vacancy at Erie, Colo., bidding same on last bulletin.

Bro. McCown, day telegrapher at Brighton, Colo., is taking a few days' rest, being relieved by Mr. Lundin.

Bro. Eldredge, day telegrapher and clerk at Eaton, Colo., bid in the agency at Kersey, Colo., on the Julesburg Division.

Bros. W. C. Sale and W. K. Hays are holding down Athol day and night jobs.

Mr. Caddigan is doing the extra work at Pierce. Mr. Caddigan comes from the C. & S. and is recommended by Bro. Ford, of the Kansas Division.

Mr. R. P. Johnson, new arrival from the I. M. S., went to work last night, and requested a set of blanks the first thing.

Eastern District, West End—

Bro. Miller, agent Byers, is taking his vacation, being relieved by Mr. Ridgeway.

Bro. Latham is doing the owl act at Byers.

H. M. Cockrum, extra night telegrapher at Agate, holds an up-to-date C. T. U. A. card.

Bro. Coffin is doing the extra work at Kit Carson, while Bro. Charles Scott is taking his vacation. CROCKETT.

Colorado Division, Eastern District, East End—

Very few changes on this division past month.

Superintendent A. F. Vickroy passed over the division the 11th and 12th, accompanied by our new trainmaster, Mr. E. S. Van Tassel, whose headquarters are at Cheyenne Wells.

Our chief dispatcher, Mr. H. E. Flavin, is enjoying a month's vacation. Mr. E. S. Stebbens, from Ellis, is doing the relief work.

Bro. J. E. Fritz, at Winona, enjoyed a month's vacation and is back to work. He was relieved by Bro. C. A. Dougherty, who comes from the Mo. Pac. with a card of good standing. Bro. Dougherty went to Orchard Cole as relief agent.

Bro. H. A. Whitten drew Cheyenne Wells agency on bulletin. Mr. J. C. Kock, from Grinnell, relieved Bro. Whitten at Morland.

Bro. F. C. Parker, from the Burlington, now days at Oakley, while Mr. W. E. Burton does the night work.

Did you ever realize the fact that we were 95 per cent solid on this end? Why not get real busy for a week and run the stray gentlemen in? Every little bit helps, and a word from you, brother, might do the act. Get busy and never fail to be up-to-date yourself.

What have you done for the good of the Order for the past month? Don't think, however, that after you have been admitted to the Order that you are "it;" that you have a job and do as you please about the work. Always aim to give the best possible services; be pleasant and courteous to the public and prove to your employer that you do appreciate your position, and if the pay is too scant for the services you are rendering, let him know about it; he may have a better paying position for you. But, regardless of your position, do your work well and work to the interest of your employer. Whatever is worth doing at all is worth doing well. "AN."

Nebraska Division, Western District—

New bulletin out today—November 19th—first day operator, first night operator, "GE," Grand Island; night operators, Elm Creek, Brady Island, Overton and Maxwell; too early to give the successful applicants this writing.

Last previous bulletin: Kearney, days; manager "GE," Grand Island, and day operator, Shelton.

Kearney, days, bid in by Bro. F. A. Thornbrugh, of Maxwell nights, who was relieving Bro. T. D. Grimes at Oconto, K. & B. H. branch, while the latter took a few weeks' vacation visiting Chicago and Eastern points. Bro. T. J. Brown, of Callaway, relieved Thornbrugh at Oconto.

J. P. Feeney bid in manager "GE" office, leaving first day operator position in that office open now. Bro. F. E. Rice, of Lexington, bid in Shelton days.

Boys shifting around too much at present to chronicle all their movements, but we hope to see them settled for the winter soon. Plenty of men on this district now, which looks encouraging to those wanting Xmas vacations (and we know of several). We are hoping the present conditions hold out till then.

Considerable speculation just now as to what the company has up their sleeve. They are playing a quiet game, but the most open they have ever attempted. If we will only wake up, too, and see that now is our time. They have opened a telegraph school in Omaha, as well as other places where they can, and are following the old principles and carry an ad. in the Omaha dailies.

They have also issued instructions to their assistant superintendent and chief something like this: "Students will be kept in these schools until they acquire a little knowledge (say three months), and when able to do anything will be placed along the line 'wherever possible,' starting them at $20.00 per month and increasing that stipend $5.00 per month, until they get $35.00 per, at which figure they will be maintained until qualified for a position."

We all see, at least partially, where we come in, and I assure you it behooves us all to keep our eyes open. The greatest general as well as the most successful one always recognizes the force of the opposing side, and so we must not just say, "It will come out right in the end," but be ready to hinder it, for they do not leave it all to us. Oh, no, they have tried that before. They have established the office of "Student Inspector," whose duty it is to make a monthly visit to all the "students," giving them instructions not only in telegraphy, but in the rules, operations of trains and anything they may want to know—provided he knows it (that remains to be seen).

Mr. Korty and his honor called on the officials in Grand Island one day last week, and incidentally made a visit to the president of the G. I. Business College. The nature of this visit or its outcome I am unable to state, but presume it was to see if he could establish a similar school here. We will have to wait for further developments before we are prepared to say what is in the wind, or what we may be called on to do. Our officers are looking after this matter for us, and all we can do is keep our front solid. Pay up now, for we have to some time, any way, and it will not only save our secretary a rush of work during the latter part of December, which is a busy month, any way, but so we can all get a copy of the January TELEGRAPHER, which will contain the vote on the bond question, which is so vital to many of us, and I am sure it will also contain some important articles which we should all see.

There are four or five men on the road who are not up-to-date. It is not necessary to name them, for if you are working by them you know the one whom it is your duty to see after. Ask them to come through. Tell them we not only need them but they need us, especially in the few months immediately in front of us. A great many nons I have talked to stand ready to help in the work before us, but how much more help they could be if members, and they would then have the protection the Order gives, which is more than they can expect by themselves, for they have had a taste of what it means for them to stand alone.

Bro. Stump passed through here the other day on his return from the meeting of General Chairmen and Secretaries held in Chicago.

The financial trouble hit the whole road hard. They laid off quite a few work trains, extra gangs, and stopped lots of construction work; but, as usual, hit the telegraphers also.

Abandoned night office at Alda, Bro. Newsom going to Gothenburg nights to relieve Bro. Ford, who is spending three weeks in Chicago and at his home in Iowa.

Second day operator at Lexington abolished, Bro. F. E. Rice going to Shelton days.

Bro. Jordan, nights at Lexington, resigned, relieved by Bro. Pogenpohl, while operator Prescott is working days temporarily.

One operator in Grand Island, "GE," laid off, but as business fell off considerably in the "clip" line we are still doing the work the best we can with a reduced force.

Bro. C. W. Nicholson spent a few days at his home in Buda, resting. Relieved by Bro. Gard, relief agent.

Bro. Jas. Nagel, relieved days at Kearney by Bro. Foltz and later by Bro. Thornbrugh, while he spent a week or two visiting a sick sister in Colorado Springs. Has now returned and accepted a position in "GE," Grand Island.

They have recently divided the district at Lexington and put on two sets of dispatchers, setting up C. V. McNutt, formerly manager in "GE." They are still short a dispatcher at present writing.

Am indebted to several of the boys for items this month, and I appreciate it, as I took the work upon myself in the first place, and if your news is not in here it is your own fault, for I try to keep a list of all the items given me.

Bro. W. W. Gallup, formerly of this division, now of the N. P. in Montana, is making his old friends a visit.

Will give you a parting word: If not right, get right, for the union of strength and prestige is not the one that strikes every other day, but the silent, solid, honest organization, which makes contracts and keeps them, and which is regarded as safe as any bank. They are the ones which the corporations have to treat with, and the public, which is a factor never to be disregarded in these matters, sympathizes with. If you are out of the fold you are defeating the telegraphers to the extent of your help and influence, and thus hindering yourself. Cor.

Nebraska Division, Lines North of Grand Island—

Business rather light at this time on account of very little stock or grain moving; due to the financial flurry. This gives us a chance to get rid of some of our accumulated business, and get ready for annual reports.

Mr. F. R. Frick, agent at Ord, called to Otis, Ind., on account of the serious illness of his mother; Bro. G. G. Gard relieving him.

Mr. F. E. Starkey, agent at Boelus, called to Hastings on account of an accident to his father-in-law; Mr. B. C. Prescott, from the main line, relieving him. Mr. Prescott promises to make good as soon as he is eligible, having only been telegraphing since March.

Mrs. T. A. Clark and Jack, of St. Paul, leave in a few days for Long Island, Kan., to spend the winter. Bro. Clark will occupy bachelor apartments this winter, and make the best of the situation.

Bro. G. W. Collipriest, agent at Loup City, is enjoying a visit from his brother-in-law, W. J. Whiteker, of Pryor Creek, Okla. Bro. Collipriest's baby has been quite sick for some time, but is some better at present writing.

Bro. T. G. Cook, of Scotia, is soon to start on an extended trip through the South and East.

Bro. R. W. Hurd, who has been visiting his father, Bro. L. L. Hurd, and family, of Cotesfield, for several weeks, expects to start for Chicago in a few days to resume work.

Poole siding to be opened up as a reporting station soon. Understand there will be a neat station built, with living rooms. This will relieve Bro. Joe Mahoney, our agent at South Ravenna, of lots of work. He is now running three stations.

News about as scarce as business this month. I wish to ask all members once more to watch the new arrivals. If nons, go after them, and if members of other divisions, notify your local chairman, so we can get them transferred to our division. This is important.

Div. Cor.

Kansas Division, Eastern District—

Merry Christmas.

It's time for that new card.

Start the new year right. Get out of the old rut.

Bro. M. L. Chandley is back in "Z" office, Kansas City. Bro. Geary having left for parts unknown.

Bro. Hendrix bid in R. I. Junction, nights.

Mr. Stepp from Muncie to Delia.

Mr. F. L. Heathman relieved Bro. Johnson, days, at Bonner Springs, who, in turn, relieved Bro. Stout.

Bro. Mierotta bid in Linwood, nights, regular.

Bro. Perky back after his vacation and trip; being relieved by Bro. Leger.

Bro. Cosgrove resigned; accepting employment with the Western Union at Lawrence; Bro. Cadwell relieving.

Mr. Kendall, from Plainville branch, bid in St. Mary's, nights.

Bro. J. O. Ross bid in Wamego, days. Mr. Sharitt, nights.

Bro. Leger bid in Manhattan, nights.

Mr. F. Harl relieved Bro. Hughey while he and Bro. Stump attended the conference in Chicago.

G. W. Seiver, ex-agent at Lincoln, now "educational inspector telegraph department," passed through Manhattan and visited several brothers with the object in view of placing a few students. Steady, boys. Don't let the student business get the best of you. You are not compelled, or even requested, to teach the art to any one. Verbal instructions from Mr. Seiver don't go. Poor business for an ex-operator.

Mr. F. R. Hook relieved Bro. Kaatz at Holmesville a few weeks.

Bro. Klasse relieved Bro. Owens at Morganville while Bro. Owens visited the home folks.

Bro. Klasse relieved Bro. Stepp, Clifton. Bro. Stepp to Ellsworth.

Before this is in print you will have received notice of extension of time on payment of special assessment, owing to the fact that printed circulars very soon become public property. The circular is not as explanatory as it might be. To those of you who wish to know more of the future movement relative to the revision of schedule, you have only to ask.

The lines west of Green River, comprising some 250 miles, were turned over to the U. P. management November 15th. Bro. Stump was there looking after the transfer to this division of all brothers.

There has been for the past six months or longer, a certain party, and, I regret to say, a brother telegrapher, going over the road "knocking" Bro. Stump. I have before me a copy of the timebook of U. D. office, Denver, at which place Bro. Stump holds his rights, and which is the only office in which he is authorized to work, and I will be glad to give you a copy of the same if you so desire. The time shown in this timebook corresponds to the amount of time shown on the financial statement furnished you at the close of the year. During the period covered by this report it was necessary for Bro. Stump to work in the office part of the time in order to keep within the limits of the Interstate Commerce Commission requirements pertaining to employes holding annual passes. Such time as was allowed him for service was deducted from his vouchers. I have not the space here to give you a full explanation. Every effort has been made to explain matters satisfactorily to this brother. If you have heard these tales, and wish to know the facts in regard to them, I will be glad to give you all the information possible. Bear in mind that the men who fight the battles of labor, who make enemies of corporations by what they do and say, have trials enough to encounter without feeling that they must be on their guard against enemies in the very ranks who ought to be their friends and supporters. While it is discouraging to know that there are creatures so despicable as to seek to blight the good work of loyal men, it must not be forgotten that the sound sense and good judgment of the majority can be relied upon to scorn the work of gossipers, and render futile the efforts of the falsifier who would willingly wreck every hope of labor's future, that in the ruins they might find some petty hate or malice gratified.

The fact that the general committee unanimously re-elected Bro. Stump as chairman, after his urging them to consider some one else, shows that your committee has entire confidence in Bro. Stump, and has endorsed all that he has done.

We venture to predict that some history will be made in our organization in the first few months of 1908. Come on, brothers; get your shoulder to the wheel, know what's going on, and then push it along. Help your committee along by paying your dues and assessment promptly, and back them up in all they do. Work for thorough organization. Don't forget that we have a few nons left, and, above all else, cut out the students. Fight this as you would an epidemic. Now that we are about to reach the goal of our ambition, are you going back to the old order of things? Fill your office up with students—girl students (God bless 'em), and then go stand the butcher and the baker off for another month, and wonder how high the necessities of life are going, and how small your pay check is going to get. We have them with us. Don't imagine we have no students with us. Only last week I heard one brother and one non (one of our rankest), ask permission to leave their hams in charge to clear trains and O. S. while he, in one case, run into Kansas City to see the sights and get a shave. And in the other case, we presume to take that necessary rest and recreation so needful to his health. And this man wants an operator, an eight-hour job and more money. How long is it going to take him to get it? Take it home to yourself, William, and figure it out—how long will it take you?

Bro. Shannon, after undergoing an operation at Kansas City, is back at work at Perry, days.

Bro. Thos. Dehoney, from Perry to Leavenworth; being relieved by Mr. Farrell.

Bro. S. E. Miller has again left us. Mr. Harl doing the extra stunt at R. I. Junction.

Muncie agency closed. Ho.

Utah Division—

I have it on very reliable authority that one of the members on this division, one supposed to be one of the strongest members at that, has entered into a term of professorship, with one pupil as a starter. Can not say as to whether he is getting a consideration or not, that is not part of the question. If this member will remember the obligation he took when he became a member, I am of the opinion that he will cut this business out, right at the post. If, however, he does not, will publish full particulars in the next edition, giving full names and location.

Owing to a misunderstanding with the brother who was to furnish the news from the west end, I am unable to say just exactly who are members and who are not. So am at a loss just how to refer to the west end brothers and sisters.

Was unable to learn anything in regard to "OG" and "YD" offices, Ogden.

Devil's Slide handled by Bro. Fitch, who was transferred to that point from Church Buttes.

Changes are so fast at Evanston that I am unable to keep track of what is going on at that point.

Bro. V. D. Richards, recently from the N. P., nights at Knight.

Bro. Giddings, who found the strenuous trainman's life just a little too strenuous in this climate, is officiating at night at Altamont, succeeding E. V. Marrigan.

New man to West Portal Aspen tunnel yesterday. Unable to say who.

Bro. I. M. Rathburn, recently from the Rock Island, is doing the owl stunt at Spring Valley.

Sister Gathercoal to Church Buttes, from Hampton, relieving Mrs. L. Lymen, who has returned to her home in the East.

Changes too many for me at Granger.

Bro. Schemerhorn to Bryan days, from Peru days.

Mr. F. J. Gore, C. T. U. of A., working nights at Peru.

Bro. Percy Barber, west portal Aspen tunnel, to parts unknown. CERT. 1297.

Nebraska Division, Eastern District—

Bro. D. D. Lawton has been appointed regular day operator at Council Bluffs.

Bro. F. A. Roach transferred from Brainard to agency at Elkhorn Station.

Bro. M. M. Kerr to Valley, days, by bid.

Bro. W. O. Clark covered Columbus, days, for a week, during the absence of Bro. T. A. Costello, who was called to Central City on account of a death in family. Bro. J. L. Stuart, Columbus nights, temporarily.

Bro. R. B. Hatcher, of Valley, is off for a few days, visiting friends at Silver Creek.

Bro. Hans Jensen transferred from Sanberg to Schuyler nights. Bro. Jensen is from the C. & N. W.

Bro. R. A. Combs returned to Benton nights, after six weeks' absence.

Bro. W. W. Ladd was the successful applicant for Humphrey Station.

Bro. O. H. Carter transferred from Duncan to North Bend station.

Bro. R. B. Beer, from Genoa station, taking a much-needed vacation.

Would be pleased to see a communication in our journal from some one else on the Eastern District. CERT. 155.

Denver & Rio Grande Ry.

South End, Pueblo to Trinidad, LaVeta and Branches—

I have been over most of the division during the last few days, and what part of it I was unable to visit I wrote the boys, and each and every one of them came back at me with a speedy answer. It seems as if we are going to have a little more interest taken in the welfare of the Order. We have a good, solid division now, and want to keep it so, or, that is, we want every one to get busy and do all he can for "49."

Bro. Aiken has been sick for about six weeks, and has been unable to get around and look after the work, but is now well and has commenced with his usual vim. We want everyone to take hold and help him all they can. When a new man is sent to work at your place of business, get right down after him, find out if he is a member, to what division he belongs; if not a member, why not. Write Bro. Aiken, he will do the rest.

Bro. D. C. Kennedy is back at work, days at Verde. He had a very enjoyable trip through the South, and after this he went in the mountains and bagged some very large game, such as deer and mountain sheep. Bro. Kennedy was accompanied by Geo. Burg, from Old Missouri.

Bro. L. A. Strange, who was at Larimer nights, since the 1st of August, has resigned and departed for parts unknown. Think he has gone on his farm, which is near Pueblo. Bro. Strange was relieved by Mr. N. O. Acker. Mr. Acker was only at Larimer three nights when Bro. Roy Duffenbaugh, accompanied by his wife and son, accepted the position. Mr. Acker was transferred to Castle Rock.

Bro. C. L. Helber, of Huerfano nights, has at last secured a leave of absence, and has gone to the coast to spend the winter. Bro. Helber was relieved by Bro. Kemp, from Verde nights. Bro. S. Collins is now at Verde nights.

Bro. N. E. Jenkins, Apache, is making an extended visit with friends and relatives in old Nebraska. Bro. "Jinks" will be back with us about the first of the year, and will take the night job at Graneros. Bro. Jenkins was relieved by Bro. H. V. Evans.

Bro. J. O. Aldridge is now at Barnes as agent, having secured it on the late bulletin. A C. T. U. of A. man was there while the place was busy advertised. He departed for parts unknown to me.

We are thinking of having another O. R. T. ball in Pueblo, some time in the near future, and if we do I want every one to come, and make it a paying proposition.

We will, of course, have a meeting before we pull this big ball off, and when it shows up, let every one of us get out and see if we can't have a record-breaking crowd, for once. BILL.

Second District—Frinta to Helper, Inclusive—

At Helper we find Mr. L. A. Parkhurst, our new chief, who, I understand, came from the D. & R. G., at Pueblo.

Former chief, Mr. T. J. Flynn, after spending a few weeks among friends in Frisco, is now working first trick, while W. J. Morrison, better known as "Bill," works second, and T. S. Everett endeavors to keep the boys awake from midnight until 8 a. m. I am very sorry to admit it, but some of our owls are pretty good sleepers, and it takes considerable calling to awake them. I trust that there will be an improvement in the service now, as the weather is cool and they can sleep better days.

Three new men in telegraph office at "RA." I failed to learn if they are brothers or not.

Agent and night operator at Mounds, both new comers; think they are brothers, if not, we hope to call them that soon.

Am informed that both day and night men at Green River are up-to-date. They make so many changes there that I can hardly keep track of them.

Little Grande, "RD," being closed days, Bro. Mahoney is doing the owl stunt at Thompson's. Bro. R. B. Marks, agent, has returned from Denver, and is doing business as of old.

Both day and night men at Mack came recently, so I can not say who they are. Surely, they are good O. R. T. men, for none other come to this division, and none are a scarce article out here in the sage brush. CERT. 367.

First District, Denver to Pueblo—

We should have a write-up from every division each month, for it helps each of us to know what others are doing, where they are, etc., and is enjoyed by all.

First of all, brothers and sisters, I wish to say, if you have not already done so, don't forget to remit for the special assessment. It is for your good. Do it now.

Bro. Aiken, our general secretary and treasurer, was on the sick list for awhile, but is at work again. He has lots to do and needs our help in every way.

Bro. Moore, of "DC," has gone to Alamosa, to try his luck at dispatching for a short time.

Bro. Newman is helping Bros. Hawkins, Had-derman, Leaman and Ege handle the business at "DC," Denver, while "MO" is away.

Bro. Stout, at Burnham, tried to get away from that place, but could not get relief, so he has settled down and is going to stay with us.

Bro. Breselow drew Littleton agency, and with Bro. Cuthbert, day operator, and Bro. Lively, night operator, keeps things moving there.

Bro. Lively drew the day job at Canon City, and will move there about the 1st of December.

Littleton folks feel quite cityfied now, with street cars running on their streets, connecting Littleton with Denver, with an electric line.

Bro. Dye, regular night man at Sedalia, is acting agent while Bro. Bobbitt is away on account of sickness and death in his family. Bro. Roubush is doing the night act in Bro. Dye's place.

Bro. Jess Campbell, at "XN," was on sick list a couple of days last week, but is O. K. now.

Bro. Acker, nights at Castle Rock, while Bro. Rosenbaum, regular night man, is on sick list.

Bro. Stone, Palmer Lake, has disappeared like the earth had opened up and swallowed him. Have not learned who is relieving him. Bro. Aldredge, regular night man, drew agency at Barnes, and is taking a vacation, and getting ready to move there.

Bro. Wilson, Monument, is back from his vacation, and is hard at work again.

Bro. Cooke, Pike View, from the Rock Island, El Paso Division, is acting agent until the regular man, who we "13" is Bro. Stroup, from Canon City, relieves him. Bro. Cooke goes to Parkdale nights regular from Pike View.

At Colorado Springs, Bro. Drannon, regular night man, is laying off; relieved by Bro. Vaughan of S. A. L., Division No. 97.

New man at Kelker nights.

Bro. Rogers, at Eden, is back from his vacation. Bro. Reed, night man, we understand, is in a hospital; relieved by Bro. Snyder.

We learn Bro. Ewing, our local chairman, at "SB," Pueblo, drew Palmer Lake agency.

Bro. Lutz, at "SB," is taking a vacation and has gone to Seattle.

Bro. Moore, "SB," is filling the place of Wire Chief Morse, who is working a trick in "RG," dispatching.

We are glad to learn that our old friend and dispatcher, L. P. Houseman, has been promoted to trainmaster on the south end.

We learn that Bro. Bobbitt has given up the agency at Sedalia, and gone to Burnham as clerk there.

Bro. Ogilvy, formerly of Buttes, has been in the hospital at Denver with typhoid fever the past month, but is out now, and will be able to work soon. "CU."

New York, Ontario & Western Ry.

Southern Division—

Bro. B. H. Stowe, first trick at Walton, has been on the sick list, but is back at the old stand as we write. Bro. Schoonmaker covered the vacant trick in his absence.

Bro. C. E. Downie has commenced his duties as second trick man at Summitville. Mr. McCarter, formerly with the Postal, has been assigned to the position at Fallsburgh.

In our last items we referred to Bro. N. Francisco as "Mr." This was an error. "N." is a brother, and strictly up-to-date.

Bro. A. B. Fish, agent at Franklin, is away on a leave of absence visiting friends in New York and other places. It is rumored that Bro. Fish has accepted a position in the city, and will not return to "brass-pounding" again. Bro. Allen, of Mountindale, is on the job at Franklin.

Bro. A. R. King, days at Maywood, has been taking a few days' vacation seeing the sights in the city, also visiting his parents. A Mr. Peck relieved him.

Bro. H. L. Borland, relief operator, was at "WA" office, Middletown, a few days. Mr. Halstead taking a few days' vacation.

Our train dispatchers are all taking a two weeks' vacation. Mr. Terwilliger is relieving them each in turn.

Mr. Black, who has been at Centerville as helper for some time, has been assigned the agency at Horton's.

Bro. Van Benschoten, Bloomingburgh tower, days, has been taking a few days' vacation. Bro. Schoonmaker relieved him.

Bro. W. M. Brock, ticket agent at Liberty, has been taking a two weeks' vacation. Bro. Harry Borland, relief operator, peddled the paste-boards in his absence.

Mr. F. C. Pierce, who was formerly with this company, has again entered the service, and has been relieving Bro. Misner at Apex for a few days.

Bro. J. Foote, agent at Trout Brook, made a call on friends along the line recently.

Mr. Swalm, third trick signalman at Main street tower, Middletown, has left the service. Bro. N. Francisco is filling the position until it is assigned.

Bro. H. E. Smith, agent at Summitville, has been off for two weeks. Bro. Holley covered the job during his absence.

Bro. Farley, Cadosia, days (Scranton Division side), is taking a few days' vacation. Bro. Schoonmaker is relieving him.

Bro. Van Zandt, of Port Jervis, now carries an up-to-date card.

Bro. M. E. Eccleston, local chairman of the Southern Division, called on your correspondent while on his way to see his father, who is sick.

Many of the Northern Division boys will be pleased to learn of the marriage of Bro. Arthur S. Peck, agent at Oneida, which took place at Syracuse a short time ago. Congratulations.

Wisconsin Division, Eastern District—

Our general committee convenes early in January. Information blanks have been distributed to all employees in the telegraph and station departments, and when they are filled out and returned the committee will have the full sentiment of the Omaha men. If any one has been missed, let Bro. Liddane know so a blank can be sent. A meeting will be held at Eau Claire, probably, before the committee convenes, when the final instructions will be given the committee.

One thing is sure, the men on the Omaha are unanimous in their demand for the shorter work-day. They feel that if the working hours are not reduced they had better seek other means of gaining a living where they will not have to grind twelve hours a day, 365 days in the year.

Every effort must be made to bring the few remaining nons into the fold. The last month has been a good one, and the membership is now at the highest point. There are only a few left, and they must be brought in. Let every one get busy.

A meeting of all the general chairmen in this territory was held in Chicago November 5th and 6th. The action taken is at present a secret, though the result will probably appear in this territory by the time this is in print. It must be evident to you all that in the coming year our strength is going to be given a hard test. The coming meeting is to be one of the greatest importance to the telegraphers on this line, and every one that can possibly get there must do so. Do not let anything keep you from being there. Do not feel that you don't count, but, rather, feel that unless you are there the meeting is going to be a dead one. It is your duty to be there, and duty must come first.

Now, boys, do not allow anything to keep you from going. The meeting is for your own personal good.

Bro. Liddane was off for two weeks this month, during which he attended the chairmen's meeting at Chicago. He was relieved by Bro. Nichols, night man, who was relieved by Bro. A. Burwell. Bro. Burwell is a member of N. P. Division 54. He is working extra, and is being transferred to Division 76. Also Bro. K. H. Gilbert, of Division 54, is working nights at Valley Junction, and is being transferred to Division 76.

Bro. J. A. E. Ray, of Eau Claire, dispatcher's office, resigned early in November to try his luck in the West. Jakey was gone just two weeks, and is now back relieving Bro. Goss at Altoona, days.

Bro. A. D. Wood is off on a vacation at his father's, near "BR." Bro. Peterson now at "AG," nights.

Bro. Donohy is now at "SV."

Bro. Johnson, at "XN," has bought a farm near there, and is erecting a house.

Bro. O. H. Allen drew Fairchild, nights, and is now located at that point.

List of new members:

A. Burwell, East St. Paul.

D. C. Fahey, B. R. Falls.

E. W. Quinn, Neillsville.

Herewith is the result of new bulletins:

Stowell, "NI," no applicants.

Valley Junction, "NI," A. W. Cook.

Warren, "NI," A. W. Hoffman.

Sheppard, "NI," J. J. Gaffney.

Neillsville, "NI," E. B. Jacobson.

Altoona, "NI," A. C. Dimack.

Woodville, "DI," C. O. Mauske.

Northline, "NI," C. M. Stricker.

East St. Paul, "NI," J. A. E. Ray.

Duluth, "DI," L. W. Kircher.

Chetek, "DI," A. H. Tislin.

Norma, "NI," O. E. Bradley.

Krell, "NI," L. Gray.

Eau Claire, second trick, "DI," J. A. Devine.

Eau Claire, third trick, "DI," V. E. Anderson.

CERT. 1405.

Wisconsin Division, Northern District—

Another month has rolled around, and finds a few of us still at work, notwithstanding the fact that retrenchment seems to be the order of the day. The switch train service has been curtailed, and now comes the news that Nos. 17 and 18 are on their last legs, and will be discontinued on December 1st.

The main topic of conversation now among the telegraphers is the eight-hour day and $75 minimum questions, and from every indication it seems to be a foregone conclusion that something definite will be accomplished on these questions within the next few months.

There are a few, and a very few, happily, on this division who might read the following from the last month's journal, and truthfully remark: "This means me." "If you are a union man at heart, you will never say that you are going to quit the union because you have a grievance against some member, or because you do not like the action of the union on some particular matter."

The eight-hour law is being complied with in the East and South. Why, then, should the railroads in the West and Northwest consider themselves exempt from living up to the laws?

Did any of you doubt the finish? The Shell Lake ham factory went out of business in short order.

"Truth, crushed to earth, will rise again." Did you notice that the N. P. telegraphers have again come to the front, and have secured a new schedule. The G. N. committee will soon be received by their officials.

It is drawing close to the time when another meeting will be called at some point on the line, and as these meetings are few and far between, and of great importance to the membership, it should be the aim of every member on the division to be present, or in some manner help another brother to get there. We are not all conveniently situated to attend meetings, it is true, but there are members who have never attended a meeting, and it savors some of carelessness and lack of interest in all that we are hoping for in our craft to find that members do not make a real effort to attend.

A large number of assignments were made on the November bulletin, mostly on the main line. Those who were lucky on the North are L. W. Kircher, Turtle Lake to Duluth freight; A. H. Fisher, Chetek; O. E. Bradley, Norma, N. T.; L. Gray, Koll, N. T.; C. M. Stricker, Northline, N. T.

Bro. P. M. Olson is taking a turn at Turtle Lake in place of Bro. Applequist, who has gone to work for the Soo.

Bro. Fred Sinclear is back to work at Trego, nights.

Bro. Fred Wickenburg, who left us some time ago, and is now located at Fort Worth, Tex., is working third trick for the T. & H. C. Says the eight hours is fine business.

Bro. A. W. Nordholm is sojourning, nights, at Solon Springs, for the present.

Mr. A. E. Cantley, Shell Lake, is off for a couple of weeks; relieved by Bro. Hart.

Bro. A. L. Stouffer is spending a month of nights at Shell Lake, keeping the lights burning.

Bro. L. C. Berge has returned to Lampson, nights.

Understand that T. A. Bergh, agent at Deer Park, has secured a helper to handle baggage, etc.

Bro. P. M. Olson relieved non, A. O. Olson, a few days at Rice Lake early in the month.

We still have the four or five hardshell nons among us. I suppose they will remain true to their nature, and lay low waiting for a few more O. R. T. concessions and March developments. We do not envy them the notoriety they are obtaining as the black sheep of the flock. Div. Con.

Nebraska Division Notes—

Business a little lighter for some time past, but there is still enough to keep things moving along in fair shape. Picking up every day now, and will soon be at its normal stage again.

Bro. F. O. Heyer, days at Hartington, has bid in the night side wire in Omaha dispatcher's office. Bro. Shellington has been appointed "car man" in same office at good salary. Bro. Hayes takes the side wire days.

Bro. I. W. Marr, formerly agent at Fordyce, has bid in agency at Florence, and has entered upon his duties. Bro. Roy Jones, who was relieving here, went to Fordyce until that position can be bulletined.

Bro. Coyle is nicely located at Craig now, his old home.

Bro. E. W. Johnson, days at Oakland, is taking a vacation of a month, and is being relieved by Bro. Hinman, regular night man, who in turn is relieved by Bro. Terry, night man from Coburn, which position is temporarily closed, owing to slack business.

Bro. Cooper bid in telegrapher's job at Lyons, and later bid in the day telegrapher job at stock yards, Sioux City, which brings him back to his home, he having lived in Sioux City prior to the commercial strike.

Bro. Slinger, day telegrapher at Pender, had to go to West Point a couple of days recently on a law case for the railroad company. Relieved by Bro. C. E. Hedges, formerly an employe of this line, but who resigned from Blair some time ago.

Bro. Wallahan, agent Thurston, bid in the day telegrapher position at Wayne, and will transfer soon.

Bro. C. E. Frost is telegrapher days at Emerson now. Bro. Flias, C. T. U. A., is working nights at Emerson at present.

Bro. Twiss, C. T. U. A., days at Wakefield, writes that he will soon send in his application papers.

Ex-Bro. F. E. Strauss is installed as agent at Concord now.

Bro. Wilson, agent Coleridge, reports them taking his helper away, which leaves him with added duties.

Bro. E. C. Crandall, of the Grand, is working days at Hartington at present.

Operator H. I. Smith, days at Wayne, has resigned, but do not know where he intends to go. Has not been relieved yet.

Bro. Schrupf, agent at Winside, is taking a vacation of a few weeks, being relieved by Bro. Heyer, from Hartington. He went to Hiland, Ill., his old home, and expects to visit in Ohio before returning to work.

Bro. R. R. Larson accepted agency at Nacora on October bulletin, and Bro. Buchanan, former agent there, resigned to accompany his father to California in search of better health.

Mr. C. A. Whitaker accepted agency at New Castle on last bulletin.

Mr. Carl Ferber bid in agency at Maskell, one of the new agencies on New Castle line.

Mr. P. A. Pinion bid in agency at Wynot, the end of the new extension.

Bro. Barge, agent Hoskins, took a vacation latter part of September, and with his wife visited friends at Hartington. Relieved by Mr. Whitaker.
Div. Con.

Minnesota & Iowa Division—

Bro. H. G. Stumm, who spent a couple months in the dispatcher's office at St. James, is again doing his laps at the old stand at Heron Lake days. Bro. C. W. Hartley, who was relieving him there days, feels that he has earned a vacation and is laying off.

Bro. I. J. Mock, of Sioux Falls days, took a short lay-off the first of the month and took in the meeting at Windom the third. Was relieved by Bro. Schneiderhan.

Bro. Wm. Byers relieved Bro. D. Fiock at Mitchell days the first of the month, and then went to Merriam nights, vice Bro. Crane.

Bro. Tabbert relieved Bro. Griffith at Sheldon freight office the first of the month, later going to Madelia as agent, relieving Bro. Burdick, who was absent account of his health. Upon Bro. Burdick's return Bro. Tabbert went to Magnolia as agent, vice Bro. Ayers. Have not learned where Bro. Ayers went.

Bro. F. E. Anderson is now located at his assigned position, Luverne nights.

Bro. Artz is doing sentinel duty at Blakely nights.

Bro. Geo. McGinty, who relieved Bro. Stumm at St. James during latter's illness, returned to Western Ave. nights the first of the month, and Bro. M. J. Roberts, who was there, went to his old bivouac at Kasota nights.

Bro. J. H. Johnson is now at Jordan nights, his assigned position.

Bro. J. H. Brennen, who was formerly employed at St. James as side wire man, is again shaking hands with his old friends on the Omaha. He is now located at Colorado Springs on the Rio Grande, and reports himself as doing nicely.

All who attended the meeting at Windom on the third, vote it one of the best they have ever attended. The wives of the brothers increased the interest, and all desire to make it a standing invitation for the ladies every time. All the bachelors present made a vow to do their best to bring a wife to the next meeting, and we sincerely hope they will be able to do so.

Bro. Riddell, of Ottawa, was absent the first of the month on account of sickness. Pleased to say he is again well and at work.

Bro. A. J. Axt, day telegrapher at LeSueur, doubled his work the past few days to allow Mr. S. B. Swinington, the agent, to attend a wedding of his brother at Prestigo, Wis.

The following ruling made by the General Superintendent will prove of vital interest to all telegraphers: "Any agent or telegrapher who accepts a non-schedule position, will retain his seniority rights for three months, and if at the end of that time he does not return to a scheduled position, his name will be removed from the seniority list and he will have to re-enter the service as a new man. This same rule to apply to men who take leave of absence." This ruling will make it impossible for any but those listed on the seniority list to accept schedule positions when same are bulletined.

Bro. E. L. Klingelhofer is now agent at Blakeley.

We understand that the General Committee will soon convene at St. Paul for the purpose of making another schedule to conform with the nine-hour law, which goes into effect the first of March, 1908. Do you want your salary reduced in proportion, or do you wish to work the nine hours and draw the same pay you now do, if not better? To do this it will be necessary to present a solid front to the management when our committee goes in, and it is up to you all to see that no nons are left upon the division. There are but few left, and if one of those is working with you, make him understand the importance of his membership. We should discourage any courtesy to men who are not members of the Order. Get a list of nons from some one and then do all you can to lead the erring ones into the fold. Don't sit back now and trust that some one will do this, but feel that it depends upon you to do it.

Mr. E. E. Stolte is relieving Bro. Morris, at Storden.

We are glad to report the fact that J. J. Long, a former member of this division, was expelled from the O. R. T. at the meeting at Windom November 3d. He was convicted of being a strike-breaker for the Western Union at St. Paul "Z" office during the commercial telegraphers' strike, and it was unanimously voted by all members present to expell him from the Order. The fact that Windom is a place where he once worked and was well known made the work more impressive, and, we dare say, that the name of J. J. Long will never meet with approval in that city again. It should prove a lesson to all who would lose their manhood for a few paltry dollars. Let us hope that the end is not yet, but that this man Long may live to seriously regret the day when his former brothers, in duty to mankind, scratched his name from their membership roll, tore all regard for him from their hearts and heartily wished it were as easy to remove all trace of him from memory. It would have been a lesson to all to have heard the expressions of disgust that were muttered in that lodge room at that time, and we believe that could that bunch had their hands on the subject of their hate, it would have fared ill with him. Upon the very floor where he was elected to membership, and by many of the same who welcomed him as a brother, his name was a by-word and men regretted that they had ever grasped the hand that was so soon to prove a traitor to the cause.

Bro. Backer, of Bingham Lake days, is taking a vacation; relieved by Bro. Hyde.

Among those who were called to Windom for court duty regarding the death of section foreman Hermeling, of Westbrook, which occurred at Bingham Lake a year ago, were Bro. W. C. Warner, of Henderson, and Bro. Backer, of Bingham Lake.

The meeting at Windom Sunday, November 3d, was celebrated in the best of style, and proved a day long to be remembered by all those who were fortunate enough to be present. Nos. 3 and 4, by good fortune, met at Windom, and as the telegraphers and their wives stepped from their trains they were greeted and heartily welcomed by Bros. W. M. Hale and H. B. Levering and their charming wives, assisted by Mrs. Mann and Mrs. Baxter, who, we wish to say, are equally as charming. After a short meeting at the home of Bro. Hale, where the ladies were made acquainted with one another, we took our wives and with the sorry bachelors straggling in the rear, proceeded to make a tour of inspection of the town. After we had pointed out to the fair ones the landmarks of this beautiful city we returned to Bro. Hale's home, where we were grouped for the photographer to make a photo of us, after which we bade our wives adieu and made our way to the lodge room for a smoke and to listen to a story from Bro. Dad Byers before going to supper. Words can not express our appreciation of that supper, but we will say that many a wife was made ashamed of the manner in which her better half surrounded the good things, and we all hated to undergo the walk necessary to take us back to the lodge room. Eight p. m. found all members in their places in the hall for the transaction of business, and we were kept busy until after eleven, when we were informed by 'phone that our wives had formed the "Ladies' Auxiliary," with Mrs. J. E. Smith, of Bingham Lake, as president, and Mrs. C. B. Fairfield, of St. James, as vice-president, and thought it time to open our lodge for them. After their arrival we listened to an eloquent talk from Bro. J. A. Newman, first vice-president of the O. R. T., who was present at considerable inconvenience to himself. He gave us some interesting facts concerning the infancy of the O. R. T., and outlined the aims and desires of the future. His talk ended all too soon to suit those present, but we prepared to listen to a continuation of eloquence when our Local Chairman, Bro. Tenney, called upon Bro. Liddane, of East St. Paul, for a few remarks. Bro. Liddane failed us for the first time since we have known him, but offered as his excuse that he was afraid to launch forth in his usual style with the critical eyes of his wife upon him. Most of us being similarly afflicted, we excused him and listened to an interesting talk by Sister Smith, who informed us, with becoming modesty, that the "Ladies' Auxiliary" had been formed for the purpose of bringing our sons up with a due respect for all things O. R. T., and to impress upon their youthful minds the importance of unionized labor. We must not forget the talk by Bro. Tenney, Local Chairman, nor the music furnished us by Bro. Wagner, of Garden City, who is certainly an artist at the piano, nor to those soothing words of song by Bros. Glick and Eustis, which lulled us into peaceful slumbers. We were awakened by that saur-kraut song of "Dad," and informed that Bro. Hale and wife again desired our presence at their home. There we were given more refreshments and an opportunity to view the artistic efforts of our wives in the shape of numerous paper objects, which we were informed were "paper animals," and for which Mrs. J. E. Smith had drawn first prize and Mrs. J. B. Head second. Declaring we could do better we were invited to try, and after laboring for some time presented our work for inspection, and were promptly informed that it was much below par, Bro. C. B. Fairfield's being so awful bad that he was granted a "booby" prize, which he says he shall always keep in memory of the never-to-be-forgotten day and the hospitality of Bro. Hale and wife.

We had a pleasant time, and fate, kind to the last, again allowed our trains to meet at Windom. Many present had driven across country to be with us, and others were losing lots of sleep, but none regretted the efforts they had put forth, and all left voting that day one of the happiest they had ever spent, and treasuring in their hearts the kindness with which we had been treated by our brothers and sisters at Windom. They will always find our latch-string on the outside and a hearty welcome awaiting them should they ever make a visit to our homes. It was a banner day.

CORRESPONDENT.

Illinois Central Ry.

Tennessee Division, Jackson District—

A business meeting was held in the Depot Hotel at Holly Springs on November 9, with an attendance of seventeen members from the Jackson District, which was very good, considering the location, etc.

The meeting was conducted by Local Chairman Bro. W. M. Merwin and Local Secretary Bro. E. Cosgrove, from Fulton, Ky. A considerable amount of business was transacted in the shape of grievances, which were discussed and turned over to the local chairman to be presented to the division superintendent for adjustment.

In checking up the Jackson District we found it solid from Jackson, Tenn., to Water Valley, Miss., with but one exception. This good showing is due, mainly, to the indefatigable efforts of the assistant local chairman, Bro. G. W. Faucett, at Toone, Tenn., whom it is said is very frequently found burning midnight oil in his efforts to promote something for the good of our Order.

It is intended that a meeting be held every three months at some point on the Jackson District, advice to be issued by the local chairman a few days prior to each meeting.

The regular monthly meeting of the telegraphers of the Tennessee Division was held in the K. of P. Hall in Fulton, Ky., November 16, with a fair attendance. The meeting was called to order by the assistant local chairman, Bro. E. Cosgrove, in the absence of the local chairman, Bro. W. M. Merwin.

The only officers answering roll call were: Past Chief Telegrapher O. D. Allen, First Vice-Chief W. B. Roming, Second Vice-Chief C. R. Collins, and Secretary E. Cosgrove, the missing officers' positions being filled by visiting members.

In the absence of Chief Telegrapher Bro. W. M. Merwin, Past Chief Telegrapher Bro. W. B. Roming was appointed chief telegrapher pro tem, as per our Ritual, and he conducted the meeting.

A number of new applications were handed in by Bro. Maloan, who has been taking a very active interest in the welfare of the Order on the district south of Dyersberg, Tenn., and who has been bringing in some "good money" during the last month or two.

A great deal of important business was transacted at the meeting, and matters of great importance were discussed, adopted and forwarded to the general chairman to be acted upon. The gathering broke up about midnight to meet again December 21, in K. of P. Hall, Fulton, Ky.

A number of very important articles are to be voted on at our next meeting. The secretary will mail notices to every member on the division a few days in advance, so do not fail to arrange relief, secure transportation and be on hand for the meeting, and let us have an "overflow" house on December 21. Let us all get busy. Latent or unused power is a mere assumption that no one heeds or takes into account until it manifests itself, while the man of actions, the man who does things, attracts attention and wins admiration. There is a fascination about the man of action, just as there is a fascination about machinery in motion, that can not be resisted.

Everyone deplores and despises stagnation, and no one is satisfied in this busy, bustling world unless there is "something doing."

E. COSGROVE, Local Secretary.

Chicago Division—

The regular meeting, held at Champaign, November 9, was quite a success numerically at least, as there were just forty members present. This is the largest crowd we have had for some time and hope large attendance will continue.

We were very much disappointed in not having Bros. Mulhall and Shannon with us, as expected, but they were unavoidably detained. However, we have the assurance that they will both be able to visit us in the near future.

Bro. D. M. Graham being the only candidate for initiation present, he was duly instructed in the secret work of the Order. The goat was somewhat out of practice and rather fractious, but, notwithstanding this fact, Bro. Graham displayed qualities which, if properly matured, and with plenty of practice, will make an operator of him.

The Rantoul Line was well represented at this meeting, eight or ten of the boys being present. Hope they will attend regularly hereafter.

Bro. Glens, from Penfield, treated us to about four yards and a half of genuine "speel," touching on the general conditions on the Rantoul Line. The most serious complaint they seemed to have over there was the Sunday work.

The haversack was voted a howling success as a breastpin, or cravat, and the U. S. mail simply a pleasant form of exercise, which the company had, some time away back in the dark ages, adopted for the agents' benefit, probably as a preventative against indigestion and bad tempers.

A communication was read from Bro. Kelly, local chairman of the Freeport Division, extending a cordial invitation to Chicago Division members to attend a meeting and "spread" at Freeport, November 16.

The next meeting will be held at Kankakee, in the old stand on Court street, December 13. Let us have a good crowd.

There have been few changes since last month.

Bro. G. E. Ricketts has returned to the agency at Monee, relieving the extra agent, Bro. C. E. Baugh, who went to Merna for a few days, being relieved there by Bro. Pendergast, who has returned from doing some extra stunts on the Terminal.

Bro. Baugh, at this writing, is at Pestone, relieving Bro. Morrison, who, I understand, is off on committee work.

Bro. McCauley, a new man from the L. E. & W., is now working at "KY," Otto, nights.

Bro. J. G. Brown, from Ridgeville, is now located on the O. S. L., at Monida, Mont., salary $70, and says he likes it fine, and has a good chance of a station soon, with more money. Bro. Brown's heart is in the right spot, and we wish him every success in his new work.

Understand Bro. Phelps, from Anchor, has bid in Ridgeville, on bulletin, but do not know, at present, who will take Anchor.

This is all of the changes which I am aware of now.

Remember the next meeting at Kankakee on December 13. Div. Cor.

Gilman Line—

Bro. O. E. Tune is back as agent at Guthrie, after a three weeks' visit in Egypt. Bro. Newman relieved him.

Bro. D. J. O'Connell is holding down Harpster, after working as extra agent on the division for more than a year.

Bro. T. R. Rose is at Belleflower nights, again, after doing the lever act at Odin for sixty days.

Bro. E. J. Coss, formerly agent at Birkbeck, was successful in landing Cullom on bulletin, and was transferred several days ago. Bro. E. O. Carrington now regular man at Birkbeck.

The Gilman line, at this writing, is solid O. R. T. to the man. Div. Cor.

Freeport Division—

The following is a clipping from the Freeport Daily Bulletin, November 22, 1907, and it certainly does us justice, so it will not be necessary for me to form the minutes of the meeting, but will make a copy of this fine write-up:

"An enthusiastic meeting of the Freeport Division of the Order of Railroad Telegraphers of the Illinois Central Railroad was held in this city last evening in the Council Hall of the organization. Over one hundred members were in attendance. This was the regular monthly meeting of the members of the Freeport Division, but as Fourth

Vice-President J. J. Dermody, General Chairman Mulhall, Local Chairman J. James, of Chicago, and General Secretary Shannon were present, it was also made an occasion of festivity.

"The meeting at the hall was presided over by the local chairman of the Order, Walter Kelly, of Rutland, Ill., who introduced the visiting officers.

"The members of the Order from all over the Freeport Division, which includes the Madison and Dodgeville lines, the Amboy District as far south as Clinton, and the district between this city and Chicago, were well represented. Local Chairman Kelly said that out of 138 positions on the division 132 telegraphers belong to the Order.

"The most important business that came before the meeting was the discussion of the nine-hour law, which will become operative as a Federal legislative enactment next March. Inasmuch as this provision will necessitate the hiring of three men on the same job that was formerly attended to by two, the roads have been discussing the feasibility of reducing the pay of the telegraphers, as the expense of the roads in this branch of the operating department will be correspondingly increased by the addition of another man on the same job.

"The question of the reduction of pay in connection with the enforcement of the eight-hour law was threshed over in detail, and animated speeches were made by the visiting officers. Resolutions for the nine-hour day, without reduction in the wage scale, went through with a whoop, and notice of the action will be forwarded to the officers of the Illinois Central.

"Various grievances were heard, and action was recommended in each case.

"At 11:30 o'clock the members of the Order repaired to the Troy Cafe, where they stretched their feet under the festal board.

"After the banquet the members returned to their hall, where they drafted other resolutions.

"There is a feeling of apprehension among the members of the Order that the pending bill before the Illinois Legislature, requiring the inspection of watches, contains provisions that are decidedly objectionable, and resolutions were drafted opposing the passage of the bill. The main objections are based on the fact that its passage and rigid enforcement will require all telegraphers to buy watches of the same make, which would place the members under an unwarranted expense."

We will stop here and say three cheers for the Freeport Daily Bulletin, and three more for the O. R. T. The above clipping fills the bill if anything ever did, so it will not be necessary to make any more statements in regard to the "O. R. T. banquet of November 21, 1907."

"BK, BK." Well, that's just like me, but better late than never. We wish to thank the Chicago Terminal for their very strong turnout, represented by Bros. Thomas, Schneider and Auld.

Among the recent bulletins we have Bloomington nights, LaSalle nights, El Paso nights, Bowes nights and Blanchardville agency.

The following new members have been initiated in the past thirty days: Bros. Whitney, Haynes, Steele, Halloway and Peterson.

Bro. H. Granger was successful applicant for the position as day telegrapher at Freeport yard office.

Bro. O. R. Sherbert was a successful applicant for the position as night telegrapher at Burlington.

Mr. P. H. Morrison was a successful applicant for Coleman agency.

Bro. J. F. Barber was a successful applicant for position as day telegrapher in dispatcher's office, Freeport. Salary, $70 per month.

Mr. S. H. Davis was successful applicant for position as day telegrapher in dispatcher's office, Freeport. Salary, $65 per month.

Mr. C. G. Price was successful applicant for Plato Center agency.

Bro. J. E. Wolfe relieved Bro. I. R. Crawford at Colvin Park nights.

Bro. I. R. Crawford relieved Mr. C. G. Price at Hart nights. Mr. Price, from Hart, went to Irene, and worked a few nights, and from there took his regular position at Plato Center.

El Paso was opened for a few nights, W. T. Jones filling the bill, but on account of the scarcity of $55 telegraphers it has been closed again.

Bro. Whitney has taken his wife to California for her health.

Bro. Goodrich, who relieved Bro. Haynes, of Wenona, is relieving Bro. Whitney at El Paso.

C. J. Halloway, at present doing the agency at Sublette, while Telegrapher Hehir is trying the brakeman's stunt.

Bro. A. B. Fretze, formerly at Bowes nights, was successful applicant for Bloomington nights.

Bro. Hayes, who has been doing the extra stunt at Freeport yard office, was relieved by Bro. H. Granger, who was successful applicant for the same.

Bro. Collins was successful applicant for the day telegrapher and ticket clerk position at Monroe.

Bro. Miler, who formerly worked on this division, is appointed ticket agent at Normal.

Mr. S. H. Davis, formerly at LaSalle nights, now in "DR" office, Freeport.

Telegrapher Renfro was successful applicant for LaSalle nights.

Bro. McGinty, a true blue C. T. U. of A. boy, has been doing the extra stunt at LaSalle while the same was on bulletin.

Bro. Madden worked the branch wire for a few days, while Bro. Barber was off.

Mr. P. Lundberg relieved Bro. Fretze at Bowes nights.

Brothers, when sending in your overtime to C. O. R., be sure and show trains met, and time trains by your station, so that they can O. K. them without any delay.

Should watch inspection, House Bill No. 918, pass, it will not be because the telegraphers on the Freeport Division did not do all they could to down it, as nearly every telegrapher sent a message to Bro. Mulhall for him to use his influence to defeat this bill, which every telegrapher knows is a serious detriment to the telegraphers, and is a get-rich-quick scheme for the watch companies.

We can now boast of having the banner division on the I. C., when it comes to a show down, in both percentage and actual count.

Cutting down of salaries on the branches is pretty small business, but nothing that will be hard to stop. They must be looking out for the eight-hour law.

By the time this is in print it will be time for the semi-annual dues to be sent to the general secretary. Get your money in early and avoid the rush. Don't be a day without an up-to-date card this coming year, for it's the year of doings in the telegraphic world.

Bro. F. H. Kochsmieir, and Bro. R. J. Steele were the two that rode the goat at the meeting, and they stuck to his back very well, although they did not like the idea of being branded for life (?).

The dope that went through at the meeting was fit for some of the Minneapolis mills, rather fine.

Mr. W. T. Jones is at present doing the extra stunt at Rockford days, while Miss Walthon is taking a rest. Mr. Sweeney, who worked here first, has accepted the position at "BY" office, Freeport days.

Did any of you ever hear the rattle of the coin while the teller at the bank was cashing your pay check? Well, it seems to me I heard a rattle of that order down around the depot at Heyworth about pay-day. I thought I was mistaken, but some brother says "yep, your right." It was Hon. Mr. Delano counting the proceeds of his non-membership in the O. R. T. They say the figures were of large denominations. Well, let it be so. We all hope that he will soon be able to start a bank in the near future, for he is fast accumulating a fortune won by deadbeating. Some say, when they go by there on a train, they have to look back a long while to see what such a man looks like, and still there's Jno. Gartman at Corbin, I can hear his rattle the splash (?), can't say where they go?

You may now call W. H. Fredrichs brother.

Well, here comes that block manipulator, Westbrook, so I will look and see if everything is in apple-pie order or something might happen.

Wishing you one and all a Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year. "SHORTY."

Cherokee Division—

Wear union-made goods.

Eat union products.

Smoke union cigars.

Drink union coffee.

Mr. N. W. Akesson went from "SB" to "DO," temporarily.

Bro. L. J. Mooney is working as extra dispatcher at Cherokee.

Bro. F. J. Spinharney is back at Sulphur Springs, after several weeks' work as relief.

Bro. F. W. Grending, of Gaza, received a telegram stating that his brother was accidentally killed in Illinois. Bro. Warner, of Pringhar, is relieving him.

Bro. W. J. Kearney, formerly agent at Meriden, has accepted Remsen agency.

Bro. C. H. Ponra is relief at Oto during Bro. Smith's absence.

Bro. Harry Hoskins is working extra at "SB" office while Bro. L. L. Jones is working double at LeMars ticket and telegraph office.

Clerk J. Zeigler, of George, has filled out his application, to take effect January 1, 1908. He starts the new year right.

A "scab" from Sioux City worked a few days at "SB," but partook of fire-water too freely, and got "canned." They don't even want scabs in hell.

A good, lively meeting was held at LeMars, Iowa, November 17, 1907, in M. W. A. Hall. A large number of members were present, also Lineman Bro. Wilson and Division Agent Bro. C. G. Hoskin. Next meeting to be held at LeMars, Iowa, December 15th.

Brothers, turn out to these meetings. Lay aside your work for one day. It will do you good. Get out and shake the dust off of yourselves, and get acquainted. These meetings are for your own good, and we want to show an increased attendance at each meeting. A meeting will be held regularly each month on the third Sunday. Don't forget the date, and give your superintendent plenty of time to get transportation.

Mr. J. B. Shoemaker has accepted the agency at Smithland.

Bro. Dodge is chief bill clerk at Sioux Falls.

Bro. D. F. Gale, of the M. & St. L., goes to "SB" permanently.

Did you know that the linemen were 90 per cent strong?

Contributed by our lineman:

We see nothing from the linemen. Wonder what they intend to do? Now is the time to show their colors, and stick to the O. R. T. true. Now is the time for you all together to stick, for you know all will make it much stronger than one. Let's stay by the good old wagon, and run her through on schedule.

Toledo Division—

Bro. D. L. Ames off on ten days' vacation, which was spent at Catawba Islands, near Port Clinton. Mr. O. A. Houck working nights at Clyde in Bro. Ames' place.

Bro. W. W. Dunn, nights at Bellevue, off one night. Bro. Rinebolt, from depot, made the double.

Bro. Ream, Monroeville, was on a vacation, which was spent at Fremont. Mr. U. T. Seler relieving. We have his promise.

Bro. Doyle, formerly of Hartland, resigned; relieved by a Pennsylvania man, who refuses me his name. Do not know where Bro. Doyle went.

Bro. O. E. Allen, who has been at Clarksfield, nights, has left the service; relieved by Bro. C. P. Feelmeyer, who says this is his third time on this road, but he has come to stay this time. Bro. A. E. Mullenkop, for some time agent at Clarksfield, has left the service, and Bro. E. A. Weirick, from Limestone, bid it in on bulletin.

Mr. B. W. Tuttle, from Rock Island, working nights at Pawnee.

There is a rumor afloat that there will be about five new eight-hour jobs opened up the first of December. That will make the boys smile.

What is the trouble with the owls? I don't hear them (hollow) "two-bits for me," any more? Do you all carry your lunch now? Guess that we will have to get busy and have that schedule fixed up a little different.

Bro. Bill Bligh, who was working nights at Clarksfield, has left the W. & L. E., and has accepted a position with the Big Four. He is now enjoying an eight-hour job.

Hartland, nights, is advertised.

Bro. C. D. Hull, formerly relief agent, bid in "HU," Huron, days.

Bros. Fry and Van Nest, at Huron Junction, have secured the service of a detective to find a man to take the third trick.

A Mr. C. D. Wright as agent at Limestone.

"13" we have a lady operator at Wellington. "WG" office. The only one on the west end.

Mr. Aldrich, third trick dispatcher at Ironville, have been off on a vacation; relieved by Mr. Plants, relief dispatcher.

Mr. H. P. Smithiser, Fremont, nights, was off duty for a few days on account of the death of his son. Did not learn the operator's name relieving.

Cor.

Pittsburg Division, West End—

Meeting at Massillon Saturday evening, November 16th, fairly well attended, five brothers from Pittsburg Division, two from Cleveland Division and two from Toledo Division. More should come to these meetings. Remember they are on third Saturday evening of each month in Trades and Labor Assembly Hall, Massillon, Ohio.

There are quite a number of O. R. T. boys on this road belonging to other divisions. Get after them and get them transferred into Division 55. Send their card and address to Bro. C. R. Guthrie, General Secretary and Treasurer, Jewett, Ohio. He will transfer them to our division.

Bro. F. C. Hull was successful bidder for the East End yard off at Columbia.

Bro. G. W. Lucas, formerly of Pennsylvania line west of Pittsburg, has accepted position with the W. & L. E. R. R. He is now relieving J. H. Atwell, agent at Martin's Ferry, for about a week.

Mr. B. E. Dainty, day operator Pittsburg Jct., laid off a few days account sickness, being relieved by Bro. N. Harring, night man, who in turn was relieved by W. C. Utzler, formerly from B. & O.

All news for journal should be sent to Local Chairmen on 25th of each month.

Dues for the new term, January 1st to June 30th, are $4.00, and are payable at any time.

CERT. 8.

Pittsburg Division, East End—

Bro. Albaugh, of Mingo yard, off sick couple days last month; relieved by Mr. R. J. Madell, who resigned shortly after being relieved at Mingo yard.

Bro. Thomason, at Rock days, has resigned to accept a better position in Pittsburg. We are sorry to lose this brother, as he was an efficient operator and a good brother.

Mr. McIntyre, an old-timer from the Pennsylvania lines, relieved Bro. Thomason days at Rook. On account of Bro. Todd, night man Rook, off sick, Mr. McIntyre has worked three or four days and nights in succession.

There are several operators on Toledo Division members of the O. R. T. and in good standing, but belong to other divisions.

Operator Beck, night man at Mingo "WI," took a trip west last week. "13" he did not get farther than Canton, though.

Mr. Weibler, a commercial brother, held "WI" down a few nights during Beck's absence; unable to say where Weibler is at present, but "13" he went to Canton.

The new time table looks good for overtime on this division, especially where there are no night men, but for my part twelve hours is enough. Overtime made after twelve hours is hard-earned money.

When our committee meets the management again, why not do as the machinists did on the C. G. W.? Make schedule plain that "nons" reap no further benefits from the efforts of our organization. The few remaining "nons" have been asked time and again to join with us, and yet they make no move toward becoming members. If we can't coax or hire them, can't we cut them out entirely? I would like to hear from others on this subject.

We all look forward with pleasure to the eight-hour day, March 4, 1908. "Nons," as well as brothers, but nons evidently don't understand who introduced the bill in Congress, and who were responsible for getting it through. Really, if I were one of this class, I would be ashamed to mention eight-hour day, overtime, or anything else. When you meet a telegrapher always insist on looking at his card. If up-to-date, give him the glad hand and treat him right. If no card, don't be backward about telling him "No card, no favors."

Brothers, don't forget regular meetings third Saturday night each month at Massillon, Ohio. It will not be convenient for East End boys to attend. Since new schedule went into effect it will be impossible to get back Sunday morning. We will all do the best we can to get there.

CERT. 93.

Columbia to Hopedale—

Bro. Breymaier was relieved for a few days' hunting trip by Bro. F. C. Feelemyer, who was transferred to Clarksfield nights on the return of Bro. Breymaier.

Columbia, our former relief agent, Bro. F. C. Hull is doing the owl act; he relieved a C. T. U. A. man, G. A. Wider, who was ordered to headquarters at Canton. I have lost track of him from there.

Sherrodsville, "HD," Bro. Roy Burns, regular, days; relieved by Bro. V. J. Beaumont, from Cleveland "H" W. U. office.

Mr. Baughman, superintendent telegraph, promises to start in on the eight-hour basis on the first of December, but this certainly looks all to the bad just now. He's not hiring an extra man, and I think that we are compelled, or else will be compelled, to wait 'till the very last minute.

CERT. 99.

Ann Arbor Ry.

Bro. H. J. Tobin, our former general chairman, who left the service of the Ann Arbor, is now with the Pennsylvania Company, at Toledo.

Bro. Berwick, second trick at Boulevard, tower "AH," has resigned and gone to the Pennsylvania Company with Bro. Tobin.

Bro. Suydam, formerly second trick at Hallet, but who resigned on account of poor health, has been assigned to the Toledo, "A" office, and as soon as this position is ready for him he will help Bro. White with the yards and car reports.

A number of the brothers attended a meeting in the Foresters' Hall, Owosso, on Sunday, October 27th, and discussed several points of interest, appointed several committees and elected officers of a local lodge. All present enjoyed the meeting, and all are anxious to have another meeting in the near future.

I have not, as yet, heard from Bro. Weast in regard to the election of a local chairman, which was held some time ago, and am therefore unable to say who is elected to succeed Bro. Adams.

There are several members of this division who have neglected to keep up to date. Now, brothers, do not allow this to continue. Pay up, and keep in line, and if you did not receive any benefit from the first schedule, remember we are going after a revision, and expect benefits to all.

There was a call made at the meeting held in Owosso for the first month's increase to help pay the grievance committee for their work in obtaining the present schedule.

Hamburg has been closed as a telegraph station, Bro. Grant having been transferred to Yuma.

Bro. Reynolds, formerly agent at Yuma, has bid in Ithaca, days, Bro. Renwick, formerly of that place, having left the service.

Boulevard, "AX" office, is to be closed as a telegraph office as soon as Bro. Adams receives a cable for which he has been waiting for some time. Levermen are to be put in, and the operators are to be moved to the yardmaster's office.

Quite a number of the brothers attended the Michigan-Pennsylvania football game at Ann Arbor, November 16th, and most of them feel sore on the referee.

Bro. Ide, formerly of Whitmore Lake, is now doing the dark hours at "MA," Ann Arbor.

The "DI," dispatcher's operator position at Owosso has not been assigned yet, and has been open for three months. This is a grievance for the man who is entitled to it, and he should take it up as such.

Thompsonville agency is another of the positions that has been bulletined for a long time, and has not been assigned.

Bro. Battin, formerly agent at McBain, has been assigned the agency at Manistique.

Mr. L. E. Vorce, formerly at Frankfort, has been compelled to resign on account of poor health. Mr. A. C. McDaniels, for a long time his cashier, was appointed to fill his place. Bro. H. G. Carland, formerly day operator, taking the place of cashier. This is one of the appointive agencies, and, therefore, will not be bulletined.

DIV. COR.

IN MEMORIAM.

WHEREAS, It has pleased our Almighty God to remove from our midst our most worthy brother, J. F. Heffernan, an esteemed member of System Division No. 48; and,

WHEREAS, In view of the loss we have sustained by those who were nearest and dearest to him; therefore, be it

Resolved, That D. T. I. System Division, No. 48, O. R. T., in the death of Bro. J. F. Heffernan, has lost a devoted and worthy member, his family a kind and loving husband and father; and be it further Resolved, That a copy of this resolution be forwarded to the family of Bro. Heffernan; that a copy be submitted to THE TELEGRAPHER for publication, and that the same be spread upon the minutes of the division.

Frankfort, Mich., October 31, 1907.

IN MEMORIAM.

WHEREAS, By the death of Bro. F. F. Bailey, of Division No. 48, Order of Railroad Telegraphers, the fraternity has lost a trusted and loved member; one who was ever kindly and considerate in his actions. Be it Resolved, That this division mourn with the bereaved family and extend to them our sincere sympathy. It is our dearest wish that if, at any time, we can render assistance to this family we be allowed to render tribute in this way to his memory.

Norfolk & Western Ry.

Scioto Division—

Since our appearance in November few events of importance have come to notice of your correspondent.

We feel very thankful for the kindness of those who assisted us. Without their assistance we would have been very short, indeed.

A number of Western Union men who were taken into the N. & W. service recently, have returned to situations open to them by the Western Union and Postal Companies.

Jos. Forbin, a C. T. U. of A. man, who has been extra in "KM" for some time, has resigned to accept a position with the Western Union at Pittsburgh, Pa.

On account of recent changes Mr. W. A. Pinson, agent at Dunlon, W. Va., has been assigned to the extra list. Mr. J. M. Marcum succeeding to the agency.

Mr. J. D. Bayles, extra at Kenova freight house, and a C. T. U. of A. man, has resigned for a Western Union job at Columbus, Ohio.

Bro. A. J. Marcum, third trick at Kennit, W. Va., landed Duvalls, Ohio, nights.

Bro. Frank Mader succeeds Bro. Cailey at Valley Crossing, first trick.

Bro. Wm. Kessee, recently promoted to dispatcher, is off duty with a broken thumb. He has gone to Old Virginia, and will remain until he fully recovers.

E. G. Painter, agent at Idlewild, is off duty indefinitely; relieved by Relief Agent Jaynes.

Bro. Rader moves from Valley Crossing to Joyce avenue.

Bro. Eckfelt, first trick dispatcher at North, on the sick list for several days.

Mr. Bushman has been doing extra work at Park.

Dispatchers Bailey, Bridges, Hughes and Mulligan have been making trips over their divisions alternately, acquainting themselves with the road and the boys along the line. They will find us a pretty easy bunch to get acquainted with, and just as anxious to improve the service as they are.

Mr. Harry McElroy off duty several days sick; relieved by Bro. Hendrie.

Bro. R. S. Kyle, first trick dispatcher East, is off on a vacation, taking a hunt in Virginia.

Bro. Daily has been placed at Sargent, nights.

J. S. Hayden, a C. T. U. of A. man, extra at Kenova freight house, now fills third trick at Kenova tower.

Bro. Pancake, extra in "KM," off on fifteen days' vacation, takes third trick at Dady upon his return.

Bro. Charles Selly is handling trains on second trick dispatcher, East, with the skill of an old head.

We herewith extend best wishes for a Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year, which we hope will find all in line for good principle and service.

CERT. 750.

Poca Division—

We have as many members as any road. Why not show them that we are right in line, and pressing to the front, and as willing to do something for our union and ourselves as they are? You know the old proverb: "If we want anything done right, do it ourselves," and "if you want help, first help yourself." All can say a word of encouragement to our brothers who are working so faithfully for the advancement of our union. They must have our support, and if we never open our mouths, how are they to know what we want? Or they will think we are contented with our present condition. We must take more interest in our future welfare and help ourselves. We could have as easily secured the eight-hour law as the State of West Virginia did, if we would only wake up and quit depending on some one else.

"United we stand; divided we fall."

Dispatcher Moss is on the sick list at present, but is recovering. He has a two weeks' old daughter to brighten his home now. Bro. Lawson, from "BF" office, is relieving Dispatcher Moss while sick.

Bro. Marnsey, promoted to dispatcher, still carries an up-to-date card.

Bro. Briggs, from "HO," bid in the new job at "BF," and Bro. Morrison, from "OA," relieved him.

Bro. Snowley, from "SU," has obtained two months' leave of absence, and is going down on the farm and spend the time with his mother.

Bro. White, from "BK," has resigned, and accepted a position as traveling salesman.

Bro. Williams bid in first trick; relieving Bro. White, and Telegrapher Blow second trick.

Bro. R. H. Miller has just returned from a thirty-days' vacation, which he spent visiting relatives in Virginia and at Jamestown. He was relieved by Bro. J. J. Cox.

Bro. Huff, first trick at "HI," has just returned from a thirty-days' vacation. "BIG HEAD."

Radford Division—

The boys on all of the divisions seem to be taking a great deal of interest in our journal. This is certainly gratifying to your system correspondent, and I assure you very much appreciated. Now just keep the thing up. Send notes to your division correspondent of everything that happens in your district that would be of interest to the membership on other divisions or other roads.

I am very sorry that it is impossible to give you the splendid speeches delivered at our meeting of October 19 by Bros. Caboness and Atkins, but the journal's space is too limited to reproduce them here. However, both of these brothers will be at our banquet at Roanoke, and you will have an opportunity to hear them.

Everything moving along nicely on the Radford Division, the block system having, recently, been installed on Bristol line, and quite a number of desirable positions opened up for applicants. Have not heard who were the lucky ones on many of them. The boys on this end will now have to keep on the lookout for "37," and it is hoped that they will see positively that they always get "37" before allowing a train to go west, as negligence on this particular part of the work is apt to result seriously.

The Bluefield meeting was a success in every sense of the word. Quite a lot of important business was transacted, and a great many matters to be taken up in the next agreement were discussed, among which was the matter of handling U. S. mail. All of the men are bitterly opposed to handling U. S. mail, regardless of what they are paid for the work. They are not looking for civil service positions and don't want them shoved on them. The one-sided way of handling W. U. commissions were also shown to be unsatisfactory, and the General Committee will be urged to pay special attention to these matters when they convene again, which will be on the first Saturday night in January, 1908.

One of the most important things to look after on the eve of the assembly of the General Committee is the non list. Last month our minutes were held by Bro. Layman, awaiting some correspondence from Bro. Quick, until it was too late to get a revised non list, therefore, it was omitted, but it will be up-to-date next month, and I understand the secretary of the Bluefield meeting has "curtailed" his minutes to allow plenty of room for this list, therefore, when you get your next minutes, showing the nons, go after all who are worthy, good and strong. We need them right now, yet don't overlook the fact that it is those who are worthy that we are after. We must draw our lines a little closer, and it is hoped that membership in our organization on the N. & W. will be a guarantee of efficiency, and will also guarantee the company that the owner of one of our cards is a thoroughly reliable man, worthy of trust in any position, and capable of holding any position in their line. When we, as an organization, fail to render first-class service, we can not expect further recognition.

Our yearly banquet will be held at Roanoke, Va., the first Saturday night in January, 1908. We will, of course, have the usual good attendance. This is always a great time with us. All of the boys look forward to this banquet with a great deal of pleasure, and all who can possibly make arrangements to leave their work are always there, and to those who can not come we can only say we are sorry for them, for they certainly are deprived of a great pleasure. Meeting all of the boys who come to these banquets is one of our greatest pleasures. We become better acquainted with each other, our business relations in this way are more pleasant, we work harder for each other's interest, and this is especially true with the dispatchers. If all of the men who have been elevated to the position of train dispatcher will come out to the meetings and the yearly banquet, and get to know the men better, they will find that they will always be ready and glad to give all information they possibly can that will assist them in handling their trick successfully. You may say they are paid to do this anyway. Now, that's all true enough, but there is nothing like knowing a fellow. You feel more at home with him, and results from such social relations will be better train movement, and dollars for the company.

One of the most enjoyable features of our meetings now is the address we have the pleasure of hearing from some brother who is appointed each meeting for the next. Those who do not attend the meetings do not know what they are missing. Be on hand next time and get all that's coming to you.

Another important matter, at this time, is your dues for next term. Surely, none are so indifferent as to have not paid up the last term dues. See that your money goes in and you have the new card by the first of the year. You will feel better after you have it.

We regret very much to announce the death of Bro. Chas. Wilson's father, who recently passed to the Great Beyond. All of the brothers extend to Bro. Wilson their heartfelt sympathy.

We are glad to announce that we have with us now Bro. J. W. Harman, who has recently come to the N. & W. from the Beaver Dam Ry. and is at present working as extra relief agent.

I am sorry that the boys are not giving the assistant correspondents what assistance they can by sending them notes each month. I understand that Bro. Wilson, who is assistant on this division, was unable to get any one to send in notes this month. I hope this will not be the case again. We have this part of the work going nicely now, and the men taking a great interest in this work on almost all of the divisions except ours. Now, let's don't be behind with anything. Get busy and send Bro. Wilson notes of what is going on, so he will be in a position to properly represent your division. I know, from experience, that the correspondent's path is not always strewn with roses, but his work can be made much lighter by a hearty co-operation on the part of the membership. Now, see that every man does his duty in this respect, so that it will not be necessary to call your attention to it again.

Bro. C. M. Asbury, better known as "Kildee," is off on a few days' vacation, being relieved by Operator Allison. M. G. HARPER.

Shenandoah Division--

There was quite an enthusiastic meeting held in Roanoke, Va., October 19, there being several subjects discussed which mean much to our success if we abide by them, and there is no reason why we should not live up to them to the letter. The first subject being "Service." There can not be too much stress laid upon this word. Stop a minute and think what this one word means to us in connection with the new eight-hour law, which is to take effect March 4, 1908. If we give the best service possible our officials will have no kick coming, and why shouldn't this be done. I notice the boys on this division answer their calls promptly, but a good thing can always be made better, so let's give our whole attention to the work, as the better the conditions are the better the service should and will be. The new subject, "Telegraphers' Responsibility," which is to be taken up, will be one of great interest to all. One thing more which is of the greatest importance to us is, the "non list." Now that we have the smallest list on the system, let's try and cut it out entirely by the first of the year, and start in with a clear sheet.

The daily report of telegraphic business, which we are required to furnish, is an injustice to us, as it does not show one-fourth of the work we are required to do. It does not show the time we are responsible for orders on the table, and other things of a similar character, which are too numerous to mention. We do not mean to criticize or dictate, but we simply want justice.

There have been very few changes on the division this month.

The telegraph office at Shenandoah Junction has been moved to the Junction switch, which will be a great help to all concerned.

Bro. Spedden, at Shepherdstown, was off on the sick list for about ten days a short time ago, being relieved by Bro. Wise. Bro. Bender is doing the relief act on second trick.

Bro. Bender is now on third trick at Shenandoah, while Bro. Davis is taking a vacation. Understand Bro. Fix is working second trick.

Bro. Myers, at St. James, was off a short time ago a few days, being relieved by a man named Shank.

There were several jobs on the bulletin a short time ago. Don't know who the lucky ones will be.

We hear Bros. Melton and Painter answering the call in "UD" office now.

We have a fine set of boys in the dispatcher's office now. Bro. Waddy, first trick; Bro. Kyle, second, and Bro. Bickers, third.

Well, guess space is getting short, so I had better ring off. J. M. W.

Norfolk Division--

I had hoped to give this end of the division a good write-up this month, news among the boys, etc., but having my hands full of work, have not had the time to get any local information. It is gratifying to note that the most of our men are coming up with their "dough" for their present term; however, a good many are yet in arrears, which should not be the case. Would you let your house rent or grocery bill run for three to five months? I dare say not. Yet you'll allow your dues in the organization to go to the last "pinch," although this is the source from which your better working conditions, better salary, pleasant vacation, etc., comes. Brothers, let's be manly and come up with our dues, which is the most vital part of our organization.

We still have some nons on this end; in fact, more than we have had for some time. Remember, personal effort is the only remedy at a reduction. Don't sit back and think, "Well, the other fellow will look after this," but get "interested" and say, "I'll get to work myself," and get all in that are worthy to become members, and I want to add here that too much stress can not be laid on the word "worthy," for we want the standard to be raised so that being a member of the Order of Railroad Telegraphers will mean competent men, able to do the work assigned to them at any point.

We are much pleased to see the new signals being installed, which does away with "climbing the pole." We now have the new train order signal in all offices west of Lynchburg, and I understand also a good many, if not all, east of Lynchburg. We also have two towers with automatic signals at Bonsack and Ironville, which are three trick positions; the automatic block signals are also in operation between Roanoke and a point one mile east of Irving. We understand this form of block signal will be pushed through to Forest as quickly as possible.

We have not heard from the Bluefield meeting, but know it was well attended, and that Bro. Atkins was on hand to deliver his address, "Telegraphers' Responsibility."

Bro. Nesbitt, who has been doing the relief act for last few months, bid in third trick Barkeville, relieving Bro. Thomason, who in turn took the day trick at Scott, Bro. Williams, from the P. & R., working nights Scott.

Bro. Roberts on sick list; relieved by Bro. White, from Scioto Division.

Bro. Powers, of Tuggle, has left the service; relieved by Mr. Dooley. R. E. M.

The following committee was appointed on resolutions by Bro. Lane recently: W. A. Nesbitt, T. C. Woodson and J. W. Graham, and the following drafted and adopted:

IN MEMORIAM.

WHEREAS, God, in His infinite wisdom has removed from our midst our esteemed brother, Goode Clay, and while submitting humbly to the will of Him who doeth all things well, and through love; be it

Resolved, That in the death of Bro. Clay Division 14 has lost one of its most loyal members, the family an affectionate son and brother, and the community a good citizen; be it further

Resolved, That Division 14 extend to the bereaved family its deepest sympathy in this their great sorrow; that a copy of these resolutions be sent the family, and a copy sent to THE TELEGRAPHER for publication.

Mo. Pac. Ry.

L. & S. N. & M. and Interstate Division—

Bro. Willard Pullins, formerly of Butler nights, has landed the night job at "X," Nevada.

Bro. W. F. Lyle, of Foster, is a new member in October.

Bro. R. I. Malone took a short lay-off, being relieved by Mr. Tiffany.

Bro. Roy Chistel, Chetopa days, also took a short vacation; relieved by Mr. Frank Schneider, lately from the C. & A.

Our boys have been donating liberally to the petition of Bro. H. Ruble Clark, whose appeal was printed in the September TELEGRAPHER.

Bro. Harry Strohl, of Mile, took a short lay-off, being relieved by Bro. or Mr. Sherpy, we could not say which, as transfer is being made at this writing.

With the first gust of the eight-hour breeze that swept over the State of Missouri last summer came the "Lamar School of Telegraphy."

That the project was a howling success is attested to by the astonishing fact that the "Professor" got thirteen "victims" to start with. Now the number has dwindled down to three. Where the other ten "polished artists" went to, we do not know; we have never heard of them since. One brother has suggested that their presence might announce itself were we to drive along some of our country roads some day and listen to the ears of corn falling into the wagons. That would be the next thing to the click of the telegraph instrument. One of the newspapers now announces that the "Professor" has purchased a poolroom outfit, and will move it over and run it in connection with his "ham factory."

CORRESPONDENT.

Northern Kansas Division—

TO MY BROTHER MEMBERS:

I regret to announce that I am being compelled to give up my office as Local Chairman on this territory, and have placed my resignation in the hands of General Chairman, Bro. Nance, to take effect with the expiration of the first year of my two-year term, for which I was chosen. I have enjoyed the work, and have only one regret to express and that is, that the boys have seemingly been loathe to place grievances. When you have a kick coming, put it in your Local Chairman's hands. That is what he is for. The average Local Chairman enjoys this grievance work, and I claim to have been no exception. I am glad of the chance to start them into the mill, and be of service to the boys so far as my authority goes.

I want to thank all for the support you have given me, but in the matter of news items I want to bespeak for my successor more good fortune than has been mine. Some few come across every month, but the greater number have yet to be heard from. The Local Chairman is just like any other agent or operator; has his regular duties to perform, and his O. R. T. work is crowded in edgeways. Let every one of us contribute an item or two that we think would interest, and let my successor have the banner write-up, not only for old 31 but for the whole of the journal.

In the matter of donations and petitions that I have started out for the relief of unfortunate members, I have only words of praise. As for the first month's increase which our General Committee has asked us to donate to the heavy expenses they were compelled to incur, only part of you have responded. Let all of us get our names on the roll by January 1st, to which time the committee has extended it.

By the time this is in print my successor will, no doubt, have been appointed, and whoever he is I trust he will receive the same loyal support that has been accorded me. Thanking you all, I am,

Fraternally,

C. V. ROWZ.

Central Kansas Division—

G. W. McGuire, recently from Indiana, is agent at Wagstaff, Kansas, now.

G. S. Reginold, from Marquette, recently changed places with Bro. F. S. Bethurem, from Osage City.

E. W. Arnold, a C. T. U. A. man, working nights at Herington.

Bro. C. R. Bowman, recently "bumped" from Ottawa, is the night man at Gypsum City.

Bro. H. A. Miller is acting as agent and operator at Kipp. Mrs. Miller is away on a visit.

A man by name of Adams is the day man at Salina.

Bro. J. Swayne is working days at Hoisington. Bro. Swayne came from Gypsum City recently. Bro. Aletts resigned; think he is going on the Rock Island.

Bro. F. W. Van Wie is acting as agent and operator at Bucyrus. CORRESPONDENT.

Sedalia District—

Bro. J. J. Glynn is back at his old stand, Kirkwood nights, after being off about two months, having just recovered from a severe illness.

Two new positions opened on this division the past month, a day operator at Valley Park and a night office opened at Eureka.

Bro. G. E. Cromer, formerly of Pacific, gets the day job at Valley Park, and Bro. J. J. Glynn, Jr., who has been at Kirkwood during his father's absence, is holding down the night job at Eureka.

Bro. Cromer was relieved at Pacific by Bro. Corzine, new man on the line.

The boys at Webster Groves are delighted with the new passenger depot, which is nearing completion. It is a handsome structure of red brick with white stone trimmings, and all modern. The old depot is to be used for freight exclusively, and we understand the wires are to be cut in the freight office, so that Bro. Percy Harrison will not become rusty.

Bro. Dickerson, days at Pacific, has purchased a Vibroplex, and will no doubt make the boys shake their feet under the table when he gets on.

Bro. Cole, agent Boles, has returned after a thirty-days' leave of absence.

Bro. Kramer, agent Osage, laying off; relieved by a Mr. Smith. I have not learned yet which one of the Smiths.

Mr. Dornan, formerly at Bunceton, secured agency Labadie, relieving Bro. Brewington, who goes to Morrison nights.

Bro. Voss, day operator New Haven, is relieving Mr. Callicott as agent, and in turn is relieved by Bro. Joe Ford as operator.

Bro. Frillman, nights at Berger, is taking leave of absence, and is being relieved by a man named Hunt. Have not got a line on Hunt yet.

Bro. Joe Ford is being relieved as night operator at New Haven by Bro. Taffinger.

Wm. McClellan, an old Order man, is now working nights at Dundee.

Bro. Morris, day man at Lee's Summit, and Bro. Hoban, night man at Pleasant Hill, have swapped jobs.

Bro. Clawson, agent Strasburg, was off a few days account death of his mother. He was relieved by Bro. Eberhardt.

Bro. Logan, nights at Warrensburg, has resigned, and we understand he has secured employment with the Union Pacific.

Bro. Barnett, day man at Tipton, was off a few days, being relieved by night man, Bro. Williams, who was relieved by Bro. Eberhardt.

Bro. I. D. Kretser and wife, of Leal, N. D. visited relatives and friends in Kingsville and Holden in October.

Bro. J. K. Hobbs has secured the night position at Warrensburg on bulletin.

Bro. C. E. Stemmons, agent Houstonia, taking thirty days, being relieved by Bro. W. H. Hadwin, formerly at Kingsville.

Bro. C. C. Bair is working days at the yard office, Sedalia.

Bro. C. A. Weitzel, days at Pleasant Hill, was off few days, being relieved by G. C. Greenup.

Bro. Morris, nights at Pleasant Hill, was off few days account sickness, and was relieved by Bro. Gunn.

Bro. C. DeMier, agent Arcadia, Mo., visited relatives in Holden first week in November.

Bro. W. F. Thomas, night chief at "DA," Sedalia, is taking a few weeks off, and is being relieved by Bro. Jim Butler, Bro. Lampkin taking Jim's trick days, and Bro. Pelstring, of Lee's Summit, working the split trick.

Bro. Popplewell is relieving Bro. Pelstring at Lee's Summit.

Bro. D. L. Duden, agent Centretown, is taking a few days off; relieved by night operator, R. O. Herndon, who is relieved by Bro. I. A. Eberhardt.

Bro. W. T. Clifford is working nights at Little Blue, but understand Bro. Homan has bid in the place.

Also learn that Bro. Hadwin has secured the agency at Strasburg.

Bro. I. A. Davis, regular agent Little Blue, and who has been in the hospital for several months, is still unable to resume duty.

New man at Lupus nights, Bro. S. H. Boosh, of Division 6.

Bro. Crockett, day operator Boonville, was off two weeks in November; relieved by Bro. J. E. Farrell, regular night man.

Unable to secure much news from River Division this month, as the boys kept their movements very quiet, and business has been so heavy that I have not had time to even try and get the news.

Bro. W. H. Davis is working in dispatcher's office Jefferson City, they having put on another man account heavy business.

Bro. Daniel Haley working extra at Bonnot's Mill.

Bro. Lessell is holding down the agency at St. Aubert.

Bro. Snoody, of the Frisco, worked as agent Bonnot's Mill few weeks. W. L. W.

St. L., I. M. & S. Ry.L. and A. Division—

J. E. Back, days at "GR,"

Bro. A. J. Davis, a C. T. U. of A. man, is holding the night job at "GR." He holds an up-to-date O. R. T. card also.

New office opened at Urania, and Tullas closed. Henderson transferred to Urania.

Georgetown will be open for bids as agent and operator. J. M. Pace, the present incumbent, resigning.

O. K. Mayo holding days at "BD."

L. & A. Railway has a new agent at Georgetown now. Can't say how long he will stay.

All boys on this division looking forward to the $75.00 minimum and eight-hour day.

Northern Pacific Ry.First District, Pasco Division—

Now that we again have a schedule, things have started to move along the proper channel. Our first meeting, held at Pasco, November 21, was very successful, there being twenty members in attendance. This is a very good showing for the first time, and, considering the good feeling and benefit received, there is no question but that the attendance will be increased at each succeeding meeting.

Bro. Sam Johnson, General Chairman, was with us, and gave us a very interesting talk on Good of the Order, which was appreciated by all present. After a few interesting remarks by Bros. Sharpe, Davis, Larabee, DuBois and Burfield, the discussion became general. The members decided to hold meetings the first and third Thursdays of each month. If it wasn't beyond expression, I would tell you more of the pleasures in store for you, but as it is, you will have to attend and see for yourself.

The following are the changes, as I have them, since the last write-up:

Bros. DuBois and Wheeler have traded positions, and will change in a few days. Bro. Wheeler wishes to get the light job at Kline on account of poor health.

Mr. King has been transferred from Ritzville to some place on the W. & C. R. Bro. O'Neil now Ritzville, nights.

Mr. Gardner transferred from Beatrice to Cheney, nights, temporarily, until position is filled by bulletin.

Mr. and Mrs. Johnson have returned from their vacation, and are at work at Concord again.

Bro. Shoemaker transferred to North Yakima, days.

Mr. Lipton has been elected to fill the vacancy at Essigg, nights.

Bro. Fanning took day job at Lind, relieving Mr. Langlois, who is on a lay-off.

Bro. Wright took a business trip to Pasco the first of the month; being relieved by Mr. Gardner.

Bro. J. W. Hoffman off two weeks on account of sickness, but is now back at the old stand.

Bro. Roush, recently from the O., R. & N., has taken the night job at Emery.

Mr. Nance, former agent and operator at Mesa, has been transferred to Connel as day operator. While Bro. Eaton, former day operator at Connel, has taken the agency at Mesa.

Mr. Hamilton has returned to his old job at Cunningham as agent. "13" he tried to get his son in at Cunningham as day operator over older heads, but the chief could not see it that way. And still they wonder what the Order is good for.

Bro. Webber, from the St. Paul Division, at Mesa, nights.

We are glad to note that Bro. Kelley is over the small-pox, and back at his old place, Eltopia.

Mr. Pence, who was relieving there during Kelley's illness, is now sick with the same disease.

Business was at a standstill at Eltopia for two or three days on account of quarantine of the office.

Bro. Gagnon, of North Yakima, now at "PA" office, Pasco.

Mr. Crooks, chief dispatcher, has been on the sick list for a couple of weeks, but is back at work again.

Mr. Kase, night chief, was holding down the day job during Mr. Crooks' illness.

Bro. O'Conner says business is pretty heavy nowadays; changing of operators being the cause.

Bro. Larabee takes Toppenish, days.

Mr. Simonton, who has been in the East visiting relatives, has returned to his old job, days at Mabton, and Bro. Freeman, who has been relieving him, went to Wins, nights.

Bro. Henry, of North Yakima, is leaving this division.

Second District, Pasco Division—

Kennewick, Mr. J. L. Hawthorne, days, recently from Wapato, and Mr. Chas. M. Bryan, from the B. & O.

Mr. and Mrs. Duggan, of Eric, have been on a vacation for five weeks, and Mrs. Duggan has not resumed work yet. Mr. O. R. Miller, who was relieving Mr. Duggan, has gone to the W. C. Railway.

Bro. Lawrence, of Kiona, has had a severe sick spell, and was at the Tacoma hospital, but is getting fat now.

Mabton, Mr. W. W. Simonton, days, who has been away for six weeks, back in Michigan, visiting the old home and friends.

Bro. W. W. Beatty is back on the night shift again after relieving the agent for a month.

I am very thankful for the assistance received from the boys, and hope they keep it up, and let me know what is doing on their division. Address C. C. Bricher, Cunningham, Wash.

Drv. Cor.

Pacific Division—

The meeting at Tacoma, Sunday, November 17th, was not quite as well attended as was expected on account of train No. 15 being late making it hard for several members to get back in time for their work. One consolation which everybody can have, is the nine-hour law will soon be in effect, and we will not have to stick our one partner for twenty-four hours every time we wish to attend a meeting. All those present at the Tacoma meeting enjoyed the day, the four-hour meeting, a chicken dinner, the evening shows; everything ending up with an O. R. T. special taking the attendants from Kanaskat to Lemolo on account of No. 16 being blocked by wreck of Nos. 2 and 5.

We are expecting a better attendance at the meeting Sunday, November 24th, at Lester.

Complaints are constantly heard from each night operator at Ravensdale. There being too much station work. Reckon everybody on the Pacific Division know how it is. Agent Goodhue, at this place, being too busy teaching telegraphy to his helper, to share the overflowing station work with the night operators.

Bro. F. C. Rockway, at Auburn, is still looking for the "V" he loaned to E. P. Newton, the notorious non who worked at Lester. Why not stick to your motto: "No card, no favors?"

The raffle for the benefit of the C. T. U. of A. strikers was delayed by out-standing tickets until the strike was almost called off. The amount remitted was $30. The total receipts for tickets sold being $48; $18 being paid for the gun. Winner of same being Mrs. E. J. Bassett, of Weston.

Not very many changes have been made this month. Mr. Hall being transferred from Kennedy to Lemolo, nights. His vacancy being filled by Mr. Mounce.

W. T. Lewis and R. B. Graham now working at Hot Springs and Borup, both holding up-to-date C. T. U. of A. cards. They have promised to transfer into the O. R. T. within a short time.

Bro. Shiels laying off for a couple of weeks. His place at Lester being filled by Mr. W. H. Ashton.

F. W. Brown has returned to our division after some months' work in sawmills at Seattle.

With the exception of the branches we will have the Pacific Division almost solid by February 1, 1908.

Bro. E. C. Hannan, from Division 76, worked on our division for a short time, leaving for the South on account of very poor health.

E. A. Crooks, chief dispatcher Pasco Division, spent a few weeks with the Pacific Division boys, going home with a nice deer.

The agents at Eagle Gorge and Covington have been assigned to do the telegraphing with the regular agent's work, cutting out day operator and making it agent-operator jobs. The nine-hour law will provide these places with the third man before very long.

Things are beginning to look quite bright on this division. The hard workers are exerting themselves and getting things in good shape for the January meeting, which is to be chiefly confined to shorter hours in our schedule. SLIM.

Yellowstone Division—

Information blanks are being sent out by the general secretary regarding the nine-hour law, for the use of the General Committee in January.

These should be answered promptly and fully, and the membership should make up their mind to back the committee to the fullest extent. The settlement will all depend on the men. If you are willing to take a decrease in salary at the time the hours are shortened, well and good. On the other hand, if you don't want it and will stand by your committee, you will not get any reduction in pay.

It is time to remit for the next term's dues. This should be given immediate attention. If you pay up promptly it will save every one extra work, and you should be anxious to have the new card as soon as possible.

Four new members since last write-up. Have met with a non or two who told me, "Because we did not get them a 10 per cent increase in September" they would not join. The nerve of some people is enough to take your breath, want $10 for $1 and want to get the $10 first.

It is possible that the telegrapher on the Northern Pacific would be receiving a decrease in pay at this time, along with the laying off of extra gangs, helpers, and the reducing of pay of section men, if we did not have a schedule. Four months ago this could have been done, and we could have done nothing but stand for it or quit, now our conditions can not be changed without thirty days' notice, and our being a party to the change.

Before another write-up will appear the General Committee will be in session, and, possibly, will have settled up. There is no need of anyone being afraid of trouble, unless they themselves care to make it. Every member should give the committee their loyal support, and no criticism against the settlement when it is made.

To those on the Yellowstone who have not yet remitted for the special assessment, please do so. Do not let the secretary call upon you again for it, remit for the next term's dues now, and have your new card by the New Year.

With best wishes for a Merry Christmas,

M. A. Smoot, Local Chairman.

Montana Division—

Gee, it's great to be crazy. Two of the gentlemen that were crazy enough to scab during our last strike have been fired bodily off of this division since our last write-up. No tears were shed. If they had only been good Order men we could have, at least, felt sorry for them. May the good work continue until we have a solid line-up. Then, instead of a few offices getting a raise occasionally, we could all get a lift and get it regularly.

Wish I could get a line-up of the "BG" office. Am sure there are some up-to-dates in that office, as their work shows they are good men and a good, all-round man generally has a sufficient amount of energy to get in the fight.

Foster is now opened up. Understand Farnsworth, from Livingston, is doing the day work. Unable to learn name of night man.

H. W. Minning has returned to his old love, Laurel.

Bro. J. A. Cook returns to the old battlefield at Columbus. Bro. Cook was one of the faithful that stepped down and out, a few years ago, in order to help along the noble Order. But for such men as Cook we would be working for $40 per. If we had thousands like him we would pull down $100 per twelve times a year.

Bro. Anderson has been on the sick list for a short time, but will soon be pounding the brass again.

Two good jobs have lately opened up in "N," Livingston yard office. Was glad to hear Bro. R. R. Skippers there for a few nights. Unable to say who relieved him.

Understand Bro. Little is now doing the big flourish at Chestnut days.

We were all glad to see Bro. Jeffers land the agency at Lombard.

Wake up, brothers, and give me the news. Other roads think we are in the dark. Let's get a good, big write-up each month, and show them that we mean business.

H. F. Edwards goes from Laurel nights to M. U. Transfer nights.

P. A. Huntley, recently nights at Park City, is now visiting his sister in Townsend.

J. F. Ogle, from cashier at Bozeman to Manhattan nights.

Everly, from Columbus nights to Welch nights.

In closing, would like to impress upon all the importance of thorough organization. It was very tiresome to hear some of the nons chewing the rag in regard to the last settlement made with the management. Did you ever stop to think who paid the expenses and kept the committee up while they were in St. Paul the last time. Just the few faithful members that met their special assessments promptly. I have yet to hear a single brother complain. They, one and all, think the committee did exceedingly well. Get in line and push. You can't saw wood with a hammer. Take the scrip, pull the sugar beets, boost the Order and lasso the nons.

Now, boys, for the sake of us all get busy. Fall in line. Hand over the cash. Give the committee some encouragement, so they can talk an eight-hour day and $75 minimum, and realize that they have an army of good, true soldiers back of them.

Bro. Holmes, requests me to allow my name to be used as a candidate for local chairman of this division. I rather object to this, as there are plenty of men on the line that have five times as much time and ten times as many brains, and I would rather they would handle it. Yet, if it comes to a showdown, I will not shirk my duty.

With the best wishes for you, one and all,

Yours fraternally,

E. C. SKINNER.

Minnesota Division—

Bro. J. D. Porter transferred from Gregory nights to Becker.

Mr. G. W. Staples, from Becker nights to Gregory nights.

T. C. Hampson, days at Royalton, resigned to go elsewhere; relieved by E. McKinzie, from Rice's, nights.

Telegrapher Hultgren, from Royalton nights to Rice's nights.

A. E. Caryl, from Gregory nights to Swanville, as helper; from there to Elk River nights, relieving Operator Bailey, who goes home.

Agent Brown, at Philbrook, has a girl student who is paying him $5 per month. She knows as much as he does now.

The man at Randall who scabbed has a helper in charge of the office most of the time. Remember this when either "RD" or "PO" calls you, brothers.

Most of the helpers have been laid off to cut down expenses.

Mr. Taylor, former agent at Lincoln, at one time a member, now at Glenwood nights for the Soo Line.

I think if we had a few meetings we could make things more solid.

Eastern Crossing has been changed to Coon Creek, and Coon Creek abandoned.

Our committee will soon meet the management to consider a new schedule, and we want a good one, with the nine-hour law. Tie a board to your back to make it stiff and stick, that we won't stand for any cut in our pay the 4th of March.

Think of it, brothers, the section foremen draw $60 per month, and the railroad company wants to cut us down two-elevenths per day. I'd rather do something else before I'd stand for it. Talk it over with your next door neighbor. Don't be weak-kneed.

IN MEMORIAM.

WHEREAS, The Almighty God has deemed it wise to remove from our midst Bro. I. E. Etling, therefore, in memory to our brother, who has been taken from us, and in sympathy to the bereaved family, be it

Resolved, By the members of the Yellowstone Division, Northern Pacific Railroad, Division No. 54, Order of Railroad Telegraphers, that we extend to the members of the family of the deceased brother our heartfelt sympathy, and commend them to Him who doeth all things well, and who will comfort them in this, their dark hour of sorrow; be it further

Resolved, That in the death of Bro. I. E. Etling, Yellowstone Division of the Northern Pacific Railroad, Division No. 54, of the Order of Railroad Telegraphers, loses a true and faithful member, and the wife a loving husband; be it also

Resolved, That a copy of these resolutions be sent the family of the deceased brother, a copy spread upon the minutes of this division, and a copy forwarded to THE TELEGRAPHER for publication.

Pere Marquette Ry.

Canadian Division—

In all successful moves there must be agitators and enthusiasts. Why the lack of interest in the Order of late by the members of the System Division 39, so perceptibly noticed since the inauguration of our last schedule? During the pending of the schedule every one seemed fired with enthusiasm, but since it has become effective, not a sound is heard. We received a very good schedule. Our committee did the best they could under the circumstances, and headed us toward our goal—the $75.00 minimum. On account of the lack of interest shown by the members, the provisions of the schedule are not enforced. There is also a spirit of satisfaction prevalent among the boys, who, after they have joined themselves, do not realize that it is necessary to secure new members. We hope the boys will now realize that it is essential that vacancies made by resigning operators must be filled by members, or we can not expect to secure any advance in our working conditions. Some of the boys are actually working with nons, and seem to be making no effort whatever to secure their membership. It is sincerely hoped that before our next schedule is in effect that each one will make it their particular business to get after the nons on the division and secure a 100 per cent membership as a Xmas present for the general manager.

Bro. A. L. Wees has resigned his position on the system, and is holding down Streetsville Junction agency on the C. P. R. When last heard from he was wearing a pleasant smile over the 14 per cent increase.

Bro. J. E. Marshall, formerly of London, nights, is holding down Streetsville Junction, nights, with Bro. A. L. Wees.

W. H. Stephenson, agent at Blenheim, has returned from his vacation.

Operator L. Livingston is back on day trick again. Bro. J. Dowling back nights.

Bro. C. Mitchell, of Leamington, has returned from his two weeks' vacation in Cincinnati and other cities.

Bro. M. Maher is holding down Rodney during Bro. Young's vacation.

Bro. W. Krahling, of Sarnia, was at Wallaceburg Saturday and Sunday attending his brother's wedding.

Telegrapher W. J. Hall is back at his old job at "LE" station again.

Telegrapher W. Peacock is now working nights at West Lorne, relieving Telegrapher B. Smith, who is going to relieve Telegrapher Casey at the new yards. Casey has accepted a position with the Metropolitan Insurance Company.

Bro. Young has returned from a two weeks' vacation in Detroit, Port Huron and at home.

Bro. S. R. Begg spent two or three enjoyable days in Buffalo last week.

Bro. Geo. Demare, Sarnia branch dispatcher, spent a week's vacation in Buffalo and other Eastern cities.

The G. T. R. have placed two college students at Chatham Junction. Their average is fifteen words an hour, so you had better mail your telegrams to Chatham in the future.

S. Tillson, formerly day telegrapher at Chatham Junction, is learning station work with Bro. Maher at Rodney.

Bro. H. Plastow has been appointed extra dispatcher at "RA."

Bro. G. Purcell, of Walkerville Junction, was in St. Thomas for a few days' visit.

Conductor S. F. Pierce, the veteran conductor on No. 12 and 13, has again returned to work.

We have a couple more in view. They will have to dig up cash right away, as we need them.

Yours until next month,

PAT AND MIKE.

Petoskey Division—

Telegrapher D. E. Bird, nights at White Cloud, has been off sick for about ten days. He is now back at work.

Agent H. E. Keehne goes to Henry to relieve Bro. D. R. Rensberger for a short time.

Agent J. R. Delray has been checked in at Dublin.

Bro. Raymond Burr, agent at Central Lake, called home on account of the death of his father; relieved by Bro. M. E. Dennison.

Bro. Hutchinson, Kaleva, off a few days digging potatoes on his farm.

Operator Cunningham, formerly nights at Boardman, dispatcher's office, accepted the agency at Interlochen, and is now unable to get relief on account of the scarcity of men.

Agent H. B. Green, Stratford, resigned. B. M. Foote takes his place.

Chicago Division—

Bro. B. J. Sherlock is back from the West, after an absence of several months. He is now at Waverly, nights.

Telegrapher Fairclothes, of the C. T. U. of A., who has been working at Waverly, nights, for the past two months, has returned to his old job on the board of trade, Chicago.

Bro. J. Rea, McDonald, has gone to the big woods to hunt deer; relieved by Relief Agent Frank Townsend.

Agent J. J. Olney, Holton, off on a short vacation; relieved by Bro. C. L. Carpenter, of Dublin.

Agent R. V. Becker, White Hall, back at work, after two weeks off.

Bro. Booth, Wellsboro, called to Bay City on account of the sickness of his father.

Bro. J. H. Maxam, East Saugatuck, nights, off a few days on account of sickness; relieved by Mr. Stockwood, a student from Hartford.

Agent C. B. Tucker, Mears, off two weeks; relieved by Relief Agent Hendricks.

Telegrapher V. C. Snyder, who worked in Grand Rapids, "GR" office, nights, for the past eight months, accepted position with the A. P. at St. Joseph, Mo., during the recent trouble. Mr. Snyder was not an O. R. T. man.

Bro. O. R. Ackerman, now at "GR," nights. "GR" office now solid O. R. T., with one exception.

I regret to say that Bro. Gamble, formerly located at St. Joseph, days, as telegrapher and ticket clerk, and Telegrapher Etchason, day man at Benton Harbor, have started a "ham factory" at Benton Harbor. They have issued cards, and expect to land enough suckers so that they can retire from railroad work. Mr. Gamble was recently discharged from St. Joe on account of ticket accounts not straight, and we all felt sorry for him, but he can not expect any sympathy in this new venture. We can not understand why these men do this, but we assure them that we will not forget them.

With the editor's permission I would like to call the brothers' attention to our present schedule. We are not living up to this schedule as we should. I notice that there are several offices on the Chicago and Petoskey Divisions which are not shown in the schedule as stations at which "all day service is required on Sunday," who are not putting in overtime for Sunday work. Do you not know that some of your neighbors are drawing from forty-eight to sixty hours per month more than you are, and not doing any more work for it? Can it be that some of you do not need the money? Or are you trying to kill our chances of a better schedule next time, as that is just what you are doing. If your station is not shown under this list and you are compelled to work Sundays, you can draw overtime for every hour worked. This applies to night men as well as to day men, and not only day men, as some of the brothers seem to think. Another thing is the rule which says, "When permanent vacancies occur, or new positions are created, they shall be bulletined and the oldest man applying shall be given preference." Some of the brothers complain that this rule is not lived up to by the company, which is true. If you know of a position that is vacant and it is not bulletined according to our agreement, then take the matter up at once and ask to have them bulletined. It is your duty to see that this schedule is lived up to, and you should insist that the company does live up to it. If we have a rule that is not lived up to, then we had better enforce it or have it struck out altogether. We can hardly expect the management to give us a better schedule if we do not take advantage of the one we have. Help yourself, your brother telegrapher and your committee by living up to your schedule.

Respectfully dedicated to the former friends who have started in business at Benton Harbor:

Say, you guy, git off de walk,
Shut up, doan gib me no back talk;
Wat' t'ell I care if you run a school,
You look to me lak a crazy fool.

Benton Harbor, that whar yer from,
Yer a blot on de town, worse dan a bum;
Skiddoo fer you, you homely mug,
You oto be canned up in a jug.

Yer pards named Gamble, wot from Grand Ledge,
Well, wouldn't dat make a hedge-hog hedge;
And your 'teachin' guys to telegraf,
Wouldn't dat make de debil laff?

Well, you two guys sure take de cake,
If yer wasn't so small yer face I'd break;
You couple of frozen-up, hungry stiffs,
Doan ever give me none of yer lip.

If I owned a dog as mean as dat,
I'd lose de ting shootin' crap;
Shoot the thing, I should say not,
Won't have the nerve to waste the shot.

On such a measly cur as that.
And so you guys used to telegraf;
Well, even the debil gets his due,
And you'll get all dat's comin' to you.

Why, up in de Rapids you guys dayd lynch,
Deyd do it sure, it's a dead game cinch;
Your carcass they'd hang from de nearest tree,
And "Don't touch it, just leave it be."

"It's a guy from de Harbor, that's turned right down,
A bunch of fellows in every town;"
Dey won't even take them down,
The thing would be too rotten to put in de ground.

You fellers are great, you are, by gee!
Yer nearly a gud as a yallah Chinee;
Why, you homely, blue-faced, pig-eyed skunk,
Yer too cussed mean to throw in de dump.

Never had no use for a white-livered guy,
Dey don't belong under our blue sky;
Dey oto be sunk in de sea of ink,
And left to rot and stink, stink, stink.

Saginaw Division—

Bro. Louis Walter, who has been working for Western Union in Detroit up to the strike, is now doing the owl trick at Pine River, "V," on Detroit & Mackinac Ry.

CERT. 297.

N. Y. C. & St. L. Ry.

To Members of the N. Y. C. & St. L. Div. No. 18:

Brothers—Our superintendent of telegraph advises that the rule covering the advertising of positions will be continued in force indefinitely.

The principal objection to granting this rule in the past, is the amount of work it throws on the chief dispatcher. Now, that we have the rule, it behooves us, while insisting that the provisions of same be carried out, to make the work as light as possible for the chief dispatcher.

Before this reaches you, a notice will have been sent out by the officers of your division, calling upon all members to send a report of conditions at his office, and other information, to local chairman of the district on the last day of each month, so that the General Committee will be in close touch with the work at all times. Please devote ten or fifteen minutes to this write-up each month.

Our division is a banner one, and your committee is determined to keep it in the front ranks. With your assistance it will be an easy matter to do this.

Continue to do your work well, brothers, so that complaints will not obstruct our progress. We want shorter hours and more compensation for our services, and we are going to get both. The surest way, however, to get these things is to pave the way by giving good service to the company, and adhere strictly to the principles of our organization.

In filing petitions for membership with the general secretary and treasurer, please refer the petition, for approval, to at least one member of the Local Board of Adjustment for the district on which the petitioner is located, in accordance with Section 82, page 86, System Division Statutes. Our local boards are composed of the following members:

First District—E. M. Mulcahy, chairman, 33 E. Courtney street, Dunkirk, N. Y.; H. W. Hazen, Silver Creek, N. Y.; C. W. Carlson, 56 Walter street, Buffalo, N. Y.

Second District—C. F. Mayer, chairman, 6816 Lawn avenue, Cleveland, Ohio; G. E. Brasington, 275 Slater avenue, Cleveland, Ohio; H. R. Kist, 2190 E. 84th street, Cleveland, Ohio.

Third District—C. W. Hudon, chairman, Payne, Ohio; F. F. Cowley, Mortimer, Ohio; J. E. Baker, 338 High street, Bellevue, Ohio.

Fourth District—O. S. Smith, chairman, Argos, Ind.; H. C. Wise, Knox, Ind.; D. L. Bunner, Hammond, Ind.

Yours fraternally,

E. M. MULCAHY, General Chairman.

First District—

Your correspondent is glad to be able to announce that since our last month's write-up the few non-members on this district are taking a deep interest in our organization, and the majority of them have already filed their applications.

Some of the neighboring lines are preparing for the March eight-hour regulation, and the work of installing the third man in several offices goes merrily on. To our knowledge, only one road in this territory has made a cut in wages. If they get men to take these jobs at reduced salary they will be very fortunate, indeed. I don't know of a man who can live on less salary than he received for the twelve hours' work, even if he works but six hours per day in the future.

Let every brother put his shoulder to the wheel at this critical time, and work for the organization as he never worked before, pay assessments and dues promptly, get the newcomers lined-up, and do everything possible to build up the Order.

At the election, held November 5, at Conneaut, Ohio, Bro. E. J. Parrish was elected mayor of the city by a rousing majority. Bro. Parrish has been twice elected to that office, which speaks well for his popularity with his townspeople. He has been a member of Division 18 for many years, and was chairman of our first General Committee, who was successful in getting the first schedule agreement with the company.

Bro. A. R. Mulkins is confined to the house with an injured leg, and on account of sickness in his family this misfortune strikes him doubly hard at this time.

Bro. J. J. Morrissey is relieving Bro. Mulkins at Silver Creek.

M. S. Dupernell has returned to the service. He is working at Northeast nights.

Bro. M. L. Russell was away for a short time, but is now back to work at Westfield.

Bro. E. H. Randell, agent at Springfield, has gone to California to spend the winter; relieved by his daughter, Mrs. Edna Chapman.

Bro. S. S. Brown left for his home in Georgia, about a month ago. We expect him back in the spring.

CERT. 6.

IN MEMORIAM.

WHEREAS, Almighty God has deemed it wise to remove from this world Agnes Wiser, wife of Bro. Henry Wiser, a member of N. Y. C. & St. L. Division, No. 18, Order of Railroad Telegraphers, in sympathy with our brothers and the bereaved family, be it

Resolved, By the members of Nickel Plate Division, No. 18, that we extend our heartfelt sympathy to Bro. Wiser and his family, and we commend them to Him who doeth all things well, and who will comfort them in this dark hour of sorrow; be it further

Resolved, That in the death of Mrs. Wiser, our brother loses a true and faithful companion and a loving wife; and be it

Resolved, That a copy of these resolutions be sent to Bro. Wiser, also placed on the record of the division, and a copy sent to THE TELEGRAPHER for publication.

Arkansas Division—

Bro. L. R. Cotney, formerly employed as "brick presser" at Grays, is now at DeVall's Bluff, regular, days.

Mr. James Roy, agent, Cotton Plant, was allowed an operator, effective November 1. Mr. L. N. Collier is filling the position. Understand Mr. Collier formerly worked at Alicia, Ark., on the Iron Mountain, and had filed his application for membership in the Order before leaving that road, and will be "jam up" as soon as he makes a pay-day.

Mr. James Roy, for several years agent at Cotton Plant, is going to leave the service of this company, to accept a position with the M., K. & T. Ry. of Texas. I do not feel that I am exaggerating by saying that every man on this (W. & B.) branch will be sorry to hear of Mr. Roy's leaving us, as he was a "dady" to all of us, and whenever we needed anything we always got it. In his new field it is our sincere wish that his every effort will be crowned with success, and if he should ever decide to return to us he will find that our latch-string is always hanging on the outside for him.

Bro. J. C. Brooks, formerly of Boonville and Little Rock, is now working days at Brinkley.

I respectfully ask our local chairman, Bro. Pace, to appoint some one on the east end of the main line, from Little Rock to Memphis, to act as assistant correspondent for that part of the division. I know there are happenings over there that we never get, and, no doubt, the boys would like to see something in the journal about themselves. If any one will volunteer to give me the news from over there it will give me pleasure to send it to the journal for publication, along with the other news. Address all matter in the way of news to P. J. Kelly, Howell, Ark.

Hot Springs Branch—

Bro. D. H. Nelms, from the Louisiana Division, is working at Germania.

Mr. Hart, former agent at Haskell, is relieving Bro. Nelms at Harrell.

Sister Bertha Shipp has resigned her position at "RK." Do not know where Sister Shipp intends to locate.

Mr. W. S. Gaunt, agent at Benton, has not sent for his card yet, but promises to get one in December.

Bro. Bragg is agent at Bauxite, relieving "Student" A. E. Jarvis.

I was in Little Rock Tuesday and visited the Keys' telegraph school, known now as the R. I. & I. M. Telegraph College. They have an Iron Mountain wire running in the office. While I was there the following conversation took place between the professor and myself: "Where is H. L. Ward now?" I asked. "We put him out to work on the Rock Island at Searcy," replied the professor. "About how long does it take to learn this business?" I asked. "Oh, ordinarily, about three months, but some get out at two months." Ward went to work at two months. We put him on the Rock Island at $85 per month."

Brothers, I know all about H. L. Ward going to work at $85 per month. When the company put on a night man here they sent Ward out here, and he told me that it was the first night's work he had ever done in the telegraph business. I had been on duty about forty hours, so I went home and left it with Mr. Ward. The dispatcher tried three hours before he could give Ward an order, and, finally, he got the order, but the dispatcher sent a message to the "light" engine that was to meet the train for which Ward took the order to be ready to unload at any time. Next night the dispatcher would not send him the order, and sent a message from Benton by a train crew to call the day man. I came down and the dispatcher asked me to stay the rest of the night. They sent another man out the next night. This place only pays $55. I had a letter from Ward the other day stating that he was only receiving $52.50 at Searcy. Ward is all right, though, and will get a card as soon as he learns to telegraph. He refused to scab at the Western Union or Postal. They both tried to get him.

West End—

Bro. Kisner has gone from Lonoke to Dodson, La. Hope to see him back soon.

Mr. J. J. Williams, agent at Magazine, reported ill; relieved by Bro. L. C. Allen, who will go to Perry as soon as relieved. Don't know where Mr. Dulin is going.

New night owl at Blue Mountain. Don't know whether he is up-to-date.

New night owl at Danville, N. H., Sommerville, from the I. C.; application filed.

New owl at Ola; unknown.

Mr. W. W. Infield is still holding down Ola days. We will get him to see the light and come in with us soon.

Bro. R. R. Wright, Casa, is thinking of leaving us. Understand he is going where it is high, dry and cold, Colorado. Hope he will not freeze.

Bro. J. R. Jones is holding down the Adona agency. He says he don't care to hang out there very long.

Bro. J. W. Simms is still at Houston.

Bro. R. P. Jones at Bigelow, "VN." He is a little behind with dues, but promises to line-up pay-day.

Bro. J. W. Golden is back at Roland after illness. Glad to see him back again.

Mr. M. P. Bargion and H. S. Smith are flagging trains at "MU." They don't pass any of 'em up.

A new office is going to be opened up at Galo-way. Instruments cut in. Think they are waiting until they can fool a brass-pounder out there.

Day and night offices opened at Mesa. Bro. T. J. Kane, days; Bro. W. D. Stanley, nights.

Applications received from C. N. Mabie, Lonoka; L. B. Allen, DeValls Bluff; M. J. Fitzgerald, and N. H. Sommerville, Danville, Ark.

We have a few nons left. Watch the list every time they are issued, you will see the nons getting scarce, and the other list (members) will have to be put on two pages. Brothers, work on them, send some non your journal every month, just as soon as you are through with it. There is good reading in it, they will see what they are missing, and send in their applications.

P. J. KELLY, Div. Cor.

Chicago Terminal and Illinois Divisions—

The newly organized lodge at Chicago, Room 638, McCoy's Hotel, was very well attended at both meetings held, November 9th and 16th. Officers elected and installed for the current term were:

Chief Telegrapher, L. C. Harrison.

First Vice-Chief Telegrapher, W. E. Washburn.

Second Vice-Chief Telegrapher, D. H. Andrews.

Secretary and Treasurer, W. F. Kay.

Marshall, C. E. Mardiss.

Inside Sentinel, E. E. Quigley.

Outside Sentinel, Walter Hood.

Past Chief Telegrapher, C. A. Calkins.

Bro. Dal Jones, Chief Telegrapher Division 91, was with us and aided us very greatly in the installation ceremonies, and was awarded a vote of thanks from all present. Bro. W. F. McDonald, Secretary and Treasurer of Division 91, also assisted; Bro. W. T. Brown, General Chairman Division No. 126, was also with us.

All brothers who were not present would regret not being there if they knew the good it does to attend one of these meetings. Everybody enthusiastic, and in a few more meetings our lodge rooms will likely be filled to the roof. Our lodge room is very conveniently located for brothers located on the line and wishing to make quick time from the meeting to the train.

Bro. Brown gave the Illinois Division great praise on our line-up. We stand at present the Banner Division of 126, Iowa Division next. To tell the facts, only three nons on the division to my knowledge. With the assistance of the rest of the brothers on the division we ought to make it solid, as all who are not up-to-date will get in line with the proper amount of coaching, so all put your shoulder to the wheel and work for the good of the Order.

Since our last write-up, the following have sent in their applications, and are now up-to-date good O. R. T. men:

L. F. Perry, day operator, Blue Island.
Robert Campbell, day operator, Stockdale.
E. R. Butterfield, night operator, Seneca.
W. J. Maloney, agent, Utica.
M. Klimick, day operator, Spring Valley.
D. E. Wilson, day operator, Peoria.
E. G. Roberts, day operator, Galva.
R. L. Rice, Geneseo, night operator.

Hugh Durdin, now day operator Washington Heights, relieved Bro. C. E. Mardias, transferred to South Chicago days.

Bro. E. R. Butterfield now working nights Seneca, account Bro. E. J. Koretz resigned.

Bro. Knapp, night operator Ottawa, got it on a bid. Bro. Rice transferred to Geneseo nights.

Bro. Diefendorf now boarding at Peru.

All honor is due Bro. Cooper for his heroic work while the depot at De Pue was burning. He rescued a barrel of pretzels, that's all.

Wyanet night telegraph office closed account electric block going in effect between Bureau & Sheffield. Am unable to say where Bro. Thomas has been transferred to.

Ross McGowan, second trick Silvis; Bro. Hill transferred to "RK" nights. Ross is an ex-member and will be with us soon.

Bro. C. R. Olson, agent Cambridge, off on vacation.

I would recommend that every O. R. T. man refer to pag: 1683 and read the paragraph entitled, "A Train Dispatcher," and be governed accordingly. I think it will bring results and our services would be more appreciated.

F. G. Weeks, our former chief, is now train-master on the Missouri Division.

I also want to say a word or two about meetings. I consider it the duty of each member to attend these meetings when in his power to do so. Don't shirk; you are hurting the good cause to some extent when you stay away.

Also, when you know of any change in operators drop your Local Chairman a note, and say if up-to-date or not. Any job that should be bulletined advise him, and in case any of you are entitled to overtime and don't get it, advise him, so that he may take it up and adjust. Whatever you do, don't be backward on keeping your Local Chairman posted as to what is doing, as he has as many duties as any other operator on the division and can not find out everything without assistance. In any event it is a thankless position.

We are still waiting patiently for the eight-hour law, to take effect March 4th, 1908, possibly before, if the companies see fit. I understand several of the roads are putting men on eight hours a day now in order to have a supply of men when it goes into effect.

Every one knows we need more money. Cost of living has actually gone up 25 to 40 per cent in the last year.

Notices of semi-annual dues are now out, and I would suggest that every member remit soon as possible, so as to be strictly up-to-date when the new cards are due. It also saves time, etc., if sent in now. CERT. 209.

Des Moines Valley Division—

Several changes have taken place within the past month.

Bro. Workman goes from Ware to Leighton, and is relieved at Ware by Mr. Parkins.

Bro. Copp, of Royal, is off on a vacation. He expects to return the last of this month, and is being relieved by Mr. F. M. Fitzgerald.

O. B. McNammie is now the agent at Keokuk, and is putting in his time fighting the Wabash. Rock Island, Interstate Commerce Commission and other things too numerous to mention.

The first cold snap of the season caught many of the north end boys out of coal, and the way they boarded the passing freights for that necessity of life wasn't slow.

Bro. Ramsey made a hurry-up trip to Fort Dodge November 7th, on account of being subpoenaed by the M. & St. L. in a law suit. Had to leave his station in charge of a non-telegrapher on account of no operators available.

Although members of our sister Order, the C. T. U. of A., have returned to work without securing any of the concessions asked for, they have, in a way, won a victory. They have gained the admiration of all the labor organizations, and go back to work practically as strong as they went out. And in the future should they decide to again strike for their rights and liberties it is very doubtful if the big telegraph companies would allow it, but, instead, will treat with them as they should have done in this case, because the past strike has been a very disastrous one for them in more ways than one. It is one that will be felt by them for years.

A meeting of the Des Moines Valley Division telegraphers was held at the K. P. Hall, in Sibley, Saturday evening, November 23d. The meeting was presided over by Local Chairman Brokaw. General Chairman Brown was present, and gave much information in regard to O. R. T. matters in general. Everything running in fine shape, and everybody satisfied.

Bros. Gaunt and Stevenson represented the Dakota Division.

By the time these items appear in print we expect to be holding regular meetings at Sibley, and have all officers elected and installed. These meetings are always intensely interesting, and the boys on the Sibley Line always favor us with their presence, if possible to do so.

Wonder why we do not see any notes from the Dakota Division in these columns? Surely there is plenty of good O. R. T. material up that way. Get busy. CERT. 695.

St. Louis Division—

Bro. H. G. Chalfant, agent at Versailles, has returned to his work after a vacation.

Bro. I. B. Lakin is again in the saddle at Freeburg.

Bro. Louis Middleton has been assigned the agency at Hadsell.

Bro. F. A. Schroeder has bid in the agency at Nay.

Bro. W. L. Bonnett has been assigned to the agency at Denton.

Bro. F. Kendall has left the line to accept employment with the Missouri Pacific.

K. A. Harris has returned to his work at Brandon, after a vacation of thirty days.

F. Slaughter was sent to Clayton to relieve Agent W. A. Melton for a few weeks.

J. M. Campbell assigned the agency at Bowen, did not settle down there.

New man at Bowen named Pendervill.

Announcement has been made that Mr. G. L. Rowe is appointed chief dispatcher and division operator, effective November 24, 1907, vice Mr. K. F. Jaynes, assigned to other duties.

Bro. C. G. Russler is back at the old stand at Beaufort after a short vacation. Bro. Emmett Smith, who relieved him, accompanied Mrs. Smith home to Trenton on account of sickness.

Bro. C. N. Mennell, agent at Greenwood, is away on a vacation visiting friends in Cincinnati, Ohio, and the State of Washington. He expects to return about December 8th.

Bro. J. J. Gunn, from Pleasant Hill, is relieving at Greenwood.

A brother named Davis from the East is relieving Bro. Gunn at Pleasant Hill.

Bro. Emmett Smith is relieving at South Lee.

Bro. H. H. Brooks is relieving at Leslie.

Bro. J. W. Oram, agent at Leslie, is away on a vacation.

Bro. R. G. Watkins, agent for the Frisco at Portageville, Mo, accompanied by his bride, paid

Bro. A. Slagle and family a flying visit of five days last week, then took in Denver. Bro. Watkins is one of the hard-worked agents of Southeast Missouri, and we are glad to see him have the privileges he now enjoys.

"Discovered" Pat Garvin quietly holding down Chesterfield. Drv. Cor.

Oklahoma Division—

Hail to the great new State of Oklahoma, and to the Oklahoma Division of the C., R. I. & P. Railway, the banner division of the System in the Southwest, and the operators on this division.

With the exception of six operators on the entire division, we are solid O. R. T., and a few members of the commercial union who have come to work on this division since the Western Union strike. We consider them on the same footing with the regular members of our Order.

The Oklahoma Division, at our regular meeting at El Reno, November 9th, had a very enthusiastic meeting, a good attendance, and have started a movement for a petition to the State Legislature of Oklahoma to pass an eight-hour law for the benefit of railroad telegraphers in the new State, and every one is working for the same, and hope to get a petition in shape to be presented to the first meeting of the Legislature, which will meet in Guthrie on December 2d, and are preparing to get the petitions before the public through our members and the members of other unions over the State, and hope to give the fraternity news that will be encouraging for operators of the whole country.

The second Saturday night of each month is regular meeting night of the Oklahoma Division at El Reno, and all members and visiting brothers are cordially invited to be present, and for the next two or three months lend us their aid in getting our eight-hour law through in the new State.

Brothers, be present at every meeting that you can, and when you receive the petitions to present to the public for the above-named law, do not let them get in the pigeon-hole, but see that they are promptly circulated, and get every one in your vicinity to sign them, and when they are completed, get them to committee as soon as possible, so that all may get to the Legislature as early as possible.

Bro. Lee Boyd, who has been off sick for three months, will soon return and resume work at Enid.

Bro. Smith, at Waukomis, is off on leave of absence, and is being relieved by Mr. C. E. Cornell.

Brothers, keep after the few nons on this division so that we may show a solid front to all opposition to the eight-hour law.

Do not forget the meeting night, and be present when possible. CERT. 1749.

General Offices—

I think it is about time the "general offices" of the Rock Island are having a little write-up, as they surely deserve space in the journal in order that others may know as well as themselves, what we are doing.

I fully expected to see them represented last month, but it seems as though our correspondent failed to get the news items in in time to be printed, but I hope to see them this month. Each and every man should furnish him with any items of interest early enough to get to the editor before going to press.

Of course, we all know, and the officials of the Rock Island are aware of the fact that the telegraph service since Mr. Jennings has reorganized the telegraph department is second to none.

Since this reorganization we now have thirteen general offices, instead of three, with three wire chiefs at each of them. The majority of them work eight hours; or, if business is such, each one works two additional hours, while the managers, in many cases, have worked eighteen to twenty hours without any extra compensation, merely for the benefit of the telegraph service.

In addition to these wide-awake wire chiefs you will find a class of the most wide-awake and progressive telegraphers in the country, exerting every effort for the benefit of the service, until you will find as fast circuits in these offices as the bonus circuits of the commercial companies.

The result of the reorganization of these offices and the continued effort of these men, has placed the telegraph service of the Rock Island today second to none.

The majority of these offices will average 100 per cent up-to-date O. R. T. men, while a few will not reach the average, we have a general average of 96 per cent. From the general outlook at present, and the continual bulldog effort of the up-to-date men, we intend to reach 100 per cent in all not later than January 1, 1908.

Let each and every one of us continue to put forth the same effort, and keep our telegraph service second to none, and we will soon be repaid, for we are convincing them each and every day by our work that we are worth considerable more than we are getting.

Yours fraternally,

C. P. VARNY, L. C.

Iowa Division—

Here is a few items for this month's journal:

Bro. H. R. Thayer, night operator at Wabash crossing, block tower, Des Moines, is visiting with his parents at Grand Junction, Iowa. Bro. N. P. Skunberg is relieving Bro. Thayer at Wabash crossing, Des Moines. He has an up-to-date C. T. U. of A. card, but is going to stay at railroad work, and says he will be in the O. R. T. soon as he is acceptable.

Bro. W. J. Stevens, night operator at Christy Mines, block tower, is in South Dakota looking after his farm. He is being relieved by Bro. Keegan, who comes from the Illinois Central.

Bro. Thos. Stebbens, day operator at Christy Mines, block tower, has returned from South Dakota, where he has been the past month looking after business of his ranch, which is west of Pierre, South Dakota.

Bro. C. B. Hibbs returned to work at Iowa City, Burlington street station, November 21st, after a vacation of two months, during which he visited through the West, Portland, San Francisco and at Corvallis, Oregon.

Bro. F. A. Bump, who has been working at Iowa City, No. 2, relieving Bro. Hibbs, has been sent to Newton to work nights. Bro. Bump came to us from the Iron Mountain.

Bro. C. F. Ingle, agent at Tiffin, Iowa, is contemplating a vacation of five or six weeks as soon as he can be relieved.

Bro. W. P. Master, Iowa City, nights, went to Ames to root for Iowa football game, and also lost $5 he had bet on the Iowa team.

Bro. E. L. Rhoadarmer, agent at Milan, Ills., on the Illinois Division, has been visiting friends in Iowa City the past few days. He says the Illinois Division are all in for most any old stand March 4, 1908.

G. F. M.

Vandalia Ry.

St. Louis Division, East End—

Bro. J. W. McCullough, "HN," Harmony, nights, is enjoying a few days off visiting relatives in Scottsburg, Indiana. Bro. O. O. Scanlon, of Terre Haute, doing the night stunt at "HN" during his absence.

Bro. H. S. Miller, nights at "WA," Watson, was sent to the West End to work a few nights at "NI," Altamont, Illinois. The night work was handled during his absence by Bro. J. W. Garnet, at "WA."

Bro. J. T. Colburn, of "HN," Harmony, days, took the civil service examination for railway mail service, and carried off the highest honors out of a class of fifty.

Bro. J. T. Hill, night owl at "GA," Eagles, is off for a few nights, Bro. J. E. McCracken doing the night stunt.

Bro. F. I. Stanberry, of "HK," Hamrick, nights, was called to his home the other day account of the sickness of a relative. He is being relieved by extra telegrapher R. R. Hodsan, of Coatesville.

We wish to apologize to Bro. C. Hall for referring to him in last month's write-up as Mr. instead of Bro. Our mistake; it will not occur again.

Some talk of the eight-hour shifts; up to this time they have failed to materialize. We are living in hopes, however. Unofficial reports from the Big Four say they have three men on some of their jobs.

Bro. F. P. Sebree, of "BR," Brazil, days, was off a few days the middle of the month taking in the sights at the capitol; being relieved by Bro. C. N. Jones, of "KV," Knightsville. Bro. O. O. Scanlon relieving Bro. Jones at "KV."

Bro. C. Hall, who has been relieving Bro. F. R. Parker at "AO," Amo, days, has been called to Terre Haute to report for work, Bro. Parker having resumed.

Bro. R. H. Yates worked for a short time at "WA," Watson, nights, but was relieved by Bro.

H. S. Miller, who bid it in regular, Bro. Yates going to some point on the West End.

Mr. J. P. Hallinin and Mr. T. J. Dickerson have been changing off at "DS," Terre Haute, days; Bro. H. C. Barnes on nights at "DS."

Bro. Thos. Buck, of "MD," Alameda, days, was off for a short time; relieved by the night man, Bro. Fred Farris.

Bro. W. L. Darnier, of "FN," Farrington, Illinois nights, Middle Division, spent one Sunday not long ago with relatives at Limedale.

Bro. W. A. Vaughn, of "NE," Greencastle, days, who has been relieving the agent at "MN," Martinsville, Illinois, has returned to Greencastle. Bro. V. A. Woodard was on days at "NE" during Bro. Vaughn's absence at "NE."

Mr. A. Mason, agent "SY," Seelyville, was off for a few days, Bro. E. Colbert, days at "SV," Seelyville, acting as agent during his absence; Bro. N. E. Browing on days and extra telegrapher D. V. Carter doing the owl act at "SV."

One of the "two" nons on this end is reported as having left for parts unknown, leaving his wife and children.

The new interlocking tower at "KV," Knightsville, is almost complete, and we understand will be in operation in a few days.

No. 91 was wrecked at Alameda one night not long ago account of a broken truck, delaying traffic for a few hours. Nos. 24, 26 and 11 were detoured between Limedale and Indianapolis via Monon and Big Four.

Bro. C. C. Chesterson, who has been shaking hands with friends and relatives at Crawfordsville, has reported for duty and been assigned "RY," Rose Lake, nights, on the West End.

Brothers, do not delay sending in your dues. Let every one have a new card by January 1st, 1908, if not before. Appoint yourself as a committee of one to see that any non who might come into our midst has a special invitation to become one of us. Everybody get busy.

YOUR UNCLE FULLER.

West Sub. Division—

We are very sorry to hear of Bro. W. D. Parks, extra man at Willows, and Bro. H. E. Weaver, day man at Rose Lake, being down with typhoid fever.

Bro. R. D. Elliot, regular night man at Rose Lake, is working days during the illness of Bro. Weaver.

Bro. T. J. Lynch is working nights at Rose Lake.

IN MEMORIAM.

WHEREAS, The Almighty has deemed it wise to remove from our midst Bro. C. H. Dalton, in memory to our departed brother and in sympathy to the bereaved family, be it

Resolved, By the members of Division No. 27, Order of Railroad Telegraphers, that we extend to the family of the deceased brother our heartfelt sympathy, and we commend them to Him who doeth all things well, and who will comfort them in this dark hour of sorrow; be it further

Resolved, That in the death of Bro. C. H. Dalton, Peoria Division, Vandalia Railroad, Division No. 27, of the Order of Railroad Telegraphers, loses a true and faithful member, the wife a devoted husband, and the child a loving father; and be it

Resolved, That a copy of these resolutions be sent to the family of our deceased brother, a copy sent to THE TELEGRAPHER for publication, and a copy spread upon the minutes of this division.

Red River District—

We are pretty busy just now. Cotton is coming in fast, and we have about all we can say grace over.

I would like to see some good man take it upon himself to give the Red River District a good write-up, just once.

Are we all doing our part, looking after the nons? I notice we have in our midst many C. T. U. of A. boys, most of them working our best (?) jobs. Are our old heads wise enough to keep away from the so-called best jobs? I, for one, am fighting shy of them. I had rather do a little clerical work than have one of those roasts like Madill or Francis.

There have been so many changes that it is impossible to keep track of them, so I will not undertake to give a line-up.

Let's all try and give our division a write-up for January.

All that possibly can should send in their dues now, and get all the new members possible, for there is going to be something doing next March. Let's work for our interest while we are laboring these twelve hours per day for the railroad. "73."

CERT. 327.

Chicago & Eastern Illinois Ry.

Chicago Division—

Bro. Wood, days at W. A. Tower, Watseka, is enjoying a month's vacation; relieved by Bro. Priest, who has been working days at Hoopeston.

Bro. Highland, ticket agent Watseka, has returned from a two weeks' vacation; was relieved by a non, F. M. Brockaway, an old head on this road, but a hard-shell, who thinks he derives no benefit from our Order.

Bro. H. D. McCarty, formerly from the United DeForest Wireless Telegraph Co., New Orleans, La., working nights at "CO," Coaler, relieving Bro. Nickum.

Bro. Lanquest, who has been working nights at "PO" tower, Pittwood, has resigned; can not say who is relieving him at this writing.

Bro. Bilbo, formerly nights at Hoopeston, now working days at that place. Bro. Bilbo relieved by Bro. Hanold, who has been working days at "CA," Chicago Heights.

Bro. Fitz Henry, days "CA," Chicago Heights, returned from a month's vacation in the West.

Bro. Paddock, who left the service about two months ago, has returned and is now working nights at "NE" tower, Crete.

Quite a number of the boys from this road have resigned to accept a position with the Big Four.

Let's manage to send in items every month, for if we expect to get that eight-hour day and seventy-five per, we got to let them know we are not sleeping. We haven't had a write-up for two months, am sorry to say, for no one person can get all that happens that is of interest to us, but let each one send few items each month and in that way we will be represented.

Every one doing nicely, but will have to charge up few nons that still remain on the Villa Grove District. Now, make up your mind to have the road solid by March 4th, 1908, then we can get what is justly due us. Merry Christmas to all. I remain—looking for a pay-day after March 4th.

Michigan Division—

Michigan Division now figures up about 92 per cent, with good chances for three or four this month.

To the surprise of all, most of the third-trick positions have been bid on by old heads, mostly station agents. This looks rather odd, as most any agency should be preferred to the third-trick positions.

Bro. Anmermon, late of Knightstown, is now working third trick at Westport, relieving a man by the name of Noonan, who couldn't possibly take a "9."

Bro. King is working second trick at North Vernon; Bro. E. P. Defort, third trick, while Bro. C. M. Baker is on first.

The following places have been advertised the last month: Third tricks at North Vernon, Westport, Knightstown, Marion, Warsaw, Goshen and Elkhorn; agencies at Jonesboro, LaFontaine, Markleville and Sodus.

Mrs. J. U. Tilman, of Jonesboro, goes to Elkhart, third trick.

Bro. H. S. Walters goes to Marion, third trick.

Bro. Carl Thomas, of Sodus, takes LaFontaine agency. Up to the present time have not learned who takes Sodus, as it is still open.

Mr. Rudical, operator and bill clerk at Marion freight depot, takes Markleville, relieved by Bro. Ed. Middlekauf.

A scab from Indianapolis W. U. office, who did dirty scabbing in the late fight of commercial boys, is going to take Jonesboro agency. Remember, "No card, no favors."

Bro. Miles, a brother commercial man from Chicago W. U., is working third trick at Elkhart, and, when relieved there, will take third trick at Knightstown.

We are pleased to learn that Bro. Pepper, of Carthage, after a lingering illness of some three or four weeks, is again on duty.

Wishing all members a Merry Xmas and a prosperous year for 1908, I am yours for a $75 minimum and eight hours per day. E. M.

Sandusky Division—

Were you at the meeting at Carey on the night of November 13. If not, you lose, because you missed something that you should know. The boys began to arrive during the afternoon, the last ones coming in on the 8:20 train, and then, our number having reached the dozen mark, we proceeded to the hall and I assure you there was some warm discussion. The chair was filled by General Chairman Justice, and he gave us an interesting talk. After three hours of warm debating the meeting was adjourned, and we had supper and cigars. We then started for our widely-separated homes, feeling the night had been well spent.

November 1 the boys on the Big Four began to realize the value of the eight-hour day, the company beginning to place on the third man on that date, and the way they poured in from all quarters certainly shows there are plenty of men to fill every railroad in the country, and then have some for extra work, if the price and hours are right.

Only a short time now until Sandusky Division will have a complete block system. The carpenters are now at work making a few new coops for us, which will be necessary when the block system goes into effect. One is being erected at East Urbana and Lippincotts, and one to be built at Bellefontaine and Carey; all but one will be in good towns, so they won't have much trouble to find occupants for them.

The following places are now using the third trick man: Urbana, Huntsville, Silver Creek, Carey and Wharton.

Mr. Jones, agent at Huntsville, is off a few days visiting at Plattsburg, on the Cincinnati Division. Extra Operator Myers held down the agency during his absence.

There is a rumor that some of the brothers are not living up to our Constitution in regard to student teaching. A word to the wise should be sufficient, and any that may feel guilty we trust will stop this kind of practice at once. You know you are cutting your own throat when you are doing it. If you have a brother whom you wish to teach, take the question up in the right manner, explaining details fully and get an order from our headquarters in St. Louis, permitting you to aid the one you would like to.

I would like to call the attention of the brothers to the necessity of being present at our meetings. Matters that are under discussion will interest you, and we want your views on these questions. Now, with the three tricks, each office should, at least, have one and, possibly, two men present. We know it was difficult to get away when you were compelled to be on duty for twelve hours.

Next meeting at Dayton, on the 18th. Let every one turn out. Div. Coa.

Indianapolis Division—

The interest in the Order is growing every day. New members every week, and something doing all the time. Now, this is what I call the proper spirit, especially at this time when new men are coming here for the eight-hour tricks. We don't want a solid office broken up by a "non." It is for your interests, and the committee will need your backing next month.

Orders were received from the superintendent last month to begin putting on eight-hour men at once. Quite a few offices were filled with good men, and the boys were quite jubilant over it; some can hardly wait. But different orders must have been received later, as Chief Dispatcher Buchanan has not placed any in the last week, but think they will resume shortly, as they have found out they can get the men, and good ones, too, and will not have to draw on any incubators for them.

The first meeting ever held in Bellefontaine by the O. R. T. was held October 24th in Machinists' club room. While the attendance was small owing to the inability of the boys to get there on account of poor train service, the enthusiasm was there all right, and Bro. Justice, general chairman, gave us a good talk and some pointers regarding the new schedule.

Some dissatisfaction among the boys on account of the new men being given regular eight-hour tricks, and the old men, especially the old extra men, being left out in the cold. I don't know of anything for them to do but make application for these positions wanted, and I don't think they will be refused. Why they are not advertised I can not say.

I wish you brothers who want to see this division written up in the journal every month would help out a little. It only takes a few minutes for you to write the changes in your territory, mail them to me at Degraff, Ohio, and I will do the rest. You fellows on the east end, between Galion and Bellefontaine, send me some news. We know you are in good shape up there. Line-up those new men.

We hope by the time our next letter appears the committee will be in Cincinnati, and we will be expecting great things from them.

Eight hours, $75.00. "Oh, splash!"

Here's a few movements:

Bro. Foster relieved at Degraff by Agent Vance, has accepted Harrisville, nights. Operator New-former returning home.

Bro. Harvey has resumed work at Taft.

Bro. Ray Miller spent a few days near Degraff on a farm last week. He has returned to Ansonia.

Bro. Speece, Gretna, days, laying off on account of sickness in the family. Bro. King relieving him.

Bro. Miller, Gretna, also off fixing up his bung-alow. Skinny Thatcher relieving him.

Bro. Ritter, Harper, representing the east end, attended the meeting at Bellefontaine.

Operator Huffman, dispatcher's office, also Operator Dunham, same office, have returned from their vacations.

The following eight-hour tricks have been established to date:

Massachusetts avenue, Indianapolis.

"DX" tower, Indianapolis.

"C" office, Brightwood.

Belt Junction.

Fortville.

Wainwright.

Anderson depot.

Gridley.

Muncie depot.

"MU."

Winchester.

Elroy.

Versailles.

"BU."

Quincy.

"BN" yards, Bellefontaine.

Bro. Geo. Clegg, "BN" yards, laying off.

Ask Chairman Hess, at Sidney, for application blanks, you fellows who are going after those prizes. "A gold ring for mine."

"Dos," Div. 138.

St. Louis Division, East—

Long before this appears in print, all the important offices will be worked by three men, instead of two. Eight hours to work, eight hours to sleep and eight hours to devote to the interests of our families and loved ones. This begins to look like business, but still some are holding back, and ready to give an old out-of-date excuse for not carrying an up-to-date card. You can always hear them on the wire about meal time asking: S. F. T. Same old story; going to leave here soon; going to quit the business, etc.

Bro. Lumple, at Sunny Side, has left the service. He was relieved by Bro. Magee, who was relieved by Mr. Dawson.

Bro. M. O. Denny, at Danville, has left the service to accept a position in Union Station at Indianapolis. He was relieved by Bro. Setty. Bro. Setty was relieved by Bro. Clark.

Bro. Mackninch, of Reno, has left the service.

Bro. Geo. Gray, at Fontanet, had quite a close call on October 15th, when the powder mills at that place blew up, wrecking every house in the town. The daily press gave quite an interesting report of Bro. Gray's position. He was working at the key when the explosion came, and was badly cut, and put in a semi-senseless condition, but he was the first to regain his senses and get busy. It is stated he sat at his key a full hour sending messages for relief, while his hands and face were covered with blood, and the blood streaming from his face. Next day he was checked in as agent. Regular Agent Overholtz being so badly injured he was taken to the hospital.

Bro. E. C. Bales has been appointed agent at Hadley. Bro. J. G. Beck leaving the service of the company.

Bro. L. C. Adams, of "JR," Terre Haute depot, is now copying in the dispatcher's office.

CERT. 258.

Cincinnati Division—

A very enthusiastic meeting was held at Dayton, Ohio, Monday evening, October 21st, in Hollencamp Hall, which was well attended. Thirty-one members being present. The Sandusky Division being represented also, and the spirit manifested shows that the brothers are taking an interest in the welfare of the Order, which is necessary to obtain results. Quite a number of important subjects were passed upon. Owing to the late hour in getting started several of the brothers off the Sandusky Division were compelled to leave early to catch No. 2, but we trust that they, as well as those of the Cincinnati Division brothers, will continue to turn out and make these meetings a success. Every brother felt well repaid for his trouble in being present at this meeting.

Our next meeting will occur on Monday evening, November 18th.

The brothers were pleased to have with them Bro. Droege, who addressed the meeting upon one of the important questions of the evening.

The following places have put on three tricks, and we "13" the remaining ones will be made three tricks; in series, at the first of each month until all are filled out:

South Siding, Sharon, Ivorydale, Dayton yard, West End, Simms, "GM," "YK," "CI," "CK," Brooks, Plattsburg, London, "SO," Lilly Chapel, Galloways, "WA," and "CD."

Mr. J. L. Slogue, who was a graduate of an Indianapolis telegraph school, and has been working nights at "MX" for the past two months, failed to deliver an order to No. 96 recently, and is now looking for a position.

The nons will have to employ the four hours extra time each day they now have in studying up some suitable excuse for the sponging they are now doing off the Order.

It has been arranged that the meal hour will not be allowed at points having the third man, and where lamp-tenders were formerly employed. The operators now have them to attend to. Our committee will take care of all grievances in the near future.

Brothers, have you ever figured out the difference between an eight and twelve-hour day? The eight-hour day is 1,460 hours less work a year, 120 days, or, four months, counting twelve hours as a day's work.

Bro. C. Nixon bid in the third trick at Dennison avenue.

R. H. Harrison, third trick at Galloways.

Bro. Sheflon, third trick at Lilly Chapel.

Mr. Fast, third trick at London.

M. F. Franklin, third trick at Plattsburg.

Mr. Ray Ashenfelter, third trick at Brooks.

Mr. Fitzsimmons, third trick at "AK."

Bro. Johnson, third trick at "YK."

Mr. Merry, third trick at "WD."

Bert Grosvonor, third trick at "WD."

Mr. Harry Peck, of Irwin, has resigned, but have not learned who relieved him.

Great effort should be made by the brothers in landing the third trick men, and the new-comers, to show proper respect to the Order; should not wait to be asked the second time to contribute towards the cause, as they are plucking the fruit off the vines in the vineyard of O. R. T.ism. Share, and share alike with us.

L. D. STABLER.

Wisconsin Central Ry.Third District—

Quite a number of changes have taken place on this district during the last month, and as it is pretty hard to keep track of all of the changes with the help of only one or two brothers, we will doubtless miss quite a few of them.

At Abbotsford we find no change as yet, but it is said that Bro. Hunt will go into the dispatcher's office as soon as he returns to work after about a month's vacation. Bro. Hunt formerly worked in the yard office at Abbotsford. Haven't been able to find who gets Abbotsford yard days.

Bro. Roen, formerly located as agent at Fifield on the Fourth District, got Owen days on bulletin. Bro. Kliske sent to do the owl act at Owen, relieving a "factory-made" article, who failed to do the biz. Mr. Goodrich, who was at Owen, is going West for the winter on account of his health, having been advised by his doctor to get out in the mountains.

Bro. Donias, from Stanley, appointed agent at Fifield on the Fourth District. Bro. Hoffman has been doing the biz there until bid in. "13" Bro. Rindt, from Bessemer, has got it cinched.

At Eau Claire nights, we find Bro. Skog again, after an extended trip in the West. Bro. Hoffman also relieved there during Bro. Skog's absence.

At Albertville we find Bro. Cox laying off and Bro. Lake doing the biz in his place after having been at Gladstone for a couple months relieving.

Mr. Smith and Bro. Smith, agent and owl at Colfax, laid off for a few days and went hunting. Mrs. Smith acting as agent, and Bro. Johnston, having been bumped at Gladstone, acting as owl. It is said that Bro. Smith doesn't intend to return to the W. C.

Bro. Brunelle, who has been at Glenwood as agent for about four years, applied for the position of cashier at St. Paul, which he landed all right.

Bro. Mathews, regular agent at Emerald, expected back soon after a long vacation, which he spent with relatives in the East.

Glenwood days on bulletin. Have been unable to learn who gets it; "13" there were quite a number of applications received. Mr. Elwell, who has been relieving at Prentice on the Fourth District for some time, is located at Glenwood temporarily until regular man is appointed.

At Jewett we noticed Bro. Ramberg, formerly agent at Somerset, was doing the business for few days, and "13" that Campbell, regular agent, was laying off.

Bro. Finnegan, who was located at Duluth Jct. days, is now agent at Somerset. Don't know where Bro. Ramberg has gone.

Duluth Jct., after being open about a month, is again closed on account of slack business. Don't know what became of Mr. Oden, the night man, who was there during the brief time it was open.

Bro. Nelson, agent at Gladstone, who has been away on a vacation for about two months, is again at his old stand doing business. Bro. Lake held his job down during his absence.

Bro. Johnston got bumped at Gladstone nights by Bro. Mordant, late of Boom Island nights, who was bumped at that point by Frank Leibold.

Chas. Simpson, who was at the freight office at Minneapolis, took Leibold's place at Mr. Whitcomb's office. Have been unable to learn who is at Minneapolis freight office now, or who the men in the St. Paul offices are. This is about the limit of my string as to what changes have occurred.

We had a letter from Bro. Beebe, who used to be agent at Owen some time ago. He is working for the N. P. out in Spokane, Wash., not as a telegrapher, but says he is thinking seriously of taking it up again. He reports the lawns all green and flowers in bloom, with nice, warm weather, only cooling a trifle at night.

The W. C. has closed several of the telegraph jobs and taken off some of the helpers, also one local freight train on this district since the money tie-up, but from what I hear we are not hit near as bad as some other roads.

I wish to thank Bro. Johnston for what items I received from him this month. Let us know when you change positions and we can get out a much better write-up. C. E. ANDRE.

Fourth District—

Bro. Minchell has been laying off for a few days, Bro. Orrick relieving him at Abbottsford.

Bro. Semerau, of Phillips nights, is reported as being on the sick list. Bro. Carlson, also formerly of Phillips, is acting the nimrod. Mr. Oden holding down Phillips nights at present.

At Fifield there is a new man; have been unable to get his name, but understand it has a prefix Bro. He relieved Bro. Roehn, who is now located at Owens as agent.

We are sorry to say that Bro. Temby's wife is confined to the hospital at Ashland.

At Mellen there has been several changes. Bro. Ensinger, who has held this position for several years, has accepted Marengo agency on bulletin, Bro. Cheever going to Prentice as agent.

Bro. Rindt, of Bessemer, which office has been closed, relieves Bro. Ensinger at Mellen, who in turn is relieved by Bro. Orrick. Bro. Rindt then taking a few days' vacation to visit old friends, and understand he is now going to Stanley days.

Several offices have been closed during the past few weeks. These are day operator position at Bessemer and Hurley, also Hoyt and Ore Yard have been closed for the season.

If there has been changes that I have omitted, it is simply because they have not been brought to my attention, and to avoid recurrence, wish to ask every member to write his Local Chairman before the 24th of each month what changes have taken place. By so doing we would have a good write-up each month.

Before I close wish to say a word or two about the Southern Division. We receive very few items from that part of the road. We are just as anxious to see items of that division as our own. Now, why don't one or two members act as correspondents and get out a neat little write-up? Let these two correspondents have the co-operation of all the other members, and see what a change of feeling it will bring to the boys. You may not be a fluent writer, but I feel certain that you all can help out on this subject.

CERT. 108.

Southern Division—

Bro. F. H. Wright, formerly nights at Altenheim, recently promoted to days at Kolze.

Bro. R. A. Helton, nights at Altenheim, formerly with the I. C.

Nights at Bridge Junction we find Bro. W. G. Gerke, formerly from the L. C. and C. & N. W.

Bro. Compton was dismissed from the service, days at Kolze, on account of refusing to handle W. U. biz., just two days previous to the strike being declared off by the C. T. U. Does this appeal to you as being just? How about the Grievance Committee?

C. T. U. Bro. Burkhardt received the vacancy nights, caused by the promotion of Bro. Wright to days. Bro. B. says "N. M." W. U. for mine.

Recent arrivals, C. T. U., Wach (Armour's), "F.W.;" Bro. Smith, regular night act at "JD," Chicago.

Bro. N. C. Frost, formerly Lake Villa, year ago, and most recently Spencer, was fortunate in getting Wilmot Pit.

Bro. Henry Schoback, Postal, relieved Bro. C. O. Schaefer, who has taken up his former studies at Racine. Hank was, in turn, relieved by Bro. C. L. Prefontaine, Postal, Fond du Lac. All these changes at Vernon.

It is reported that River Forest, Franklin Park, Des Plaines, and Camp Lake are to be made non-telegraphic stations, and the 1st of January, 1908, there may be more.

Lake Villa day operator has been taken off, also Bro. Kuhaupt, at Antioch, has lost his helper, both on account of the company's cutting down expenses.

Bro. W. A. Buchen fills the vacancy at Trevor. Bro. Lamoreaux, formerly days at Lake Villa, transferred to Waupaca days.

Bro. Paddock, who worked several weeks nights at Trevor, has returned to the C. & E. I., where he was formerly employed.

Bro. Dagnaugh, Silver Lake night hawk, visited papa and mamma some time ago, at Stevens Point.

Bro L. A. Uvoss visited his mother at Neenah.

Bro. J. J. McDonald, after relieving Bro. Barber two months at Allenton, has taken the agency at Valders.

Bro. Treleven, agent at Colgate, is now being relieved by Bro. Patterson for a few days, after relieving Bro. Baker, agent at Endeavor, who took a ten days' deer hunt up in the northern part of the State.

Bro. Bluen, nights at Schleisingerville, and wife, were absent from here on a pleasure trip up north for a few days, being relieved by Bro. L. P. King, formerly from Rockefeller nights, now at Byron.

Bro. Watts is now agent at Lomira.

Bro. M. S. Butler returned to his work October 28, being relieved by a non-member.

Bro. King relieved Bro. Barber one day, while he took a flying trip to Chicago.

Bro. Paul Buchen, nights at Theresa, is enjoying a few days' vacation at present.

Bro. E. E. Clemons, the night operator at Fond du Lac, enjoyed a two weeks' outing at Boyd.

Bro. Bagley, North Fond du Lac, has been transferred to other duties. Telegraphing cut out at that place.

Bro. C. E. Johnson, Neenah, has been sick since August 23, but we are pleased to report him on the road to recovery. He had inflammation of the nerves.

Hope next month to hear from others who have contributed nothing so far. Send in something, be it ever so little, and assist in keeping the wheel rolling.

How about your overtime and meal hours? Are you getting your just dues? Any overtime disallowed? If you have any grievances and the committee isn't informed about it, then you are at fault, to the extent of not reporting, as you should. The committee is ready and willing to do all in its power to rectify any impositions, where there is a real grievance.

We understand that some of the C. T. U. boys who came over on our line have not been treated as brothers should treat brothers of the same profession. Treat a C. T. U. brother the same as you would an O. R. T. brother, and assist them in every way you can.

If you know of any nons, try and get them on the right road, and don't fail to send in their names and addresses as soon as known.

How about your dues? Are you in good standing, up-to-date? If not, get in line, boys. The committee will be in poor condition to represent you unless your dues are all paid, and you carry an up-to-date card.

Cor.

Bessemer & Lake Erie Ry.

On being approached by a non, a few days ago, I had the pleasure of talking O. R. T. to him, and he broke me in the middle of my lecture and asked me to please read a letter that he had received from some unknown person, as there was no name signed to it. I read the letter very carefully and felt ashamed of the way I had approached the man, for I myself would not feel like joining until I better understood the cause for receiving such a letter. It was certainly a very insulting letter. The man then asked me if it was any reason that he did not belong to the Order, and, of course, I had to acknowledge the corn, that I would not, under such circumstances. Nevertheless, I won the man's loyalty, and he said if I would put up a line in the journal he would present me with his application.

We can never expect a thorough line-up if this kind of work is carried on. I would not have undertaken this write-up on this subject if I did not know what I was talking about, but from what little experience I have had while on committee work, I find that you can "lead a horse to water, but you can not make him drink," and I did not have but one man that turned me down, and that was not on account of this letter business, but the man thought he had a good excuse, which he has carried out.

My motto was always a little line of talk, and plenty of time for the brother to think it over. I have had good brothers come to me and say that if it had been any one else that approached them they would have been out of the Order yet. Now, I will leave the rest for the brothers' good judgment, trusting that they will think twice before they proceed to write any of these letters.

E. G. REISINGER.

Delaware & Hudson Ry.

Bro. A. R. Wager, at present working at "D," general office, Albany, N. Y. He was relieved at "FD," Green Island yard, by a commercial man, but at present can not give his name.

Geo. Manion has drawn the night position at "FD," Green Island yard.

E. J. Crounse has filled out papers again, and is now a brother.

Mr. F. Patrick, at present working the night trick at Green Island depot.

Bro. Fitzgerald is now working the third trick at McVillie depot.

Bro. Roach, who owns second trick at "WY" tower, McVillie, at present working second at "JA" tower, Waterford. Mr. Coin, of McVillie, is on the third trick.

Bros. Gallico, Carron and Potter are now enjoying eight hours.

Another time card on the 24th. Very few changes though. Locals on the belt line about the same as the last card.

Several N. Y. C. trains, to and from New York, are now using the D. & H. track on the west side of the river between Albany and Troy.

Bro. Rice, at present on third trick at "RX," Albany depot. Bro. McMurray working the first and Bro. Johnson the second.

We would have some large meetings if the brothers within thirty miles of Albany would only wake up. No excuse for them now that most of them have eight hours.

Understand the new division is coming slow. Would be very glad to see this division established by the first of the year, as the boys on the upper end of the road are most certainly entitled to it. Even though it is necessary to lose half a day when they attend meetings at Albany, there is seldom a month passes but that the north end of the road is represented. Bros. Keeley and Mooney were with us last month.

Bro. Mooney gave us a very interesting talk on matters of interest to all brothers, and I wish more of you could have heard him. You do not realize what you miss by not attending these meetings. Get busy, now, and attend every month.

Bro. J. D. Sullivan, of "CK," Comstock, is enjoying a two weeks' vacation. Relief Agent Wyman is relieving.

Dispatcher Lente, of "Z," Fort Edward, has returned, after two weeks' vacation. Work on the branch was handled at "SO" during his absence.

Some of our eight-hour positions are not being filled as per agreement. Fort Edward and Whitehall still doing twelve-hour tricks. The men working these tricks are receiving four hours' overtime daily.

Understand the company has appointed some new agents to cover each division, to oversee freight and ticket work. Mr. Bates, of Corinth, has received the appointment for this end, and Mr. Vosburg, of Voorheesville, will look out for the A. & S. Division.

Bro. Burke, formerly chief clerk at Corinth, has been appointed agent at Corinth.

Mr. O. H. Ramsdell is working "SA," Sandy Hill, while Mr. Spencer on vacation.

Miss K. Sleight, who has been working at "CW," Lake George, the past season, has accepted a position with the W. U. at "A" office, Albany, N. Y.

Bro. Boyle has left the hilly country, and has taken up his residence at Albany for the winter, at least. He bid in and is working the second trick at "OW," Watervliet. Understand he is taking a law course at the Albany Law School.

Bro. Welsh, first trick at "JA" tower, Waterford, had a very painful accident about the 10th of the month. He fell down the stairs and cut a big gash in his head, just above the eye.

We are informed that Bro. Disney's mother is ill at her home, and extend our sympathy to Bro. Disney's family.

Understand Mr. Broderick, formerly Bro. Broderick, has accepted a position with the B. & M. at Hoosick Junction.

The B. & M. R. R. have placed three men at "GO," Troy. Mr. Monahan should be placed on the eight-hour trick also.

Bro. O'Neil is working the night trick at "UN," Troy. Mr. Monahan on days.

Understand Bro. R. O. Wager is working the second trick at "KN," Kenwood Junction, A. & S. Division. "RO" is extra on the A. & S.

Bro. Weatherwax has been off for some time, journeying in the West on account of his health.

Bro. Stevens spent Sunday, November 24, with his mother in Watervliet, and also inspected the tower at the junction.

Would be glad to see the brothers from Saratoga at the meetings.

If the towermen from the McVillie District would attend meetings, and get the nons there into the fold, I think there would be a different tune coming from that quarter.

First snow storm of the year in this vicinity on November 24.

We are informed that Conductor Jo. Powers is improving.

Fireman C. J. Weller, who was injured at Whitehall, some time ago, is again around, and will resume his duties soon. Bro. Weller is ex-secretary and treasurer of the firemen.

Work on the new bridge at Cohoes for the double track is progressing nicely.

Bro. Golden is at present working at the shops in Green Island. Bro. Golden is from the N. Y. C. and at one time worked at "UN," Troy.

Those telegraphers on the R. & S. who persist in using wire No. 7 for all but what it is intended for will wake up some time and realize that they are not getting pay from the railroad companies for this kind of work. Fooling on the wire should be stopped.

There is no excuse now for any train, whether it be regular or extra, to be stopped. Most of us are eight-hour men and should keep awake.

The company has inaugurated a new system of payment, $10 and $5 checks, and desire the employees to use these at their places of trading, instead of cashing them at the bank.

I thank you, one and all, for your kindness and trouble during my recent confinement at home with a broken limb. I appreciate all that was done for me by members of the Order at that time, and am very glad to be with you again and back to work. I also wish to say that the D. & H. Co. were very considerate at that time, and helped me considerably.

C. H. KEMP.

M. & O. Ry.

Meridian to Okolona District—

Bro. Naylor, of Marion nights, was on the sick list for two or three nights, causing Bro. Powe to have to double, as extra operators are almost a thing of the past.

Bro. Gladden, of Lauderdale nights, has resigned, and understand he has accepted a day job with the Southern. He was relieved by operator Gore, who was in turn relieved by operator Gladney, who, on account of being sick, was relieved by operator J. A. Ratliff, from Birmingham.

Bro. Mims, of Lauderdale days, who relieved Bro. Rawls from his position as agent, has resumed his old position as day operator. Bro. Rawls has accepted position as day operator at Union Station, Mobile.

Operator Moore, formerly agent at Porterville, has been installed as agent at Lauderdale.

Bro. Gibbons, who relieved Bro. Mims as day operator at Lauderdale, has accepted Porterville agency, relieving agent Moore at that place.

Operator Weaver is doing the night stunt at Scooba for the present.

Bro. Neal, at Wahalak, who had to attend Circuit Court, was off one day, being relieved by Bro. Gibbons.

Bro. Leech, formerly agent at Brooksville, has resigned his position at that place, and was relieved by Mr. W. H. Hairston, from N. O. & N. E.

Bro. Shirley, day operator at Brooksville, has been relieved by operator Gore. Understand he has accepted the day job at Shubuta, that being only five miles from his home.

Operator Pearce, from Macon nights, is working as second trick operator at Artesia, the regular man, Bro. Coleman, being off on the sick list.

Operator Bright is doing the night stunt at Egypt.

Bro. T. W. Carter, from L. & N., is second trick operator at Okolona, while operator Drake is doing the night stunt.

Operator Downing, of Porterville nights, will be Bro. Downing by the time this is in print. Operator Downing is an old C. T. U. of A. man.

The boys of this division are not taking enough interest in the Order. Go after the nons; there are plenty of good men who would join if only asked to and furnished with application blanks.

I think I have called some of the brothers operators instead of brothers, and any of those that I have down as operators who have cards, will confer a favor upon me by giving Bro. Howell, of Mobile, your division and certificate number, as this will enable me to give every member his just title.

CERT. 163.

We thank Certificate 163 for his write-up. What is the matter with the boys south of Meridian and on the Montgomery Division? Why don't you all write something for THE TELEGRAPHER?

R. L. HOWELL, S. & T.

Atlantic Coast Line Ry.

Notes Savannah District—

Another large "shortage" in information from the various members of the L. B. of A. Out of five requests I drew a blank, so you will have to excuse the brevity of this effort.

No new applications reported this month. Guess we have about all the good timber in, with a few exceptions. Those few exceptions should get in the wagon and help with the music. It will sound much better if we all blow a horn.

Bro. S. M. Howard has taken Race Pond on seniority, until something better offers, in order to start right with a day job; Bro. Currie going to Hilliards.

Bro. J. W. Leroy, of Hilliards, taking Ways agency on bulletin, vice Bro. A. E. Huffman, who has resigned the agency. Have not been able to learn where Bro. Huffman expects to locate.

Bro. J. D. Bennett, of Folkston, has left us to accept a position with the C. of Ga. at Meldrim, Ga.

Bro. J. E. Harvey has accepted the position of night operator at Hortense, made vacant by Bro. Howard.

We understand that Bro. E. R. Yarbrough, of Coffee, Ga., will come to the A. C. L. in the near future, and unless present plans fail, will relieve Bro. Highsmith, of Ludowici, for thirty days.

Bro. Williams is hot after us on this term delinquents. If you have not paid this term's dues, please do so at once.

CRACKER JOE.

Fayetteville District—

Bro. H. McNeill, who has for the past two or three months been in the hospital with fever, is at home trying to regain some of his lost strength.

Nashville agency open and bid in by Bro. B. F. Hardy, Wade agency getting bid in by Mr. J. L. Bethea.

Smithfield and Hope Mills clerk telegrapher job is at present writing open.

Bro. C. H. Schuller was transferred from Beard tower days to "JF" office, Rocky Mount, and Bro. T. G. Wade, from "JF" office to Beard days.

Bro. Wade exchanged places with Bro. Schuller on account of his wife being slightly ill, and he would be at home at Beard.

Our chief dispatcher, Mr. E. Dodge, is having a good deal of trouble on account of the boys keeping the block wire (No. 32) cut through most of the time, disregarding previous order. This won't do; good O. R. T. men do not tamper with the wires; it is a sure sign that there is a "ham" around. Cut it out.

Mr. G. Y. Jones, agent at Nashville, resigned and has gone into the mercantile business there.

I understand that there will be a good deal of changing about done before long among the agents. Let us hope that there will be none who will be any the worse for wear after it is over.

The double track from Contentnea to Selma will be put in operation in a short while. I hear that this will mean an additional seventy-five levers for the boys at Selma to pull.

The second and third trick dispatchers, McLain and Williamson, and I hear first trick, too, have resigned and gone to "pastures new." Dispatcher McLain went back to Georgia and dispatcher Williamson out West. Have not heard where the first trick man went.

If we all would get together and demand a universal eight-hour law and seventy-five dollars, we would get it; that is, if the officials were convinced that we would have it or walk out.

A good many of the boys attended the Cumberland County Fair at Fayetteville, and reported a fine time.

Some of our night men are sleeping too much and thereby cause the dispatchers much trouble in moving trains over the road.

The scabs in Norfolk, "N," have a very bad habit of sending about nine times as fast as they can possibly take, and if you shoot it back to them at the same rate you will stand a good chance of being cussed.

There was a meeting in Rocky Mount on the 26th of October, but as I was one of the unfortunates who had to stay at home and work my twelve hours, I do not know the happenings. Some one else will probably write them up.

CERT. 793.

Cincinnati, Hamilton & Dayton Ry.Indianapolis Division—

Have several new men on the road from different roads and a new third trick dispatcher from L. & N.

New man at McGonigle from L. & N.

New man at Cottage Grove from the Northwestern holds an up-to-date.

New man at State Street from the Big Four.

While talking to one of the men tonight, some one butted in and said I was going to get us all in trouble by talking on the wire. Also said that if we did go out that there were enough men just laying for the chance to fill our places in twenty-four hours. Guess our poor "friend" was having a brain-storm, or was afraid some one in "DI" would hear us and fire us for belonging to the Order!

Let's wake up and have something from this division every month in the journal, and make it look like we were still working.

CERT. 225.

Erle Ry.Mahoning Division—

On October 24th Bro. W. S. Lawrie received notice from our general chairman, Frank N. Hall, saying he had succeeded in getting "SN" tower placed on an eight-hour basis, and the same was put into effect Monday, October 28th. The boys feel highly elated over this, as it is the first position of the kind on the Mahoning Division, and hereby extend their thanks to Bro. Hall for the interest he has taken in this matter. This puts R. N. Babcock first trick, G. W. Taylor second trick, and A. J. Klinite third trick.

The Wilson avenue office has been moved to Tad street, and manned by J. T. Tineker and J. B. Pulaski.

R. G. Burdett, of "G" tower, is back at work, after being off sick.

John King, of Mantua, is back at work, and is all O. K. again, after having passed through the hands of the bonesetter of Youngstown, who replaced a dislocated muscle in his back. John had been doctoring the last two years for rheumatism.

R. A. Stroup, of Phalanx, nights, off on account of the death of his father. Stroup relieved by Andrew Eggleston.

A. J. Klinite gives up third trick at "SN" tower, and returns to Literary street yard office, nights.

C. R. Musgrove, of DeForest tower, nights, goes to third trick, "SN" tower.

R. E. Hempel, at DeForest, nights, temporarily. DeForest, nights, and Sharpville, nights, advertised.

W. E. Black bid in Youngstown, nights. This is the position J. W. Terry left when he went to California.

C. G. Perry is back at Hubbard, nights, after a trip West.

R. A. Kistler, of "NK" office, off sick; relieved by the night man, Kearns, and Kearns relieved by W. J. Hawey, a former B. & O. man.

Don't forget the joint meeting held at Warren on the last Saturday night in each and every month, K. of G. E. Hall, corner of Park avenue and Market street; over Union National Bank.

Div. Cor.

Cincinnati Division—

Our last regular meeting at Marion was well attended. Some of the brothers from the H. V. and other roads running into Marion were present. Bro. Tynan filled the chair. Bro. Husted being called away on account of death.

Brothers, we should all make special effort to attend these meetings. It does not give our committee very much encouragement to call a meeting and only have a few of the brothers present.

There is very little news from the Cincinnati Division. All the brothers seem to be looking forward to the eight-hour day and an increase in salary, which we expect our committee to get for us when they meet the officials in the near future.

Professor Garner, at Ashland, Ohio, has quite a number of lady students, who, we understand, have been promised the first trick, or daylight position by some of our officials. Who of us are going to give up our rights which we have gained through long years of hard service?

We are sorry to note the outcome of our brother commercial telegraphers' trouble. They surely deserve what little compensation they ask and the eight-hour day. They all have the heartfelt sympathy of the brothers on the Cincinnati Division.

No card, no favors. Let that be our motto in the future, for those that are not with us are against us.

At this writing I understand our general committee has been called East to adjust the wage scale in New York State, where the eight-hour law is in effect. I understand the company expects to reduce the wages on all the eight-hour positions; which means we will get the same kind of medicine after March 4, 1908, if we stand for the reduction in New York.

How many of the brothers can live on less compensation than we now receive? I am sure we are not overpaid, and should be worth as much to the company as the section foremen, who get $60 per for a nine-hour day, and does not have to work Sundays or holidays, and if they are off a few days any other time, their time goes on just the same. Don't you think it is high time we were coming out of the trance we have been in for years?

I don't see how a telegrapher at this stage of the game, when everything means so much to our future, can hang back and not join our noble Order, and help the brothers in their hard-fought battles for a decent work day and living wages.

One of our now ex-brothers from "Q" tower, Marion, on getting a little sore at the Order simply because they could not compel the company to drill him a well, and as he thought he would gain the good will of the boys along the road by running a ham factory, tendered our worthy chairman the following resignation:

MARION, OHIO, June 20, 1907.

To Mr. W. H. Husted, Richwood, Ohio:

I hereby hand to you my resignation from the O. R. T., effective at once.

Yours respectfully,

J. L. RICHARDSON.

CERT. 50.

N. Y., S. & W. and W., B. & E. Lines—

We again remind you that the N. Y., S. & W. meets jointly with N. Y. Division of the Erie at Munzer's Hall, Market street, Paterson, N. J., the fourth Saturday evening of each month, at 8:30 p. m.

Several changes on the pike, and a number of jobs advertised.

Three brothers behind with dues. This tickles the company. Pay up and contribute to our ammunition.

Bro. Wilkinson went hunting.

Don't forget that the non season is open 365 days a year, and that you will need buckshot to land some of them.

Three new members since last month. We are still on the move.

We are very short of news again this month, not having heard from the "bunch," as usual. It will be greatly appreciated if the brothers will send any items to the local chairman on or before the 20th of each month.

Brothers should handle Bro. H. R. Clark's appeal quickly, that it may be returned as early as possible.

CERT. 273.

Jefferson Division—

We are about 80 per cent strong on this end now, and am informed by two or three nons that they are coming to the front and apply for a card directly, and this will fetch us up nearly to the 100 per cent mark.

Understand Carbondale, "CD" office, is shortly to be placed on three eight-hour tricks. Have not heard of the positions being advertised by a "23" yet, and this should be done. We boys who have been on this road for years certainly have a right over the fellows who are being placed in that office, as they have never worked on the division before. This position is a new one created when the dispatchers were removed to Susquehanna, and we are justly deserving of having a bid at the place, at least. I hope some of the boys on that end will stand up for their rights, and remember I am with you to help secure them, and dare say if the matter was laid before the proper people and explained to them in the right light, we would soon have the matter adjusted.

Mr. C. A. Ford, trainmaster of the Delaware and Jefferson Divisions, has resigned to accept a position with the United States Steel Company at Steelton, Pa. Mr. F. M. Hawley has been appointed trainmaster in Mr. Ford's place.

Mr. W. A. Terry has been appointed relief agent of the Delaware and Jefferson Divisions, with headquarters at Susquehanna. This will be good news to all the agents on this division, for, owing to the shortage of men on this division, the agents are never able to secure any time off. The same can also be said of the brothers who handle the key and blocks, as operators are at a premium, and very scarce.

Do not forget when that extra man comes, to go for him, and ascertain his colors. Talk to him; plead with him, and do all in your power to make him one of us if he does not already happen to carry a card. There are very few nons on this division, and from what I can learn, we will have them all landed soon, but owing to so many changes, we often find those who we can not call "brother," and these are the ones for us to get after. Let us hope that the time is not far off when every worthy telegrapher will be a strong O. R. T. man.

Bro. B. B. Lyden, agent at Herrick Center, has resigned, and will attend school this year, and prepare for college.

Bro. J. E. Fitzgerald, who has been working in "JN" tower for some time past, has been assigned the day trick at "FC," Forest City.

Ararat Summit yard is again the scene of much activity. A crew and engine has been placed there, and all coal from Forest City, Carbondale and points south is classified there. We are glad to learn that a yardmaster has also been placed there, and that Bro. Bechtloff does not have it quite so hard as formerly.

Now, next month let me hear from you. Anything addressed to me at Brandt will catch me.

CERT. 864.

The Pennsylvania Ry.

Sunbury and Lewistown Division—

Bro. A. G. Jarrett, of Clifford nights, relieved Mr. D. L. Gemberling, day yardmaster's clerk at Selmgrove, during the latter's vacation. He, in turn, was relieved by Telephone Signalman Wm. Meckley, of Kreamer.

Sister B. H. Seid spent Saturday visiting her parents in Williamsport and friends in Renovo.

Bros. Joe Otto, of Rogers Summit, and Calhoun, of McClure, are working the vacation tricks in superintendent's office, "SB," Sunbury.

Bro. Engle, of Beaver Springs nights, is off on a two weeks' vacation; relieved by Bro. Malick.

A new telephone block office opened at Raubs Mills, with Miss Diemer occupying the chair days, and a Mr. Baker, of McClure, nights; call "B."

Hope the management will see fit to continue the suspension of trains over Sunday. It certainly seems more like living, and, by the kindness of our dispatchers, we were allowed to enjoy the day with our families and friends. I am sure it was appreciated by the trainmen, as well as we brass pounders.

No more O. R. T. posters allowed in the offices, but we wear the button just the same.

CERT. 15.

Shamokin Division, Branch—

We are pleased to note the increasing attendance at our monthly meetings.

There seems to be quite a number of new men coming on our division. Get after them and if they have not got a blue card get their application for one.

The time is drawing near when our new law, giving us eight hours as a day's work, takes effect. Quite a number of operators will be required for our divisions alone.

Now, brothers, it is up to us, not only to hold what we have, but to gain more, or in a few years, through these schools, we may encounter serious trouble.

If any of the brothers have any news kindly forward it to Box 13, Nescopeck, or our secretary and treasurer, W. D. Grant, 225 Fairmount, who will look after it.

There are still a few nons who persist in staying out of our Order. It is time these narrow-minded gentlemen realized the good results that have been obtained on our division in the last year, compared with the preceding years. CERT. 46.

Shamokin Division—

We were pleased to meet Bro. Ellis, a national organizer from Ohio, last week. He made everything solid on the P. & R. from Newberry to Port Clinton. That the membership is increasing heavily can not be disputed. He said he might stop at two offices on the Branch.

Well, the last meeting was a dandy, what a crowd. I favor placing a fine on the Branch men if they can not do better, with no board, convenient trains and passes, what more is needed? A few have made a start and I hope more will follow.

Do you ever think how much extra work and annoyance this block system has given you? Your work has doubled in the last year. Has your salary? Did the 10 per cent increase last winter do you any good? Study over the big increase in your living and you are about as badly off as before. Sixteen cents per hour is a nice sum to raise a family on.

To the brother who is violating his obligation by student teaching, I say you are the cause of this. Why don't you leave the Order and sail under your proper colors? Don't carry water on both shoulders, you know what happened to others. It may happen to you. The eight-hour jobs are coming, but keep your eye on Congress. If an attempt is made to repeal it, storm the members with protests. We did it before.

There are a few to reach on this division, go for them.

Bros. Showver and Yeager have resigned.

Branch men are requested to attend meetings; no board. CERT. 132, Div. 12.

Allegheny Division—

The meeting held at Kittanning was a grand success, one of the best we have yet held. A short session was held in the hotel before dinner, for the benefit of those who wished to leave on No.

65. Matters pertaining to the welfare of the operators were discussed by those present, and it was the unanimous opinion of all that a vigorous fight should be made against any reduction when offices are placed on an eight-hour basis.

The meeting at Oil City was also well attended, and the manner of advertising the eight-hour positions was thoroughly discussed, everybody seeming of the opinion that the third trick only should be put up for bid, the day and night operators to be given first and second trick, respectively. This has not been done, but we believe, now that the matter has been placed before the officials by the local committee, such a ruling will be made.

The local committee met the superintendent and division operator on November 14, and at this writing there is nothing to report, only that the committee was cordially received and given ample time to present the operators side of all questions. There is no doubt but that we have fair and liberal-minded officers on this division, and while they may make rulings at times that don't look right, we must remember that they are human and liable to err. There is no doubt but what if they are shown to be wrong the matter will be adjusted.

Sister Levers came down from Mayport to attend the Kittanning meeting. She and Sister Cuineen were the only ladies in attendance. They claim that they had a good time, and we wish to assure them and all of our sister members that they are always welcome.

Bro. J. V. Schilling has resigned and gone back into the oil business. He says when the $75 minimum is a fact, he will come back.

Bros. O. J. Williams and O. J. Ritchey, of "BN" office, Pittsburg, spent Sunday at their respective homes recently.

Bro. Shakely, of "BN," Pittsburg, made a flying trip to Emlenton, the other Sunday.

Bro. W. F. Reiner has taken the agency at Tyler, relieving Bro. Wilson, who resigned to go elsewhere.

Bro. C. J. Rimer passed through Pittsburg recently, on his way to visit his brother in Kansas City.

Bro. J. L. Cassidy, late of the B. & O, is doing the night stunt at St. Charles.

Bro. H. T. Marsh is kept on the jump doing the relief work on the Low Grade.

Bros. Flynn and Bruebaker were the successful candidates for Oak Ridge and Mayport, respectively.

Nons are becoming so scarce on the Low Grade that they are considered quite a curiosity.

Bro. John T. McNaughton was awarded first trick at Kenerdell, Bro. Ray having been given the third trick at "VS" tower.

Changes are coming so fast just now that it is almost impossible to keep track of them.

Former brother, I. L. Green, who for many years was a faithful member of Division No. 52, lies at his home in Kittanning, in a precarious condition, suffering from a paralytic stroke. At this writing little hope is entertained for his recovery.

By the time this reaches print, nearly, if not all, the offices will have been placed on an eight-hour basis. The company will attempt to reduce the established minimum in a number of cases, and abolish the monthly relief day at all offices. It is a rank injustice and the company will gain nothing by attempting such an unjust move, and if salaries are not restored at an early date a large number of the operators will seek employment elsewhere.

My advice to you all is to do nothing hasty, give your committee a chance to make a good fight in your behalf, and if they fail then it is time to figure on the next move. It is my opinion that the whole matter will, finally, adjust itself to our entire satisfaction, for the simple reason that we have right and justice as a basis for our claims and the company knows it, they are merely trying a bluff, and if it works they are that much to the good. Don't get impatient, but aid your committee and yourselves by performing your duties to the best of your ability. Don't trade off without permission, stay awake at night, answer your call promptly and watch the company's interest as you would your own. Remember, our organization stands for a square deal, a fair day's work for a fair day's pay. True, we do not always get the fair day's pay, but is it not also true that we do not always give a fair day's work?

Next month I will take a "fall" out of the nons, so if any read this they better take warning and get under cover.

BRIGHAM.

Hocking Valley Ry.

Toledo Division—

It will not be long before our committee goes up for a revision of our present schedule, then we want to be solid. If we can not show a solid front we need expect nothing, as you all know that the company will give nothing unless they are almost forced to do so. We are getting better hours now, why not try to get better wages?

Have a good many brothers on this line that can not find their way to our meetings. It would do them a great deal of good to come out and get acquainted with the boys. It is only once a month; they should be able to get out that often at least.

All three trick jobs ought to furnish two men at all meetings, but it seems as if these jobs are the least represented. The men that have the hardest time to get out are the ones that show up, and we always have a good time. We want to see you all turn out that can possibly do so, and get next to what is going on along the road.

CERT. 256.

New York Central Ry.

Hudson Division—

Bro. Nagy, "BS 97," has gone on the Pennsylvania. Bro. Patten has bid in "97," still keeping it solid.

Mr. Henderson, at "93" in place of Bro. Patten.

Bro. McManus, of "BS 88," has gone on another road.

Mr. Huddleston and Mr. Johnson again at "88." H. A. Kilmer again with us on the extra list.

Kirkbright, from "BS 88," is now baggage man at Stockport station.

Understand a new arrival on this line is running a ham factory, and would take this opportunity to inform him that it don't go here. Perhaps he could make more money in that line than by wearing a union button, but it seems to us that now, when he is on a union road, he should strive to uphold the principles we have so long been working for, even though he is not a union man. It is enough to reap what we have sown without trying to destroy our harvest entirely. The N. Y. C. men have been known far and wide to welcome all new men, but they would rather welcome them as possible brothers than as a ham professor.

Mr. J. Robinson, third trick at "38," has sought other fields.

New "BS" about completed, "BS 36A." This will control storage yards at Fleischmann's.

Bros. Mooney, Paterson and Collins are looping them at "BS 40A."

Quite a few telegraph B. stations are being filled by non-telegraph men, account not sufficient operators to go round. When the monetary consideration is sufficient to make these positions an inducement for men to seek them, and the remuneration is in equity with the responsibility involved, there will be no scarcity of operators.

Bro. Hetzel, from "BS 58," has returned to the Erie.

Bro. Burns has been assigned to first trick "BS 59."

Bro. O'Neil, second trick "BS 59," has left the service. Understand his nerves were shattered by an over-dose of quinine.

Brothers, it is your duty to do your small part towards making your organization one that will be second to none. Don't sit idly by and let the few do all the hustling. If you have a suggestion or any criticism to make, come to the meeting and discuss it; if you can not get to the meeting, write your Local Chairman. Also make your journal interesting each month by sending a few notes that will be of interest to the boys out on the line.

Before you have perused these notes you no doubt know the result of the conference of the General Committee with the management. I trust the efforts of the committee will be satisfactory to all, and that each of you will be inspired to give the best possible service, and in so doing command the respect of the company.

I wish to say a few words to the delinquent reliefs, those that make it a practice of always relieving their men a few minutes late. This practice has been the cause of no little discord among men at block stations. This can all be eliminated by each of us getting there on time, not five or ten minutes late. Those few minutes oftentimes means the missing a train or breaking an important engagement. Harmony in our ranks is essential to our success.

CERT. 356

Harlem Division—

We ought to be up and doing for a division as large as this, with very near every one carrying an up-to-date card. Why should we not have things as they ought to be? How many agents or assistant agents on other lines (some not as solid as this) are walking over half a mile in each direction every day, lighting switch lamps, as most of us are doing? How many lines are letting new men (mostly scabs) come in and take positions that should go to men who have been on the road years holding down jobs that don't begin to compare with some of the positions that are given to these outsiders? And who is at fault, no one but ourselves, just because they are not put up for bid, as all positions are everywhere else. We can't expect things to come to us that we don't go after, so why stay down in the ditch, brothers, when it would take no time to get up on the level, where we should have been long ago.

Boys, why not get together and talk this thing over, then do something. If there is not a move made we surely will never get anywhere, that is sure. Just stop and think how it would seem if you did not have to go out and count ties every day lighting switch lamps, and then make up your mind there should be something done, then, if we all get that feeling, there would be no trouble getting our wishes granted.

The eight-hour law that took effect October 1st put a few eight-hour tricks on the single track. Bro. Wooding is on third trick at "BA" tower, his late position, nights at Philmont, going to Mr. Grovesteen.

Bro. Nickerson is handling the second trick at Pawling.

Bro. Day is pounding the brass on third trick at "X" tower, with Mr. Tuttle doing second.

There is a man off the main line at Copake as assistant agent; can not say if he has a card or not. H. R. G.

Electric Division—

The ball of the Electric Division was held on November 11th at Murray Hill Lyceum, New York City. Bro. O. Berghorn and Miss Evans led the Grand March, assisted by Bro. A. Hunt and wife.

Bro. M. J. Geoghegan, as Chairman of the Reception Committee, was a very busy man welcoming our guests and friends.

Bro. J. H. West, Local Chairman Hudson Division, came down from Poughkeepsie to attend the ball, also Bro. John Shields and wife, Assistant General Chairman Long Island R. R.

Music was furnished by Prof. E. F. Higgins.

The Arrangement Committee were present from the opening of the doors to the end of the dancing, and saw that every one present enjoyed themselves. At 10:30 p. m. the third trick men left the hall and sent the second trick men.

All members present voted the affair a success, and it is the intention of our member to have a ball annually. The proceeds go into a local fund for the expenses of making our meetings attractive during the winter. Those who attend the meetings in the future are sure of having an instructive and enjoyable evening.

Bro. Frank Lester sold fifty tickets; Bro. T. F. Noon sold thirty tickets.

The General Committee are now in session, but have no news from our Local Chairman. We hope that at this session the taking up of the Grand Central Yard and Electric Division as one division will be disposed of.

Paragraph five of rules of 1906 should be amended, as the time of filling vacancies in the signal department is too long.

Bro. Henry David Stringham, of Mo. Jct., has a book of poems, "Flowers of Thought." Any brother wishing to purchase a copy can get same at Rice's Book Store, 1031 Park Avenue, New York City.

Seventeen special trains were run out of Grand Central station for the Yale and Princeton football game. Everything worked fine.

Changes are so numerous on the Electric Division it is impossible at present to keep track of them.

Bro. Frank McCarthy, of 56th street, bumped Tom Smith off the machine at that point.

Bro. Dave Malone, of Mo. Jct., is off on thirty days' leave of absence on account of illness of his wife. He may not return.

Jack Rowe, of 125th street station, was made agent there in place of Denike, resigned.

Don't forget to remit your dues to Bro. A. E. Blim, Chili Station, N. Y.

T. F. Noon.

Telegraphers' Social Club—

The Telegraphers' Social Club, of New York, on Wednesday evening, November 6th, held their ball at Majestic Hall, on 125th Street, New York. While the affair was a success financially, the attendance was not up to expectations, probably due to a very fierce rain-storm all day and evening. The music was by James Pierce, which was very good.

Prominent among the attendance was Assemblyman Northrop and wife, J. B. West, Local Chairman on the Hudson Division, and wife; S. L. Rugman, Assistant Local Chairman, and wife.

The officers are as follows: M. G. Woolley, President; A. L. MacBain, First Vice-President; F. J. Ryan, Second Vice-President; E. Neumueller, Secretary and Treasurer, who were all present, including their wives and many friends. From all appearances all enjoyed a pleasant and sociable evening.

Hoping for better conditions next year, trusting you will again give your support and lend your presence, with best wishes for success,

E. NEUMUELLER, S. & T.

Canadian Pacific Ry.

A meeting was held at North Bend, September 20th. A large attendance reported as being present. We fully expected to have Bro. Goulet with us, but somehow he did not arrive in time.

We are enjoying our new schedule, which seems to satisfy all.

Bro. Thom still relieving at North Bend.

Bro. Pallen relieving at Hammond while Bro. Ogle is looking for birds.

Bro. Puffer relieving Bro. Freer at Spences bridge.

Bro. Shea relieving Bro. Bray at Port Moody.

Bro. Maxwell is shooting out the 31's from Vancouver now.

Understand Bro. Pallen is feeding two instead of one.

Bro. Young, at Barnet, expects to get holidays in December, when he will visit his old home back in Maine.

I see there are a number of new men on the division. Don't know their names so far.

Yours truly,

First District, Central Division—

Monthly meeting held in our hall on Saturday, November 9th, at which about twenty-eight or thirty were present. All very enthusiastic over our 14 per cent increase, which, I understand, we get with this month's check, or a supplementary payroll, and I suppose by the time the journal gets around, it will be all in the bank. We got it by good, hard work, and a good bunch of committee boys. In fact, a good loyal crowd all around. Keep right at it, and when we get it in that way it is like the cider, "all the sweeter," because "it's right from the bungalow, b'goah!" The boys all had a look at the new schedule, and I do not think that there was a one of them that was not satisfied with it. Now that the work is over, of course, we are going to get such an amount of money every payday that some of the boys thought we should arrange to find a way to spend it, so a committee was appointed to arrange for a ball, which is to be an annual affair, to be held on December 20th in Kenora, for the members of the local and their friends, and by the way the boys are going into it, it can not help but be the same as all things that the Division 7 boys undertake—a howling success. So, boys, buck up, and if you can't come, let your night man come, and you come to the next meeting, which is sure to be a rouser.

There have been considerable changes lately; in fact, I have lost track of some of the boys, so if I get some of them mixed, just put me wise.

Night Chief R. C. Wilton has taken the day trick on Kenora section again. A. H. M. going to night chief.

G. Gilbert, first trick; F. Ball, second trick; C. L. Galloway, third trick on "Q" section.

M. E. McIntosh, first trick; R. Douglas, second trick; G. F. Thompson, third trick; A. McMurphy, fourth trick on "GN" section.

R. C. Wilton, first trick; J. H. Packenham, second trick; L. F. Shores, third trick. All brothers.

Where can you find a crowd to beat it? with G. Robinson, a C. T. U. of A. sticker, Stannard in "DA."

"RS," yard office, now straight eight hours. Looks as if everybody was satisfied except "KRO," who has to leave the feathers about 7 K.

Bro. Bothwell, "NF," nights, transferred to Gilbert, days. Williams, a new man, in his place.

Mr. Gillette transferred "D," nights, to "OD," nights. Succeeded by Mr. Ball, who must be all right, if he is like his brother.

Now, boys, as this is my starter, and I am not very well acquainted with the east end, don't be afraid to send in your news, and I will take care of the "RS" section, and I can't see why that First District of Division 7 can not be represented every month.

CERT. 1886.

Lake Shore & Michigan Southern Ry.

Michigan Division—

It is about time we were appointing a set of live division correspondents. We have a good one on the east end, and what we need is a few like him on the other divisions, so that our line will monopolize as much space in the fraternal department as the B. & O. and several other of our sister roads.

In last month's issue we referred to Mr. M. I. Pancake as brother. This was a mistake, as he was dropped when he went braking, as he expected to stay at that work.

The eight-hour movement seems to have struck this neck of the woods, and the company is placing most of the heavy offices on an eight-hour basis. The only thing about it we don't like is the cut of from $2.50 to $5 made in some of the boys' salaries. With living expenses so high the boys can hardly stand a cut and still make both ends meet.

Work on the new interlocking plant at Elkhart is being pushed as fast as possible. The new brick office is up and the tracks are now being put in shape, and probably will be completed about the first of the year.

Bro. Nelson is the new third man at "WG" tower. I haven't heard the names of any of the other new men that caught the third trick in the other eight-hour offices, but hope they carry an up-to-date card.

Mr. Stotts, a C. T. U. of A. lad, is braking on this division. He was an associated press man at Kansas City before the strike.

Business is very slack at present, caused by too much Wall street. The shops at Elkhart are only working eight hours, while a big cut was made in the working force.

A good many of the road men, when they find themselves still six or eight times out after a nice rest, take their fishing tackle and go down to old St. Joe, near Elkhart Lump, to try their luck fishing, and they generally catch a nice big mess.

No card, no favors.

HOOSIER.

Western Division—

A new move was inaugurated by the members on Western Division by holding a rousing meeting at Laporte, on the evening of October 24, at the home of Bro. J. T. Bachman. The evening trains brought in the brothers from all points, both east and west, and when the roll was called such a gathering of the "craft" was never seen before in the history of the city.

The meeting was called to order promptly at 8 p. m., with Bro. Graham in the chair. Various matters of vital importance for the future welfare of the fraternity on this division were discussed and disposed of. After light refreshments and cigars, served by "Mein Host" Bachman, the social part of the meeting developed.

A great amount of oratorical and musical talent was evoked among the members and their entertaining stunts were a pleasant feature of the evening. Bros. Berens, Lowe, Dawson and Warner made heavy speeches. Bros. Shaffer and Pratt sang a duet, while Bros. Tyler and Huff rendered some choice piano selections.

So many changes taking place every few days that it's hard to keep cases on them.

Bro. C. R. Ocker is regular owl at Mishawaka, relieving Mr. R. M. Kyle, who was accidentally killed at Goshen.

Bro. Sweeney, of South Bend, "Q" office, has resumed work after a six weeks' vacation. He was relieved by Bro. Graham, of South Bend, "HF" office. Bro. Steele is doing the day stunt at "HF," and Mr. Wall the dark side.

Bro. Reid has been working nights at Terre Coupee, while Bro. Tyler relieved agent at New Carlyle.

Bro. F. W. Eichelbaum, the genial agent, and, by the way, now first trick man at Rolling Prairie, has returned to work after six months' vacation, touring the Western States as far as the Golden Gate and other Pacific slope points of interest.

Bro. C. A. Pillman, from some Western road, is a new arrival, and is holding down Walls nights.

Bro. C. O. Bachman, nights at Otis, is enjoying his vacation, deferred from early last summer, when men were at a premium.

Bros. Irwin and Savage went to Chicago via Laporte, the other evening, while Bro. Pillman watched the box at Chesterton.

Bro. J. B. Hubbard is working nights at Grand Crossing.

Bro. H. Sabin is relieving Mr. C. A. Kyle nights at South Chicago. Mr. Kyle was called home on account of the death of his brother.

Bro. Parker, of Burdick days, has resigned; relieved by Bro. Norton, a veteran in the service.

Mr. Cain transferred from Walls nights to Burdick nights.

Bro. H. J. Thomas, of Division No. 18, N. Y. C. & St. L., is holding down Whiting freight house days.

Bros. A. G. Berens and F. Lovett are the heavy weights at "CW," 101st street, Chicago.

Bro. F. J. Scroggins, of Local No. 2, St. Louis, is doing the step-lively act days at Indiana Harbor.

Like all the other roads, we have a few sore-head nons, with their numerous grievances, and a thousand and one other excuses. But I haven't noticed a single one of them who allows a chance to slip whereby he can get a peep at the journal every month, can hardly wait until the good brother lays it down. Fine business that, you know, don't cost anything. Nor have I noticed any of them refusing to take the nine-hour trick that the O. R. T. spent its dollars to secure for them. We have one or two severe chronic cases, worse even than deadheads. I shall probably have something further to say about them later on, but do not wish to if they will show the right spirit in this matter, and come in and help the cause along. JACK, Div. Cor.

Franklin Division—

We are not all dead on this pike, even if we do not get into print.

Mr. L. F. Lynn, new agent appointed at Raymilton.

Bro. McClure, at Sandy Lake, the second oldest operator on the division, thirty-three years in the service, can now show the proper kind of paste-board.

Bro. Jackson, at Clark's Mills, just returned to duty after spending his vacation hunting.

The ham factory at Hadley seems to be still in a flourishing condition, although the production does not equal Armour's.

Bro. F. H. Myers is now located at Osgood.

Dorset Junction was, recently, made a three-trick job. Three good brothers there.

On account of so many changes on the west end and low grade, it is impossible to keep track of them, however there are several nons among them. Brothers, do not wait on your local chairman to do it all. You are in closer touch with them. A word from you will go a long way toward showing them where they are at.

I hope to see 90 or 95 per cent membership on this division before January 1. We can do it if we all pull together, but not by laying back and waiting on some one else to do it.

The new nine-hour law, which takes effect March 4 next, will, no doubt, make some radical changes on our division. We all want this law to be effective. It is surely to our interest to have a solid membership, or as nearly solid as possible, with this end in view, let us all pull together and see if we cannot make greater strides in the right direction.

I sincerely hope some brother will give a write-up each month, as we all look for it.

Your General Committee will, no doubt, meet the officials in Cleveland in the near future. Now, brothers, the Order is just what you make it. If you do not send your committee up with the proper backing, what can you expect of them. A solid backing is the best remedy.

LOCAL CHAIRMAN.

Queen & Crescent Ry., South.

Chattanooga Division—

The meeting held at Dayton, Saturday evening, the 16th, was a success, and although the attendance was small, many points of interest were brought up and discussed. At this meeting "ye humble scribe" was elected division correspondent, and promises to try and give the Chattanooga Division a write-up monthly, if possible, and will look to the boys for their assistance in this. Boys, call up "KJ" every Sunday morning, when you are not "25," and tell me something as to what is going on. We are 90 per cent strong and should have a word or two in THE TELEGRAPHER every month.

Only one man from the north end at our meeting.

Wonder why it was that one or two of the brothers that started for the meeting were lost, strayed or stolen in transit.

Among the things brought out at the meeting was the unanimous decision of the brothers of this division in favor of Bro. Quick's plan for a bond company, and all were heartily in favor that one be organized. The express question was brought up and discussed, and a conclusion reached that a committee be appointed to meet the superintendents of the express companies and ask for a 12 per cent commission on all business handled, and not less than a $5 minimum. Several other important questions were brought up and discussed, which we have omitted, believing it to be advisable, as a detailed report of the meeting would take up too much space, and some brothers would lose interest in the meetings, and wait for the journal. Brothers, you ought to attend and help get what is coming to you. Passes are free for the asking, and a good time is assured at the meetings. If the boys that attend pass a measure you do not like they are not to blame. You should be there and fight it, like the railroad companies do in our Legislature.

Division No. 62, being in the hole, and the boys wishing to see her once more on the main, decided to get out of the hole, and a motion was passed unanimously to raise the dues to $5 semi-annually.

We all were sorry that it was impossible for our chairman, Bro. Hines, to be with us, but we did the best we could, and came away feeling better for the meeting, and that we had accomplished some good. We are very grateful to the orders owning the building in which our meeting at Dayton was held, for allowing us to use the same gratis.

The time is near at hand when we will want a new eight-hour schedule, and our committee will have to know what we want or else they can not get it for us. So come to the next meeting and give us your views.

A motion was made at our Dayton meeting that each and every operator write his Representative and Senator a letter asking that he use his influence in favoring the retention of the nine-hour law, in case a move be made to repeal the same. So let us get busy, as there are others that will be busy to try and have it repealed. That the companies aim to make a fight and have the law repealed is very plainly evident, or else why the blank statement of work performed by telegraph operators, and why are they not sending these blanks to the townsmen and train directors, as well as the operators.

Let us think about these points, and be prepared to say something on them at the next meeting, as nearly all of them ought to be given to our committee to work on, and try and get them in our schedule. First, a clause similar to the one outlined by Cert. 80, page 1687, October TELEGRAPHER. Second, To provide a clause for a separate contract with the commercial telegraph companies operating over the lines we are employed on. Third, A separate contract with the express companies. Fourth, A clause making an up-to-date O. R. T. card the same as a pass. Fifth, The clause referring to doubling to mean "time in excess of the first day or period of regular hours on duty;" this to cover the full period, and, if required to stay during the meal hour, it would be at meal-hour rates, and, in addition to doubling rate.

We have the promise of three nons, to come in pay-day. Let us try and make it 100 per cent strong by January 1, if possible. "CX."

Buffalo, Rochester & Pittsburg Ry.

Buffalo Division—

I will try and give a few items this month, and let the brothers on the Middle and Rochester Divisions know that we have a few live ones left, although a good many dead ones, and a few that might as well be dead as for the good they are doing any one except themselves. This class, of course, is the nons, and they are the worst kickers every time there is a change made or a job bulletined. They never do anything for the fraternity themselves, but are always knocking on those that are trying to do something that will be of benefit to the profession. Although we have a contract here with the company, and as far as the rules are concerned they are as liberal as any road in the country, the only reason that the salaries are not what they should be, is that there are too many that never pay any dues, but never fail to partake of everything that is obtained by the O. R. T. One of these gentlemen works nights, and has one of the best-paying positions on the road. The day man at the place in question laid off indefinitely, and our chief dispatcher, who treats every one fair, sent an extra man there to relieve him. The night man made a terrible holler to some of the boys because he did not get the day work, and let the extra man work nights. The company furnishes each telegrapher a copy of the schedule, and this party should familiarize himself with its contents. I wonder if he thinks that the extra men are here for their health, and that they would stand for anything like that. And, by the way, they are there with the goods (the O. R. T. goods, I mean.) These chronic kickers should get into line and help those that are trying to benefit the profession. They can't claim it is on account of not having the money, for the majority of them have been here for over a year, and are men without families.

There is one thing being done here that should be stopped. That is, so much kicking about what is, and is not being done to parties on the outside, that are not interested in our Order, and in some cases to parties that are not telegraphers at all. This should be stopped. The place to air your troubles and tell of your grievances is in the lodge room.

The other railroad orders hold regular meetings, and we can plainly see the benefit derived therefrom by the difference in salaries and conditions in comparison with the telegraphers. I would suggest that we hold regular monthly meetings at Salamanca, and every member that can possibly get away attend. This would give the Rochester Division members a chance to attend, and we should have a goodly attendance. At places where there are two telegraphers, one should make it his business to attend, by all means. There is simply no excuse for us not having regular meetings. If we don't take an interest in our own welfare we can't expect any one to take it for us. Simply because you carry an up-to-date card does not release you from the responsibilities that you have taken upon yourself. Bro. Murray, one of the committee, has collected something over $50 for the benefit of the striking C. T. U. of A. brothers.

We understand that Mr. McNally, day operator at "BY" tower, has resigned to enter other business.

Several of the brothers and a few of the nons have been taking their free vacation, which was not obtained by the latter, but, of course, they have to partake of all good things that are given away at the O. R. T. free lunch counter, and, of course, they have to have theirs.

Bros. Dorsey, LeBarren and Herrick are new arrivals, and have been doing the extra work. Bro. Herrick is a C. T. U. of A. members. Bro. LeBarren a member of Olean Division, No. 135, has been working at "BY" tower, relieving Mr. McNally for the past three weeks. He found a position close to his home, on the P. R. R., and resigned to accept the same.

Bro. Dorsey, a member of Bessemer Division, No. 51, relieved Bro. Kells and Mr. Reynolds, who have been taking their vacations.

Now, brothers, get after the nons red-hot, so we can show a solid front when we present our new schedule to the management, and we will be sure to get our reward.

Bro. Costello, of "BC" tower, is about to lose his housekeeper, Bro. O'Hern, who contemplates going in business for himself at "BY" tower in the near future.

Bro. Ledden, of Orchard Park, is erecting a new house, which he intends to occupy soon.

Bro. Duhan, of Jewettville, is negotiating for the transfer of his railway interests into brick building property.

Bro. Rhodes, of West Falls, has opened up a gymnasium for the instruction of his subscribers in the line of manly art.

Bro. F. Watson, of Springville, entertained St. Johns regiment band, of Syracuse, recently.

Bro. Wightman relieved him for the day.

Bro. Felton and wife of Hoyts, have adopted a male infant from the Gowanda Orphanage.

Bros. Domes and Fenton have located in their brand new dwelling, which replaces the one of their fire last spring

It is reported the company intends closing "SI," at the north yards, at Sala, on account of the business there being so light. This will probably send Bros. Abbott and Murray to "NC" and "GW," where the work is too much for one man.

BOOMER.

Western Maryland Ry.

Maryland Division—

Will some one kindly tell us why we are not having larger attendance at our meetings? Is it possible that our good brothers are so little interested in them? It would seem that every member of Division 82 should strain a point to get to these meetings and hear of the good that is being done for them, and the progress made since the institution of this division. And, too, it would bring us in closer touch with each other, and teach us to appreciate the work being done by our various committees. We know it is very hard to secure the necessary transportation (only one pass per month being allowed), but I sincerely believe this could be overcome if the boys were to make a direct demand upon our chief for transportation to attend these meetings. However, this is a point that should not be overlooked by our general committee at its next meeting.

The great $75 minimum and eight-hour day has become quite interesting, and we firmly believe it will come. All that is needed is for the brothers to stick, and it is bound to come.

In view of the fact that we are all strongly advocating the $75 minimum we should not forget that we should give good service. Stay awake, and be ever ready to attend to business.

How about those few nons on the east end of the First District? Can't some brother land them? Surely they can if they but try.

We understand Mr. "Non" Peddicord, at Hillen, has, or is, about to open a ham factory at his home. If this is true, we do not think it will be much of a success, but should he succeed in getting any of them to understand his stuff, I should judge they would be capable of holding down most any old office. Boys, get busy; this must not be while he is employed on the W. M. If he wants to do that kind of business it is up to us to see that the proper move is made to place the man in that position that it belongs to.

We wish to call the attention of all members to the general secretary and treasurer of Division 82, Mr. C. E. Marker, Chewsville, Washington County, Maryland, has been appointed, vice Mr. E. H. Koons, resigned on account of being transferred to the second trick, and unable to attend the meetings.

Bro. Chas. S. Gardner is taking a ten days' vacation. Bro. W. F. Harbaugh is relieving at Blue Ridge.

Bro. M. Flickinger has been transferred from Porters, nights, to Hanover, nights, and Bro. W. C. Dubs is doing the owl at Porters. Bro. C. C. Hamm, formerly owl at Hanover, is doing the same stunt at Hampstead.

CONT. 1.

Mexican National Ry.

To begin with, there are very few of the up-to-date boys in this part of Mexico, but understand there are quite a number on the I. M. and C. & P. Railroads. Nevertheless, we are working for the grand old Order, and trying to pull every good man in that we can.

Bro. Wyatt, promoted to manager, "ND," Saltillo.

Bro. Richter, assistant operator, having relieved Mr. Chase, he (Mr. Chase) going to San Luis, dispatcher's office, where he is jumping around over the repeaters there, and trying to burn the wire up with his fast sending. He will be a dispatcher in three months (?).

Mr. M. M. Martinez is doing the owl act at Saltillo.

Bro. Jose R. Martinez, nights at "KN," Monterrey.

Bro. F. Perez is with the C. & P. here, first trick dispatcher.

Bro. Padillo, who, some time ago, was reported dead, is second trick dispatcher on the C. & P. Ry. He was very much surprised to see a notice of his death. Bro. Padillo doesn't look anything like a dead man, and the way he goes after a non shows that he is very much alive. He says he thinks he will live quite awhile yet, and we trust he will.

I am glad to see the write-up from the I. & G. N. Ry., Division No. 25. Now, the boys are going at it in the right way, and they are sure to succeed. I hope to see that road solid in a few months. Wish we had some good workers down here, like Bro. Lyon and Bro. Adams of Division No. 25, to help line-up these roads. But we are after 'em with our little "stick," just the same.

Boys, what do you think of the proposition to have a certain number of the telegraph journal printed in Spanish, so the operators in this country can see just what the boys are doing in the States? I believe it would be a grand thing, and the means of organizing every road in Mexico. I have talked to a number of boys on this subject, and they all say that it would be fine business. Some of them say that the journal does them practically no good at all, as they can not read it. I would like to hear from some of the other boys on this question.

Several of the boys have promised to send in some news in time for next month's journal. "73."

CERT. 4314, GRAND DIV.

Michigan Central Ry.

Remittance slips to cover the first half year's dues for 1908 have been mailed our members, which will serve as a gentle reminder to the brothers to make the necessary arrangements for the appropriation. In order that you may have a new card at the expiration of the old one you should remit at least two weeks in advance of the expiration of the term, as reports are made to the Grand Secretary and Treasurer weekly, viz., 7th, 14th, 21st and last of each month. Therefore, if your remittance does not reach your Secretary before the 21st of December, you will not get your new card on time. Prompt payment of dues and assessments in the M. B. D. is essential to the well-being of an organization. The financial condition of an institution can be readily gauged by the result of their business transactions, so that a good cash balance in your treasury must necessarily bring forth good fruit. We are approaching a very important epoch in the history of our Order, and the success of the telegraphers will largely depend upon their intelligence, ability of their organization to meet and master the rapid changing conditions. Every brother who is at all conversant with passing events can not but help discern the handwriting on the wall; that we must put forth every effort to make our organization impregnable. In doing this we are safe-guarding the interests of our members. I believe there is a great deal of philosophy in the statement by one of our famous generals, viz., "In time of peace prepare for war." I do not wish to convey the idea that we should be pessimistic, but we should at all times be prepared for any emergency that might arise. The telegraphers over the entire country are on trial, and in a few short months we shall be able to determine those who are only dues-paying members and those who are active, energetic and true to their obligation. We hope that every brother will strive to maintain the traditions of old Division 16.

I had a rather peculiar experience recently, which shows the caliber of some of our telegraphers. I wrote an individual up the line, extending him an invitation to join us, as I thought he had reaped benefits from our efforts long enough, and he came back at me with what protection or inducement had the O. R. T. to offer in exchange for his membership. Well, I replied to this lump of inflation attaching the handle "ESQ," telling him this organization was not in the "hock shop" business; that when we did engage in such traffic I would be pleased to furnish him with a list of "warea." For the present I advised him to get in communication with Mr. Farley, president of the "Union-Busters' Union," the only nickel-in-slot and get-rich-quick scheme I knew of. Needless to say he never replied.

I have been advised by good authority that Mr. Daniel S. Bale, agent Waterford, has become a full-fledged professor of telegraphy, and has had instruments placed in his office. He has taken the contract of furnishing the Canada Division with operators. Past experiences of professors of telegraphy have been somewhat checkered.

We also have a member of our division who has been engaged in teaching telegraphy for the past year, and I learn he is doing it because he finds it very profitable business. For information of this brother, I wish to warn him that unless he desists from such practice I shall prefer charges against him for violation of his obligation.

Several complaints have come to our officers that some of our members are giving very poor and indifferent service, the night men being the particular offenders. Now, brothers, you are not doing your duty to men who pay you, nor yet to your organization. When your committee was in conference with the management, one of our arguments why we should be given increased compensation was, it would encourage the telegraphers to render better service. If those promises are not fulfilled, what can we say to the officials at the revision of our agreement next year? I am afraid that your services will have to answer the question. I hope to see an improvement in the work of our members, which will be a valuable asset to your committee when negotiating with the management for improved conditions.

The officials have sprung a new scheme on a number of our members by hiring novices as clerks with salary at $20.00 per month, with understanding that they are to learn telegraphy, and I understand they have gone so far as to issue instructions to some of the agents to devote three hours per day to teaching these poor fellows the art of telegraphy. It shows pretty clearly that the working condition of the operators and agents on the M. C. R. R. are undesirable, and many have gone to other roads, where the working conditions are more favorable. The M. C. R. R. has been the recruiting line for every road in the country; you can find M. C. telegraphers on every system of road in the country, but I will bet a cookey you can not find telegraphers from other roads working on the M. C. If there are, it is but recently, and they did not remain long at that. There is something wrong and I would like to be enlightened on the subject. I do not believe we should engage in the manufacture of students to gratify the desire of those who want to create a surplus of telegraphers. I think we should at least receive the same rate per hour as is given a lot of ignorant foreigners that heave coal and work on the section. These men are paid fifteen cents per hour, yet our men are expected to possess superior ability and to associate with bankers and business men to secure business for the company on the gigantic salary of $45.00 and $50.00 per month for twelve hours per day. What an immense influence we must have with the business men. I believe in doing anything that is reasonable and fair, and am willing to meet an employer half way every time, but I will not go an inch farther.

Our regular monthly meetings in Detroit are being well attended by the members in and around Detroit, the November meeting being a bumper. Many matters of importance were discussed, chiefly the proposition of the commercial telegraphers for federation with the O. R. T. It was unanimously decided to give our sister organization all the assistance possible, but the opportune time for federation had not yet arrived. There was a general discussion on the national nine-hour law, but nothing definite was decided on. Before that law becomes effective I believe we should call together at the different division points all the brothers that could attend, and every member of the General Committee should be present to map out a well-defined policy as to what our attitude shall be in case there are any violations of the law.

There are quite a number of our members in arrears in the M. B. D., which also cancels their membership in the Order until all arrears have been paid, and they have been so notified by the Grand Secretary and Treasurer. Our Secretary will also have to spend considerable postage and stationery to duplicate the notices before they will consent to pay up. I don't think it should be necessary to keep harping about paying your dues and assessments in M. B. D. You all understand the requirements and should endeavor to square yourselves. I am sure you will never miss a paltry dollar per month; you have spent many a dollar and had nothing to show for it the next day but a tired feeling and a bad taste in your mouth. Pay up, brothers; I am sure the organization has and will repay you good interest on your investment. Wishing you all a Merry Xmas and a Happy New Year. "DOOLEY."

Saginaw and Mackinaw Divisions—

Bro. M. K. Campbell, night operator at Mason, bid in Laingsburg agency on bulletin. This is Bro. Campbell's old stand, and he is glad to get back.

Bro. W. A. Coomer goes from Laingsburg to South Bay City as freight agent.

Bro. Towns bid in Rives Jct. nights and Bro. Louks days; Bro. Towns taking a few days off account of a slight accident while on a hunting trip; a few bird-shot in his leg was the extent of the damage, and he is shaking hands with himself to think he got off so easy.

Mr. Fitch, of Mattawan, is relieving Bro. Towns.

Bro. Darrow is the new man at Laingsburg nights.

Bro. C. E. Roe is new man at St. Charles days.

Mr. Miller, who has been relieving Bro. McGee at Frederic while Bro. McGee was sick, is back at Saginaw, "NA," relieving Sister Butterfield for her semi-annual vacation.

W. J. Bernard, new night man at Saginaw, is new man on the road and not known.

Bro. Honey, Standish, sick nearly a week before it was possible to get relief.

Bro. F. Brown relieved Bro. Robinson at Bay City, "WS," during his vacation.

Bro. Bourassa, days at West Branch, fell down cellar at his home a week ago and sprained his ankle and bruised up pretty bad, but impossible to get relief, so had to do best he could on crutches.

Bro. E. G. Shaw, of Grayling nights, shot a fine 200-pound buck a few days ago, and was only gone from town a few hours, which is much better than many do who go to the upper Peninsula for the whole season.

One of the boys has been discharged for general poor service, and more will follow if an improvement is not made in the service at some places. The service is generally first-class, but there are a few who don't seem to take any interest in the way things move. And it is best for all concerned to weed those out.

This division is in the best of shape; every man who has been in the service on this line a year is a member, and many who have been here much less, and if the financial condition of the country clears up we will have a fine schedule next year.

Salt Lake Division—

In the last TELEGRAPHER there was a write-up from some brother on the First District, as most of the happenings spoken of were on the east end. Here is one from the Second District. Now let us have one from the Third District next month, followed by one from the Fourth District. The happenings will be brought to the attention of the members in this way. The local chairman or secretary should get enough news from the members for a write-up every month. You look for this news, and do not always find it. Do your little mite in this direction, and there will be plenty of interesting news for all. Do not hold back thinking some other member is going to make a few notes.

Bro. M. J. Cullen makes a much closer move to Ogden, answering "WB" again will be a great satisfaction. How about the night position? If a regular appointee does not work at his appointment for six months or more, it should be bulletined, and others given a chance.

Bro. C. E. Kalb, just back from a vacation. He moves to Midlake to get the full benefit of the lake breezes.

Bro. R. A. Carroll goes to Tecoma, days, to help with the increasing business. Bro. P. W. Merrill, agent, will be in new quarters as soon as the carpenters pay him a visit.

With the exception of Bro. E. A. Leahy, a home-made dispatcher, there has been so many changes at Montello I have not been able to keep track of them.

Miss Murphy leaves Fenelon for Lemay, where more trains stop.

Bro. F. Woodruff comes from the west end to Moor, nights.

Bros. J. O. Becker and C. A. Finck will take care of the business at Wells, days and nights, respectively.

Mr. T. N. Collins, at Ryndon a short time; a "non," a knocker of the O. R. T., says he can get along without the Order. The Katy or the Santa Fe are looking for men of his caliber. He did not fail to use the extra privileges granted in our schedule. He is old and big enough to know and do better. Members beware of him. He left here without meeting his obligations.

Bro. Cline, presiding at Elko, expects to leave the service. An outside man would be a big help, and avoid the many changes at the passenger depot.

Carlin was the center of attraction on the last bulletin, with four positions filled. Agency, day operator and two night men.

The Third and Fourth Districts nor the branches were represented on the last bulletin. A settle down and stay at home policy must reign.

The operators were called to the different division points for examination and instruction in a traveling car fitted up for this purpose. There was some query along the line as to whether the operators were entitled to overtime or not while away. The schedule says very plainly that time will be allowed when away on the company's call. None of the time-slips have been returned. We should get the overtime. One lame excuse was that we were benefited by the instruction. No doubt about that. Every one in attendance was.

From the following it looks as if the articles in contention brought up by our arbitration board for a revision of the schedule, is going to be worn threadbare through the Court of Appeals.

Sharp practice on the part of A. A. Moore, attorney for the S. P. Railroad Company, was alleged by Herman G. Walker, attorney for the O. R. T. in the United States Circuit Court of Appeals, in making a motion to dismiss the appeal because the records had not been docketed. The records were the proceeding before the board of arbitration and those before Judge Van Fleet in the Circuit Court.

Attorney Walker based his motion on a letter from Moore stating that he had not filed the record with the Appellate Court, and he was of the opinion that there was no record on file.

An investigation showed that the record of the Circuit Court was not completed until the last day for filing it with the higher court. There was little time, and the obliging clerk of the lower court filed the record himself. The court found that it was true that Moore had not filed the letter personally, but the case was properly docketed and the motion denied. The appeal goes over until the February term.

It behooves me to call your attention to a certain animal that is wandering promiscuously around among the inhabitants of this, our terrestrial abode, and who is usually found around a telegraph office, and this animal pertains to a specimen of humanity which is fittingly termed a "scab." The strike of the C. T. U. A. caused these freaks of nature to spring up in localities unexpected. The name of this particular specimen is odious, the sight of one of these creatures gives one the qualms; for you know all animals have a distinct odor of its kind, and the effluvium from one of these reprobates is very offensive to the nostrils of a sensitive and refined being, and we, to a certain extent, have to endure them; but there is a way to make these despicable characters feel our contempt and resentment, and that is to treat them with utter scorn. "God created all things for a purpose," and created man pure and undefiled, but I don't believe he knows or cares anything of these freaks of nature, called the scab. They are the self-molded character of Satan, and their hearts are blacker than a plot hatched in hades by the imp of perdition. There was wandering promiscuously around this town a she scab, and there came unto her an unknown voice, saying, "Scabby, how art thou," and the scab made answer, "Fixed financially, but socially dead as bell." There is but one way to get even with these hyenas, ostracize them from the society of honest people, and this I believe to be our plain duty, and should be dealt out as justice to them, for this they rightfully deserve. Little did I think there could be found in our midst such depraved characters, who would sell their birthright for a mess of pottage. When man becomes so debased as to be unworthy of respect, they should be sent on down to fry below.

Let us brand these depraved characters with the mark of Cain, that all may know them, and if we can't enjoy the consolation of seeing them hanged higher than Haman, we can, at least, make them see a turbulent time by making things unpleasant for them, and consign them to the company of their own ilk. When man sinks so low as to be unworthy of the respect of his fellow-beings he deserves to be ostracized from decent society, and should be made a pariah, that honest men might know him no longer, and should be forced to reside on some isolated isle, among the reptiles, away from the haunts of man, and then this would be doing the reptiles an injustice, for I fear the morals of the hissing viper would be contaminated by coming in contact with this self-polluted creature. Such characters are only fit for serfdom, and if they ever rise above the feudal state it will not be through honest methods. They, having served their purpose, become an eye-sore, and are looked upon with contempt, both by honest men and their employer, and are a contamination to society.

The November meeting was called to order by our chief, Bro. Pennypacker, with twelve members present. Those absent will never know what they missed, and I am not going to take space in order to give details, though I would like to do so for the benefit of those who were unable to attend. The same old regulars were present, and some very interesting talks were made by different ones, which I consider good, sound logic, and if carried out will redound to the interest of all concerned, and will, I hope, infuse new life into some of the inert members. I think it a shame that so many of the brothers who can attend the meetings, if they would, leave the whole burden upon the shoulders of a few, and then if they don't see everything moving their way—well, they know what they have done in the past. If one has the welfare of anything at heart he is apt to look after it, and if he wants anything he will come very near going for same; so I draw the inference that those who do not attend the meetings, or take any interest therein, are perfectly satisfied with their present conditions; if they were not, they would be on hand every meeting night to see if they could not find a few more rocks to use in their business, and to look after the eight-hour tricks. How about it? Do you need any more chicken feed, and do you want the eight-hour day?

I feel it a duty I owe, not only to you, but unto myself as well, if possible, to arouse you from that state of lassitude, that we may brush the cobwebs from our eyes and awaken to the realization of facts pertaining to our environments. If you be wise you can read between the lines.

When your eyes rest upon these few expressions the year will have neared its close, and nothing can be added or detracted therefrom, and as we close the book of the old year to lay it aside, and the pages of the new year are being unfolded to us, let us try and write something therein worthy of note, so that others scanning its yellow pages, in after years, may, at least, say, "Well done, thou good and faithful servant."

C. and K. Division—

Everything seems to be getting better and everybody ought to feel better, as we have just been notified of our new schedule being in effect November 1st, which should make all O. R. T.'s feel good.

We have some new men on this line who have just sent in their applications, and we certainly are growing and getting stronger. Wherever there is unity there is power.

Let's make it solid on Division 97.

You all know C. W. has a telegraph school, and is trying to send out a few hams.

Everybody wants a $75 minimum; and how can we get anywhere if we don't pull together? Look around and see what you can find.

Those who haven't an up-to-date card get in line and make the thing solid on 97. No other way to get there. The man who does the quickest and best work is the winner. Let us be up and doing.

CERT. 17,215.

Fifth Division—

Our meeting, held at Helena on the night of November 2d, was better attended than any meeting held on the Fifth Division, which was very gratifying.

It was certainly gratifying to all the brothers to see our sisters present at our meeting, and they should be complimented for attending. I want to see every sister on the Fifth Division attend our meetings regular.

Local Chairman Bro. D. C. Smith notified us that he had resigned the chairmanship for our division. We all regretted very much to hear of this, as Bro. Smith has served us as local chairman for nearly five years.

Some of the brothers on this division do not attend our meeting. How do you expect us to turn the wheel of prosperity without your help? Are you not willing to assist in bettering our conditions? Are you satisfied with your present salary, your long hours? If you are not, how do you expect to better your condition by staying at home? Suppose we all were to stay at home, and not attend our meeting. Why, the good old O. R. T. would soon be like it was some years ago. Don't think because you have an up-to-date card (of course, they are a mighty fine thing to have), that it is all that is required of you. You must attend our meeting and display some interest for our welfare. Show your officials that you are interested in your Order, and that you want to attend every meeting that is held on your division. Ask for relief, and pass from your superintendent in ample time. Don't wait until the last moment, and then wire him for it.

Very few changes to report, but understand that telegraph operators are at a premium on this road at this time.

You brothers must get the sleep out of your eyes. Here you are, still in the same old rut, and if you do not do something pretty quick you will be an "also ran."

Have you noticed that the wages of railway baggagemen, conductors, flagmen and brakemen are to be increased 10 per cent at once? And most important are the new rules governing promotion, hours of rest and facilities for comfort, and other things in which trainmen are concerned.

Brothers and fellow telegraphers, what is the cause of this? Is it because the company is getting kind? Oh, no; I hasten to assure you that it is not—not a bit of it. It is because the trainmen have the grit and courage to present their demands, and get recognition, but with us, my dear fellows, we, who are the main factor in the handling of trains, and also in handling of money, who are under bond. What do we get? The standard is about $40 to $57.50 per month, and, I am sorry to say, we clutch at it as if it were a million.

Do you always expect to do this? We are an intelligent class of employees. We should know better than this, and the only solution of the question is to break away from your bonds of servitude, and say "we want an increase of from 10 to 20 per cent, and if we don't get it, go and see if you can secure skilled help to take our places." Don't you understand? Join our noble Order, and help the good cause along. Don't drudge along in the same old way.

Work quick. Line your next office up. It means as much to you as it does to him.

DISCUSTED.

The Minneapolis & St. Louis Ry.

I have failed to notice, for a long time, any suggestions from Division 123. I do not mean by this that the boys are not taking any interest in the work, for I know they are. But an earnest endeavor on the part of every member of this division should be made to get together, and with a united action, the coming ninety days, try to convert as many as possible of our "nons." I fear we are not up with the average in strength.

I would suggest that an organizer be put on this division, and I think if each one of us donated, say, a dollar or two, toward this cause, it could be successfully carried out, and I feel safe in saying that no one would hesitate a moment to do his part financially to that end. I believe some such action ought to be commenced at once, for, in my estimation, never before was the time for action so ripe as it is now, and what is more, it's not going to last forever. I also suggest that we make a universal demand for eight hours at 30 cents per, and if we are called to battle, may we all march as one, with an unshaken determination to win.

Brothers, do you realize that there are a thousand other ways to make a livelihood while we are adjusting our differences with the railroads? Let us all send in our suggestions now, whether it be one way or another, and I feel confident that Bro. Perham will do the proper thing in the proper time.

Brothers, on account of general committee at Buffalo, can not give you any news until next month.

Very few changes on this division during the past month. Several Western Union men resigned to go back to 195.

O. R. T. joint meeting at Cincinnati, Ohio, and Indiana Divisions Wednesday, October 23d. Have not learned what they did.

Only one or two nons left on this division. I think they will hand in their applications soon.

Only a few nons means only a few hams. Some of the night men are running ham factories; having three or four flunkies all the time. Union men, too. This must be stopped.

Bros. L. V. Williams and J. L. Williams are looking after the company's interests at Montgomery.

"13" Bro. Gorman, of Georgia, is taking ten days' vacation.

New arrival working days at Georgia. Unable to learn if he has a card or not.

Bro. Gallagher has been taking a vacation for the last two weeks, is back at the key.

Understand R. J. Sanders has bid in Rivervale, nights.

Agent Cogswell, of Deputy, resigned. Unable to hear who relieved him.

Culloms, nights, on bulletin. Understand D. F. Cavanaugh has been the lucky man.

North Bend agency has been bulletined, Hoping having resigned. Unable to say where he went.

G. W. Landon appointed agent at North Bend, temporarily. ACTING COR.

Northwest Division—

Bro. Van Antwerp, an old-timer on this division, who has been working with us a short time, was recently called to the bedside of his little son, who met with a serious accident.

Bro. A. Whitcraft, Taopi, nights, who has been absent some time on account of sickness, is again heard on the wire.

Bro. J. Hurley is again at Randolph, after an extended absence.

Bro. Peterson, a new man off the I. C., has Rich Valley nights at present.

Operator P. May, a C. T. U. of A. man, is holding the night job at Hampton. He expects to return to commercial work soon.

How do you like the new time card?

"13" Bro. Smith, agent at Coates, intends to go West to spend the winter.

Our Grievance Committee, after conferring with the railroad officials at St. Paul, have returned to their respective homes. Have not heard what the results were, but "13" they were asked to "call again."

A new agency has been created since the new time card took effect. It was at Mantorville, and was given to Chas. McCloud. This office has been troubling us for some time. The agent had the pleasure of two positions, as engineer on the passenger train and as agent.

Mr. W. J. Boyle, formerly relief agent, has secured New Hampton days, and Operator Kightlinger goes back to night work there.

Bro. Latimer, McIntire nights, has taken a few days off; relieved by Operator Marquette.

Mr. A. L. Wilhelm, formerly first trick dispatcher at "X," is back on the C., G. W., now working the third trick.

One more man has entered the fold in the person of Mr. A. Farnum, night man at "VA." Let the good work keep on.

Allegheny and Greenbrier Districts—

"Merry Christmas, prosperous New Year."

About the time that THE TELEGRAPHER reaches you, the above will be on the lips of the millions who celebrate the birth of our Savior, and to the readers of THE TELEGRAPHER I extend it. I hope the year that has passed has been one of prosperity and advancement to you, what the year to come brings to you is largely a matter of what you do towards making it. It is in your power to make it prosperous for yourself and your brother telegraphers, and you can do it if you will stick by the tenets of your Order. See that you do your duty towards it, see that all desirable non-members are worked on, attend meetings whenever you can, pay your dues promptly, give the companies good service, refrain from strife, and do not knock your officers for any little grievance you may have, be it well founded or imaginary. If you think you can run the business of your lodge or division better than the officers, get active, go in and show the membership your worth, and they will put you up as their leader if you show ability. Do not sulk, it does no good. Throw away your hammer, and every man work for the best interests of all. If this is done the year of 1908 will be the best in our history.

To the boys on Division 40 I want to say, wake up. In two months your General Committee will meet the management for a new agreement. Have you done your part toward putting them in good shape for the meeting? Have you given the company good service? Have you paid your dues, so we can feel like we can make a long, strong fight? Have you been after the nons and the C. T. U. of A. boys who are working on the road to get in the wagon? If not, you had better get busy. Your committee represents you to the best of their ability, they are the generals in the battle, but no matter how skillful they are, what arguments they put up, they can not win unless the rank and file are with them, so it is up to you. I am glad to say that the majority, yes, a large majority, of the men on our road are good, loyal O. R. T. men, still, we have some who are not; we have some few members who have to be jogged up month after month for their dues; we have some who never come near a lodge or let their voice be heard in any matter, and then we have a few who will not become members, no matter what is said to them or what is done. It is to these three classes of men that I want to say a few words.

Did you ever stop to think that no matter what you do towards helping the Order, or towards tearing it down, that you have got to live under the agreement made by the O. R. T., if you work on the C. & O. We legislate for all offices, no matter who works them. Why, then, will you persist in not doing your duty, and if you are a member be a live one, and if a non, get in the Order quick; the stronger we are the better chance of getting a good agreement. Think of these things during the glad Christmas times, and let the New Year find you with a firm determination to do your full duty to your Order, and let your committee be backed by a solid line of loyal O. R. T. men from Old Point Comfort to Cincinnati.

Times are rather flush on the Allegheny District, or at least Bro. Perry, at Big Bend must think so, anyway he has money to burn. He laid his month's salary of some six or seven $10 "williams" down where his little son got his hands on them and proceeded to throw them in the fire. Fortunately, Bro. Perry rescued enough of each "willie" to have our Uncle Samuel make him new ones, so he is in the clear.

Sister and Brother Sweet have taken the day and night offices at "WR," which is a new office at west end Ronceverte yards.

Bro. A. B. Dickson, of Jerry's Run, is off with his brother, who is traveling for his health.

Bro. H. D. Vass, of Whitcomb, is off on account of the sickness of his mother.

Bro. Fleshman, of Pence Springs, had a fine time on his hunting trip.

Again wishing every reader the compliments of the season,

Fraternally yours,
A. W. HOLMES, Chairman.

Lexington Division—

Our regular meeting, held at Huntington on Saturday night, October 26th, was not so well attended as it should have been.

Boys, we must turn out, talk O. R. T. to each other, attend the meetings and listen to the good things said. Where two men are working, one should go to the meeting, and both if possible.

There are still ten or twelve on this division who are behind with their dues for the term ending December 31, 1907.

Brothers, deposit your money, for it is going to come back to you before long.

We have very few nons on this division, and what few there are say they are coming to the front pay-day.

Our new local chairman, Bro. H. O. Irwin, is locating the nons fast, and is starting them on the right road.

Brothers, we should assist our local chairman in every way we can, for he has stood the test when our army was small, and it took a good man behind the gun. Now is the time for us to show our appreciation of his good work done then.

Bro. Berry, Midland, days, has been off for a few days.

Bro. Stewart, night owl in his place.

Bro. Green doing the night act.

Bro. Rucker, Aden, days, has resumed work after a few days' vacation.

Bro. Sewell, Olive Hill, days, just returned from a visit to relatives down near Richmond, Va.

Bro. Roberts doing the day work during his absence.

Our chief dispatcher, Mr. E. H. Edsall, has been taking a vacation for about ten days; relieved by the first trick dispatcher, Mr. Fischer.

Bro. Burns, of Ashland Junction, is working third trick at Netherlands.

I notice the second and third tricks at Netherlands and Winchester, days and nights, have been advertised, but can not say yet who will get them.

I "13" there are several new men coming on this division. Glad to say we have found no nons lately. This speaks well of our division.

Boys, keep the ball rolling, and don't fail to impress upon the nons that we are expecting a $75 minimum, and, of course, they need the money, as we are all only millionaires in our dreams.

Sorry to say, but the brothers seem bashful in sending me news items, with the exception of Bros. Paine, Crandell and Danielson.

Bro. J. H. Olson, who has been nights at "D," has quit the Soo. Bro. Chapman, agent there, is all alone at the present time. This puts him on the "25" list.

Bro. Snyder, agent at Loma, has also quit; relieved by Mr. A. D. Morris, recently from the C. & N. W., at Litchbridge, Sask.

Bro. Bengle, agent at Tolley, has also left us, and gone South; relieved by Bro. W. F. Verjow, of Medford. Have not heard who has been assigned Medford, as time is not up until November 20th.

Bro. Classen, agent at Rolette, has resigned, and gone to Milwaukee, Wis. Bro. Castle is temporarily in charge of Rolette.

Grano is filled by an old-timer of that place, who is also in the hardware business.

Bro. Crandell, of Bisbee, was off three days; being relieved by Bro. M. C. Chaffee, owl at Overley. Crandell made a flying trip to Minneapolis.

Grano, Rolette, Medford, Ogema and Mahero-men agencies are bulletined.

Forest River is filled temporarily by Mr. W. J. Dalton, recently from the N. P., at Hawley, Minn.

The men on the wheat line will all appreciate the late fall we are having. Last year at this time there was about seven feet of snow on the ground, and we only saw a train occasionally during the remainder of the winter.

Bros. Lewis, of "US;" Ferguson, of "RN;" Allison, of "B;" Dalton, of "HA," and Hennicke, of "NF," are planning on making Bro. Lathrup, of "CN," a call Saturday night, November 23d. Will be a night session, but guess can talk O. R. T. in the night. E. G. D.

Louisville Division—

Slowly the eight-hour tricks are being established on this division. Columbus and "NA," New Albany, started with third man November 1st, and on November 18th, North Tower, Jeff Junction, "BO," end of double track, and "RA," dispatcher's office, were given the third man. We are looking for the good work to extend on the road in the near future. Seven extra men, and our chief turning applicants down almost daily. Do not think any road in the country is going to experience any difficulty in securing men to fill the ranks.

Although we are not solid on this division, things look very encouraging to become solid in the near future, with the possible exception of about four men, whom all the boys along the line know are sore-heads, and are always wanting something for nothing. I hope the time will soon come when such fellows will have to step down and out, and a brother take his place.

Mr. Geo. Hudson, Seymour, nights, off two nights and made a trip to Memphis, Ind.; relieved by extra man, Mr. C. E. Hudson, formerly with the Southern Indiana Railway.

Mr. Grant Sweet, Caney, nights, off one night. He went to Jeffersonville to get a deed for some real estate he has been purchasing; relieved by Mr. C. E. Hudson.

Mr. V. C. King, Whiteland, days, off three days on a hunting trip; relieved by extra man, Mr. F. L. Montgomery.

Mr. R. C. Spangler, extra man, became sick while relieving Mr. C. E. Huckleberry at Harland, nights, and extra man, Mr. E. L. Wade, was called upon to fill the vacancy.

Mr. U. D. Casey, Christie, days, was off about a week, and understand he made a visit in Illinois with some of his friends along the Wabash Railroad, for which road he used to work. Mr. C. E. Hudson relieved him.

Mr. J. F. Hyde, Amity, days, resigned to accept a position as clerk under the agent at Edinburg.

Boys, whatever you do, do not allow our chief to talk you out of the Order. It is none of his business whether we belong to the Order or not, and we should tell him so. Let us attend strictly to our duties to the company, and give him no excuse for complaint, then we will have nothing to fear; for no one is going to be discharged for the simple reason that he belongs to a labor organization.

These few notes were picked up on short notice, and may not interest, but, on the receipt of my November journal, I was disappointed when I found no items from this division, and thought I would send in a few for the next issue.

Central Massachusetts Division—

Things are coming pretty fast just now on the old pike, and we are all kept pretty busy catching the hot ones that are handed out to us by our iron-fisted dispatcher, C. J. M.

I notice that the boys are not doing much sleeping, though, and that the boss generally gets them when he wants them, and that is the way it should be, too.

"13" that the officials won't do anything on revision of the schedule until the nine-hour law goes into effect, and it is just as well, for if an agreement was reached now, it would have to be gone over again next March, entailing unnecessary expense to the division and loss of time to the committee.

I hear that, beginning with January, we are going to get division passes. If this is so, we will have a right long withheld, and should take care and not abuse it, for if we do, it won't be long before they will be called in. If you get them, keep them to yourself, and don't let other people ride on them, and don't do any unnecessary riding yourself, especially us night men. Use them conscientiously, and I think that you will enjoy the benefits all the year round. We will be about the only road in New England that will have the passes, and by setting a good example to the rest, our brothers on the other roads may get them, too.

I "13" that freight is piling up to beat the band in Hamp.

There have been many changes on the line, and any one that wanted a change could get it, and if he didn't, he has no kick coming.

Bro. Brown, agent at New Braintree, is going to leave the service to go braking.

Bro. Boulais is at present roaming in the wilds of the Canadian Northwest. "13" that he had a leave of absence for six months.

Bro. Provost, who had his innings out West, has returned to the fold.

He came back to his old job at "RX," but didn't stay there long; bidding in Waltham, nights, and is now keeping house there, but "13" he has bid on New Braintree.

Mr. Moran, erstwhile lamp-lighter at Clinton Junction, relieved Bro. Provost at "RX," but was not heavy enough for the job, so is back bucking the oil can while Bro. Stone is holding "RX" down.

I "13" that Dispatcher McDononer (C. J. M.), has bid off Greenland Village.

I have noticed that Bro. Ramsey (C. P. R.), has been working the third trick on the C. M. Division quite often lately.

North Cambridge Junction up for bid again. Bro. Carney, a C. T. U. of A. man, is at present working there relief man. Don't know who will bid it in. They seem to have a hard time to get a man to take that job and hold it. Same with the day job there.

Before I close, I would like to ask the boys if they ever think of the possibility of having their wages cut when the nine-hour law goes into effect? Have you thought about it, and what you would do if this should happen? Think it over. I don't want to pose as an agitator, but, at the same time, it is worth thinking about. What, with the cost of living where it is at the present time, we can not afford to work for less than we are now getting. I hope that we won't have to provide against this, but just thought I would refer to it in case it did happen.

I wish you all a Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year, and many of them. Eight hours and be drawing a minimum of $2.25 a day.

A CENTRAL MASSACHUSETTS BOY.

Georgia Southern & Florida Railway.

There are just a few of you that do not attend your meetings at Tifton on the third Sunday of each month. There are some that have never attended a meeting since we have been organized. If you do not attend your meetings, some of us may put you down as a card-toter. Don't get it in your head that because you have a schedule and a card that things will always move along smoothly whether you manifest any interest in the welfare of your union or not. It would jar you to see just how soon you would be put back at your old salary and working conditions should all the members lose interest in their union. Some of the boys have been ascribing the cause of non-attendance to our chief dispatcher, but, upon investigation, we find that the cause of non-attendance for a great many was the lack of diligence on their part in asking to get off. We had some boys with us Sunday (20th of October), that had never been with us before in our meetings, and they assured us that they realized now that they had missed a great deal by non-attendance in the past, and that we might count on them in the future. This will be your verdict if we can ever get you to attend once. A brother gave as his excuse for not attending his meetings that he could not get a man in the town that he could risk to sell tickets. I told him that if there was not a man in my town that I could not risk to sell a few tickets on Sunday, I would move, as I had no desire to live in a town of that caliber.

There have been a great many changes made on the line since our last write-up, but am unable to give them. It would only take a few minutes to give me the changes that you know of. You don't know how much this information would help your correspondent. I am going to take the liberty of asking you again to give me all the changes, and anything that might be of interest to us for these write-ups for the journal. Rsn.

Twin City Telegraphers' Club.

The club held its regular meeting November 9th, at its hall, Prior and University avenues, with all officers present, except Sergeant-at-arms Barrett, and a fair crowd was in attendance in spite of the chilly weather. President Beamer in the chair. The minutes of the previous meeting were read and approved, and other matters gone over.

For the good of the club First Vice-President Newman, who is in the city with the Great Northern General Committee, was called on, and gave a fine talk on his recent travels, which included Denver, Colo., and Chicago, Ill. His review of the T. Kegg case at Denver was very welcome to us, as it gave us an idea of how such matters are handled, also gave us an idea of what we may expect when the nine-hour law goes into effect the first of the year. His review of the C. T. U. of A. strike showed us the boys of our sister organization have made a grand fight, and although they have not won, in many ways it has served its purpose. Not many of the boys in this section of the country are asking for their old places back.

Bro. Abbott, of the G. N. committee, spoke a few minutes on the Great Northern topics, and was followed by Bro. Lester, of the C., M. & St. P.

He gave the line-up of the C. T. U. of A. trouble in Minneapolis.

I was sorry to see there were no commercial boys at the meeting.

Bro. Foulkes is spending a few days in the woods near Duluth, looking for the bear that Bro. Lapham chased a couple of years ago.

Bro. Lentsch, of the N. P., "DY" office, and formerly of the G. N. Railway, was at the meeting.

We miss Bro. Renshaw, of the C., M. & St. P., but understand he is kept busy out of the city a good deal of the time.

We are glad to hear of the good schedule given the boys on the C. P. Understand it is the finest in existence, and includes two weeks per year vacation.

We had our first snow of the season about noon of November 9th. It looked, for a time, as if we could have sleighing for the meeting.

Bro. W. J. Liddane made a trip to Chicago Sunday evening, the third, and stopped off for a meeting at Windom.

There are a few boys living in the cities that some one should talk some good, honest sense to about coming out to the meetings. The C. G. W., M. & St. L. and C., B. & Q. have no members out. Better come over and get acquainted. Notices of meetings are in the division directory in the back of journal.

TYPEWRITER BARGAINS.

Rebuilt Typewriters

REMINGTON No. 6.

For 25 years the Remington has been the Standard Writing Machine of the world. Small, compact Keyboard, light action, high speed, noiseless, good manifold. We offer the late model machines, with automatic ribbon reverser, speed dog and platen release, rebuilt new at $50.00 instead of $100.00.

SMITH PREMIER No. 2.

The Smith Premier is one of the leading Writing Machines on the market. Every key represents the character it prints. No confusing shifts. Easy to learn, high speed, noiseless, ball-bearing Carriage.

Late model machines with extended carriage improvement, platen release and Morse finger for automatic paper feeding, rebuilt new at

OLIVER TYPEWRITER No. 3.

More than 100,000 machines in constant use, testify to the popularity of the No. 3 Oliver Typewriter. That class of operators who appreciate Visible writing will make no mistake in buying a No. 3 Oliver. Work in plain sight, high speed, superior alignment, good manifolding and ease of operation are some of the advantages of the Oliver Typewriter.

Rebuilt new in our own factory at $50.00 instead of $100.00.

Underwood, Monarch, L. C. Smith & Bros., Wellington, Densmore, Century, Hammond, Caligraph and Chicago Typewriters,

$15.00 to $50.00

We do not handle second-hand Typewriters. Every machine we sell is dismantled, all worn parts replaced with new ones, bright parts re-nickelled, etc., making machine as good, if not better than ever.

Terms cash. Transportation charges prepaid to any part of the United States if full amount of purchase price accompanies order.

ELECTRIC NOVELTIES

We have just received from the press a booklet treating on Electric Novelties and Specialties. Some rare holiday offers are shown. Yours for the asking.

EUREKA TELEGRAPH INSTRUMENT

A moderate priced combination set, recommended as a learner's apparatus, being low in price, durable and efficient. Copy of Philosophy and Practice of Morse Telegraphy free with each instrument. Wound, 5 ohms, $1.15; Wound, 20 ohms, $1.25.

IMPROVED MAIN LINE SOUNDER

Gives three times the volume of sound given by the very best box relays. Made with full size relay magnets, 150 ohms resistance. Very sensitive to weak currents, giving a clear working sound on circuits where, without it, a relay with local sounder and battery would be absolutely necessary. With key, price, $4.50. Without key, price, $3.75.

IMPROVED GIANT SOUNDER

Quick acting and gives a loud, clear sound. Polished hard-rubber covered coils, brass or aluminum lever, polished brass base plate, mounted on highly polished mahogany base. Used by the largest railroad and telegraph companies. Standard size and design. Wound 5 ohms. Price, $1.40.

STANDARD PONY RELAY

Made of selected material and handsomely finished, mounted on mahogany base with metallic subbase. Will work with perfect ease on lines up to twenty miles, where main line sounders fail to give satisfaction, and requires much less battery power than a main line sounder of similar resistance. Wound 20 ohms. Price, $1.50.

EARLY RISER'S OUTFIT

The clock that gets you up in time. A high-grade clock movement. Will ring for a week if not shut off. Every railroad man realizes the importance of being on time—this timepiece will get you there if anything will. The clock is attached to battery box, so that the outfit may be carried by the top ring.

Price, complete, $2.00.

BATTERY CALL TELEPHONE

For lines from 100 to 1500 feet long.

A practical working telephone for outdoor or indoor lines. Especially recommended for connecting office or store with house, house with stable, manager's office with any part of building or grounds, etc. Every instrument tested and guaranteed.

work satisfactorily. Will give as good service on short lines as any phone made. Price, each, $2.50.

ANTI-DOC MEDICAL APPARATUS

Accomplishes results as quickly as any high-priced battery. No home should be without one. Unfailing relief for rheumatism, operators' paralysis, etc. Costs less than one application by your doctor. Price, complete with 96-page guide, only $2.00.

BURGLAR ALARM TRAP

You can make your house or office burglar-proof by use of this trap and a few minutes work. Simply stretch the string across a doorway and any disturbance of string draws the needle to the right, ringing the bell; if the string be broken, spring draws needle to left, giving the alarm. Makes good fire alarm, as burning of string gives alarm. Two traps for 25 cents.

CHRISTMAS GIFTS

Buy Your Christmas Gifts on Eight Months' Time

Use the Loftis System. It enables you to make beautiful and valuable presents without the outlay of much money. By giving credit and lowest prices we make $5 or $10 do the work that $50 does in a cash store. Don't make the mistake of buying something cheap or trashy, when the same money would make the first payment on a beautiful diamond ring, stud, brooch, locket, scarf pin, a pair of cuff buttons, ear rings, a fine watch chain, watch fob or any other article of high-grade jewelry from our enormous stock.

Make Your Christmas Selections Now—Pay Later—At Your Convenience

Send for a copy of our beautifully illustrated Christmas catalog, and in the privacy of your own home select the articles you desire, and we will send them to your home, place of business or express office, for your inspection. If you like them, if they are all and more than we claim them to be, pay one-fifth on delivery and the balance in eight equal monthly amounts. We give signed guarantee of value and quality with every diamond, also the privilege of exchange for full value at any time.

For any other article of jewelry from our $1,000,000 stock. We take all risks and pay all express charges. You have absolutely nothing to lose and a great deal to gain.

THE VAILOGRAPH

Is an improved vibrator weighing only 2½ ounces and is the only sending machine in the World which is applied directly to and worked by the old Morse Key.

OPERATORS

IS THIS NOT WHAT YOU HAVE BEEN WAITING FOR?

Side Motion Machines Will Soon Be a Thing of the Past.

It was thought at first the side motion was necessary for the operator who had lost his "grip," but this has all been proven wrong by the use of the "Vailograph." It is the making of the dots that gets an operator so afflicted.

THE VAILOGRAPH IS INTENDED FOR ALL OPERATORS

no matter how expert. It not only saves your arm 50 per cent of the work, preventing you from ever losing your "grip," but it turns out the most perfect Morse you ever heard. It is adjustable to slow and fast sending, works on short or long circuits; it even worked perfectly in a test on a long circuit through two sets of repeaters on a rainy day.

The Vailograph

is attached to the regular Morse key in such a way that the ordinary contact makes the dashes while one motion of the key upward will make the dots.

The key lever is normally held in an intermediate position by means of the tension of spring in the Vailograph slightly overcoming the tension of spring in key.

Don't Buy

a new sending machine before you investigate the "Vailograph."

The Vailograph's

main features are its direct contact, its vertically disposed vibrator, its simplicity, its compactness and the fact that it is operated by the standard Morse key, doing away with the necessity of learning the side motion as in the lateral vibrator.

Don't Buy

a new sending machine before you investigate the "Vailograph."

The Vailograph attached to key.

To YOU at Cash Prices

Don't wait until you get the money before you buy a diamond—we'll trust you for one on terms that will surprise you. Buy a diamond now—when you want it and pay us for it as you earn. Christmas will soon be here, when that dear one, whether she be sweetheart, wife, mother, sister or daughter, should be handsomely remembered with some substantial and lasting gift.

Give Her a Diamond—You Can Afford to on Our Terms

There is nothing that would be more appropriate or that would bring greater joy to her loving eyes. Think what a surprise it would be to her and how happy it would make her, for our diamonds are all gems of the first water, pure white stones of marvelous brilliancy that increase in value from year to year. Or—

Why Not Buy a Diamond and Wear It Yourself?

Think of the dignity, distinction and air of prosperity it would give you. Moreover, buying a diamond is a saving's investment—better than putting money in the bank, for it's a well-known fact that for years the increase in diamond values has been greater than savings bank interest. It is always a valuable item of possession, and in case of misfortune can be turned into cash at a moment's notice, anywhere.

Just Drop Us a Line and Say "I Want a Diamond"

We'll send you our Free Catalog select any diamond you like. We will send it at once at our own expense, you having nothing to pay until you have seen the stone. When you have examined it carefully and made up your mind that it is a bargain and you want it, send us, say, one-fifth of its price and arrange to pay the balance in small payments that will be convenient for you, then the stone is yours, to give away or wear as you prefer. Write now while fresh in mind for Free Catalog Diamonds, Watches, etc.

Our prices save money for you on every purchase, and our liberal terms will please you. The Diamonds shown in accompanying cut are pure white, perfectly cut stones, the pick of the mines, set in 14k solid gold hand-made mountings. Every one a bargain—and it requires only a small payment of one-fifth down for you to possess it. Write today—now—before you forget.

Help Save One Mother's Girl

Whose Girls go Wrong? Some mother's—perhaps living, perhaps dead—but always her's.

Why do Girls go Wrong? Sometimes through ignorance, often through ambition, oftenest through deception.

How Many Girls go Wrong? Thousands every year. Today there are fully six thousand in the seventy-one Florence Crittenton Mission Homes trying to gain courage to face a frowning world (fallen women usually get a chilling reception), and to learn some occupation which will help them to be self-supporting. This is about the average number always within the Mission's walls, and yet the faces change almost daily.

The pages of the Florence Crittenton Magazine tell of these unfortunate women and girls, their needs and what you can do to help their helpers. Not all can be Mission Workers, but all can help those who are. Though no one whom you know, or for whom you are responsible, has thus fallen by the wayside, let us urge you to open your hearts to the desperate needs of these strangers who are so needy.

The Correct Time from Washington & One of My Watches are Constant Companions

One of the most important factors in railroading today is a good watch. I sell the best that skill and science can produce. Not the kind that is bumped over the country in traveling salesmen's trunks and ruined before they reach you. But the fine new bright kind direct to me from the Factory. No Watch passes through my hands without a critical examination. Close rating, and a thorough test for precision.

In my new Catalogue I lay before you the highest grades of all the movements manufactured in America, with a detailed description and fine illustration of each and every one that will pass inspection on any R. R. Also a big assortment of cases adapted for R. R. usage. Along with a fine selection of chains and R. R. order emblems. This catalogue free. And on any article you buy from me, I'll save you money. Write today and see how quick it will reach you.

This $20 Watch for $5.45

These figures tell exactly what we are doing—selling a $20.00 watch for $5.45. We don't claim that this is a $40.00 watch or a $50.00 watch, but it is a $20.00 watch. A leading watch manufacturer, being hard pressed for ready cash, recently sold us 100,000 watches—watches actually built to retail at $20.00. There is no doubt that we could wholesale these to dealers for $12.00 or $13.00, but this would involve a great amount of labor, time and expense. In the end our profit would be little more than it is at selling the watch direct to the consumer at $5.45. This Clarefax Watch, which we offer at $5.45 is rubbed jeweled, finely balanced and perfectly adjusted movement. It has specially selected jewels, dust band, patent regulator, enameled dial, jeweled compensation balance, double hunting case, genuine gold-laid and handsomely engraved. Each watch is thoroughly timed, tested and regulated before leaving the factory and both the case and movement are guaranteed for 20 years.

Send us your name, post-office address, and nearest express office and name of this paper. Tell us whether you want a ladies' or gent's watch and we will send the watch to your express office at once. If it satisfies you, after a careful examination, pay the express agent $5.45 and express charges and the watch is yours, but if it doesn't please you return it to us at our expense.

A 30-Year guarantee will be placed in the front case of the watch we send you and to the first 10,000 customers we will send a beautiful gold-laid watch chain, free. We refer to the First National Bank of Chicago, Capital $10,000,000.

STRANGE INVENTION BEST EVER HAPPENED

NEW PECULIAR APPARATUS CAUSING GREAT EXCITEMENT MILLIONS MADE HAPPY. . .

Wonderful but true, no more farm, town or city homes without a bathroom and something more. THE ALLEN PORTABLE BATH APPARATUS operates with one gallon of water, yet does more than a tub full. Used everywhere that water exists. Everybody has water, hence everybody can now have their own bathroom. Cost but $3.75 ready to use—cost nothing to operate. Makes a bathroom of any room at home, or when traveling—even better, does more than bathrooms costing $100.00. Sounds strange, even impossible, yet it's being done. See how simple, easy, convenient: To use—place Metallic non-corrosive fountain on wall or shelf—fill with water—turn screw—that's all—thereafter it works automatically. A bath, hot or cold, in one operation, 5 minutes' time, your skin constantly flushed with clear running water, pores opened, cleansed, invigorated by hundreds of little soft self-cleansing teeth working gently, thoroughly. Only clear, running water touches the body—a delightful, tingling, sparkling spray that refreshes while it cleanses. Cleansing, friction, massage, shower bath all in one—same time. What a pleasure—Could anything be more perfect? Just think—No tubs to clean, bowls or buckets to fill—No wash rags or sponges—No dirt, splashing or muss. No plumbing, tools, valves—not even a screw to set. Move it about at will. Simple, durable, handsome, sanitary. Saves time, expense, labor, space. The ideal bathroom for town and country homes, travelers, roomers. No experiment—USED AND PRAISED BY THOUSANDS. Insures cleanliness without drudgery, inconvenience, annoyance—promotes health, beauty, happiness, sound sleep—prevents colds, LaGrippe, contagious and other diseases. C. R. MARTIN, PA., writes: "Outfit is a marvel of effectiveness, convenience, simplicity, certainly will create a sensation." H. H. CRAFT, KANS., writes: "A God-send to any family." W. W. DRURY, O., writes: "Exceeded my expectations. Mechanically perfect, attractive. Can bathe in one-fourth the time of ordinary methods." Guaranteed by an old, reliable house, capitalized for $50,000.00. Price complete, ready to use, only $3.75 and up. Sent to any address. Order now—you'll be satisfied. Send card anyhow for full description, valuable book, catalogue, testimonials—all free.

SHORTHAND IN 30 DAYS

We absolutely guarantee to teach shorthand complete in only thirty days. You can learn in spare time in your own home, no matter where you live. No need to spend months as with old systems. Boyd's Syllabic System is easy to learn—easy to write—easy to read. Simple. Practical. Speedy. Sure. No ruled lines—no positions—no shading as in other systems. No long lists of word signs to confuse. Only nine characters to learn and you have the entire English language at your absolute command.

The best system for stenographers, private secretaries, newspaper reporters and railroad men. Lawyers, ministers, teachers, physicians, literary folk and business men and women may now learn shorthand for their own use. Do not take continual daily practice as with other systems. Our graduates hold high-grade positions everywhere. Send today for booklets, testimonials, etc.

Don't Wear a Truss

Brooks' Appliance is a new scientific discovery with automatic air cushions that draws the broken parts together and binds them as you would a broken limb. It absolutely holds firmly and comfortably and never slips, always light and cool and conforms to every movement of the body without chafing or hurting. I make it to your measure and send it to you on a strict guarantee of satisfaction or money refunded and I have put my price so low that anybody, rich or poor, can buy it. Remember I make it to your order—send it to you —you wear it—and if it doesn't satisfy you, you send it back to me and I will refund your money. The banks or any responsible citizen in Marshall will tell you that is the way I do business—always absolutely on the square and I am selling thousands of people this way for the past five years. Remember I use no salves, no harness, no lies, no fakes. I just give you a straight business deal at a reasonable price.

Invitation

To Railroad Telegraphers, Executive Officials, Electrical Experts and Operators of the Western Union and Postal Telegraph Companies, U. S. and Canada, and to Electrical Engineers, and Scientists generally:

You are invited to call at the office of the and see one thousand words per minute transmitted and plainly recorded in Morse characters over a circuit of 1000 ohms resistance and three microfarads Electrostatic capacity, or the equivalent of a No. 4 Copper wire, New York to Buffalo, with 110 volts. With 300 volts 1000 words a minute can be recorded New York to Chicago.

Those who accept this invitation will be convinced that the Telepost can and will send 26 words for 26 cents between any two points in the United States.

Those unable to visit the Telepost offices will, upon application by mail, be sent illustrated booklet No. 43, giving full particulars.

BLOOD POISON

We have a Remedy unknown to the profession. We refund money if we do not cure. You can be treated at home for the same price as if you came to our office. We will give you a guaranty to cure or return money. For many years we have been curing patients in every country in the world. Our treatment is in every sense a home treatment. If you have exhausted the old methods of treatment and still have aches and pains, mucous patches in mouth, sore throat, pimples, copper-colored spots, ulcers on any parts of the body, hair or eyebrows falling out, it is this secondary blood poison we guarantee to cure. We solicit the most obstinate cases. This disease has always baffled the skill of the most eminent physicians. For many years we have made a specialty of treating this disease with our Magic Cure, and we have $500,000 capital behind our unconditional guaranty.

WE CURE QUICKLY AND PERMANENTLY

Our patients cured years ago by our great Discovery, unknown to the profession, are today sound and well, and have healthy children since we cured them.

DON'T WASTE YOUR TIME AND MONEY

PERMANENT VICTORY

FROM

TEMPORARY DEFEAT

No. 5.

IN the first round of litigation over patents on the mechanical transmitter, the lower court has held that the MECOGRAPH transmitters No. 3 are infringements of Martin's patent. We have appealed from that decision, and confidently expect to "land on top" when the appellate court renders its decision.

The Coffe Mecograph was the first mechanical transmitter placed on the market. (By mechanical transmitter, is meant one not requiring a battery.)

The Mecograph was received with such marked favor and worked such a revolution in telegraphy that, naturally, various other mechanical transmitters sprang into existence. Our temporary defeat brought on a violent brain storm, resulting in MECOGRAPH No. 5, one in no way affected by the litigations above referred to. It eclipses everything else in the line of transmitters, even MECOGRAPH No. 3.

It is the simplest, best made, most delightful transmitter an operator ever touched.

BRAINS, SKILL AND TOOLS CAN PRODUCE NO BETTER

Try it and you will be satisfied with no other.

If to be sent C. O. D., the order must be accompanied by a remittance large enough to pay express charges both ways on a four-pound package, which remittance we will deduct from our C. O. D. bill.
